Justin to Celebrate with Open Houses

Justin Boot will be celebrating the Grand Opening of the Justin Outlet store on the square here this week with an Open House for the public at the Justin Plant and at the store on Tuesday, May 11.

The Open House will be held at the factory from 1 to 4 p.m. with tours through the plant so that visitors can actually watch the approximately 200 separate operations necessary to make a pair of boots, according to Plant Superintendent Jim Laishaw.

Refreshments will be served to visitors to the plant, and they will register for free gifts to be given in a drawing at 4:30 p.m. You do not have to be present to win.

John J. Justin, President of Justin Industries, will himself be in Cassville for the Open House, as will Bill Powers, Vice President in charge of sales. Other Justin dignitaries from Ft. Worth who are expected for the festivities include Production Manager Don St. John and John Allen, who is in charge of the Justin outlet stores. The company has an outlet store in Ft. Worth, as well as the new outlet which recently opened on the west side of the square here.

The outlet store here sells Justin made boots, belts and leather goods at reduced prices and has the largest selection of boots in Southwest Missouri. Manager Mark Smith reports that refreshments will also be served at the Open House at Visitors to the Justin plant next Tuesday will be able to see the 200 operations necessary in making a pair of boots.

Employees of Justin Boots in Cassville received word Monday morning that the doors will be permanently closed on Justin Brands' production operations in both Cassville and in Carthage. According to Frances Nelson, human resources manager for Justin Brands, the closure of the Justin and Chippewa factories in Cassville and in Carthage was a difficult decision brought about by unprecedented times.

"Unfortunately, the economic reality has forced us to make hard decisions that are necessary to sustain the legacy of our brands long into the future," Nelson said.

"We recognize the skill that has gone into the footwear produced in Missouri over the years, which is why we have asked our Missouri workers to consider the possibility of relocating to one of our other factories," she continued. "Making high-quality boots is an art, and we value the skills, loyalty and dedication of the Cassville and Carthage area employees."

Angie Periman, who has worked for Justin as a double-needler for the past four years, said employees were notified by text last Thursday to be in attendance on a conference call scheduled for 9 a.m. Monday, July 6.

"We thought the reason for the conference call was to let us know when we could go back to work," she said. "Instead, they told us they were closing the plant. Because it was a conference call, we could hear everyone's reaction to the news. Some people got really angry; others began crying."

Periman could not hold back her own tears as she explained what the plant closure meant to her.

"We were like family at Justin," she said. "We were all really close, so having the plant shut down is like losing family."

Justin Brands has been manufacturing boots in Cassville since 1981, when they purchased 45,000 square feet of floor space from Jumping Jacks and U.S. Shoe Corporations.

They officially began operation on July 6, 1981. Eighty-seven employees were hired over the following two-week period, with preference given to those who had previously worked for Jumping Jacks before their closure in 1980.

Peggy and Doyle Edie, of Exeter, were two such employees, who have since retired.

"It was hard when Jumping Jacks closed," Peggy Edie said, "so I know what the Justin employees are going

Missouri State Highway Patrol announces Community Alliance Program

Captain John Enderle, commanding officer of Troop D, Springfield, announces the Missouri State Highway Patrol will be conducting a Community Alliance Program at the Troop D Headquarters, beginning Thursday, October 1, and concluding October 29, 2020.

The mission of the Community Alliance Program is to provide personal interaction between area citizens and the Patrol. The program is designed to allow the public to learn more about the Patrol's purpose and role within the law enforcement community. The Highway Patrol is seeking responsible citizens, community leaders, students, and professional/business associates who are willing to commit to a program that provides a unique opportunity.

Classes will meet on five consecutive Thursday evenings, from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m., at the Troop D Headquarters in Springfield. Successful completion of the program will require attendance at each Thursday evening session (one absence will be allowed with prior approval from the program coordinator). The curriculum will familiarize participants with many Patrol policies and procedures, utilizing teaching techniques similar to those experienced by troopers attending the Missouri State Highway Patrol Law Enforcement Academy in Jefferson City. These sessions will cover traffic stops, crash investigation, firearms familiarization, marine operations, and many other aspects of the Patrol.

The Patrol is accepting applications for the Community Alliance Program through September 15, 2020. There is no cost to participate in the program. Selection of the 20 participants will be on a first come, first served basis and will be made following an evaluation of an application form and a criminal record check. Any parties interested in participating in the program can contact Trooper Sam Carpenter at 417-895-6767 ext. 3448.

Too many people die in traffic crashes each year in Missouri. The choices you make when you're behind the wheel matter. Make good choices, so you'll never have to say, "If I could just go back ..."

Purdy June 2020 School Board Meeting

Mary Hagens

New employees, summer school attendance, gym floor replacement, and budget matters were the focus of the June 22nd Purdy Board of Education meeting.

After the initial closed executive meeting, the Board went into its regular session to approve the minutes, financial reports, bills, and administrative reports and to share a note of thanks from the Brown family.

Despite the COVID-19 break, Summer School attendance was very close to that of previous years.

Superintendent Mindi Gates said, "It was great having kids back in our building!"

Seated classes for grades K-6 and credit recovery for high school students went well.

Superintendent Gates updated the Board on the insurance replacement of the gym floor. Due to moisture damage, swelling and splitting had occurred in several areas of the 46-year-old floor. The project should be completed by the beginning of August.

In new business, the Board voted to employ Victoria Taylor, 5th grade, and Madeline Basham, 7-12 band. They approved extra duty assignments for Mica Propps, Mackenzie Cormier, and Madeline Basham.

Additionally, the Board approved zeroing out the Fund 2 balance at the end of Fiscal Year 2020, transferring $299,940 from Fund 1 to Fund 4, and amending the 2019-2020 working budgets to actuals after final transactions. Board members voted to amend the 2019-

2020 PDC budget, spending 50 percent of the required 1 percent for Professional Development, due to the COVID-19 Wellness Break. The Bond Proceeds account was closed, and the 2020-2021 preliminary budget was approved.

Important upcoming events include the next regular board meeting on July 20th at 7:00 PM, the Fiscal Year 2020 Audit on July 28th-29th, and the 2020-2021 Tax Rate Hearing on August 17th at 7:00 PM. The Board met in a brief executive session and then adjourned.

JUSTIN from FRONT

through now. We had two kids in school then, and, suddenly, neither one of us had a job. We were very thankful to be asked to go to work for Justin when they came to Cassville. They were a good company to work for.”

For Peggy Edie, the transition from making shoes to making boots simply meant more leather to clean, until she was promoted to a lead person for the packing department, a position she held until she retired.

After Justin began operation in 1981, their initial output with a new crew of em-boots a day, a number which quickly increased.

According to a record left by James Latshaw, previous plant manager, Justin was producing 2,200 pairs of boots per day in 1988. Prior to this year’s March closing, the plant was producing 4,000 pairs per week.

In July 1984, three years after Justin Brands began production in Cassville, a new 19,200 square foot warehouse was added to their facility; in 1985, part of the boot production was moved to the newly acquired building on the north end of the property which previously housed Mozark Poultry Company; then, in 1988, Justin purchased the former Garrett Manufacturing building across County Farm Road, to the west of its then-existing structure, with plans to increase its workforce and manufacturing capability.

Current plant manager, Marc McCracken, says he is devastated by the plant’s closure in Cassville.

“We’ve been like a family here,” he said. “All of the employees have gone over and above with this job. We’ve been through some tough times together. During the last big flood we had here, we had water running through the plant, but the very next week, we were meeting our quota again.”

McCracken, who’s 62 years old, isn’t sure what he’ll do next.

“I’ll be here shipping out inventory and materials for the next 90 days or so,” he said. “I have a small crew lined up to help me. After we’re finished, though, I don’t know what I’ll do. I’m not ready to retire yet. I feel like I still have some good miles left in me.”

According to 46-year-old Angie Periman, Justin offered employees severance packages, due to arrive in the mail within two days. She’s not sure what her package will consist of.

“They did offer me the opportunity to relocate,” she said, “to either El Paso or somewhere in Pennsylvania.”

Neither was an option she was willing or able to consider.

Justin Brands employed 147 people in its Cassville plant, and 171 people in its Carthage facility. Their withdrawal from these communities will spell loss for many.

Members of the public that want to listen to the committee meeting should to call 844-291-4185 or 409-207-6997 and when asked use access code 6899777. Once you dial in the operator will ask you for your name. You will then be put on hold and muted until the meeting begins at 8 a.m.

Members of the public will be allowed to make verbal comments for a portion of this meeting, a three hour period sometime early in the meeting after the call to order. In the interest of time and to give everyone a chance to be heard, each person who wants to comment will be given a maximum of two minutes to address their comments to the TRLOC. You will not be allowed to transfer time to other individuals.

Once the verbal comment period opens, the operator will ask the individuals wishing to speak to type a specific code on their phone and they will be put in a public comment queue. When it is time for the individual to make their comments, the operator will again ask for their name and unmute their line so they can make their comments. Once their two minutes are up they will be put on mute and the next caller will be identified. Anyone who's comments are "unruly" will be immediately muted and possibly removed from the call, warns the Corps.

Following the public comments, several presentations are scheduled. These include material the committee requested about the draft master and shoreline management plans, a presentation from the Corps on the review of permit and finally several discussions amongst the committee and the Corps staff about the Table Rock lake master plan, shoreline management plan and the review of permit.

All materials, powerpoints, etc. related to these presentations will be available online prior to the start of the meeting on the TRLOC website. To access the site, visit <https://go.usa.gov/xfcmr>. The Corps notes that all public comments, written or verbal, are considered a public record and will be available online sometime after the end of the meeting.

As of this publication, no more written public comments are being accepted. The final day for delivery of those comments to the Corps in Little Rock was today, July 9.

At the end of this meeting, the committee will give their final recommendations to the Corps about the draft plans. The finalized plans will be released during a fourth meeting scheduled later this summer.

The TRLOC is an independent Federal advisory committee established as directed by Section 1185(c) of the Water Resources Development Act of 2016. The committee is advisory in nature only with duties to include providing information and recommendations to the Little Rock District commander on revisions to the Table Rock Lake Master Plan and Shoreline Management Plan.

Take action for Dicamba settlement

For American farmers who have suffered damage to millions of acres of crops near those sprayed with the controversial dicamba herbicide, the time will soon be here to claim their portion of a $400 million settlement announced today, according to the law firm Peiffer Wolf Carr Kane & Conway (Peiffer Wolf).

Monsanto has agreed to pay up to $400 million to soybean producers and additional amounts to certain producers of other crops who suffered dicamba damage from dicamba sprayed over-the-top of dicamba tolerant soybeans or cotton from 2015 through 2020. Monsanto will also pay litigation expenses, attorneys' fees, claims administration expenses and other costs in addition to the amounts provided to qualified claimants. The total value of the settlement is expected to reach up to $400 million.

Producers who make a claim will be required to produce evidence of dicamba symptomology and yield loss. It is expected that the claims process will begin later this year after the 2020 harvest has been completed. Details and timing issues are still being worked out. Farmers who want to stay informed can go to <https://dicambadrift.com/>, where Peiffer Wolf will provide regular updates as the process unfolds.

Peiffer Wolf managing partner Joseph Peiffer said: "This settlement could not come at a better time for farmers. It will provide much needed resources for farmers in these difficult times and compensate them for the dicamba-related losses they have suffered. We have been fighting to get justice for the backbone of America's economy and way of life. The settlement announced today is an important step to making things right for the farmers who just want to be able to put food on the table of America and the world."

Peiffer Wolf attorney Paul Lesko, a member of the plaintiff's Executive Committee that worked out the settlement, said: "We cannot stress enough the importance for farmers who have suffered dicamba damage to step forward and make their claim. This money will not flow out automatically. Farmers with dicamba crop damage will need to go through a process to get these funds, and we encourage them to get started now." Earlier this month, the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals vacated registrations for three dicamba herbicides — including Monsanto/Bayer's Xtendimax — after finding that the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) mishandling of the registration process resulted in more than one million acres of crop damage in 18 states.

Peiffer Wolf represents dozens of farmers with dicamba damage, including many that have come forward since the landmark $265 million Bader Farms verdict in February.

In 2017, 3.6 million acres of soybeans on 2,708 farms nationwide were damaged by dicamba, according to the estimate of University of Missouri crop science professor Kevin Bradley.

One person died in a traffic crash on Friday, July 3, 2020. Samuel T. Jakubczak, 24, of Troy, died when another driver failed to yield and the motorcycle he was operating struck the driver's side of the vehicle. Jakubczak was wearing a helmet at the time of the crash, which occurred on Missouri Highway J south of Pear Tree Road in Lincoln County. Lincoln County Coroner R. Parker pronounced Jakubczak deceased at the scene. The driver of the other vehicle was not wearing a seat belt at the time of the crash; she sustained serious injuries.

Hirsch pronounced Sanders deceased at Western Missouri Medical Center. A passenger on the motorcycle sustained moderate injuries. She was wearing a helmet at the time of the crash.

Information about the remaining fatality is being withheld pending notification of next of kin. The crash occurred in Butler County.

The fatality statistics could change if late deaths occur, if other departments report fatalities, or if a fatality is determined to be caused by a medical condition rather than a traffic incident.

Barry County Health Department June Food Service Report

The Health Department divides food service code violations into two categories: Priority and Core items.

Priority items are more likely than other violations to contribute to food contamination, or illness and/or injury.

Core items although important to the overall hygiene of the establishment, do not necessarily present an immediate threat to food contamination or illness and/or injury.

A report for each establishment that is inspected shows the number of priority items, along with a short statement as to the nature of the violations. The report also shows the number of core items, but doesn't list the nature of those violations.

CHS GRADUATION from FRONT

Valedictorian Madry McCracken addresses those in attendance.

Graduate Kel Wilson shares a last laugh with high school principal, Keith Robertson.

Signaling the end of the old and onward to the new, graduates figuratively toss their hats into the ring of life.
