

Three charged in cross-country drug deal

Charlea Estes-Jones

Three people were charged in connection with a drug sale from California. According to a press release from the Ozarks Drug Enforcement Team (ODET), the team served a search warrant with assistance from the Barry County Sheriff's Office and seized over two pounds of marijuana and two grams of methamphetamine as well as 52 firearms and 1,000 rounds of ammunition.

Three people have been charged with the crime, Conly Butler, 33, of Cassville, Natasha M. Butler, 39, of Cassville, and Sarah Beck, 51, of Cassville. The search warrant was served at a residence at 80 Gravel Street in Cassville on Thursday, April 5.

When detectives were in the residence, the affidavits of probable cause state there were three bags of marijuana weighing 474 grams, 461 grams and 200 grams. Officers reported the smallest package was delivered just prior to the search warrant being executed. Officers also claim to have located two grams of methamphetamine.

Throughout the home, officers recovered 52 firearms with over 1,000 rounds of ammunition. Most of the firearms were loaded, according to affidavits of probable cause.

Officers also located digital scales, baggies and drug paraphernalia, all synonymous with drug sales.

According to affidavits of probable cause, 20 packages were delivered to the residence. The most recent package came from California.

Conly Butler is charged with delivery of a controlled substance, possession of a controlled substance, unlawful possession of drug paraphernalia and unlawful use of a weapon as a felon in possession of a firearm. He is being held in the Barry County Jail on a $75,000 cash-only bond.

Barry County retires Cosper's badge number at memorial

Charlea Estes-Jones

On Friday, around 75 people gathered outside the Barry County Jail as Sheriff Gary Davis officially retired the number of Master Sergeant Carl Cosper, Jr. Cosper's number 76 was retired after he was killed in a car crash while on duty last year.

Sheriff Davis addressed the crowd, "A year ago tomorrow was a dark day for the Barry County Sheriff's Office."

Davis continued, "We're going to take a few minutes today to remember Master Sergeant Cosper. But I also want to mention Officer Castetter. I don't want to forget him because almost 22 years ago, we also lost his life in service to the citizens of Barry County. While the focus today is on Carl and a tribute to him, I want to remember Chris."

Sheriff Davis went on to explain the Missing Man's Table set up on the steps of the jail and read a proclamation from the Barry County Commission, retiring Cosper's badge number. The table is a somber reminder of an officer or veteran who lost his life in the line of duty or was taken as a prisoner of war.

Davis read the proclamation aloud to the crowd: "Some men are called to give a little in performing their duties, some

E91-1-1 celebrates ten years with open house this Friday

Charlea Estes-Jones

A lot of people take for granted what happens when they call 911. You call, a person answers, they get you help and, hopefully, you get the help you need in bad situations. Barry County has a top-rated E9-1-1 service, and this year marks ten years since they started dispatching emergency services.

In celebration of ten years, the Barry County E9-1-1 Center is hosting an open house, tours and a ribbon cutting as a thank you to the community for support and to thank the telecommunications who make the center one of the best in the state. The event is to happen on Friday, April 13, beginning at noon.

According to Mike Phillips, E9-1-1 director since 2010, Barry County's emergency dispatching is successful because of the dedication of the people taking the calls.

He said, "The people of this center are performing at the highest level of service possible. It's a testament to the people of Barry County in terms of the work being done here."

Each year, the center recognizes the employees' accomplishments during Telecommunicator Week, which they pair with an open house. This year, Phillips said they are making a bigger event because of the ten-year milestone.

While Barry County voters approved a 1/4 cent sales tax in 2005 to build and fund a formal 911 center, it was another three years before the 911 center actually began operations. Phillips said, "We took our first 911 call in 2008. It took almost three years to create a vision, build the walls, get the equipment and hire the staff. But from March 2008 to April 2018 is ten years of service to Barry County."

Despite best efforts, within two years of Phillips starting in 2010, it became apparent that the scope of the duties of the center was beyond the initial funding, and once again, Barry County voters put their faith in the E9-1-1 Center and approved an additional 1/8 cent tax to secure the future of the service.

He said, "It was very clear to us that the funding mechanism was not going to support the 911 center longterm. We tried to cut costs and saved around $150,000 a year by cutting staff and service and equipment. But we were still in the red. We knew we wouldn't be able to continue the operation with that funding situation."

So the board at that time made the decision to ask voters for additional funds to ensure the county's citizens continued to receive that service. Phillips said it came down to a few issues, "We needed to make sure we would stay current on technology and equipment and move forward on our debt repayment. It gave us the financial footing to continue."

In response, the 911 center has grown exponentially from those early days. In May 2016, Barry County's E9-1-1 Center became one of four accredited centers of excellence in the state of Missouri. Today, they are one of five in the state.

Phillips explained, "It's such a rarity, and it's really something. It's a testament to the work our people are doing."

"It's really easy for an organization to say they are doing great. But we had an outside person come in and evaluate what we are doing from top to bottom. And they said our people were performing at the highest level of excellence when it comes to taking those calls and dispatching."

At any given time, there are three to four dedicated dispatchers taking calls at Barry County E9-1-1 and sending out medical, fire or pile to respond. The medical dispatching was one of the biggest changes in the ten years the center has been

Habitat for Humanity plans to build homes in Seligman

Charlea Estes-Jones

For a lot of people in Barry County, the local Habitat for Humanity has been affiliated with Cassville. While the first six of the homes built by the southern Barry County Habitat group have been in Cassville, board president David Hermann wants to set the record straight and hopes to get applications for homes from Seligman families.

Hermann recently spoke during the monthly Seligman City Council meeting. He wanted to let council members know that Habitat hopes to start building the first Seligman home within the next couple years.

Herman said, “I want to get the word out now. I want people to be thinking about it and encouraging others to at least fill out an application. If you don’t fill out an application, you’ll never know if you’re eligible for a Habitat House or not.”

He also said the meeting with the City of Seligman was to introduce himself and explain the benefits of Habitat homes for the community. He said, “I had an opportunity to present to Seligman and spoke with them about what Habitat is and how it started.

“Basically, I gave it a face with a name.”

Hermann is hoping that with more people in not only Seligman, but also other communities in Barry County knowing that opportunities exist for them to get a Habitat home, they can begin the process of purchasing land and getting the group’s mission spread to other communities outside of Cassville.

Right now, Habitat for Humanity of south Barry County has six houses in Cassville. They are getting ready to break ground on the seventh house in Cassville, but the eighth is going to be built in Wheaton. All communities south of Purdy are within the area the local Habitat can build.

Hermann said, “I want to talk about how Habitat can help people in Seligman. You’re going to have families who might not have a nice home and don’t know what to do. They might not know what Habitat can do for them. It allows them to fill out an application and get into a home that is affordable and is energy efficient.”

He continued, “I have six pieces of property in Seligman I’ve looked at that are all connected to each other. Potentially, that could hold six individual homes. There are water meters and telephone poles already. We will be purchasing the property.”

If Hermann gets applications from families, he wants to proceed with buying the property.

Hermann said, “We talked about what Habitat can do for Seligman itself. As more Habitat homes come into Seligman, other businesses might join HARPS and think, ‘I should build my business there.’”

The meeting with Seligman’s City Council was two-fold. He explained the benefits of Habitat but also wanted the city and its citizens to be aware of how they could help with Habitat’s mission. Hermann went on, “It’s also: What can Seligman do for Habitat?”

“In the long run, if we are building a home, the cost of labor and materials is what makes the price of the home. So, if you have someone who comes in as a carpenter, electrician or plumber by trade and donate their time, it reduces the overall cost of the house. One of the nice things that sets us apart from any other lending organization is that our homes are interest free, which is important for people to know.”

Hermann’s reaction to the meeting on Monday night is that it was positive. He said, “The board and floor all had questions. It was a great meeting. I was glad they asked questions. One actually said that he had seen in other communities that it makes the city look better.”

Moving forward, Hermann said Seligman families can pick up Habitat for Humanity applications at city hall. He said, “I don’t want people to have to drive to Cassville to pick up applications. They can just get

Phillips stated, "Our medical calls used to be dispatched from Springfield. We would have to take and then transfer that call. Now we take that call and dispatch right here from Barry County. We found out that eliminating that Springfield call decreases response time from when the call comes in."

They have also upgraded the technology dispatchers use daily to make sure emergency services gets to the scene. Phillips said, "We made a plan to upgrade the equipment. We have four systems in dispatch and we have upgraded three of those four today. Within a month or month and a half, we will have updated all of our systems. That is super important because we want to make sure we deliver on the promises we made to upgrade our equipment. The life expectancy of this equipment was 5-7 years. Some of the equipment we upgraded was over that thresh hold.

We've upgraded MULES, our mapping system, the radio system, and then the final step is our phones.

"We plan to have those done within the next six weeks or so."

The ribbon cutting for the ten year anniversary at the Barry County E9-1-1 Cetner will be at noon on Friday, April 13. Beginning at 12:30 p.m., the center will open to the public for tours and will serve light refreshments and cake. The Barry County E9-1-1 Center is located at 4011 Main Street in Cassville.

Exeter man arrested for alleged death threats, drugs

Charlea Estes-Jones

An Exeter man is charged with possession of a controlled substance after allegedly making death threats to the people he lives with. According to affidavits of probable cause, Scott Arthur Patterson, of Exeter, was arrested on Wednesday, April 4, after being found to have methamphetamine.

The Barry County Sheriff's Department arrested Patterson after a search of his bedroom. According to affidavits or probable cause, Patterson had six plastic baggies with methamphetamine residue, three plastic syringes, one glass syringe, a metal spoon and a sunglass lens with residue in Patterson's dresser drawer.

When confronted, Patterson allegedly said he had a drug problem and needed help.

Officers also located ammunition in his bedroom.

Patterson had allegedly been making threats to kill everyone who lived in the home on Farm Road 2170 in Exeter where he resided.

Patterson was arrested and charged with possession of a controlled substance. He is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $15,000 cash-only bond.

Barry County Sheriff's Office releases update on drug cases

Between the dates of March 5, 2018, and March 22, 2018, The Barry County Sheriff's Office and the Ozark Drug Enforcement Team (ODET) made 16 arrest for narcotics and weapons violations, cleared 12 fugitive arrest warrants that were active from Hawaii, Alaska, Arkansas and Missouri, and served eight search warrants in Barry County. The warrants were served in: Cassville, Mineral Springs, Exeter, Seligman and Shell Knob. The Sheriff's Department seized 303.2 grams of methamphetamine, 35 grams of marijuana, 100 hits of LSD, three grams of DMT and numerous prescription narcotics. During these operations, they seized six firearms from individuals who should not have had them with one Federal case charged and possible Federal charges pending against others.

The Barry County Sheriff's Office has been working hard to make Barry County a place they are proud to call home. They say they could not have done it without the assistance of ODET and other law enforcement agencies in the county. The Sheriff's Office is looking forward to continued efforts and team work with the other agencies. The department released the statement: "This is just the beginning and we want the drug dealers to know the Barry County Sheriff's Office and the Ozarks Drug Enforcement Team are here to stay and will hunt them down and make them pay if they are dealing drugs and are felons in possession of guns."

CHAPTER SIX OF EIGHT

KALI: A Polar Bear's Tale

AUTHOR: CAROLYN MUELLER | ILLUSTRATOR: JEREMY PATTON & JAYNE BALLEW

Chapter Six:

Kali was going to Buffalo, New York! Soon he'd meet a new friend, Luna. Luna was a baby polar bear, just like Kali. She was born at the Buffalo Zoo, hand-raised by keepers, and did not live with other polar bears. Though she played with toys and romped in the winter snow with her keepers, she too needed to learn how to be a polar bear from another polar bear. Since both Kali and Luna were living alone, polar bear keepers at the Alaska Zoo and the Buffalo Zoo agreed that it would be best for the two cubs to grow up together.

When Kali arrived in Buffalo, he was a strong and robust 65-pound bear cub. However, Kali had been through a lot of changes in his young life, going from his den, to the Alaska Zoo, and then to Buffalo. It was a lot for the little polar bear. Kali seemed unsure of himself in his new environment. He sucked on his paw, was rowdy during mealtimes, and loudly vocalized at his keepers.

He saw her black button nose, and her bright eyes. He saw her fluffy, white coat and chubby bear belly. He could smell her and hear her and watch her play. One day, he slowly approached the mesh. Luna was playing with a ball. Kali also began playing with a ball with the mesh in between them. Luna rolled on her back. Kali rolled on his back too, eventually getting brave enough to stick his paws through the mesh! The two bears even touched noses with one another.

Caitlyn watched these behaviors and decided that it was time to put the cubs together. She was nervous, not that the bears would hurt each other, but that the experience would be scary for one or both of them. These bear cubs needed to bond.

Ask Zoo Keeper Julie

How far do polar bears travel?

It is thought that most polar bears limit travel to home ranges of a few hundred miles. They have been known to swim up to 60 miles without rest in search of food.

How do polar bears walk on ice?

They have rough surface on the pads of their paws, as well as long claws, which help them to grip the sea ice.

them there.”

Speaking to the board, Hermann shared the story of the most recent Habitat House family. “I talked about the family who got the recent house and said with three little girls, there was a roof leaking, holes in the floor and she had to heat the home by opening the oven,” Hermann shared.

He said, “For a long time, it’s been Habitat in Cassville. That’s not what we’re about. We are Habitat for Humanity in south Barry County. We are Habitat for Wheaton, Golden, Seligman and all other southern Barry County communities.

“I just want citizens in Seligman and other communities as well. We are considering putting homes in your city.”

If Habitat for Humanity gets applications in Seligman, they will proceed with purchasing land. Herman said he hopes that once one tract of land is selected, there is another family after that to choose land to build their home, as well.

Hermann concluded, “When people say Habitat for Humanity, I want to see a smile on their face. This is a great thing.”

Habitat for Humanity is a faith-based nonprofit that builds homes and offers them interest-free to families in unsafe living situations. Families are expected to contribute sweat equity to help with the home’s construction to qualify. For questions about the local Habitat for Humanity, contact David Hermann at (417) 847-2203.

protecting the public that he served from a violent criminal act. Master Sergeant Cosper earned our respect and our gratitude.

“It is therefore resolved by the Barry County Commission that as an expression of this respect on behalf of all the citizens of Barry County, that his Badge Number BCSO 76 be retired. Gary Davis, the Sheriff of Barry County, Missouri is directed to retire BCSO Badge Number 76. An appropriate memorial shall be placed in the Barry County Sheriff’s Office commemorating this dedication, where it shall remain permanently. A copy of this resolution shall be delivered by the Sheriff to Angela Cosper.”

Sheriff Davis then called Carl’s widow, Angela Cosper, up from the audience to present her with a memorial, the duplicate of which will hang in the Barry County Sheriff’s office.

Davis said, “Today, we’re going to retire Master Sergeant Cosper’s badge number. His badge has already been presented to Mrs. Cosper and she has it.”

A tearful Cosper, accepted the memorial from Davis.

Davis then said, “Angela is, as you might imagine, at a loss for words. I know she says thank you. I know Carl’s family says thank you. I want to thank all of the officers, the ladies and gentlemen of Barry County and surrounding counties, for their support in the last year. It was one of the roughest things I had to do in my law enforcement career and most of you, too.

“I just want us all to hang together as brothers and sisters because that’s what Carl would want. He would want that. Take care of each other, look out for each other and be a family.”

Following the presentation of the memorial plaque, the sheriff’s office administrative staff led the crowd next door to the park where the group gathered and released blue and black balloons in memory of Cosper. They also handed out memorial cards with small blue “ribbons” that when planted, grow flowers.

Sometimes things are not how we see them. I lost my cell phone, so, I called it. Simple, just follow the rings to its location. Every time it rang, it sounded like it was very, very close. After about three rings and several searches of the immediate area, I discovered it was in my back pocket. I knew it was close, but, my preconceived idea so having "laid it down somewhere" kept me from clearly accepting the information the ringing was giving me.

A lot of people are that way religiously. They approach God's word to prove a preconceived idea. You must allow God's word to teach you His truths, not use His word to try to confirm what you think is true. If you don't allow God to teach you through His word, that religious cell phone may just stay in your back pocket.

Pro's Choice offers big selection for Shell Knob patrons

Charlea Estes-Jones

For any angler, whether a hobbyist or pro, a few tips from locals can mean a big difference on that day's stringer haul. Pro's Choice in Shell Knob attributes the success of their shop to their attention to fishing tips and visiting with customers.

Owner Steven Parrott said, "I really enjoy meeting new people like the fishermen who come in and learning what they use and how they do on the different tackle."

Parrott and the shop's manager, Cliff Harmon, work together to offer a wide selection of tackle, wine, spirits and bait to satisfy a wide array of customers.

Parrott said, "We have a few guides and professional fisherman come in and update us. We also have a lot of locals who come in and update us, and we pass that along.

"It keeps customers coming back: visiting and talking fishing."

Parrott bought Pro's Choice from the original owner, Don Berry, in December 2017. Since then, he's worked to expand inventory, and he takes pride in selling a lot of good from local sources. Parrott said, "We have a lot of local guys making tackle. Pig Sticker is a bass jig made in Aurora. Marty Conrad Custom Tackle is from Crane. Jim Ramsey is here in Shell Knob and makes A rigs and spinner baits.

"We are their exclusive dealer and we can't keep Ramsey's on the shelf."

Parrott added that they offer a crappie jig made by Larry Walker.

While Parrott is a new-comer to the fishing store scene, he knows his way around the outdoors and uses that appreciation to bond with customers who come in. "I'm semi-retired out of the building business. I owned Classic Country Log Homes and I found it interest in this and thought I'd like to give it a try, and it's worked out good.

"I custom built log homes for 30 years, so I was outside all the time anyway."

Pro's Choice also offers wine tastings monthly, rod and reel repair, and does special orders on wine and spirits. Parrott said, "We'll special order whatever you need if you need it in tackle and liquor. We specialize in ordering a lot of wine by the case at only 10 percent above cost.

"We get eight to ten cases of wine here weekly."

From wine to tackle to rods and reels to live bait, Pro's Choice takes pride in making sure they have exactly what their customers need.

Parrott explained, "We have really added a tremendous amount. We get new stuff in on our inventory weekly. We're updating constantly.

"Cliff has many years experience in the tackle business and fishing."

He continued, "We've almost doubled our inventory on tackle. We are focusing in on bass and have one of the largest assortments of crappie baits in the area, as well as walleye tackle."

If you stop in at Pro's Choice, expect to see a lot of variety in a little store. Craft beer selections include Mother's, Blue Moon, Boulevard Wheat, Schafl and Tank. Bass, crappie, walleye and catfish tackle is all available with plans to expand their catfish selection.

Parrott said, "We have a lot of people come in from out of town and say wow because of the selection."

Pro's Choice is located at 24899 Highway 39 in Shell Knob. Their hours are Monday through Saturday from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Summer hours may change. You may contact them at (417) 858-1159.

Pro's Choice offers a large selection of fishing tackle, bait, rods and reels, beer, liquor, wine, and marine batteries.

Pro's Choice has a huge selection of tackle for all different types of fishing like bass, crappie, walleye and catfish.

Barry County Health Department March Food Service Report

The Barry County Health Department divides food service code violations into two categories: Priority and Core items.

Priority items are more likely than other violations to contribute to food contamination or illness and/or injury.

Core items, although important to the overall hygiene of the establishment, do not necessarily present an immediate threat to food contamination or illness and/or injury.

A report for each establishment that is inspected shows the number of priority items, along with a short statement as to the nature of the violations. The report also shows the number of core items, but doesn't list the nature of those violations.

 Warmer weather is coming, and with it will come a spike in performances. Invitational medals are nice, but the goal is always to be on the track for the start of the state championships. When it comes to the state meet, names change but performances are generally the same year to year, Several Wildcats are inching closer to the kind of marks that could medal at the state meet.

Josi Rose is in the state medal conversation with her 104+ javelin throw. Likewise, Skyler Wolf’s 48-6 heave has him close to the medal performances of a year ago. Austin Wilson’s long jump is within 6 inches of the 2017 medalists. Wilson’s speed presents a quandary to the Cassville coaching staff. Do you continue to use him in the sprint events to garnish points in invitationals, or groom him for the 800 or 1600 where his speed and cross country endurance could combine to produce a state medal? He advanced to state in the 400 last year as a junior, but struggled in his qualifying heat. On Thursday, Wilson turned a 52.9 to win the 400 at Aurora, but that time is in no man’s land: over a second and a half slower than the last medalist at state last May.

Lee Stubblefield

The Cassville Lady Wildcats ripped Springfield Parkview 8-0 in a road soccer match last Thursday. Three Ladycats - Brianna Hemphill, Jazmin Aguirre, and Jamie Watts - scored twice in the contest, and Bayle Osbourne and Jamie Watts added single servings as Cassville improved to 1-0-1.

Then on Tuesday, Cassville hosted a good New Covenant Academy team in the second home contest of the season. Coach Lauren Stepp paced the sidelines as her Lady Wildcats duelled the Lady Warriors to a 1-1 tie. Osbourne scored Cassville’s lone goal with an assist from Kamryn Jaques.

Because Cassville is playing under JV rules in this first season, there was no overtime or penalty kicks to decide the match.

The tie left NCA with a season record of 3-1-1. Cassville moved to 1-0-2, and will host Branson in their next contest on Monday, April 16. Kickoff is set for 4:30 p.m.

SKITS tickets now on sale

SKITS' spring play, "The Groom Has Cold Feet," has all the twists and turns of a murder mystery set in an 1890's western town. Play dates are Friday, April 27, at 6:30 p.m., Saturday, April 28, at 6:30 p.m., and Sunday, April 29, at 2 p.m. It is performed at the CC United Methodist Church, Hwy. 39 and Hwy. YY in Shell Knob.

When the reviled Albert Webster turns up murdered the morning of his wedding to local sweetheart Kayla May Blossom, there's no shortage of suspects in the sleepy town of Pine Grove. Luckily, there's also no shortage of town gossips, each with her own theory acted out in hilarious slow-mo fashion for the audience to see. Could it have been saloon girl Darleen, the last one to see Albert and the girl he dumped for Kayla May? Was it Virgil, the reluctant best man and ex-boyfriend of Kayla May? Maybe it was lonely Harley, who snuffed out Albert to steal his bride? How about Hazel, the about-to-be-evicted mother of the bride? It's going to take all of Sheriff Tickle's investigative skills, along with his sidekick daughter Sarah and extra help from the audience, to solve this animated mystery.

The $7 tickets are available in Shell Knob at Jug n Plug, Arvest Bank and the Chamber of Commerce. You can call or text Barb at (417) 665-9763 to arrange $7 will call tickets.

Youth hunters harvest 1,723 birds during youth weekend

According to preliminary data from Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC), young turkey hunters harvested 1,723 turkeys during the 2018 spring youth season, April 7-8. Top harvest counties were Franklin with 51 turkeys harvested, Miller with 43, and Maries with 43.

Young hunters checked a little over 4,000 turkeys during last year's youth weekend. Barry county youth hunters took 10 adult gobblers during opening weekend.

MDC's Turkey Biologist, Jason Isabelle, says the drop in harvest can be attributed mostly to unseasonably cold temperatures this weekend and for much of spring thus far.

"Weather was the biggest contributing factor to this year's low youth turkey season harvest," Isabelle said. "Temperatures that were well-below average probably made it difficult for young hunters to spend as much time hunting this past weekend as they would have with more seasonal temperatures."

Isabelle also notes that in addition to cold temperatures this weekend, spring has been slow to get here this year causing turkeys to be a little behind schedule as far as the winter flock break-up.

"When turkeys are still flocked up as they are in much of the state right now, it can make for some very challenging hunting," he said. "With warmer temperatures in the forecast, hunting conditions should be much more favorable for the upcoming regular spring turkey season."

For county-specific information on turkey harvest, visit MDC online at extra.mdc.mo.gov/widgets/harvest_table/.

For more information on the upcoming regular spring turkey hunting season, April 16-May 6, get a copy of MDC's 2018 Spring Turkey Hunting Regulations and Information booklet, available where permits are sold, or online at: huntfish.mdc.mo.gov/sites/default/files/downloads/2018springturkey.pdf.

Hunters who harvest their first turkey can have the accomplishment recognized through a special certificate

OFO to conclude season with superhero benefit

The Ozark Festival Orchestra concludes its 38th season on Sunday, April 15, with a benefit to support the orchestra, featuring music from superhero movies and other special features. The concert will be held at the City Park Casino in Monett, east from the park entrance on Highway 37, just south of Highway 60.

This will be the orchestra's first performance at the City Park Casino since 2015 and revives the OFO's Pops in the Park series. Under the baton of Music Director Todd Borgmann, the OFO will perform "What's Up at the Symphony?," a suite of selections from Warner Brothers cartoons; "The Complete Harry Potter," selections from "The Dark Knight Rises," "Man of Steel," "Indiana Jones and the Kingdom of the Crystal Skull," "How to Train Your Dragon" and "The Prince of Egypt." The concert will conclude with Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever," with conducting honors going to one of the children in the audience, selected by a special drawing. The winner will also receive a baton as a prize.

In addition, the benefit will feature pie and ice cream for the guests. Consequently, admission will be different from usual concerts. Cost will be $10 for all adults, and $5 for children age 12 and under. Doors will open at 1:30 p.m. and music will start at 2:30 p.m.

Special features before the concert and at intermission will be a special "Musical Instrument Petting Zoo," offered for children, courtesy of Springfield Music. Children will have an opportunity to see and touch musical instruments. Some they will be able to play.

A silent auction for lovers of the arts will again be available. Furniture, art prints, recordings, music books, specialty food baskets from Trader Joe's and other treats will be available for bids in the Casino lobby. A live auction for specialty pies will be held before the conclusion of the concert.

The OFO is a community orchestra composed of players from southwest Missouri and nearby towns, focusing primarily on classical music. Rehearsals are held weekly in Monett. The orchestra is supported by memberships, local foundations, ads in the orchestra program book and funds managed by the Monett Community Foundation.

Hospice Compassus seeks local volunteers

Seeking compassionate people in Barry, Lawrence and Stone counties who have a concern for the unmet needs of people in their community with life-limiting conditions.

Hospice Compassus will be conducting training for persons interested in becoming non-medical volunteers. The training will be from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Wednesday, April 25, 2018, at the Hospice Compassus office located at 845 Hwy. 60, Suite A, Monett.

Volunteers are needed to fulfill a wide variety of patient needs. Volunteers are most commonly used to provide patient and family care support. However, occasionally a patient need necessitates soliciting a volunteer with a special skill or background. Examples of such needs are veterans, dentists, handymen, carpenters, electricians, plumbers, exterminators, barbers, hair stylists, massage, art, and music therapists, entertainers, shoppers to run errands, and restaurants and/or cooks to provide an occasional meal for a patient's family the day the patient arrives home from the hospital. For the volunteer who feels their talent and skill could best be utilized performing administrative duties, Hospice Compassus utilizes volunteers to assist with office tasks and as community educators. They are also recruiting volunteers and community partners to be a part of their Dream Team. The Dream Team takes the attainable unfulfilled dreams of their patients and turns them into realities.

Upon completing the Non-Medical Volunteer Training, volunteers have the option of acquiring additional education necessary for the Volunteer Chaplaincy Program and/or ANGELS (Alliance of Neighbors Giving End of Life Support) Program.

For additional information regarding Hospice Compassus volunteer opportunities and to register for training, please contact Brenda Smith at (417) 235-9097.

MDC forecasts a more challenging spring turkey season for hunters

POOR TURKEY PRODUCTION IN RECENT YEARS HAS AFFECTED TURKEY NUMBERS

Missouri turkey hunters can expect a more challenging spring season overall according to the Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC). The spring turkey hunting season starts with a youth-only weekend April 7-8. The regular spring season runs April 16 through May 6.

Although the good hatches of 2011, 2012, and 2014 helped to bolster turkey numbers in much of Missouri from a low point during the late 2000s, poor production in recent years will make for a more challenging 2018 spring turkey season.

“A great deal of what makes for a good spring turkey season depends on the hatch two years prior because it affects the number of two-year-old gobblers on the landscape,” MDC Turkey Biologist Jason Isabelle said. “Young gobblers are not associated with hens as often as older dominate birds and are more likely to respond to hunters’ calls.”

Unfortunately, poor production throughout the state during 2016 will result in fewer two-year-old gobblers during this year’s spring hunting season. Isabelle also notes that last year’s poor hatch will result in fewer jakes, or one-year-old male turkeys, especially in southern Missouri where turkey production was the poorest.

“I think hunters will notice a reduction in the number of jakes they’re used to seeing,” he said.

Isabelle noted that because most hunters prefer to harvest adult gobblers, the effects of last year’s hatch won’t have as much of an effect on the 2018 harvest total as it will during next year’s season.

Considering the prospects for the 2018 spring season, hunters should be prepared to put in a bit more effort to be successful this year.

“When turkey numbers are down, it becomes even more important to do your homework,” said Isabelle. “Hunters should get out to their hunting areas as much as possible before the season to listen for birds gobbling at daybreak.”

Isabelle notes that it gives hunters an advantage to know where turkeys are spending most of their time after they fly down. Using binoculars to spot turkeys feeding in open areas or looking for signs of where turkeys have been feeding in the timber can help hunters be in the right area when the hunting season gets here.

Although this year’s spring turkey season is shaping up to be more difficult than in the recent past, Isabelle notes that this isn’t the first time hunters have had to face challenging prospects.

“Turkey production is rarely consistent through time,” said Isabelle. “We’re going through a tough stretch of poor production right now, just like we did during the late 2000s.”

Isabelle notes that these fluctuations in turkey production and population numbers are a normal part of the dynamics of the population.

“With a couple years of good production, turkey numbers will rebound,” said Isabelle.

Get More Information

Find detailed information on harvest limits, allowed hunting methods, hunter education requirements, permits, MDC hunting areas, tagging and checking procedures, regulations and more in MDC’s 2018 Spring Turkey Hunting Regulations and Information booklet available from MDC offices and nature centers, other places where permits are sold, and online at <http://bit.ly/2tL5SWa>. For more information about spring turkey hunting, visit MDC’s website at <http://bit.ly/2mVaDnK>.

Hunter Safety

Isabelle stressed that hunters can easily avoid the main cause of turkey-hunting incidents—mistaking, or being mistaken by another hunter for wild game.

“Each year, most turkey hunting incidents typically involve hunters who fail to positively identify their targets,” said Isabelle. “Unless you are absolutely certain that what you’re looking at is a wild turkey, remember that any movement you see or any sounds you hear while you’re hunting could be another hunter.”

He also advised hunters to wear some hunter-orange clothing when moving through the woods or fields, particularly when hunting public land.

“Bringing along an orange hat is an easy way to stay safe,” said Isabelle. “Wear it when you’re moving and switch it for your camouflaged hat when you sit down to work a bird.”

Isabelle also noted that many turkey hunting incidents involve members of the same hunting party. If you’re hunting with someone else and you split up, be certain you know where your hunting partner will be at all times.

Brag a Bit

MDC hunting certificates are great ways to memorialize a hunter’s first deer and turkey harvests. Visit <http://bit.ly/2p86vU2> to create free commemorative certificates.

Hunters can share photos of their harvests through MDC’s Hunting Bragging Board by using #mdcbrag-board when posting pictures to their social media accounts. Learn more at mdc.mo.gov/huntingbragboard.

American Pickers
to film in Missouri

Mike Wolfe, Frank Fritz, and their team are excited to return to Missouri! They plan to film episodes of the hit series American Pickers throughout your area.

American Pickers is a documentary series that explores the fascinating world of antique ‘picking’ on History. The hit show follows Mike and Frank, two of the most skilled pickers in the business, as they hunt for America’s most valuable antiques. They are always excited to find sizeable, unique collections or accumulations and learn the interesting stories behind them.

As they hit the back roads from coast to coast, Mike and Frank are on a mission to recycle and rescue forgotten relics. Along the way, the Pickers want to meet characters with remarkable and exceptional items. The pair hopes to give historically significant objects a new lease on life, while learning a thing or two about America’s past along the way.

Mike and Frank have seen a lot of rusty gold over the years and are always looking to discover something they’ve never seen before. They are ready to find extraordinary items and hear fascinating tales about them. American Pickers is looking for leads and would love to explore your hidden treasure. If you or someone you know has a large, private collection or accumulation of antiques that the Pickers can spend the better part of the day looking through, send us your name, phone number, location and description of the collection with photos to:

americanpickers@cineflix.com or call 855-OLD-RUST.
