Volunteer efforts complete Greenway bridge

Charlea Estes

Eight months after the severe July flood washed away the Cassville Greenway trail bridge near the Aquatic Center, a new bridge is complete and ready for runners and walkers alike.

The project was a long-time coming while the City of Cassville waited for FEMA funds to be dispersed for a variety of projects related to repairs and recovery after downpours caused damage throughout the seven valleys. Cassville Public Works director Steve Walensky said the city finally received the FEMA funds in December.

The project cost approximately $7,000, with 75 percent of the funding from FEMA, 10 percent from SEMA and the remaining 15 percent from City funds. The city also has FEMA employees that they were approved for that are helping with recovery and repair projects for six months on projects like this. The funds were used to purchase and place the steel beams with a crane, as well as purchasing lumber and materials, and was spearheaded by a community volunteer that wanted to get the bridge back in operation.

Travis Hilburn approached Walensky back in July of last year to volunteer his efforts to get the bridge replaced. He said, “I ran this trail a lot when I went back in the military. Losing this bridge cut off 20 percent of the trail, and dozens if not hundreds of people do this trail. So I thought I would help out.

“I said, ‘I’ll build the bridge when you’re ready.’”

The plans began around six months ago, and Hilburn attempted to get the National Guard to pick up the project, but they were not able to. Hilburn led the project with the help of three FEMA employees and three City of Cassville employees. When the National Guard was unable to do the project, Hilburn said, “I figured I would just do it myself. I didn’t expect them to get me the FEMA or City employees to help me. But we got it done much faster than if I’d done it myself.

“It would have taken me a month to do this on my own.”

Employee arrested for making Regal bomb threat

Charlea Estes

An employee was arrested on Wednesday night for allegedly making the bomb threat to the Regal-Beloit plant on March 1. Kim L. Lawson, 53, of Washburn, was booked into the Barry County Jail on Wednesday, March 9, at 9:17 p.m. and charges were filed March 10.

According to the affidavit of probable cause by Det. Robert Evenson, of the Barry County Sheriff’s Department, Lawson placed the 911 call from a deactivated cell phone. The emergency dispatcher at the E9-1-1 Center said the caller claimed that a bomb was going to go off at Fasco, the former name of Regal-Beloit, between 6 p.m. and midnight.

As a result of the call, two different bomb-detecting dogs were brought in from Springfield and Jasper County, as well as officers from the Barry County Sheriff’s Department, Missouri State Highway Patrol and Cassville Police Department as well as the Cassville Fire Department. The factory was cleared of having a bomb just after 6 p.m.

Lawson

Regal ended up evacuating more than 10 employees after the threat was made and cancelled the evening shift of around 40 workers.

Barry County Sheriff Mick Epperly said that Lawson was identified by the 9-1-1 recording by detectives on the case. When asked about motive, he said, “All we know is that he’s missed some work the day before.” No other motive was revealed.

Lawson was charged with making a terroristic threat, a class C felony. Lawson posted a $15,000 cash-only bond on Monday, March 14. Lawson has a disposition hearing before Barry County Judge Robert Foulke on Thursday, March 24, at 8:30 a.m.

It took the group a little over a week to finish the bridge. Walensky said, “Travis took the lead; he had the initiative. He led the whole thing, and I didn’t really have any involvement with this.”

Walensky did say the city plans to power wash the bridge and treat it with a water repellent to protect it from the elements.

The new bridge has quite a few improvements over the original. The bridge was widened and given angled rails and a rub rail to make it more comfortable for runners. Hilburn also planed down the boards to make it smooth to cross. He said, “If you had a stroller on it before, you’d have to practically pick it up to cross. It isn’t like that now.”

The city is currently taking bids to replace asphalt that was washed away as well as making a smooth transition of asphalt up to the bridge from the trail.

Hilburn said, “They’re going to fill in the holes in the asphalt and they’re cleaning up the creek bed. It’ll be a nice trail to walk again.”

Once the bridge was complete, Hilburn approached the Cassville City Council requesting that the bridge be dedicated to his late grandfather, William Harvey Hilburn, a lifelong Cassville resident. He said, “I think to remember him in this manner would be an honor to his name.” The council approved his request unanimously and opted to pay for the plaque with city funds.

Mayor Bill Shiveley shared, “I’ve already had a lot of good feedback and comments on it.”

Barry County has 45 percent voter turn out; Cruz, Clinton take nominations

Charlea Estes

Barry County voters turned out in high numbers yesterday for the Presidential Preference election. With 45 percent of voters casting their ballots at the polls, Ted Cruz took the Republican nomination and Hillary Clinton won on the Democrat ballot, both by narrow margins.

According to unofficial numbers, 8,729 of Barry County’s 19,628 voters cast ballots for the primary. Of those, 1,693 were Democratic ballots, 7,031 were Republican ballots and four were Libertarian.

On the Democrat side, Hillary Clinton edged out Bernie Sanders with 874 votes to 796. Clinton finished at 51.62 percent to Sanders’ 47.02.

Ted Cruz bagged the Republican nomination with 3,189 votes to Donald Trump’s 3,030. Cruz finished at 45.36 percent, Trump at 43.09 percent, John Kasich at 5.69 percent and Marco Rubio at 3.63 percent. Rubio announced his decision to suspend his campaign after a loss in Florida last night.

Missouri’s unofficial numbers have Clinton and Trump in the lead with less than one percent margins over Sanders and Cruz.

Current standings show delegate results for Trump at 621 with Cruz trailing with 396. Clinton is ahead of Sanders 1,132 to 818, however superdelegate votes are not final until the Democratic National Convention in July.

Southwest student accepted to Harvard

Charlea Estes

A Southwest senior’s longtime dream was realized this week when he got the call he’d been hoping for: confirmation that he had been accepted to Harvard University starting in Fall 2016.

Alejandro (Alex) Jimenez, of Washburn, was riding in the car with his family when he got the call. “I received a call from a Boston, Massachusetts, number, and I was about to hang up because I thought it was a telemarketer. But I’m really glad I didn’t. When I heard ‘congratulations’ my heart just dropped. It was amazing.”

Hutchens becomes completely employee-owned

Charlea Estes

Hutchens Construction of Cassville announced last week that they had transitioned into becoming a 100 percent employee-owned company by forming an Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP).

Owners Phil and Valarie Hutchens announced their decision as a surprise at a company-wide meeting on March 5. While Phil will stay on as president of the company, they feel that the switch to being truly employee-owned will be good for the employees and the business as a whole.

Reasons for the decision tied mostly to employee benefit and control without the possibility of losing the company to an outside buyer. Hutchens said their reasons were to preserve the company legacy and retain employees, allow employees to benefit directly from company success, attracting and retaining employees, motivation for improvement of quality, productivity and customer satisfaction, as well as meaningful retirement benefits for long-time employees and allowing the company to operate under the same management as it has been.

Hutchens has grown significantly since it's founding in 1961. The company's beginnings were small-scale, spraying asphalt in chicken houses and chip and sealing driveways. Today, Hutchens owns four asphalt plants and four aggregate quarries and has operations in both Missouri and Arkansas.

During the meeting, Phil told the employees, "Generating $1 in revenue by increasing sales will involve a lot of costs. At the end of the day, you might only keep a nickel. If you generate the same $1 by reducing expenses, you keep the whole $1."

Hutchens is joining around 2,500 privately owned companies that are 100 percent ESOP. Studies reveal that ESOP companies outperform traditional privately owned companies.

The way the new ESOP will affect employees involves employees ownership stake. Each year, the company's profits will determine how much money is allocated into each employee's accounts. The plan is a qualified retirement plan that buys, holds and sells company stock to benefit its employees. Their earnings will be able to be cashed in upon retirement. Should an employee resign from Hutchens, the vested account balance can roll over into an IRA similar to a 401K plan.

VAUGHAN ELLIS SLATON
Vaughan Ellis Slaton, 76, of Tulsa, Okla., died Friday, February 19, 2016, in Tulsa, after a prolonged hospitalization. A celebration of his life was held Saturday, March 5, at his church, First Christian Church of Sapulpa, Okla.

Vaughan was born November 26, 1939, to Ernest La Vee and Josephine Jewel (Cornett) Slaton. He was a graduate of Sapulpa High School, class of 1958. He was President of his Senior Class.

Vaughan was a member of the First Christian Church in Sapulpa, Okla., where he served as deacon for many years. He enjoyed reading, golf, fishing, and hunting. He was a very giving man and loved his family, friends and people in general. His generosity and propensity to always be a giver did not stop with his last breath. It was his long-standing wish to donate his body for medical research. He gave to the end, and he is still giving even in death.

After retiring from Texaco Refinery in Tulsa, he was self-employed as an income tax preparer for more than 40 years. His many clients, and especially those for whom he prepared gratis, will find it hard to replace him.

Vaughan was preceded in death by his parents and youngest brother. He is survived by his wife, Rae Jean Roller, of the home; by his children; grandchildren; great-grandchildren; his brothers and their wives and families; as well as many other relatives, friends (especially his fellow classmates who met every Saturday morning for breakfast), neighbors, and clients.

Dalton E. Nelson

Dalton E. Nelson, 20, of Poplar Bluff, is wanted for burglary in the second degree and three counts of distribution of a controlled substance.

Gary Adams, 24, of Seligman, is wanted for endangering the welfare of a child in the first degree, failure to drive on the right half of the roadway and failure to wear a seatbelt.

Cassville PD checking for youth seatbelt use

The Cassville Police Department announced today they are joining with statewide law enforcement March 15-31 for an aggressive youth seat belt mobilization, to crack down on Missouri's seat belt law violators and to reduce highway fatalities.

Only 68 percent of Missouri teens wear their seat belts when driving or riding in a motor vehicle. Eight out of ten teens killed in traffic crashes are unbuckled.

Under the Graduated Driver's License (GDL) law, teens are required to wear their seat belt as it's a primary offense, meaning they can be pulled over solely for not wearing their seat belt.

"Local motorists should be prepared for stepped up seat belt enforcement," said

Chief Dana Kammerlohr. "We'll be out there to remind you seat belts can – and do – save lives."

Seat belt use is the single most effective way to protect people and reduce fatalities in motor vehicle crashes.

Buckle Up and Arrive Alive. For information on Missouri seatbelt usage, visit www.saveMOlives.com.

Mercy EMS takes over South Barry County ambulances

Charlea Estes

After 28 years, ambulance services for the South Barry County Ambulance District (SBCAD) were switched from CoxHealth to Mercy last week. The SBCAD voted to switch providers last fall, and the transition happened March 9.

Mercy was enthusiastic about the opportunity to provide services as part of a five-year contract. Both Mercy and CoxHealth bid the contract at no cost for the SBCAD, and the Board selected Mercy for various benefits.

So far, response to the switch was been mostly positive. Barry County E9-1-1 director Mike Phillips said, "I am sure the people of Barry County would be pleased in the increased patient care that has been shown this week. I look forward to building on this with Mercy."

SBCAD board president Ken Cieslinski said, "In all honesty, the switch has been absolutely phenomenal. It's been seamless and I say that with confidence. I've has an unbelievable amount of communication with Bob Patterson, the director of MS services, and field supervisors and it's gone incredibly well. They've done a lot of preparation and it shows. The communication is good or better than it's ever been with 9-1-1."

Bob Patterson, executive director for Mercy EMS, stated, "We're excited to build on the services provided to Barry County. With backup from Mercy Hospital Cassville, as well as three Life Line helicopters and other Mercy EMS services nearby, we're now in a great spot to respond to patients quickly."

Mercy is staffing around 30 new positions as part of the three 24-hour vehicles. Two of those ambulances are housed at the Cassville station and one is in Shell Knob.

Patterson added, "These new services will bring the best possible service for our patients." Mercy has mutual aid through Mercy EMS in Aurora as well as other nearby counties.

Mercy Hospital Cassville's administrator Doug

Stroemel said, "We're very pleased to welcome our Mercy EMS team to South Barry County. Together, we're committed to providing excellent care and service to our patients."

While CoxHealth employees were offered positions with Mercy after the switch, all 17 decided to stay with CoxHealth. Of those, 12 are staffing "float trucks" that are used throughout the system wherever they are needed. Two others are supervisors on those trucks and rotate with Stone County, and the other three took positions in Stone and Webster Counties.

Kaitlyn McConnell, media relations coordinator for CoxHealth, said, "The staff that lived and worked in the South Barry County Ambulance District area have developed close bonds with the communities and citizens that they served. Many of them still live in the area. They are disappointed with this change, but they remain active citizens within the county. It is their goal to continue providing professional and compassionate care for patients that they encounter going forward, just as they have done in South Barry County for the past 28 years."

For Mercy, Patterson said, "All our new co-workers are excited about the opportunity to serve the residents and visitors of the District."

Cieslinski said, "We were in hopes early on that we would retain some of the employees, but as time went on that wasn't the case. We understand and we support them in the decision that they made."

"Genesis 18 has the beginning of the story of Sodom and Gomorrah. Because of their wickedness, God has decided to destroy both cities. However, Abraham pleads with God to spare them, if as few as 10 righteous people are found.

Many people see God as a God of vengeance; waiting for us to make a mistake and then gleefully punishing us. That is not the case at all. Sparing two cities for the sake of 10 people shows the extent of His love and mercy.

God does not delight in punishment; just the opposite. He is a God of love; "He that loveth not, knoweth not God; for God is love." 1st John 4:8. This love was shown in the sacrifice of his son; "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16. God's desire is for us to return that love through obedience, and then He rejoices with the Angels. "I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance." Luke 15:7.

The family at The Mill St. Church of Christ invites you to join us as we strive to give God joy, by living as "one of the 10" Abraham sought.

Cover Curiosity With Safety.

Your family deserves your best attention to safety, especially when it comes to electrical hazards. Curious children may be too young to understand the dangers of playing with electrical outlets or power cords.

Cassville honors students at academic awards banquet

Cassville High School held their annual Academic Awards banquet on Thursday, March 10. Between freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors, 255 students were honored. To earn an academic award, students must have earned a 3.34 GPA on a 4.0 scale based on the first semester grades and they must be enrolled in six classes, four of which must be in an academic area. 46 percent of CHS students earned the honor this year. Pictured above, freshman Hayley Nape receives her award from principal Jeff Swadley.

Book signing Mar. 21 at Shell Knob Senior Center

Seven authors will sign and sell their books at the Senior Center in Shell Knob on March 21 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. It's a fund raiser for the Central Crossing Senior Center. Lunch is available from 11:15 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Glenn Phillips' book, $50.00 and a DREAM, is the true story of building the Senior Center in Shell Knob, beginning in 1998. Filled with frustration, humor, grit and determination, it's a living history of how prayer and "doing Gods good work" can overcome adversities. To see the center today is amazing! All proceeds from the sale of this book are donated to the Central Crossing Senior Center.

A Cassville resident's fiction novel, Blood Necklace, by Thomas S. Mulvaugh, is a tale of former Kansas City detective Rick Ryder who returns to his hometown of Cassville after his high school sweetheart is found murdered in his sports car at Roaring River State Park. It is the first in a series of books about these characters.

From Eureka Springs, Pat Schaller's book, Courage To Continue, presents a revealing account of how the progression of abuse can occur in a marriage and the impact this can have on an entire family. She got out of that 27-year nightmare 10 years ago and now shares the courage she got from God.

Buried By Table Rock Lake by Tom Koob is a fascinating book of tales, anecdotes and facts about everything covered by the lake. It is a story of a rugged land and rugged people. Koob has lived in the Table Rock area since 1991. This is his second full-length book following the success of The History of Fishing Table Rock Lake.

Shell Knob resident Jim Wulz wrote A Recollection Collection. Interesting and fun to read, this book is an assortment of homemade toys, games of long ago, some favorite foods of those years, and a few old home remedies, preserving a niche in time that is full of memories for many.

The Survivors' Walk, written by Shell Knob resident Jackie Ryan Witherspoon, is a novel based on five women who meet and form an unlikely bond while going through chemo therapy for breast cancer.

Sometimes heartbreaking, often uplifting, Witherspoon sheds an honest light on the physical and emotional trauma of the characters in this vivid and moving story.

All I ever wanted was to be Normal ~ from chains of addictions to the joys of freedom is Jo Twidwell's true life testimony. She was addicted to alcohol and sex, living with her abusive boyfriend, depressed and suicidal, but Jesus heard her cry for help in 1984, and He changed her life! Twidwell has lived in Shell Knob for 19 years.

Jenkin's poet, Missy Wolf, cannot attend this event, but her signed book, Journey On, will be there. It's a treasure to own and a blessing to give as a gift. There are 153 inspirational, anointed poems that will warm your heart. Wolf believes God can speak to us in many different ways and hopes that you will hear His voice in her poems.

Cassville Principal kisses a pig for good attendance

Cassville Intermediate principal Eric White kissed a pig last week as a reward for good attendance for students. Each quarter, the third, fourth and fifth grade classes compete for a special reward for whichever grade has the best attendance. This quarter, the fourth grade class won and representatives from each class put lipstick on Mr. White before he kissed a pig in front of the whole school. The fourth graders also got to have a special assembly.

HARVARD from FRONT

When his father took him to the Harvard University campus four years ago, Alex rubbed John Harvard's shoe. He said, "Legend has it that if you rub John Harvard's shoe, you are more likely to get accepted to the University in the future."

bers had different reactions to the news. "My father teared up. Bryan [my brother] and Rachel [my sister] were shocked. I called my mother and she didn't seem so surprised. She said, 'Yeah, I kind of expected it.'"

However, Alex wasn't quite so sure at first. He said, "The immediate reaction was to thank her profusely and then hang up so that I could tell my family because they didn't know what was going on at the time. I actually called her back to make sure it wasn't a prank. I didn't tell her that; I told her I was sorry that I was flustered and asked to get some more information. But it was real."

It took a lot of work and long hours of studying to get Alex where he is. His current weighted GPA is a 4.38.

"He worked very, very hard. It's unbelievable how hard he worked. He's been dreaming about this since he was a little kid," Alex's father, Prudencio, said.

He also shared a story about Alex from when he was young. "We went to the bank with the money we got from picking up walnuts, and when we got there, the woman asked what he wanted to do with all of the money. He told her, 'I want to put it in savings so I can go to Harvard.' That was when he was just a little kid."

His father added, "He's had this dream since he was little. It was one of his dreams, and they're going to pay a full-ride. They're going to pay everything."

"He missed out on a lot because he was studying. I told him to take time off, to not work so hard and have some fun, but it's who he is."

Because it was Alex's dream, his father took him

tion is priceless because he was high school educated. They always wanted me to go to Harvard if that's what I wanted."

Learning of the news, Alex shared it with one of his more influential teachers. He said, "I called a very close teacher, Mr. Brandon Burns, and he was so excited he gave me advice about what to do next. He helped me along the way. I think, because of him, I was able to be a better writer and that's part of the reason I got accepted to Harvard. All through my life people told me that my writing was great, but he was the first one to critique my writing, and I was actually able to improve."

In an interview, Burns said, "When I first met Alex, I knew that he was going to do great things in the world. His drive for success and unrelenting motivation to be the best in his endeavors inspires those around him. Faith is an integral part of Alex's character, and this leads him to treat others with fairness, kindness, and empathy. I have never heard Alex speak negatively about anyone; his faith guides him away from judgment and toward service and a genuine interest in others. My life has been enriched from getting to know Alex over the past three years."

As more information came out, Alex found out that he had received a likely letter from the university. Meaning he was one of 100 applicants that was contacted first because of their interest in him. He said, "Essentially, she was saying that the likely letter was the first round of sending out notifications, so I'm grateful that I was able to know earlier and have this knowledge before so that I could take a step back and see what options I have now."

Alex has also been accepted to Washington University, University of North Carolina, Chappell Hill, Brigham Young University and Drury. "I'm glad to have options, but I'm going to Harvard," he laughed.

His biology teacher, Ms. Jennifer Thornton, said, "Alex is a very dedicated and focused young man who goes above and beyond what is asked of him. Over the past four years, I have watched him mature and grow into a respectful, responsible and successful young man. We are all so very proud of him and his accomplishments."

Another teacher, Ms. Dianna Gaylen, said, "Discussing themes in class with Alex is challenging and engaging because of his perspectives and insight. As a teacher, I have to work harder than I ever have before, because such a great mind deserves the best I can possibly provide.

She added, "I simply cannot wait to see the ways Alex Jimenez will change our world for the better. He and other Southwest students like him give me great hope for the future of our country."

A lot of people are pulling for Alex and proud of his dedication to make it to where he is. This fall, Alex will attend Harvard with his tuition paid for because of the dedication and perseverance he showed. Alex plans to take two years off for an LDS mission trip after his freshman year, but will return to campus after.

Jimenez

He plans to pursue a law degree in civil rights.

Alex said, "I'm still waking up from a dream."

The effective nationwide substance-impaired driving crackdown will include high-visibility enforcement, high-profile events, and will be supported by national paid advertising, creating a comprehensive campaign to curb substance-impaired driving over the St. Patrick's Day holiday.

Cassville Police Department said its officers will be aggressively looking for substance-impaired drivers during the crackdown and will arrest anyone caught driving impaired.

Although it is illegal in all 50 States, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico to drive impaired (having a blood alcohol concentration of .08 or higher), far too many people across the nation get behind the wheel after consuming too much alcohol. The latest statistics from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration underscore the serious nature of the nation's continuing drunk driving epidemic.

"Every year, about one third of all motor vehicle traffic deaths involve one or more substance-impaired drivers or motorcycle operators," said Sgt. Donald Privett. "In 2015, 163 people were killed and 575 seriously injured on Missouri's roadways in crashes that involved at least one substance-impaired driver."

That works out to approximately one substance-impaired driver involved fatality every (2) two days.

Sgt. Privett added the St. Patrick's Day holiday is particularly dangerous. During the St. Patrick's Day holiday March 14-17, 2015, two (2) people were killed and seven (7) seriously injured involving at least one substance-impaired driver.

"Research has shown that high-visibility enforcement like the 'Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over' campaign reduces substance-impaired driving fatalities by as much as 20 percent. By joining this nationwide effort, we will make Cassville's roadways safer for everyone throughout the holiday," said Sgt. Privett.

"We want to remind everyone that getting behind the wheel impaired is a terrible idea. Unfortunately, not only does being under the influence impair your ability to operate a vehicle safely, it also impairs your judgment and good sense about whether you can, or should drive. If you have any doubt about your sobriety, do not get behind the wheel. If you do chose to drive impaired, you will be arrested. No warnings. No excuses," Sgt. Privett said.

Chief Dana Kammerlohr noted that being arrested for driving under the influence of any substance brings a wide range of negative consequences into one's life. Substance-impaired drivers face jail time, loss of their driver licenses, and steep financial consequences such as higher insurance rates, attorney fees, court costs, lost time at work, and the potential loss of job. When family, friends and co-workers find out, violators also often face tremendous personal embarrassment.

"Driving while impaired is simply not worth the risk. So don't take the chance. Remember, we will be out in force and we will be watching, so 'Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over,'" said Chief Kammerlohr.

Barry County Democrats delegate selection April 7

All Democrats in Barry County interested in participating in the delegate selection process should gather at the Barry Electric Cooperative meeting room, 4015 Main, Cassville, on Thursday, April 7, at 7:30 p.m.

The April 7 meeting is the first level of a multi-tiered Delegate Selection Process in Missouri. It will eventually lead to the selection of Democratic delegates and alternates to the Democratic National Convention, which will be held July 25-28 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Persons elected on April 7th will attend the Congressional District Convention on April 28th and have the opportunity to be elected as a Congressional District National Delegate or Alternate. They will also be able to attend the Missouri State Democratic Convention on June 18th. Delegates and alternates will be allocated to presidential candidates to accurately reflect the expressed presidential preferences in the March 15th Presidential Primary.

Participation is open to all voters who wish to participate as Democrats, who are residents and registered voters in Barry County, who are at least eighteen years of age, who declare themselves to be Democrats, are not members of any other political party, who have voted in the March 15 Presidential Primary, and those who have submitted Form MM to the State Party Chair by the March 31 deadline to qualify for the April 7 Mass Meeting.

For further information, contact Nolan McNeill, the Barry County Chair, at (417) 235-4893.

A moment in time: Southwest Trojans, 1966 district basketball champions

Lee Stubblefield

It has been fifty years since Southwest won a boys basketball district title. Fifty. Half a century. That is a staggering statistic. There have been some good Southwest teams along the way that could have won districts, and a few that should have. Most recently, Jason Horn's 2012 squad owned a halftime lead over Mt. Vernon in the district championship game, but that chance slipped cruelly away.

There were also teams that had no shot. Many of them. In fifteen consecutive seasons from 1995 to 2009, the Southwest teams were already on the bus home from districts faster than you could say, "One and done." It was a bleak period.

That is what makes the memory of the back-to-back district titles in 1965 and 1966 so special.

Talking to Jim Roller, who played on both title teams, provides a lesson in Southwest history. Roller is a standard fixture at most Southwest home games, and even when he is not there, his name is. In 1966, Roller became Southwest's very first All State athlete, and his name leads the list of the many All-State performers the school has produced over the years.

Roller remembers well the 1966 team that he led into the state playoffs, a run that would end with a loss to Greenwood Laboratory, of Springfield.

"The year before, we lost to Golden City and they were just better than we were," Roller recalled. "But we had a chance to beat Greenwood, and we should have beaten them."

Cagle was in his fifth season at Southwest, and he left after that year to coach at Camdenton. Cagle became a part of Southwest lore in his brief coaching stint. He went into the military out of high school, then went to college at Northeastern A&M at Tahlequah, Oklahoma. Cagle was hired right out of college as the varsity coach at Southwest, but he was no kid.

Cagle's boys were the first successful sports teams at the school following the consolidation of the Washburn and Seligman schools into the Southwest R-V school district. Cagle left with 75 wins to his credit, which remained the most of any Southwest boys basketball coach until Horn amassed 93 wins before moving on to Neosho.

This year, Southwest

hosted the Class 2 District 12 tournament, and hopes were high for a magical run in the 50th anniversary year of the school's last district title. It wasn't to be. Instead, the Purdy Eagles upset both Pierce City and McAuley to take the championship trophy.

Jim Roller just smiled. He has waited 50 years to see another district championship at his alma mater. He will just have to wait a little longer.

Crane Lady Pirates claim fourth consecutive state title

Lee Stubblefield

Even without your favorite teams involved in the final four scenario of the MSHSAA Show Me Showdown basketball tournament in Columbia, it is always fascinating to see how the southwest Missouri teams fare at state. Playing at a statistical disadvantage against the urban and private schools, teams from the Ozarks historically win more than their share of the choice hardware. Of course, every team at the Show Me Showdown receives at least a MSHSAA fourth-place trophy. The old saying, "Only the state champions win their last game of the season" doesn't apply here, because the semifinal losers play a third-place contest. It's tough being the fourth-place team, because that means that you lost the last two games of an otherwise successful season.

The Crane Lady Pirates nailed down a permanent spot in the MSHSAA record books with their fourth consecutive Class 2 championship. Crane defeated perennial foe Skyline in the Thursday semifinals, 56-50, before dispatching Neelyville in Saturday's title game, 78-57. Lexi Vaught, who will play for the Drury Lady Panthers next year, led the Lady Pirates with 22 points. The Crane seniors closed out their careers with a 122-7 record, and are only the sixth Missouri high school program ever to win four straight championships. Crane's only loss this season was to North Little Rock, a 75-65 winner over Conway in overtime on Saturday in the Arkansas Class 7 state championship game. Crane girls, Hartville boys own Class 2 Besides Crane's domination of the girls bracket, the Hartville boys made some noise with their run through the tournament. After dropping Purdy in the quarterfinals, Hartville ran the clock on Wellington-Napoleon in the semis behind a 26-point performance by Ryan Ward. Then, the blue Eagles dumped Iberia in the title game, 64-37. Four Hartville players scored in double figures, led by Ward with 15.
