Ridin' with Mason Lowe to bring PBR to Cassville

Charlea Estes-Jones

The loss of local PBR star Mason Lowe was a huge blow to the community. Lowe, known for his good sense of humor and staying grounded despite his fame, made him a local celebrity not only in Barry County but for the bullriding circuit, as well, lost his life in a bullriding incident in January. To honor Lowe's memory, a special PBR event will be held at the Cassville Bill Hailey Arena, and proceeds will be donated in Lowe's name.

Stu Crowe is one of two people who organized the 1st annual Ridin' with Mason Lowe PBR event coming to Cassville on May 11. He and Cindy O'Neill decided to put the event together, and it wasn't difficult to get PBR on board with the idea.

Crowe said, "We wanted to honor Mason through the community."

"I'd known him since he was a little boy. When he was a kid, it didn't take a lot to make Mason happy. He was always in a good mood."

So, Crowe and O'Neill made a plan, and she approached PBR with it.

Crowe said, "I'm safety man for PBR, so I get the privilege of doing quite a bit for them throughout the year, and Cindy is with them, too, so she contacted them to talk to them of the event."

"With all that we do for the PBR and all that Mason did, it wasn't hard to get them to come on board."

The event will feature 40 riders selected by PBR and 50 bulls. Crowe anticipates the event will last around two and a half hours.

Crowe said, "We'll end up bucking 50 bulls total. 40 in the long round and the top ten for the short round. We'll decide the winner for the best average on two bulls."

Crowe said when he talked to officials in charge of registration, there were already over 60 riders wanting to participate in the Pro Touring Pro Division event. He said the top 40 will be selected based on points, but that won't be announced until the week of the event.

Crowe thinks the event is a good way to get the community together to remember Lowe and also support a good cause. The event, which Crowe is planning to make an annual appearance in Cassville, will have proceeds donated to St. Jude's Children's Hospital in Lowe's name. He said, "Every year we will donate the proceeds to a charity. Mason's niece Blazi is actually a patient at St. Jude's, so we chose it as the first."

He added, "Mason was a just small town guy and he never lost that small town feeling. No matter where he was, Mason was always the same. He always had time to talk to people."

Tornado delivers severe damage to Wheaton

Charlea Estes-Jones

Severe storms in Barry County left trees and limbs down, power poles snapped, hundreds without power and at least two homes destroyed in the Wheaton area. According to David Compton, of Barry County Emergency Management, there was at least one confirmed tornado and a couple others are still under investigation.

Compton said, "We're investigating a couple other potential tracks. NWS confirmed the tracks today, and we know we had a tornado that went through the Wheaton area. We're also assessing a track that is in the Pleasant Ridge area around VV Highway." The Pleasant Ridge area also experienced strong enough storms to snap power poles.

Compton added that there was a suspected tornado in the Shell Knob area at the corner of Barry and Stone Counties, but he suspects that is straight line wind damage. In the Shell Knob area, there were resident reports of down trees and multiple carports flipped over, but no substantial damage to homes.

He added, "We had some reports that there was some damage in the Washburn area, but we haven't been able to verify that. It's unsubstantiated at this time."

While Cassville residents saw street flooding and plenty of down limbs and trees, Compton said the damage in the county seat was from straight line winds, as well. There were also claims of roof damage to homes. Monett's damage scope was the same, according to Compton.

The southern part of the county is similar to reports from Cassville: trees and limbs down.

Wheaton suffered the brunt of the damage with reports of two or three homes destroyed and others with significant damage. The tornado warning led school officials to decide to keep buses at the school until the threat passed. Wheaton Schools also cancelled school today, Wednesday, May 1, due to power outages and damage to the area.

When the tornado first hit the area, roads were closed except for emergency personnel. Compton said, "We had lots of trees down, lots of power lines down and lots of damage over there. But there were no injuries."

Wheaton's power outages spanned a good portion of Wheaton and the surrounding area, but Compton said

Cassville sustained straight line wind damage in the storms that blew through the area on Tuesday evening. Above, a large tree was blown over just off of Main Street in Cassville near downtown.

Purdy man held on $100K bond for serious assault

Charlea Estes-Jones

A 18 year old man from Purdy is in police custody for allegedly punching someone to the point the victim got a brain bleed. According to affidavits of probable cause by the Barry County Sheriff's Office, Asahel Rodriguez, 18, of Purdy, assaulted a 67 year old man at the victim's residence on April 18.

Officers reported Rodriguez showed up to the residence on Farm Road 2080 in Purdy and threatened to assault the victim. After luring the victim out of his home, Rodriguez allegedly punched him until his right eye was swollen shut and his lip was swollen.

When the victim received medical treatment, officers reported he had suffered an internal brain bleed from the assault.

Rodriguez was then featured as a person of interest by the Barry-Lawrence Crime Stoppers group. A tip made through the tip line led officers to Rodriguez's whereabouts.

Rodriguez was taken into custody on April 23.

Rodriguez is charged with assault in the first degree with serious physical injury or special victim. He is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $100,000 cash-only bond.

Governor decides Fitzpatrick's empty House seat to be filled in special Nov. 5 election

Charlea Estes-Jones

Missouri Governor Michael Parson announced last week the special election to replace State Treasurer Scott Fitzpatrick's House of Representatives seat will be held on November 5.

Gov. Parson announced the decision on April 22. Both the House of Representatives 158th District seat that Fitzpatrick held prior to being appointed State Treasurer and a seat in the 99th District in St. Louis County will be filled in the November 5 election.

Fitzpatrick's currently vacant seat will be determined through a vote of the people in Barry, Lawrence and Stone Counties. Fitzpatrick's seat has been vacant since he was sworn in as treasurer on January 14.

In a press release by the governor's office, He stated, "It's important that we work quickly to fill vacancies in the people's house to ensure that Missourians have representation here in Jefferson City. We appreciate the dedication and hard work of our local election authorities, especially when preparing for and conducting a special election. I am confident that Secretary Ashcroft will continue focusing our election process in a free and fair manner."

The Writ of Election signed by Gov. Parson states the candidates running for office must be selected and filed for the office no later than May 13 by 5 p.m.

The nomination process for candidates for a seat vacated by a resignation or appointment to different government position is different than a normal election.

Instead of a Primary Election which had voters determine the candidate to vote on in the special election, central political party committees select and nominate their candidate for the election.

committees for the Republican, Democratic, Independent, Green and Libertarian parties could each nominate a candidate to be placed on the ballot in November even though Barry County only has two active political parties: Republican and Democratic.

Regardless of whether multiple parties select a candidate, an election will be held in Barry, Stone and Lawrence Counties with the local county footing the bill. Barry County clerk Jill LeCompte said the election will cost the county approximately $15,000.

The Secretary of State's office confirmed an election will be held even if only one candidate is on the ballot to give voters the opportunity to elect a write in candidate if there is support.

The Barry County Republicans will hold a meeting to discuss their candidate nominees on Tuesday, May 7, at the courthouse at 6:30 p.m.

The Barry County Democrats will hold a meeting to discuss their candidate nominees on Monday, May 6, at the Cassville Library. Refreshments are at 6:30 p.m. and the meeting starts at 7 p.m.

The election for the House of Representatives District 158 seat will be determined in a special election held on Tuesday, November 5, 2019. Voters will cast ballots at their normal polling places as with any other typical election.

The elected candidate will fill the seat until its normal reelection term in November 2020. House of Representative seats are a two-year term with a maximum tenure of eight years.

He especially had time for kids. That was something that was pretty phenomenal about him."

Some big names will be at the event, including announcers Matt West and Scott Grover, both of whom announce for Unleash the Beast. There will also be PBR superstar Chase Outlaw and Lucas Teodoro.

Clown Porkchop will also be there to do a few acts. However, Crowe said the event is all about the riding, not the entertainment.

He said, "This first year, we just want to put on a good bull ride in honor of Mason. We won't have pyrotechnics or anything like that.

"Mason just loved to ride bulls, and that's how we'll honor him, just put on good bull riding."

Crowe said he anticipates a big crowd at the arena Saturday night. Tickets can only be purchased at the gate. He said, "I've gotten calls from several people coming or planning on coming."

Gates will open at 6 p.m. on Saturday, May 11, with the event starting at 7 p.m. Tickets are $10 for adults, $5 for kids four to 12 and three and under are free. The rain date is Sunday, May 12, at 2 p.m.

There will also be an after party at Jersey's Bar and Grill following the riding for people to remember Lowe and socialize.

If you are unable to attend the event but would like to donate to St. Jude's in Lowe's name, donations can be dropped off at Cr-Ose Cafe, 1013 Main Street in Cassville.

Cassville Senior Center seeking donations to replace freezer, walk-in cooler

Charlea Estes-Jones

Each year, the Cassville Senior Center provides over 40,000 meals to area seniors, some at the center and some through Meals on Wheels home delivery. However, recent issues with the center's walk-in freezer and cooler left the center scrambling to come up with $38,000 before the summer months hit.

Kristina Atwood, Cassville Senior Center administrator, said the center has used the same walk-in freezer and cooler since they moved into the current location in 1998. Over-time, it's stopped working as well and won't make it much longer.

Atwood said, "We are trying to raise $19,000." While the overall cost is almost $40,000, the center staff is hoping the community will step in to help purchase the new one.

In an effort to garner support for the project, Atwood sent letters to area businesses, asking them to contribute to the purchase.

She said the response thus far has been positive. Atwood said, "In a little under two weeks, Michael Reihn's office just donated on Friday and we're very thankful for that. We've been receiving donations from our diners that come in, too."

Ideally, Atwood is hoping the center can raise the $19,000 by June 30. She explained, "Our freezer is not going to make it through the summer.

"We've been having problems for awhile since last year. We've been making repairs and limping along. But it's finally to the point where we can't just do repairs."

A Letter to Steve Finch
from his Aunt Margaret Jump

When you think of Steve...Smile! Steve was a precious gift from God; he made our world a better place by being a part of our family. Steve lived every day of his life with his Momma and Daddy. Surrounded by all his cherished belongings.

God gave Steve his most cherished gift of all, his sweet momma. She loved, nourished and taught him every day of his life, with unconditional love and patience. When something new or different would come up and you would think, "How will they manage?", Vida would say, "That's ok, just give me a little time and I'll teach him." And that she did, time and time again. She would stand strong and forever by his side. Steve depended on her as much as he did for the air he would breathe.

Vida and Walter turned his bedroom into a "cowboy room" with paintings of cowboys and horses by his Momma, a wagon wheel hanging on his wall from his brother Warren, collections of replica covered wagons and Civil War cannons and his beloved music, all given to him by friends and family. He was extra proud of his "Indian bed" made just for him by his Daddy. A few years ago, Steve and Walter came out to the farm on a father-son mission. It was on Father's Day and they were spending the day together. They removed their shoes and socks and waded across the creek, in search of the perfect cedar trees for making logs for the perfect Indian bed. Mission accomplished! Walter made him his beautiful cedar log bed. Just one of the many special projects he made down through the years.

Steve treasured every gift ever given to him no matter the value. He remembered the day...the person...the occasion and exactly where it was. Warren and Carmen were his biggest givers. They both were constantly searching garage sales and flea markets for items that would turn to treasures for their big brother. They knew the very things that would make him happy.

The top of his list of favorite things would be his music. It would give him such peace and comfort. He had an amazing memory and knowledge of all kinds of music. He loved books...books about cars, books about Civil War, books about cowboys and Indians, books about horses and books on tractors, and he loved to share them with anyone who would show interest...he loved baseball caps...Hot Wheel cars...Sunday drives with Momma and Daddy...telling jokes...delivering meals on "hot wheels" for the senior center...being with his friends at CDP, Arc of the Ozarks. They were his other family. They learned and shared many adventures together. He loved to sing, but bless his heart he couldn't carry a tune in a bucket, but he gave it his all. We knew if he was singing, he was happy! He loved to watch the Porter Wagoner Show. Painting with Bob Ross, and hearing the livestock report on RFD TV...he loved vanilla milkshakes...a big glass of cold "cow's milk" and donuts! The list goes on and on.

Steve always had a dream, a dream of being a race car driver, of being a mechanic, a lumberjack, a guitar player, a boat builder, a baker (donuts!) and the list goes on.

There are other things Steve had, taught to him by his parents. He had manners, politeness, an appreciation of all things, knew to always say "thank you" and to give compliments. He knew to walk up with pride with his outstretched hand and say, "Hi, I'm Steven, Walter and Vida's oldest son." We could all learn and take lessons from him. Like us, he had his faults too. But unlike us, he faced challenges EVERYDAY of his life and he still smiled! God bless you, Steve! I know I'm a better person for having had you in my life.

There are so many stories to tell about Steve. I hope you get to hear them all. They will put a smile on your face.

Steve's two most favorite jokes: #1-What did the monkey say when he ran over his tail with the lawn mower? It won't be long now! #2- What has eight wheels and flies? A garbage truck!

Dear Steve, I'm coming to see you some day, so please wait for me. I will meet you by the streets of gold in Gloryland. We will borrow Freddy Fryar's race car and go for a Sunday drive. You bring the music and I'll bring the donuts! And we will cruise those streets of gold. By the way, Steve, you get to drive!

I love you, Aunt Margaret

When my daughter was about six years old, we were at a hardware store and the owner handed me a piece of gum.
"No thanks."
"It's not for you; it's for the little girl. I'm giving it to you so you can give it to her. I don't want her getting a habit of taking things from strangers."
As he gave her the gum, I did what all parents are prone to do: "What do you say?" She gave me her best six-year-old glare: "I haven't gotten it yet." She then accepted the gum, smiled and said, "Thank you."
I haven't gotten it yet. That would be a good summary of Christianity, with one small alteration. I haven't gotten it "all" yet. We have so many blessings in this physical life we can't truthfully say we haven't gotten it yet. However, there are so many more blessings to come, we can say, "We haven't gotten it all yet."
Hebrews 11 is a great chapter on faith. Faith in the Greek is a confident expectation, usually of something positive. Time after time, Hebrews 11 says, "by faith." Those mentioned had indeed been blessed by God in this life. Enoch walked with God. Noah and his family were saved from the flood. Abraham was given the much desired son. And the list goes on. By faith they knew they had not gotten it all yet.
Today, we must do as they did. Remain faithful, fully convinced the blessings of this life are to be desired, and that the blessings of heaven will exceed our wildest imaginations. Let's remember: in this life, our recognition and appreciation of the blessings is shown through our love for and obedience to God and his son Jesus Christ.
We must be ever mindful: "We haven't gotten it all yet."

4-H plants Liberty Tree National Historic Site

Members of the Barry County 4-H Clubs and their families gathered at the historic courthouse in Cassville on Saturday, April 27, to hold a ceremony to commemorate the planting of a Tulip Polar with significant history. The tree is a seedling from the last of the original Liberty Trees. The tree was destroyed by Hurricane Floyd in 1999, but prior to its death, 14 seedlings were successfully germinated. The tree serves as a National Historic Site that dates back to the Revolutionary War. Liberty trees were planted to serve as a place for people to gather to talk about government.

Isaac LaCaze, 7, of Cassville, helps plant the Tulip Polar at the historic courthouse in Cassville. LaCaze is a member of the Horner Ridge Runners 4-H Club.

Pierce City woman killed in crash outside of Monett

Charlea Estes-Jones

A 63 year old woman from Pierce City died last week after two cars crashed about two miles south of Monett on Wednesday, April 24. According to the Missouri State Highway Patrol crash report, a car pulled out in front of a truck, killing the car's driver.

Susan E. Neely, 63, of Pierce City, was driving eastbound in a 2015 Kia Optima and pulled out in front of a 2012 Chevrolet truck, driven by Lon W. Cearley, 64, of Monett.

The crash, which occurred around 8:10 a.m., totalled both vehicles and left the Neely deceased.

Neely was pronounced at the scene by Barry County coroner Jim Fohn.

Cearley suffered minor injuries and was taken by ambulance to Cox Hospital in Monett.

Both were wearing seat belts at the time of the crash.

The Optima and truck were both towed from the scene by Thomas Towing, of Monett.

This is the 26th fatality for Missouri State Highway Patrol Troop D in 2019.

The letter stated, "It has been my distinct pleasure and honor to serve the citizens of Barry County as the elected Collector of Revenue."

Monett Invitational final tuneup for area tracksters

Lee Stubblefield

Area schools attended the Monett Invitational on Thursday as teams wound up their preparation for conference championship meets and the state championship series. While a number of events were noticeably lacking in numbers, strong effort prevailed throughout the night.

For example, Cassville's Jordyn Stafford won both the 1600 and 3200 meter races with virtually no competition. Stafford's metric mile time was 5:33.90, significantly ahead of and never threatened by Southwest's Haily Erwin in second place. Same thing in the 3200, where Stafford's 12:40.2 was almost three minutes ahead of Jasper's Kelsey Kerrigan.

The shortest race of the night might have been the best one. Corbin Jones, of McDonald County, out-leaned Monett's Jamie Guinn, 11.0 to 11.1 to win the boys 100 meter dash. Monett's Eduardo Trujillo Morales and Cassville's Jericho Ferris both hit the line in 11.4 with Morales declared the third place finisher.

Jones and Guinn went

1-2 again in the 200, 22.8 to 23.1.

In the boys distance races, Monett runners led local entries. Jose Salas Esquivel took second in the 800 with his 2:10.8. Santiago Granadas finished third in the 1600 in 4:55.6 and fourth in the 3200 in 10:57 flat.

A pair of Southwest freshmen took fifth and sixth in the 800. Christian Long edged Xander Deshields, 2:20.3 to 2:20.7. Long was sixth in the 1600 in 5:10.7.

Southwest's John Scannell won the boys high hurdle event, edging Cassville's

Drake Reese by an extra point, 16.2 to 16.3, Scannell, just a sophomore, has improved steadily throughout the season and his time at Monett could land him a Class 2 state berth.

Monett's Morales won the 300 meter hurdles in 42.4 and Cassville's Devon Brookes took third in 44.6.

Cassville's Garrett Kritiz won the shot competition with a throw of 46-09. Monett's Luke Allcock won the pole vault, clearing the bar at 13-0.

Girls results

Kelsey Dalton, of Monett, won the girls 100 in 121.4 with Cassville's Kyren Postlewait second in 12.7 and Hannah Hackler third in 13.2.

Monett went 1-2 in the 200, with Dalton winning in 25.9 and Ashley Kurima second in 28.2. Cassville freshman Emilee Mann was third in 29.5.

Monett's Keisha George won the 400 in 1:03.5, followed by a trio of Southwest girls. Brylee Wilson was second in 1:04.2. Laisha Sanchez-Figueroa and Haily Erwin took third and fourth.

Wilson turned the tough middle distance double, coming back to win the 800 in 2:47.3 with minimal recovery. Monett's Daniela Hernandez and Lia Meredith finished second and third, running 2:57.6 and 3:06.7 respectively.

Cassville's Kennedy Parnell and Monett's Gabby Zengotita finished 1-2 in both the high and low hurdle events. The pair ran 16.6 and 17.1 in the 100 meter highs, and then 50.1 and 51.1 in the 300 lows.

Postlewait added two more gold medals in the field events, winning the long jump in 16-02 and the shot in 37-02.5.

Monett's George won the javelin competition, throwing 132-06, and was second in the long jump with her 16-00.

Monett athletes also won the discus and triple jump. Randi Prock threw the plate 117-02 for gold, and Ashley Kurima hit the sand at 32-02.25 to win.

Meet schedule

Both the SouthWest Central League and the Big 8 hold conference meets this week. The SWCL meet convenes at Spokane on Wednesday, May 1, and the Big 8 meet will be contested on Thursday, May 2 at Mt. Vernon.

The Class 1 and 2 district meets will be held on Saturday.

Wheaton will be at the School of the Ozarks for Class 1 District 3 competition. Southwest and Purdy will compete in the Class 2 District 5 meet at Sarcoxie.

Purdy and Wheaton advance in district softball

Lee Stubblefield

Opening night of the Class 1 District 10 spring softball tournament certainly gave fans their money's worth, both in quality and quantity. All four games were competitive, and the evening lasted longer than a double showing of Avengers: End-game.

Purdy and Marionville led off with a 3 p.m. start, and the final out of game four between Southwest and Wheaton did not fall until the calendar changed. As the clock chimed midnight in the middle of the sixth inning, several fans put in their concession stand orders for biscuits and gravy. Not all were kidding.

Way back on Monday afternoon when the sun was still up, the top-seeded hosts Purdy Lady Eagles jumped out to a big lead but struggled at times before subduing Marionville, 15-9.

Then in the second contest, Clever defeated Exeter 7-1. The Lady Blue Jays built an early 4-0 lead, and freshman pitcher Kylie Wenger held Exeter scoreless through four innings. Breanna Grant scored the only run for the Lady Tigers in the bottom of the fifth inning, circling the bases on a multiple-error Keystone Kops adventure. Clever added an insurance run in both the sixth and seventh innings to claim the 7-1 win.

Crane and Billings were largely responsible for the long night. Their slugfest spilled over and past the designated time slot before Crane finally prevailed, 16-8. The Lady Pirates cruised to a 9-2 lead, but then Billings posted a five-run comeback to cut the lead to 9-7.

Crane added a run for a 10-7 lead, but an Elizabeth Edwards solo shot in the fifth inning cut that lead to 10-8. Billings had a chance with the bases loaded, but a long fly out ended the potential rally. Crane broke out for six runs in the sixth to take the 16-8 victory.

Southwest and Wheaton finally took the field at 10 p.m. for the final contest. Both teams came in with chips on their shoulders, feeling a bit slighted in the seeding process. Southwest had extra challenges, having to play without head coach Shawn Johnson. Johnson was sitting out a one-game suspension after being ejected in the final regular season game. Melissa Mitchell wore the skipper's hat for Southwest on Monday night.

The Lady Trojans took an early lead, as Heather Windes rapped an RBI single in the top of the first. But Wheaton immediately answered with three runs, aided by two errors and a passed ball with a runner on third. The Lady Bulldogs would score another unearned run in the second inning to lead 4-1, then added two more unearned in the fourth frame for a 6-1 lead.

But Southwest lit up the basepaths in the fifth inning. With the bases loaded, Allison Corwin tripled and then scored on the play when an errant throw wound up in the Wheaton dugout. Then Windes smoked a home run to left center to earn a 6-6 tie.

The Lady Bulldogs responded with two runs in the fifth and another two in the sixth though, enroute to a 10-7 victory.

Purdy advanced to a semifinal contest against Clever, with Crane and Wheaton slated to play in the other semifinal. The district championship game is scheduled for Thursday, May 2, at Purdy.

Cassville girls varsity soccer on historic shutout streak

Vinnie Roberts

Cassville girls varsity soccer is in its first year at Cassville High, and already, the team is setting a standard that will be difficult for future generations to replicate. The team is currently on a seven-game, 511 minute-long streak of continuous shutout play.

After a rocky start, the team found themselves on a six-game losing streak earlier in the season. According to head coach Jake Forste, the team rallied together to try and change their strategy for the rest of the season.

“We had a losing streak early in the season,” said Forste. “We were playing some really tough teams, but we were defensively rock-solid. We knew that, if we just stayed the course, it was going to start translating in to wins.”

Last week, the team scored three of their shutout wins with a 1-0 win against Greenwood, a 1-0 game against McDonald County and 2-0 game against Aurora.

Forste went on to explain that part of his team's strength comes from their capacity to work together, emphasizing the idea that a soccer team's defense is more than just the goalie.

“It's been pretty remarkable. We've had about 18 girls contribute to the streak in some way. Everyone is working together,” Forste said.

Forste stated that another secret to his team's continued success is their attitude toward defense, something he claims is an uncommon sentiment for most players.

“It's about being hard-nosed and taking pride on the defensive end as much as the goal-scoring end,” said Forste. “I think it's common for most players to care more about scoring goals than stopping goals. With this group, we all have the belief that ‘defense first’ is our mantra. We may go for it, but we'll be nails on the back end. Always.”

On Thursday, May 2, the girls soccer team will have an opportunity to keep their impressive streak going at Fair Grove.

“We're going in with that same defense-first mantra. Hopefully we can keep the streak alive and score another shutout,” Forste said.

TORNADO from FRONT

those customers are being brought back online really quickly. He said, “Barry Electric had about 600 meters out mostly over in that west central and southwestern area of the county, so Wheaton and south. They are actually reducing that number pretty quickly. There were also power outages in Purdy, Butterfield and Monett last night, but all of those are back on now.”

Wheaton residents were initially told to conserve water use after the tornado first hit. Due to power outages, the city’s well could not run. However, Barry Electric managed to get the city’s electricity to its well back operational before other solutions were needed.

Compton shared, “We were a little afraid, because they were going to have a water issue, but we actually made arrangements to bring a generator down to keep their water system pressurized, but Barry Electric was able to get power back on to their power system before it was even here.”

Mutual aid from county fire departments assisted in limb removal, as well as MoDOT crews to make sure roads were clear.

Kelly Johnson, of Wheaton, said she and her children were at the school when the first round of sirens went off Wednesday afternoon. She said her family and neighbors took shelter in her basement when the storm hit.

She said, “The first siren went off around 3:15 p.m. I was in the parking lot at the school when the sirens were going, and school officials were trying to get kids back in the building.

“When we got home and in the garage, it was surreal. The wind was blowing, and it was raining a little. We watched the radar and looked out the window before going down the basement. When we looked out the window facing south, we saw a dark straight funnel cloud coming down to the ground. My son yelled that it had debris in it. Then, it went across a field in the distance.

“About 20 minutes later, we went upstairs and looked and that’s when we saw the damage and roofs were gone and there was so much debris and trees down.”

Johnson said her home wasn’t affected by damage. She even noted that her neighbor had a blanket on a clothes line that was still hanging. She said, “My neighborhood was fine. The power went out, but that was it. It was crazy that there was a house with a roof gone 200 yards from us, and we didn’t have anything happen here.

“It was really strange.” Despite damage, no injuries were reported from the tornadic storm. Compton said, “If nobody gets hurt, everything else is fixable.”

City of Washburn purchases water system upgrade

Vinnie Roberts

At the regular Washburn City Council meeting on Tuesday, April 16, the council voted to allocate funding to a major update to the city's water system. According to mayor John Tiedeman, these updates are crucial to helping the city's water department effectively do its job.

The equipment that manages water flow in Washburn is managed by a software called SCADA (Supervisory Control and Data Acquisition). SCADA is a system that operates both hardware and software elements of industrial machinery. In the case of Washburn's water department, SCADA is programmed to manage water flow from the town's wells and water towers. The system also networks with the computers at City Hall to generate reports on water usage and flow.

Washburn has approximately 230 customers attached to the water system monitored by SCADA, which was installed in 2007.

During the council's meeting, James Libertus, a representative of the city's water department, addressed issues regarding the current system's ability to accurately read well levels and record data when there are rapidly changing water levels due to excess rain or other issues. Heeding this suggestion, the council opted to approve funding for the system update on the spot.

With this new upgrade, Washburn will receive an update to both their hardware and software systems. New monitoring devices will be placed in both wells. These new monitoring devices will feature instruments that will be able to more accurately read data.

"It monitors both of our wells, and, if there's a problem, like if a pump doesn't kick on or the water level is low, it will respond by calling our water technician on the phone," said Tiedeman. "It will give him a message about the problem."

The new system will also feature an updated reporting system that will contact a technician from the water department on their personal phone should it encounter an error or flow issues. According to representatives from the city, Libertus is on call 24 hours to respond to water flow issues, and, should he not be available, mayor Tiedeman will handle the issue personally.

These upgrades will not affect the sewers as the system only manages the water system and is not connected to the sewers.

The total cost for the new system is $8,238. This will come directly from the city's water budget and will not require additional funding. These changes will not affect the city's water billing moving forward, as the money for the upgrade already exists within the city's budget.

Cassville FFA headed to Nationals

This past week, Cassville FFA attended the 91st annual Missouri State FFA Convention in Columbia. Cassville FFA took three state qualifying teams to compete in their CDE contest events. Meats evaluation, livestock evaluation, food science, as well as Cole Jackson in the job interview contest. Cassville FFA also had two state FFA Chorus members accepting their Missouri State FFA Degree.

Cassville FFA is bringing home two state titles and will be headed to nationals in October. The food science team consists of Andrew Littlefield, Cole Jackson, Drew Speakman and Juliette Okel. The meats evaluation team, Cale Jackson, Camden Roller, Kobe Blisard and Nathan Dick, are also advancing to Nationals. They all have put in hard work throughout the season, the Cassville FFA team looks forward to seeing them excel going to into nationals.

LOOK BUT DON'T TOUCH!

Your electric meter is a necessary part of the system after all, reading your meter tells you how much electricity you're using. But while looking at it is encouraged, opening or tampering with it is not.

Attempting to adjust an electric meter exposes you to two risks, the most immediate being the danger of potentially lethal electric shock. The second risk becomes clear when you realize that tampering with an electric meter is illegal. Use a hands-off approach to avoid both kinds of trouble.

First on Front concert series kicks off this Friday

Charlea Estes-Jones

This Friday marks the kick off of the First on Front concert series of the summer in Monett hosted by First State Bank of Purdy. Friday's lineup will feature three main bands as well as an opening act voted on through a battle of the bands contest.

Amanda Lee, community banker with First State Bank, said the event is something the bank began hosting last year to bring the community together for music, fun and food. She said, "The thought behind it was to have something that brings the community together and puts an emphasis on spending time local, shopping local and eating local and listening local and banking locally. Local banks are the backbone of the community around here."

Entry to the event is completely free for the whole family. Last year was the first year of the concert series. The bank opted to put it on in conjunction with the completion of the events pavilion. The grand opening and kick off event was held on Friday, May 4, 2018. Since then, it's become a local favorite and features a variety of bands that are family-friendly.

Lee said, "It was really well received last year, so we decided to continue it."

First on Front is hosted completely by employee volunteers from First State Bank. Lee said there are also food trucks that come in to give people local eating options during the series held each first Friday during May, June and July, as well.

Food trucks will line Front Street and Fifth Street in downtown Monett. The park and pavilion will be dedicated to the event, and people are encouraged to bring lawn chairs and blankets as there is no seating.

New this year is the battle of the bands that brought one band to the top to open the event before the three headliners. Lee said, "We did a battle of the bands, and people were able to send in a video to kick off the series. At the May event, Audio Prophets Band from Springfield, a Christian Rock band will kick off from 5 p.m. to 5:30 p.m."

"Three finalist videos were shared on Facebook since we had criteria to be considered, and it was through likes, shares and comments through Facebook to determine the winner."

The other acts will be The Pretty Lonesome from 6 p.m. to 6:45 p.m., Jake Stringer and Better Than Nothin' from 7:15 p.m. to 8:15 p.m. and Mark Chapman Band from 8:45 p.m. to 10 p.m.

For up-to-date information, there is a Facebook page dedicated to First on Front. Future lineups are also listed on the First on Front Facebook page.

Southwest Schools selects CTS to manage $2.2 million bond upgrades

Vinnie Roberts

During last month’s election on April 2, 76.34 percent of the voters of the Southwest school district elected to pass a $2.2 million bond measure extending the existing tax levy in order to fund repairs to Southwest Schools. This initiative, formally known as K.I.D.S., dedicates the bond funding to make improvements to the school. In order to see these improvements through, Southwest’s school board has voted to once again work with CTS.

CTS is a company based out of Kansas City that acts as a middle man between bond beneficiaries and contractors. The company will assign a project manager to make offers to contractors and accept bids on behalf of the school, all the while working to keep their various projects under budget and on time.

According to Tosha Tilford, Superintendent of Southwest Schools, the school board has worked with CTS previously on a remodel of several bathrooms in their elementary facility, as well as the construction of a new set of bathrooms.

“They are very efficient, they do what they say they are going to do,” said Tilford. “They work in a timely manner and communicate well with the administration and the board. They’re trustworthy and honest. I don’t have any complaints with them.” Tilford went on to state that many of the planned renovations will be of a general nature, being applied to all the buildings in the district.

“In every building, there’s going to be new lighting, new ceilings, new floors, repainting, remodeling restrooms that haven’t been previously remodeled,” said Tilford. “There are also some classrooms that will be remodeled.”

Tilford added that most of the bathrooms on the campus will be remodeled, with the exception of the bathrooms in the elementary that were renovated in the summer of 2017.

Additionally, the middle school will be receiving a new drainage system in the front to cut down on damage done or inaccessibility due to floods.

CTS is also going to be focusing on improvements to the cafeteria. According to Tilford, wear and tear and neglect have caused issues in both spaces that have lead to negative health department reviews of the facility in the past.

The superintendent stated that one of the main goals of the project is increasing her students’ positive outlook on the school.

“We’re going to basically be remodeling all of our buildings,” said Tilford. “My goal is for the kids to walk in and feel like they’ve got a new school.

“We’re getting to the point that we’re completely outdated on some things. We’re not up to date with our electrical system and our technology. For a zero tax increase, I think our kids deserve something that looks new.”

Safety is another primary concern for the administration. CTS will be renovating several fixtures in the school that have become unsafe with the passage of time.

This summer, several structures around the school will have asbestos removed and replaced with a different kind of insulation. Additionally, several other structures that lack insulation will have it installed in order to increase energy efficiency for the school.

Changes will also be made to the layout of both the middle and elementary schools in order to better route incoming traffic to their respective offices.

“We’re going to have a new corridor and a new secure entrance in to the middle school and the elementary school,” said Tilford. “The middle school office is going to be completely renovated to make it more safe. The elementary office is going to be moved down the hall in to a couple of vacant classrooms. Where they’re sitting now, they can’t see people coming up on them. We want them to be able to see people coming into the building.”

According to Tilford, both buildings currently feature a buzzer at the front door that forces anyone seeking entry to contact the office before being let in. However, the disadvantageous positioning of these offices means that when someone is buzzed in, the office has no way of monitoring that person’s entry and they have potential to enter other parts of the school unattended without first checking in.

All buildings in the district will also be receiving new exterior doors and windows. The new windows will be full-pane security windows that will not open and close, in order to increase energy efficiency as well as safety.

Tilford is optimistic about the changes, believing that the renovations will not only improve the schools looks, but also cut down on recurring complaints from faculty and students.

"It's not just the aesthetic," said Tilford. "Yes, we're going to get that, but in getting that, it will take care of a lot of the problems we've got."

The last day of school for Southwest will be May 10. Construction on the facility is expected to begin almost immediately after on May 13 and has a projected end date of July 26.

For more information on renovations and changes to the district, contact the Southwest School District at (417) 826-5410.

Aging buildings that need renovations are targeted with the Southwest School District's upcoming bond project.

Southwest FFA competes at Districts, places at State competition

The Southwest FFA Chapter had a strong showing on April 10 at District competition in Springfield, sending many members of the chapter to state competition in Columbia on April 25 and 26. During the District Future Farmers of America (FFA) Convention, held in Springfield on April 10, Southwest High's FFA teams scored high positions in every category they entered. Teams from 75 area schools participated in the event.

The Southwest FFA chapter's dairy cattle team scored fourth in districts. Dairy cattle teams are graded on their ability to identify the structure of cattle, their knowledge of the mammary system and their ability to judge what they refer to as 'dairyness' of certain products.

The chapter's knowledge team took home ninth place overall. FFA knowledge teams are graded on their knowledge of the FFA handbook.

Southwest FFA's food science team took home second place in competition. This team was graded on their ability to identify various food-related smells, solve agriculture-related math problems as well as their ability to create a product with a marketing plan.

The Southwest FFA horse team scored fourth in competition in Springfield. Horse teams are asked questions regarding the running patterns of the animals as well as the structure of their bodies.

Southwest's poultry team won first place in competition, being one of two Southwest FFA teams to do so. FFA poultry teams are judged on their ability to grade eggs, chicken and turkey carcasses as well as on their knowledge of live laying hens.

The chapter's soils team also won first place in their competition. FFA soils teams are judged on their ability to create a soil profile by determining the percentage of sand, silt and clay in a given composition.

In addition to the chapter's teams, ninth-grader Elizabeth Ross entered the Division 1 public speaking competition where she went on to win first place. Ross was assigned a topic and charged with writing a four to six minute speech. She was graded not only on the speech's content but also her presentation to the judges and her fact-checking and accuracy.

Bill Caldwell, Southwest Agriculture teacher and FFA advisor, stated that he takes great pride in his chapter's performance.

"I'm extremely proud of these kids," said Caldwell. "They exemplify what a great community this is to live and work in."

All of Southwest's teams listed above went on to compete in the Missouri FFA State Conference held in Columbia on April 25 and 26.

Ross placed fifth in the Division I prepared public speaking leadership development at State.

Caldwell went on to state his views on FFA's importance in schools.

"I think it really sets them up for future success," said Caldwell. "It teaches them about real processes that are used in agricultural businesses."
