

Local handler takes second at cattle dog Nationals

Charlea Estes

Almost every evening, Rick Morgan goes out to the rolling pastures of his farm to train. He isn't training for a marathon or a rodeo; he's training cattle dogs, and the hard work paid off when he earned second place in the nation, bringing home the title of National Intermediate Reserve Champion title with his dog, Roper, in Afton, Wyo., this summer.

Morgan's interest in training cattle dogs started only a few years ago. He said he had an interest in dogs in 2014, but he started training them and studying it in fall 2015. Morgan's first trial competition was in January 2016 and over the summer, only a year and a half later, he took second in the nation with Roper.

For anyone who hasn't watched cattle dog trials, the handlers give their dogs directions through whistling and commands as the dogs move cattle through an obstacle course. Handlers are allowed only minimal movements on the course, letting the dogs herd based on their commands, and only standing close enough to close the gate when they get through. Winners are selected by the time it takes the dog to complete the course with the cattle.

Morgan started working with dogs for use on his own farm, but he was always interested in competing. He self-trained, reading books and watching videos of how trainers worked with their dogs. The more invested he became in the training and process, the quicker the dogs went through the commands.

The training is crucial. Morgan is working with the dogs each evening to hone their skills. His wife, Sherry, said, "He is dedicated. He goes out every single night and works really hard with them." In addition, Morgan goes to almost every trial during the year. He said there are usually 10 to 12 in a given year.

Stones Prairie picnic brings fun

The annual Stones Prairie picnic was held on Friday night, July 21. The event drew a crowd for entertainment, food and fellowship. Seligman residents' trash service disrupted

REPUBLIC TRASH TAKES OVER SERVICE WHILE CURRENT CONTRACT RECONSIDERED

Charlea Estes

Seligman residents were surprised last week when their trash collection service didn't come. The issue was resolved quickly by another trash service stepping in, but the city's future permanent trash service is still in question.

Seligman City Clerk Brian Nichols said he was made aware of the issue with the trash service last Wednesday, July 19, which is the day trash is normally picked up throughout the city. He said, "I was notified there was an issue with our trash and was told that, due to personal reasons, our trash provider didn't have access to their trucks." The city's provider is Southwest Sanitation, based in Pineville.

Nichols said, "Republic Trash is stepping in and picking up the cans for the next four weeks. In that time frame, if we hear from Southwest and they resume business, then they will take back over. If the contract is terminated, we'll have to seek bids for a new service."

The disruption in service came as a shock. Southwest Sanitation has been the city's trash service provider for over 15 years, according to Nichols. The city just entered into a new five-year contract in April 2016.

In the interim, Nichols arranged to have Republic Trash Service take over the city's routes for the next month. Republic agreed to begin trash pick up on Wednesday, July 26, and each Wednesday after until August 21, which is when Southwest Sanitation has to make a decision regarding whether they will be able to continue as the city's provider.

Since there was a gap in service for a week, the city has been taking extra polycarts out to residents to accommodate the extra week's refuse until Republic is able to pick it up. Those outside of the city limits of Seligman were asked to be patient while Republic's sales associates are brought up to speed on the issue and the extra business.

Nichols said the city's attorney Darlene Parrigon issued a letter to Southwest Sanitation to bring about resolution to the issue and see how things will move forward. In the letter, Southwest Sanitation is given 30 days to resume services or default on their contract.

The Seligman Board of Aldermen held a special session on July 20 to discuss the trash service issue.

Nichols said, "It's unknown at the moment if [Southwest Sanitation] will continue." If Southwest Sanitation defaults on the contract, the city will seek new bids on trash service for city residents.

Seligman city residents pay $12.52 each month for trash service. The fee is included in their monthly water and sewer bill. Nichols said the bills will remain the same while Republic Trash takes over. He said, "In the letter we mailed out, it explains [Southwest Sanitation] has 30 days to continue business as normal and reimburse the City any additional cost incurred during this emergency time period or their contract will be terminated. So basically, they have 30 days to pick up where they left off."

When asked about how switching to a different service if Southwest Sanitation doesn't fulfill their contract might impact customers' bills, Nichols said it should not be significant moving forward, even if the city does have to switch services. He said, "Republic has agreed to accept the same terms, so that shouldn't be an issue. If a different service takes over, it might be a small rate increase, but I don't anticipate it being more than a 75-cent increase over the next five years."

Woman arrested for alleged assault of disabled person

Charlea Estes

An Exeter woman was charged and arrested for allegedly assaulting a disabled person in a Purdy home. According to the affidavits of probable cause by the Barry County Sheriff's Department, Amanda Jean Fitzpatrick, 28, of Exeter, entered the victim's house on July 18 demanding a cell phone.

The report went on to state that Fitzpatrick went into the victim's bedroom where he was laying down and argued with him about a cell phone. When the victim refused to relinquish the phone to Fitzpatrick, she allegedly sat on top of his chest, interfering with his breathing, as well as struck him.

After the alleged assault, the report indicates that Fitzpatrick forcibly removed the cell phone from the victim's hand. The officer reported that the victim is a disabled man who is unable to care for himself.

Fitzpatrick was on probation at the time of the incident. She pled guilty to domestic assault in the first or second degree as a first offense in November 2016. She was granted a suspended imposition of sentencing, two years of unsupervised probation and ordered to take an anger management class.

Fitzpatrick is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $10,000 cash-only bond. She is charged with assault in the third degree on a special victim, a class D felony.

2nd annual Roaring River clean up a success

The second annual Roaring River Clean Up was a success again this year. The volunteers cleaned from Munsey down to Highway 86 despite flooding. Volunteers who helped got a dry bag and plenty of great prizes. Darla Rose was the winner of the hitch extender raffle.

The clean is possible every year thanks to sponsors. This year, Price Cutter, Ball and Prier, Electric Beach, Security Bank, Freedom Bank, Eagle Rock Auto Sales, Discount Corner, PLZ, Uncle Roys, Baywash and The Office Pub made donations. If you are interested in becoming a sponsor or volunteering next year, find the group on Facebook or contact Sabrina Keely at (417) 665-9280 or Dawnmarie Beck at (417) 342-4539.

I was mowing my yard and came upon a young bird lying under a tree. It was obvious the bird didn't know how to fly. With great effort, he would skim the top of the grass for a few yards. He kept repeating his efforts, each time getting a little further. I decided to leave him alone and mowed another area. When I came back, he was gone. Hopefully, he developed the skills needed to have flown away. Faith is like that little bird; without exercise it does not mature. Without effort, faith never develops the skills needed to survive the trials of this world. "For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk and not of strong meat. For everyone that useth milk is unskillful in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe. But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil." Hebrews 5:12-14.

CHARLOTTE AYERS MURPHY

Charlotte Ayers Murphy, 83, of Emerald Beach Village, Golden, was called to be with God on Sunday, July 2, 2017, in Kansas City with her daughter by her side.

She was born Charlotte Ann Ayers on August 9, 1933, in Springdale, Ark., daughter of Wilbur and Grace (Thompson) Ayers. She was a 1952 graduate of Carrier High School, Carrier, Okla. where she enjoyed playing basketball.

She married Richard Lloyd Murphy, also of Carrier, Okla., on July 10, 1952, in Enid, Okla., and moved to Stillwater, Okla., where she worked initially in advertising. After further education in Hotel and Restaurant Management, she and Richard spent many years working as a team in Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks, Charlotte as Food and Beverage Manager in charge of all the restaurants, and Richard as General Manager of the location. Later, she worked for the Oklahoma Tourism Department, managing Arrowhead State Lodge on Lake Eufaula.

She moved to Golden in 1983 from Norman, Okla., and was soon elected as the first woman Road Commissioner for the White River Road District in Barry County where she served for over twelve years. Charlotte was a devout Christian and an active member of the Golden Baptist Church. She and her friends conceived and founded the God's Closet charity to assist area families in need.

Charlotte was a very kind hearted, loving, family-oriented woman who loved helping others and animals. Charlotte and Richard loved traveling, and driving long distances in search of unique treasures and experiences. She loved buying and wearing turquoise jewelry, gardening, camping, especially in the mountains of Red River, New Mexico, collecting angels and spending time with family. She enjoyed cooking and collecting cookbooks from the places she and Richard visited. Her special joy was being a mother to Kandi, and Granny to her twin grandchildren.

She is survived by her daughter, Kandi Murphy McCasland; her son-in-law, Mark McCasland; her two grandchildren, Dustin and Daniella McCasland, all of Kansas City; and several nieces and nephews. Offering cremation and offering on-site cremation are two entirely different options

When other funeral homes say they offer cremation, they use other facilities.... sometimes far away. We, on the other hand, don't have to so much as leave the front door. Our on-site crematory is just one way we show that closeness counts.

Purdy sixth graders wins welcome sign design contest

The Purdy Community Builders Summer School Program Director Melissa Horn announced the winner of the Purdy Welcome Sign Design contest. The winner of the contest was Purdy sixth grader Jeffrey Drake.

Horn's students developed a series of designs for a new

'Welcome to Purdy' sign to be erected outside Country Corner and presented them for consideration to David Mareth, Country Corner co-owner, who narrowed down the choices to four. These four designs were presented to the community for a vote at the Purdy Festival. Patrons paid one penny to vote for their favorite design and could cast an unlimited amount of votes.

After tallying the votes, Horn reported, "We raised over $150, which will be used to fund future Community Builders projects. Jeffrey Drake's rustic design came out on top, raising $96.69 in votes. The Purdy Community Builders Summer School program would like to thank Terry Billingsley and the National Guard for making the project a reality. We can't wait to see our new sign on display."

Jeffrey Drake is a sixth grade student at Purdy Middle School. He is the son of Austin and Robyn Drake.

C of O Spring 2017 Dean's List

The College of the Ozarks Point Lookout released their spring 2017 Dean's List. To qualify for the Dean's List, the students must maintain a 3.6 minimum grade point average during the semester and carry at least 15 credit hours.

- Local students were:
- Cheyenne Sheets, of Shell Knob, was a Blue Eye R-5 High School graduate
 - Sarah Mccullough, of Shell Knob, was a Blue Eye R-5 High School graduate
 - Noah Galey, of Golden, is a Cassville R-IV High School graduate.

dogs on his farm, it's the competition that hooked him. He said, "I like messing with dogs and seeing how good you can do to beat somebody. It's the competition."

Right now, he has three dogs he takes to trial, and ten overall. All are Border Collies.

The reason many use cattle dogs is because it is a low stress way to herd cattle in a way that is also easier for the rancher. It is a gentler way to move cattle if a dog is trained properly.

When asked why he only uses Border Collies, he said, "Border Collies have a natural ability, and you can teach them direction commands. Some of the other breeds are mainly just to drive with."

However, breed isn't a guarantee that the dog will be good at trials. Morgan said, "Some make good trial dogs, some make good farm dogs, some are better with sheep. It just depends on their abilities." He added that it takes about two weeks for him to get a feel for where their talents are.

However, dogs don't necessarily only have one talent alone. Morgan stated, "You can use a trial dog on the farm and in the trials. It doesn't have to be just one or the other.

"With the trial dog, you need one that will work off of the cattle and be able to control the bite. You have some that are kind of natural at that; they use their presence to move cattle instead of their bite. You have to control all of that. The handler can put the command to bite on if they need to, but it's more their presence," Morgan said. Working "off the cattle" implies that a dog does not need to be aggressive to get the cows to move.

This year, Morgan won the Central Cattledog Association Dog of the Year in the Novice class and Intermediate Reserve Champion with his dog Red. The points he earned trialing qualified him for national competition over the summer. He won the National Reserve Champion in the Intermediate class with the National Cattledog Association, with his dog, Roper.

He said, "I just really enjoy working with the dogs; it's a good past time, I guess."

Morgan works at Cassville R-IV Schools in the maintenance department and lives on a farm in Stella with his wife, Sherry. He has also started training cattle dogs for other people.

Man wanted for bad checks, theft found in Kansas

Charlea Estes

A man wanted for multiple bad checks and a trailer theft was found in Sherman County, Kansas, and brought back to Barry County. John Homer Evertt Robison, 43, is charged with eight counts of passing bad checks of $500 or more and one count of receiving stolen property.

According to the affidavits of probable cause, in September 2016, Robison came to an agreement with the victim to purchase a 2001 Biga 18 foot flat bed trailer valued at $1,800. The officer reported that while Robison's wife hooked up the trailer, Robison offered to pay by check. When the owner of the trailer refused and requested cash, Robison allegedly told him he had cash in the truck. Robison then drove off with the trailer without paying.

Robison also allegedly passed bad checks, including one in November 2016 to a Monett woman. According to the affidavit of probable cause, Robison was supposed to do work for the woman and she paid him $1,438 for materials. When Robison returned, the woman said that the material was not satisfactory for her home. Robison then allegedly agreed to not use the material and pay her back. Robison wrote the victim a check for $1,438 on a closed account.

Robison is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $17,000 cash-only bond.

Man allegedly attacks helpers when found in ditch

Charlea Estes

A Purdy man was charged with DWI, assault and resisting arrest after emergency medical responders allegedly found him in a ditch in Purdy on July 17. According to the affidavits of probable cause, Jacky Jones, 25, of Purdy was driving while intoxicated and attacked medical personnel when they attempted to help him.

The report states that Jones was lying in a ditch face down when the medical responders found him. Jones then allegedly struck both of the victims in the jaw as well as attempting to bite them while they were restraining him. Jones was then placed in hand restraints by Barry County Sheriff Deputy Taylor Lombard. Lombard stated Jones continued to resist and had to be taken to the ground to regain control of him.

Jones allegedly told officers that he had been driving before he was found in the ditch, but denied consuming alcohol. When Jones agreed to a breath test, his blood alcohol registered at 0.195.

Jones was charged with two counts of assault in the third degree on a special victim, DWI and resisting arrest for a felony. He is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $30,000 cash-only bond.

Q: I hear a lot about tick bites causing new diseases. What is the best way to remove it so I don't get sick?

A: If you find a tick attached to your skin, there's no need to panic. In most cases, the tick must be attached for 36 to 48 hours or more before the Lyme disease bacterium can be transmitted.

The best way to prevent Lyme disease is to avoid tick bites by wearing protective clothing and tick repellent (DEET spray). But the next best thing is to quickly spot and remove ticks from the body.

According to the Center for Disease Control (CDC), this is the proper method for removing a tick:

How to remove a tick

1. Use fine-tipped tweezers to grasp the tick as close to the skin's surface as possible.
2. Pull upward with steady, even pressure. Don't twist or jerk the tick; this can cause the mouth-parts to break off and remain in the skin. If this happens, remove the mouth-parts with tweezers. If you are unable to remove the mouth easily with clean tweezers, leave it alone and let the skin heal.

3. After removing the tick, thoroughly clean the bite area and your hands with rubbing alcohol, an iodine scrub, or soap and water.
4. Dispose of a live tick by submersing it in alcohol, placing it in a sealed bag/container, wrapping it tightly in tape, or flushing it down the toilet. Never crush a tick with your fingers.

Avoid folklore remedies such as "painting" the tick with nail polish or petroleum jelly, or using heat to make the tick detach from the skin. Your goal is to remove the tick as quickly as possible—not waiting for it to detach. You can treat the itching with over the counter hydrocortisone anti-itch cream (or prescription steroid creams), as well as Benadryl or Zyrtec.

Follow-up

If you develop a rash or fever within several weeks of removing a tick, see your doctor. Be sure to tell the doctor about your recent tick bite, when the bite occurred, and where you most likely acquired the tick. If you aren't sick and do not have a rash, it is unnecessary to see a doctor after a tick bite.

CHARLEA'S KITCHEN

Spinach, Mushroom & Feta Quiche

Serves: 6 Active time: 20 min. Total time: 1 hr. 10 min.

- For the filling:
 - 1/4 cup butter
 - 1 small onion, diced
 - 1 cup diced mushrooms (I used portabella)
 - 12 oz. fresh baby spinach (two bags), chopped
 - 6 cloves of garlic, minced
 - 1 cup sharp cheddar cheese, divided
 - 1 cup feta cheese, divided
 - 4 eggs
 - 3/4 cup milk
 - 1/4 cup chopped fresh parsley (or 2 TBS dried)
- 4 TBS chopped fresh basil (or 1 TBS dried)
 - 2 TBS chopped fresh thyme (or 1 tsp dried)
 - 2 TBS chopped fresh sage (or 1 tsp dried)
 - 2 tsp black pepper
 - 1 tsp sea saltPie Crust:
 - 1/2 cup butter, cold and cut into small pieces (approx., can use a little less)
 - 2 cups flour
 - 1/2 tsp sea salt
 - 1 tsp sugar
 - 3 TBS (more or less) cold milk

Preheat oven to 375 degrees F. In a skillet, sauté onion in butter for three minutes over medium heat. Add mushrooms and cook over medium or medium-low until tender, about 6 minutes. Add garlic, stir, and turn off heat, but leave on the burner. Add the spinach and put a lid on the skillet, allowing the steam to wilt it. After five minutes (or however long it takes you to make the crust), add 1/2 cup cheddar cheese and all but 1/8 cup of the feta and stir to combine. It doesn't have to fully melt.

In a separate bowl, mix the eggs, milk, and herbs. Spoon the spinach filling into the pie crust in a deep dish pie pan. If you don't have a deep dish pie pan, spoon about 1/2 to 3/4 the mixture into a regular pie crust and pour the remaining filling into another pie crust or in a greased baking dish. Pour the eggs over the filling to about 1/4 inch from the top of the crust. (If you split the mixture, split egg mixture evenly, as well.)

Bake at 375°F for 35 minutes, or until set. Sprinkle top with remaining 1/2 cup cheddar and 1/8 cup feta and bake for an additional 10 minutes.

Crust:

Either in a bowl or food processor with the blade attachment, add flour, butter, salt, and sugar. Cut in butter until in pea-sized or smaller pieces either by pulsing your food processor or using a pastry cutter or knives. Add milk 1 TBS at a time, pulsing until combined. Once the dough starts to hold together and ball up, don't add any more milk, you do not want it slimy. Think that you just want enough milk to hold the butter and flour together. Press into a pie pan.

Note: This is a good crust for any pie. If it's a sweet pie instead of savory, I add an additional teaspoon of sugar and 1 tsp of vanilla extract.

County Land Tax Sale on August 28

The office of Barry County Collector Janice Varner is preparing for the annual Barry County Real Estate Delinquent Tax Sale. Missouri law requires that land with three years of delinquent taxes sell on the fourth Monday of August each year.

The first publication of this sale appeared in the Cassville Democrat the week of July 19, 2017, at which time copies were made available in the collector's office.

The tax sale listing can be viewed at barrycounty-collector.com, which will be updated as parcels are paid.

A Monett man was arrested and charged last week when officers responded to a call about parents sleeping in a van with an infant in the floorboard. According to the affidavits of probable cause, the father was also in possession of a methamphetamine syringe.

On Thursday, July 20, the Monett Police Department was called to check on the well being of a baby who was crying in a van on the floorboard under the steering wheel. The caller reported that the parents were sleeping in the van which was parked at South City Park in Monett.

When the officer located

Monett father charged after drugs found in van the van, it was located on Highway 60 in Monett. The driver, Christopher Trobaugh, 29, of Monett, was placed in custody for an existing warrant for his arrest. In his front pocket, officers located a bottle of pills which Trobaugh allegedly admitted he did not have a prescription for. The bottle contained 10 hydrocodones.

When officers searched the van, they found a used syringe and a burnt, black handled spoon which field tested positive for methamphetamine. The spoon was under a pair of baby shoes and allegedly near where the child was in the floorboard, according to the initial call.

When officers pulled Trobaugh over, a seven month old baby was in the van. The child's mother, also on the scene, said she did not know about the syringe prior to the search. She allegedly also told officers that Trobaugh had fed the baby from the same spoon a week prior.

Trobaugh has been charged with two counts of possession of a controlled substance and one count of endangering the welfare of a child in the first degree as a first offense. He is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $40,000 cash-only bond.

Barry County courts incarcerate 11 during the month of June

• April D. Aplin, of Cassville, pled guilty to two counts of passing a bad check of $500 or more and non-support with the total arrears in excess of 12 months. April was on probation for burglary in the second degree, stealing a motor vehicle and possession of a controlled substance that April had pled guilty to in 2013. Her probation on the earlier charges has been revoked, and she is to serve five years incarceration with the Department of Corrections.

In December 2011, the Barry County Sheriff's Department found April was charged with stealing a 1998 Polaris Sportsman 500 ATV, a pair of ramps and a 125 foot water hose. At Aplin's residence, officers found the ramps. Another person involved in the burglary admitted to stealing the four-wheeler with Aplin and one other person.

In February 2012, Aplin was implicated in the purchase of ammonium sulphate from Race Brothers in Monett. Officers determined that Aplin had also purchased pseudoephedrine, precursors to manufacturing methamphetamine. In the vehicle were other precursors to meth production as well as a black face mask, a set of bolt cutters, wire cutters and gloves, all commonly used in burglaries.

In March 2015, Aplin wrote checks on a nonexisting account to Fastrip in Cassville totalling $434.47.

As of September 2015, Aplin was in arrears on child support payments in the amount of $26,994.46 for two children.

• Dylan Lee Boydston, of Republic, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance and tampering with a motor vehicle in the first degree. Boydston was sentenced to seven years incarceration with the Department of Corrections of which he will serve 120 days of shock time.

On September 16, 2016, a Cassville Police officer observed an open beer in plain sight in Boydston's vehicle in the Cassville Walmart parking lot. Inside the car there were also three ziplock baggies with methamphetamine inside. There were also two used syringes and two spoons.

• Kirk Douglas Carroll, of Cassville, pled guilty to resisting arrest by fleeing and resisting arrest for a felony. Carroll was sentenced to two years incarceration with the Department of Corrections.

On November 7, 2015, Carroll was in a vehicle at a shower house in Roaring River State Park's campground 2 which was clearly closed. When questioned, Carroll, gave a false name, his social security number and his date of birth. When officers ran the name, Carroll fled on foot into the timber.

The search for Carroll was called off after half an hour. The social security number and date of birth matched Carroll who was wanted for a parole violation.

On March 4, 2017, Carroll was found near Munsey Cemetery with a woman who was fishing. When the officer asked for identification, he said he did not have any. He also told the officer he had something in his pocket that could hurt the officer. Then he fled on foot across Roaring River through the woods.

• Melissa Gayle Darter, of Aurora, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance in April 2016. Darter's probation has since been revoked, and she is to serve seven years incarceration with the Department of Corrections.

On December 25, 2015, officers stopped Darter (Sutherland) while she was driving. Darter was considered a missing person. Once they pulled her over, officers found a clear plastic bag on the center console.

Darter appeared to be under the influence of a controlled substance.

Inside a pouch in the front seat, officers found a glass pipe with white residue that tested positive for methamphetamine. Darter said she smoked meth in the pipe.

• Jeremy F. Donahoo pled guilty to passing a bad check of $500 or more. Donahoo was sentenced to two years incarceration with the Department of Corrections.

ual misconduct or attempt involving a child under the age of 15 in November 2015. Dunham's probation has since been revoked, and he is to serve shock time as part of a four year incarceration sentence with the Department of Corrections.

On August 21, 2016, Holland was the subject of a phone call to dispatch by his mother that he was "out of control and needed help." When officers arrived, Holland was handcuffed and searched. It was determined he had an active warrant and a baggie with methamphetamine residue in his pocket.

Holland is to serve probation until June 20, 2022.

Jacobs hits hole-in-one

Susie Jacobs hit a hole-in-one on July 8, on hole number 17 at the Cassville Golf Course. Her witnesses were Leta Higgs and Karry Lewis.

Arrows win final home game of season

Lee Stubblefield

The Cassville Arrows squandered a six-run lead but managed to squeeze out a 9-8 home victory over the Nevada Griffons on Thursday night. With the tying and lead runs on base in the top of the ninth inning, closer Alex Dyer fanned Ben Bayless on six pitches, and then coaxed a first-pitch ground-out from Blaine Demello to end the game.

Thursday, July 13 was Cassville Arrows Day, by proclamation of mayor Bill Shively. Shively addressed the home crowd prior to the contest, thanking Aaron Massey for bringing the team to Cassville and praising the players and sponsors for their contributions.

Noah Hadlow opened the game on the mound for the Arrows, and he quickly set the Griffons down without a score. A fired up Arrows lineup batted around in the first inning and opened a 4-0 lead. Trynton Tompkins delivered a 2RBI double to open the scoring.

Hadlow retired the Griffons in order in the second, and his teammates rang up three more runs to push the lead to 7-0. Tompkins was hot at the plate again, crushing a triple to the center field fence to add two more RBI to his resume.

But the Nevada team rebounded with a run in the third, and the Griffons chipped away to trim the lead to 7-3 by the end of the fourth frame.

The Arrows answered with a pair of runs in the fifth inning to take a 9-3 lead. Brian Devivo led off with a single and scored on a Leigh Cox triple. Crowd favorite Ryan Hickman singled to chase Cox home with the ninth run.

But the Arrows would not score again in the contest.

Nevada scored twice in the sixth inning and once in the seventh to create a 9-6 game. Cecil Smith came on in relief of Hadlow in the eighth, but he never retired a batter. Smith walked Ben Bayless and plunked Blaine Demello, and exited the field.

Alex Dyer came on in relief of Smith.

The Griffons scored on a fielder's choice and again on a Marci Young RBI single, and suddenly Cassville's lead was all but gone at 9-8. Dyer won a 10-pitch duel with pinch hitter Noah Manchako, finally getting a fly out to get out of the inning.

After Cassville went down in order in the home half of the eighth, Dyer returned to save the game in the ninth.

The Arrows improved to 8-15 overall with the victory. Nevada slipped to 18-20.

Shell Knob Chamber to host River Bassin' Tournament

The Shell Knob Chamber of Commerce will be hosting a River Bassin' Tournament on September 10, 2017.

The River Bassin' Tournament Trail sponsors fishing tournaments throughout the United States.

These events are for kayak and canoe anglers who want to fish for bass on “wild waters.” The series uses a unique format in which anglers choose the water they want to fish within a 60 mile radius of the host location. When an entrant catches a bass, a photo of the fish is taken on a measuring board. The photo is uploaded to a live leaderboard where contestants and spectators can watch the tourney progress in real time.

Each event is open to anglers of any skill level. Teams and families are welcome to enter and attend the event activities. Tournament day is a fun-filled affair with games, food and prizes.

The event in Shell Knob will be a Regional Tournament and allow entrants to fish the area rivers and streams and even some portions of Table Rock Lake.

Information about River Bassin' and how to register can be found at riverbassin-trail.com or on Facebook or by calling (724)-989-1630.

The Shell Knob Chamber of Commerce can be contacted at shellknob.com or (417)-858-3300.

Deputies injured during alleged attempted jail escape

Charlea Estes

A Shell Knob man has racked up multiple charges after allegedly harassing a woman and then attempting to escape from jail. Sean Hooten, 38, of Shell Knob, is charged with assault in the third degree on a special victim, attempted escape from confinement, two counts of harassment in the first degree and one count of violation of a protective order for an adult.

According to affidavits of probable cause, in early July, Hooten harassed the victim by repeatedly texting her after being told to stop. The victim also had an ex parte in place, preventing Hooten from contact with her. The victim reported that she did not want to leave her house to go to work because of the harassment.

Another affidavit stated Hooten also texted inappropriate pictures and messages to the victim, as well as leaving voice messages.

Once Hooten was taken into police custody for the alleged harassment and violation of protection orders, he also attempted to seriously injure officers to escape, according to the report.

While being incarcerated at the Barry County Jail, Hooten forced open his cell door and ran toward an open pod door. Hooten allegedly tried to take a deputy’s jail keys and then hit the deputy multiple times causing contusions on his right arm and an abrasion on his neck. Then the affidavit states Hooten inflicted a disabling injury to another deputy’s left hand. Both deputies received medical treatment at Mercy Hospital in Cassville for their injuries.

Hooten is currently being held in the Barry County Jail on a $25,000 cash-only bond.

Japanese beetles, EABs wreak havoc on area trees

The Japanese beetle and the Emerald Ash Borer (EAB) are two invasive insects that are wreaking havoc on Missouri's plants and trees. To the untrained eye, these two pests may look similar to one another. However, there are a few easy ways to figure out which green pest is plaguing your yard.

"It's easy to tell these two beetle species apart, even though both are metallic green in color and about a half-inch long," said MDC Forest Entomologist Robbie Doerhoff. "EAB is slender and bullet shaped, while Japanese beetles are much wider and have copper-colored wing covers."

Japanese Beetle
Japanese beetles were first discovered in North America in 1916, likely imported from Asia in potted plants. Japanese beetles can now be found through much of Missouri, with high populations in some areas.

Japanese beetles are leaf "skeletonizers," feeding on the upper surface of leaves and leaving behind a lacy network of leaf veins. They can feed upon more than 300 different types of plants and are frequently seen on grape vines, rose bushes, and elm, linden, sassafras, and fruit trees. In Missouri, these pests are usually present in June and July.

"Japanese beetles can defoliate an entire tree in just a few days. Good tree care, such as proper mulching and watering during dry spells, becomes very important in helping reduce stress to damaged trees," said Doerhoff.

For light infestations of Japanese beetles on shrubs and small trees, Doerhoff recommends hand-picking beetles and putting them in soapy water. While several insecticides are available to control these pests, caution is in order.

"If you decide to use insecticides, select a product labeled for Japanese beetles and the plant type you want to protect. To avoid killing beneficial insects such as bees and butterflies, don't apply insecticides to blooming plants," she said.

Learn more about the Japanese beetle on MDC's website at <http://on.mo.gov/2uiFcr3>. Get treatment information at <http://on.mo.gov/2tpI9ZL>.

Emerald Ash Borer
Like Japanese beetles, EAB is native to Asia. This invasive tree pest was first found in Missouri in 2008 at a campground near Lake Wappapello. Since then, EAB has been found in 37 counties throughout the state. Firewood movement is one way this pest has been able to establish in new locations so quickly.

Doerhoff added EAB is much different than the Japanese beetle.

"EAB only feeds on ash trees, and this species doesn't congregate in large masses like Japanese beetles," she said. "It can be difficult to actually see an EAB, even in areas where the population is high, because they will be feeding and mating in a tree's canopy."

EAB only attacks ash trees. The adult beetle does very little damage. It is the larval stage that causes tree death. EAB larvae bore into the vascular layer of ash trees, creating distinct S-shaped galleries that slowly cut off the flow of water and nutrients. Unfortunately, EAB kills over 99 percent of the ash trees it attacks within 3-4 years of infestation.

The best way to prevent EAB from attacking an ash tree is by treating it with a systemic insecticide. The size of the ash tree and its current state of health are important considerations when deciding on a treatment plan.

"If you decide to treat your ash tree, make sure you use a pesticide labeled to kill EAB and that you apply it at the right time of year," said Doerhoff. "Trees over 20 inches in trunk diameter need to be treated by a licensed applicator, such as a certified arborist."

For more information on protecting your ash tree from EAB, download the Emerald Ash Borer Management Guide for Missouri Homeowners at short.mdc.mo.gov/ZkT.

Missouri frogging season runs until October 31

The Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) encourages Missourians to discover nature this summer. One fun and exciting way is through frogging. Frogging season begins June 30 at sunset and ends Oct. 31. Missouri has two frog species that are legal game — bullfrog and green frog. Bullfrogs are larger and therefore more sought-after.

The daily limit is eight frogs of both species combined and the possession limit is 16 frogs of both species combined. Only the daily limit may be possessed on waters and banks of waters where hunting.

Daily limits end at midnight so froggers who catch their daily limits before midnight and then want to return for more frogging after midnight must remove the daily limit of previously caught frogs from the waters or banks before returning for more.

Frogging can be done with either a fishing permit or a small-game hunting permit. Children under the age of 16 and Missouri residents 65 years of age or older are not required to have a permit.

Those with a fishing permit may take frogs by hand, hand net, atlatl, gig, bow, trotline, throw line, limb line, bank line, jug line, snagging, snaring, grabbing or pole and line.

With a small game hunting permit, frogs may be harvested using a .22-caliber or smaller rimfire rifle or pistol, pellet gun, atlatl, bow, crossbow, or by hand or hand net. The use of artificial light is permitted when frogging.

For more information about frog hunting, including how to get started and tasty recipes to try, visit MDC online at huntfish.mdc.mo.gov/hunting-trapping/species/frog.

Southwest FFA members attend Washington Leadership Conference

Two students from the Southwest FFA Chapter attended the Washington Leadership Conference (also known as WLC) in Washington D.C. Sydney Delossantos and Jacey Ball participated in the five day leadership conference. This was no ordinary leadership experience. The two students made new friends from across the United States and toured the nation's capitol. Throughout the week, the students learned self-confidence and leadership skills to take back to their FFA Chapter and share with their members.

Quilts donated to Kids of Our Heroes Camp

Quilting 4 Charity donated 28 quilts with matching pillow cases to Kids of Our Heroes Adventure Camp for both the June and July camps. Pictured above are the 12 Hero kids from the June camp. Most of June's campers live with a wounded warrior from Iraq or Afghanistan. Members of Quilting 4 Charity Cindy Boutte and Pat Biles visited the camp to meet some of the kids receiving quilts. Local nonprofits qualify for disaster loans

Low-interest federal disaster loans are now available to certain private nonprofit organizations in Boone, Cape Girardeau, Mississippi, New Madrid, Pemiscot, Scott and Ste. Genevieve counties following the amendment to President Trump's June 2, 2017, major disaster declaration for Public Assistance as a result of severe storms, tornadoes, straight-line winds and flooding that occurred April 28 - May 11, 2017, announced Administrator Linda McMahon of the U.S. Small Business Administration. Private nonprofits that provide essential services of a governmental nature are eligible for assistance.

SBA disaster assistance is available in Barry, Barton, Bollinger, Boone, Butler, Camden, Cape Girardeau, Carter, Cedar, Christian, Cole, Crawford, Dade, Dallas, Dent, Douglas, Dunklin, Franklin, Gasconade, Howell, Iron, Jefferson, Lawrence, Madison, Maries, McDonald, Miller, Mississippi, Morgan, New Madrid, Newton, Oregon, Osage, Ozark, Pemiscot, Perry, Phelps, Pike, Pulaski, Ralls, Reynolds, Ripley, Scott, Shannon, St. Louis, Ste. Genevieve, Stone, Taney, Texas, Washington, Wayne, Webster and Wright counties.

"Private nonprofit organizations should contact the Missouri State Emergency Management Agency by calling (573) 526-9234 or visiting <http://sema.dps.mo.gov> to obtain information about applicant briefings. At the briefings, private nonprofit representatives will need to provide information about their organization," said Director Tanya N. Garfield of SBA's Disaster Field Operations Center-West. FEMA will use that information to determine if the private nonprofit provides an "essential governmental service" and is a "critical facility" as defined by law. If so, FEMA may provide the private nonprofit with a Public Assistance grant for their eligible costs. If not, FEMA may refer the private nonprofit to SBA for disaster loan assistance.

SBA may lend private nonprofits up to $2 million to repair or replace damaged or destroyed real estate, machinery and equipment, inventory and other business assets. SBA can also lend additional funds to help with the cost of improvements to protect, prevent or minimize the same type of disaster damage from occurring in the future.

For certain private nonprofit organizations of any size, SBA also offers Economic Injury Disaster Loans to help meet working capital needs caused by the disaster. Economic Injury Disaster Loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable and other bills that cannot be paid because of the disaster's impact. Economic injury assistance is available regardless of whether the private nonprofit suffered any property damage.

The interest rate is 2.5 percent with terms up to 30 years. The filing deadline to return applications for property damage is Aug. 1, 2017. The deadline to return economic injury applications is March 2, 2018.

Applicants may apply online, receive additional disaster assistance information and download applications at <https://disasterloan.sba.gov/ela>. Applicants may also call SBA's Customer Service Center at (800) 659-2955 or email disastercustomerservice@sba.gov for more information on SBA disaster assistance. Individuals who are deaf or hard-of-hearing may call (800) 877-8339. Completed applications should be mailed to U.S. Small Business Administration, Processing and Disbursement Center, 14925 Kingport Road, Fort Worth, TX 76155.

Hammond makes spring Dean's List

Benedictine College has recognized those students who have distinguished themselves academically during the last semester. Zechariah Hammond, of Monett, was named to the Dean's List for the spring semester, which ended in May.

Of the 1,924 full time undergraduate students on the Atchison campus, 557 made the Dean's List. To make the Dean's List, a student must carry a minimum of 12 credit hours and a grade point average of 3.5 or above for the semester.

Founded in 1858, Benedictine College is a Catholic, Benedictine, residential, liberal arts college located on the bluffs above the Missouri River in Atchison, Kan. The school is proud to have been named one of America's Best Colleges by U.S. News & World Report as well as one of the top Catholic colleges in the nation by First Things magazine and the Newman Guide. It prides itself on outstanding academics, extraordinary faith life, strong athletic programs, and an exceptional sense of community and belonging. It has a mission to educate men and women within a community of faith and scholarship.

Change keeps Monett farm growing

Fourth-generation farmer Mike Meier knows change will help his family's Century Farm survive.

The rotational grazing and breeding system he uses for his dairy herd works. Now he wants to apply those principles to beef cattle. "At 56, I wanted to go in a different direction," he says.

He wants to see how much profit per acre he can make by switching from dairy to beef cattle. He is building his cattle herd as he prepares to sell the dairy herd.

"There will be a learning curve," he says. "Beef and dairy cows are not the same."

It is not the first time Meier changed the operation.

He had planned to shut down the 100-year-old family dairy farm in 2005. Conventional dairy farming was time-consuming and not profitable enough to support him, his brother and his father. Mike operated a Rhino spray-on lining company for truck beds, and it was doing well.

Even with the outside business, Meier felt squeezed. Three families split profits from a farm that had previously supported one. He bought out his brother's share of the dairy. His father retired in 2000, and died in 2010. His property and profits increased, but so did the labor.

Meier began watching practices at the nearby University of Missouri Southwest Research Center. Stacey Hamilton and Tony Rickard, MU Extension dairy specialists, and others showed how to improve profits and reduce labor with rotational grazing.

In 2006, Meier attended his first grazing conference at the Southwest Center. It made him a believer.

It took 18 months and one-on-one work with Hamilton to convert the pasture-based system to a seasonal calving operation. Meier learned how to make more money in less time. Feed for the dairy herd comes from small grazing paddocks. Cows move to fresh pasture daily to feed on high-quality forage through September. Stockpiled grass extends the grazing system into winter. Meier feeds less baled hay and purchased feed.

Meier installed water systems in each paddock. He also installed a K-Line irrigation system with water sourced from a 1-acre lagoon.

Before rotational grazing, Meier needed four tractors, corn choppers and blowers to prepare and take feed to cattle. Every four days, he hauled manure from the cow lots. Now he irrigates from a water retention pond. Cows provide free, natural fertilizer for pastures.

The herd converted to seasonal spring calving in 2008. It was an 18-month process. Most of his cows are Holstein. The Dairy Cattle Reproduction Council awarded him the Gold Reproduction Award after he implemented the synchronization programs suggested by Hamilton and MU Extension state veterinarian Synchronized AI breeding means the 108-head herd calves within a short period in February. Conception rate is as high as 78 percent on one-time AI. Cleanup bulls are turned in after AI breeding.

Meier uses Lutalyse shots and heat patches. Sixty percent of the herd comes in heat after the first injection. If they do not respond, the cows receive a second shot. This results in an additional 25 percent of the herd coming in heat. In the next seven days, the Meier veterinarian checks cows. Those cows then receive a controlled internal drug release for seven to 10 days, followed by Lutalyse and GnRH. These cows are bred on fix-timed AI or observed heat.

Meier has 60 days off in the winter before cows freshen again and require milking. Calving and breeding season is intense but brief. The cows get a break from milking and Meier's reward is time off with family.

"After that, it's just managing the grass and moving the cows," he says.

Meier continues to work with Hamilton and Pook, as well as forage specialist Rob Kallenbach, agronomy specialist Tim Schnakenberg, and dairy specialists Ted Probert and Reagan Bluel. He attends pasture walks and hosts tours at his farm. MU and Missouri State University students work with him on research projects such as an ongoing irrigation trial.

A management-intensive grazing system involves more than just good grass. It also means that fences, watering systems and breeding must line up.

"We got the grass right. We got the fences right. We got the water right. When the reproductive program got on mark, things jelled up. That's when the profits showed up," he says.

The process was slow, but it paid off. "Instead of going to the bank for loans, we're making deposits," he says.

Does Meier have any regrets about switching over to rotational grazing and seasonal calving? "None. I just wonder where we would be if we had done that 30 years ago."
