In recognition of National Public Safety Telecommunicators Week, the Barry County E9-1-1 Center in Cassville held an open house for the public to tour the facility on Thursday, April 14, as well as an employee recognition ceremony on Friday where they handed out awards for service during the year.

Each year, the E91-1-1 Center holds an open house to allow the public to come in and tour the facility and learn more about emergency services in Barry County. Mike Phillips, the center's director, said that around 40 people came to the event this year, which is the largest turnout since the first year they opened. Phillips said that multiple people from the community, as well as organizations like the Cassville Fire Department, Central Crossing Fire Department and Mercy EMS toured the facility, to get a better understanding of how the center operates.

The tour provided emergency personnel with an eye-opening look at all that goes into Barry County's state of the art dispatching center. A Mercy EMT commented when he met some of the telecommunicators who dispatch, "You all have been calm and very supportive. It's been very helpful."

Friday evening, director Mike Phillips presented employee awards in recognition of all of the hard work that goes into dispatching and helping Barry County's citizens in their time of need. Awards ranged from best adapter, best blooper to being most kind, composed helpful. Most of the awards are voted on by their peers, but the Employee of the Year award is given by the director.

During the award presentations, the group had a lot of laughs as well as so-

Southwest students utilize new greenhouse, prep for sale

Charlea Estes

Southwest greenhouse and agriculture students are preparing for their first plant sale after getting to use the district's new greenhouse. The plant sale, which begins on April 25, is the final step in a year-long process that the students do from planning to planting to growing to selling.

The Southwest District invested just over $73,000 in the greenhouse last year with $32,320 coming from district funds and the remainder from a vocational-technical grant. The new greenhouse was a much-needed addition for the agriculture department, who has run a greenhouse project for a number of years.

According to ag. teacher Rachel Brown, the new greenhouse was a welcome addition to her Greenhouse Management 1 and 2 classes, which are the primary students caring for the plants. She stated, "The new greenhouse has no comparison to the system we used before the district built a new one. My first year, we grew plants in our shop, which didn't work well for the plants and didn't work well for the shop classes, either."

Now, students get to try their hand at the real experience, start to finish. Brown

Two air lifted after head-on MO-39 crash

Charlea Estes

Three people were injured in a crash on MO 39 north of Shell Knob around 6:08 p.m. on Saturday evening. Both drivers had to be transported via helicopter for serious injuries. According to the Missouri State Highway Patrol crash report, a car crossed over the center line.

David P. Shepard, 57, of Shell Knob was driving northbound on MO 39 in a 1994 Mazda Navajo when he crossed the center line and struck a second vehicle head-on. The second vehicle, a 2004 Oldsmobile Alero, was driven by Casey L. Petzoldt, 28, of Springfield. Petzoldt and her sister Chelsea S. Petzoldt, 29, of Springfield, were both injured.

Both drivers were transported to Mercy Hospital in Springfield via helicopter for serious injuries. The passenger, Chelsea, had minor injuries but was not transported for medical treatment. Both Casey and Chelsea were wearing seat belts. Shepard was not.

Both vehicles were totalled as a result of the crash. The Missouri State Highway Patrol was assisted by the Barry County Sheriff's Department and Central Crossing Fire Department.

Exeter man arrested for church burglary

Charlea Estes

An Exeter man, Johnny Jacob Berry, 56, was arrested on April 16 for allegedly stealing a tractor and other equipment from a local church.

According to the affidavit of probable cause by Barry County Sheriff's Deputy Justin Ruark, Berry stole a 1988 Ford 1210 tractor, tether, blade and field digger from the Davidian Seventh Day Adventist Church in Exeter on Farm Road 1025. The total value of all of the equipment stolen was approximately $12,000.

The tractor and related equipment was recovered, according to Ruark. Berry was charged with theft/stealing of $500 to $25,000 in value on April 16.

Berry is currently being held in the Barry County Jail on a $15,000 cash or corp surety bond.

Above, students Caid Harrison and Courtney Dutton work with Mrs. Brown discussing how to organize the plants.

said, "The greenhouse students have hours devoted to these plants. It all starts from day one. They are required to start by learning the different types of plants, diseases and tools that they could encounter in the greenhouse setting. Then we start planning what plants we want to sell. This includes figuring out what plants we need to order in plugs and which we can seed out.

"Once we make the order, we wait until planting time."

Fake crash teaches CHS students safe driving

Cassville High School students got a sobering lesson with a simulated car crash outside of the school last week. Students watched as school staff, the Cassville Police Department, Cassville Fire Department, Missouri State Highway Patrol and Mercy EMS worked together to show how they deal with injury crashes. Mercy EMS even brought in a helicopter to airlift one of the "victims."

Sales tax still up for 2016 in county, Cassville

Charlea Estes

Barry County is up 1.9 percent and Cassville is up 7.5 percent so far for 2016 in sales tax revenue. The bump equates to an additional $12,274.93 for the county's general 1/2-cent tax and $21,261.07 for Cassville's general 1-cent tax for January through April 2016.

So far in 2016, Barry County is two and two in terms of increases and decreases in sales tax revenue for given months. For the general 1/2-cent tax, April was an off month with the county receiving 3.1 percent less in revenue in the first part of April when compared to 2015's totals. However, Cassville actually saw a decent jump for April with their revenue up 9.5 percent over last year. In all, Cassville's revenue was up from last year in February, March and April. Only January had a slight downturn for the city, and that was only 3.3 percent, which didn't equate to a significant loss of funds.

It is still too early in the year to estimate whether 2016 will continue the upward trend of sales tax revenue from the last few years. Continuing increases may indicate a positive marker for the local economy as a whole.

The city's taxes for capital improvements

(1/2-cent) and parks and stormwater (1/2-cent) are also up 7.5 percent for the year. However, the city's transportation sales tax is up even higher with the current revenue at 8.7 percent over 2015's collections for the first four months. Currently, city has collected $113,071.87 for the year, which is up from $104,019.28 in 2015.

Sales tax received in April each year is from the revenue collected during the month of March.

Seligman man in custody after shotgun fired at home

Charlea Estes

A Seligman man, Robert Obrien Olds, 23, was arrested for allegedly driving a vehicle while the passenger shot into a home on Fairfield Lane in Seligman.

According to the affidavit of probable cause by Barry County Deputy Alvin Zabala, Olds worked in concert with another male who was the passenger in his vehicle. The victim stated that Olds was driving while the passenger shot into his home.

Olds was charged with aiding a person discharging a firearm from a motor vehicle, which is an unlawful use of a weapon. Olds is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $30,000 cash-only bond, issued by Judge Robert Foulke.

Why hiring a landscaper may be for you?

The majority of homeowners want their properties to appear as appealing as possible. While many homeowners want to be proud of their properties and come home to a welcoming home each night, the benefits to maintaining landscaping go beyond the notion that well-cared for lawns make for more comforting retreats.

Because numerous variables, including landscaping, influence property values, it's difficult to assess just how much the property values of homes with impressive landscapes are influenced by those very landscapes. Indeed, studies have produced varying results regarding the effect of well-landscaped homes on property values. But what many studies have shown and what many realtors indicate is that impressive landscaping adds a significant amount to property values, with estimates suggesting landscaping increases home values by anywhere from 5 to 20 percent.

Such estimates are good news for homeowners, and they also highlight the stakes involved when making landscaping decisions. Homeowners with green thumbs may embrace the challenge of revitalizing their lawns and gardens, but many, especially those pressed for time, can benefit greatly from working with professional landscapers.

Maintaining a property requires more than just mowing the lawn every couple of weeks. Even homeowners committed to making their properties as pristine as possible can run into problems when adverse weather conditions pose a threat to lawns and gardens. The following are just a handful of reasons why homeowners may find working with landscaping professionals is the best thing for their properties and their bank accounts.

Professionals understand the local climate. Experienced professional landscapers will understand the local climate and the challenges it presents to your lawn. Experience can prove invaluable as lawns battle adverse conditions that threaten its survival. Experienced professionals are more likely to identify the problem immediately, providing a ready solution that can prevent potentially costly repairs down the road.

Professionals can provide inspiration. In addition to maintaining properties, many landscaping professionals have vast experience improving properties through landscape design. Homeowners with little to no lawn and garden experience may not realize all the things they can do with their properties, and those who go it alone may end up with unappealing landscapes that do not attract buyers' attention when the home hits the market. Professionals typically have a wealth of ideas and, perhaps more importantly, they understand which ideas will and won't work on a given property.

Professionals can remove some of the stress of managing landscaping projects. Professional landscapers typically have a network of professionals, including contractors, who they have worked with in the past. Such connections can ensure more complex projects that require both landscapers and construction contractors go as smoothly as possible. In addition, homeowners who receive contractor recommendations from their experienced landscapers tend to rest easier knowing the people working on their properties have already developed a rapport and established a successful track record working together.

Professional landscapers can be just what homeowners need to turn their properties into appealing oases no buyer can resist.

2nd Timothy 2:15-16 is an interesting and vital verse. "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth. But shun profane and vain babblings: for they will increase unto more ungodliness." There are some interesting Greek definitions in these verses. Shew-to exhibit • Approved-properly, acceptable • Rightly-correctly • Dividing- to dissect correctly • Shun-to keep away • Profane-heathenish • Vain-fruitless • Babblings-empty sounding • Increase-to advance in amount • Ungodliness-wickness.

Paul is encouraging Timothy to study for himself. The Bereans were complimented for this trait; Acts 17:11.

When you find a philosophy that does not agree with God's word consider it heathenistic, fruitless and empty. To do otherwise leads to ungodliness. This was good advice in the first century and is still good advice in the 21st century. Personally search the scriptures to prove what is approved by God.

Is it necessary? It is crucial!! "Sanctify them through thy truth; thy word is truth." "So then every one of us hall give an account of himself to God." John 17:17; Romans 14:12. Do not stand before God on the foundation of family heritage, emotions or trust in others. Stand upon the firm foundation of God's word as found in the New Testament; Acts 4:12. The family at The Mill Street Church invites you to join us as we build our lives upon the unchanging word of God.

growing, the students have to decide how to package and sell them. Some are in hanging baskets, others in four packs, six packs or individual pots.

The plants this year include tomatoes, peppers, geraniums, petunias and marigolds. Brown said almost everything they tried this year grew well in their new greenhouse. She stated, “The only thing we have planted that did not grow as of yet were the kids’ cactus plants.” Part of the process for the students is figuring out what the plants need. In the case of the cactus plants, they think the humidity might have been too high.

Troubleshooting during the process as well as working out scenarios that they may encounter during the season is part of the process that helps students learn how to grow healthy plants. Brown said, “Students have gained a newfound respect for foreign plants. They have been involved in every aspect of the greenhouse project this year from ordering to selling. Many of them enjoy learning how to handle the plants and how important everything is for the plants.

“For example, some plants like less water than others. Overwatering those said plants can cause sickness or death for them. The hands-on experience is what helps the students learn the most.”

The biggest hurdle for students this year was learning how different plants would respond to the greenhouse environment.

However, Brown said the students took all of the challenges in stride and came out all the better for it. She stated, “Overall, the most rewarding part is seeing how much the students take pride in their plants. Whether they are the ones that picked and grew or the ones that started from plugs, they are so proud when they walk into the greenhouse and someone compliments their plants. The students learning and being involved in their own learning concepts make all of the handwork so worthwhile.”

All of the funds raised during the plant sale put on by the students will first go to reimburse for the supplies like pots, plants and supplies. Anything raised beyond that will go to the FFA chapter at the school for their dedication to the project.

Students have no problems getting support once it comes time to sell the plants. Brown said, “The community seems very excited about the students holding a plant sale. We have already been getting calls with questions. The community loves to support our students whenever they can.”

The Southwest plant sale begins Monday, April 25, and runs until Monday, May 9, or until the plants are sold out. The sale is from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. each weekday. Students will also be visiting the community on the weekends selling plants, as well.

Cassville Drug Take Back Day April 30

The Cassville Police Department is participating in the D.E.A. Prescription Take Back Day again this year. This will be held April 30, 2016, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2p.m. The address to drop off the medication is 300 Main, Cassville City Hall/Cassville Police Department. The entrance will be in the back of the building using the Council Chamber door.

The Prescription Take Back Day is to help people to properly dispose of unused medications. Proper disposal of medication helps to protect the environment and keeps the medicine from being flushed into our water systems. This also helps keep the medication out of the hands of people who do not have a prescription or need for the medication but want to use it for recreational use only.

The Cassville PD wants to encourage people to take the time to clean out their medicine drawers/cabinets and properly dispose of their unused medication.

They will also accept over-the-counter medications.

Inhalers, illegal drugs or sharp objects such as syringes will not be accepted. No medications can be accepted from medical clinics, pharmacies or veterinary clinics.

SOUTHWEST SCHOOL BOARD MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

As part of continued efforts in keeping patrons informed, the Southwest R-V School administration provides monthly information concerning board meetings.

A recap of the April 14, 2016, regular meeting is as follows:

The Board convened for its meeting at 7:01 p.m.

The Board approved the consent items, including accepting the resignations of third grade teacher Desiree Burkett and high school teacher Brandon Burns. Also approved were the following additions to the district substitute lists: Madison Willey (teachers'), Mary Bass (bus drivers'), Katrina Howard (cooks') and Janie Gundel (nurses').

There were no items under old business for the month.

New business items included the approval of the district's plan for summer school, which will begin May 18 and run through June 15. Offerings will be limited to middle school communication arts and math courses, as well as reading remediation for elementary aged students. High school offerings will be provided through the credit recovery program, and once again, a "Kinder Camp" orientation program for next year's kindergarten students will be provided. The Board also reviewed and approved an amended budget for this school year.

Under administrative and program evaluations, the Board reviewed the spring sports report and the monthly maintenance and administrative reports. Superintendent Bob Walker informed the Board that the district was still being considered for a possible FEMA grant. The announcement of recipients should take place in late August.

The Board met in closed session for approximately one hour to discuss personnel, then returned to open session and officially adjourned in advance of being reorganized. Board secretary Judy Brooks administered the oath of directors to incumbent board members Brian Robbins and Bobby Stephens. New officers were selected with Danny Dalton serving as president, Robert Catron as vice-president, Albert Pendergraft as treasurer and Judy Brooks as secretary. The meeting was adjourned at 8:30 p.m.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for May 12 in the high school library.

Cassville Senior Center honors volunteers with cookout

Charlea Estes

The Cassville Senior Center gave a thank you to their volunteers last week when they held a cookout in their honor. The kitchen staff grilled out for the volunteers as well as Senior Center patrons on Friday, April 15.

Kristina Atwood, Senior Center administrator, said that the center relies heavily on volunteers to keep them running and also deliver meals to the homebound seniors in the area. Atwood said, "We run primarily on volunteer help here. In the kitchen, dining room, and especially the meal deliveries, that's all volunteers." She said around 30 volunteers work with them each week to make sure everything gets done to serve the community.

Last year, the Cassville Senior Center served 45,000 meals to those visiting their physical location on Fair Street in Cassville as well as the homebound meal deliverers that they make all the way from Butterfield and Wheaton down to Seligman. Atwood said, "We can't do what we do without them. It was thanks to the volunteers that we get all of those meals out every year."

The facility runs each week with two kitchen staff, a part-time janitor and Atwood. All of the rest of the duties are completed by the volunteers. Atwood said that some of the volunteers come as representatives from area businesses, like Roaring River Healthcare and Rehab, Cassville Healthcare and Rehab, the ARC of the Ozarks and Regal, and others are individuals. She said usually it's around 30 volunteers a week that help in the kitchen, dining areas and deliver meals.

The Cassville Senior Center kitchen staff served 82 people at their volunteer appreciation cookout, 38 of them volunteers who help in the kitchen, dining area and do homebound meal delivery.

"For many, especially our homebound seniors, we are the only people they see every week, and it's a main place for everyone to gather, talk to each other and socialize. It gets people out and about," Atwood said.

With the need so prevalent in the community, Atwood said they are always looking for extra help. She stated, "We actually need volunteers. As great as everyone is, we always need more help to keep everything going."

On top of the meals the senior center provides, there are also a variety of activities that they host. Each month, they hold a dance, as well as blood pressure checks and foot care. They also have live music, games like bingo and dominoes, and Atwood is always looking to add new programs that might interest their patrons. Most recently, Atwood began the training process to be able to hold an exercise class. She said they hope to begin that recurring program next month.

In all, the center served 82 people, 38 of them volunteers, at their appreciation lunch. Atwood said it was a good turn out, and they were glad to show their gratitude to the people who help keep things running smoothly on a weekly basis. She said, "We had a good grill day. The cooks made everything from scratch, and it was a good day."

If you or your business is interested in volunteering with the Cassville Senior Center, they are open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. You can stop by the Center at 1111 Fair Street or call (417) 847-4510 for more information.

SKITS to put on new play Apr. 29-May 1

If you know an actor in "The Bold, The Young, and

The Murdered" there's one question they won't answer about the play, and it is, "Who Dun It?" The play opens April 29th, Friday at 6:30 p.m. and runs Sat, April 30th, 6:30 p.m. and Sun, May 1st at 2 p.m. The United Methodist Church in Shell Knob is easy to get to, right off of Hwy. 39 and YY. Tickets are $7.00 in advance and $9.00 at the door. They are available in Shell Knob at The Chamber, Arvest Bank, and The Senior Center.

This play is a comedy and a murder mystery. When the director of the soap opera ends up murdered and other cast members start dropping like flies, you might consider the villainous old man that likes soup, or a slightly crazy heroine. Everyone in the audience can enter a guess and with that ballot you are entered to win a dinner at the new Carmelina's Italian Bistro at Kings River Marina.

Come join the fun, put the date on your calendar and get your tickets. For more information: www.shellknobspotlight.com.

Cassville Middle School to hold enrollment fair May 12

Cassville Middle School (CMS) will host an enrollment fair on Thursday, May 12, at 6 p.m. in the middle school gymnasium for the 2016-2017 school year.

Students and parents are encouraged to attend the fair and learn about the exploratory and non-core classes that will be offered to CMS students next year.

"This is a great opportunity for parents and students to hear directly from the elective content area teachers about their programs, about potential careers and post-HS training," said Mr. Jimmie Barton, CMS Principal. "It is also a great opportunity to learn about how exciting and rewarding participation in the various associated clubs and organizations can be."

After opening remarks from Mr. Barton, parents and students will have the opportunity to visit with instructors about program requirements and class options for next year. Before leaving the fair, students and parents will complete a priority rating card for their elective courses.

"We will make every effort to ensure students are enrolled in their first or second elective choice," stated Mr. Barton, "but we cannot make any guarantees. Priority for scheduling will be given to those students that attend the fair."

Students must be accompanied by a parent or guardian in order to complete the ranking card.

Elective classes for the 2016-2017 school year include: agriculture education (seventh and eighth grade students), art, band and jazz band, business, computers, android programming, Future Business Leaders of America (seventh and eighth grade students), choir, Family and Consumer Science (FACS), industrial technology, wood tech, robotics, and design models (seventh and eighth grade students) walking, physical education and advanced physical education (seventh and eighth grade students).

All sixth grade students will enroll in one semester of physical education, health and computer literacy. They will complete a ranking form for choir, band, FACS, art, and study skills.

DISPATCHERS from FRONT

bering reminders of tough calls throughout year. When Phillips gave out each award, he shared the details behind why their peers voted for them or what situation led to their recognition.

Phillips handed out the Best Bloopers award to Kandra Connolley and the Best Sense of Humor to Janell Watkins.

As Phillips handed out awards, he shared some of the stories behind the individual calls that prompted the recognition, such as outstanding call awards, such as one that went to Stuart Lombard for the Washburn homicide last year.

As Phillips handed out the two most prestigious awards, he shared the reasons the two ladies were selected. Janell Watkins was voted the Best Telecommunicator of the Year by her peers and approved by Phillips.

He said, "She is easy to go to with questions or concerns and pushes her team for excellence." He also added that she is great with trainees and takes extra time for callers that need to hear a kind word. She was also recognized for being professional, even in times of stress and promoting teamwork.

Phillips selected Carrie Jabben of the Employee of the Year. Phillips said, "She has demonstrated a positive attitude and shown kindness to all co-workers."

Phillips also said Jabben has grown in her duties, has a strong commitment to her job and has been supportive of the vision of the center.

He added, "I have seen a renewed passion and I am very glad to have an experienced veteran like her on the team."

After the event, Phillips shared, "Both of these ladies were very much deserving of these highest awards. They have excelled this year and I am glad we were able to honor them as well as every emergency telecommunicator."

Each year, the center recognizes National Telecommunicators Week because of the intense and hard work that each of them puts into every call that comes in. The telecommunicators act as the first point of contact for anyone in the county experiencing an emergency. To remain up on their training and abilities, each of them completes many hours of training to be the best they can be at their duties. Not only do telecommunicators communicate with citizens, but they also work to dispatch emergency personnel like police, fire and emergency medical personnel and sometimes offer life-saving advice to those reaching out for help.

The job is hard, emotional and exhausting at times, but the team at the Barry County E91-1-1 Center do all they can to ensure citizens are safe and get the help they need.

Complete awards were:

- Best Adapter - Carrie Jabben
- Best Bloopers - Kandra Connolley
- Most Kind - Carrie Jabben
- Most Composed - Stuart Lombard
- Most Encouraging Word - Kandra Connolley
- Most Helpful - Kandra Connolley
- Best Sense of Humor - Jenall Watkins
- Great Call Awards - Kandra Connolley, Stuart Lombard and Alice Eutsler
- Telecommunicator of the Year - Jenall Watkins
- Employee of the Year - Carrie Jabben.

Cassville native volunteers on Service Day

Emily Speakman, a Senior pre-nursing major from Cassville was one of the 700 volunteers from Central Methodist University who did their part on Thursday, April 7 to, in the words of the CMU mission statement, "make a difference in the world."

The University called off classes for its annual Service Day, when students, faculty and staff are encouraged to engage in volunteer activities to support a variety of causes. Event coordinator Matt Williams, associate director for CMU's Center for Faith and Service, estimated CMU dedicated more than 1,700 hours this year.

Speakman volunteered with the Cleanup Fayette project, where over 100 volunteers worked to pick up trash around town.

The many Service Day projects included yard work at various homes, work at the food bank in Columbia, volunteering at Fayette Head Start, sewing colorful pillow cases for children who are battling cancer, and many more.

"As President (Roger) Drake likes to say, we're helping to prepare students for 'advanced citizenship' in the world around them," Williams added. "Even though classes were canceled for Service Day, the learning continued."

Since its founding in 1854, CMU has evolved into a university that confers master's, bachelor's and associate's degrees through programming on its main campus in Fayette, Mo., and through extension sites located across Missouri and online.

New Habitat for Humanity house formally dedicated in memory of Metz

Charlea Estes

Earlier this month, the Habitat for Humanity of Cassville members formally dedicated their most recent house to longtime volunteer and local pharmacist Lewis Metz.

Metz had dedicated years of his life to the local Habitat group, holding a strong belief in the program which provides affordable housing for people in the community who need a home.

Board member David Hermann thanked a variety of people who made the most recent house possible, including board members, those donating materials to the project and others. Metz's family was also present for the plaque dedication at the home project.

Hermann said, "Mr. Louis Metz is being remembered today for his untiring efforts to help and support Habitat for Humanity. He was very active in working with Habitat and the community."

"He was well known and loved by all those he came in contact with. Mr. Metz served on the Habitat board and was instrumental on the selection committee to find homes for those who qualified."

Hermann continued, "Unfortunately, Mr. Metz became ill and soon passed from this life. But he has left a legacy for others to follow for many generations to come. And it is for his legacy that we remember Mr. Louis Metz and today, we take time to honor him and his time with Habitat for Humanity by dedicating the lovely home in his remembrance."

The plaque was presented with his family present, including Lauren Metz-Winegard, Matthew Metz and Marianne Metz. Hermann also thanked the home's new owner Bobby Dowling for making the house a home.

First Baptist pastor James Weaver was present to lead the dedication prayer.

Hermann concluded, "This plaque will be a constant reminder of the legacy he has left and a reminder of those things which are to come."

Southwest Super Hero Students of the Month

During the month of April, Southwest students were chosen to be Super Hero Students of the Month. These students exhibited the character trait of patience. The students were honored at an assembly.

David Hermann, Habitat for Humanity board member, speaks to the crowd gathered for the plaque presentation at the newest Habitat for Humanity house in Cassville. On the porch, Delene Abbott, Habitat for Humanity board member, stands with the home's owner Bobby Dowling.

New mobile app helps Cassville Schools keep in touch

Charlea Estes

The Cassville R-IV School District is leaning more on technology to keep parents and students aware of the school happenings thanks to a new mobile app available for both Android and Apple devices.

The free app was designed by Shelley Henderson, Instructional Technology Liason, and Errick Fuchs, Director of Technology, by partnering with Simplified Online Communication Systems (SOCS), the same company that hosts the District's website.

"We continue to search for better ways to communicate with our stakeholders," said Cassville superintendent Dr. Richard Asbill. "Smartphones and tablet devices are everywhere and we want to enable our students, staff, alumni and community members the ability to connect with the District easily at their own convenience."

The app's purpose is to keep all of those who are interested up to date and informed about what is happening at the school, such as news, social media posts, calendars and more. They also have the ability to send notifications of important information directly to their devices with the app.

Asbill presented the idea to the principals and administration, and everyone was excited about the opportunity. From there, Henderson and Fuchs researched the tools necessary to make it a possibility and work on the design.

Fuchs shared, "The app was designed to communicate at the district level via mobile notifications. For example, school closings or other events that may occur that effect everyone in the district, not just a specific grade level or activity."

Henderson added, "We can always add icons to the app with links to our website in the future. We mainly just looked at what we thought would be of the most use to those who would be accessing it."

Mindi Artherton, communications for Cassville Schools, said, "Shelley and Errick have done a fantastic job creating our app. They took the time to research what tools would be most helpful to parents, students, community members and staff. Their goal through this entire process was to create a usable, convenient tool that everyone could have access to in real-time."

To download the new app, search for "Cassville R-IV Schools" in the Apple App Store or on Google Play.

Cassville students prepare for MAP testing

Students at Cassville R-IV will begin annual year-end exams April 25 and district testing will conclude May 12. Cassville Intermediate students will complete the Missouri Assessment Program (MAP) exam while high school students will complete End of Course (EOC) exams.

"Our students and staff have been working hard to prepare for the state assessments," said Jill LeCompte, Cassville School District Assistant Superintendent. "This isn't something we want our students or staff to be nervous about. This is what we have been practicing for all year long. We know they are prepared and ready. We hope that they are excited to show what they know."

While exams can cause anxiety for some students, there are many tactics parents and family members may utilize to ease stress.

- Remind your child to listen carefully to the instructions from their teachers.

- Remind students to read the directions and each question carefully.

- Encourage your child to stay focused on the test, even if other students finish early.

- Keep a positive attitude about testing.

- Make sure that your child gets enough sleep the night before the exam.

- Ensure your child eats a healthy breakfast.

- Make sure your child is on time to school.

- Encourage your child to do well but don't pressure him or her. It is important that your child remain relaxed for the test.

High school students will complete EOC exams April 25-29 with make-up exams scheduled for May 2 and 3.

Eighth grade students will complete MAP testing April 25-29 while seventh grade students will test May 2 and 3. Sixth grade students will complete their portion of the MAP on May 4-6.

Third grade students will test May 9 and 10, fourth graders will test on May 11 and 12 and fifth grade students will complete their exams on May 3-6.

"We are proud of our teachers, administrators, and school staff for providing our students the tools they need to be successful," stated LeCompte. "We are also proud of our students! This is a busy time of year for all of us and we appreciate them understanding the importance of taking these exams seriously and putting their best foot forward."

Prepper Nation offers up survivalist gear and an open air market for community

Charlea Estes & Brenda Moore

A new, unique store opened last week offering up survivalist gear and collectibles to the community. Prepper Nation of the Ozarks held a grand opening Friday through Sunday last week, offering music, prizes and food to the community. The store opened on Highway 37 north of Purdy where Raggedy Ann's Flea Market used to be located.

Dana W. Bland is the owner and operator of Prepper Nation. Bland's desire is to make a difference in the people of the Ozarks' lives through the store, but also his ministry. On top of opening Prepper Nation, Bland is also pastor of Victory in One Accord Fellowship and a disabled veteran.

It is Bland's vision to offer fun and fellowship through his church, but also through his store which offers up wares that help people in their adventure to prepping for a disaster, but also those just wanting to browse or check out the selection of items in his once-a-month "no junk auction."

Bland said, "the prices will go down, not up here. Come in and see our inventory. I am anxious to meet you all."

Prepper Nation offers camping gear like tents and equipment, as well as crossbows, freeze-dried food packets, knives, hats, flash lights and antiques. Anything you would expect to see in an open-air flea market is what Bland offers and is looking for from vendors.

All vendors and public are welcome to stop in and bring their merchandise for consignment. Bland said, "Please bring good stuff like antiques and new or used collectibles. Just no clothing." All trades will be considered, as well.

Dana Bland owns and operates the recently opened Prepper Nation of the Ozarks, offering up fellowship, survivalist gear and a flea market near Purdy.

The Prepper Nation of the Ozarks Trading Post is located on north Highway 37 near Purdy. Store hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday. Church services are at 10:45 a.m. on Sundays. The "no junk auction" is the first Saturday of every month at 5 p.m.

Contact Prepper Nation at (417) 847-7974 for all other information and drop off times.

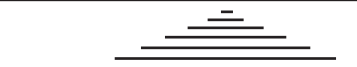

Prepper Nation has plenty of new items, but they also keep some antiques and collectibles for those looking for something a little more unique.

Steer clear. Work safely.

One of the most important rules of operating machinery is the 10-foot rule. It simply means to be aware of your equipment's height and reach, and keep it at least 10 feet away from power lines.

Whether you're working in the field or moving equipment from one place to another, think and look ahead to be sure power lines are not in your path. The 10-foot rule will help you steer clear of danger.

Former administrator donates flag to Senior Center

On Thursday, April 7, the Central Crossing Senior Center celebrated the donation of a hand-crocheted American flag by OJ Thompson in memory of his son, Jeff. This flag was crocheted by Rita Rud (d) and offered through a raffle, which OJ won.

OJ was the past Central Crossing Senior Center Administrator. Upon hearing of the news, OJ knew what he was going to do with it. He decided to donate this large American flag to the Center, in memory of his son, Jeff. Jeff Thompson was an athlete; a patriot; a veteran; a Director of Teen Challenge, helping teens at risk; and a father whom OJ lost only recently.
