Daniels

Charlea Estes

With three facing off for the Republican nomination for Barry County Public Administrator, Keith Daniels, of Exeter, edged out the competition, winning by 139 votes. Daniels will be running unopposed for the position in the November 8 General Election.

Daniels said, "I'm very happy in the results. But I'm very gratified in the campaign and being able to meet so many people. I've met so many really, really nice people who have been kind to me, and I can't remember truly one person who was negative about my campaign. It's been nothing but positive. Win or lose, it was a great experience for me. Going forward, I know I have a challenge, but I feel very much ready to take it on."

Daniels said he plans to learn tips from the current Public Administrator Pam Modlin. "I need to get with her and shadow her.

She has one such a great job, I'll meet with her and plan the transition and learn as much as I can."

As far as the actual election cycle, Daniels said, "I really do appreciate Andy and Rodney both. They've been really competitive, but they've also been respectful and I appreciate very much. I just appreciate the way they conducted their campaigns. I think they did it the way it should have been done."

Reavis said, "I appreciated everyone's support, family and friends, over the last several months. It was a good ride, but we just came

Gary Davis takes Republican Sheriff nomination

DAVIS TO FACE RUARK IN NOVEMBER GENERAL ELECTION

Charlea Estes

It came down to 65 votes to determine who would be the Republican nominee for Barry County Sheriff in the November 8 General Election, but retired FBI agent Gary Davis pulled out ahead. Davis earned the nod at around 24 percent of the vote with 1,565 supporters, beating out former Highway Patrolman Travis Hilburn's 1,500 votes.

Davis was on the courthouse lawn along with many other candidates and supporters Tuesday night, waiting for the results to be read. Throughout the evening, the tallies were close between Hilburn and Davis, with the two going neck and neck from start to finish.

Davis shook hands with a number of community members after the unofficial results were released. When asked what his plans were to celebrate, he said, "Tomorrow, I'm going to go to McDonald's and have my coffee like I did every day before campaigning and tell those guys, but I think I'll buy them all their coffee this time."

Davis continued, "These guys are the ones who convinced me to run, so I want to share that with them."

When asked about how he felt about the outcome, Hilburn said, "It came close. Congratulations to Mr. Davis. I'll do it again in four years."

Terry Meek, currently with the Barry County Sheriff's Department, "I'm not supporting anyone in the race right now. I'm obviously disappointed, and I put a lot of work into it, but the people voted and they made their decision."

Meek said he won't run in future races.

James Smith said, "I just want to thank everyone who supported me and I made some really great friends through the campaign." Smith said he may consider running in the future, but that is to be determined.

Danny Boyd and Justin Fohn couldn't be reached for comment by the time of press.

He wants to let everyone know his office and the school are transparent and everyone is welcome anytime. He is honest, willing to listen and open minded. # Volunteers move CHS sidewalks

Community volunteers banded together to try to save the commemorative sidewalks at Cassville Schools before they were destroyed during the MoDOT sidewalk project.

Charlea Estes

When Cassville Schools announced a pending MoDOT project was going to destroy the commemorative sidewalks for Cassville High School graduates, it was met with a lot of emotions. The school came up with alternatives, originally hoping MoDOT could work around them, but in the end, they would have to be removed.

Cassville Schools formed a committee to see how they could honor the former graduating classes without the sidewalks stamped by multiple generations of students. Currently, the school is working on a monument that will be more permanent since many of the sidewalks had deteriorated with age.

The time has come that MoDOT has begun their sidewalk project to replace the current ones along Main Street in Cassville, and a group of concerned citizens rallied together and got permission from the school, MoDOT, and the company doing the work, Branco, to try to save the sidewalks before they were demolished.

One of the volunteers,

Brice Stehlik, coined the term "Operation: Save The School Sidewalks," a catchy phrase that embodies the spirit behind those volunteering their time and effort to quickly move the sidewalks to the parking lot and decide where they are going to go permanently.

Volunteer Corky Stehlik said, "We don't know where they're going to go, but we're moving them to save them."

It's been a whirlwind to try to get them removed and out of the way before MoDOT works on the sidewalks. On Thursday, July 28, volunteers Corky Stehlik, Brice Stehlik, Cody Epperly, Derek Couch, Johnnie Cox, Joe Trotter, Eli Stehlik, Wyatt Stehlik and Haydn Stehlik worked to move the slabs of sidewalk.

Some of the pieces have been lifted and stayed intact, while some of the older slabs have cracked, but the volunteers hope they can be pieced back together.

As far as the eventual home of the sidewalks, that is anyone's guess.

Exeter man dies while driving, causes wreck

Charlea Estes

An Exeter man died from a medical condition last week while he was driving, causing a car crash a mile south of Purdy. According to the Missouri State Highway Patrol crash report, James W. Lomax, 56, of Exeter, was driving northbound on Missouri 37 when the crash occurred.

Lomax was driving a 2002 Chevrolet Trailblazer when he died of a medical condition unrelated to the wreck, according to the report. The Trailblazer crossed the center line and struck a towed unit of a 2016

Kenworth driven by Terry L. Warhurst, 43, of Corinth, Miss. Lomax's SUV continued to run off the right side of the roadway and struck a road sign. Both vehicles had minor damage.

The wreck happened around 11:05 a.m. on Tuesday, July 26, and Lomax was pronounced deceased by Dr. Jeremy Sturgell at Cox Monett at 12:02 p.m. Both Lomax and Warhursts were wearing seat belts at the time of the crash.

Thank You!

The Family of Shirlene Marney DeSpain would like to say thank you for all your prayers for our Mom. Thank you to Mercy Joplin Hospital and staff for all their care. To the Mercy Hospice doctors and nurses that helped us take care of our beautiful mom at home, right up until the morning she took her last breath here on earth and opened her eyes in Heaven with Jesus. Thank you for all the cards and text messages of encouragement and sympathy. Thanks to Fohn Funeral home and staff for their help and smoked meat. To Bethlehem Freewill Baptist Church and Solid Rock Southern Baptist Church for the wonderful meal they provided. To Nolan McNeill II, Bro. Hap Anders and Bro. Scott Mitchell for the awesome service they conducted, and on Mom’s behalf that you shared with everyone that the reason our Mom got to go to Heaven with Jesus was because she had accepted Jesus as her personal saviour.

Sincerely

Marti DeSpain, the family of the late Pam Channel, Nema McCullah family, Jimmie and Katrina DeSpain family, Rick and Renee Christman family, Jeff and Christy Rippen family, Lance and Trish Stephens family

THANK You

Perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly in a chair. Perhaps you sent a funeral spray, if so we saw it there. Perhaps you spoke the kindest words that anyone could say. Perhaps you were not there at all, just thought of us that day. Whatever you did to console our hearts, we thank you so much, whatever the part.

From the family of Mick Ozbun

Cool weather often drives people to spend more hours indoors than they do during the warmer months. Autumn is a time to winterize gardens, put away lawn furniture and prepare for the holiday season. Autumn also provides the perfect opportunity to begin home interior projects.

Many people decide to redecorate their homes to reflect each season. When temperatures change, it's time to transition from the light colors and breezy fabrics symbolic of summer to thicker, darker materials that evoke coziness.

With some inspiration and a little know-how, any homeowner or apartment dweller can cozy up a space in time for fall and winter.

- Invest in area rugs. While wood floors can look beautiful and work well with many different design styles, wood can feel chilly underfoot. Thick area rugs add warmth to a room and can help it look more lived-in. Area rugs also help a room appear more cohesive, coordinating with other colors in a space and providing a visual border.

- Practice layering in rooms. An affordable and relatively easy way to make a room seem more cozy is to layer fabrics and other accents. Layers can include throws and blankets. Remove place mats from the dining room table and use them on accent tables or an ottoman in the living room. Table runners also can add a splash of color to the top of bedroom dressers.

- Play with texture. Look for fabrics that boast texture and can add a tactile feel to spaces. When used on throw pillows or small accents, faux fur can create that cozy cabin feel. Draperies made from nubby fabrics or those with grooves and ridges can add dimension to a room as well. Even a lampshade made of an unusual fabric, such as a waffle-patterned material, can add a little depth and warmth to a space.

- Reevaluate your lighting. Lighting a space is more than just flipping on a switch. Finding the right balance of lighting fixtures can instantly transform the feel of a room. Create more warmth and a cozy feel by switching out bulbs from cooler shades to warmer ones - those that give off yellow and pink hues rather than cool blues. Accent lighting helps establish a comfortable space for curling up and reading a good book. Spot lighting, such as fixtures that are trained on artwork or inside of a curio or china cabinet, also can set a more welcoming mood.

- Install a bookshelf and start a book collection. Piles and stacked books can add warmth to any space. Books evoke the hallowed halls of schools and quiet nooks in the library. Fill shelves with books interspersed with additional design accents, and you will instantly make a room feel more inviting.

- Choose dark paint. Do not feel nervous about incorporating deeper shades in rooms. Dark colors give rooms a more enclosed feel than lighter colors, and that can create a warm and cozy feeling. This works particularly well in larger spaces that feel vast and empty. If you're scared to paint all of your walls, try a darker shade below a chair rail or just paint one accent wall.

- Add architectural elements. Think about adding rich moldings to crown the ceilings or to frame doorways. If you have the space for a nook, create a window seat beneath a picture window or add a bench and cushions in a corner for a nice escape spot.

Use the colder weather as an opportunity to reinvent some of the rooms in your home. With paint, texture, fabric, lighting, and more, rooms can be quickly transformed into cozy respites from the cold.

Last week it rained all around my house. During that time I got a “6 inch” rain. The raindrops were 6 inches apart. Several times I was using the windshield wipers on the way home; however, when I got home I got out the garden hose and watered my garden. One evening I’m looking south, west and north and see nothing but rain clouds. But there was no rain at my house. “Well it looks like I missed another one.” An hour later I had 8/10 in my rain gauge. My problem was that of most people; I wanted God to bless me how “I” wanted to be blessed and when “I” wanted to be blessed. We often feel that if God doesn’t do things “our way” it means He isn’t doing anything at all.

“As we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose.” Romans 8:28.

God has told us He would supply our needs. The family at The Mill Street church of Christ invites you to join us as we glorify God by having the confidence and patience to wait as He uses His divine wisdom and timetable to work “all things for good.”

UNOFFICIAL RESULTS

PRIMARY ELECTION 2016

SHERIFF from FRONT

1,500 (23 percent), Terry Meek with 1,370 (21 percent), Danny Boyd with 1,207 (18 percent), James A. Smith with 781 (12 percent) and Justin Fohn with 115 votes (2 percent).

Davis said, "First thing, I want to do is thank God." He said he and his wife prayed about his running before he threw his hat in the ring.

He also said he is going to take the rest of the week off before starting the campaign path to the November election. "It'll be more of the same, but less door to door. It's hard to do in Barry County. It's so rural and everybody works. People aren't home. I plan to go to as many events as I can," Davis stated.

If elected, he plans to make changes in the department that encourage trust with the community and law enforcement, “I want to build on the trust between the Sheriff’s Department and the community. I don’t want anyone to be afraid to tell the Sheriff’s Department information.”

If elected, he says he doesn't plan to make staffing changes unless they are warranted. He said, "I don't plan to make personnel changes at the Sheriff's Department if they're doing their job. There may be a bit of redefining of duties, but I don't want to take away anyone's livelihood."

Davis will face Democratic candidate Justin “Dave” Ruark in the November 8 General Election.

up a little bit short. I want to tell Keith congratulations and also Rodney on a well-run campaign."

Hughes said, "Congratulations Keith Daniels on your win for Public Administrator. It has certainly been an adventure these past few months in our campaign efforts. I appreciate getting to know both you and Andy Reavis as we have moved to this place.”

Daniels came in with 39 percent of the vote with 2,448 casting their ballots in his favor. Runner-up Andy Reavis had 2,309 votes (37 percent), and Rodney Hughes brought in 1,445 (23 percent) votes.

Man arrested after alleged hammer attack

Charlea Estes

A Cape Fair man was arrested over the weekend when he allegedly struck a man with a hammer during an attempted car theft in Aurora. Donald Keith Hendershot, 44, of Cape Fair, was arrested and charged with assault in the second degree and attempted tampering with a motor vehicle in the first degree.

According to the affidavits of probable cause, Hendershot was on a property on Farm Road 2010 in Aurora on Saturday, July 30, around 1:30 p.m. The Barry County Sheriff's Department responded to a call that Hendershot was allegedly attempting to break in to a 1965 Ford car on the property. According to the victim and witness' statements, Hendershot then hit the victim in the head with a wooden handled claw hammer, causing a cut and a concussion.

Henderson is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $50,000 bond.

Purdy Schools bond issue passes with overwhelming 81 percent margin

Charlea Estes

Voters gave heavy favor to a bond issue that will allow Purdy Schools to build a FEMA tornado shelter on campus, as well as new preschool and music classrooms. Unofficial results showed 81.5 percent of Purdy District voters favoring the bond issue and only 18.5 percent opposing the issue. The tally came in with 608 yes votes and only 138 against.

The $2.3 million bond will allow the school to borrow against their bonding capacity to supplement FEMA grant money to allow for the building to be more multipurpose than just a storm shelter. The bonding will not impact taxes for residents in the district.

The plan for the shelter shows the building at around 8,000 square feet, and it will be able to house around 1,300 in the event of an emergency. If school is in session, the facility would be open on campus. However, since FEMA is involved, residents that live within a certain area near the shelter will also receive a letter if they are in the evacuation area in the event of a major storm.

There is no set time line in place for when the shelter will be completed, but they will begin the paper-work immediately now that the bond has passed. Purdy Schools Superintendent Dr. Steven Chancelor said he anticipates a six-month construction window.

He said, "We are excited. We knew it was a high voter turn out. We kind of watched it. I voted at 6 a.m., and I stood in line. I knew the day started out well.

"We felt like we had a good plan and something that made sense and was reasonable and something that people could support. Obviously we got that, and we're very happy."

It will be a bit of a lag

before the Purdy sees any visible progress on the building; however, there will be a lot of behind-the-scenes work that will be done by the school.

Chancelor said, "The hard part is not seeing a lot of activity for awhile. We're still very early in the process of the FEMA paperwork, so there will be a lot of back and forth with that and submitting paperwork and getting feedback, but I hope that we can get through the early spring or after the first of the year see some activity. We expect a short construction period."

A big part of the advantage of upgrading the FEMA shelter is the school will be able to have new preschool classroom and choir/band classrooms as well as being able to use the building for a performing arts venue. While FEMA provides 75 percent of the base cost of the building itself, any extras that allow it to be multipurpose are on the school district to pay for.

The bond will go to provide the remaining 25 percent plus any additional funds to make the building multipurpose. A final cost will be determined further in the process.

Going to grandma’s: Helping foster kids feel at home

Julie Pruitt

Can you imagine being taken from your home with all your belongings in a trash bag? Every day, this happens to children taken from their homes for safety reasons and placed in foster homes. These children are already dealing with loss and confusion and then having to leave with just a trash bag adds to their loss of dignity. Jennifer Humphrey recognized this tragedy and decided something had to be done. This was the beginning of Going to Grandma’s House, A Foster Care Dignity Project. Humphrey has worked in Children’s Services for 20 years, with 10 of them as an investigator, so she has first hand knowledge of the trauma children face when leaving their home. Her first goal was to ensure every investigator take a suitcase to homes where children were going to be removed from unsafe conditions. She shared the idea on Facebook hoping someone would take charge because she was busy working and raising her children. No one stepped up, and then one day she was in a flea market and saw two suitcases. She felt GOD was telling her to take on this important project. She began gathering suitcases and speaking to churches and schools and encouraging suitcase drives. Today, she has collected over 100 suitcases and distributed them to Barry, Lawrence and Stone counties’ Children’s Services. Humphrey also works in Jasper County so she takes suitcases there too. Humphrey and her children clean up the suitcases and place a special name tag and prayer cloth inside each one. The cloth has been prayed over to give blessings to the children for their safety and security. This is a physical object that they can keep and hold and know there are people who pray and care for them. Many times this is their first exposure to God and prayer. When children are removed from their home, they can pack their belongings in a real suitcase they can keep forever. Then it can be easily stored under a bed and it provides a place children can keep things they accumulate such as awards from school, gifts, clothes, etc., while in foster care. Then they can take the suitcase back home and share what they have gotten with their parents.

Jessica Baugh was a foster child and remembers leaving her home at three years of age with only a Wal-Mart sack with her things. She is one of Going to Grandma’s biggest advocates. She promotes this suitcase idea in her hometown and provides a real life example of how much a suitcase means to a child.

Humphrey feels very blessed to be involved in the project and encourages everyone to start gathering suitcases. If you have a donation and live in Barry County, take it to Kim Horner, Sr. Office Support Assistant at Children’s Division in Cassville.

For more information, you can contact Jennifer Humphrey at miahs_mom824@yahoo.com or Ozarks volunteer, is discussing the option of installing a drip irrigation system. The above-ground hose and emitters are inexpensive and easy to install and can reduce your time in the garden significantly.

Bill has been active in many Master Gardener project gardens and speaks from his experiences in various planting situations. Come and see the presentation and join the discussion at the next session of Front Porch Conversations on Thursday, Aug. 11, at 7 p.m. Front Porch takes place in the lower level of the Cassville Library and is open to call. The Front Porch series of gardening presentations is co-sponsored by the Cassville Friends of the Library and the Barry County Master Gardeners.

Women in Dairy program to focus on financial planning

Schedule the opportunity to lunch and learn at University of Missouri Extension’s “Women in Dairy” program from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Aug. 8, at Missouri State University’s Fruit Experiment Station, 9740 Red Spring Road, Mountain Grove.

“Record Keeping: Are We Making Ground?” will be presented by Wesley Tucker, an agriculture business specialist with MU Extension.

“Understanding financial benchmarks helps producers better understand their competitiveness in the industry,” said Tucker. “During this time of low milk prices, identifying opportunities is more important than ever.”

MU Extension’s Women in Dairy program is in its debut year.

“It’s such a delight to spend mid-day with a great group of like-minded ladies,” said Reagan Bluel, MU Extension dairy specialist.

Meetings are scheduled on the second Monday of every month, in alternating locations between Mt. Vernon and Mt. Grove.

“There’s always something to do on a farm but by scheduling the same day every month, my hope is for ladies to be able to pencil us in this meeting and ones in the future,” explained Bluel.

Please register by calling the Barry County Extension office at (417) 847-3161 or the Wright County Extension office at (417) 547-7545. The $10 registration fee for this lunch and learn opportunity can be paid the day of at the door.

The Wright County Extension office is located inside the Missouri State University Fruit Experiment Station at 9740 Red Spring Road, Mountain Grove. Funding and support for the local office comes from the Wright County Commission, MSU, and City of Mountain Grove. MSU provides Wright County Extension with office and classroom space as part of a joint sponsorship and programming agreement signed in 2015.

University of Missouri Extension programs focus on the high-priority needs of Wright County residents to improve lives, communities, and economies by providing relevant, responsive and reliable educational solutions. Wright County Extension, with oversight by locally elected and appointed citizens, is your local link to practical education on almost anything. DWI saturation planned for Barry County

Captain Juan Villanueva, commanding officer, Troop D, Springfield, announces that sometime during the month of August 2016, Troop D will conduct DWI checkpoints in Christian and Jasper counties, and a DWI saturation in Barry County. The areas selected for enforcement are based on a high number of drinking-related crashes, high number of contacts with drivers who have been drinking, and officers' input as to probable contact with DWI violators. The sobering fact is that impaired driving contributes to more than 25 percent of all Missouri fatal traffic crashes. That's why the Missouri State Highway Patrol will join other Missouri law enforcement agencies to crack down on impaired driving throughout the month of August.

Additionally, the Patrol will be conducting hazardous moving violation saturations in Christian, Jasper, Newton, and Taney counties. The primary goal of these projects is to positively impact traffic problems by reducing crashes. The objectives are to heighten the awareness of the risks associated with impaired driving and increase compliance of the speed limit and seat belt laws.

"The Missouri State Highway Patrol is committed to removing unsafe drivers from our highways," said Captain Villanueva. "Saturations and sobriety checkpoints are part of the Patrol's strategy to make Missouri's roadways safer."

The only 100 percent survivable traffic crash is the one that never happens. Make sure everyone in the vehicle is properly restrained in a seat belt or child restraint. Every day as we travel on Missouri's roadways, we trust that every driver on the road is going to obey the speed limit, pay attention, and drive sober. "Don't Violate The Trust."

Notice of Public Hearing

A hearing will be held at 6:30 P.M., August 11, 2016, at the Southwest R-V High School Library. At this time, citizens may be heard on the property tax rates proposed to be set by Southwest R-V, a school district located in Barry and McDonald counties. The tax rates are set to produce the revenues, which the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2016 shows to be required from the property tax. Each tax rate is determined by dividing the amount of revenue needed by the current assessed valuation. The result is multiplied by 100 so the tax rate will be expressed in cents per $100 valuation.

Assessed Valuation (by categories)	Year 2015-2016	Year 2016-2017
Real Estate	$26,873,004	$27,005,956
Personal Property	$9,144,354	$9,817,693
Total	$36,017,358	$36,823,649

The following Tax rates are proposed:
Assessed Valuation: $36,823,649

Fund	Amount of Property Tax Revenue Budgeted	Proposed Tax Rate Per $100
Incidental	$1,012,649	$2.75
Teachers	$0	$0.00
Debt Service	$313,001	$0.85
Total	$1,325,650	$3.60

New Construction (Total) $214,974

New Revenue from New Construction and Improvements: $ 7,739

Percentage of total revenue from New Construction 0.597%
