Charlea Estes

This Saturday, July 15, marks the sixth annual Purdy Festival. The event will feature a 5K, car show, free rides for kids, livestock show and plenty of food and entertainment.

Each year, the Purdy Festival is held in the city park with events spanning the entire day, the earliest beginning at 7:30 a.m. and things winding down around 4 p.m.

Organizer Renae Neill said, "We are amazed and blessed by the continual outpouring of support from area businesses and individuals."

With food, music, crafters and vendors and more, the festival is always a fun time for the whole family.

Four events are starting early in the morning: the FFA Livestock show, a 5K, a softball tournament and a car show. The FFA Livestock show starts at 7:30 a.m. with the weigh-in for market hogs. Then, showing starts at 8 a.m. The Livestock show will continue throughout the day with lamb, sheep, dairy cattle, goats, beef cattle and broilers.

Again this year, organizers are asking people with special needs to join the Livestock show at 11:30 a.m. For more information, call (417) 489-7893.

Memorial cross placed in honor of fallen Barry County officer Carl Cosper, Jr.

Charlea Estes

A memorial cedar cross has been placed at the site of a car crash that took the life of Barry County Sheriff's Master Sergeant Carl Cosper, Jr., who died while on duty on April 7 of this year. The cross was made by his partner at the Sheriff's Department, Randy Kalbaugh.

Kalbaugh placed the cross along the road where Cosper wrecked while headed to a domestic dispute in Seligman. Kalbaugh said, "I wanted to do something for Carl. I know he would have done it for anybody else. So I wanted to put a memorial cross at the scene of the accident."

Cosper worked for the Barry County Sheriff's Department for ten years with six of those while Kalbaugh's partner. Kalbaugh said, "Carl has touched a lot of people's lives, and it was something to give back to him."

While the memorial was Kalbaugh's idea, it became a group effort. Fellow Barry County Sheriff's officers contributed: Terry Meek and his wife, Katie, gave mulch to keep the weeds down around the cross, Scott Salkill donated the red cedar for Kalbaugh to make it, and Chris Hutson donated the spike to drive it into the ground.

Cedar being chosen for the cross was no accident. Cosper was known for his love of red cedar and regularly made cedar chests to donate for an annual raffle to raise money for the Sheriff's Department Angel Tree program, which gives underprivileged children gifts for Christmas. He also made a sign for the Sheriff's department while Mick Epperly was in office, which Cosper gave to Epperly when he retired, as well as a frame with Epperly's picture.

Epperly said, "He took care of people. He was very sincere about it, did what he could to help them."

Epperly added, "He made that sheriff's sign, and he hung it out by the door while I was there. He told me, 'When you retire, I want you to take it with you.' And I still hang it here at the house. I see Carl every time I walk by it."

He added that he also has a cedar chest at the foot of his bed that Cosper made.

Kalbaugh said, "He was always making stuff for deputies here. He enjoyed doing those things for people."

So when Kalbaugh decided to make something in honor of Cosper, he put in a lot of heart and thought in how it should be done.

The red cedar cross placed along Highway 37 has Cosper's badge number, 76, at the top, a blue line in honor of law enforcement, the memorial pin from Cosper's funeral and the numbers engraved of the officers who worked with him over the years.

Kalbaugh said, "It was my son Cameron's idea to put 76 at the top, which was his number. Then we have his end of watch (EOW), April 7. After I stained it, my wife came out and said, 'Why don't you put a blue line for law enforcement?' And she brought out Carl's memorial pin from the funeral, so I made a circle and got it embedded in the cross, too."

It was a lot of effort, but Kalbaugh did it because he felt it was right. He took the cross to the Sheriff's office

Cassville to seek engineering firm to move forward with water, sewer overhaul

Charlea Estes

The City of Cassville is moving forward with seeking an engineering firm to oversee the overhaul of the water and sewer systems. The project is made possible after Cassville residents passed an $11 million bond in April to do major reconstruction and repairs to both the water and sewer systems to be in compliance with the Department of Natural Resources' requirements.

City Administrator Steve Walensky approached the City Council on Monday night, July 10, asking to move forward with a request for qualifications from engineering firms that would be able to meet the city's requirements. Walensky said he would like to approach the council with a recommendation at the September City Council meeting.

Walensky's timeline is outlined in the request for qualifications. The request will be issued on July 31 with proposals due to the city by August 25. After conducting interviews and reviewing the proposals, Walensky plans to make a recommendation to council on September 18.

The engineering firm will oversee all aspects of the project, and as previously discussed, the city wants to plan the water and sewer construction in conjunction with the city's use of transportation tax funds to fix roads. Walensky said, "We don't want to fix the same road twice, so the goal has always been to work the water, sewer and streets in conjunction with each other."

He added, "We still have the fact that we

Golden man injured after ejected from motorcycle

Charlea Estes

Golden man Keith R. Hauck, 57, was injured after being ejected from his motorcycle on Sunday, July 9.

According to the Missouri State Highway Patrol crash report, Hauck was driving westbound on MO 112 three miles south of Cassville when the crash occurred around 11:40 p.m. Hauck was driving a 2001 Harley Davidson Sportster when he ran off the roadway and overturned. Hauck was ejected from the motorcycle, sustaining moderate injuries.

Hauck was transported to Mercy Hospital in Cassville for treatment. He was not wearing a helmet at the time of the crash.

The motorcycle was extensively damaged and towed from the scene by Brice’s Towing, of Cassville.

will always be looking at all three projects in unison.”

The other aspect of the project that is currently in the planning stages is the funding for the bond. Walensky said he is looking at the Federal, State and private sectors to determine who will issue the city the bond. He said, “The USDA has us locked in at 2 percent, but I’m also working with the State Revolving fund through DNR and DA. Davidson, our financial advisor, to look at the private sector. I want to get the best transaction I can get for our community.”

He added, “I’m hoping they all come together, because I can’t do anything until I get the funding for the city. We’re hoping to get those answers this month, and I’m hoping that by August, I’ll have an answer to the financial question for the council.”

As far as the sewer and water repairs, Walensky said there will be a better idea of the timeline of when work will begin once an engineering firm is selected and funding is secured.

The primary reason the city pursued the issue was to be compliant with an agreement made with the Missouri Department of Natural Resources. The city agreed to fix the wastewater treatment issue, which was that untreated water was being released in Flat Creek, usually due to heavy flooding and rain, voluntarily through an agreement in 2011. With extensions granted in 2015, the city was faced with a $5.4 million sewer repair issue, but no funding to complete it until the bond passed yesterday.

The sewer project will involve replacing most of the aging main line, which is allowing water to infiltrate the lines and causing an excess of ground and rain water in the sewer system to be treated at the wastewater plant. The plant is not equipped to treat the additional influx of water through leaks, which is what was leading to untreated water being released into the Flat Creek.

The city added water system repairs to the bond issue, as well. The proposed $4.9 million water system plan will involve increasing pipe size and looping dead-end lines to prevent stagnant water that has to be pumped out.

Walensky said, “We’re concentrating on the sewer side first because of our requirement from DNR on the I/I compliance.”

Motorcycles collide near Roaring River injuring three

Charlea Estes

Three people were injured when two motorcycles collided a mile north of Roaring River on Saturday, July 8. According to the Missouri State Highway Patrol crash report, one of the motorcycles ran off the roadway and then struck the other motorcycle.

Around 8:15 p.m. on Saturday, Dale G. Tanner, 50, of Cassville, was driving a 2005 Honda VTX motorcycle northbound on Highway 112. Tanner ran off the roadway and was ejected from the motorcycle. After being ejected, the motorcycle reentered the roadway, striking another motorcycle, a 2015 Yamaha Roadster driven by Anthony R. Cypret, 33, of Cassville, also headed northbound.

Tanner and Anthony Cypret’s passenger, Casey D. Cypret, 30, of Cassville, were both taken to Mercy Hospital in Rogers, Ark., for moderate injuries. Anthony refused treatment for minor injuries at the scene. All riders and passenger were wearing helmets at the time of the crash.

The Honda was totaled, and the Roadster was extensively damaged. Both motorcycles were towed from the scene privately.

Did You Know
The Bible Says...
Blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and whose hope is the LORD. (Jeremiah 17:7)

Pastor: Bryan Ozburn

Words cannot express our gratitude for all the outpouring of support during the loss of Rocky Mills. We loved him but had no idea how many others in the community loved him too. The number of people that he touched without even knowing it has been mind-boggling. The stories that you have shared with us on how he touched your lives have helped get us through this difficult time.

Rocky was a very humble man, he would see someone that needed help or something needed done and he would just do it expecting nothing in return. He would get embarrassed when people would tell others what he had done or thank him. His talent in singing, music, and woodworking was just something he did and he didn’t understand when someone would praise him for his talents; it was no big deal, he thought. He loved God, his Family, and his Church that God blessed him with for the past five years. His family was his pride and joy and time spent with the Kids and Grandkids were times he treasured. Farmall tractor rides were expected by the Grandkids and a game of 500 out in the field was always fun.

Oh, to watch him run after the baseball was a treat or to fly a kite was also a fun time. God blessed us with a wonderful day of BBQ and family time on Memorial Day, the memories of that day will sustain us until we see him again. Thanks to all for your kind words, cards, food, paper goods, donations to the Rocky Mills Memorial Music Fund and especially your prayers. We couldn’t have made it through without the support of our wonderful community. We also would ask for your continued prayers as we travel through a lot of “Firsts” without our beloved Husband, Father, PaPa, Son and Brother.

THANK YOU

Offering cremation and offering on-site cremation are two entirely different options

When other funeral homes say they offer cremation, they use other facilities.... sometimes far away. We, on the other hand, don’t have to so much as leave the front door. Our on-site crematory is just one way we show that closeness counts.

No job too big or too small!

MEMORIAL from FRONT

and other officers engraved their numbers on it, representing those who worked with Cospers over the years.

Kalbaugh said, “When you first met Carl, he looked like this big, mean, gruff guy, and he really doesn’t take anything from anybody, just really business-only. But once you got to know him, the guy had a big heart. We dealt with a homeless guy in Exeter that found a dead turkey on the roadway. A call came out about a suspicious individual butchering a turkey.

“When we made contact, the guy told us he was homeless, had lost his job, and that he found that turkey, and he was going to butcher it and eat it. After talking to him, Carl told him to hang on a second, came back around and told me that he thought God was speaking to him. He said, ‘God is telling me to help this guy.’ He made a call, took the guy to McDonald’s to get him something to eat, and then took him to Lucky Strike where he’d already arranged for him to have a job.”

Cospers had also asked Kalbaugh to help find him a place to stay.

Kalbaugh continued, “Carl told me awhile later that he was going to go check on that guy, but he showed up at the office the next day. He told Carl he had moved into his own apartment and still had his job. He thanked him for taking the time to help him. There are so many stories like that about Carl.”

Epperly said, “Carl was a great officer, and he was a person you could always count on all the time to get projects done. He had a heart of gold.”

Cospers was also appreciative of what he had in his job and his family, as well as his comrades. Epperly said, “Once a week at least, he would come up, shake my hand, and say ‘Thank you for my job.’ He didn’t ever take it for granted. He was always loyal to the department.”

Kalbaugh said, “Once I got to know him, he was this big old teddy bear. We’ve had other deputies who couldn’t afford to purchase their own firearms, and he would collect donations. He got another deputy a utility belt. That’s just how he was.”

Kalbaugh even went a step further and was recently approved to become the Sheriff’s Department’s new firearms instructor in Cospers’ stead. He was already apprenticing under Cospers to become a concealed carry instructor, but once he died, Kalbaugh is focusing on taking Cospers’ place in the fire-

Epperly said, “I won’t ever forget him. He’ll be in our memories forever.”

On the day that Kalbaugh, Cospers’ family, and other officers placed the cross on the side of the highway, pictures were taken to commemorate the event. However, it wasn’t until later that something about those photos was a bit revealing. It was pointed out to Kalbaugh that there are two rays of sunshine in one of the photos, one shining on Carl’s mother, Sylvia, and one on the cross itself. Kalbaugh said, “That was Carl saying he approves.”

Cospers’ memorial cross is placed on Highway 37 between Washburn and Seligman at the scene of the crash.

Purdy summer school students track dinos, program droids, serve community

Second grade Summer School student Shelby Patterson poses in front of her class's T-Rex, made of toilet paper tubes.

Purdy R-2 School District concluded its kindergarten through sixth grade summer session on June 21, averaging approximately 150 students per day. This year's theme, Dino Discovery, offered students the opportunity to step into the shoes of paleontologists as they explored dinosaur types, behaviors, habitats, diets and more.

Retiring veteran teacher

Linda Patton once again took the helm of the district's technology-centered summer school section, iSchool. Patton led her third through sixth grade students in an exploration of drone and droid programming. On their final day of class, the students enjoyed a drone demonstration by local drone enthusiast Mark Jackson and his daughter, Marley. Under Jackson's guidance, the drone captured several aerial images of the school campus and the Purdy community.

New to the district's summer program this year was the Community Builders program, headed by Mrs. Melissa Horn. Fifth and sixth grade students participating in the program selected, designed and carried out a series of community service projects, including replacing the Purdy Park's picnic table tops and benches and power washing the playground equipment. Students also opted to educate the community about the story behind the park's military plane through a short video posted online. The project reached the family of Vietnam Prisoner of War and former Purdy native, Edward Estes, in whose honor the plane stands. Students wound up their project by scraping the peeling paint from the plane's base and repainting it, covering graffiti. Community Builder and fifth grade student Quincy Hartwigsen noted, "I just think it's really sad that people write and draw on the plane's base. I bet if they knew what it represented they would respect it and keep it nice." Horn's Community Builders also enjoyed hearing from several guest speakers during their session, including Purdy Mayor Bo Prock, Missouri National Guard Recruiter Terry Billingsley, Recycling Coordinator Clint Dillow and retired Purdy teacher Gerry Wass, who oversaw the establishment of the school's recycling program. Members of the Purdy Fire Protection District also lent their services to the group's playground power washing project.

Summer School Administrator Debbie Shelton, known to students as "Dino Debbie," summed up the four week adventure. "This year's summer school program was highly successful, thanks in large part to our dedicated teachers and support staff and our eager and well-behaved student body. The kids had a lot of fun learning about dinosaurs, robotics and community service. We also enjoyed an end-of-session celebration at the Monett Plaza 8 movie theatre, where we watched the recently released Cars 3. It was the perfect ending to a wonderful summer school session."

"Thank You," seems inadequate to express our deep thankfulness for Saturday. We were truly touched by the outpouring of support from the Police Officers and Firefighters who gave up their Saturday to participate in this benefit. It was overwhelming in the most amazing way to see all the hard work they put into the tournament:

from the door prizes and raffles to the fun activities for the kids. Rocky would have loved it and he would have loved listening to The Revelators throughout the afternoon. We know it was a lot of work to plan and implement this event on top of work and family, and we are truly humbled that you did. God Bless each one that had a hand in this event. A huge thank you to Cody and Brittney Stephens for thinking of us and getting this tournament together. Losing such an amazing man has been difficult, but being a part of this wonderful community has been a blessing.

God Bless You All!

Hospice Compassus to train volunteers

Cassville replacing flooded police cruiser

Hospice Compassus will be conducting training for persons interested in becoming non-medical volunteers in Barry and Lawrence Counties, according to Janet Gard, Executive Director. The training will be from 8:30 am. to 5 p.m. on Wednesday, July 19, at the Compassus Hospice office located at 845 Hwy 60, Ste A, in Monett.

Hospice Compassus non-medical volunteers fulfill a wide variety of patient needs. The most common need for volunteers is patient and family support. However, Hospice Compassus has developed various initiatives designed to enhance their ability to better meet the specific and unique needs of each family. These include the Dream Team, the We Honor Veterans Program, the Chaplaincy Program, and the ANGELS Program. The Dream Team assists in transforming unfulfilled dreams of hospice patients into realities; as a partner in the We Honor Veterans Program, Compassus is working to improve veterans' access to hospice and palliative care to assure that every veteran is able to receive hospice care at the time and place of need; the Chaplaincy Program gives volunteers the opportunity to focus more on the spiritual needs of patients; the ANGELS Program provides patient and family support in the last hours.

Upon completing the volunteer training on July 19, volunteers will have the option to attend the Chaplain's training and/or ANGELS training at a later date.

"The ability to visibly see the difference your gift of time makes and to feel the joy of making an emotional and spiritual connection with a family in crisis is the incentive that keeps our volunteers and staff motivated. If asked, any one of our volunteers would state they leave their patients and families with a warm and fuzzy feeling as if they received more than they had given. With this work, the blessings really do flow both ways," states Brenda Smith, Volunteer Coordinator.

"Our volunteers are asked to serve in their own geographical area and are permitted to give as little or as much time as they desire. There is no required commitment to days or time, and most needs are filled at the volunteers' discretion. In addition to patient/family support, volunteers are also needed to help out in the office, to run errands, and for simple handyman jobs," states Ms. Smith.

Opening its first hospice in 1979, Hospice Compassus is a family of community-based hospices. Their nationwide network is a vast resource, benefiting both patients and families. Hospice Compassus has a common culture around three core values: compassion, integrity, and excellence. Their primary goals are to provide the highest quality hospice care and service in every community in which they operate, and to be both the hospice provider of choice and the hospice employer of choice.

For additional information regarding Hospice Compassus, visit their website at www.hospicecompassus.com. The City of Cassville voted to accept a bid on the replacement police car for one that was totaled during severe flooding on April 28 of this year.

Cassville City's Council voted to approve a bid from Les Jacobs for a 2017 Ford Explorer for $28,600. The local bid was $296 above the State's bid, however, it requires two officers to drive to Jefferson City to pick up the State bid vehicle, costing more than the discrepancy between the two bids.

Police Chief Dana Kammerlohr said they expect to receive the new vehicle in about three months. When asked about the flooding incident she said, "An officer was trying to get from point A or point B during the flood, and he drove through a low point, sinking the car. The water was deeper than it seemed to be." The incident occurred in the Able 2 parking lot area.

She said the officer had no major disciplinary action taken against him. An insurance claim covered the replacement of the vehicle. Chief Kammerlohr added, "It was completely accidental."

During the July City Council meeting, another vehicle was voted to be disposed of, which has been in use of the Department for four years. The Dodge Charger had over 80,000 miles on it and is being released as part of the regular rotation. Chief Kammerlohr said the vehicle was replaced as part of the standard rotation and was replaced by a 2017 Ford Explorer earlier this year.

She said, "We've had the vehicle, but we had to get the equipment transferred over to the new vehicle that we could. The rest was purchased on a grant."

Chief Kammerlohr told council that she plans to pursue an online option that other police chiefs have had success with to get the best amount out of the vehicle when it sells.

During the July meeting, Chief Kammerlohr also requested to give the right of first refusal to Cassville Police Officers on their old weapons that are being discarded due to age. She said, "The firearms are 17 years old and it's time to replace them." Officers are allowed to purchase their firearm from the department for $150 if they choose. Otherwise, they will be put out for purchase.

Driver injured after hitting tree north of Eagle Rock

Charlea Estes

A driver was injured after running off the road on Route F north of Eagle Rock on Wednesday, July 5.

Jonathan E. Shelly, 33, of Merriam Woods, was driving a 1997 Ford Mustang westbound on Route F one mile north of Eagle Rock. Around 7:45 a.m., Shelly drove off the left side of the road, struck a fence and then struck a tree, according to the Missouri State Highway Patrol.

Shelly was transported by ambulance to Mercy Hospital in Cassville for moderate injuries. Shelly was not wearing a seat belt at the time of the crash.

The Mustang was totalled and towed from the scene by Brice's Towing, of Cassville.

Bus. 60 closed east of Monett for bridge replacement

The Business 60 railroad bridge in Monett will be closed for a replacement project beginning July 17.

The railroad bridge over Burlington Northern-Santa Fe railroad tracks is located on Business 60, east of Monett.

They will be replacing the current bridge with a higher and wider structure. Traffic will be detoured along U.S. Route 60 and Lawrence County Route W. to get around the project. The new bridge will no longer have a height restriction because the overhead truss system will be removed.

Brylee Wilson leads Barry County runners at Branson Firecracker races

Lee Stubblefield

Runners at the 17th annual Firecracker 5K and 10K saw the Branson Landing event turn into a steeplechase as they battled torrential rains and standing water throughout the respective races.

Cameron Byrley of Springfield was the overall champion in the 5K, posting a time of 16:43. Jacquelyn Griffin of Ozark was the women's 5K winner, running 20:30.

Carter and Clark Blunt of McKinney, Texas, controlled the 10K event. Carter touched the tape in 34:34.6 with brother Clark second in 34:34.8. Springfield's Rosie Laughlin was the top woman 10Ker, finishing in 44:18.

The 5K race saw 328 runners cross the finish line, and another 101 completed the 10K course.

Barry County runners claimed their share of medals. Cassville's Brylee Wilson won the women's 11-14 age 5K, running 22:42. Kayla Ragsdale placed second in the women's 30-34 5K age group with her 26:49. Josie Stubblefield took third in the women's 50-54 5K division, finishing in 27:22.

Zoey Brookes and Leah Treadwell both pulled off fifth-place 5K finishes: Brookes in the women's 15-19 division in 25:43, and Treadwell in the women's 25-29 group in 27:00. Emily Wilson was eighth in the women's 11-14 5K group in 30:59.

"It was a fairly flat course overall which made it a nice easy run, although it was a bit narrow for the number of runners," said Ragsdale, the acknowledged leader of a group of Cassville runners known as "The Jog Squad".

She failed to mention the overwhelming rain that soaked shoes and apparel before the race ever started. Standing water was a hazard, especially along the gravel lane at the south end of the course, where ankle-deep holes lurked beneath the muddy water. Water hid directional paint and mile markers, leading to several runners straying off course. Runners without GPS devices could only wonder what their pace was at any given point.

Brylee Wilson

But as every runner knows, "place is more important than time."

I won the men's 60-69 10K group, finishing in 45:50 and matched Brylee's gold medal performance. Training partners for two summers, she and I have been pretty successful with our program in spite of the 47-year age difference. She has wheels, I have endurance. We mix our workouts so each challenges the other's weaknesses, and it makes us both better runners.

Opportunity Quilt revealed, show slated for Sept. 16, 17

Amazing, beautiful and artfully done were some of the comments made when Discovery Quilters members and quilt developers Lora Colby, Clara Cartwright and Teresa Howard presented the 2017 opportunity quilt. "There's No Place Like Home" is the theme for this year's quilt show, and the original design was right on target. The scene of fireworks over the bridge is surrounded by 90 different blocks. The judged quilt show will be presented at the Shell Knob Elementary School September 16 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and September 17 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Barry County Health Department June Food Service Report

The Barry County Health Department divides food service code violations into two categories: Priority and Core items.

Priority items are more likely than other violations to contribute to food contamination or illness and/or injury.

Core items, although important to the overall hygiene of the establishment, do not necessarily present an immediate threat to food contamination or illness and/or injury.

A report for each establishment that is inspected shows the number of priority items, along with a short statement as to the nature of the violations. The report also shows the number of core items but doesn't list the nature of those violations.

National FFA scholarship awarded to local Wheaton student

The National FFA Organization awarded a $2500.00 Toyota Motor Sales, U.S.A. Inc. scholarship to John Hilsden Moseley of the Wheaton FFA. The scholarship is sponsored by Toyota Motor Sales, U.S.A. Inc. Moseley plans to use the funds to pursue a degree at Crowder College.

This scholarship is one of 1,888 awarded through the National FFA Organization's scholarship program this year. Currently 115 sponsors contribute more than $2.7 million to support scholarships for student.

For 33 years, scholarships have been made available through funding secured by the National FFA Foundation. This generous funding comes from individuals, businesses and corporate sponsors to encourage excellence and enable students to pursue their educational goals.

The 2017 scholarship recipients were selected from 8,337 applicants from across the country. Selections were based on the applicant's leadership, academic record, FFA and other school and community activities, supervised agricultural or work experience in agricultural education and future goals.

The National FFA Organization provides leadership, personal growth and career success training through agricultural education to 649,355 student members who belong to one of 7,859 local FFA chapters throughout the U.S., Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands. The organization is also supported by 225,891 alumni members in 1,934 alumni chapters throughout the U.S.

Moseley is a 2017 Wheaton High School graduate. His FFA advisor is David Bolton. Moseley has been accepted into the honors program at Crowder College, Neosho. He is the son of Jay and Natalie Moseley and grandson of John and Billie Jean Higgs.

The baby quilt was pieced by Carolyn Schad and was hand-quilted by the St. John's Quilters. The afghan was made by Margaret Rupp. The St. John's Lutheran Women's Missionary League bazaar will have more quilts, craft items and baked goods for sale, as well.

St. John's Lutheran Church, of Purdy, is holding the picnic on Friday, July 21, at 6 p.m. There will be music, food, games and a country store.

Registration is open for a free July 20 workshop to help beginning farmers, ranchers and veterans learn about resources offered by state and federal agencies.

University of Missouri Extension sponsors the workshop with funding from the USDA Office of Advocacy and Outreach through a grant to help to help veterans, Latinos and socially disadvantaged beginning farmers and ranchers.

"Understanding the Alphabet Soup of USDA" starts 9 a.m. on July 20 at the MU Southwest Research Center, says MU Extension agriculture business specialist Jim Spencer.

Representatives of USDA Farm Service Agency, the Natural Resources Conservation Service and USDA Rural Development will provide information on how to access their agencies' services.

Afternoon sessions will include the Missouri AgrAbility Project and the U.S.

Department of Veterans Affairs' Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment program. Information to help participants and their families make informed health insurance decisions will be presented by MU Extension's Health Insurance Education Initiative, funded by Missouri Foundation for Health.

Participants will discuss operational orders such as a business and marketing plan and case studies; a free lunch will also be served.

Register by contacting Spencer at 417-581-3558 or spencerjr@missouri.edu. Individuals may also register at the MU Extension Center in Christian County, 105 N. Second St., Ozark, MO 65271. Interested participants may also contact their local FSA office.

MU Extension, through a grant from the USDA Office of Advocacy and Outreach to help veterans, Latinos and socially disadvantaged persons who want to farm, offers the program to increase agribusinesses and enterprise development.

Karen Funkenbusch serves as director. Patricia Barrett, Debi Kelly and Eleazar Gonzalez serve as co-directors.

The USDA 2501 grant helps beginning farmers and others evaluate and plan their farm enterprise. Participants attend a set of practical seminars and field days to learn from MU Extension specialists, farmers and agribusiness operators.

The grant comes at a critical time, Funkenbusch says. More than 300,000 veterans are expected to return to their rural Missouri roots in the next decade. "Many of them will seek work in agriculture," Funkenbusch says. Latinos also represent one of the fastest-growing populations of new farm operators.

USDA helps fund this program as part of an $8.4 million set of grants to 24 states through the Outreach and Assistance for Socially Disadvantaged and Veteran Farmers and Ranchers Program, also known as the 2501 Program. "Understanding the Alphabet Soup of USDA" is offered near military bases and areas identified by USDA as "StrikeForce" and "Promise Zone" initiatives as part of the grant.

MU's Southwest Research Center is in Lawrence County at 14548 Highway H, Mount Vernon. It was established in 1959 with the purchase of an 898-acre site representing soil types in this region. For more information about the center, go to southwest.cafnr.org.
