Charlea Estes

The Purdy R-II School District is requesting a $2.3 million bond to build a tornado shelter with the aid of FEMA grants. The bond measure will appear on the August 2, 2016, Primary ballot and the measure will not require a tax increase for citizens.

Purdy voters are being asked to approve the issue, allowing the school to utilize a portion of their debt capacity to acquire a bond. If the bond passes, there will be no additional taxes for Purdy School District residents, but rather it will allow the school to borrow the funds to get the tornado shelter constructed.

The plan for the shelter shows the building at around 8,000 square feet, and it will be able to house around 1,300 in the event of an emergency. If school is in session, the facility would be open on campus, however, since FEMA is involved, residents that live within a certain area near the shelter will also receive a letter if they are in the evacuation

Purdy Superintendent Dr. Steven Chancellor said, “My time in Purdy is short, but I’ve talked to tons of people and form what I understand, we’ve had close call after close call, and if we can provide a service to our community and our kids, then why wouldn’t be do that. First of all, we aren’t ask-

Main Street sidewalk work to begin next week

Charlea Estes

The sidewalk replacements being made to Main Street in Cassville are set to begin next week and should be completed by March 31, 2017. The project, initiated and planned by the Missouri Department of Transportation (MoDOT), is expected to cost $900,000.

MoDOT announced in mid-March of this year that the sidewalks along Main Street between 5th and 17th Streets would be replaced in order to make them ADA compliant. Since then, it has been a waiting game to wait for the final dates to be revealed.

The project stirred up different feelings from the community due to the necessity of removing some of the older senior sidewalks at Cassville Schools. The school formed a committee to come up with a replacement, and a monument is currently in the works to house all of former graduates’ names.

MoDOT released an announcement this week that the work will begin the week of July 18 and will continue until spring of next year. The first part of the project will begin near Cassville School to ensure that work is completed by the time school starts on August 17.

As the crews move forward, most of the work will be completed at the side of the road, but lane closures will be possible depending on the work area. As they move toward the downtown area, the contractor will communicate with local businesses about entrances to their shops and how to minimize the impact on local commerce as crews proceed with the project.

The contractor for the project is Branco Enterprises, Inc., of Neosho. Funding for the project comes from federal funds designated for sidewalk improvements and pedestrian crossings to be compliant with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

While work is slated to finish by March 31, 2017, weather and/or construction delays are possible.

Sheriff’s Dept. finds bomb in towed car

Charlea Estes

The Barry County Sheriff’s Department found a bomb in a car towed after a chase through Exeter. Both the driver and the passenger were arrested on drug-related charges, and after the bomb was found, both will likely face charges for the explosive device as well.

According to the affidavit of probable cause, Barry County Sheriff’s Deputy Alvin Zabala was in pursuit of a car near Farm Road 1075 in Exeter on July 7 just after midnight. The driver attempted to flee, but eventually lost control of the vehicle on private property.

Officers found a large amount of cash in the vehicle, as well as methamphetamine, small plastic bags and a scale. Jeffery B. Stout, 35, of Seligman, and Sharra D. Westlin, 34, of Verona, were arrested and charged with distribution of a controlled substance. Stout was also charged with resisting arrest by fleeing, causing substantial risk to

Barry County Republicans to host Meet the Candidates July 18

U.S. SENATOR ROY BLUNT IS FEATURED SPEAKER

Charlea Estes

The Barry County Republican party will be holding a special Meet the Republican Candidates event at Crowder College next week with U.S. Senator Roy Blunt as the featured speaker. The meeting will be held on Monday, July 18, beginning at 6 p.m., and there will be a free barbecue dinner for those attending.

The Barry County Republicans host this event annually as a way for local residents to get to know the candidates appearing on the Primary and/or General Election ballots.

David Cole, of the Barry County Republicans, said, “Statewide candidates, congressional candidates, as well as our local candidates will be there, and it’ll be a good opportunity for voters to see all of these people in one place. It’ll be a good thing.”

Senator Blunt will be the featured speaker, and each of the candidates on the national, state and local levels will be given the opportunity to address the crowd and present their positions.

Senator Blunt is a United States Senator representing Missouri since 2011. Sen. Blunt was Missouri U.S. Congressional Representative for the 7th District from 1997 to 2011. He also served as Missouri Secretary of State from 1985 to 1993.

This will not be a forum with open questions, but rather an opportunity for voters to get to know the candidates running for office.

Contested local races are the positions of Barry County Sheriff and Barry County Public Administrator. The Republican candidate who takes the August Primary will face Democrat candidate Dave Ruark in the General Election on November 8. The Public Administrator Republican candidate will be unopposed in the General Election.

Additional candidates on the Republican Primary Ballot were also invited. Contested offices are U.S. Senator, Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, and U.S. Representative for District. Unopposed in the Primary are incumbents State Treasurer Eric Schmitt, District 29 Date Senator David Sater, District 158 State Representative Scott Fitzpatrick and Northern District County Commissioner Gary Schad. Additionally, Matt F. Cupps is going to be facing incumbent Democrat Wayne Hendrix in the General Election

The August 2, 2016, Primary Election is already open for absentee voting which will conclude on Monday, August 1. Polls will be open the day of the Primary from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Yonkerville Store, Cassville Bowl burglar to serve five years

Charlea Estes

The man arrested for both the Yonkerville Store and Cassville Bowl burglaries was sentenced to five years incarceration after pleading guilty in court on June 23.

Jerry Ray Hartkopp, 54, of Wheaton, pled guilty to two counts of possession of a controlled substance, three counts of burglary in the second degree, one count of theft of a credit device, one count of property damage in the first degree and two counts of theft/stealing of $500 to $25,000 in value.

Hartkopp's first charge of possession of a controlled substance came from an investigation of his home in March 2016. When officers arrived, Hartkopp's girlfriend, Marsha Branham, was attempting to get rid of drugs by flushing them down the toilet. Hartkopp was charged with possession of methamphetamine for the drugs found in his apartment.

Hartkopp was also charged with breaking into the Yonkerville Store in Monett and stealing $175 in cash, a collection of collectible coins and credit cards and doing $1,000 worth of damage during the break in on March 27, 2016.

When Hartkopp was booked into the Barry County Jail for other crimes, he was wearing the same jacket he was wearing when he broke into Ziggy's Cafe in Monett on March 7. The security footage at Ziggy's showed Hartkopp. He stole over $5,000 in cash from the cafe from the safe and cash register, as well as damaging the ATM and stealing an unknown amount of money from it.

Finally, the Cassville Police Department tied Hartkopp to the Cassville Bowl burglary on March 5, 2016, where he threw a rock through the glass door, damaged vending machines to steal change, stole bank bags containing $544, as well as tools, two bowling balls and a box of gift cards to the bowling alley.

Hartkopp was sentenced to five years on each of the theft/stealing charges, burglary charges, credit theft charge and possession charges. He was sentenced to three years on the property damage charge, but all of his sentences were set to run concurrently, so he is to serve five years incarceration with the Department of Corrections overall.

Following the case, the vehicle Stout was driving was towed by Brice's Towing of Cassville. The Sheriff's Department executed a search on the vehicle, and Detective Doug Henry said he found a bomb in the backseat.

Henry said, "While searching, I saw an item in the back seat with black tape and wires. I started to remove the tape, and I could tell it was an explosive."

The Barry County Sheriff's Department enlisted the assistance of the Bentonville, Ark., Bomb Squad and the Cassville Fire Department to get the bomb secured.

As of time of press, additional charges have not been filed against Stout or Westlin of the explosive device, but Barry County Prosecuting Attorney Amy Boxx anticipates charges for unlawful possession of an explosive device to be filed against the pair by the end of the week. Stout and West-lin are each being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of $40,000 bonds.

Washburn woman's kidnapper sentenced to more time for Barry County charges

Charlea Estes

Mathew Miller, 22, of Eagle Rock, was sentenced to more time for Barry County charges related to the kidnapping of a Washburn woman in January 2014 and a drug conspiracy at the Barry County Jail in 2015.

Miller was one of two brothers who pled guilty to kidnapping the Washburn woman, putting her in the trunk of her car, stealing from her bank account and then pushing her down a hill and abandoning her car in the Roaring River arm of Table Rock Lake.

Miller's more serious charges originated in McDonald County where the woman was abducted from, but he pled guilty to felonious restraint and tampering with a motor vehicle in Barry County and was sentenced to seven years incarceration on each charge.

After being arrested for the kidnapping, Miller racked up additional charges for his role in a drug conspiracy where he and another inmate convinced a jailer in Barry County to bring marijuana to them. He was also charged with escaping with another inmate from the McDonald County Jail, as well.

Miller was sentenced to seven years incarceration for his role in the drug conspiracy and another four years for the escape from the McDonald County Jail.

Some of Miller's sentences are to run concurrently, but he will serve at least 17 years for his crimes.

CREATIVE WAYS TO CUT COLLEGE COSTS

So what can prospective college students do to avoid graduating without tens of thousands of dollars in debt? The answer might not be so difficult.

- Apply to tuition-free schools. Many students and parents might be surprised to learn that there are several tuition-free schools. Admittance to these schools is competitive, but students considering equally competitive, high-tuition alternatives might make strong candidates for admission to tuition-free schools.
- Apply to fixed-tuition schools. If tuition-free schools are not an option, students can save money by applying for admittance to fixed-tuition schools. Such schools guarantee that the tuition students pay in their freshman year will not increase during the ensuing three years. (Note: Tuition may increase if a student needs a fifth year of schooling.) That can lead to considerable savings, as many schools' tuitions increase dramatically in just four years.
- Begin at a two-year college. Two-year colleges typically charge considerably lower tuitions than four-year colleges and universities. Students who want to save money may benefit by enrolling in a two-year college out of high school and getting all of their prerequisite courses out of the way at a more budget-friendly cost. When considering this option, make sure credits at the two-year college fully transfer to the four-year school students hope to enroll in after earning their associate's degrees.

- Remain in-state for undergraduate degrees. In-state tuition at public universities remains a considerable bargain over out-of-state tuition or tuition at private universities. Students planning to do postgraduate work might benefit by enrolling in in-state public universities and saving their money to finance their postgraduate educations. Students who hope to attend a public university in a state that borders their home state may be eligible for a border waiver, which grants them in-state tuition even though they attended high school outside of the state.

 Attending college has never been more expensive, but students and their parents can explore various options that can help reduce the cost of college tuition.

BOND from FRONT

ing for a tax increase. We can meet our goals without raising taxes. Two, it allows us to continue on our little master building plan that is purposeful. it's part of a real vision of what education in Purdy looks like. The bond helps us make it a multipurpose building and address a ton of our needs.”

The FEMA grant for the building will cover 75 percent of the base costs of a storm shelter, however, the school wants to use the additional funding to make the building more multipurpose. Instead of a “box,” the building will be converted into a dual purpose storm shelter and performing arts center.

The bond will also make it possible to have a new preschool, new parking and a new band/choir room. It is yet to be determined what the seating capacity of the performing arts center will be until plans are finalized.

Dr. Chancellor said, “We can build a box and wait for the tornado to come, or we can use a bond and use that building every single day and the tornado shelter is available to us.”

The building is to be constructed in the open area between the playground and existing preschool with the lobby facing Highway C.

Dr. Chancellor added that the preschool has been a long-term goal for the district. He said, “We identified that our preschool was 20 years from being condemned. It all started with how to get a preschool. Well, if we get a FEMA building, we can have a preschool. We have a waiting list for kids to get into our preschool, and we’ll be able to expand.”

While there is not a set time line for the project, it will happen if the bond is successfully passed and the FEMA paperwork is approved. The school anticipates a six-month construction window once the project formally begins.

Other schools in the district have undertaken similar projects in recent years. Cassville Schools has two FEMA shelters, one near the elementary, intermediate and middle schools, and one near the high school. Wheaton voters passed a bond measure to build a FEMA shelter earlier this year in April with funds anticipated to be distributed in August.

The exact wording on the August 2 ballot reads:

“Shall Purdy R-II School District, Barry County, Missouri, issue its general obligation bonds in the amount of $2,300,000 for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, improving, furnishing and equipping school facilities, including but not limited to (1) construction of a multipurpose facility qualifying as a FEMA storm shelter, contingent upon receipt of a 75% FEMA grant for the facility, and (2) to the extent funds are available, adding classrooms to existing buildings? Approval of this proposition is estimated to result in no tax increase over the existing debt service levy of $0.73 per one hundred dollars of assessed valuation of real and personal property.”

A ‘yes’ vote will allow the school to take out a bond for the project, and a ‘no’ vote will deny the school to take out the bond. No taxes are anticipated to be raised with the measure.

Absentee voting for the August 2 Primary is currently open and will close Monday, August 1. The polls will be open for voting Tuesday, August, 2, 2016, from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m.

For more information on the issue, go to: <https://sites.google.com/a/purdyk12.com/purdy-bond-2016/>. The website also has a list of business and community partners who endorse the project that is being updated regularly.

School representatives will be available on Saturday, July 16, at the Purdy Festival to answer questions about the measure.

Missouri girls qualify at Olympic Trials

Sweatfest slays state standards

Henningson gets hole-in-one

Lee Stubblefield

While Emma Coburn, the third-ranked women's steeplechaser in the world, won as expected at the Olympic Trials in Eugene, Oregon, on Thursday night, a pair of Missouri girls stole the show and the other two Olympic qualifying spots. Nixa's Courtney Frerichs and St. Louis native Colleen Quigley placed second and third, respectively, to earn spots on the USA national team for the Rio Olympics.

Coburn led most of the race, cruising home in the fifth-fastest time ever for an American woman in the 3K steeplechase event, 9:17.48. Frerichs was a distant fourth entering the gun lap, but out-kicked Quigley over the final 300 meters to take second.

Frerichs finished in 9:20.92 to 9:21.29 for Quigley.

The two Missouri girls approached the final straight-away in a virtual dead heat along with Stephanie Garcia. But Garcia clipped the last barrier and fell, while Frerichs and Quigley chased Coburn to the finish line.

The time was a monster PR for Frerichs, who set the NCAA 3K steeplechase record this season with a 9:24.41.

In the men's steeplechase event, former College Heights distance dynasty standout Caleb Hoover barely missed qualifying for the final by .10 seconds, running 8:37.7 in his preliminary heat on Monday.

Earlier, in an event not emphasized by the media, two other Missouri girls punched their ticket to the Olympics. Gwen Berry and Deanna Price both qualified in the hammer throw finals on Wednesday. Berry took the silver medal with a throw of 239-9, and Price claimed the bronze, also throwing 239-9 with her best effort.

Finally, Brittany Borman of De Soto earned a spot in the Olympics for the second time, placing third in the discus event on Saturday with a throw of 185-6.

Lee Stubblefield

On a hot and muggy evening at Strafford, state standards tumbled like dominoes as many of Missouri's best road racers turned out for an assault on the record books on Saturday. The bulk of the records fell in the 2-Mile, where two dozen single-age records were eclipsed.

From 6-year old Todd Lucas of Springfield to 68-year old Ron Boyer of Fair Grove, new state marks piled up at an amazing rate. Part of the reason for the record harvest was the near-flat out-and-back course. Another factor, alluded to in an earlier running blog, is the lack of certified courses for this distance.

While neither the men's or women's overall state records fell, the race was arguably the largest single-race treasure trove in Missouri road racing history.

One of the highlights of the 2-mile event was the matchup of elite masters runners John Howland, 67, of Jefferson City, and Henri Coeme, 63, of Neosho. These two have simply defied age and have retained excellent sprint speed well beyond the abilities of most of their contemporaries.

After running side by side for nearly a mile and a half, Howland surged ahead when Coeme suffered a severe cramp. While Howland flew home in 13:00, Coeme shut it down and jogged in to avoid further injury. Even at that, he still recorded a new single-age record with his 14:22.

I was no match for Howland and normally would not be for Coeme, but I was also in a different age-category. My 13:47 2-mile record for M60 probably won't last long, but it at least raised the bar for future runners.

My claim to fame with this run? I now hold single age records for the 2 Mile, the shortest distance recognized in the Missouri record book and for the 50 mile, the longest distance recognized. I also have a few in between, but the bookends represent a total approach to the sport.

But if I was really fast, I would just run the 100. Meters, not miles.

See you at the starting line.

The Cassville Women's Golf Association hit the course last Thursday with their game of the day being a scramble. Nineteen women showed up a morning of golf.

First place was won by the team of Penny Hall, Jeanette Skorupski and Pam Gipple. Second place went to Lynn Blanke, Becky Henningson, Susie Jacobs and Barb Vesely. Third place was won by Janie Watson, Deb York and Kay Haupert.

Becky Henningson made a hole-in-one on hole #17.

Dr. Roark and Rotary Club work to help foster families with school supplies

Above, Hailey and Colton Roark, test out the school supply shopping tables set up at Roark Family Health in Cassville before they are open to area foster families.

Julie Pruitt

Dr. Lisa Roark, of Cassville, is dedicated to her community and works hard to address area problems. She is a member of the Rotary Club of Cassville, owns Roark Family Health and is a foster parent. Since she is active in the community, she recognized a need of foster parents in Barry County and is working to help.

School is going to start soon, and school supplies will be on the list, which is a burden on the family budget. As a member of the Rotary Club of Cassville, she presented the problem and they worked to resolve it by providing supplies for area foster families.

The Rotary Club

donated $750 ,and Dr. Roark contributed her own funds to buy school supplies for foster children in Barry County. Dr. Roark posted the information on Facebook and sent out about 50 letters to area foster parents notifying them of this great opportunity. She obtained the school supply lists from the area schools and stocked her office with glue, markers, Kleenex, spiral notebooks, composition books, art boxes, scissors and even school bags.

Her office is open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays for foster families to pick up supplies.

If you have any questions, contact Lisa at roark-familyhealth@gmail.com or call the office at 847-1111.

Viola man arrested for motorhome burglary

Charlea Estes

A Viola man was arrested and charged this week with breaking into a motorhome on Highway 39 near Shell Knob. According to the affidavit of probable cause, Harley James Thiele, 21, of Viola, broke into a motorhome and stole $1,700 worth of property.

On June 27 during the nighttime hours, Thiele allegedly broke into a 2016 Freedom Elite motorhome near Shell Knob. In the process, Thiele caused over $2,000 worth of damage and stole $1,700 worth of property, including a flat screen TV, sound systems, surge protector, grill and lanterns, according to the report.

Thiele was apprehended after a pursuit, and the stolen goods were found in his vehicle. In an interview with Barry County Sheriff Mick Epplery and detective Robert Evenson, Thiele confessed to the crime.

Thiele is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $15,000 bond. He is being charged with property damage in the first degree, burglary in the second degree and stealing of $500 to $25,000.

Teen injured when vehicle flipped on WW

Charlea Estes

A Verona teen was left with moderate injuries when she flipped in her Chevrolet HHR earlier this week. Ulyssa L. Martinez, 18, was headed eastbound on Route WW south of Aurora when she crashed.

According to the Missouri State Highway Patrol crash report, Martinez was about three miles south of Aurora when she traveled off the right side of the roadway, over corrected, went off the left side of the roadway, overturned and struck a fence. The 2008 HHR was totaled and came to rest on its top.

Martinez was transported to Mercy Hospital in Springfield with moderate injuries. She was wearing a seatbelt at the time of the crash.

Shell Knob seniors mosey to the cowboy picnic

The Crossing Center Senior Center in Shell Knob had loads of good food and tons of entertainment at the CCSC Cowboy Picnic last Friday. The Turkey Mountain 3 band played bluegrass up until Johnny Lonestar was ready to perform for the attendees. In addition to the performances by special guests, several awards were presented at the picnic:

Myanza Kennedy won best dressed cowgirl. The watermelon seed spitting competition was intense, but in the end and undoubtedly after much practice, George Clute took first place with a watermelon seed which sailed 14 foot before coming in for a landing. Jim McCarthy took second with a 10 and 1/2 foot seed sailing and Rita Goodhead took third at seven feet.

Johnny Lonestar also performed at the CCSC Cowboy Picnic. Johnny Lonestar performed rope tricks, whips and fast gun swinging. See more of Johnny at: www.trickropingstar.com.

Man injured when truck overturned near Purdy

Charlea Estes

A Monett man was injured last week when the Mack truck he was driving ran off the roadway and overturned. According to the Missouri State Highway Patrol crash report, Harold Burns, 44, of Monett, received moderate injuries from the crash. The report stated that Burns was driving west-bound on Farm Road 1035 when the wreck occurred. He failed to keep the 2013 Mack truck pulling a 2001 Warren trailer in a single lane and ran off the roadway where he overturned. Burns was transported to Mercy Hospital in Springfield for moderate injuries. The Mack truck was totaled. Burns was wearing a seatbelt at the time of the crash.

Barry County Health Department June Food Service Report

The Health Department divides food service code violations into two categories: Priority and Core items.

Priority items are more likely than other violations to contribute to food contamination or illness and/or injury.

Core items, although important to the overall hygiene of the establishment, do not necessarily present an immediate threat to food contamination or illness and/or injury.

A report for each establishment that is inspected shows the number of priority items, along with a short statement as to the nature of the violations. The report also shows the number of core items, but does not list the nature of those violations.

Local author signs multi-book deal with publisher

Charlea Estes
A long-standing Ozarks tradition culminated into a five-book deal for local Cassville author Prix Gautney. Publisher Oghma Creative Media out of Arkansas offered Gautney a five-book deal for a young adult fantasy series called “Evershade” plus an additional book deal for a western novel titled “The Cochetopa Kid.”

“Evershade” came about after something her son told her years ago. Gautney said, “Each autumn, we harvest black walnuts, and one year, the walnuts began to fall weeks before the huller opened to buy them. We hoarded the walnuts in an enormous mound at the corner of our house, and I told him that we were the keepers of the walnuts. He said that we were the ‘Walnut Keepers.’ I thought ‘The Walnut Keepers’ would make a good title, so I stashed it away in my mind for a couple of years, eventually developing an entire world around the one idea.”

While Gautney didn’t end up sticking with the title and instead went with “Evershade,” the premise stayed the same. The story is about woodland creatures who made Evershade their home, and those creatures are the Walnut Keepers.

Gautney’s writing has been a long-standing part of her life. She is a part of a writers’ group called Mid South Writers. The group attends a conference in Eureka Springs, Ark., each fall, and that is where she was offered the deal.

Gautney signed up to pitch the story of Evershade and one other to Oghma. Last fall, she also won first prize in the western category sponsored by western author Dusty Richards, leading her to get another contract. In all, Gautney will be writing five books in the “Evershade” series and one for the western novel “The Cochetopa Kid.”
The first two chapters of “The Cochetopa Kid” were published in the magazine “Saddlebag Dispatches” last month and can be read online at www.saddlebagdispatches.com.

Gatuney’s first novel in the Evershade series is titled “Season of Crows” and will be available through Amazon and Barnesandnoble.com on July 22. Some copies will be available locally, but those locations are yet to be announced.

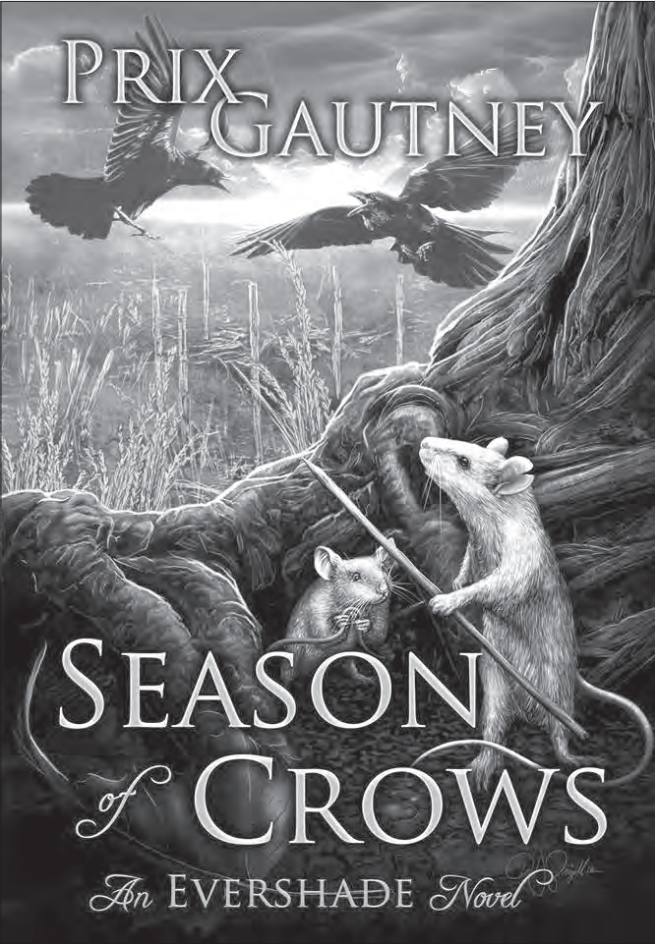

Local contributions also helped to make “Evershade” possible, including an illustrated map and development of a complete language for the turtles by local artist Ben DeVore. Springfield artist David A. Frizell did the cover art.

Gautney lives in Cassville and has two children, Neferiti, 14, and Quixote, 12.

Gautney will be discussing her book at the Cassville Library on Monday, July 25, at 7 p.m. as part of the summer reading program.

Gautney

The first book in a five-book series “Evershade: Season of Crows” will be available beginning July 15.

Season of Crows teaser:
When a banished mousemaid and her crippled companion race across a field in the dark of night to warn Evershade of the impending crow attack, Ash and the other Walnut Keepers must choose to stay and fight for their beloved home—or flee for their very lives.
But how can a peaceful, weaponless society of woodland creatures ever hope to defeat the murderous crows? In the midst of the worst drought in Evershade history, Ash and the others must call on their talents and their allies in neighboring kingdoms if they are to have any hope of surviving the coming war.
And if they survive, what will they do when the water runs out for good?

Free physicals offered at Cassville, Aurora Mercy

Student athletes in Aurora and Cassville will be ready to compete even before school starts this fall. Mercy will once again be offering free, convenient physicals in the coming weeks.

On July 22, Mercy Hospital Aurora and the Missouri State University (MSU) Physician Assistant Program will provide the free service to Aurora students from grades 3 to 12, including Mighty Mites, junior high and high school athletes. Students should be joined by parents or guardians at the following location:

- Friday, July 22, from 8:30 a.m. to noon, and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. at Aurora High School gym, located at 305 W. Prospect Street, in Aurora.

“These are good for a year, so regardless of what sport your athlete will playing in the months ahead, we’ve got them covered,” said Dr. Jeffery Diehl, one of several Mercy physicians who plan to be on site for the physicals. “Usually the exams run about $20-30, so we’re happy to put that money back in our parents’ pockets before back-to-school season strikes.”

Mercy’s team effort with MSU, now in its third year, will also be a learning opportunity. The university will bring dozens of physician assistant students to perform the physicals for hands-on experience. Mercy physicians will offer their expertise to finalize all physicals.

Starting the following week, free physicals will be offered for Mighty Mites football players, who are joined by their parents or guardians – at the following location:

- Saturday, August 6, from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. in the rehab department (basement floor) of Mercy Hospital Cassville, located at 94 Main Street, in Cassville.

“These Mighty Mites physicals aren’t just free again, they’re also convenient,” said Dr. Joe Himes, a Mercy emergency room physicians who also plans to be on site. “We’re honored to roll up our sleeves to keep our young athletes in their best shape, year after year.”

In 2015, Mercy provided free physicals to more than 200 student athletes across Aurora and Cassville communities. For additional information, contact Tammie Cantu at Tammie.Cantu@mercy.net.

“Alas, my master! How shall we do? And he answered, fear not: for they that be with us are more than they that be with them. And Elisha prayed, and said, Lord, I pray thee open his eyes, that he ay see. And the Lord opened the eyes of the young man and he saw: and, behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire round about Elisha.” 2nd Kings 6:15-17.

In 2nd Kings Chapter 6 a formidable enemy surrounds Elisha with the intent and apparent ability to capture him. Elisha’s servant saw nothing but defeat. That is still a problem today. When we look at the world through the eyes and logic of the world it appears that Christianity is under attack by formidable foes. The spoils of the victory of the world are the works of the flesh;adultery, hatred, uncleanness, envy, ets. (Galatians 5:19-21). These traits appear to control our society. It is easy to come discouraged, as did Elisha’s servant.

However, Elisha looked at the circumstances with a godly logic and confidence. He saw God’s strength and so can we; “Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, that he that is in the world,; 1st John 4:4. God is telling us that when we use His logic and lean upon His strength we can be confident of the ultimate spiritual victory. Please accept our invitation to worship with The Mill Street Church of Christ as we live our lives confident in God’s strength, protection and guidance.

Extension office offers simple tips save water

Farmers and rural residents can use simple tips to conserve water in the home during drought, says University of Missouri Extension water quality specialist Bob Broz.

Many farmers and rural residents rely on private water wells. Groundwater levels may have little time to recharge when there is low precipitation and high demand.

Wells close together may feed from the same water source, known as an aquifer. Water outages, sudden drops in water pressure or surges, and cloudy or heavily silted water may be signs that your well is not keeping up with demand, Broz says.

Users may also experience problems with valves, waterlines, pumps, well casings and pressure tanks during drought. "It is important to work with a licensed pump installer and well driller to properly diagnose the problem and decide what corrective action to take," Broz says.

The best approach is to save water by simple measures in the home, he says. Two-thirds of water used in the average home is in the bathroom.

Talk with family members and visitors about ways to conserve water:

- Turn water off when brushing your teeth. This saves about 2 gallons of water. Use a glass to rinse.
- Turn water off when shaving. This saves 4 gallons of water. Plug the sink and use as little water as possible to wet and rinse your face and clean the razor and sink.
- Don't use the toilet as a waste can. Toilets use 3 to 6 gallons per flush. Put your trash in the trash can instead of flushing it down the toilet.
- Take short showers. Limit showers to about four

- to five minutes. A 10-minute shower uses about 55 gallons of water. Replace old shower heads with new high-efficiency ones.
- Taking baths instead of showers can save water if you don't fill the tub with more than 25 to 40 gallons.
- Kitchens are another area where water is often wasted, Broz says. Automatic dishwashers use 9-12 gallons per load. Run the dishwasher only when completely full. Dishwashers may actually use less water than hand washing, Broz says. If you hand wash dishes, use a container of rinse water rather than rinsing dishes under a running faucet.
- Garbage disposals use about 2 gallons of water each time they run. Compost your waste instead. Don't leave the faucet running when you clean vegetables.
- Automatic washing machines use about 45 gallons of water per load, Broz says. Run full loads or adjust the water level properly.
- Also, clean your sidewalk and driveway with a broom when it's hot outside. Washing your driveway can take 60-120 gallons of water.
- Watering your lawn and shrubs also takes large amounts of water, so do it wisely and at the right time of day.

For more than 100 years, University of Missouri Extension has extended university-based knowledge beyond the campus into all counties of the state. In doing so, extension has strengthened families, businesses and communities.

THE CLEAR ALTERNATIVE TO BRACES

The low-down

You no longer have to straighten your teeth the old-fashioned way, with metal braces. The Invisalign Teen™ system lets you do it the modern, hygienic way. Your new smile is created with the most innovative technology – a series of clear aligners that are custom-fit to your teeth.

The Aligners. . .

- snap on your teeth easily.
- are comfortable and practically invisible.
- allow for your growing permanent teeth.
- gently and continuously move your teeth in small increments.
- are worn for about two weeks. Then you swap them for a new pair.
- have a Blue Dot Wear Indicator; designed to show an estimation of wear-time. The dot is designed to fade to clear over a two-week period if you wear (20 to 22 hours everyday) your aligners properly.
- can be removed for eating, brushing, and flossing, or going to a special event.

Tips for finding a great summer rental

The growth of lodging websites such as Airbnb and VRBO has given travelers more temporary housing options than ever before. Such sites may appeal to those vacationers who want a taste of home away from home without having to pay potentially exorbitant hotel prices.

The cost savings of vacation rentals can be considerable, providing more bang for budget-conscious travelers' bucks. But vacationers who have never strayed from the hotel/resort path may be hesitant to dip their toes into the vacation rental waters. While travelers accustomed to staying in luxury hotels may need to adjust their expectations when booking vacation rentals, the following are some ways to find a great vacation rental that suits you and your fellow vacationers.

· Make a list of your lodging priorities. Popular lodging and vacation rental websites offer an array of options, so make a list of your lodging priorities so you can find the right fit without having to peruse hundreds of listings. If you want to save money by cooking your own meals, then a home with a full kitchen may be your biggest priority. If beach access tops your list, then you can save time by searching for oceanfront homes or condos. If saving money is your biggest priority, then expand your search to properties further away from coastal areas or homes, but are within walking distance of local nightlife.
What you sacrifice with regard to view and convenience you'll recoup in cost savings.

· Don't pull the trigger too quickly. Low prices may tempt prospective travelers, especially those accustomed to staying in expensive hotels, to book lodging before they fully vet a property. Fight the temptation to book a rental before you have done your homework. Learn as much about the rental as you can before booking your stay. Read reviews of the property and carefully examine the property listing so you know exactly what you are getting. Carefully examine any photos included in the listing, and try to confirm that the property is not in foreclosure, which may pose problems when you're ready to embark on your trip. Find out as much as you can about the property owner as well. Some are renter-friendly while others may have poor reputations.

· Determine who handles any potential problems that arise during your stay. Unlike a hotel stay when you can simply call the front desk and request a maintenance staffer be sent up to address any problems that arise in your room, you may be on your own in a vacation rental should the refrigerator go on the fritz or the air conditioning unit suddenly stop working. Determine how problems are handled before booking a rental. Rental homes that are part of a homeowners' association may have on-site maintenance ready to respond to any issues, while homes offered by private homeowners may come with no such benefits.

· Book early if you're attending a specific event. Hotels book up quickly on busy weekends, and so do vacation rentals. Vacation rental prices fluctuate just like the cost of hotel rooms, so begin your search early if you are traveling to attend a festival
