

Seligman water study recommends overhaul water main repairs

PROPOSED PLAN TO COST $2.5M IF ACTION IS TAKEN

Charlea Estes

The city of Seligman received the results of a water study done by Olsson and Associates at their May council meeting. Seligman City Clerk Brian Nichols said, “Based on the study, Olsson recommended, and DNR (Department of Natural Resources) agrees, we need to start replacing the back bone of our system starting at City Hall to Farm Road 1070.”

The water study was paid for with a 100 percent grant by DNR.

The proposed plan would cost $2.5 million, and the city would have to make plans regarding how that would be paid for. One option would be to ask for voter approval of a bond issue to pay for it. Of the $2.5 million, $500,000 in grant funding is available.

Another option would be to systematically raise water rates over the course of several years to generate enough funds to pay for the project. Currently, Seligman has one of the lowest water rates of a municipality in Barry County with their base charges $28.50 for 2,000 gallons of water and sewer service. Each additional 1,000 gallons is $2.25 for water only.

Nichols said water bills would systematically be raised approximately $10-15 per month each year to be eligible for the project.

Nichols said, “The proposal includes adding a water stand pipe or tower that would hold an additional 200,000 gallons on the north side near the car wash, as well.”

He added, “Council hasn’t taken action on it yet, but the sewer pipes are the original galvanized pipes from the 50’s, so eventually something will need to be done, but we’re looking at all of our options, and the first step of that is getting the water study.”

There is no proposed date for when Seligman City Council will make a decision on the recommendation made by Olsson.

Exeter woman arrested for alleged $20K theft

2015 BURGLARY SOLVED WITH STOLEN ITEM RECOVERY

Charlea Estes

Lori Dawn Taylor, 44, of Exeter, was arrested last week for the alleged burglary of a Cassville home on Farm Road 1110. According to the affidavits of probable cause, Taylor walked out of the residence with over $20,000 worth of items back in August 2015. Taylor was since evicted from an apartment and abandoned the property when she moved out.

According to the affidavit written by Barry County Sheriff’s detective Robert Evenson, on May 10, an anonymous person returned a jacket to the original owner. When questioned, they said the jacket had been at an apartment on Front Street in Exeter that Taylor had been recently evicted from and more property was still there.

During the investigation, at least four other items were recovered from the 2015 burglary, including three packages of Vet Darts, a Longenbarger basket, a Craftsman jigsaw and a dark colored purse. The value of the property inside the apartment was over $500.

When Evenson interviewed Taylor at her parents’ home, she denied any involvement in the burglary, however, she also said that no one had access to the apartment but herself and no one had given her any property to store there that was not her’s.

Taylor was charged with that burglary as well as another in Washburn in which over $500 worth of property was stolen.

Taylor was charged with two counts of burglary in the second degree and two counts of stealing. She posted a $40,000 bond to be released from the Barry County Jail earlier this week.

Rotary Club Bull Blast sign found in cemetery

Charlea Estes

Thanks to a keen eye by a cemetery’s caretakers, the Rotary Club of Cassville’s stolen Bull Blast sign has been returned to its rightful owners. According to Barry County Sheriff’s Lieutenant Randy Kalbaugh, the sign was recovered on Sunday, May 8, after a call came in by the Russell Cemetery’s caretakers Sue and Rick Horn. The two found it when they were checking in on the property.

Lt. Kalbaugh said, “We had a phone call come in from caretakers that it was right there, and it had been dumped in the grass. If you hadn’t been up on it, you wouldn’t have seen it.” The Russell Cemetery is located on Farm Road 1102 between Farm Roads 2130 and 2140 in the county.

Herb Primrose, Rotary Club member, said, “We’re just tickled to have it back. It saves us the expense of having to use the new one.” Primrose picked the sign up on Tuesday, and it has since been placed in storage with the club’s other signs. He said the club will reuse the signs for next year’s bull riding event if they have one.

Kalbaugh said that he does not have any suspects for the sign theft, and it was Primrose said, “Sue and Rick stopped by the cemetery on their way to church; they’ve been looking after it for 40 years. When they pulled in they saw it there.

“We’re really happy for the paper running it, because Sue had seen it in the paper and knew it didn’t belong out there.”

He added, “We’ll put the sign up again next year. We’ve thanked Lt. Kalbaugh for getting it back to us, and Sue and Rick for finding it.”

The Barry County Sheriff’s Department case regarding the stolen sign is still an open investigation. The crime of taking the sign, valued at $125, is a misdemeanor theft/stealing charge. If you have any details or tips regarding its theft, please contact the department at (417) 847-6556 or the non-emergency 9-1-1 line at (417) 847-4911.

Purdy man arrested for molestation charges spanning 5 years

Charlea Estes

A Purdy man was arrested last week on child molestation charges through the Monett Police Department. According to affidavits of probable cause, George Samuel Waltrip, 56, of Purdy, molested a friend’s granddaughter over the course of five years.

The child was interviewed at the Children’s Center and said that Waltrip threatened to kill her if she told anyone. According to victim’s statement, the sexual assault occurred at least nine times and included multiple sexually deviant acts.

Waltrip was interviewed by officer Jay Jastal with the Monett Police Department while accompanied by his attorney but denied all of the allegations made by the victim.

Barry County Prosecuting Attorney Amy Boxx charged Waltrip with child molestation in the first degree and two counts of statutory sodomy. Judge Robert Foulke issued a $30,000 cash-only bond on May 5, and Waltrip was arrested on May 13. He is currently being held in lieu of the bond in the Barry County Jail.

Ridgley Baptist Church to host revival

Ridgley Baptist Church in Exeter will be holding a revival featuring evangelist Brother Carroll Roberson on Sunday, May 22, from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Monday through Wednesday, May 23 through 25, beginning at 7 p.m.

Carroll was raised in rural Mississippi. He always believed in the scriptures but did not surrender his life to Christ until 1983. One year later, he was diagnosed with a cancerous growth on his throat. With no promise that he would be able to talk anymore, Carroll went through surgery and was able to sing again within three weeks. Shortly after, Carroll surrendered to full time ministry. After pastoring a church for two years, Carroll felt the call to surrender his life to evangelism. Carroll Roberson Ministries, a 501-C Non Profit organization, was organized in 1988.

He is probably more recognized for his singing, but Carroll's real passion is the Bible. Through hosting many trips to Israel over the years, in-depth Hebraic studies, and walking with Christ, his insight into the scriptures has helped countless people all over the globe.

Carroll has recorded over 60 musical albums in 30 years with 37 albums now available. Carroll has written over 300 songs and authored several books including: Yeshua, the God Man; Matthew Commentary Vol. 1-3; The Christ, Jesus and the Five Senses; and How to Enjoy Jesus.

Through revivals, crusades, concerts, and tours to Israel, Carroll keeps a very busy schedule. CRM has an active board of directors from all over the country.

Carroll lives in Ripley, Miss., and is a member of Shady Grove Baptist Church. He has been a long time member of the Southern Baptist Convention. His wife, Donna, has also recorded several musical projects with Carroll, plus her own solo album. They have two boys, Shane and Brandon, along with three grandchildren, Peyton, Jase, and Lucas.

Local schools’ bathroom policies currently in line with federal guidelines

Charlea Estes

After a historic decision handed down by the Department of Education and Department of Justice, schools across the country are reevaluating their bathroom policies regarding transgender students to ensure they retain their federal funding. According to all five of Barry County’s superintendents, they believe their schools are currently in compliance and not at obvious risk for losing any federal funding to keep their districts going.

The directive letter released on Thursday last week instructed schools on how to tackle questions regarding transgender students and bathroom use in public schools. In the directive, schools were instructed to allow transgender students to use bathrooms, changing rooms and locker rooms that match their sex and that those students cannot be forced to use an individual or private bathroom if other students are not required to do so. The move was made as an insurance of equal rights.

John B. King, Jr., secretary for the Department of Education, released a statement following the letter, saying, “No student should ever have to go through the experience of feeling unwelcome at school or on a college campus. We must ensure that our young people know that whoever they are or wherever they come from, they have the opportunity to get a great education in an environment free from discrimination, harassment and violence.”

Local school district superintendents feel that their schools’ anti-discrimination policies already put them in compliance with the recent directive, but they have heard from the community about concerns over the policy. The only schools drawing heat from the recent decision are those with policies forcing transgender students to use bathrooms that do not match their gender or a private bathroom.

While all of the area schools have at least one gender-neutral bathroom in their facilities, usually in the nurses’ stations, none have policies making certain students use them. However, they are available if it makes them more comfortable.

Cassville superintendent Dr. Richard Asbill said that he has already received phone calls from district patrons regarding the joint letter issues by the Department of Education and the Department of Justice. He said most of the correspondence thus far was pertaining to a parent or grandparents’ concern about their own child’s privacy in the school. Dr. Asbill stated, “We are talking about what kinds of steps we already have in place to afford all of our students a safe environment to learn in.”

Asbill continued, “We still believe all of our students are guaranteed a free and appropriate education in a safe environment regardless of their personal beliefs, race or ethnic group.”

Both State Senator David Sater and State Representative Scott Fitzpatrick made statements opposing the decision, saying that it is federal government overstepping its boundaries. Sater released a statement saying, “This overstep by the president is just another in a series of executive actions and bureaucratic decrees that attack state sovereignty and attempt to centralize more power in Washington, D.C. instead of back home, where it belongs.”

He also said, “This discussion goes beyond just who should and should not use a certain bathroom in our schools. How should schools manage the issue of gender-specific sports teams? Should we open up male or female locker rooms to the opposite gender based on how that individual “feels”?”

Fitzpatrick was concerned with what would happen if a student chose to abuse the policy. He said, “The way the letter from the administration reads, basically if the student declares they are now identifying as the opposite sex as they are biologically, and they announce that and there are no other requirements to be met, there may be a problem.

“They said there doesn’t need to be a letter or a doctor, it’s literally just a declaration by the student. If they are not comfortable using a bathroom that does not match their genitalia, they need to find a private bathroom or use a bathroom that does not have other students in it.”

Dr. Bob Walker, superintendent of Southwest Schools, said, “What its guidance is suggesting, some have even called it a veiled threat with federal funding, is something we’ll have to discuss. We don’t have transgender accommodations in place currently other than our students are expected to use the restrooms and locker rooms and showers that consistent with the gender reflected on their birth certificate.”

He added, “Whatever guidance we receive, we’ll be analyzing that and making decisions in the future. Local boards need to be making local decisions. I do think this is an overreach.”

Purdy superintendent Dr. Steven Chancellor said, “We do not have a specific policy. We do have unlabeled restrooms. They are not designated male or female that are single stall restrooms with a door lock. So that’s all we have. I feel like I could argue a point that irregardless of this ruling, we could be considered in compliance. We feel like no action was warranted because we are covered.”

He went on to add, “If we don’t create an issue, then there isn’t going to be one. Several people are upset. We need to wait and be more patient. Let’s wait for more guidance by DESE. Let’s not overact.

“First and foremost, we will protect our kids from anything up to and including people trying to abuse or interpret this in a way

Seligman man arrested for 21 pot plants, resisting arrest

Charlea Estes

Leroy Lynn Stockton, Jr., 27, of Seligman, was arrested for growing marijuana plants for distribution at his home on State Highway 112 near Seligman. According to affidavits of probable cause, officers with the Barry County Sheriff's Department found 21 marijuana plants growing in his backyard. The investigation took place on May 10 after the department received an anonymous tip on May 6.

When officers went on the property to question Stockton, Stockton fled from a vehicle into the home. When Barry County Sheriff's detective Doug Henry yelled for him to stop, Stockton continued into the residence and Henry chased him. Once inside the residence, Stockton gave himself up without further incident.

“Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling.” Philippians 2:12. This is good advice from the apostle Paul. The word “work” in the original language was defined as “accomplish” or “finish.” Salvation as “rescue or safety.” Paul is telling the Christians at Philippi to not depend upon the interpretation of others for a decision as critical as their souls. Work out; “accomplish your rescue” from Satan and sin, for yourself. This is in agreement with the letter Rome; “So then every one of us shall a give account of himself to God.” Romans 14:12. How do we do this?

Fortunately, we have a reliable resource to guide us in our “rescue” from sin; GOD’S WORD. “ Sanctify them through thy truth.” John 17:17. God’s word is “a light unto our path.” “Work out your salvation” by applying God’s word without additions, subtractions or contradictions. Will it work? Will it repel Satan? At every temptation Jesus began his response with three words, “It is written.” Not only does it work, it is the only thing that does work. Please join us at The Mill Street Church of Christ as we seek to live our lives according to God’s written word as revealed by Jesus and the inspired writers of the New Testament.

CHS band students go to State Music contest

EDUCATION from 7A

that is used in a negative way.

“Our focus and attention is the basics: teaching and learning, and we’re not going to get derailed. When it’s necessary and when they time is right, we’ll address it in a way that mirrors the values of our community.”

Wheaton superintendent Dr. Lance Massey said, “I’m a little concerned about federal funding, and Wheaton cannot operate as we are without federal dollars.

“Conversations are going to happen concerning this and for different folks in the community, it’s a concern.”

Dr. Asbill said that schools have regularly been a testing place for social policy change, and he doesn’t feel that it is appropriate. He said, “I am disappointed that the government has decided schools are the litmus test for the transgender issues, but public schools have been the ground for those social tests historically.”

He added, “We’re not going to be able to come up with every single scenario that might happen because there are so many hypotheticals that we don’t want that to snowball into something that overwhelms the purpose of a free and quality education for our students.”

Exeter Schools superintendent Dr. Ernest Raney said that Exeter should be safe from the issue with the current anti-discrimination policy. He added, “I don’t see any need to call out any specific minority to say that they are protected. That seems like discrimination to me. We don’t discriminate against any minorities at all.

“Education is our focus, and we want this to be a good school that kids feel comfortable and safe coming to, regardless of anything else. I just want our kids to feel safe, loved and supported, and issues like this cloud that. It creates hardship and division, but we’ve got educating children to take care of.”

Cassville Men's Golf Club Update

Twenty-four players braved the weather Monday morning in a rain shortened competition. These results were based on scores over the first nine holes.

Marty Hall and Tom Burk carded identical net 31's to tie for first place points. Close behind and tying for second place with 32's were Dan Blanke, Butch Henningson and Art Nolan. Third place was a three way tie with Leroy Keller, Harold Sargent and Jacques Fleischmann shooting 33's. Claiming fourth place points with 34's were Bob York, Denver Dixon and Alan Oakleaf. Those were some great scores under the playing conditions.

Because of the shorten event there were only two closest to the pins. Tom Burk on #8 and Butch Henningson on #6. Sorry Leroy your shot on #11 was spectacular.

Only two skins were in play. Marty Hall on #5 with a beautiful eagle 3. Tom Burk skinned the field with a birdie 3 on #9.

This league plays every Monday morning at 9 a.m., weather permitting. Come join us at the Cassville golf course.

MoDOT warns drivers to look for mowing crews

Pushing the lawn mower yard is a springtime necessity. It can be a pleasure for some and a chore for others. At the Missouri Department of Transportation, our crews are beginning the mowing season with a main purpose: safety.

During May and June, there is a good chance you will see MoDOT crews out mowing on tractor mowers so motorists have a clear, safe line of sight as they cruise along state highways.

“We ask motorists to pay attention and slow down when approaching mowing crews. Please take the time to pass carefully and safely especially on rural two lane roads,” said MoDOT State Maintenance Engineer Becky Allmeroth.

Major and minor routes will be mowed at least three times through the end of October. Along with the mowing, crews selectively use herbicides to stunt grass growth as well as to control brush and stop the spread of noxious weeds. Wildflowers are an added benefit of not mowing fence-to-fence and careful herbicide usage.

- On rural two-lane roads, crews may use a protective “follow” truck to alert motorists they are approaching slow-moving mowers. Drivers are advised to use the following tips to safely pass mowers:

- Be alert for trucks and tractors with lights flashing and moving slowly, 2 to 5 mph.

- Slow down and focus on the road ahead of you. Avoid talking and texting on a cell phone or other distractions.

- Be prepared to stop or drive very slowly behind a “follow” truck, especially approaching a hill or curve on a two-lane road.

- Obey the no passing zone stripes and only pass when you can see far enough past the “follow” truck to avoid meeting oncoming traffic.

Between mowing cycles, report grass and weeds blocking visibility at intersections along state roads to MoDOT.Contact MoDOT’s 24/7 Customer Service Center at 1-888-ASK-MODOT (1-888-275-6636) or fill out an online form at www.modot.org and click on Report A Road Concern.

Cassville Community Teachers Association hosts annual banquet

This year's award for Friend of Education was given to Jeanne Lambel for her commitment to the CHS choral department. Lambel is pictured with Jennifer Pendergraft, CHS math teacher.

The annual Cassville Community Teachers Association banquet resulted in multiple teachers receiving awards for their work throughout the year.

Cassville Schools announced their Teachers of the Year awards. This year's Teachers of the Year are Pamela Furguson-White, preschool, and Julie Dillow, CHS Special Education. The Young Educator of the Year award went to Natalie Ward, second grade teacher at Eunice Thomas Elementary.

Teachers must be nominated to be Teacher of the Year and Young Educator. Then, the recipient is selected by a committee from nominations based on the following criteria: classroom innovation and pupil rapport, professional development, community involvement, professional leadership, utilization of resources, relationship with staff, flexibility, initiative, judgement and professionalism. The young educator of the year must have been teaching five years or less.

The Cassville Board of Education handed out their annual scholarships. This year's scholarship recipients were Maggie Cornell and Savannah Essary, librarian at Eunice Thomas Elementary. Board Scholarships are awarded to a Cassville teacher that is currently pursuing an advanced degree. The Friend of Education award was presented to Jeanne Lambel. Lambel was selected by CCTA based on her commitment to the CHS Choral Department.
