Opening Day nets 1,620 anglers at Roaring River

Charlea Estes-Jones

On Thursday morning at 6:30 a.m. on the dot, shots rang out and anglers along the banks of Roaring River cast their lines, and you couldn't have ask for much better weather for it.

As soon as trout season began on Thursday, people all along the river were pulling trout out left and right. Walking the banks, you could hear people talking about catching their limits within 20 minutes or so, packing up and heading out. Despite the brief, heavy rain the weekend before, the fishing was good and murky waters didn't seem to put a damper on the day.

Opening Day at Roaring River State Park this year sold 1,620 tags, of those 265 were youth tags and 1,355 were adult tags. This year wasn't far off from 2017's numbers. The Wednesday opening last year netted 1,574 tags, according to Missouri State Parks.

This year's opening gun shots were fired by a long-time volunteer with Roaring River State Park. Each year, the honor is extended to a state official or volunteer with ties and dedication to the park. This year, the invitation was given to Charlie and Ramona Stock, Kids' Fishing Day volunteers from Booneville.

Ramona fired the gun to signify the official start to trout season. "It was awesome," she replied when asked how the experience was.

Ramona and Charlie agreed have both been volunteers during Kids' Fishing Days and WOW events for the Anglers of all ages and from near and far lined the banks of Roaring River on Opening Day last week. The park sold 1,620 tags on Thursday.

Firework prompts lock down at Southwest

Charlea Estes-Jones

A firework set off near Southwest Schools prompted a campus-wide lock-down on Thursday morning, March 1. According to the school, the lock down was initiated at 9:17 a.m. and lifted by 9:55 a.m.

Major Leonard Collins, chief deputy with the Barry County Sheriff's Department, confirmed that students were not in any danger. "It was only a firecracker, but it was pretty loud. It was not meant to be a threat."

The Barry County Sheriff's Department responded to a 911 call about the event as soon as the firework went off.

Collins continued, "It was between the highway and the school property, but I can't give an exact location."

When officers arrived, Collins said they were prepared to enter the school, but it ended up not being necessary. "It was determined what happened pretty quickly, so we never had to go into the school."

Southwest's superintendent Tosha Tilford said the lock down was done as a precautionary measure because of how seriously the school takes student safety. "The Southwest R-5 School District wants to insure the parents and community that the safety of the students is our primary focus.

The lock down on March 1st was done as a precautionary measure. There was no threat to the students or any staff members at anytime," Tilford stated.

The Barry County Sheriff's Department is not pursuing charges associated with the firecracker incident. However, the City of Washburn might.

Washburn Police Chief Terry Meek said, "I've turned all of the information over to our city's attorney, and if she wants to proceed with charges, I'll support that"

No charges have been filed against the person who set off the firework as of time of press.

Purdy "immortals" advance to the Final Four

Lee Stubblefield

It wasn't quite as momentous as Neil Armstrong's "One giant leap for mankind" line, but Jeremy Dresslaer's "Making the final four is like the land of immortality" quote will live forever in Purdy basketball lore.

The Purdy boys basketball team will go where no Eagle has gone before. A 70-64 win over Crocker in the Class 2 quarterfinals vaulted this Purdy team into the Final Four, the los últimos cuatro, of Missouri high school basketball.

No Purdy boys team has ever reached the final four in any MSHSAA sport. Until now.

It took a gut-wrenching effort to secure the victory though. Purdy saw a 15-point lead evaporate in the fourth quarter as Crocker stormed back to within 3 points in the final minute and half. But the Eagles scored their last 8 points from the free throw line and survived the Lions' comeback.

A 69-63 sectional victory over Blue Eye at Carthage on Wednesday set up the contest with Crocker. With a 22-8 record and a roster loaded with ten seniors, the Lions mirrored Purdy in many respects. Plus, Crocker had size. Ethyn Boorum and Logan Wright towered over the Purdy interior players.

Tight rims, tight defense.

Playing in Drury University's O'Reilly Center, the teams struggled to score early. The rims in big college arenas are a hair less forgiving than most high school gyms, and both the Eagles and the Lions missed shot after shot in the opening minutes.

Adam Shockley, Crocker's best outside shooter, had his nose bloodied on Colt Keeling's drive with the opening tip, and had to sit for medical attention after just 11 seconds of play.

Halfway through the quarter, a Colt Keeling stickback gave Purdy a 5-1 lead. Boorum gave Crocker a 6-5 lead at the 2:47 mark, and then Tyler Keeler threw in a long trey. But that shot was waved off on the first of many offensive foul calls of the night.

Shockley returned to the floor and drove for a bucket and an 11-9 Crocker lead. Then the Lions stole the inbounds pass, but Keeler planted himself in the lane and drew a charge that wiped off a Shockley layup.

At the other end, Keeler drove the baseline and scored with just 2 seconds on the clock to tie the score at 11-11.

Colt Keeling took over in the second quarter. A beast on the boards, he scored 7 points in the period to lead a 19-8 Purdy spree that gave the Eagles a 30-19 halftime lead. The Purdy run was highlighted by a trio of Hunter Cook free throws at the 2:03 mark, part of a run of 7 consecutive points by the Purdy senior.

The Purdy crowd roared its approval as the Eagles left the court with a double digit lead.

The third quarter started ominously for Purdy. Crocker had three straight chances for three-point plays, but three different shooters all failed to convert their bonus shots. Still, the Lions had halved the Purdy lead in just 1:13 off the clock, and had forced Dresslaer to burn a time out.

Then, Keeler led a furious Purdy scoring fest.

Chamber announces Breakfast, Ballot Issues

ODET arrests two for meth, marijuana, LSD

Charlea Estes-Jones

The Cassville Area Chamber of Commerce announced the date of their upcoming Breakfast and Ballot Issues event to help educate chamber members about the candidates in the upcoming April 3 General Election. This year’s breakfast will be held on Tuesday, March 27, one week before the election.

This year’s breakfast will feature the candidates running for two open seats on the Cassville School Board. Seven candidates filed to run for those open seats. One seat is currently held by incumbent Carolyn Bowen. John Sullivan held the other seat, however, Sullivan opted not to seek reelection. Terms for school board are three years.

The candidates confirmed to speak at the event are Wade Hermansen, incumbent Carolyn Bowen, Dr. Lisa Roark and Mark Kelley. The other candidates running for the seats have been invited but had not confirmed their attendance at time of press. Those candidates are Steven Henbest, Michael Hagins and Devin Barber.

Each candidate will have the opportunity to answer questions submitted to the Chamber of Commerce prior to the event. The format is not a debate, and candidates will not be fielding questions from the audience.

To submit a question to the Chamber of Commerce for candidates to answer, contact director Brittany Crawford at chamber@cassville.com or (417) 847-2814. The deadline to submit questions is Monday, March 19.

Breakfast and Ballot Issues will be held at the Cassville United Methodist Church on Tuesday, March 27, at 7:30 a.m. A light breakfast will be served, and donations will be accepted to offset the cost of the event.

The Chamber is requesting those interested in attending to RSVP by Wednesday, March 21, by calling or emailing the Chamber.

Charlea Estes-Jones

The Ozarks Drug Enforcement Team (ODET), along with the Barry County Sheriff’s Department and the Cassville Police Department, recently arrested two in connection with alleged drug offenses. According to a press release by Commander Chad Allison, of the Ozarks Drug Enforcement Team, the two were arrested for three different illegal drugs: methamphetamine, marijuana and LSD.

The first arrest occurred in Shell Knob. According to the release, ODET and the Barry County Sheriff’s Department arrested David Diple, 35, of Shell Knob, after finding approximately 100 hits of LSD, 35 grams of marijuana and 5 grams of THC in the home on Farm Road 2190.

The second arrest was made in partnership with the Cassville Police Department. Officers with both units served a search warrant on Shawn E. Burdiss, 36, of Cassville. Burdiss was arrested for requested charges pertaining to possession of methamphetamine.

Diple was booked into the Barry County Jail on Monday, March 5, at 4:16 p.m. Diple was released at 7:28 p.m. on Tuesday, March 6, because charges had not been filed by the Barry County Prosecuting Attorney’s office.

Burdiss was booked into the Barry County Jail on Monday, March 5, at 6:30 p.m. He is currently still being held in jail, but no charges have been filed by the Barry County Prosecuting Attorney.

According to Commander Allison, charges are pending further investigation at this time.

From the Editor: Newspapers in Education week

This week, March 5 through 9, is Newspapers in Education week. It also marks the first time the Barry County Advertiser reached out to our local schools to partner with them and show school aged kids how vital the newspaper is to their community.

From a personal perspective, I obviously think my role in journalism is vital to our community. I love my job. I love getting to know people in the community, attending events and providing our readers the best up-to-date information about their community that I can.

However, there is obviously a shift occurring in our society as a whole regarding printed news. As time progresses, the push increases to engage through technology, social media and digital means. Even with a printed newspaper, we are engaging more and more in the digital plane through Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and more, but I wanted to take the time to talk with kids about why local news is so important, regardless of where you get it: in print or online.

This week, we delivered copies of the newspaper to students in grades third through sixth at Cassville, Exeter, Purdy and Southwest Schools. We also gave teachers resource sheets to show students how to use their local newspaper to help learn science, math, social studies and language arts. It's a partnership I hope we are able to continue in the future.

While we do a lot with and for our local schools, I wanted to really engage with kids in our community and find out how they feel about the newspaper and give them the opportunity to ask questions about journalism and why local news is important to them and their families.

So far this week, I was invited into Mrs. Cupps' and Ms. Nickols' third grade classrooms at Cassville. (I want to say a big thank you to those teachers for inviting me.) And what did I learn?

- Third graders know way more about the newspaper than I thought.

- Most kids notice when they see themselves, their friends and their families in the newspaper.
- Kids have really good insight into why their local paper is important to knowing what is going on in their community.

But I don't want to stop with a few classroom visits. I really want to encourage kids to look through the newspaper at home with their parents. They can look for their friends, their school and more. They can get acquainted with what local news does.

To encourage this, we've decided to run a special column just for kids for the next eight weeks. Kids will be following the story of Kali, a polar bear at the St. Louis Zoo. Each week will be a question related to the story, and for every question Barry County kids answer and submit, they get an entry into a drawing for a gift basket of books at the end of eight weeks.

As you read Kali's story with your children or grandchildren, snap a picture. Send it to us via email, Facebook, Twitter or Instagram. We'll be sharing photos with our readers on social media and even in the paper when we have room.

Thank you, Barry County, for making this newspaper possible for an upcoming generation.

-Charlea Estes-Jones, editor

KALI: A Polar Bear's Tale

AUTHOR: CAROLYN MUELLER | ILLUSTRATOR: JEREMY PATTON & JAYNE BALLEW

CHAPTER ONE OF EIGHT

Chapter One:

The first thing Julie did was make the meatballs. With gloved hands, she carefully rolled the raw beef into round blobs, between her palms. Next, she prepped the capelin, a small, silvery fish, taking handfuls from a container that had been carefully measured the day before. Frost and shiny scales stuck to her gloved fingers as she parceled out just the right amount. She added carrots and lettuce and a few handfuls of a dry, crumbly chow. Finally, there was cubed, buttery-smooth, white lard.

It was time to feed the polar bear. Julie made her way through the gates to the shallow pool area of the polar bear habitat. There, she found Kali. All 1,100 pounds of him. The great white bear was splashing in the saltwater, playing with a few of his favorite toys and pouncing at the visitors.

As a zookeeper, Julie did this several times a day. Her job was to take care of Kali, making sure he had everything he needed, including a healthy diet. She prepared meals for him, fed him, gave him toys and treats and new objects to interact with, trained him to open his mouth or show her his paws, among other behaviors, and even cleaned up after him. It was her job, but most days it felt more like her calling.

She watched Kali in his pool. She always marveled at his size and strength. Even though she saw him every day, she never truly got used to those dinner-plate-sized paws pressed up against the glass.

She began to unlock the enrichment chute; a long, narrow tube that leads directly to Kali's pool, allowing her to safely offer him food.

"Are you going to feed him?" a little

Ask Zoo Keeper Julie

What do polar bears eat?

Polar bears are the largest carnivores on Earth, but they are considered omnivores in that they will also feed on vegetation, bird eggs or even human dump sites when available.

What is a group of polar bears called?

A group of polar bears can be called a pack or a sleuth.

Newspaper Connections

voice said.

A zookeeper with a bucket never gets far without attracting the attention of visitors.

"Yes," Julie answered. "I'm just about to give him some food through the chute. Do you want to see?"

"Sure!" the little girl said.

Soon, a crowd gathered. Everyone wanted to meet the woman who took care of Kali.

"Before I feed him," Julie said, "does anyone have any questions about Kali?"

"How did you get that bear?" a young boy asked.

"How did he even get in there? He's so big!" Julie laughed. "That's a long story."

The boy looked at her expectantly as a few more kids gathered around. Julie smiled and began to share Kali's tale.

Kali's story will be shared over eight weeks in each issue of the Barry County Advertiser. Share your photos of your kids reading about Kali in our paper with us on Facebook, Instagram or Twitter and we will share them with our readers.

OPENING DAY from FRONT

past 20 years. The couple said they’ve been visiting Roaring River for over 30 years, and fall is their favorite time to fish.

Charlie said, “It’s rewarding to help. It’s great for the kids, but I think I get more out of it than they do.” They teach kids fly tying and fly fishing during the biannual event.

When the couple isn’t helping out, they do get to enjoy the park, too. Ramona said, “We catch a lot of fish here, and we really enjoy the park.”

The Cassville Area Chamber of Commerce had volunteers on site handing out free mugs of coffee. The Chamber also handed out awards for the largest trout. This year’s awards went to:

- Men’s Division: Monte Seidel, of Rogers, Ark., trout weight 6.9 lbs.
- Women’s Division: Wynnter Strait, of Joplin, trout weight 4.35 lbs.
- Youth Division: Jayden Carr, of Smithville, trout weight 3.3 lbs.

An old-fashioned three point play.

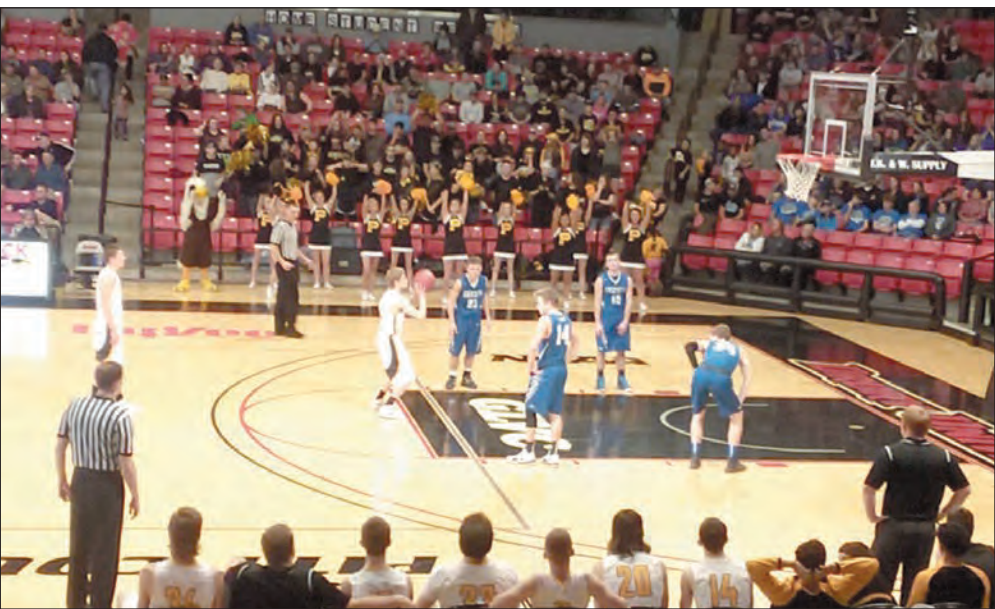

A pair of free throws at the 1:51 mark.

A catch and shoot moneyball from the right corner on an inbounds play with the clock winding down.

It all added up to a 50-37 Purdy lead at the final break.

The Eagles opened the fourth quarter with a steal and a 3-on-1 fast break. Keeling’s driving layup gave Purdy the biggest lead of the ballgame at 52-37. But the Lions weren’t finished.

Trailing 58-45 with 4:23 to play, Crocker fashioned a 14-4 run to cut the lead to a single possession when Logan Wright canned a pair of free throws with 1:31 to play. That run started with a rare 5-point play. Crocker guard Dillon Porter nailed a long three, and Logan Wright was the recipient of a foul away from the play called on Purdy’s Jose Sanchez. Wright nailed both free throws in a huge momentum swing.

Tyler Keeler sinks the final free throws in the 70-64 Class 2 quarterfinal win over Crocker.

The Lions, determined to not let the clock slip away, went to the foul strategy, hoping to trade 3’s for frees. But the Eagles buried 8 of 10 free throws at the end to protect the lead and earn the 70-64 victory.

Purdy will play Hayti in a Class 2 state semifinal on Thursday at 6:50 p.m. in the JQH Arena on the campus of Missouri State University in Springfield.

Purdy scorers: Colt Keeling, 24; Tyler Keeler, 20; Hunter Cook, 11; Joby Young, 7; Jose Sanchez, 5; Mason Schallert, 2; Osiel Aldava, 1

Crocker scorers: Logan Wright, 19; Adam Shockley, 15; Ethyn Boorum, 11; Nathaniel Combs, 8; Cameron Bryant, 5; Dillon Porter, 4; Bryan Fincher, 1; Ethan Gan, 1.

Barry County Health Department February Food Service Report

The Barry County Health Department divides food service code violations into two categories: Priority and Core items.

Priority items are more likely than other violations to contribute to food contamination or illness and/or injury.

Core items, although important to the overall hygiene of the establishment, do not necessarily present an immediate threat to food contamination or illness and/or injury.

A report for each establishment that is inspected shows the number of priority items, along with a short statement as to the nature of the violations. The report also shows the number of core items but doesn't list the nature of those violations.

Exeter FFA members attend MO Public Speaking Institute

Madelyn Cole, Chapter Reporter

On Saturday, January 13, three members of the Exeter FFA Chapter attended the MO Public Speaking Institute in Columbia. The three members of the chapter that attended were junior Vanessa Ward, sophomore Mackenzie Fuller and sophomore Wyatt Hoppes.

The members were split up into groups where they then discussed topics such as proper ways to give a speech and ways to get over the fear of public speaking as well as many other topics.

The members felt it was a very positive and enlightening experience and will help all of them to improve upon their speaking skills.

Wheaton grad inducted into Phi Theta Kappa

John Hilsden Moseley, 2017 Wheaton H.S. graduate, was recently inducted into the Phi Theta Kappa national honorary society during this past fall semester. Hilsden is a freshman at Crowder College, Neosho in the Honors Program.

The Crowder Xi Xi Chapter is one of over 1,000

Phi Theta Kappa chapters nationwide. Membership is extended by invitation. To be considered for membership, a student must be enrolled in a two-year college and have achieved a cumulative grade point average equivalent of a 3.5 or higher. The purpose of Phi Theta Kappa is the recognition and encouragement of scholarship among two year college students. To achieve this purpose, Phi Theta Kappa shall provide opportunity for the development of leadership and service, for intellectual climate for exchange of ideas and ideals, for lively fellowship of scholars, and for stimulation of interest in continuing academic excellence.

Hilsden made a 4.0 GPA for the fall semester and was listed on Crowder's Dean List.

He is the son of Jay and Natalie Moseley, and the grandson of John and Billie Jean Higgs.

Webb City girls dash Cassville hopes with 37-26 win

Lee Stubblefield

Sometimes it isn't how many times you win but who you play that matters most.

Many in the Wildcat Nation were shocked that 1. Webb City received the #2 district seed instead of Cassville despite their 11-14 regular season record; and 2. that Webb City defeated 23-win Cassville handily in their district semifinal contest, 37-26.

Obviously, the district coaches who seeded the district tournament had other criteria besides just wins and losses. Only six of Cassville's regular season wins came against teams with winning records. Only one of those was against a Class 3 or higher school.

Like a hoarder's shopping cart leaving the thrift store, Cassville's schedule was loaded with Class 1 and 2 schools. They played every Ozark 7 team except McAuley and Thomas Jefferson. The four losses speak volumes. Blowout losses to Class 3 Mt. Vernon and Class 2 Fair Grove. Two losses to Class 2 District 11 champion Blue Eye.

The signature win for the Lady Wildcats was a 50-39 home win over Class 3 Lamar, a team that would finish the regular season with a 16-8 record.

Like Fair Grove, Webb City exposed Cassville's lack of team speed, and it's inability to handle a withering full court press. The shorter Lady Cardinals banged and bumped Madi Stokes all night, disrupting her offensive flow and denying her the big scoring night that the Ladycats so desperately needed.

When Cassville and Webb City clashed in their Class 4 District 10 semifinal at Cassville on Thursday night, the first quarter reeked of raw nerves as both teams committed numerous unforced turnovers. Stokes scored the first two baskets of the game, followed by Addie Darby's trey from the right corner to pull Webb within a point with the clock just under six minutes. The Lady Cardinals gained an 8-7 lead with another bomb delivered by Hannah Woodcock to finish the first-quarter scoring.

While Webb had a slight scoring advantage, Cassville benefitted from the whistles. The Lady Cardinals were called for six team fouls in the period while Cassville committed just one. That trend continued in the second quarter, and the foul discrepancy stood at 10-2 at halftime.

But the Lady Wildcats failed to capitalize at the free throw line, and Webb City held an 18-16 lead at the half as Darby rang the rim with two more treys.

The Lady Cardinals threw caution to the wind to start the third quarter, smothering Cassville's offense with a full court trap. Cami Roy scored twice in 31 seconds off back-court steals out of the press to give Webb a 22-18 lead.

Chris Shore popped off the bench and called a time out to settle the Lady Wildcats.

But Cassville could not handle the press, and the Lady Cardinals allowed just 5 points in the period while claiming a 33-21 lead at the final break.

In the fourth quarter, Webb City's Lance Robbins directed his girls through the classic four-corner delay weave. Time slipped away as the Lady Cardinals passed, dribbled, and passed. With a dozen-point lead, bleeding the clock was a greater priority than trying to score and possibly allowing Cassville to mount a late run.

The Ladycats chased and trapped but could not gain possession. Then, Darby drove for a wide open layup when Cassville extended the zone too far. The Webb City lead stood at 35-24 with just 3:14 to play.

Ray added two late free throws when Cassville finally fouled into the bonus, but Madry McCrackin's score to christen the final minute were the only points the Lady Wildcats could muster in answer. Besides struggling from the field, the Cassville shooters only hit 7 of 14 free throw attempts.

Webb City earned a trip to the district championship game with the 37-26 victory.

It was a bitter loss for this group of Cassville seniors that included Ashlynn Howe, Hallie Long, Audra Brooks, and Madi Stokes. As freshmen, they were part of an 11-15 team, then posted three consecutive winning seasons, going 14-13, 17-10, and then 23-5 to close out their high school careers. Overall, Shore's team posted a four-year record of 65-43, and reached the district final in 2017.

Cassville scorers: Madi Stokes, 12; Ashlynn Howe, 5; Madry McCrackin, 5; Hallie Long, 3; Audra Brooks, 1.

Webb City scorers: Addie Darby, 16; Cami Roy, 7; Abby Brownfield, 5; Ali Vanzant, 4; Hannah Woodcock, 3; Sydney Dixon, 2.

Care Group for Single Moms meets March 12

Are you a single mom with a desire to connect with other moms going through the same struggles as you? Being alone is hard, but you can join with others who share some of the same day-to-day struggles. A monthly Care Group for Single Moms meets on Monday, March 12, at the Cassville First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall (602 West Street). The evening of fun, food and fellowship is designed to bless and encourage single moms. The doors open at 5:30 p.m. and the evening concludes at 7:00 p.m. Simultaneously, there are planned activities for children.

The Care Group for Single Moms is part of The Caring People which is a Christian organization that reaches out to single moms. Christian women are trained to lead care groups in which single moms receive unconditional love and friendship. It was founded by JoDee Herschend in 1997. One in four homes in America is headed by a single mom. Discover more about The Caring People at www.thecaringpeople.org.

Ground breaking held at Mountain View Estates

Virginia and Steve Noller are excited that their dream of downsizing and simplifying their lives is becoming a reality. They recently purchased a double lot at Mountain View Estates from Shell Knob Seniors, Inc. (SKSI) and are beginning construction just a week later. Shell Knob Seniors, Inc. is the non-profit corporation that runs Central Crossing Senior Center.

Several years ago, KKSI platted 28 units (lots). These lots are intended for independently owned side-by-side or single-family patio homes. Its proximity to local amenities including health care, shopping, friends, common area maintenance and Central Crossing Senior Center being major draws. A walking or cart path connects the Senior Center and is adjacent to Mountain View Estates.

Side-by-side patio homes are considered two-bedroom units and single family are two to three bedrooms with two- or three-car garages possible. Paul T. Enterprises has contracted with SKSI to construct the housing and any infrastructure improvements.

As everyone knows, opening day of the 2018 trout season has come and gone. A date that had thousands of people anticipating it's arrival and planning their lives around the annual event. There is another day we all need to plan for. This day has some similarities to opening day. It is a day that should be planned for. It is the opening (beginning) of a new season (relationship). At the same time, there are some differences about the new day. It will be a one time occurrence. It will be a day of opening AND a day of closing. “But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up.” 2 Peter 3:10. With this in mind, let's do as the Reformation

Period theologian, Martin Luther, encouraged.
“I live this day in preparation of that day.”
