

Arkansas man killed in motorcycle crash

Charlea Estes

An Arkansas man was killed in a motorcycle crash on Monday afternoon near Aurora. According to the Missouri State Highway Patrol crash report, the man died after a car failed to yield and hit the motorcyclist, ejecting the driver.

On Monday, September 11, Nicholas L. Woods, 25, of Aurora, was driving a 1993 Oldsmobile Cutlass northbound on Highway 39 at Highway Z about four miles south of Aurora. Woods failed to yield to a motorcycle heading southbound. Woods struck the 2005 Harley Davidson driven by Rodney P. Campbell, 54, of Berryville, Ark., ejecting the driver.

Campbell was transported to Mercy Hospital of Aurora by emergency medical services. He was pronounced dead by Dr. Kenneth Stangler at 4:20 p.m.

Woods had no reported injuries at the time of the crash. Woods was wearing a seat belt at the time of the accident. Campbell was not wearing a helmet.

Both vehicles were totaled and towed from the scene by Jim Carr Wrecker.

This is Missouri State Highway Patrol Troop D's second fatality of the month and 78th fatality for the year.

Demolition Derby draws crowd, new event

Hometown favorite Rusty Newman, of Cassville, in car 4, slams into Denzil Arms, #17 from Miami, Okla., during the Modified event at the Demolition Derby on Saturday night, September 9. Newman took first prize in the modified class this year.

Pictured above, Chrissy Stidam, 5, of Washburn, has a laugh as she makes a big hit during the Cassville Rotary Club's first ever Power Wheels event at the Demolition Derby. The first year had four drivers: Stidam, Rocky Shockley, of Garfield, Ark., Copen Maloge, of Stark City, and Jackson Alen, of Wheaton.

Central Crossing responds to suspicious dock fire

Charlea Estes

A fire on a boat dock near Needles Eye in Shell Knob is under investigation. The crew from the Central Crossing Fire Department responded to the fire at 6:11 p.m. for reports of multiple boats on fire as well as the dock housing them.

While firefighters were aware of where the location of the cove fire was in, it was initially unclear which side of the cove crew would need to be on to access the fire to extinguish it.

Crew were dispatched to both sides of the cove from the Sans Souci area as well as the Needles Eye area to assess the situation. They also utilized the Central Crossing Fire Department's fire boat.

Once on scene, all

New Barry County Century Farm Family awarded

Aurora driver seriously injured near Jenkins

Barry County Extension Office awarded a Century Farm Family at a special potluck banquet at Rocky Edmonson Park in Cassville on Thursday, September 7. The award this year goes to Jerry Henderson for his farm located on Farm Road 2060 outside of Monett. The farm was purchased by his great-great grandfather Andrew J. Henderson in 1885. The 160 acres qualifies after being in the family for 132 years. The family is pictured above with a representative from the Extension Office. From left to right: Reagan Bluehl, Derek Couch, Colleen Henderson Evans, Katherine Wormington, Jerry Hendrson, Devon Forsyth holding baby Henry Forsyth, Nadean Merritt and Preston Forsyth.

Charlea Estes

An Aurora man was seriously injured in a crash near Jenkins on Saturday evening. According to the Missouri State Highway Patrol crash report, the driver ran off the roadway and struck a tree.

On Saturday, September 9, Mark A. Neill, 54, of Aurora, was driving eastbound on MO 248 about one mile west of Jenkins. Neill was driving a 1992 Toyota when he ran off the roadway and struck a tree around 7:55 p.m.

Neill was taken to Mercy

Hospital in Springfield for serious injuries. It is unknown as to whether Neill was wearing a seatbelt at the time of the crash.

The Toyota was totalled in the crash and towed from the scene by Wilson's Towing, of Washburn.

WILLIAM ANDREW
“DREW” CRAWFORD

William Andrew “Drew” Crawford, 32, of Cassville, passed away on Friday, September 8, 2017. Drew, son of Berlie and Queeta (Dummit) Crawford, was born on December 20, 1984, in Monett. He was a lifelong Barry County resident and a 2003 Purdy

High School graduate. Drew and Kasey (Hall) Gauss were married on July 19, 2014, near the creek on Drew’s grandfather’s farm. The couple then traveled to Cabo, Mexico, where they repeated their vows before embarking on their honeymoon.

Drew was the owner/operator of 4-C Farms and 4-C Trucking. He very much enjoyed the outdoors and farming. He raised chickens and was a cattle rancher, and always made sure the boys were involved with his daily farming activities. Family and friends were very important to Drew. He was always a phone call away to help others when needed. Drew had a contagious smile and was a jokester. He will be forever missed by all who had the privilege of knowing him. Drew was an active member of the Monett Church of the

OBITUARIES

Nazarene in Monett.

Survivors include his wife, Kasey Crawford, of Cassville; two sons, Mason Gauss and Corbin Crawford, both of the home; his parents, Berlie and Queeta Crawford, of McDowell; one brother, Christopher Crawford and his wife, Rachel, of Kansas City; three sisters, Debra Coleman and her husband, Todd, of Kansas City, Kayla Hogan and her husband, Robert, of McDowell, and Lora Martinson and her husband, Jeff, of Republic; his maternal grandfather, Eddie Dummit and his wife, Judy, of McDowell; his mother-in law, Cheryl Williams and her husband, Scott, of Cassville; his father-in-law, Roger Hall and his wife, Gail, of Aurora; and numerous other family members.

Drew was preceded in death by his maternal grandmother, Glenna Dummit, and his paternal grandparents, Roy and Pauline Crawford.

Memorial contributions may be made to the boys’ accounts set up at Freedom Bank in Cassville, or entrusted to the White Funeral Home and Crematory for Mason and Corbin.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p.m. on September 12, 2017, at the Monett Church of the Nazarene in Monett, with Pastor Michael Daugherty and Pastor Wyatt Clevenger officiating. Burial followed at Mt. Pleasant Cemetery in Butterfield. The family received friends from 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Monday, September 11, at the White Funeral Home and Crematory in Cassville.

Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the White Funeral Home and Crematory, Cassville.

David Paul Shepard, 58, of Purdy, passed away Tuesday, September 5, 2017, at Cox Medical Center South in Springfield.

He was born February 20, 1959, in Branson, the son of Cledis and Alice (Pride) Shepard, who preceded him in death.

Surviving are two sons, Aaron Moore and his wife, Renée, of Cassville, and Paul Shepard, of Golden; one daughter, Jewel Shepard and her husband, Michael Marcucci, of Cassville; five brothers, Wilbur Shepard and his wife, Carol, of Kimberling City, Wendel Shepard and his wife, Ruth, of Shell Knob, Dale Shepard, of Golden, Ronnie Shepard, of Shell Knob, and Tommy Shepard and his wife, Delana, of Golden; four sisters, Virginia Boyken of Aurora, Carol Greenhall and her husband, Joe, of Tahlequah, Okla., Wanda Corning and her husband, Terril, of Arkansas and Tina DeLong and her husband, Robert, of Lampe; one granddaughter, Lillian Marcucci; four step-grandchildren, Michael, Kelly, Allison and Kendal Marcucci; one great-grandson, Noah Henson; and numerous nieces and nephews.

David received his education at Purdy. He was a self-employed logger. Some of his favorite pastimes were hunting, fishing, cutting wood and being with family.

Services were held at 11:00 a.m. Saturday, September 9, 2017, at Viney Creek Cemetery at Golden. Following services a celebration of life was held at the Eagle Rock Community Park.

An account has been set up at Freedom Bank in David’s name for memorial contributions.

Cremation arrangements are under direction of Fohn Funeral Home in Cassville.

To Honor the angel that our Father in heaven blessed the earth with for 55 years. She was my best friend, my soulmate.

On July 6, 2017 God called upon Debra Sue Huse to come home, her journey on earth was over. The Huse family was honored and comforted by many friends and relatives. I want to say thank you to all, from my heart, for all the food and flowers and kind words and thank you to all that attended the visitation or funeral. For those unable to attend, if Deb was in you thoughts, and prayers, God Bless You. A special thanks to Fohn Funeral Home for taking care of the services. Praise to the God of all comfort, praise be to the God and Father of our Lord, Jesus Christ, the Father of Compassion and the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our troubles, so that we can comfort, who comforts us in all our troubles, so that we can comfort those in any trouble with the comfort we ourselves receive from God.

CURTINA JEAN “TINA” AUTREY

Curtina Jean “Tina” Autrey, 62, of Cassville, passed away Monday, September 4, 2017, at Cox Medical Center

THANK YOU

All the kind words and all the folks showing up for visitation and funeral, showing their respect, made it so much easier to tell my son good-bye and see you later. We can all see him in the fencing and welding he did all over our countryside which he spent his work life accomplishing. Think about Doug when you are fishing. Thanks for all your concern and help raising my son.

South in Springfield, surrounded by family.

She was born October 8, 1954, in Monett, the daughter of Bob and Vera (Harris) Blythe. On August 22, 1975, in Cassville, she was united in marriage to Tom Autrey, who survives. Also surviving are one son, Ben Autrey and his wife, Brandi, of Cassville; one daughter, Olivia Smith and her husband, Dustin, of Cassville; her father, Bob Blythe, of Cassville; two sisters, Cathy May, of Cassville, and Karen Allen and her husband, Greg, of Cassville; and five grandchildren, Zoie, Attison, Briella, Mason and Easton.

Preceding her in death were her mother, Vera Blythe, and brother-in-law, Russel May.

Tina received her education in Cassville, graduating from Cassville High School. She attended Crowder College where she studied Environmental Health. For several years, she was employed at Luggage Works in Aurora as an embroiderer. She was a member of Mill Street Church of Christ in Cassville. She loved animals, raising goats, and being with her grandkids.

Services were held at 10:00 a.m. Saturday, September 9, 2017, at Fohn Funeral Home in Cassville. Pastor Rick Cooper conducted the services. Burial was in Maplewood Cemetery at Exeter.

The family received friends from 6:00 until 8:00 p.m. Friday at Fohn Funeral Home in Cassville.

Contributions may be made to grandkids education fund in memory of Tina.

2017 Wildcat Homecoming

The first entry in Cassville's Homecoming parade this year was a bus decorated and filled with special education students waving to the crowd.

Cassville cheerleaders and the senior football players waved from the Wildcat truck during the parade.

Cassville's marching band provided music for the first parade in over 20 years for the district.

Cassville's softball team jumped aboard one of the floats that travelled along Main Street to get the community pumped for Friday night's Homecoming game.

crew moved to the Needles Eye area to help fight the fire. One boat was totally engulfed in flames. The dock had also caught fire as well as a couple other boats. The crew determined that other boats were in danger of becoming involved in the fire, as well.

Firefighters worked quickly to extinguish the boat and dock and move the boat most heavily impacted from the dock. Two other boats and the dock were moderately damaged.

Central Crossing released a statement that the fire was suspicious and is currently under investigation. All property owners who suffered damage to their boats have been contacted.

Central Crossing Fire Department requested mutual aid from Southern Stone County Fire's boat unit. The Missouri State Highway Patrol water division also provided aid to the department.

New dentist takes over Dr. Carolyn Hunter’s practice

Charlea Estes

After 34 years of serving the Cassville community's dental needs, Dr. Carolyn Hunter has handed over the keys of her office to a new dentist.

Dr. Jared Spears, DDS PC, is the new owner of the dental practice at 77 Smithson Drive. He comes to Cassville from northern California.

Dr. Hunter said, “I had to find someone to buy the practice who I thought would be a good fit and was extremely competent. I looked at a few other prospective dentists but I didn’t think they would be a good fit for Cassville like Dr. Spears is.”

However, she isn’t stepping away from the chair entirely. She will be working two days a week and every other Friday for the foreseeable future.

While Dr. Hunter originally hailed from Illinois, she purchased her current practice from Dr. Ethel Landreth on July 11, 1983, after graduating from Southern Illinois University School of Dental Medicine with her DMD (Doctor of Medical Dentistry) Degree. She had been a dental hygienist for eight years prior to earning her degree.

When Dr. Hunter purchased the clinic, it was a preventative crown and bridge practice, and she kept it that way. However, with Dr. Spears taking the helm, he plans to expand services. She said, “I wanted a crown and bridge practice. When I first came here, I had a lot of established patients and was able to do comprehensive dentistry, not just fixing a broken tooth.”

She added, “He loves crown and bridge work, and he will also be doing implants and has had experience with braces. He’s also very gentle with extractions.”

Dr. Spears said that moving to the midwest was a goal because they have family in Bentonville. He is originally from northern California where he also owned his own dental practice. He said, “I was really drawn to this area. I came across Dr. Hunter’s practice and had an impromptu meeting with her and from the time we walked in the door and met with Dr. Hunter, we felt good about the practice. Then it was just a matter of logistics.”

As Dr. Spears continues in the new practice, he plans to expand some services.

Dr. Hunter said things are very different today

compared to when she first started. She said, “Looking back, when I started, we didn’t have a typewriter in the office; I had to bring my own. We went to the bank to have a copy made. Now, we’ve got 14 computer work stations. There are digital X-rays and computer-guided implants that make it easier to place it.”

Now, Dr. Spears is adding even newer equipment. He said, “We’re starting to do some new things; things that are more surgically-oriented that previously we had to refer out to other offices in the community.

“We always have to be improving and changing for the better. Change gets us better services when it’s done the right way.”

By expanding services, they hope to improve service and also how quickly things get done and offer immediate results. He said, “We try to get them in and take care of things. We want to get that work done as quickly as possible.”

Dr. Hunter said, “It’s important to get some things done the same day.”

With the office adding services, Dr. Hunter said she is sure her current patients and new patients will be pleased with the office. She said, “We have very similar philosophies and we’ve really enjoyed working together.”

Dr. Spears said, “We understand that a lot of folks in the community might have insurance through their employer, but a lot of people don’t have insurance, too. We want to be as practical as possible and still deliver what people need, which is a healthy mouth.”

Dr. Spears has been married to his wife, Emily, for 18 years. They have five children, Logan, 15, Boston, 14, Sydney 12, Georgia, 7, and Lincoln, 5.

Dr. Spears graduated from the University of the Pacific Dental School in 2004 and has been working in his hometown of Yuba City, Calif., since 2006.

Man injured while herding cattle on ATV

Charlea Estes

An Eagle Rock man was injured after being ejected from an ATV while herding cattle on Sunday. According to the Missouri State Highway Patrol crash report, Rodney L. Ozburn, 44, of Eagle Rock, was injured off of F Highway in Eagle Rock.

Ozburn was driving a 2001 Honda TRX250 ATV west-bound when he wrecked around 6:15 p.m. on September 10. Ozburn was ejected from the ATV while he was herding cattle about one and a half miles northeast of Eagle Rock. He was transported to Cox Hospital in Monett with moderate injuries.

Ozburn was not wearing a safety device at the time of the crash. There was no reported damage to the ATV, and it was left at the scene.

Purdy Elementary hosts “grand” celebration

Fourth grader Courtney Patterson smiles with her “YaYa”, also known as Charlene Miller.

Purdy Elementary Principal Julie Dalton and her staff and students welcomed over 200 grandparents, family members and special guests to the school’s annual “Grandparents Celebration” on Friday, September 8.

Attendees and their grandchildren enjoyed playing board games, making crafts, reading books, posing for pictures and eating refreshments. Purdy Elementary Secretary Kimberly Utter held a “Grand” prize drawing for several beautiful autumn mums. Winners included Troy Davis, grandfather of Andelyn and Brinlee Vineyard; Sara Fanning, grandmother of Jenna Adams; Belem Ibarra, special guest of Roberto Becerra; and Max and Janie Knight, grandparents of Laney and Lauren Lamp.

Dalton, in her first year as Purdy Elementary principal, noted of the heartwarming event, “My first Grandparents’ Celebration as Purdy Elementary principal was a priceless experience. I watched as a grandfather and his grandson stacked blocks on a table, building something far more important than a tower. Similar scenes played out at board games, craft tables and refreshment lines. In an all-too-brief span of time, multiple generations joined together to create memories that all will hold dear for years to come. I would like to extend a special thank you to all of the grandparents and family members who attended, and to the multitude of “special guests” who served as grandparents for students whose families were unable to join us. What a wonderful gift you gave to our children by being a part of this special day.”

Purdy first grade teacher Chelsea Mareth Bennett (center) enlisted the help of two sets of her grandparents for her first Grandparents’ Celebration as a teacher. Bob and Marlene Mareth (left) and Steve and Joyce Williams (right) played games, made crafts and enjoyed snacks with students in Bennett’s class whose grandparents were unable to attend the event.

Exeter FFA attends Salute to Agriculture

Madelyn Cole, Chapter Reporter

Members from the Exeter FFA Chapter attended Salute to Agriculture, co-sponsored by PFI Western Wear, Missouri Farm Bureau and William H. Darr College of Agriculture, Friday, September 8, 2017. Over 1400 FFA members from 37 chapters were treated to a meal, a round of agricultural olympics, yard games and ended at the John Q. Hammons Arena to enjoy a PBR PFI Western Invitational. Industry leaders were on hand to remind students that agriculture is important and food will feed the world.

Lt. Governor Mike Parsons, Missouri Farm Bureau President Blake Hurst and PFI Western Store Marketing Official Courtney Little-Ash were on hand to greet the students, thank them for their interest in agriculture and to encourage them in pursuing a future in the industry. The William H. Darr College of Agriculture houses over 800 students providing them with 10 different majors and 8 minors to provide a foundation to successfully work in the agriculture industry.

Mustangs post upset over Wildcats

Lee Stubblefield

Homecoming. Football. Marching bands. Kings and queens. They were all on display at Wildcat Stadium on Friday night, and a wild celebration continued for quite some time after the game. But it wasn't the Wildcats or their fans who were celebrating.

The McDonald County Mustangs, under first year head coach Kellen Hoover, shocked Cassville with a 21-14 road victory. Three different Mustangs found the end zone, but the Mac defense was the story of the game.

The punt block to set up the tying touchdown earned Best Supporting Actor Award for the McDonald County special teams unit.

Besides the smothering defense, the Mustangs used a ball-control offense to run down the clock and wear out the Cassville defense.

Workhorse tailback Israel Desantiago carried 32 times for 137 yards and a touchdown to pace the McDonald County offense. Desantiago also bailed out quarterback Peyton Barton with a pair of impromptu third-down catches.

Give the Mustangs, their coaches, and their fans the credit they deserve. On this night, they were the better football team.

The Wildcats drove the field with the opening kickoff to take a 6-0 lead. Anthony Tolbert capped the 12-play, 78-yard drive with a 2-yard touchdown blast out of the wishbone to give the Cats a 6-0 lead at the 5:53 mark of the first quarter.

The Mustangs put together an 8-play, 74-yard scoring drive to open the second quarter. Desantiago burst into the Cassville secondary for a 27-yard touchdown run, and Dylan Allison's PAT gave Mac a 7-6 lead.

Cassville scored again with a Shannon Haney-to-DJ White 35-yard touchdown pass for a 14-7 lead at halftime. After that, the Mustangs corralled the Cassville offense. Not only did Cassville not score in the second half, but the Wildcats failed to move the chains even once in that half.

McDonald County's special teams blocked Bowen Preddy's rugby punt to set up the tying touchdown late in the third quarter, and Timber Teague's one-yard scoring plunge at the 6:56 mark of the fourth quarter propelled the Mustangs into the lead.

The Wildcat Nation could only watch in disbelief as the Mustangs ran out the clock on a monumental and historic upset. McDonald County, known as one of the perennial doormats of southwest Missouri football, played more like Webb City while defeating Cassville.

The Wildcats (2-2) now face the long road trip to play at St. James. The Tigers boast a perfect 4-0 record, with lopsided victories over Cuba, Houston, Hermann, and Owensville. Kickoff is set

“God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.” James 4:6

Someone became ill and requested that I come see them. It was odd since that person regularly attended another congregation. I must admit my ego got the best of me, out of all the preachers in the area, I was requested. Upon my arrival, her young daughter led me down the hall. Curious, I asked if her regular preacher was out of town. “Oh no, mamma thought it might be serious, and contagious and she didn’t want to take any chances with our preacher.” I learned a valuable lesson; sometimes we can become too impressed with ourselves. Jesus made a comment on this subject in Luke 14:11; “For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.” Please join us as we humble ourselves in the sight of the Lord.

Lady Wildcats drop East Newton in straight sets

Lee Stubblefield

The Cassville Lady Wildcats went on the road and claimed a 2-0 win over East Newton in Big 8 Conference volleyball action on Thursday night. Briana Kleine watched her team improve to 6-1 on the season with the 25-23, 25-23 straight sets victory.

Brianna Hemphill led the Ladycats with 6 kills.

This is the best start for a Lady Wildcats volleyball team since Jerry Schneiders' girls started the 2010 season with a 5-2 mark.

“The girls are doing phenomenal,” gushed Kleine. “I credit their early success to all the hard work they put in this summer when other teams were taking time off. They worked so hard every single day, and it shows now during those long rallies when our girls can keep going. They also work really hard in practice- there's a mentality shift this year, and we are loving how that is coming out in their performance.”

Cassville Women's Golf Association Update

On Thursday, September 7th, the Cassville Women's Golf Association hosted the Men's League for their annual 4-person scramble.

The scramble had 13 women and 19 men for a total of 8 teams.

The first place team, with a score of 62, was Butch Watson, Penny Hall, MaryLee Meyerkord and Charles Chappell. The second place team, with a score of 65, was Mike Flandrena, Jacque Fleischman, Sue King, and Donna Richards. The third place team, with a score of 65, was Jim Travis, Dwaine Martin, Susie Jacobs, and Denver Douglas.

If you are a lady golfer, no matter what your ability, and are interested in joining our league, please contact Pamela Graham, President at (417) 847-5362. The association meets every Thursday morning from April to October.

Ladycats runners claim first, Wildcats second at Seneca Invitational

Lee Stubblefield

Brylee Wilson claimed the silver medal at Seneca last Thursday in her first varsity cross country race, leading her Cassville Lady Wildcats to victory in the girls varsity division. Cassville edged Neosho, 59-66 for the tallest trophy. Grace Bishop of College Heights won the gold medal with her 21:15 performance.

In the boys varsity race, the Wildcats placed second in the team standings with 55 points. Lamar cruised to the win, scoring 19.

Purdy placed seventh with 151, and Exeter placed eighth with 190 as the Tigers fielded their first cross country team in years.

In the girls race, Wilson clocked 21:49 over the 5K course. Zoey Brookes was 11th in 22:41; Jordan Stafford placed 21st in 24:06; Madison Bower finished 25th in 24:19; and Juliette Okel completed the Cassville scoring with her 30th position in 24:52.

Other notable area runners included Purd's Mackenna Orwig, 22nd in 23:57, and Joy Grace, 42nd in 26:18. Exeter's Breanna Grant and McKenzie Fuller placed 47th and 64th, respectively.

The Lamar Tigers had the first three runners cross the line in the varsity boys race, and placed five in the top ten in posting a winning score of 19. Austin Wilso's 17:41 4th-place finish paced Cassville

Southwest Little Theatre to perform Melodrama, Olio

The Southwest Little Theatre will present The Melodrama and Olio on Friday, September 29, at 6:30 p.m. and twice on Saturday, September 30, at 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. Tickets are $10 per guest and can be reserved by contacting (417) 826-5361 or r5whest@swr5.net. The Southwest Little Theatre is a part of Southwest Schools in Washburn. The Melodrama has become a modern comedy favorite because of its overly dramatic dialogue and its excessively emotional acting style. The audience will cheer the hero, boo and throw “tomatoes” at the dastardly villain. Olio performers will tickle your funny bone with humorous scenes and monologues.

Friday’s Melodrama cast include: Janaya Erwin, Jesse Foster, Amber Crites, Mariah Long, Shelby Blevins, Deven Maleki, Ausitn Moreton, Kaitey Resz and Kaylea Holder.

Friday’s Olio performers include: Tierney Ash, Molly Atkinson, Trevor Bemrose, Tyler Bemrose, Cloe Brattin, Carli Carmack, Michaela Coke, Janaya Erwin, Justice Glueckert, Kaylea Holder, Deven Maleki, Amelia Pierce, Ethan Recio, Elizabeth Ross, Harley Setzer, Kaizer Slinkard, Samuel Smallwood, Madison Snow, Brittany Trotter, Jasmine Williams and Rachel Willer.

Saturday’s 4:30 p.m. Melodrama cast include those pictured. The Olio cast includes: Olivia Ayer, Chloe Hodge, Rachel Jimenez, Amber Larson, Elizabeth Long, Branden Lowry, Mackenzy McCarly, Danielle Martinez, Jailee Mitchell, Braden Moreton, Brooke Morgan, Jessica Munday, Seth Nipps, Austin Peterson, Shaylyn Reed, Hope Robbins, Shaylea Rose, Kristin Teague and Alyssa West.

The Saturday 6:30 p.m. Melodrama cast includes those pictured. The Olio will feature student directed comedy scenes in a competition format. The audience will vote for the best scene and the winning director and cast will be given awards at the SLT Angel Awards in March. The Olio cast includes: Jacey Ball, Timothy Bee, Aaron Beeson, Christina Brinkman, Amber Cannady, James Colunga, Alexis Corwin, Amber Crites, Hannah Cypret, Renae Dalton, Jacob Flick, Rachell Hedden, Sarah Hedden, Megan Hocutt, Sydney Holt, Hannah Hougland, Calvin Jenkins, Blanche Kirk, Lili Outhouse, Maggie Patterson, Jarrett Pike, Austin Pippin, Danielle Reed, Caleb Resz, Shyla Richardson, Brianna Roller, Lyric Sears, Tristin Sears, Isaac Starr and Heather Windes.

Wheaton grad earns Master’s Degree

Cindy Pointer, M.O.T., of Wheaton, has completed the Master of Occupational Therapy (M.O.T.) degree in the College of Health Sciences at Midwestern University. An official graduation ceremony and conferring of degrees took place on the Midwestern University campus in Glendale, Arizona, on August 31.

Pointer is the daughter of Robert and Esther Pointer of Wheaton. She graduated from Wheaton RIII High School in 2008 and earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Exercise Physiology from Brigham Young University-Idaho in 2014. While at MWU, she served in the Student Occupational Therapists Association (SOTA). After graduation, Pointer plans to work as a pediatric occupational therapist.

Occupational therapists (O.T.s) are healthcare professionals trained to help patients to develop, retain, and regain the ability to perform important “occupations” of daily life. O.T.s may have expertise in child development, lifespan adjustment, ergonomics, assistive technology, prevention and wellness, family and caregiver education, orthotics, environmental analysis and modification, and more. Midwestern University’s Occupational Therapy Program is designed to prepare entry-level practitioners to provide expanded occupational therapy services in large, small, traditional, and nontraditional community and clinical practice settings.

Midwestern University is a graduate institution offering degrees in the health sciences with eleven colleges and two campuses. The Illinois campus, located on a 105-acre site in Downers Grove, is home to over 2,900 students and five colleges: the Chicago College of Osteopathic Medicine, the Chicago College of Pharmacy, the College of Health Sciences, the College of Dental Medicine-Illinois, and the Chicago College of Optometry. The Arizona campus, located on a 156-acre site in Glendale, is home to over 3,500 students and six colleges: the Arizona College of Osteopathic Medicine, the College of Pharmacy-Glendale, the College of Health Sciences, the College of Dental Medicine-Arizona, the Arizona College of Optometry, and the College of Veterinary Medicine. The University is accredited by The Higher Learning Commission, a Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. For more information, visit <http://www.midwestern.edu> or call (623) 572-3215.

CHARLEA'S KITCHEN

Mexican Quinoa Salad

This is a quick, make ahead recipe that is tasty, light and healthy. Using quinoa instead of pasta or rice makes it much more carb-friendly than traditional cold salads. This is a great recipe for people who don't think they like quinoa.

- Serves: 6 Active time: 20 min. Total time: 45 min.
- | | |
|---|---|
| • 1 cup quinoa, rinsed | • 1 bunch cilantro, chopped (optional) |
| • 1 TBS butter | • 1 clove garlic, minced |
| • 2 cups chicken broth or water | • Juice of 3 limes |
| • 1 tomato, diced | • 1/4 cup olive oil |
| • 1 can black beans, drained and rinsed | • 1/2 tsp salt |
| • 1 can corn, drained | • 1/2 tsp chili powder (or chipotle chili powder for more kick) |
| • 1 onion, diced | • 1 cup feta cheese crumbled |
| • 1 green bell pepper, chopped | |

Melt butter in a saucepan over medium heat. Add quinoa and cook 3-4 minutes until quinoa is toasted and brown. Add the broth or water to pan and bring to a boil. Reduce heat to low and simmer, covered, for 15-20 minutes or until all liquid has been absorbed. Prepare other ingredients while this is cooking.

Add all other ingredients into a large bowl and toss to combine and coat with liquid. Cover and place in the refrigerator to marinate.

Once quinoa is finished, fluff it with a fork and cool to room temperature before adding it to the bowl of vegetables and dressing. Toss to combine and serve cold. This also keeps well in the refrigerator for a few days.

Note: You can vary spices and ingredients to taste. I've also made this with chopped avocado, chicken, black olives, etc.*

Burnette receives 2017 Exeter DEKALB award

Lanna Burnette, of Exeter High School, was presented the school's highest agricultural honor, the DEKALB Agricultural Accomplishment Award, sponsored by Monsanto Company.

Burnette, the daughter of Tim Burnette and Becky Coffey, received the award for excellence in academics, leadership and agricultural work experience. Burnette's significant experiences and accomplishments have included placement in canine production and ownership in fruit and vegetable production. Joe Moore is Burnette's agricultural education instructor at Exeter High School.

This year the DEKALB Agricultural Accomplishment Award celebrated its 70th anniversary. Over these 70 years more than 168,000 high school seniors from across the country have received the award, which has become a symbol for excellence and the school's highest agricultural honor.

As the winner of the 2017 award, Burnette's name will be recorded on a permanent plaque displayed at Exeter High School.

One airlifted for injuries after Highway 37 crash

Local dairy farm family honored at State Fair

Charlea Estes

Two people were injured in a crash north of Cassville on Tuesday, September 5, when one driver failed to stop at a stop sign. One driver had to be airlifted for his injuries.

According to the Missouri State Highway Patrol, James S. Lewis, 17, of Exeter, was driving westbound on an unnamed road and failed to stop at a stop sign. Lewis' 2014 Dodge Avenger struck a 2005 Chrysler Town and Country van going south on Highway 37.

Lewis was airlifted to Mercy Hospital in Springfield for serious injuries. The other driver, Joseph L. Evans, 33, of Washburn, sustained moderate injuries and was transported by ambulance to Mercy Hospital in Cassville.

Lewis was not wearing a seat belt at the time of the crash, and Evans was. Both vehicles were totalled and towed from the scene by Brice's Towing, of Cassville.

The Duane and Colleen Kaiser Family of Purdy was honored at the 2017 Missouri State Fair with the Dairy Farm Family Award. The award was presented by Chris Chinn, Missouri Director of Agriculture, and Amy Jo Estes, dairy superintendent for the fair. Duane and Colleen are pictured with their daughters, Angie and Stephanie; son, James; son-in-law, Bryan Wagner; and grand-daughters, Kylin and Sophie Wagner. Also pictured are the fair commissioners and respective dairy breed queens.

Barry County native to perform in CMU music program

Central Methodist University student Cassidy Pachner, from Monett, is busy rehearsing for semester performances as a Conservatory Singer.

As an anchor of CMU's music program, the Conservatory Singers put on two concerts during the semester and sing occasionally in churches.

The group is directed by Dr. Laura Wiebe, CMU assistant professor of music, and performs a wide variety of music, from sacred and spiritual to contemporary and classic. They also reflect a myriad number of majors, not just music or music education.

Already on the Conservatory Singers' schedule this semester are two home concerts, one on Sunday, Oct. 29, and one on Sunday, Dec. 3, both at 4 p.m. in Linn Memorial United Methodist Church on the CMU Fayette campus. The group will also be singing for the Linn Memorial Sunday morning service on Sunday, Oct. 1, as part of CMU's Family Weekend.

There are 45 students involved in Conservatory

Singers. As always, their concerts are open to the public at no cost.

Pachner is a freshman currently pursuing a Bachelor of Science degree in education and elementary education at CMU.

Since its founding in 1854, CMU has evolved into a university that confers master's, bachelor's and associate's degrees through programming on its main campus in Fayette, and through extension sites and online.

MU Extension offers healthy tips for children's lunches

- You probably go to great lengths during the school year to ensure your child has the right equipment — pens, notebooks, clothing — to make it through the day.
- “Proper nutrition is also a key ingredient for school success because it fuels brain cells and gives your child the energy and nutrients he or she needs for optimal learning,” says Damaris Karanja, University of Missouri Extension nutrition and health education specialist.
- “Packing your child’s lunch lets you know exactly what he or she is eating,” Karanja says. She offers the following tips to save money while providing your child a nutritious, enjoyable lunch.
- Save money
1. Invest in a good container. Choose an insulated bag and freezer packs to keep food at a safe temperature.
 2. Use washable and reusable containers. Avoid using plastic sandwich baggies. Buy containers in a variety of sizes to fit your lunchbox needs.
 3. Buy in bulk. Avoid single-serve packaging. You save money when you buy food in bulk and pack it yourself into single servings. Buy a large container of yogurt or pudding and use 4-ounce containers to pack your own. Buy a block of cheese and cut it into cubes or shred it. Buy crackers in boxes rather than individual packages.
 4. Make your own. Look beyond lunchmeat. Slice your own meat, or grill chicken breast and cut it into strips or cubes. Avoid prepackaged lunches since they are high-priced.
 5. Send in leftovers. Invest in a good insulated food container to keep food warm. Homemade soup is always a good option.
 6. Buy what is on sale and use coupons. Get whatever is on sale each week and work it into a menu. Use fruits and vegetables that are in season.
 7. Buy store-brand food and compare unit prices.
 8. Look high and low. Bargains are usually on the top or bottom shelves, not at eye level.
 9. Plan ahead and have a list when you go to the store. The more time you spend in a store, the more money you spend.
- Make it nutritious
10. Pack a rainbow! Provide a variety of options — the more color, the more nutrients.
 11. A healthy lunch should contain foods from each of the five food groups: carbohydrates, protein, dairy, fruits and vegetables. Choose whole-grain products like bread, tortillas, pita bread, bagels or whole-grain crackers. These have more fiber, vitamins and minerals, and keep blood sugar steady for optimal learning.
 12. Select protein foods wisely. Use lean meat like chicken or turkey breast, hard-boiled eggs, tuna packed in water, beans, or peanut butter. Protein in every meal helps keep blood sugar steady.
 13. Buy fruits and vegetables that are in season and serve them creatively. Examples include baby carrots with yogurt dip, or other cut vegetables with low-fat dip or hummus.
 14. Choose low-fat or fat-free dairy products like yogurt, milk and cheese. These are great calcium and protein sources.
 15. For side items, rethink that bag of chips. Instead, choose carrots sticks, celery sticks with peanut butter and raisins, apple slices with peanut butter, fruit salad, whole fruit, raisins, or pretzels.
 16. For dessert, think beyond the cookie. Try whole-grain graham crackers, ginger-snaps, raisins, unsweetened applesauce, homemade muffins or fresh fruit.
 17. Choose a beverage that hydrates, like water, or choose low-fat or fat-free milk for additional protein, calcium and vitamin D. Avoid drinks with calories and no nutrients.
- Make it fun
18. Add some fun touches to the meal. The traditional peanut butter and jelly sandwich can become pretty boring. Get a couple of cookie cutters and have kids cut the sandwich into different shapes.
 19. Include the kids in the preparation process and give them choices. Take them along when grocery shopping. Let them pick one new fruit or vegetable each week that they would like to try. Let them help pack their lunch.
 20. Think beyond bread when making sandwiches. Think whole-grain bagels, whole-grain pita wraps and whole-wheat tortillas. A good alternative is a whole-wheat pita pocket with hummus, shredded vegetables and grilled chicken strips.
 21. Pack a variety of options to keep a child’s interest. Avoid packing the same lunch every day. This prevents kids from getting bored.
 22. Vary the preparation. Try grilled or baked, chopped or grated, plain or with a dip.
 23. Practice good nutrition yourself. Children learn by association; you need to be a role model. Discuss with them the benefits of healthy eating.
 24. Don’t get discouraged if your child rejects a food on first taste. It can take 15-20 tries before a child gets used to a new food.
- “A nutritious lunch does not have to be boring or cost you a fortune,” Karanja says. “Making small changes can save you money. Try one or two tips each week and soon you should see some relief in your grocery bills. Remember that well-nourished children have a greater chance of success at school because they have the fuel and the energy they need to play and learn.”

Hospice Compasses seeking non-medical volunteers in Barry, Lawrence Counties

Southwest September Students of the Month

Compassus hospice will be conducting training for persons interested in becoming Non-medical volunteers, according to Brenda Smith, Volunteer Coordinator of the Monett Compassus office. The training will be from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday, October 2, 2017, at the Monett Compassus office. The office is located at 845 Hwy 60, Suite A.

Hospice Compassus is recruiting non-medical volunteers to fulfill a wide variety of patient needs. Volunteers are most commonly used to provide patient and family support. To enhance the volunteer services available, Hospice Compassus has developed various programs designed to better meet the specific and unique needs of each patient. These include the Dream Team, the Veterans Caring for Veterans Project, the Chaplaincy Program, and the ANGELS Program. The Dream Team assists in transforming unfulfilled patient dreams into realities; the Veterans Caring for Veterans Project matches fellow veteran volunteers with veteran patients; the Chaplaincy Program gives volunteers the opportunity to focus more on the spiritual needs of patients; and the ANGELS Program provides patient and family support in the last hours of the patient's final journey.

Compassus also utilizes Non-medical volunteers to assist with office tasks and as community educators. There are also occasional needs for volunteers with a special skill or background, such as dentists; handymen; carpenters; electricians; plumbers; exterminators; barbers; hair stylists; massage, art, and music therapists; entertainers; shoppers to run errands; and restaurants and/or cooks to provide an occasional meal for a patient's family the day the patient arrives home from the hospital.

Upon completing the non-medical volunteer Training on October 2, volunteers will have the option to attend the Chaplain's training and/or ANGELS training in November 2017.

Opening its first hospice in 1979, Compassus is a family of community-based hospices. Their nationwide network is a vast resource, benefiting both patients and families. Compassus has a common culture around three core values: compassion, integrity, and excellence. Their primary goals are to provide the highest quality hospice care and service in every community in which they operate, and to be both the hospice provider of choice and the hospice employer of choice.

For additional information regarding Compassus, visit their website at www.hospicecompassus.com. They ask that you please register for this training; to register for the upcoming non-medical volunteer training contact Brenda Smith at (417) 235-9097 or email Brenda.smith@compassus.com.

During the month of September, Southwest Elementary students were chosen to be "Peanuts Pal" Students of the Month. These students exhibited the character trait of Responsibility.

Exeter Corn Maze opens for season Saturday

The Exeter Corn Maze will open this Saturday at 1 p.m. with a new attraction, Archery Tag. Each year, Exeter expands and adds something for patrons to enjoy.

On September 23 and 24, they will hold their 5th annual craft fair. Over 95 different vendors will be set up and offering something for everyone. On Saturday, September 23, you can ride up in a hot air balloon and check out the scene from above the maze. Balloon rides will be $10 each, weather permitting, beginning at 5 p.m.

The Exeter Corn Maze is located three miles south of Exeter on Hwy. MM. For more information about prices, events and dates, visit www.exetercornmaze.com or call (417) 846-3959.

Train employees, others before livestock disease outbreaks occur

One small breach of protocol can lead to a disease outbreak and financial loss for livestock producers.

An MU Extension team teaches livestock producers throughout Missouri to follow protocols that protect animal and human health, food, and the environment.

The team received USDA Extension Education funding to offer a series of biosecurity workshops in Missouri recently.

Prevention of disease outbreaks saves animal lives and money, says Joe Zulovich, principal investigator on the grant. Training staff and putting protocols in place can prevent or reduce losses.

The first step is to assess risks by reviewing workflow and traffic flow across farm and barn boundaries, says Zulovich.

Biosecurity begins with creation of “clean zones” and “dirty zones,” he says.

Livestock producers

should create clearly defined boundaries inside and outside of the farm to prevent visitors and workers from carrying disease directly into areas where animals live.

Restricted access to the farm and buildings creates a buffer of protection to animals. Post warning signs at farm entrances and buildings where animals live, Zulovich says. Train employees, service personnel such as delivery drivers, and general visitors to break the chain of contamination. Keep supplies such as soap, sanitizer and plastic boots readily available to visitors.

Workers and approved visitors should wear clean, site-specific booties and clothing to prevent the spread of disease into animal-raising areas. People can carry disease on their boots, clothing, supplies, equipment and other objects. It can be airborne or brought in through animal food and water. Rodents, pests and birds also create risks.

Some systems require workers to shower on-site before entering the clean zone, and again when leaving the clean zone.

Establish barriers that limit access to the farm. Examine the workflow of your farm to consider openings where disease can come in. Restrict feed trucks by placing feed bins close to a perimeter fence, Zulovich says. Arrange for packages to be delivered off-site.

Zulovich says most swine and poultry producers have good systems in place. The challenge is in getting employees to follow the rules. Disease risk increases when employees do not strictly follow protocol at all times.

“Make sure you train your employees,” says Teng Lim, co-principal investigator on the USDA grant.

“Details matter.” He urges producers to establish a written plan for training and response. Test and audit the plan on a regular basis, he says.

The materials presented in the workshops can be found at faculty.missouri.edu/limt/Biosecurity.shtml. The webpage includes a short animated video illustrating the biosecurity checklist. The video can be used for quick reminders or in-house training, Lim says.

Producers should be on the lookout for disease presence, especially when other states and countries report disease. Producers should alert the state veterinarian when they see unusual symptoms or unexplained death losses in their herds or flocks, or when there is any suspicion of foreign animal disease. Contact the state veterinarian immediately when a mass mortality occurs due to disease, Zulovich says.

The state of Missouri requires that all animal mortalities be disposed of within 24 hours. MU Extension serves in an advisory role to the state veterinarian when there is a mass mortality. The MU Extension publication “Composting Dead Swine” (WQ351) is available for download at extension.missouri.edu/p/WQ351. “The Feasibility of Ruminant Composting” is available at agebb.missouri.edu/com-mag/resources.

When a disease outbreak happens, the most feasible option may be burning or composting dead animals on-farm. Mortality composters are large, heated drums that rotate similarly to a concrete mixer.

In recent years, Missouri poultry producers have faced outbreaks of highly pathogenic avian influenza. Porcine epidemic diarrhea virus and Seneca Valley virus are among the diseases found in Missouri in the last two decades.

Zulovich and Lim recommend that producers review biosecurity protocols before an outbreak occurs. “Plan ahead,” Lim says.

Leading swine industry experts will discuss diseases at the Swine Health Symposium in Sedalia. For more information on the July 17 event, go to mopork.com/education/missouri-swine-health-symposium.

Mercy Auxiliary purchases new exercise bike

It takes a community to serve a community. Thanks to volunteers at Mercy Hospital Cassville, patients undergoing a variety of rehab have another boost to get them back on their feet.

Earlier this month, the Mercy Hospital Cassville Auxiliary finalized the purchase of a SCIFIT PRO2® exercise bike for $4,845. It will be placed in the hospital's fitness area for physical, occupational and cardiopulmonary rehabilitation patients.

"This is a tremendous upgrade," said Chris Hoge, manager of therapy services at Mercy. "Our volunteers do so much for this hospital, and this allows us to continue to serve our patients efficiently, and also foster the ministry we've been called to serve."

The total body rehabilitation equipment includes both an upper body exerciser and lower body recumbent bike. It also features wheelchair ramps, support boots, and seating that's compliant with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

"We try to fund projects that have the greatest impact on our patients," said Cody Qualls, executive director of Mercy Health Foundation. "Our rehab area is one of the busiest areas of our hospital, day in and day out. This new piece of equipment will be a wonderful addition for our patients."

Mercy Therapy Services – Cassville includes a team of skilled professionals who guide patients toward independence and wellness with therapies that restore function and relieve pain. Services offered include:

- Post-surgical rehabilitation for orthopedics and sports-related injuries
- Rehabilitation following spinal surgery
- Rehabilitation following stroke and other neurological disorders
- Treatment of balance disorders
- Hand therapy
- Treatment of swallowing disorders
- Therapy for speech, language and developmental issues
- Treatment of chronic musculoskeletal issues.

Mercy Cardiopulmonary Rehabilitation – Cassville includes registered nurses and exercise professionals offering: cardiac rehabilitation, pulmonary rehabilitation and stress testing.

Daylilies are a flower that thrive in neglect

Few garden flowers give more and ask for less than daylily. In the quest for a “no maintenance” perennial, daylily is about as close as one can get, said University of Missouri Extension horticulturist David Trinklein. There are some who maintain that daylilies thrive on neglect, he added.

With their ease of care and the myriad flower colors, types and sizes available, it is little wonder why daylily is America’s most popular perennial flowering plant, said Trinklein.

Daylily belongs to the genus Hemerocallis, a name derived from the Greek words hemera (day) and kalos (beautiful). It makes reference to the fact that the showy flowers of this plant rarely last for more than 24 hours.

Daylily is thought to be native to China, Japan and Korea. A written record dating back to 2697 B.C. indicates Chinese used it as food and for its perceived medicinal properties. It is mentioned in several 16th-century European herbals under a variety of names no longer used today.

By the late 1800s, many daylily species had found their way into American gardens. But it was the work of plant breeder Arlow B. Stout that started daylily on the path to the popularity it enjoys today. Stout received plants and seeds from China in 1924 and began a program of breeding and improvement.

His work inspired professional and amateur plant breeders to hybridize daylily. Their efforts resulted in an astonishing 83,955 daylily cultivars registered by the American Hemerocallis Society, according to its 2017 database.

Such a multitude of cultivars requires a sizable glossary to describe daylily flowers and distinguish one cultivar from another. Terms such as single, double, spider, circular, flat, informal, triangular, star and recurved are a few of the many terms used to describe flower form. Flower color and/or pattern are described by terms such as self, blend, polychrome, bi-tone, bicolor, watermark and eye zone.

An extensive list of terms associated with daylily can be found at www.daylilies.org/ahs_dictionary/dictionary.html.

A sun-loving perennial, daylily needs a minimum of six to eight hours of direct sun daily. However, a bit of late afternoon shade does help to preserve flower color and longevity. In shady exposures, the lily produces abundant foliage but very few flowers.

Daylily prefers a medium-heavy garden loam, although it can tolerate a wide array of soil textures. Soil of any texture can be improved by incorporating liberal amounts of organic matter in the form of well-rotted manure, compost or peat moss before planting, according to Trinklein.

Fertilizer should be applied sparingly; too much nitrogen can be detrimental. “If daylilies produce lush, abundant foliage but few flowers, they probably are receiving too much fertilizer,” Trinklein added. Daylilies growing in fairly rich soils need little if any additional fertilizer.

Although daylily is fairly drought-tolerant, adequate water increases flower number and size.

Water is important in the spring when the plants form scapes and set buds and later when plants are in bloom.

Daylily faces attack by a variety of pests and diseases, but most do only minor damage. Aphids, thrips and spider mites are the most common insect pests. Crown and root rot, leaf streak and daylily rust are diseases that can be problematic.

Like most clump-forming perennials, daylilies need periodic division for best garden performance. The frequency of division depends largely on cultivar and growing conditions.

Cultivars known for their reblooming tendency such as Stella de Oro should be divided relatively frequently. This helps to force new growth throughout the growing season, which is the primary factor that causes a daylily to rebloom. Daylilies can be divided or planted any time the ground is not frozen. However, late August through September is considered the most ideal time, Trinklein said.

Wii bowling begins at Central Crossing Senior Center

New Wii bowling teams are forming at the Central Crossing Senior Center. Beginning September 13 at 12:45 p.m. and every Wednesday thereafter during season, teams will compete to win at Wii Bowling. Go into the center to join a team. Arrive early to enjoy lunch, served 11:15 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Besides being a fun game to learn and play, it's a great way to make new friends or reconnect with old ones. This is your opportunity to learn to play if you don't already know and, regardless of your experience, you can join a new team. Call the administrator Terri or one of our volunteers to sign up.

Patrol's Troop D releases Labor Day stats

Captain Juan Villanueva, commanding officer of Troop D, Springfield, announces the 2017 Labor Day weekend traffic crash and enforcement totals for the Troop D area, which consists of the 18 southwest counties of Missouri. During the holiday weekend, troopers participated in Operation C.A.R.E. (Crash Awareness Reduction Effort). In addition, troopers took part in a holiday traffic crash reduction enforcement operation on Interstate 44 on Friday, September 1, 2017, and Monday, September 4, 2017.

During the 2017 Labor Day weekend traffic crash counting period, which began at 6 p.m., Friday, September 1, and ended at 11:59 p.m., Monday, September 4, Troop D officers investigated 62 traffic crashes resulting in 21 injuries and no fatalities. Preliminary enforcement totals show troopers made 23 arrests for driving while intoxicated and six arrests for boating while intoxicated. There were no boating crashes or drownings in the Troop D area during the holiday weekend.

"The mission of the Missouri State Highway Patrol is to serve and protect all people by enforcing laws and providing services to ensure a safe and secure environment. I am pleased to announce there were zero fatalities in Troop D over the holiday weekend and I feel our officers accomplished their mission," stated Captain Villanueva.

The only 100 percent survivable traffic crash is the one that never happens. Make sure everyone in the vehicle is properly restrained in a seat belt or child restraint. Every day as we travel on Missouri's roadways, we trust that every driver on the road is going to obey the speed limit, pay attention, and drive sober. "Don't Violate The Trust."

Purdy Fire receives MDC grant

During July and August, matching funds grant checks for rural fire departments were distributed by the Missouri Department of Conservation Forestry Division staff. One hundred sixty-nine fire departments received checks for up to $4,000 to help with the purchase of personal protective gear and fire fighting equipment for wildfire, as well as structure fire suppression efforts. The total funding awarded to Missouri fire departments through the matching funds grant program this year is $361,564.30.

Fire departments are required to match 50 percent of the funds which are provided by the Missouri Department of Conservation and the US Forest Service, Volunteer Fire Assistance Program. Throughout the last 30 years, over $8 million has been distributed to rural fire departments to help them increase the safety of their firefighters and provide them with better fire fighting equipment.
