New $1 Mil. ambulance station being built in Eagle Rock

Charlea Estes-Jones

After over a year of discussion, residents in the Eagle Rock area will have more reliable access to emergency ambulance services. The South Barry County Ambulance District (SBCAD) is building a new ambulance station adjacent to the Eagle Rock-Golden-Mano Fire Protection headquarters at 30625 State Highway 86 in Eagle Rock.

According to board president Ken Cieslinski, the board's decision to build the new $1.1 million facility was a long time coming. He said, "It's been in the works for 18 months probably."

The facility will be the third ambulance station for SBCAD. The existing two are in Cassville and Shell Knob. The Eagle Rock area was chosen based on call volume. Currently, the average ambulance call in the Eagle Rock-Golden-Mano area takes approximately 40 minutes before crews arrive, which can put a strain on first responders.

Cieslinski explained, "We are doing the best we can with the resources we have for the constituents we represent. That was the next community in line based on sheer number of calls that really needed it.

"The numbers drive where we need to be. Obviously Cassville and Shell Knob are the two primaries which is the reason we have facilities in both of those locations. The next busiest would be Seligman and Eagle Rock/Golden-Mano areas. It has more calls than any of the other jurisdictions, so it was the entire board's decision on where."

The new station will be approximately 4,000 square feet, and will have two ambulance bays, living quarters, a supervisor's office, a work room, a decontamination room, a supply room and a safe room for staff. Outside, there will also be a helicopter landing pad in the event that additional aircraft are needed for an emergency response.

The project is designed by Dewitt and Associates. D. R. Stovall, president of DeWitt and Associates, said, "A quicker emergency response will change a life because of this project. We are proud of being part of the team that brings this solution."

The property the facility will be constructed on was donated to the district by the Eagle Rock-Golden-Mano Fire Protection District so that emergency services in the area could be in one location. Chief Mark Pierson said, "The Eagle Rock Golden Mano Fire Department greatly appreciates the South Barry County Ambulance Board, along with Mercy EMS, for all they have done. We look forward to continued growth and providing our residents with the best possible care."

The SBCAD, a sales tax-funded entity, will be footing the bill for the construction of the new station. In April 2015, Barry County voters approved a 1/2-cent sales tax for the district, opening up the ability for expansion of locations and services. When the district sought the sales tax, it was passed to ensure the future of emergency medical service in the southern half of the county.

Last year, SCAD brought in $846,842.32 in sales tax revenue. Prior to the sales tax passage, the district operated on a sales tax levy that generated approximately $220,000 annually.

2020 to bring 175th celebration and Trout Day event

Charlea Estes-Jones

The initial plans are being put in place for a new festival that will bring attention to the Cassville community and the treasure of Roaring River State Park. Cassville's City Council approved a contract with a strategic planner to help get a plan together for Cassville to hold a trout festival in conjunction with a celebration of the 175th anniversary of the city's founding at its regular meeting on Monday, June 10.

Council member Jon Horner said the plan started when the city held a strategic planning session two years ago. He said, "We were looking for ways we could continue to build upon, strengthen and better use our tie with Roaring River. We really thought we ought to have some kind of spring festival to tie in with Roaring River. We have the chili cook off in the fall, and that's great, but we wanted to something in the spring."

The date set for the not-yet-formally named trout festival is Saturday, June 6, 2020. During the council meeting, it was mentioned that the Rotary Club of Cassville was notified so there would not be a conflict with the annual rodeo.

Currently, it is not clear if the event will be a partnership between the City of Cassville and the Cassville Area Chamber of Commerce or facilitated by one entity that will be aided by the other. Chamber director

One charged in assault that critically injured victim

Charlea Estes-Jones

A Cassville man is in police custody after injuring two, leaving one in critical condition and lifeflighted to Mercy Hospital in Springfield. Alan Michael Mellow, 27, is charged with one count of domestic assault in the first degree with serious injury, two counts of armed criminal action and one count of domestic assault in the third degree.

According to an affidavit of probable cause by the Barry County Sheriff's Department deputy Kyle Rhea, Mellow committed the crime at a residence on Farm Road 1110 on June 5. The officer reported that Mellow stabbed one of the victims with a large knife in the left side of his upper torso, causing serious injuries that left the victim in critical condition in the ICU.

Mellow then allegedly got into a physical altercation with a second victim that resulted in the victim's knee dislocating. Mellow allegedly threatened the second victim with the knife, saying he would stab him with it.

Mellow is currently held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $75,000 cash-only bond.

Benefit activities slated for Brooks family this weekend

Vinnie Roberts

On May 20, the Washburn Fire Department suffered the tragic loss of one of its longest serving members. Larry “David” Brooks lost his life after a lengthy battle with cancer. To both honor his memory and assist with the various expenses left behind the wake of his passing, several charity events will be hosted in Washburn on Saturday, June 15.

Brooks lived in Washburn most of his life and spent the majority of his life working at Northwest Arkansas Sheet Metal. In his off-time, he worked as a volunteer firefighter for the Washburn Fire Department.

Brooks was close to Washburn fire chief Danny Dalton. According to Dalton, the two not only served as members of the fire department together but also went through school together.

“He went through school with me. We graduated together in ‘81,” said Dalton.

Brooks then spent some time living with his wife, Judy, in Exeter before the two moved to Washburn where he became a firefighter in July 1998.

“He was a great guy who was always willing to help people with whatever they needed,” said Dalton. “He helped out on medical calls, fire calls, accidents and everything until his health got bad a few years ago.”

“[The Washburn Fire Department] thought it would be a good gesture to have a fundraiser to help pay for the funeral expenses,” said Dalton. “We want to do what we can to help the family.”

There are a couple of events organized to help the Brooks family in the wake of his passing. The first of these events will be a poker run organized by Tori Smith, of Mercy Hospital Pharmacy. Registration for the run will begin at 1:30 p.m. at Southwest High School in Washburn. Entry for the poker run will cost $20 for the first hand and $10 for each additional hand.

Drivers will stop at five different locations in Missouri and Arkansas. At each stop, the driver will draw a card, assembling a full poker hand by the end of the run. The winner of the event will be the driver who arrives at the final stop with the best hand.

Both cars and motorcycles are welcome to attend the poker run. Registration closes and the last vehicle will leave the lot at 2:30 p.m.

Both the first and the last card of the run will be drawn at Southwest High School. Additional stops include: Pied Piper, in Eureka Springs, Ark.; Pea Ridge High School, in Pea Ridge, Ark.; Longview Cafe, in Longview; and the parking lot across the street from Fastrip in Wheaton.

All attendees must be back at the final stop at Southwest High by 5:30 p.m. for the final drawing. Prizes will be given to the best and the worst hands of the run. All proceeds from the poker run will be donated to the Brooks family to pay for medical and funeral expenses.

The Washburn Fire Department organized a dinner and auction that will take place at Southwest High School at 6 p.m., immediately after the poker run.

Dinner is $7 per person, with kids age four and under eating for free. Dinner includes, pulled pork, brisket, baked beans, coleslaw and a dessert item. Entertainment during the dinner will be provided by local bluegrass band The Flyin’ Buzards.

The fundraiser event will also include a live auction that will begin at 7 p.m. Items for the auction include: several pallets of assorted goods donated by Wal-Mart; 100 pounds of feed; two loads of gravel; a 30/30 Marlin Rifle with a walnut stock; gift certificates for free nights at Pied Piper, in Eureka Springs, Ark.; and several other items that have yet to be announced.

At the end of the live auction, there will be a raffle for a Henry Golden Boy Rifle. Tickets for the raffle will be available throughout the fundraiser and will cost attendees $10 per chance.

Donations can also be made through an account at People’s Community Bank, in Washburn. All checks need to be made out to Washburn Fire Department.

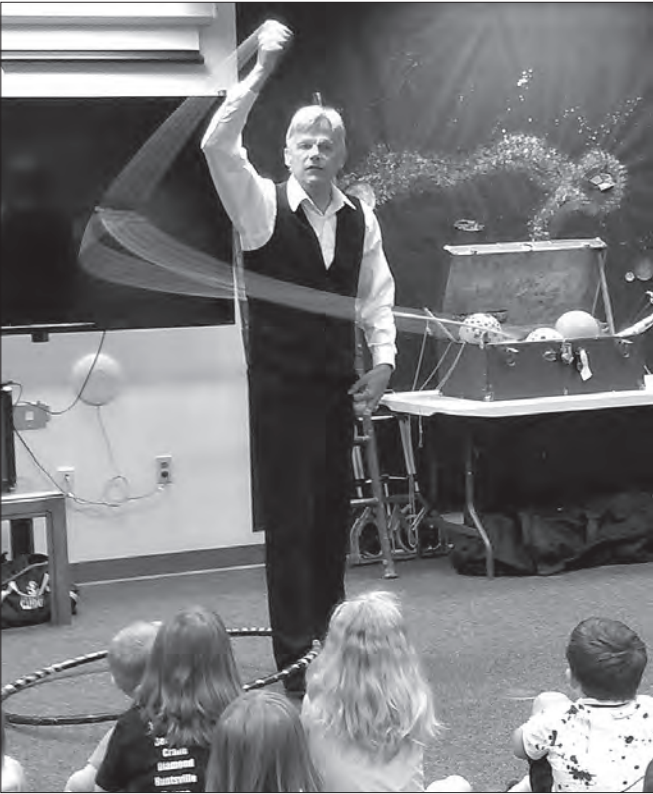

All proceeds from the fundraiser events will go to Brooks’ funeral expenses.

Judy Brooks, David’s widow, was moved by these gestures from the community.

“I am humbled by all the support the community has given us,” said Brooks.

Registration for the poker run will begin at 1:30 p.m. and the final card will be drawn at 5:30 p.m. The fundraiser will begin immediately after at 6 p.m., with the auction beginning at 7 p.m. For more information on the poker run, call or text (417) 847-7476 or (417) 846-3683. For more information on the fundraiser event, contact Washburn fire chief Danny Dalton at (417) 847-7972 or Jason Shrum at (417) 342-0313.

Juggler entertains Cassville Library attendees

Juggler Brian Wendling amazed the audience at the Cassville Branch Library on June 6. He performed rope tricks, balancing acts and introduced the Chinese yo-yo. There was plenty of audience participation, and everyone left smiling. The event was part of the summer Universe of Stories and is open to all.

BOATERS: KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

Captain Matt Walz, director of the Missouri State Highway Patrol's Water Patrol Division, is emphasizing the importance of boaters being informed about river and lake conditions before they put their vessels into the water. Recreational boaters are being discouraged from operating their vessels on flooded waterways where property will be negatively impacted by boat wakes, especially over the upcoming holiday weekend. Memorial Day weekend is generally one of the busiest of the boating season: Use caution in selecting your destination. The high-water levels on many of the waterways around our state will impact property, including structures in some areas, and boat wakes will only increase the damage. By state law, boat operators are required to operate in a careful and prudent manner and exercise the highest degree of care.

Boaters are encouraged to use the old boating adage of know before you go and to research the river and lake conditions before operating a vessel in a flood-affected area. Many waterways, regardless of current water levels, will contain a significant amount of floating debris due to the recent heavy rains and high-water levels. Thus, boaters must maintain a proper lookout for potential hazards in the water and exercise caution. In addition, many of the boat access areas on waterways may be affected.

Wearing a life jacket is always a great idea. But, if you choose not to wear your life jacket, it must be readily accessible.

Watercraft operators must consider the effect their actions have on others: Share the waterway and use common sense, good judgment, and courtesy to ensure the safety of all. Life jackets save lives. Wear It.

Southwest FFA attends LEAD Conference

On May 28, 2019, the Southwest FFA 2019-2020 officer team, along with other officer teams from the area, attended the LEAD workshop at Crowder College. LEAD stands for Learn, Educate, Advance and Develop. The conference goal is to train chapter officers and help them to reach their chapter's full potential. They were given the opportunity to bond as a team and establish vital rules and goals.

First on the agenda at the conference was for the officers to establish a code of conduct for the team to follow throughout the school year together. They, upon agreement, wrote down and signed a copy so that they would all be informed of how things were going to be handled if an issue arose throughout the year.

Second, the team made lists of the costs and benefits of being in the FFA and how they could recruit new members into the organization. What they ultimately decided upon was that, although the organization and being officers may come with costs, the benefits outweigh them by a lot. During this portion, the officers were also able to discuss ideas for recruiting new members. They already have an 8th grade recruitment day, but the chapter doesn't yet have one in place for high school. They wrote down ideas about doing a Powerpoint presentation on the first day of school where they would talk briefly about the benefits and how FFA has helped them.

Then, they talked about a Program of Activities (POA) and what would entail. They learned what a POA was, why it was valuable and the areas of a POA. The officers heard ideas from other chapters' POAs this year and took notes of activities they could begin at Southwest. They took notes about exactly what projects they would be conducting under each category.

In the afternoon, they divided up and attended smaller workshops about various topics. The titles were 'Promoting a Positive Image,' 'Leading Chapter Meetings,' 'Time Management' and 'SAE Opportunities'. Each of these enlightened officers on each topic. The sessions were led by former officers who knew exactly what it was like to be in their shoes, and they talked about things they wished someone had told them in high school.

In conclusion, the conference was a great opportunity for the officer team to get to know each other and to get a preview of FFA officer-ship. They were able to learn many skills and techniques, which will help them in this future school year and years to come.

STANLEY MAX FORD

Stanley Max Ford, age 73, of Wheaton, passed away peacefully in his home, surrounded by loved ones, on Tuesday, June 4, 2019. He was born September 1, 1945, in Wheaton, the son of Stanley S. and Katherine (Plancheon) Ford.

He was a 1963 graduate of Rocky Comfort High School. Max attended Crowder College and Missouri State University prior to being drafted into the U.S. Army. He then served in the Missouri Army National Guard 203 Engineer Battalion.

He loved his family. Most of his life he ran a dozer and did dirt work, but he also loved being a cowboy and his cattle herd. He was a member of the Barry County Sheriff's Posse and former President of the Wheaton Saddle Club. He was a lifetime member of the United Methodist Church and the Masonic Lodge.

Max was an avid sportsman. He loved hunting of all kinds, especially deer and quail hunting in the fall. Some of his greatest memories were going to Colorado elk hunting with friends. When he was a teenager, he began playing golf. This was a passion that he carried with him throughout his lifetime. He also loved baseball, playing in high school and college. His love of St. Louis Cardinal baseball was shared with his dad.

On December 20, 1998, he married Donna Royer-Elliott at her parent's home in Loup City, Nebraska. She survives. He is also survived by children, Marcia and her husband, Joe Himes, Lewis and his wife, Deanna Royer;

Butterfield’s new city hall complete

Butterfield’s new city hall building was completed on time and on budget. The new building, pictured above, cost the city $73,500 and is located at 10604 East 1st Street.

Vinnie Roberts

During last year’s midterm election on November 6, the voters of Butterfield passed Proposition 1. This legislation allowed Butterfield’s board of alderman to extend an existing bond agreement, originally enacted for repairs to the city’s sewer system, for the purposes of constructing a new city hall.

Previously, all city business, including the city clerk, public works and police department, were handled out of a single office in the Butterfield Community Building, located at 602 Ash Street across the street from the Butterfield Park. City court and city council meetings were held in the public meeting area of the community building. The building was rented by the city from the Community Building Foundation.

Over time, the facility fell into a state of disrepair with city officials previously reporting numerous issues of mold damage and a leaking roof. The Butterfield City Council, not wanting to spend taxpayer money to repair a building that the city did not own, elected to draft Proposition 1 for the purpose of creating a more adequate facility in which to conduct city business.

On June 3, these plans finally came to fruition with an announcement on the city’s official Facebook page that officials made the final move into the completed facility.

The new city hall, located on the same plot of land as the Butterfield Fire Station on 1st Street at 10604 East 1st Street, features larger, separate offices for the city clerk and public works department. The building also features a work space of the city’s chief for police as well as a parking area for the city’s police and public works vehicles and a public meeting area for city council meetings and municipal court.

The construction for the new city hall was handled by Mathis Construction. Previously, the company had projected a completion date of sometime in the summer for the facility, meaning construction was completed on schedule.

Construction was also on budget. The bond requested $80,000 approval from voters, and the final cost was $73,600 for the building.

For any questions regarding the change in location or to get in touch with city officials, contact Butterfield City Hall at (417) 442-7975.

City of Wheaton plans to install new playground structure

Vinnie Roberts

The City of Wheaton recently made a move to make the city’s public park more friendly to patrons of all ages. Currently, the Wheaton park is home to a single swing set and a basketball court. Thanks to the efforts of city officials, activities in the park will soon grow exponentially.

Wheaton’s Utilities Manager, Josh Kinman, worked to help the city be able to purchase a set of used playground equipment, originally housed in Webb City, for use in the city’s park.

This new play structure houses four slides, several sets of monkey bars and other climbing structures. The city will use the slides and metal skeleton of this structure, but the plastic decks that act as standing play areas in between the various activity stations will be purchased new by the city and added to the structure.

According to Wheaton mayor David Shockley, the city will also purchase a new swing set to add to the park.

“The swing will be brand new, but the playground equipment is used,” said Shockley.

Shockley continued and explained the purchase of this new equipment was part of an effort to make the park a better environment for local kids.

“We’re trying to update the park for the kids this summer,” said Shockley. “All we’ve had for so long is that old swing and that basketball goal, which isn’t much for the kids to do.”

All the pieces, both new and old, as well as the installation, is estimated to cost the city anywhere from $10,300 to $11,000. This will come out of the city’s general improvements budget, costing taxpayers no further expense.

According to Shockley, installation of the new park equipment is expected to be completed sometime either in or before August before Wheaton’s annual barbecue, sponsored by the Wheaton Fire Protection District. For questions about the new playground or any further city improvements, contact Wheaton City Hall at (417) 652-3314.

TROUT FESTIVAL from FRONT

Rachael Selby-Freeman said, "The city and the chamber are collaborating together to make this a great community event but have aspirations of reaching those who love Roaring River throughout the nation."

Horner said, "We don't have time to do it this year but with next year being the 175th anniversary for the city, we thought we could tie it together for the first event like this."

The event planner the city hired is Terri Tucker, of Reeds Spring, who has a long track record with event planning in other communities. The City of Cassville is paying $3,800 for a one-day planning session on June 24 to work on the overall plan and strategy for the event. City administrator Steve Walenky said she will be developing, writing and distributing the plan for the event.

The city isn't ruling out allowing corporate sponsorship, either. Walensky said, "As this evolves and it grows, the thing I was trying to make sure what we do is that this needs to be owned by our community. We may bring some big players in that are brand names, but I don't want those brand names to try to take this on the road and take ownership and do this somewhere else."

In terms of what the event will look like, Horner confirmed that it would be a one-day event that will include family fun, food and be focused around trout. He said, "This is going to be similar to the chili cook off, except we are planning on having it at the aquatic park area. There is plenty of parking and room for all of the activities. You'll walk in and smell good food cooking and hear music. There will be kids' activities and booths for adults to visit vendors.

“This will be tied to a trout fishing competition and a trout cooking competition, like fried, smoked, baked trout, anything you can think of.”

For those without a taste for trout, there will also be traditional festival food faire and more. Horner added, "We're going to invite our local food merchants to be a part of this. But for our tie with Roaring River, a key point will be having the trout competition."

Horner continued, "It'll be a really fun day with fun, music and entertainment and a big area to host it."

“Terri [Tucker] hosted our strategic planning session two years ago, and this kind of comes out of that. She’s a real master of putting together ideas and action plans.”

Walensky said, "We want to celebrate the city's age itself, so we are recognizing 175 years of the existence of the community. We reached out through the chamber and their tourism board and have them be the arms and legs of communicating to various visitors also inclusive of the state park and the Department of Conservation. There is a long-standing relationship between Roaring River and the City of Cassville and we are highlighting that bond."

So mark your calendars, Cassville's first Trout Festival will be on June 6, 2020, and more details will come.

new ambulances and equipment when needed, as well as maintenance on its buildings and operation costs.

Since that change, the ambulance service was also changed from CoxHealth, that held the contract for 27 years, to Mercy in March 2016. Mercy continues to operate the ambulance service for SBCAD.

According to Bob Patterson, executive director for the EMS program, there is currently full staffing at the Shell Knob station and the Cassville station with two 24-hour crews, as well as additional 12-hour peak hour units. He said potentially, there should be a 24-hour crew at the new Eagle Rock facility with additional peak unit crew, if needed.

Cieslinski said, "Mercy has been really good as we upgrade the ambulances, old equipment is getting refurbished and is going out to the outlying fire districts so they have better equipment to better help their constituents. It's a community effort.

"We need to help facilitate to get people the emergent care they need."

Construction on the new ambulance station is expected to be complete in December of this year. From there, it's possible the district will continue projects to increase services. Cieslinski said, "We should be able to fund this project as part of a larger plan as the budget allows to get facilities out in these outlying areas so people aren't waiting 40 to 50 minutes for an ambulance. A forty-minute response time is typical in that area."

MDC offers new “Auto-Renewal” for easy online permit renewals

Renewing Missouri hunting, fishing, and trapping permits is now easier and more convenient through the Missouri Department of Conservation’s (MDC) new online Permit Auto-Renewal service. Permit Auto-Renewal allows online permit buyers to automatically renew their permits prior to the start of the next season or permit year so they never have an expired permit when they need it most.

Participation in Auto-Renewal is voluntary, and the service can only be activated by the permit buyer. Enrollment in Auto-Renewal can be done during an online permit purchase or by using the “Manage Your Account” feature. Within the “Manage Your Account” feature, users can also update their Auto-Renewal settings including payment method and enrolled permits and turn off the service. There are no additional fees for the service. Auto-Renewal will automatically charge permit buyers for their enrolled permits.

Permit buyers must have a valid email address and credit card to participate. The Auto-Renewal service will send personalized email updates to participants – including initial enrollment, changes made by the buyer, 30-day and seven-day reminders of upcoming permit renewals and associated charges, and notifications of successful renewals and associated charges.

Permit buyers can enroll in Auto-Renewal at mdc.mo.gov/buypermits during an online permit purchase or by using the “Manage Your Account” feature. Learn more about Permit Auto-Renewal at huntfish.mdc.mo.gov/permits/permit-auto-renewal.

In addition to buying Missouri hunting, fishing, and trapping permits online at mdc.mo.gov/buypermits and through MDC’s free mobile apps (MO Hunting and MO Fishing), permit buyers can also purchase permits from numerous retail vendors around the state. Auto-Renewal-eligible permits purchased from retail vendors are not able to be enrolled into the service during the purchase process but can be enrolled later using the “Manage Your Account” feature.

Cox Monett earns 5-star rating for second consecutive quarter

Cox Monett Hospital has maintained its prestigious five-star rating in patient satisfaction from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). The five-star rating, earned from patient feedback via the national HCAPS Survey, puts Cox Monett in the top seven percent of the 3,505 hospitals surveyed nationwide.

“We talk with our employees about providing consistent care within our facility—every patient, every encounter, every time,” said Darren Bass, president of Cox Monett. “This latest five-star rating assures me that Cox Monett is delivering the best care right here in our community.”

The star rankings are awarded from patient feedback via the on the HCAHPS Survey, which asks patients to rate their experience in several categories:

- Communication with nurses
- Responsiveness of hos-

- Communication with doctors
- Pain management
- Cleanliness of hospital environment

CMS added star ratings, like restaurant reviews, to encourage hospitals to strive to continuously improve the patient experience and quality of care delivered to all patients. The star ratings range from one to five stars, with five stars being the best.

Cox Barton County Hospital, the second of CoxHealth’s critical-access hospitals, also maintained its five-star rating in patient experience for the latest reporting period.

CoxHealth recognized by Forbes as a “best employer”

Forbes has recognized CoxHealth as one of America’s Best Employers in 2019.

The first-ever ranking by Forbes of the top employers by state has CoxHealth as No. 18 in Missouri out of all industry types, the No. 3 health system in Missouri out of 156 hospitals in the state, and the No. 1 best health care employer in southwest Missouri.

Forbes recognized 2,500 U.S. companies with 500 or more employees on the “best employer in America” list that is based on results of an independent survey of more than 80,000 employees across the nation.

Employees were asked about their willingness to recommend an employer to family and friends, and about work-related topics such as working conditions, salary, professional development and company image.

Lacey receives Shelter Insurance scholarship

Southwest FFA Places 7th in nation in Soils

The Shelter Insurance Foundation awarded a $2,000 scholarship to Rachael Lacey, a graduate of Wheaton. Shelter agent Teri Lynn DeGraffenreid-Brattin sponsors and partially funds the scholarship.

Beginning the fall after the recipient's high school graduation, Lacey can direct the scholarship funds toward tuition, fees or campus housing for any course of study leading to an academic degree at any accredited college or university.

A committee of local high school officials and community leaders selected the local recipient. The committee considered each applicant's scholastic achievements, educational goals, citizenship, moral character and participation and leadership in school and community activities. The scholarship is given without regard to race, disability, religion, national origin or gender of applicants.

The scholarship is paid directly to the school the recipient selects. Lacey received a certificate from DeGraffenreid-Brattin on behalf of the Shelter Insurance Foundation.

The Shelter Insurance Foundation is a not-for-profit corporation for charitable and educational purposes. It is sponsored by the Shelter Insurance Companies - offering auto, home, life, farm and business insurance services to customers in 20 states via a network of local insurance agents and headquartered in Columbia.

The Southwest FFA Soils Team placed 7th in the nation. Soils is a Career Development Event in FFA. During competition, students are taken to soil pits and must judge the properties, characteristics and management of whichever soil they are given. Students' answers are then graded and compared with other competitors. This year, the Southwest High School FFA chose Leland Colf, Laney Moore, Allison Corwin and Travis Sickles for the soils team. These students worked throughout the year, coming in every morning to practice with their adviser Bill Caldwell. The team competed at Southwest District Competition on April 8 at Missouri State University. They took first place as a team with Laney Moore receiving first individually with Allison Corwin only three points below her in second place. After this accomplishment, the team knew they were competing at state.

They competed in Columbia on April 25 and qualified for nationals. Travis Sickles obtained ninth place and a Group 1 rating. Joining him in Group 1 was also Laney Moore and Allison Corwin. They competed at Oklahoma City on Thursday, May 2, where they placed seventh.

MDC urges drivers to give turtles a brake

The Missouri Department of Conservation urges drivers to be cautious on the roads this spring and give turtles a brake. These reptiles are often hit by cars during the warmer months but are at special risk this time of year because they are more active.

Common turtles spotted crossing Missouri roads include three-toed box turtles, ornate box turtles, and snapping turtles.

Turtles emerge from their burrows and begin the hunt for food and mates during warm and wet conditions, which can lead them to cross roadways, oftentimes resulting in their death. Thousands of box turtles are killed every year by vehicles.

Young males make up most of the travelers, sometimes wandering as much as six miles searching for territories and mates. Females are also crossing the roads in search of nesting areas.

Turtles are cold-blooded creatures and depend on external sources of heat to determine their body temperature. This is why people see them on warm asphalt during cool, spring days.

Vehicles are one of the leading factors in box turtle declines, and MDC urges motorists to be cautious and slow down when they see a turtle in the road. If helping a turtle make it safely across, check for traffic and move the turtle across the road in the direction it is traveling.

Additionally, MDC encourages Missourians to leave turtles in the wild. Taking a wild animal, be it turtle or other wildlife species, and keeping it as a pet normally ends in a slow death. Leave turtles in the wild, follow the speed limit, and keep your eyes on the road.

DID YOU KNOW: Most Missouri turtles can live up to 30 years, but the common box turtle can live up to 80, occasionally living more than a century. For more information on Missouri's turtles, visit the MDC online Field Guide at nature.mdc.mo.gov/discover-nature/field-guide/search/turtle.

Farm Service Agency County Committee nomination open June 14

USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) will begin accepting nominations for county committee members on Friday, June 14, 2019. Agricultural producers who participate or cooperate in an FSA program may be nominated for candidacy for the county committee. Individuals may nominate themselves or others as a candidate.

"I encourage America's farmers, ranchers and forest stewards to nominate candidates to lead, serve and represent their community on their county committee," FSA administrator Richard Fordyce said. "There's an increasing need for diverse representation including underserved producers, which includes beginning, women and minority farmers and ranchers."

Committees make important decisions about how federal farm programs are administered locally. Their input is vital on how FSA carries out disaster programs, as well as conservation, commodity and price support programs, county office employment and other agricultural issues.

Nationwide, more than 7,700 dedicated members of the agricultural community serving on FSA county committees. The committees are made of three to 11 members and typically meet once a month. Members serve three-year terms. Producers serving on our FSA county committees play a critical role in the day-to-day operations of the agency.

Producers should visit their local FSA office today to find out how to get involved in their county's election. Check with your local USDA service center to see if your local administrative area is up for election this year. Organizations, including those representing beginning, women and minority producers, also may nominate candidates.

To be considered, a producer must sign an FSA-669A nomination form. The form and other information about FSA county committee elections are available at fsa.usda.gov/elections. All nomination forms for the 2019 election must be postmarked or received in the local FSA office by Aug. 1, 2019.

Election ballots will be mailed to eligible voters beginning Nov. 4, 2019.

Cassville Rotary hosts 77th annual rodeo

On Saturday, June 8, the Rotary Club Rodeo played host to eight events at the Bill Hailey arena in Cassville. One of the first events of the evening was Team Roping, in which two riders are let out of the gate after a young steer, which they then try to direct and rope. Pictured above, the two-man team of Colter LaRue and Chad Evans are in hot pursuit.

Pictured above, Chase Gabriel had the best run in the Saddle Bronc event on Saturday, June 8.

Purdy council discusses city hall, drainage, mowing

Vinnie Roberts

During a special session of the Purdy City Council on Wednesday, May 22, several topics were discussed and voted on by the board of alderman.

During the public participation portion of the meeting, the council was addressed by Michael Guzman, a citizen living on the outskirts of Purdy. Guzman was representing the interests of himself and several other citizens living on Private Road 2087.

According to Guzman, there is a problem with the drainage system on the private road that caused the road to flood several times during the recent heavy rains. Guzman, acting on behalf of himself and several other residents living on the road, asked if there was any way that the city's public works department would be willing to help in some way to clear the drainage and prevent the issue from continuing.

The board of alderman agreed that in order for the city to take on that recurring maintenance, the owners of the properties would need to be willing to annex at least the portion of their properties that run along the road into the city. Guzman agreed to take this information to the other residents on his road and remain in contact with Purdy mayor Bo Prock throughout the month.

The results of these communications are expected to be a topic of discussion at the next meeting of the Purdy City Council on June 12.

The Purdy City Council also discussed bids from private citizens and mowing services for regular mowing on several city properties. Three bids were discussed: one from Haros in the amount of $195 for one total round of all included properties; Bryan Ozburn, of Countryside Lawns for $170; and Wilson's for $240. The council voted unanimously to accept the bid from Ozburn. Ozburn will now handle weekly mowing services on several city properties.

The council also voted unanimously to seek bids for additional mowing services not included in the previous bid.

There was some discussion on the planned relocation of city hall from their currently location on Front Street to the existing property that formerly housed the library. According to Purdy mayor Bo Prock, there are no finalized plans regarding the move except the certainty that the city's office staff and police department will both be housed in the new building. During the meeting, the council moved to begin seeking out general contractors to review the facility to see what changes can or cannot be made to accommodate city employee needs.

Additionally, the council moved to replace the fire hydrant located on Jessica Lane. According to Prock, the age of the hydrant led to it's low water flow. The replacement hydrant will cost the city $2,500.

Finally, in order to take pressure off of the city's one functional well, the council moved to purchase two new chlorine pumps and rewire several existing pumps. These repairs will allow the city to once again use the other two wells in town instead of relying on one.

The council is currently pursuing quotes on these repairs with decisions expected to be made during the next council meeting.

The next Purdy City Council meeting is set for June 12 at 5:30 p.m. For any questions about city council projects, contact Purdy City Hall at (417) 442-3273.

Butterfield truck, tractor pull coming June 22

Vinnie Roberts

On Saturday, June 22, the Butterfield Firefighters Auxiliary will host the first ever Butterfield Truck and Tractor Pull. The event will take place at Twister Alley Raceway, located on 1st Street in Butterfield, near the location of the Butterfield Fire Department and new city hall.

This show was put together in conjunction with Spring River Pulling Association, Butterfield’s Twister Alley Raceway and 57 other sponsors from all across the surrounding area.

Twister Alley Raceway is co-owned by Butterfield mayor Tony Cope, who donated the land for use in the pull.

Contestant entry into the event will cost $15 for members of the Auxiliary and $20 for non-members. General admission for spectators will cost $10 for adults, and children under the age of 12 will be admitted free of charge. Ticket sales will open at 4 p.m. the day of the event and can be purchased at Twister Alley Raceway.

The truck and tractor pull will feature 24 weight classes pulling against one another for a 300 foot run.

There will be a concession stand, serving up hamburgers, hot dogs, funnel cakes and snow cones. Food is not included with the price of admission. All proceeds from admissions and concessions will go to benefit the Butterfield Firefighter’s Auxiliary. This organization uses funds to buy various support goods for the Butterfield Fire Department. The Auxiliary also works on-scene with the fire department, providing water and Gatorade, as well as aid to families and fire victims, such as food and emotional support.

The Butterfield Firefighters Auxiliary is funded entirely through community support, fundraising and donations. They have two other main fundraisers, a yearly chili supper, and a country breakfast event that takes place every other month throughout the summer months. The next country breakfast is scheduled for June 15 at Butterfield City Hall. Breakfast will be served from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m.

“We all get involved; we’re all a part of it,” said assistant fire chief Rusty Dilbeck. “Me and [fire chief Donnie Privett] have been looking for something to do to draw people to the community. Truck and tractor pulls bring a lot of people into the community. We’re hoping to get the community involved and keep this going as a yearly event.”

Dilbeck and his wife, Staci, president of the Butterfield Firefighters Auxiliary, have been working hard within the community to help organize the event.

“We all work together and in a small community, you really have to work together with everyone that you can,” said Staci.

Rusty Dilbeck stated that the event wouldn’t be possible without support of the community and local businesses. He sees the tractor pull as not only a means to raise funds for the Auxiliary, but also give back to the community by staging a family-friendly event.

“We try to give back to the community and work with the businesses within our community. The community has really stepped up to help us. We want to help give back to them. We’re very proud of our community and we wanted to do this for them,” said Rusty.

The first annual Butterfield Truck and Tractor Pull will take place on June 22 at Twister Alley Raceway, located on 1st Street in Butterfield. For more information on truck and tractor pull events and rules, contact Glen Welters of Spring River Pull Association at (636) 748-4244.

MSHP: The “100 Deadliest Days of Summer” have begun

Watermelon. Flip flops. Doing a cannonball off the high dive on a sunny afternoon. Summer can evoke any number of wonderful memories.

But summer also has a dark side. In 2018, there were 307 fatalities on Missouri roads in the 100 days between Memorial Day and Labor Day. The Missouri Department of Transportation and the Missouri Coalition for Roadway Safety urge all who travel in and around the Show-Me State during the “100 Deadliest Days of Summer” to buckle up, slow down, drive sober and never drive distracted.

“It's easy to let your mind wander when you're on the road in search of summer fun,” said Jon Nelson, executive chair to the Missouri Coalition for Roadway Safety. “Drivers should always be aware of their surroundings, especially with the increased traffic. Never drive too fast for the conditions and be aware of everything that is going on around you.”

Central Methodist University student Shannon Mitchell, from Seligman, was recently inducted into the National Society of Leadership and Success (NSLS) - the nation's largest leadership society, according to Cassandra Frink, CMU's NSLS advisor.

Students are selected for membership based on either academic standing and/or leadership potential. Candidacy is nationally recognized as an achievement of honorable distinction. Nationwide, with 655 chapters, the NSLS currently has 1,029,952 members.

In addition to honorable distinction, the NSLS provides a step-by-step program for members to build their leadership skills through participation at their campus or online. After completion, members receive a leadership certificate and take their place among the top student leaders at their campus and across the country, Frink said.

"I am thrilled at the amount of student interest toward the organization," she said. "This particular chapter is student led. I am very proud of the impact they have had on their peers."

Mitchell is a senior and a middle school (science) major at CMU.

Since its founding in 1854, CMU has evolved into a university that confers master's, bachelor's and associate's degrees through programming on its main campus in Fayette and through extension sites and online.

How to Hike with Kids (written from the perspective of a 4 year old boy)

We both know that the "enjoyability" of your hike strongly depends on whether or not I'm having a good time. So, please, follow these tips:

- 1. Snacks. Lots of snacks. Whatever you think is the reasonable amount of snacks for the length of the hike... times that by infinity!
- 2. A hiking stick that's just my size. This will entertain me for at least 15 minutes. Then, it might become a make-believe weapon to all kinds of imaginary things, and on rare occasion, a real weapon upon my brother, but it will at least keep my hands busy.
- 3. Take the estimated hike time and multiply that by a minimum of three. The people that made that estimate must not appreciate deep examination of every rock, stick, leaf and critter, and they obviously don't stop for snacks (see tip #1).
- 4. Don't expect too much from me. I know I have boundless energy every other day of the week, but the different terrain wears me out quicker. Just think how soundly I'll sleep later!
- 5. Last but not least, have fun! Being in nature is my most fun place and I'm creating memories.

Jenny Madsen lives in Cassville with her husband, Sam, and their two young boys. They own At The River Consignment on the square in Cassville. In her spare time, Jenny and her family enjoy many outdoor activities, especially hiking and fishing at Roaring River State Park.

SAFETY from 3B

out more bicyclists and pedestrians. And last winter's brutal weather conditions mean you're likely to encounter more MoDOT road crews who will be repairing the damage. Just a single moment's distraction can lead to a life-or-death encounter.

Be proactive in your own safety. Of the drivers and passengers killed in 2018 traffic crashes, 62% were not wearing a seatbelt.

Remember: Buckle Up Phone Down.

"Last year, there were 46 days without a fatal traffic crash in Missouri," Nelson said. "The longest span without a fatality was two consecutive days. How many days in a row could we achieve zero fatalities? Three? A whole week? Even longer? More zero days means a less deadly summer."

Nelson also encourages drivers to plan ahead for summer celebrations and sporting events. "If you're driving, don't drink. If you're drinking, designate a sober driver beforehand," he said. "We encourage all drivers to take responsibility and make smart choices so that everyone gets home safe."

Make sure all of your summer memories are good ones. Watch the "100 Deadliest Days of Summer" video at <https://youtu.be/ra7an4ofcyI>.

Cassville FCCLA to send members to National competition through fundraisers

Vinnie Roberts

Hard work and determination are the pinnacles of all extra-curricular activities. Nowhere has that been more true this school year than with the Cassville Family Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA). The club recently swept the annual state conference, held March 16-19 in Lake of the Ozarks, with 11 of their members qualifying to compete at the national level.

In order to do this, members of the club competed in various events, usually involving the production and presentation of a project of some kind. Students were graded by judges on an event-specific rubric, with those scoring above a 90 receiving a gold medal for their event. The top two scorers from that event were then invited to compete in the national competition.

The 11 students that qualified for nationals from Cassville are: Jordyn Stafford and Josie Guevara, chapter service project display; Emilee Mann, Brody Barbee and Lily Love, chapter in review display; Alyzea Myers, nutrition and wellness; Lexi Yockey and Samantha Sparkman, focus on children; Mary Hayse and Dalia Phelps, digital stories for change; and Zach Achesson, State Vice President of STAR Events.

These students will go on to travel to and compete in the FCCLA National Leadership Conference in Anaheim, California, from June 30 to July 4.

"I told the students to start brainstorming ideas while I figured up how much the overall cost would be and talk to our administrators about it," said Samantha Cosper, Cassville FCCLA adviser.

Before that competition could become a reality for those students, there was the small matter of the cost. In order to take 11 students to California, the estimated cost of airfare, hotels and food totaled just under $28,000, according to Cosper.

"I took that number our administration, because historically, the school district has always paid half," said Cosper. "The district is putting forth a huge chunk to support us, but that left us with about a $16,000 fundraising goal. Basically each kid would have to be responsible for about $1,600."

One of the first major fundraising efforts put forth by the team was a kid's cooking class that was provided once a week for every week in April. This class saw the FCCLA students teaching primary and elementary students how to cook traditional pizza as well as fruit pizza with a sugar cookie crust.

The Cassville FCCLA also raised money by providing a day of lunch delivery for local businesses.

"That's always been our traditional fundraiser for nationals. Businesses plug in their orders and we deliver it to them," said Cosper. "We're basically Uber Eats for a day."

Fundraising efforts also included profits from the annual Cassville Daddy Daughter Dance, profits generated from FCCLA candy bar sales, impromptu car washes and raffle tickets. FCCLA students also sold cookies at ball games and worked concessions in order to raise funds.

"We basically didn't say 'no' to anything," said Cosper.

According to Cosper, some fundraising money also came from private sellers of Pampered Chef cooking products and Yankee Candles, who allowed students to sell their products and donated their commission to the FCCLA's competition fund.

One of the more monumental fundraising efforts put forward by the Cassville

FCCLA was the sale and distribution of pre-made casseroles. These casseroles were made by Cosper and her students before being packed, frozen and distributed to patrons who had pre-ordered them.

Small casseroles cost patrons $10, while large orders cost $20. Casseroles came in a variety of flavors including: breakfast, Mexican chicken, chicken manicotti, and chicken spaghetti. According to Cosper, an estimated 150 casseroles were sold.

Fundraising efforts on the part of the FCCLA totaled $12,446.87, a respectable number, but still just short of their intended goal. According to Cosper, the FCCLA was able to meet their funding goal despite this, thanks to community support.

"We've had some local business donate," said Cosper. "We've gotten about $2,700 in donations, and our regional (FCCLA chapter) donated $1,600 for the students to go."

Cosper went on to explain that she hasn't sought donations from businesses in several years, saying that she would rather her students work for the privilege of attending the national conference. With the larger than average sum for this year's students, those donations were deemed necessary to seek out.

"They were very generous," said Cosper. "They also ordered lunches and ordered casseroles."

Cosper said that she is excited for her students, so much so that the announcement of all of their names nearly sent her into a panic.

"I'm really excited for them," said Cosper. "I nearly had a panic attack [at state] when they were calling the names of everyone who qualified for nationals."

Eleven students is the largest group that Cosper has ever taken to nationals, and to the best of her knowledge, the largest group Cassville has ever sent.

Cosper said that, more than competition, she hopes that the trip provides her students with valuable life experience.

"I'm super excited for them," said Cosper. "Most of them have never flown. Most of them have never been outside of the Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma area before. When you take them out of their own community and they find success that they had to work for, the confidence that they get from that can transform their lives."

The Cassville FCCLA will compete at the National FCCLA Leadership Conference in Anaheim, California from June 30 to July 4.
