Exeter celebrates 20th year of Arbor Day plantings

Charlea Mills

Saturday marked the 20th year of Arbor Day celebrations for the City of Exeter. Each year on the third Saturday in April, the Exeter Tree Board plants a tree in the city and has a get together.

Twenty years ago, the group began by planting 37 trees throughout the city park and school and has planted at least one each year since. Exeter also earned the recognition as part of Tree City USA, a special recognition for cities participating in community forestry in the United States.

The Exeter Tree Board is a group of volunteers who get together four to six times a year to vote on issues related to community forestry and appropriate the funds allocated by the Exeter City Council for the new tree they plant each year.

Certified arborist and consultant Kirk Wynns has been helping the board since the first tree plantings 20 years ago. He also takes responsibility for ensuring that the trees get watered during droughts and planning where trees need to be planted. He also helps the board with a list of champion trees in the area, which are the largest

Wynns said, "I just help guide them and lead them in the direction they need to go with their plans."

Wynns also takes responsibility for watering the trees during droughts and keeping watch over the condition of the trees in the city. During times of drought, that means watering each of the smaller trees with five gallons of water a day to keep them in good shape. Wynns said, "Sometimes we lose trees, but that's just part of it. We want to keep growing and planting." Even the fire department has pitched in with the arborist mission, bring-

Legislature approves Sater's welfare reform bill

Charlea Mills

Both the House and Senate approved a welfare reform bill this week, sponsored by Cassville's Senator David Sater. Senate Bill 24 was created to reinstate work requirements as encouragement for self-sufficiency and also allocates funds to aid welfare recipients.

Sen. Sater stated, "As with so many of our social welfare programs, the current TANF (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families) program is too often a disincentive to work and fails to provide the structure and path needed for recipients to reach self-sufficiency. We are good neighbors and help one another out, but we also believe in personal responsibility and that a hand up, not a hand out, will lead to success."

The work requirement requires welfare recipients to participate in the definition of work provided by the 1996 Welfare Reform Act as unsubsidized employment, job searches and community services. For families on TANF, the new life-time limit means that families can only take benefits for 45 months, and they must engage in work requirements before receiving benefits. The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) currently allows for states with a certain unemployment level to have a waiver for the work requirements before receiving benefits. The new bill removes the waiver and reinstates all work requirements for SNAP benefits, as well.

Furthermore, the savings to the state by implementing the new work requirements will be applied to other social programs in the state. Savings from both TANF and SNAP will be used to provide child care assistance for single parents, education assistance, transportation assistance and job training for individuals receiving those benefits.

The need presented for the welfare changes in Missouri are due to Missouri's repeated low ranking on the Heartland Institute's scores on welfare reform. Missouri scored an "F" on the 2015 Welfare Reform Report Card:

Sen. David Sater

A State-by-State Analysis of Anti-Poverty Performance and Welfare Reform Policies. The Heartland Institute began the grading system after the 1996 Welfare Reform Act was signed by President Bill Clinton to require welfare recipients to engage in work activities.

Sen. Sater stated, "Simply volunteering or providing community service, or participating in a job training program, can fulfill the work requirement and put that person on the path to the success and dignity that

Cassville hires new middle school principal

Charlea Mills

In a special school board meeting this morning, the Cassville R-IV School District hired Jimmie Barton as the new middle school principal. Barton is currently employed with the Ballard School District in Butler.

Barton will replace Melanie Stringer who turned in her resignation last month after taking a paid leave of absence. Stringer's resignation is effective June 30. She was the middle school principal for the past two years after one year as the principal at the intermediate school and two years as the middle school assistant principal.

Barton was hired contingent on being let out of his current contract with the Ballard School District. At the board meeting, Jill LeCompte, Cassville assistant superintendent, said, "He got out of his contract I believe last night, and he has nearly 20 years of experience under his belt, so we're excited."

LeCompte said that the

district received roughly 24 applications for the middle school principal position and a team of middle school teachers selected eight to interview. LeCompte continued, "Then they got those down to two that they recommended."

The position of middle school principal has a salary of $72,000 for the 11-month contract.

During the meeting, the school board also accepted the resignation of Christy Hermansen, high school

Burglar strikes Cassville business Monday night

Charlea Mills

According to the Cassville Police Department, a burglar struck two businesses, one successfully and one unsuccessfully, sometime on Monday night.

Police Chief Dana Kammerlohr confirmed that someone broke into Burchfield Tax Service on Sale Barn Road and stole an undisclosed amount of cash. Kammerlohr said, "They broke in through a back door, and the business discovered it when they got there Tuesday morn-

The burglars also attempted to break into Gerald's restaurant, but were unsuccessful.

If you have any information regarding the break-in, contact the Cassville Police Department through central dispatch at (417) 847-4911 or directly at (417) 847-4700.

E9-1-1 Center hands out employee awards

Shania Stumpff

Every year, the Barry County E 9-1-1 Center hosts an award ceremony for the dispatchers and other employees. This year's event included a cook out and band Ripplin' Creek performed.

They started the award ceremony by announcing a new incentive program that involves all of the employees. The program consists of earning tokens to receive things such as time off.

The awards are meant to honor the employees for their hard work and dedication throughout the year. Rusty Dilbeck won the new Agency Recognition award, along with the best sense of humor. Janelle Brattin won Most Positive Attitude. Kandra Connolley won Blooper of the Year and Most Improved Telecommunicator award.

Stuart Lombard won Telecommunicator of the Year, voted on by his peers, and Best Call. Lombard also won an honorary mention provided from the Agency

Recognition awards. Mike Phillips, the E 9-1-1 director stated, "Lombard provides a great work environment and never has anything negative to say in his dispatch. He always remains calm and concise."

Lastly, Ann Hennigan won Employee of the Year. Phillips stated, "She is always on time and hardly uses any sick time. She has a positive attitude and is constantly striving for excellence."

The Center also held an open house earlier that day where community members could tour the facility.

Correction: In last week's issue of the Advertiser, an article stated that 10 Barry County natives are listed on the Vietnam Veterans Memorial at the College of the Ozarks. However, it was brought to attention that one other native is also on the wall and was overlooked because his city of residence was not listed as in Barry County.

Williams James Hutton, of Cassville, was a petty officer second class in the U.S. Navy. His tour of duty began December 22, 1968. Hutton was killed on the ground in Quang Tri Province, South Vietnam, on March 14, 1969.

If you have information about any other Barry County natives that were killed during Vietnam who were not mentioned in the article and may have been living outside of Barry County when they enlisted, please send the information to editor@4bca.com.

Obituaries

WILMA RUTH (BRADLEY) BRISCO

Wilma Ruth, known to most, was considered a sweet person. She always had a smile to share, a laugh that brought joy to your soul. Her only fault in this life was she had her father's temper and her mother's stubbornness.

Wilma Ruth (Bradley) Brisco left this worldly domain to join those of her family already established in heaven on Tuesday, April 14, 2015, at Cox South Hospital, Springfield.

Wilma loved her flower beds, her children and grandchildren. The greatest joy was to watch the eagles who landed in a tree on the hill.

On the morning of her death, she had been driven through the memories of her past: swimming in the creek as a child with the Sheets children, walking the hills and hollars of Hailey and Galena, picking wild berries, and visiting her grandparents, Elbert and Etta Bell Madison.

Wilma Ruth Bradley married Louie S. Brisco on December 24, 1953. She graduated from Cassville High School May of 1954, following her husband to Kansas Army Base until his enlistment ended. From there she followed him to Fort Bragg, California, where on July 19, 1955, she presented him with twin girls, Jenise Isley and Janice Kyle. In 1959, they picked up stakes moving back to Missouri. A son, Keith Brisco, would be born, September 24, 1962.

On April 7, 1965, Louie Brisco was killed leaving a young widow to raise three children. They are Jenise Evelyn Isley and her husband, Randy, of Cato, Janice Kyle and her husband, Pete, of Republic, Missouri, and Keith Brisco, of the home.

Wilma Ruth Brisco was preceded in death by her husband, Louie, of ten years, her parents, Arthur and Virginia (Madison) Bradley; three sisters, Christine Haddock, Freda Osborn, and Shirley Wren; one nephew, Bradley James Wren; and one grandson, Jimmey Lee Isley.

She leaves behind four grandchildren and soon to be great-grand son.

Funeral services were held at 10:00 a.m. Friday, April 17, 2015, in Fohn Funeral Home, Cassville, Pastor Doyle Russell and Pastor Lonnie Stockton conducted the services. Burial was in Clio Cemetery, Jenkins.

The family received friends Thursday, in Fohn Funeral Home, Cassville.

Mill Street Church of Christ

Two plus two equals four. Ronald Reagan was born in 1911. A water molecule has two atoms of hydrogen and one atom of oxygen. The Capital of Missouri is Jefferson City. These are all facts. Our world relies on facts. These are matters of absolute truth that can be proven. Simply saying they are not true does not make them false. Abraham Lincoln proved this point when he stated, "How many legs does a dog have if you call the tail a leg? Four. Calling a tail a leg doesn't make it a leg." Absolute truth is widely accepted in just about every subject one can think of. The notable exception to this rule is the Bible. Many today believe that there is no absolute truth when it comes to religion. As such there are many different religions. In contrast to this view, the Bible is a book of facts. It includes histories, genealogies, and even some scientific principles (Lev. 17:11; Is. 40:22). And yet people still look at the Bible as being subjective. If it is the case that there is no such thing as absolute truth, then that would make the words of our Savior false when he said to the Father, "Sanctify them by Your truth. Your word is truth" (John 17:17). Jesus outright confirms here that truth is not determined by what we want to be truth but rather what God has said. As members of the Mill Street church of Christ our aim is to preach and live this absolute truth that God has given us. Please come and visit us!

Heritage offers diabetes education program

Kammi Bean will be delivering a free educational program at Heritage Medical Clinic to share diabetes self-management and lifestyle strategies based on extensive training and her personal experience living with diabetes. Kammi is a member of the A 1 C Champions Program, supported by Sanofi, which is a patient-led approach to diabetes education. A 1 C Champions know first-hand the challenges and obstacles to maintaining control of their diabetes. They are real people with real A 1 C control providing real inspiration. Diabetes is a chronic condition characterized by high blood sugar in which the body does not produce or properly use insulin, the hormone needed to transport glucose (sugar) from the blood into the cells of the body for energy. It is estimated that nearly 26 million people in the United States have diabetes, including an estimated 7 million who remain undiagnosed. At the same time, about 40 percent of those diagnosed with diabetes did not achieve the blood sugar control target of A 1 C of less than 7 percent recommended by the American Diabetes Association. The A 1 C test measures average blood glucose levels over the past two- to three-month period. If you or someone you know is struggling with diabetes or has an A 1 C that is 7 percent or above, you are invited to this free educational program at Heritage Medical Clinic, Cassville, on Monday, April 27, at 6 p.m. For more information, call Heritage Medical Clinic at (417) 846-2277.

host field day

Arvest Bank announced that it has sponsored an event room at Central Crossing Senior Center.

The Arvest Room, part of a new addition being added to Central Crossing Senior Center, will be available for events hosted by the Center. The new addition will include a dining area, four additional rooms, an exercise facility and additional storage. The Arvest Room is just off the current main dining room.

Central Crossing Senior Center offered a "Room Donation Program" to help fund the addition's construction. Sponsors are allowed to name the room and provide a display within the room.

Mark Davis, Arvest Community President in Shell Knob, said sponsoring a room at the senior center fits in with Arvest Bank's community approach to banking.

"Shell Knob is truly a volunteer community; anything done here is done with volunteers. Central Crossing Senior Center is one of the centers for volunteerism within the community. We appreciate and honor that volunteer spirit and will continue our dedication to Central Crossing Senior Center with our volunteer hours and monetary support," Davis said.

Central Crossing Senior Center offers more than 20 activities for seniors and serves more than 15,000 meals annually to congregate and homebound seniors in Barry and Stone counties. Activities include cards, mahjongg, dominos, bingo, line dancing, Wii bowling, quilting, foot care, health care, Medicare counseling, income tax filing assistance, wood carving, computer and educational programs. The Center also offers medical equipment for loan to any who have a need.

Another example of Arvest Bank's support for the community should be ready for use by the end of the year, Davis said. Arvest Bank is building a new branch bank to replace the current location and construction should be completed by the end of the year. The new branch will be larger and will add a third drive-through teller lane for a total of three lanes.

"We are very excited about the new building," Davis said. "It will be larger, newer and nicer than what we have now."

The Boy Scouts Troop 76 of Cassville will be hosting a day of free events to help raise awareness for their troop.

The event will be held on Saturday, May 9, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the American Legion hut located on south Highway 112 in Cassville.

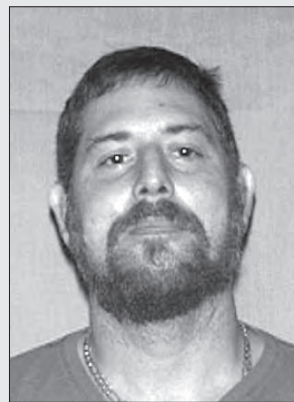

Activities of the day will include archery, shoot bb guns, slingshots, water rockets, roasting hot dogs and racing pine wood derby cars.

The event is free to any families in the surrounding area with boys ages 6 to 18 years old. The event is family-oriented, so younger siblings and sisters are welcome to participate. All youth must be accompanied by an adult.

Cassville family serves as missionaries in South Africa

Steve Chapman

By the time you are reading this, William Tahoe and his family will have returned to Johannesburg, South Africa and resumed their work as missionaries. Tahoe (name has been changed out of concern for his safety), his wife Leigh, and their three children, Bethany, Bentley and Benjamin, are Cassvilians living overseas while they work to bring the gospel to the people over there.

Originally of California, William and Leigh came to Cassville with Bentley in 2004. By this time, they had already done extensive work as missionaries in Latvia, China and Bolivia but decided to settle in Barry County and became members of First Baptist Church of Cassville. They continued to live in the area for six more years, during which time Bentley and Benjamin were born, and decided to return to mission work in 2010. William and Leigh found a new mission field in Johannesburg, and they remained their for three and a half years, returning four months ago for furlough.

As one might expect, living in a foreign land requires a number of adjustments, and South Africa is no exception. Bentley, 14, and Benjamin, 12, say there is a huge English influence on the local culture, so many things we speak of here have different names over there. “They call French fries ‘chips’ and chips ‘crisps,’ and so on,” Bentley said.

Benjamin related a story about a time he and a South African boy were having lunch together. When Benjamin told him he was eating a peanut butter and jelly sandwich, the boy thought the idea was revolting. Benjamin gave him a piece of his sandwich, and the boy said “It tastes like peanut butter and jam.” Benjamin added, “Jelly means Jell-O over there.”

Language is not the only adjustment the Tahoes have had to make. Johannesburg has a high crime rate, so security in the region is very high. “Whenever you go to the mall, you have a lot of security checkpoints, or you see a guard at the gate. When you leave the grocery store, they want to see your receipt, and the houses have panic buttons,” Leigh said.

There are some sacrifices living in South Africa for the Tahoes as well. Bethany, 16, along with Bentley and Benjamin, was home-schooled until arriving in South Africa and had been prepared to leave for sometime before they actually went to South Africa. But she was sad about leaving her relatives behind in America, as well as leaving First Baptist Church. She jokingly added that she also misses Jolly Ranchers.

According to Bethany, being a missionary kid (MK) can be somewhat like being a military brat. “Being an MK, you do get a lot of friends that come and go, especially if they’re other missionary kids,” she said.

Despite the difficulties, William and Leigh are making a huge impact in their mission. William is a computer expert, and he repairs computers for other missionaries. Some of these missionaries come to Johannesburg, and others he helps remotely via a satellite link.

William also travels into other countries as well. Many of these countries do not allow missionaries within their borders, so he must travel as a computer technician. William risks being deported or even executed, if it is discovered that he is a missionary while inside some of these countries.

The Tahoes also are having an impact locally. William and Leigh volunteer at camp on the weekends where they teach the Bible to children, and they also hold a Bible study at the local high school during the lunch hour. The kids there, according to Leigh, are hungry to hear about the Gospel.

Leigh’s favorite memory of their work in South Africa involves a time when she gave away some of Benjamin’s old clothes to children in a school, and one boy got a sweater. “He was so proud of that sweater, and he wanted to wear it to school even though it was a very hot day.”

William and Leigh hope that their friends back home will support them by praying for them. “We need people to take and seriously pray for us, because we have seen when that happens, God moves, and people can know Christ as their savior,” he said. “When you pray specifically for certain people, you see God act.”

Luckey retires from Drug Task Force

Shania Stumpff

On April 15, the Barry County Sheriff’s Department hosted a going away party for Officer John Luckey. Luckey served in Barry County for seven years and was the Drug Task Force Commander from 2007 to 2011. Luckey is also a retired U.S. Marine and previously worked in Jasper County. He has served a total of 19 years.

The Southwest Missouri Drug Task Force deals primarily with narcotic investigations in the area. The task force is funded by a grant for both McDonald and Barry Counties. The Barry County department is in the application process to find a replacement for Luckey’s position. Recently, he has been putting on demonstrations for organizations and colleges about the uses of meth and other harmful drugs in the area. Sheriff Mick Epperly said, “He will be missed very much.”

Luckey’s new plans are to move to Florida and start a security agency business. John’s wife, Jennifer, is a resource officer in the Cassville school district. She will finish out the school year and then leave to join John in Florida. Luckey is looking forward to starting this new adventure and seeing what the future holds. Luckey added that his time spent serving in Barry County has been quite an adventure.

The newly elected Barry County road district commissioners were sworn in during a special meeting on Monday night at the Family Life Center in Cassville. The meeting also featured a special speaker who drove from Monroe City to discuss successful methods for pot hole repair on different types of roads.

County Clerk Gary Youngblood swore in 12 commissioners on Monday, April 20, and the county commissioners presented special topics to help the commissioners run their districts. Barry County has 25 special road districts and one common district that is run by the county commission. Youngblood said that a few of the other road commissioners were sworn in in his office prior to the meeting, but some haven't taken their oath of office yet.

Presiding commissioner Cherry Warren began the meeting by introducing the other commissioners and what topics they would be discussing. Northern commissioner Gary Schad discussed Sunshine Law compliance. Sunshine Law dictates proper procedure on posting information about meetings and keeping information open to the public. He told the road commissioners, "There's no reason for the public to not know what you're doing. You're spending the taxpayers' money, and they deserve to know where that's going."

Southern commissioner Wayne Hendrix went over how to go through proper bidding procedures to be compliant with the law.

The special presentation was led by Linda Webb with Training and Beyond. Webb has three decades of training experience and 27 years in transportation. Webb presented different methods of patching pot holes so that the repairs would stay in place for longer.

Warren told the road commissioners in attendance, "We probably get more complaints for pot holes than anything else, so we thought this would be a useful presentation for you all to hear."

Warren said, "This is one of the better attended road district meetings we've had and we appreciate that."

TREES from FRONT

ing a tanker truck to help water the trees during droughts. It's a community-wide effort.

All volunteers, both Wynns and the tree board, work to select the trees and keep them maintained. This year, the group planted a purple-leaf cherry tree at the Exeter City Park. Each year, they make the decision of how many trees and what varieties to plant with their funds. Most years, the Exeter City Council grants them $150 to $250 to purchase the tree.

The group also works with their local urban forester Jon Skinner, who works for the Missouri Department of Conservation. Skinner helps to coordinate the community's efforts as well as many other communities in the area.

As a Tree City USA city, Exeter is one of only 86 cities in Missouri that have earned the distinction. To be a part of Tree City USA, they have to meet four requirements of sound urban forestry management: maintain a tree board or department, have a community tree ordinance, spend at least $2 per capita on urban forestry and celebrate Arbor Day. Exeter is one of the three smallest population cities in Missouri to be a part of the program.

For more information on Arbor Day activities and the Tree City USA program, see <http://www.arborday.org>.

WELFARE from FRONT

comes from providing for yourself and your family. It is not too much to ask for recipients of public assistance to work or give back something for the benefits the taxpayers provide."

According to data released by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Missouri is regularly at the bottom or near the bottom in work participation for welfare benefits. The data states that only around 15 percent of Missouri's welfare recipients are meeting current work requirements as set out by the Welfare Reform Act of 1996.

Governor Nixon has 15 days to decide whether to sign or veto SB 24. If the bill receives a veto, the General Assembly has the opportunity to override his decision at the end of the legislative session.

HIRING from FRONT

communication arts, who will be leaving to teach at Monett.

Other new hires included Jordan Ellis as the new agriculture teacher replacing Kelin Kruse, who is leaving to teach at Neosho, and Mary Darden will be teaching seventh grade communication arts as a new teacher.

LeCompte addressed the school board members and said, "We only have a couple of positions left to fill for next year, so we're in really good shape."

Golden Museum opens for the season with new displays, artifacts

An Apatosaurus bone is one of the new artifacts on display at the Golden Pioneer Museum this year.

Charlea Mills

For 25 years, the Golden Museum has been a hidden treasure in Barry County. With collections ranging from Native American artifacts to record-holding mineral samples to toys and war memorabilia, the museum has something for everyone. Tuesday marked the opening day of this season, and new additions to the collection are sure to excite patrons again.

The Golden Pioneer Museum is owned by Winfred and Lee Ona Prier who have spent a lifetime acquiring collections for the museum. During the off season, the couple travels and is always on the lookout for a new piece or two to add the collection. Winfred enjoyed collecting things over the years and, eventually, decided to open the museum so that others could enjoy the artifacts, as well. It didn't take long for the Priers' reputation to become known, and they are sought out by collectors who don't want their treasures to fall into hands that wouldn't appreciate them.

Winfred said, "Sometimes we will have someone call us because they've heard of the museum and have something they want displayed." The Priers travel all over purchasing collections to add to the museum and to keep the artifacts new and interesting for visiting patrons.

Some of the items new to the museum this year include a huge Apatosaurus thigh bone as well as an ancient preserved fish and reptile from the same period. In another room is a bear skull from the same collection.

This year there is a special Shriners exhibit up for the first time, as well. The collection, which was acquired from Shriner Frank Fusco, of Mountain Home, Ark., includes pins, Bibles, commemorative glasses, bells and much more. Even a special women's Shriners hat is included in the display.

Last fall, the museum opened a brand new 2,700 square foot addition to house new collections, including a huge Native American artifact and arrowhead assortment and the largest known collection of butter dishes on record. Over 1,300 different butter dishes are displayed along the walls of the newest room, which is the fifth for the museum.

The beauty of the Golden Museum is the variety of artifacts on display. Antique tractors, countless types of glassware from over the years, collectible lunch boxes and African artifacts also adorn the shelves inside. Spending a whole day pursuing the five rooms still wouldn't allow one to see every artifact on the shelves. The best way to understand the sheer volume of collections inside the doors is to visit for yourself.

The Golden Pioneer Museum is located at Highways 86 and J in Golden across from Ball and Prier Tire. Their hours are Tuesdays through Saturdays from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. until October 31. Admission is free, but donations are accepted to help with the upkeep of the museum. For more information, call (417) 271-3300 or online at www.goldenpioneermuseum.org.

The new Shriners artifact display takes up a whole case filled with commemorative glasses, bells, figurines and more, some dating back as far as 1899.

Southwest's Mulkey receives first at State FFA

John Mulkey, of Washburn, received the first-place Missouri FFA Environmental Science and Natural Resources Management Entrepreneurship and Placement Combined Proficiency Award at the 87th Missouri FFA Convention.

Mulkey, a senior at Washburn High School, is the son of Bruce and Janie Mulkey. He is a member of the Southwest Region at Washburn FFA Chapter. His chapter advisors are Chris Hunt and Rachel Brown.

Mulkey's supervised agricultural experience program began when he started contacting individuals to see if they needed scrap metal removed from their property. He initially would clean up properties in exchange for scrap metal that he would take to recycle centers. He learned how to sort scrap metal, copper and aluminum to maximize. Mulkey has also learned effective money management techniques and customer communication. He has developed an interest in land beautification and the operation of heavy equipment.

As an FFA member, Mulkey has attended national and state FFA convention. He also has received his Chapter FFA Degree.

Outside of FFA, Mulkey is a member of student council, National Honor Society, and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He has also played baseball.

After graduation, Mulkey

will study heavy equipment operations at Linn State Technical College of Missouri in Linn. He credits his SAE for teaching him to enjoy working with heavy equipment.

Southwest students explore career options Purdy's March Character Kids

Southwest students recently received visitors from the local office of Microsoft and IMPACT Group in partnership with Southwest PTO's efforts to introduce students to the career possibilities available to them.

Fourth grade students were treated to a variety of demonstrations by Microsoft employees such as Parik Savjani and Colin Page. Savjani showed the students the history of computers and hardware to give them a little bit of background while Page played mouse mischief with the kids. Brian Shaffer and Craig Monarch demonstrated Xbox and other Microsoft devices. Nicole Liedka and John Solliday demonstrated Movie Maker and Skype translator to give the kids an idea of just how technology can expand the borders of their worlds. Finally, Kevin Dahl demonstrated Bing as well as coordinated the fourth grade event in conjunction with Kara Hendrix from Southwest.

Kevin Dahl also presented to Mrs. Pruitt's 8th grade Transitions class along with local IMPACT Group Manager Shellie Dahl. Kevin and Shellie discussed the importance of exploring a wide array of career options. Southwest PTO President Shellie Dahl said, "We are really excited to partner with the school around developing community and business partnerships as another avenue to introduce a wide variety of options for our children's futures. First, the event in the 4th grade and then working with Mrs. Pruitt's incredibly well-prepared class shows us just how dedicated the teachers and administrators are at our school. It's an exciting time to be part of Southwest Schools."

In addition, Dahl mentioned that the PTO is hosting their first ever STEAM fair aimed at bringing in both large and small businesses that operate in science, technology, engineering, arts and math. According to Dahl, the STEAM Fair will offer students the opportunity to interact with businesses, learn about careers and also win some exciting prizes. This free event will be at Southwest on Wednesday, April 29, from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. and is being catered by Mercy.

For more information, contact the Southwest PTO at www.facebook.com/southwestpto.

Purdy Elementary Principal Janet Boys announced the character education medal winners for the month of March. In partnership with elementary counselor Gary Jurgensen, Purdy's kindergarten through fourth grade teachers present a different character trait each month. At the end of the month, each teacher nominates one student who best exemplifies the trait presented. These students receive character medals at a special assembly.

In March, students focused on Perseverance. March medal winners are fourth graders Stephanie Webb, Leanna Roberts and Joe Robinson; third graders Jeremiah Williams and Caleb Stanford; second graders Karma Kessinger, Zoey Webb and Jackson Hilburn; first graders Rose Wilson, Kaylee Dotson and Levi Breazzeal; and kindergartners Brennan Hawkins, Naydelin Elias and Alyssa Dodson.

Barry County courts send 14 to prison in March

• Patty D. Ashby, of Monett, pled guilty to two counts of theft/stealing of less than $500. Ashby was given a suspended imposition of sentencing, two years supervised probation and 40 hours of community service to be completed by November 1, 2017.

In May 2014, Ashby and other adults had her juvenile children push shopping carts full of merchandise out of the Walmart in Monett without paying for it on two separate occasions. She admitted that the adults were responsible for the plan to steal, and that she had participated in it.

Ashby is to serve probation until March 17, 2017.

• Jinifer L. Babcock, of Garfield, Ark., pled guilty to theft/stealing of less than $500. Babcock was given a suspended imposition of sentencing and three years supervised probation.

Babcock was arrested in February 2014 when the Cassville Police Department was dispatched for a theft at Walmart. Babcock had stolen $1,108.92 worth of merchandise and still had it in the car when officers contacted her about the crime.

Babcock is to serve probation until March 16, 2018.

• Daniel Barrientos, of Purdy, pled guilty to DWI-Alcohol as a persistent offender. Barrientos was given a suspended execution of a three-year incarceration sentence, 480 hours community service and five years supervised probation.

In April 2014, the Missouri State Highway Patrol pulled Barrientos over for driving at an extremely low rate of speed on MO-37 in Purdy. When he pulled him over, the trooper noticed a beer bottle and empty carton in the vehicle. Barrientos failed multiple field sobriety tests and, when given a breathalyzer test, had a blood alcohol level of 0.172. Barrientos had two prior DWI convictions.

Barrientos is to serve probation until March 19, 2020.

• Jerry Manuel Beck, of Golden, pled guilty to distribution of a controlled substance. Beck was sentenced to five years incarceration with the Department of Corrections.

On November 24, 2014, the Barry County Sheriff's Office found over 50 grams of methamphetamine in Beck's residence on Kestrel Court in Golden. There were also syringes and other forms of drug paraphernalia.

• Hank F. Bevis, of Stotts City, pled guilty to physically taking property appropriated from a victim. Bevis was sentenced to five years incarceration with the Department of Corrections.

On June 17, 2014, officers with the Monett Police Department were dispatched to the Monett Walmart for pushing a cart full of merchandise out of the store without paying for it. When asset protection stopped Bevis to ask him about the cart full of goods, he shoved the employee aside and fled.

• Scott William Boden, of Cassville, made an Alford plea to possession of a chemical with the intent to manufacture a controlled substance. Boden was given a suspended imposition of sentencing and three years unsupervised probation.

Boden was arrested following an investigation done by the Southwest Missouri Drug Task Force in October 2013. When officers approached a residence on Wayne Drive in Cassville, they detected a strong chemical odor. Officers found a shake-n-bake methamphetamine lab in a trash can beside the trailer where Boden was cooking with another person.

Boden is to serve probation until March 24, 2018.

• Gordon E. Carey, Jr., of Billings, pled guilty to receiving stolen property. Carey was sentenced to four years incarceration with the Department of Corrections.

In January 2013, Carey took a vehicle into Slinkard's Salvage to sell for scrap. The vehicle had been stolen from Springfield the day before and a match was made by the VIN number.

• Pedro E. Castaneda, of Monett, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance and unlawful use of drug paraphernalia. Castaneda was sentenced to four years incarceration with the Department of Corrections for the possession charge and 60 days incarceration in jail for the unlawful use of paraphernalia charge with credit for time already served.

Castaneda was stopped by the Missouri State Highway Patrol in December 2014 when a trooper recognized him as a frequent driver while his license was revoked. A search of the vehicle yielded methamphetamine and loaded syringes.

• Charlie Lynn Crow, of Cassville, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance. Crow was given a suspended execution of a five year incarceration sentence and five years supervised probation.

Crow is to serve probation until March 16, 2020.

• Christian Sky Crum, of Cassville, made an Alford plea to assault in the second degree. Crum was given a suspended imposition of sentencing with three years supervised probation.

In June 2013, Crum had three others help her to lure someone to a pre-planned location for an assault and robbery. Two people picked the victim up in their vehicle with the impression that they were going back-roading. Then, Crum and another person ordered the victim out of the vehicle at gun point before kicking and punching him until he fell on the ground. Then they stole his wallet and cell phone.

Crum is to serve probation until March 17, 2018.

• Sarena Leigh Donahoo, of Cassville, pled guilty to resisting or interfering with the arrest for a felony. Donahoo was given a suspended execution of a four year incarceration sentence and five years supervised probation.

Donahoo and another person broke into a home on East 5th Street in Butterfield and stole clothing, jewelry and a jewelry box. The value of the property was estimated at less than $500.

Donahoo is to serve probation until March 16, 2020.

• Christopher Lee Hile, of Monett, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance and unlawful use of drug paraphernalia for methamphetamine. His probation was also revoked on a possession of a controlled substance charge that stemmed from an arrest in 2007. Hile was sentenced to five years incarceration for each of the two possession charges and four years incarceration for the drug paraphernalia charge.

On January 25, 2014, officers with the Monett Police Department observed Hile walking in an alley. When officers tried to question him, he fled and entered a residence on County Road in Monett. Upon a search of the residence, officers found Hile hiding in the attic with a container with 13 syringes, baggies of methamphetamine residue, two digital scales, two glass smoking pipes, three spoons with residue and two measuring spoons.

• Thomas Jason Holland, of Purdy, made an Alford plea to domestic assault in the second degree. Holland was given a suspended execution of a five years incarceration sentence and five years supervised probation.

On May 12, 2014, Holland physically assaulted his wife and child in their home on Farm Road 2100 in Purdy. Holland picked the child up by the shirt and threw her out of the bedroom and also held his wife down on the bed and struck her in the face.

Steer clear. Work safely.

One of the most important rules of operating machinery is the 10-foot rule. It simply means to be aware of your equipment's height and reach, and keep it at least 10 feet away from power lines.

Whether you're working in the field or moving equipment from one place to another, think and look ahead to be sure power lines are not in your path. The 10-foot rule will help you steer clear of danger.
