TRICK OR
TREATING SAFETY
TIPS

Cassville Police Chief Dana Kammerlohr and Sheriff Mick Epperly offer up safety tips for Halloween this year:

CHILDREN:

- Trick or treat in a group. Never go by yourself.
- Go only into places you know really well and that are well lit.
- Never go into a stranger's house.
- Don't eat any candy until you get home and your parents check it.
- Be home at the time your parents expect you to be home.
- Between houses, take off your mask so you can see.

PARENTS:

- Children under 12, should be accompanied by a parent or responsible adult
- Put reflective tape or a glow stick on costumes that aren't reflective.
- Tell your children not to eat any candy before they get home and have them eat a meal before they go.
- Throw out any candy not factory wrapped unless you know the cook really well.
- Go over traffic and pedestrian safety rules with your children.
- Children should carry a flashlight with fresh batteries and a cell phone. Tell them to call 911 if they get separated from you.
- Avoid using lit candles to decorate as a costume might catch fire.
- If driving, watch carefully for children

GOP rally and dinner to be held Nov. 3 in Cassville

In keeping with tradition, an election eve rally and free dinner will be held at the Crowder College Community Building on the north edge of Cassville on Monday, November 3, beginning at 6:30 p.m., according to an announcement made by David Cole, chairman of the Barry County Republican Committee.

U.S. Senator Roy Blunt, of Springfield, will address the meeting which will follow the dinner.

Senator Blunt, who is now serving his first six-year term in the United State Congress, previously served Missouri's Seventh Congressional District as their Congressman from 1996 to 2010 when he was elected to the Senate. He had previously served as Missouri Secretary of State of eight years and 12 years

Blunt as County Clerk of Greene County in Springfield.

Congressman Billy long will also be present, along with all of the county GOP candidates.

For over fifty years, the Republican County Central Committee has hosted the pre-election rally in Cassville every two years.

The general public is invited to attend.

Southwest to add preschool in December

Charlea Mills

In an exciting announcement made by Southwest Schools, it was revealed that the school will be adding a preschool hopefully as early as late November or early December. The preschool was made possible by the Missouri Preschool Project Grant through the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE).

Southwest was awarded $80,000 that is renewable for five years and goes to provide funding for the program through leasing a new modular building and adding a new teacher and possibly an assistant. According to Southwest Superintendent Bob Walker, the district will be supplementing the grant money with district funds to get the program running and continue it in future years.

Currently, the school has a Title I Preschool Program that has been in effect for over 20 years. Title I is a federally funded program that serves children who are three and four years old who have an educational need and meet the eligibility requirements. Wanda Smith, Director of Special Services for Southwest, stated that the program provides serves under special education laws. She said, "The number of children served varies due to eligibility or handicapping conditions within the district's student population. We usually have around 10 Early Childhood Special Education (ESCE) preschool students."

With the new grant funding, the new preschool will be able to serve up to 40 preschoolers, 20 in the morning and 20 in the afternoon. The school hopes to have enrollment start around December 1 of this year and have the preschool open by December 15.

When asked by the decided to apply for the grant, Walker stated, "Our intent is to better serve our community's needs by providing additional four year-old preschool services for those who do not qualify for our ESCE program, and in this process, afford future kindergarten students an opportunity to arrive better prepared."

He continued, "This program will make us more effective, as a quality preschool program can impact children's foundational skills, both academically and socially. Concerning our community, besides providing a half-day child care option, the program will start estab-

“Super” Chili-Cook Off brings crowd to downtown Cassville

Charlea Mills

The downtown square on Saturday was bustling for yet another Cassville Chili Cook-Off put together by the Cassville Area Chamber of Commerce. This year's theme of superheroes brought out the inner superhero in everyone with beautiful weather drawing out a huge crowd.

The day started bright and early with vendors ranging from games, crafts, sales booths and information to those just there to show off their local chili and salsa cooking skills to the community. Early on, live music kicked off with Three in 1 and a pet parade sponsored by Herrin Animal Hospital. The four-legged participants were judged after the parade in four different categories: best trick, best smile, best costume and best bark. Winners this year were the dancing CC with her owner Melissa Barrientos for the best trick, Jamie, owned by Wanda Brattin, with a winning smile, Zella in her gypsy costume with her owner Deb Fanning, and best barker Charlie, owned by Carmella Buckner.

For the second year, Sonic sponsored the popular chili dog contest with William Naugle taking top prizes for the second year in a row for demolishing his five chili dogs in just a little over a minute. New to the event this year was the pumpkin decorating contest with all of the pumpkins sold at the end in a silent auction. Taking top honors for pumpkins this year were the Cassville Senior Center and the Cassville School Administration.

Chili and salsa judging this year was based in two different areas: judges and people's choice. Taking honors in the people's choice contests and winning Cassville Cash were Roaring River Health and Rehab with the best decorated booth, the Barry County Republicans as the most spirited, and both the people's choice chili and salsa going to Arning Companies. Salsa awards from judges were State Farm Insurance for first, Arning Companies for second, and Remax Lakeside with third place. For chili this year, judges' awards went to Barry Electric Cooperative for first place, The Bean Team for second, and Freedom Bank for third.

Mindi Artherton, chamber director, stated, "We really appreciate all of our businesses that came out and took the time to make chili and/or salsa or have a booth at the cook-off. I understand that is a lot of work and expensive, but I know it is something our community loves! I think it makes all the hard work pay off when you see our square crowded with people milling around and having fun."

22nd annual Fall Show brings out local talent

Charlea Mills

For the 22nd time, local talents came together to bring a knock-out Fall Show to the citizens of Cassville. Singers, musicians and even dancers graced the stage for a fun mix of music and comedy at the Cassville FEMA Event Center.

The Show this year had three performances on Thursday and Saturday nights and on Sunday afternoon. The 24-song set had a little bit for everyone to enjoy with the second half featuring character songs with people dressing as the performers they emulated.

John Lueckenhoff kicked the show off with "My Little Runaway" accompanied with a guitar solo by Jack Reed. Lueckenhoff returned in the second set bringing back his Garth Brooks singing talent to crowd. John's son Bradley was featured this year as John Denver singing "Back Here Again."

Emcee Bob Allen narrated the Show again this year, giving the crowd tidbits about the songs and artists who originally performed them.

Songs of the evening featured blusey soulful numbers, like Angela Seymour singing "Bring It On Home To Me" and Sarah Sandoval's powerful Etta James number "I'd Rather Go Blind." There were also country hits such as Leslie Smith's rendition of Sugarland's "Little Miss," and Cassidy Larson's "Wast-

Each year the HomeTown Sound and the RedHots get together to back talent, the result is electrifying and this year was no different. With new talents gracing the stage and old favorites coming back, the tradition doesn't look to be stopping anytime soon.

Local legislators sound off on Amendments on ballot

While the General Election ballot won't have much bearing on local candidates since they are running unopposed, Barry County voters do have four amendments to decide on in Tuesday's election.

Amendment 2

Amendment 2 would render prior criminal acts admissible in court when the case is a child sexual abuse trial.

Barry County Prosecuting Attorney Johnnie Cox is a proponent of the Amendment. He issued a statement saying, "As the law stands now, if a defendant has a prior conviction for a sex crime against a person under the age of 18, the jury will never be made aware of that fact unless the defendant testifies. This means that a defendant can keep that information from the jury by not taking the stand.

"Amendment 2 will allow prosecutors to introduce this evidence in their case in chief, regardless of whether the defendant testifies, if a judge determines the propensity evidence is admissible. It is important to note that there is the safeguard in place that a judge still must determine whether propensity evidence is admissible or not and that the prior charges must also be of a sexual nature against a person under 18.

"This may decrease the trauma that victims may have to go through. There are several states, including the federal government, that already allow this type of evidence and this amendment would bring Missouri in line with other jurisdictions that aggressively prosecute crimes against children."

Opponents of the measure argue that the amendment

A TRUE FRIEND

A good man obtains favor from the Lord (Proverbs 12:2). Seligman and many people far and near said goodbye to a good man last week. If you ever met Benny Cron you was his friend, and every time after that first meeting Benny would greet you with that BIG smile he had. Hundreds of Benny's friends showed their respect at his visitation, then at his service it was standing room only. Benny would help anybody at anytime. A business man that moved into Barry county a few years ago found out real fast that Benny was a true friend willing to go the extra mile to help. Benny was a highly respected fireman of Seligman and that being a great passion for him it was only fitting for the fire truck to carry his body to his final earthly resting place. It was a very touching scene to sit beside the highway last Saturday afternoon and see a police car, 3 fire trucks and miles of cars form a procession taking their friend to be laid to rest. This was a reminder of what a great man and good example Benny was and the legacy he left by just going above and beyond to "be a friend to all he met".

Area haunts open for one more ghoulish weekend

Charlea Mills

A variety of haunts throughout the county are open for one final weekend to close out the ghoulish Halloween season. For those wanting more tricks instead of treats this last haunting weekend, spooky offerings in Exeter, Wheaton and Seligman will give everyone frights for a few more days.

Exeter Haunted Maze and Barn

Exeter's Corn Maze during the day is a pleasant sight with festive fall colors, pumpkins and activities for kids of all ages. However when the grounds begin to go dark, the hauntings come alive. Guests can travel through the corn maze filled with ghouls and goblins or take a chance in the haunted barn, which is two stories of haunted dungeon filled with things that will haunt your nightmares. Haunted areas are probably too scary for the younger visitors.

Finally, new this year is the zombie paintball interactive ride, fun for all ages. The ride begins through the corn maze where guests, armed with paintball guns, shoot at zombies moving about before the ride moves inside to face even more ghouls, but don't worry, the zombies can't shoot back.

Other attractions are also still open, including the concession stand, barn play area and more. Haunted areas are open beginning at 7 p.m. with the last tickets sold at 10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. The non-haunted areas are open Friday beginning at 5 p.m. and 1 p.m. on Saturday. The non-haunted areas are also open Sunday from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

To get to the Exeter Corn Maze, turn onto Highway MM in Exeter and follow the signs.

Cost: Maze - $7 each, 12 and under $5; Barn - $7 each 12 and under $5; Zombie Paintball - 100 shots $10, 200 shots $15; and Haunted armband (maze, barn and paintball) $20. Children under three are free, but not recommended.

Seligman Spook Trail

The Seligman Spook Trail is open on Halloween and Saturday, November 1 from 8 p.m. until midnight. In years past, the trail was operated by the Seligman Fire Department, but this year, the operation changed hands, but offers the same scary experience in the ride-through trail. This year's trail is operated by the Pea Ridge, Ark., group Beta Alpha, a chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha nonprofit.

Money raised by from the spook trail will go to provide scholarships to Southwest High School students and other charitable causes.

Concessions are available on site with hamburgers frito pie, coffee, hot cocoa, nachos and more. From Highway 37 in Seligman, take DD to Mill Hill and follow the signs.

Cost: $5 each, children 5 and under free.

Wheaton Haunted Mill

Returning this year is the benefit Wheaton Haunted Mill for those wanting to be scared out of their wits. The mill will be open on October 30, 31 and November 1 at 7 p.m. each night. This year, all proceeds go to benefit Brittini Lacey, a young woman battling melanoma that spread through her blood stream. Money raised will go to help cover her treatment costs and travel expenses.

The walk-through scarefest is appropriate for kids around 10 and up. The Mill is located at 407 E. Hurlbut in Wheaton.

Cost: $7 per person with 100 percent of the proceeds donated to Brittini Lacey.

Cassville High School to host Veterans Assembly

Cassville High School is inviting all Veterans and their families to the 26th annual Veterans' Day Assembly on Tuesday, November 11, at 9 a.m., in the Cassville High School gymnasium.

A reception will follow the assembly. They encourage all veterans to join them.

Cassville Healthcare and Rehab residents compete in Golden Age Games

Steve Chapman

On Friday, October 24, a select group of Casville residents geared up for a unique sort of competition: the 18th District IV Golden Age Games. The competition, which was sponsored by the Missouri Healthcare Association, was attended by residents of 18 nursing homes, including eight residents from Cassville Healthcare and Rehab (CHR) and their caretakers. There, they took part in games designed specifically for them.

Like all of the competitors, the CHR residents and caretakers attended the games in costume. In keeping with the theme “I Believe,” they dressed as fantasy and fairy-tale characters, including the Three Blind Mice, Santa Claus, the Sandman, Tweedledee and Tweedledum from Alice in Wonderland, and Little Red Riding Hood.

The event started with group photos and an opening ceremony, and then moved into the competition. The residents took part in contests that included cow milking on a training machine, Bingo, basketball tossing and a hog calling contest. After lunch, the games continued with horseshoe tossing, soccer kicking, a quiz bowl and wheelchair races. CHR resident Jay Matthews, who dressed as Santa Claus, said he particularly enjoyed the playing bingo, while fellow resident Pamela Davis, who was the sandman, said her favorite part of the competition was basketball and the horseshoe toss.

In addition to the games, there was also a craft competition. Matthews and his fellow residents, Winona Ball, Roberta Carroll and Reba Young, won medals for their entries. Ball received a 2nd place medal for embroidered pillowcases, Matthews won 4th place in his division for a poem entitled “Crying,” Young took 4th place for a crocheted shawl and Carroll received 5th place for her crocheted afghan.

Patricia Melton, who organized the games, stated that while the event was designed to be fun for the participants, it also had a much more important goal. “The main purpose of the games is for the interaction of residents with other facilities and to show others that the residents can still be active in the community and community events,” she said.

Also in attendance was State Representative Scott Fitzpatrick, who served as a volunteer at the event. Fitzpatrick helped with the contests and also took time to speak with the game participants. “I really enjoy volunteering at the Golden Age Games,” he stated. “It’s a great opportunity for our citizens who reside in assisted living facilities to get out, socialize, have some friendly competitions, and enjoy a really nice fall day with folks from other facilities. The Missouri Health Care Association, as well as the homes in southwest Missouri, do a great job putting it on, and it is a cool experience to have the opportunity to see the dedication and love the employees who work at these facilities have for their residents. This was my second year being at the games, and I am looking forward to next year.”

AMENDMENTS from FRONT

would allow the evidence to be a "trial within a trial," making the accused person defend themselves from more than just the current charge, but previous charges as well. Amendment 2 has also been criticized as being used to create prejudice in the jury.

Amendment 3

Amendment 3 would implement performance evaluations for teachers that is tied to pay, raises and would eliminate tenure. Student performance evaluations would be used to measure a teacher's success and their pay and status would be effected accordingly.

Proponents of the amendment tout the important of the student evaluations because they affect employability and for that reason, the system should be changed to make teachers accountable for student outcomes.

The Cassville Teachers Association, local school boards and Rep. Scott Fitzpatrick have all voiced their opposition to the measure. The CTA issued a statement reading, "This amendment is a one-size-fits-all approach that treats our students like numbers and prevents teachers from treating our students like individuals. We need to be sure that our students are good thinkers, not just good test takers. This one-size-fits-all approach is wrong." The CTA also stated that the measure would take control away from local school boards, encourage more standardized tests and cost the local district more money.

Amendment 6

Amendment 6 would create an early voting period of six days before each Election Day.

Supporters of Amendment 6 say that an early voting period would encourage a higher voter turnout at minimal cost. Proponents also say that it would make voting easier for people who would otherwise have difficulty voting because of their work schedules or other commitments.

Opposing the amendment, State Senator David Sater stated, "Amendment 6 would create an early voting period in Missouri period of six business days before election day, excluding Saturday and Sunday. Other proposals promoted by national progressives would push early voting out as far as six weeks before the election, would come at significant costs to taxpayers and be extremely difficult for local election officials to manage. I have serious concerns about early voting proposals. One of the most sacred rights of Missourians is the right to vote and, instead of creating never-ending voting periods, we should exercise our civic duty and get out and vote on Election Day."

Amendment 10 would prohibit the governor from estimating available state revenues when making budget recommendations under specific legislative circumstances.

Representative Scott Fitzpatrick was a co-sponsor of the bill. Senator Sater stated, "As we have seen, our current governor often uses the budget as a political tool to force legislative action that has nothing to do with the responsibility to balance our state budget. The governor targets important budget items, like public education with his withholds to draw more attention and put pressure on lawmakers to bow to his wishes. Budget withholds is an area where the governor has nearly unrestricted power and we should have a mechanism by which that power can be checked.

"If Amendment 10 passes, the Legislature could override budget withholds by the governor similar to the way we can override a veto. Amendment 10 would also prohibit the governor from forecasting revenues based on what the General Assembly may do. He has to budget based on the facts and the current budget situation, not one of his own imagination."

Opponents of the bill believe that the current system has worked for many years without a problem. They also state that it would restrict flexibility of budgetary changes which could affect Missouri's AAA credit rating.

Purdy Schools name September Students of the Month

Purdy Principals Janet Boys (K-6) and Bob Vice (7-12) announced the September Students of the Month. Each month the middle school core class teachers nominate one student from each grade level, fifth through eighth.

The fifth grade Student of the Month for September is Alexis Mitchell. Fifth grade teacher Michele Taylor noted, "Alexis was chosen as the fifth grade September Student of the Month because of her wonderful attitude toward school. Alexis continually shows great responsibility and safety by following classroom rules and procedures. She also comes to class on time and prepared. Alexis is a great joy to have in class. She always does her work and gets along with other students." Fifth grade teacher Cheryl Ulmer added, "Alexis strives for perfection in her work. Her assignments are always complete, very neat and well thought out. She always has a smile and is well-liked by her peers and teachers."

Macy Terry received the award in sixth grade. Faculty member Barbara Warnick observed, "Macy is a joy to have in class. She is always prepared and ready to tackle whatever we have planned for the day. Macy is willing to help others, and she always has a smile on her face. She is a great example of a Student of the Month."

Middle School teacher Heather Romine explained

why the teachers selected seventh grader Charles Mitchell as September's Student of the Month. "Charles is a great helper in my classroom. He is really trying to better himself as a student and person. I really enjoy having him in class." Teacher Sarah Garbee added, "Charles Mitchell has been working hard this quarter. He is quiet and working during class and cooperates with the teacher and his classmates. He is a good reader and keeps up with his school work" Middle School teacher Tabitha Farris summarized, "Charles has been working very hard to do better than he ever has before. He wants to succeed this year."

Vanessa Salazar received the award for eighth grade. Coach Eli Ernst explained, "Vanessa Salazar is totally awesome. She is a student that I would want my children to model. It has been my privilege to have had her as a member of our basketball team. I feel confident in saying she is truly headed for great things in her life." Mrs. Heather Romine also noted of Vanessa, "She is a very special person. Vanessa is an extremely hard worker, and I love having her in my class." Teacher Sarah Garbee agrees. "Vanessa is a very sweet and helpful girl. She always cooperates and works hard in class. If she is unsure about something she asks questions and always puts in 100 percent effort to get things done." Teacher Tabitha Farris added, "Vanessa is a wonderful student to have in class. She works hard and tries even harder. She has opened up a lot over the past month and has begun asking questions in class to help herself succeed."

September's Students of the Month received a Certificate of Accomplishment and an invitation to a pizza lunch with Mrs. Boys and Mr. Vice. The Purdy R-2 School District would like to congratulate these students for their outstanding accomplishments at Purdy Middle School.

Cassville ground game overwhelms Mt. Vernon in district play

Lee Stubblefield

It's that time of year in Missouri high school football. Win or go home. The Cassville Wildcats put on an impressive rushing performance to move on in district play with a 54-20 win over Mt. Vernon on Friday night at Wildcat Stadium. River Phelps and Leigh Cox scored four touchdowns each in the game, seemingly daring each other to a game of "Can you top this?" Phelps finished with 235 yards rushing on the night, while Cox totalled 118 but added a 79-yard kickoff return for one of his four scores. The continued strong play of the backfield tandem has helped lift the Wildcats to a four-game winning streak. When Chase Jackson went down for the season, most of the offensive burden fell on Gabe Kirk who struggled as a workhorse in single-harness. But with the development of Phelps and Cox, the Cassville offense has become a multifaceted force. The Wildcat defense turned in another strong performance as well. The Mountaineers' first touchdown came midway through the first quarter to give the visitors a 7-0 lead. Cassville responded with 35 unanswered points and held a 35-7 lead until Mt. Vernon's Andrew Montemayor returned a kickoff 97 yards for a score at the 6:54 mark of the third quarter. The visitors squeezed out a last-second touchdown with the game ending to create the final score of 54-20. Mt. Vernon was fired up to start the contest, but faded against the relentless Cassville ground game. Cassville's Leigh Cox returned the opening kickoff 62 yards to the Mt. Vernon 15-yard line, but a first-down, first-snap fumble gave the Mountaineers the ball. Mt. Vernon then put together a 12-play, 77-yard drive to take a 7-0 lead at the 7:30 mark of the first quarter. It was the only lead the visitors would have, a stark contrast to the back-and-forth battle these teams waged back in week 7. Cox returned the next kickoff 79 yards for the tying score, and the Wildcats took control after that. Trailing 28-7 in the final half-minute of the first half, the Mountaineers had the ball on their own 29-yard line with a timeout remaining. With time to run two - maybe three - plays, Mt. Vernon's Tom Cox elected to let the clock run out instead. Two quarters later, the clock ran out on Mt. Vernon's season. Cassville vs Monett, again. Back in week 5 of the season, Monett pinned a demoralizing 38-0 loss on the Wildcats, the second "L" of a three-game losing streak. The Cubs outplayed the 'Cats on the line of scrimmage and took advantage of superior team speed to run away with that game. For Cassville to take the rematch, the Wildcats have to:

1. Be more physical and control the line of scrimmage
2. Negate Monett's team speed, especially on special teams.

Squib kickoffs, punting out of bounds, even a fake punt might be in order for this game. Cassville needs to avoid giving up the big special teams play.

3. Avoid turnovers, 'nuff said.
4. Avoid penalties, 'nuff said.
5. Get out of the gate

Frank Broyles liked to say that when you're the underdog, "The longer you're tied, the more you're ahead." Having won the first meeting with a big shut-out, the Cubs expect similar results this time around, no matter what clichés and coach-speak you hear on the radio. If the Wildcats can stay even to halftime, they will have a huge psychological advantage coming out of the locker room. It's Halloween. Will Cassville provide a Fright Night for Monett? Or will the Cubs again be "better than the average bear"?

PRESCHOOL from FRONT

lishing the all-important parent/school partnership a year earlier than is typical.”

Students in the preschool program will need to meet income guidelines as dictated by the grant requirements. The weekly fee for the program will be based on a sliding fee scale where families with an income that is less than 200 percent of the 2014 Federal Poverty Guidelines will pay nothing. Families between 200 and 400 percent will pay $5 each week, and families making more than that will pay $10 weekly. For example, a family of four within the Southwest district would need to make more than $47,700 annually to be at 200 percent of the FPL and therefore have to pay for the program weekly.

The school stated that they will be advertising enrollment in the program in the newspaper, on the school marquee and will also be sending home information with their students for when enrollment will begin.

Fashion assembly showcases Southwest teachers

Southwest Schools held an assembly on Thursday, October 23, to kick off Red Ribbon Week. The teachers dressed up for a fashion show to encourage the students to participate in Red Ribbon Week activities. Red Ribbon Week is oriented to encourage kids to stay away from drugs and make healthy choices.

SSS Student spotlight: Sharon Masterson

Sharon Masterson is a Criminal Justice major who will be graduating from Crowder College in Cassville in December 2014. Being a non-traditional student in an environment with students of all ages she has learned we are all the same, no matter our age.

"I struggled and worried just like the younger students," Masterson said. She had never been taught much about computers because they were not available when she was in high school, so her greatest challenge was learning how to navigate the internet. Masterson has maintained a 4.0 GPA during her time at Crowder. She credits her success to not being afraid to ask questions, learning how to write papers properly, and staying persistent.

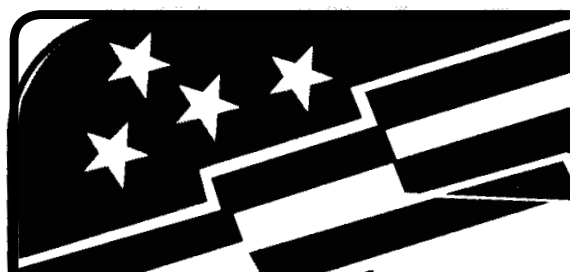

She has been a member of Student Support Services (SSS) since her first semester in August 2012. She says, "SSS is special because you are able to go talk to people one on one...you feel like you can talk to them like friends." Her advice to other students is, "Don't get overwhelmed." She believes that "No one is too busy to go to college."

Masterson balances her life well, taking care of her disabled son and three grandchildren while also being enrolled in college full-time. "College is a great privilege," says Masterson. She is currently researching bachelor degree programs in Criminal Justice. Her SSS Advisor, Jerri Hudson, has this to say about Masterson, "She has always been pro-active in her educational goals and works very hard to stay informed about her degree requirements. She has been awesome to work with, and it has been a pleasure to serve as her advisor."

Haven of the Ozarks Pet of the Week

This week we have a special family for you to meet. They arrived with their pregnant mom, and they sure weren't pretty. Three months of treatment later, Sector (shown) and siblings Lima, Patriot, and Mortar are turning 9 months old and are gleaming with health. All are Black Lab mixes with gray or brown brindle trimmings. The younger sibs were all adopted, and mom is starting her treatments, but this happy bunch has waited long enough. Please consider offering some forever space in your home for one (of two!) of them. View them all at thehaven.petfinder.com - or give us a call at 417-835-3647. Our Haven pets are welcome back if things don't work out, and are fixed, microchipped, vaccinated, and on flea/tick/heartworm/worm prevention.

If you are interested in adopting a dog or cat please call 417-835-3647 or visit thehaven.petfinder.com.

Our condolences go out to the Wulz family for the loss of our dear friend Willa Wulz, former Haven Treasurer, who helped rebuild the Haven into the wonderful place it is today.

She will be missed by many.
