Oldest Miller brother sentenced in Washburn kidnapping case

Michael Miller

Charlea Estes

Michael Jeffrey Miller, Jr., 28, of Eagle Rock, the oldest brother charged in the kidnapping of a Washburn woman in January 2014, pled guilty in court and was sentenced to what basically equates to 14 years incarceration with the Department of Corrections for his Barry County charges.

Michael and his brother Mathew were both charged with kidnapping and robbing a 47 year old Washburn woman in January 2014. Michael was charged with felonious restraint, tampering in the first degree, assault in the third degree and fraudulent use of a credit device in Barry County.

The Miller brothers broke into the victim's home, stole her purse and forced her into the trunk of her car. The brothers used her debit card to withdraw $1,125 from three different ATMs in Berryville, Ark.

The brothers struck the victim in the face before throwing her down a hill on Farm Road 1180 in Eagle Rock and abandoning her car, a 2011 Chevrolet Malibu, in the Roaring River arm of Table Rock Lake. The victim had to walk a mile barefoot to get help after the incident.

Michael, Mathew, their other brother, Marc, Marc's girlfriend, Shelby Keeler, and Michael's girlfriend, Amanda Rhodes, of Pittsburgh, Pa., were also charged in the case. However, charges against Marc and his girlfriend, Shelby Keeler, were dropped. Rhodes still faces the same charges as Michael and

Michael Miller pled guilty to felonious restraint and tampering with a motor vehicle in the first degree. Miller was sentenced to seven years on each charge, which will run consecutively, not concurrently, meaning he was sentenced to 14 years incarceration. According to Barry County Prosecuting Attorney Amy Boxx, the other two charges were only misdemeanors and were dropped for a guilty plea. She added, "His more serious charges were in McDonald County because it ended up that the woman's home was in McDonald County, not Barry."

Miller also faced charges in McDonald County for the kidnapping. Miller was sentenced to 18 years for kidnapping, 15 years for burglary in the first degree and seven years for tampering with a motor vehicle in the first degree.

Miller's sentence in Barry County is to run concurrently with the sentencing in McDonald County as well a five year incarceration sentence on other charges related to a Barry County burglary in 2013.

Michael's brother, Mathew, requested a change of venue for his case. Mathew will face the same initial charges of felonious restraint, tampering in the first degree, assault in the third degree and fraudulent use of a credit device in Stone County.

Rhodes has requested a jury trial and has a pre-trial conference scheduled for April 18 in front of Barry County Judge Jack Goodman.

Woman charged in intentional wreck with three-month old baby

Dempsey

Charlea Estes

A Kimberling City woman is in jail in Barry County on charges for intentionally crashing her car with her three-month old baby as a passenger. The wreck occurred on Missouri 112 about five miles east of Seligman on Saturday, February 20.

According to the affidavit of probable cause by Missouri State Trooper T. Coffey, Rebecca Rae Dempsey, 30, wrecked her car on purpose and her baby flew out of the vehicle onto the road. She is being charged with three felonies: abuse of a child, assault in the first degree and endangering the welfare of a child, and two misdemeanors, careless and imprudent driving and failure to drive on the right half of the roadway.

Trooper Coffey interviewed witnesses at the scene who said that Dempsey was not caring for the child when they arrived or at any point after the crash. The witnesses on the scene picked the baby up off the ground and wrapped her in a coat to keep her warm.

When Trooper Coffey interviewed Dempsey, she claimed that she has "lost her mind." The wreck had been intentional and Dempsey told Coffey, "I wanted to die and I was like aggravated I didn't die." Upon inspection, the speedometer's needle was stuck at 92 miles per hour after the crash, indicating that Dempsey was going 92 miles per hour in a 55 mile per hour zone at the time of the crash.

When Coffey informed Dempsey that she might not be able to have further contact with her baby, Dempsey seemed to be indifferent.

The baby was transported to Mercy Hospital in Rogers, Ark., by ambulance before being flown to Mercy Hospital in Springfield. The baby suffered from two lateral skull fractures.

Dempsey was placed on a 96-hour psychiatric hold by Mercy Hospital in Rogers, Ark. Dempsey was not intoxicated at the time of the crash, and she said that she was on medication for being bipolar at the scene.

In an interview with Dempsey's father, he told Coffey that she had some "mental" problems and that she had never wanted the child. According to her father, she had been impregnated as a result of rape but had to keep the child and not have an abortion in order to continue to live at her mother's house. According to the report, "Rebecca decided to keep the baby in exchange for a place to live."

Dempsey's baby was to be placed in alternative care according to her Barry County case worker.

Dempsey is being held on a $75,000 cash-only bond.

Monett woman arrested for meth distribution

Charlea Estes

The Cassville Police Department arrested a Monett woman on Thursday, March 3, after she was found passed out behind the steering wheel of her car in the Payless Rental parking lot on Old Exeter Road, according the affidavit of probable cause.

Trisha Jean Hileman, 30, of Monett, was charged with possession of a controlled substance, two counts of possession of a controlled substance with the intent to distribute and unlawful use of drug paraphernalia.

When Cassville Police Officer Danny Boyd found Hileman, she also had a glass pipe in the front passenger's seat. There was also a Crown Royal bag which contained digital scales, small plastic baggies, straws, bags with methamphetamine residue and 28 small round blue pills that were later identified as Clonazepam, which is brand name Klonopin.

Hileman also had a felony warrant out of Lawrence County of burglary and stealing.

Hileman is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a 25,000 cash-only bond.

Two injured in four car wreck

Charlea Estes

Two people were injured in a four-car crash on MO-37 about a mile north of Purdy on Thursday morning, March 3, around 7:55 a.m.

According to the Missouri State Highway Patrol crash report, four cars were involved in the crash: a 1999 Dodge Ram driven by Larry J. McLeod, 66, of Purdy, a 2007 Hyundai Accent driven by Brittany L. Sanchez, 19, of Cassville, a 2001 Ford F150 driven by Brett M. Rapien, 42, of Cassville, and a 2015 Nissan Altima driven by Rebecca A. Bartlett, 57, of Garfield, Ark.

McLeod attempted to avoid a collision and struck Sanchez's car, which caused her to hit Rapien's F150. The fourth car driven by Bartlett ran off the roadway to avoid the other cars and was struck by McLeod.

Rapien and Bartlett were each taken to Mercy Hospital in Cassville by ambulance for minor injuries. McLeod and Sanchez had no reported injuries at the time.

All drivers involved in the crash were wearing seat belts at the time of the wreck.

Ramey's changes to Price Cutter, new options offered for customers

Charlea Estes

Longtime grocery store Ramey's got a makeover, revamped products and a name change last week. Ramey's, now called Price Cutter like the company's others stores, has been remodeled inside to accommodate new foods, a salad bar and more.

Larry Hayward, executive vice president for Price Cutter stores, has been in the store in the past weeks, overseeing that interior remodel and change in many of the departments, most claim for the better. Hayward said, "The store is more in line with our Price Cutter vision now, so we made the name change." Hayward said the main motivator for the changes are to satisfy customers who are looking for healthier options.

Cassville shoppers can now run in a grab a salad at the fresh salad bar in the front of the store or one of the over 1,000 natural and organic items now offered by the store. However, one of the things some customers will miss is the pharmacy, which was closed to make room for the new salad bar, as well as other departments. Hayward said that it was to meet customer needs.

"By taking out the pharmacy, we were given the room to expand the other departments in the store. We already have two great hometown pharmacies, and it just wasn't needed at this store," he said.

Hayward went on, "If it wasn't in Cassville, that's why we made these decisions, to provide more options."

He said the same for the dollar aisle that has been removed during the change. Hayward stated, "I've had several people ask why we took out the dollar section, and it's because you have other stores here that satisfy that need. There is a Dollar General down the street and a Dollar Tree. This opened up more possibilities for other things that shoppers couldn't find in Cassville before."

The biggest changes come from the goal to have more healthy options for shoppers. Hayward said, "I think a lot of people want to eat healthier, and that's why a vision of our company is to have more produce, fresh and organic foods."

The produce department got a huge makeover with layout changes that make the area more efficient with more items. On that side is also an aisle dedicated to natural and organic items. From health food bars to gluten free options, the selection is hands-down larger than any other options even remotely close.

Hayward said that the store is also taking steps toward building a closer relationship with the community. He commented, "We're trying to partner and become closer to the community." Part of that is working with the school to have art students paint a mural for the cart corral area at the front of the store.

The store also hired on additional employees to provide better customer service.

The Cassville Price Cutter is one of 49 stores in the chain. The Monett Price Cutter is currently being remodeled in the same fashion as the Cassville store, and the Purdy store will also be upgraded in the future, according to Hayward. The Monett store should be finished in mid-April.

Men and women over 50 who are considering returning to school may be eligible for financial assistance through various programs. According to the American Association of Retired Persons, older men and women who want to go back to school do not necessarily have to bankroll that expenditure on their own. AARP notes that the Internal Revenue Service offers tax breaks such as the American Opportunity Tax Credit and the Lifetime Learning Tax Credit that older students can take advantage of to lessen the blow of tuition costs, which have risen considerably since today's men and women over 50 were in college. Older men and women may also be able to take advantage of 529 college savings accounts they opened for their children that their kids did not end up needing. AARP also notes that men and women over 50 who want to apply for financial aid must be prepared to enroll in more than one class and in more than just a continuing education program. Ward leads Hartville past Purdy in Class 2 quarterfinals

Lee Stubblefield

The Purdy Eagles, just one game short of reaching the final four plateau in Class 2 boys basketball, fell short in their quest. Purdy lost to Hartville on Saturday in the O'Reilly Center at Drury University in Springfield, 71-48.

For those not familiar with Hartville, the first player that jumps out at you from their roster is Cody Kelley, the 6-8 sophomore center. Having a 6-8 center in Class 2 is like having a fire truck in a water fight. But Kelley was a non-factor for Hartville this year. Plagued with injuries early on, he had season-ending knee surgery weeks ago. But even in street clothes and on crutches, he still presents an imposing figure.

The difference maker for Hartville this season is Ryan Ward, the versatile 6-3 senior forward/post. Ward has enough height to compete with most Class 2 big men, and the ball skills and shooting touch to confound almost anyone in the paint. Although teammate Grant Dedmon, a senior guard, outscored Ward in this game, 24-21, it was Ward who keyed the Hartville win with his scoring, rebounding, shot-blocking, and sheer intimidation.

The Purdy Eagles survived a shootout with Marionville on Wednesday, but could not find any offensive rhythm against Hartville. The Hartville Eagles, dressed in their road blues, denied open looks for Purdy's three-point shooters while Ward patrolled and controlled the lane.

Purdy never led in this game, although the game was tied at 2-2 and 10-10 in the first quarter. Ward scored the game's first points after a Hartville turnover and a Purdy offensive foul. Sydney Birge tied the game with a pair of free throws, but Hartville jumped in front with a Deric Jones jumper from the wing, and a pair of Ward free throws.

Tyler Keeler dribbled around and through the zone to make a 6-4 score, but Dedmon scored from the field and the line for a 10-6 Hartville lead. Hunter Cook scored on a long fastbreak outlet from Raul Garcia, ooping the ball off the backboard. Cook scored again with another fastbreak opportunity, and Purdy had tied the game at 10-10 with 1:24 on the clock.

Hartville jumped back in front when Dedmon hit the first of a pair of free throws, and Ward rebounded the following miss and scored for a 13-10 lead. Cook hit again for Purdy, but Jace Keith's trey gave Hartville a 16-12 lead at the end of the quarter.

Hartville slammed Purdy with a 19-1 run to open the second quarter. The trapping zone press hurried the white-clad Eagles into a slew of turnovers and Hartville converted nearly every opportunity. Tommy Egan called two timeouts in less than a minute of game time to try and stop the bleeding.

Ward scored 9 points in the quarter and Dedmon added 6 as Hartville tore to a 39-17 halftime lead. Coach Reed had his team switch to a four-corner delay on offense as soon as the lead reached 20, and the blue Eagles found more success cutting to the basket against Purdy's spread-out zone.

Jonatan Salazar hit three jumpers from the field and Keeler threw in a long triple as Purdy fought back in the third quarter. After trailing by as many as 22 in the first half, Purdy pulled within 42-26 at the 6:24 mark. But Ward and Dedmon each scored 6 points in the quarter, and Jones added 5 as Hartville rebuilt the lead.

Purdy's Justin LaNore was whistled for a foul as the buzzer went off, and Dedmon shot two lonely free throws to give Hartville a 58-35 lead at the final break.

The lead jumped to 30 in less than two minutes of the fourth quarter. With the game well in hand, Reed cleared his bench with 6:11 left to play. Egan left his starters in for two more minutes, then he too substituted in a new lineup. It was good sportsmanship by both coaches, and allowed the starters from both teams to be recognized by their fans.

The game ended with Hartville on top, 71-48.

Hartville improved to 27-4 and earned a trip to Columbia where the Eagles will face Wellington in a Class 2 semifinal on Thursday at 1:40 PM in the Hearnese Center. Purdy finished the season at 20-9.

Purdy scorers: Hunter Cook, 12; Sydney Birge, 10; Tyler Keeler, 9; Jonatan Salazar, 8; Raul Garcia, 3; Ricky Aldaba, 3; and Logan Easley,

Lady Wildcats fall in semis against Carl Junction

Lee Stubblefield

The Cassville Lady Wildcats ended their season with a 57-28 loss to Carl Junction in the semifinals of the Class 4 District 12 Basketball Tournament at Carthage on Thursday afternoon. CJ's Skylar Sadler erupted for 18 points, hitting a half dozen three pointers to key the Lady Bulldogs to victory.

This Carl Junction team is a legitimate powerhouse, Ranked fourth in the state in Class 4, the Lady Bulldogs captured the conference championship in their final tour of the Big 8. CJ's front line goes 6-1, 6-0, and 5-10, and 6-2 Megan Scott comes off the bench. Sadler, a 5-10 guard/forward, is a matchup nightmare for opposing defenses.

Cassville had two early leads at 2-0 and 4-2, but Sadler popped the upset bubble with her first trey for a 7-4 Carl Junction lead. The Lady Bulldogs raced to a 24-9 lead to finish the quarter, as Sadler hit three more bombs from beyond the arc.

Cassville's most telling numbers of the first quarter were the "2" beside Madi Stokes's name in the foul column, and the "7" descriptor of their turnovers.

The Lady Wildcats fixed the turnover problem in the second quarter, and hung fairly even with CJ, trailing by 33-17 at half. Hallie Long connected from long range in that quarter to match Kandace Wallace's early trey. But a costly third foul by Devyn Callahan put the Ladycats in serious trouble.

CJ opened the third quarter with a 7-2 run, but Cassville responded with a 7-3 run of their own. Long scored twice in that span, along with a three-point play by Wallace. But the Lady Bulldogs tallied the last 5 points of the quarter. Scott scored at the rim, and then Sadler finished her three-point exhibition as the clock ran down. Cassville trailed at the final break, 48-26.

CJ owned the final quarter, 9-2, with a pair of treys from Lindsey Showalter and Lauren Walker. Macey Parsons scored the lone bucket of the period for Cassville. The running clock never came into play, although the lead stood at 29 for the final three and half minutes of play.

Cassville could never overcome the early deficit. Carl Junction protected and extended the lead with deadly shooting and superior board work. Besides only committing 7 turnovers to Cassville's 14, CJ won the rebounding battle, 34-22. This game was very similar to the 58-35 road loss to Carl Junction back on February 1.

The Lady Wildcats finished the season with a 14-13 record, an improvement over the 12-win season of a year ago.

"Our schedule was brutal the last third of the season and our kids fought hard," Cassville's Chris Shore reflected after the loss. "We probably lost a couple that we should have won, but we got two wins late in the year and locked in a winning season with a win over McDonald County in districts."

Cassville scorers: Hallie Long, 11; Kandace Wallace, 6; Madi Stokes, 6; Macey Parsons, 3; and Devyn Callahan, 2.

CJ scorers: Skylar Sadler, 18; Alex Vogt, 10; Lauren Walker, 10; Lindsey Showalter, 9; Megan Scott, 6; Emma Frack, 3; and Katelyn Bebee, 1.

Purdy Eagles drive into state quarterfinals

Lee Stubblefield

Who knew that a sectional game with a ho-hum, 9-8 first quarter would turn into a sizzling shootout? Purdy and Marionville progressed from deliberate to destructive in a game that saw 56 points in just the fourth quarter as the Eagles turned back the Comets at Nixa on Wednesday night, 66-61.

Purdy scored 31 of those points in the last quarter, and 15 of those came from clutch free throw shooting in the final minutes.

Sydney Birge led Purdy with 17 points, while Tyler Keeler, the lone underclassman starting for the Eagles, chipped in 15. Tanner Wright and Rane Bateman were tops for the Comets with 13 each.

The game started slowly, with the score yawning at 2-2 halfway through the first quarter. The most significant play of the opening minutes came when Jacob LaSalle rolled an ankle and had to be helped from the court at the 6:09 mark. LaSalle, an important piece of the Marionville machine, did not return to action.

A Brandon Horn free throw in the closing seconds gave Marionville a 9-8 lead at the first break.

After slicing and dicing McAuley's defense with dribble drives and dishes, Purdy was unable to penetrate Marionville's excellent zone. Early on, the Comets seemed to have the advantage in quickness and execution. But Purdy's defense was solid too, and both teams wasted scoring opportunities.

Neither team could break away in the second quarter, a quarter that saw three lead changes and three ties. Purdy's biggest lead of the period was three points, and the Eagles went to halftime with a 22-19 lead.

When the third quarter opened, Marionville's Tanner Wright and Purdy's Sydney Birge traded baskets, but Birge's bomb was worth an extra point. Purdy held a 25-21 lead with 6:10 on the clock. Then Marionville exploded with a 10-2 run to claim a 31-27 lead, and Purdy's Tommy Egan called for time to choke the momentum swing.

Marionville took a 33-29 lead with :47 left in the quarter, but Purdy came to life with a run of three pointers to take control of the game. Birge, Ricky Aldaba, and Hunter Cook canned treys on Purdy's last three possessions of the period to cut the Marionville lead to 36-35. Then Birge and Tyler Keeler opened the fourth quarter with long threes to boost the Eagles on top, 41-39.

A scoring frenzy followed, but though the scoreboard lit up like a pinball machine, it continued to read in Purdy's favor. The senior-laden Eagles lineup would not yield in a high stakes game of ho-r-s-e, and Purdy snagged a 50-47 lead when Cook jetted past defenders and flew to a layup with 3:00 showing on the clock.

The Marionville student section adopted a cool superhero theme for this game, but their Superman costumes seemed cheap in comparison to Cook's flight to the basket.

The Eagles continued to score and stretched to a 58-50 lead on a Raul Garcia free throw with 1:05 remaining.

The Comets went to the foul-and-hope game early. Marionville's Paden Grubbs directed his players to protect the precious seconds on the clock with a flurry of fouls, both challenging and daring the Purdy shooters to hit the freebies.

The Eagles were up to the task, and hit 15 of 19 free throws in the quarter to salt the game away. Marionville hit some big shots down the stretch, but could not close the gap. Purdy held on to win a 66-61 game, and gained a berth in the state quarterfinals for the first time in 25 years.

Purdy scorers: Sydney Birge, 17; Tyler Keeler, 15; Jonatan Salazar, 10; Luis Cruz, 9; Hunter Cook, 8; Raul Garcia, 7

Marionville scorers: Tanner Wright, 13; Rane Bateman, 13; Lathan Kerans, 12; Cole Brown, 9; Brandon Horn, 8; Aaron Head, 6

The Eagles improved to 20-8 on the season and earned a Saturday date with Hartville at the O'Reilly Center on the campus of Drury University in Springfield. The Eagles fell to Hartville in the Class 2 quarterfinal match-up.

CMS students participate in district honor choir

Southwest Middle School academic team places second

Eight students from Cassville Middle School had the privilege of performing in the Southwest District Junior High Honor Choir on Saturday, March 5, in Joplin. All seventh and eighth grade choir students from Cassville participated in a blind audition to select the top two singers from each voice part: soprano, alto, tenor and bass. Several alternates were also named. Participants spent the day in rehearsal with over 200 of the top junior high singers in the district, and the day culminated in a concert at 5 p.m. for the public where they performed five songs.

How to make spring projects more eco-friendly

The arrival of warmer weather means different things to different people. Some anticipate opportunities for outdoor fun, while others may be considering redecorating or remodeling their homes. For the latter group, home improvement season provides a great opportunity to make homes more eco-friendly.

When planning home improvement projects, it's best to first choose a project and then look for ways to make the project more environmentally friendly.

Longer days and warmer temperatures often translate into wanting to freshen up the interior of a home. Heavy draperies and comforters are put away, and lighter fabrics are taken out of storage. Whenever possible, reuse or repurpose items you already have rather than purchasing new items. Longer drapes can be cut and hemmed to be used as window treatments in other rooms. Making a patchwork blanket out of old T-shirts is a crafty project that makes use of items that would otherwise be destined for landfills.

If you decide to purchase some new items, look for products made from sustainable or organic fabrics. Hemp and bamboo textiles have grown in popularity. When replacing items around the house, donate older items to a charitable organization.

Spring and summer call to mind beautiful blooming plants. Relying on native, sustainable plants is practical, environmentally friendly and cost-effective.

According to the National Wildlife Federation, sustainable plants are native plants. Native plants sustain local wildlife more effectively than non-native alternatives, so include native plants in your sustainable garden. Native plants also are less reliant on pesticides and herbicides to keep them healthy and viable.

Even though you may be opening the windows more, indoor plants can filter and purify indoor air. The NASA Clean Air Study, led in association with the Associated Landscape Contractors of America, found that certain common indoor plants naturally remove toxic agents such as benzene, formaldehyde and trichloroethylene from the air. Efficient air cleaning is accomplished with at least one plant per 100 square feet of home or office space.

Spring cleaning is another tradition for many families come the end of winter and dawn of spring. Many people use spring as a time to go through closets and garages to remove items they no longer use or need. In an effort to clean up fast, some people may dispose of chemical products, paints, treated lumber, and many other items in ways that can be damaging to the environment. Run-off from cleaning products used on home siding or driveways can leach into the surrounding soil or find its way into sewage drains that ultimately direct fluids to public waterways.

Springtime renovation and cleaning projects provide the perfect opportunity to adopt eco-friendly practices that pay dividends for years to come.

Purdy names January Character Education winners

Purdy Elementary Principal Janet Boys announced the character education medal winners for the month of January. In partnership with elementary counselor Gary Jurgensen, Purdy's kindergarten through fourth grade teachers present a different character trait each month. At the end of the month, each teacher nominates one student who best exemplifies the trait presented. These students receive character medals from Mrs. Boys at a special assembly.

In January, students focused on acceptance. January medal winners are fourth graders Selah Bowers and Melissa Lee; third graders Randall Kessinger, Kenni DeLeon and Cecilia Encalado; second graders Kate Ozbun, Rose Wilson and Hailey Gower; first graders Logan Manwarren, Kimberly Canales and Mailen Rodriguez; and kindergartners Shelby Patterson, Kamilla Rodriguez and Dhali Wall Lee.

1104 Mill Street • Cassville, MO 65625

"Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? For they wash not their hands when they eat bread." Matthew 15:2.

Years ago the phrase "Crystallization of Custom" was coined to describe a sequence by which is shown the error and the potential dangers of the 'traditions of men.' The tradition begins as a suggestion or desire, often with good intentions. The suggestion is accepted and followed for a period of time until it is unquestioned. At this time it becomes non-scriptural "doctrine."

It is often accompanied with statements such as; "we've always done it this way." In Matthew 15 the traditions of the elders concerning washing was to "protect" the Jews from approaching God with unclean hands. The problem is, this protection eventually crystallized into unapproved doctrine.

The apostle Peter is very clear; God has given us "all things that pertain unto life and godliness." 2nd Peter 1:3.

We don't need to add, regardless of the motive. The dangers of adding, even with the intent of enhancing, improving or protecting God's original intent are evident in the prophesy of you, saying, this people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me. But in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men." The family at The Mill Street church of Christ invites you to join us as we concentrate on following, rather than improving God's word.
