

Demolition Derby a smashing good time

This weekend brought the annual Rotary Club of Cassville's Demolition Derby to the Bill Hailey arena. Drivers from multiple states brought their cars to Cassville to crash, bash and ram their way to purse winnings. Above, Ryan Newman, originally of Cassville, evades another driver in #69, a 1974 Chevrolet Malibu station wagon, in the Modifieds heat.

Demolition Derby regular Rusty Newman, of Cassville, competed Saturday night sponsored by Freedom Bank and Benny's Automotive, of Washburn.

Kellie Dickson represented her day care, Lil' Bits, in a car donning handprints of her kids on Saturday night.

Exeter man wanted for alleged assault arrested after wreck

Charlea Estes

An Exeter man, Steven Carl Thomas, 54, was arrested for an alleged assault after a Missouri State Trooper found him in a wrecked truck. According to the affidavits of probable cause, Thomas attacked a woman and her husband, causing her to fear for her life.

On Saturday, September 10, the Missouri State Highway Patrol responded to a call regarding a domestic assault on Missouri 76 in Barry County. The woman claimed Thomas had physically assaulted her and cut her chest with a knife as well as choking her husband. When the Patrol searched the area, the trooper found Thomas' truck wrecked along the side of the roadway with smoke coming out from under it.

According to the report, the trooper believed Thomas drove off the wrong side of the roadway on a curve, overcorrected and then ended up in the ditch on the opposite lane. Thomas was still in his truck when the trooper arrived.

The trooper noted that Thomas was visibly intoxicated by his smell, speech and bloodshot eyes. Once Thomas consented to a breath test, it was determined that his blood alcohol level was 0.136 percent. According to the report, Thomas had multiple prior DWI convictions.

The victim of the alleged assault stated she would need to move because Thomas said he would come back and kill her. He also threatened to find the arresting officer's family.

Thomas is currently being held in the Barry County Jail on a $40,000 bond. Thomas is charged with domestic assault in the first degree and DWI-Alcohol as a persistent offender.

Two Shell Knob vets go on Honor Flight

Two Shell Knob residents were selected for the Honor Flight last month. On August 30, Matthew Woods, 80, and Wayne Williams, 96, flew out of the Springfield air port to Washington D.C. to visit the war memorials. The flight is a one-day round trip, and the veterans are accompanied by guardians. Steve and Bob Bach, of Springfield, were the guardians for Wood and Williams.

Letter to the Editor

We live in amazing area in Missouri. In the last few weeks the Cassville Police Department has experienced an outpouring of support to our officers and I know other departments have experienced the same.

Our officers have received encouragement by words, cards, items given to each officer and department wide; this has been from individuals, churches and business. September 11th several churches in the community held an appreciation service for First Responders and our Veterans. OUR hats are off to you for showing your support during these trying times of law enforcement.

We put a wreath in front of our office in memory and honor of those officers killed in the line of duty. The next day a person had left flowers by the wreath....unfortunately the following day they were gone. We took notice of the flowers and were touched.

I have seen Cassville police officers give their time and money for people in need. They have not expected anything in return.

Sometimes officers are taken for granted for the job they do daily, for putting their life on the line for others and as their Chief I want the community to know that WE as a department have taken notice of your support. At times we have to make choices that individuals are not pleased with but we are here to enforce the law, to protect others and to serve our communities.

Recently the actions of some officers who have had to make those very hard decisions have come into question. Our officers do not make these decisions recklessly. They live with the constant reminder of the events that happen, the situation they were placed in and the actions that situation produced. Yet they put on their uniforms and go out again to protect and serve the communities they live in.

We live in a wonderful area and it is nice to know officers are appreciated for the work they do. Thank you and God bless all of you who encouraged and honored our officers.

Respectfully,
Chief Kammerlohr

Mercy holds summer food drive, donates to local pantry

Mercy Hospital of Cassville held a summer food drive to benefit the Cassville Food Pantry at the United Methodist Church. From July 7 through August 11, they collected food to donate, and at the end of the six-week period, the food was weighed and the hospital donated $0.20 for every pound of food. This year, they raised $279.90 for 1,399.50 pounds of food. # Local Eagle Scout hopeful continues cemetery service project

Bryan and his father, Prudencio, work together on the landscaping.

Charlea Estes

For the Jimenez family, community service is a group event. Bryan Jimenez, 17, is the second of the Washburn family to work toward earning his Eagle Scout rank and is pursuing that through continuing a service project his brother, Alejandro, began last year.

Alejandro, known to his friends as Alex, earned his Eagle Scout rank last year. One of the components of earning the highly-acclaimed rank is to have a service project. His project was a landscaping venture of the True Love Cemetery, which is near the family's home.

Through the aid of family, friends and generous businesses, Alejandro was able to landscape 120 feet of the fence row at the cemetery, making the property more appealing to patrons visiting their lost loved ones.

When Bryan started thinking about his own service project, he decided to continue his brother's work and do another 120 feet of the fence row, which was ily helped out, even Alex before he left for college. Bryan said, "I helped Alex every step of the way on his project, and in exchange, Alex has helped me through every last bit of mine."

He added, "I'm so grateful for the True Love Cemetery committee because they helped me throughout all of it. Trish (McCracken) supported me and asked me what I needed and when I needed it."

Bryan has about a year to finish his Eagle Scout rank, which all elements must be complete by the time he turns 18. When asked what he has left, he laughed and said, "I've got a couple of merit badges and a lot of paperwork."

He began his journey in scouts at eight years old as a Cub Scout. He said, "I've always wanted to finish my Eagle Scout because earning the Eagle is one of the highest honors in the BSA (Boy Scouts of America) organization. I've seen multiple scouts earn their Eagles, and I have high respect for them."

Bryan is a member of Boy Scout 977 of Cassville. Donations for the True Love Cemetery project came from Lowe's of Rogers, Ark., Meeks of Rogers, Ark., Perennials, Etc., of Garfield, Ark., MFA of Cassville, Tyson Foods, and Wheeler Metals of Rogers, Ark.

Bryan lives in Washburn with his father, Prudencio, mother, Marisela, and sister, Rachel. Alejandro attends Harvard University.

Seen Around Town: Brooke Harris

Julie Pruitt

Have you seen Brooke Harris around town? Stop by Sears and you will meet the new sales associate who will help you find an appliance, mower or grill with a friendly disposition and warm smile. Harris also answers the phone, customers' questions and keeps the store clean and neat. One of the favorite perks of her job is listening to customers' stories. One story involves a couple coming in to buy a new air conditioner because the husband was trying to get the old one out and it fell out of the window almost breaking his arm in the process. This is just one of many stories that show Harris' ability to build relationships with her customers. Her bubbly outgoing personality makes her job fun for her and customers alike. Outside of Sears, this Cassville native loves music, musicals, and dreams of being on Broadway. She also likes going to the movies and hanging out with her friends. Her two best friends, Megan and Tori, have moved away to college, but they still get together when they can for lunch, shopping and spending too much money. She's also very close to Zach, her insanely smart and fun brother and her mom, who is also her Chrisley Knows Best -marathon-TV-watching friend. One of Harris's favorite memories is the time she was in Florida swimming in the ocean with her friend and being stung four times by an apparently dead jellyfish. This painful experience is something she won't soon forget. She also has great memories of her days in the Show Choir at Cassville High School and many other fond memories. Harris is definitely a person worth knowing so stop by Sears and take advantage of meeting this talented, people loving lady.

McClintock awarded MU scholarship

Trevor McClintock, of Purdy, has been awarded the Elyzabeth H. Schell Scholarship Fund and the CoBank Scholarship from the University of Missouri College of Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources for the 2016-2017 academic year.

"Scholarships enable us to recruit and retain academically talented students to our college," said Bryan Garton, associate dean of academic programs.

McClintock, a junior majoring in agribusiness management, is the son of Lisa McClintock and Kim McClintock.

The Elyzabeth H. Schell Scholarship was established in 1981 by the estate of Elyzabeth Schell. The Schells were in the dairy business in the Kansas City area and had a strong interest in agriculture. Scholarships are awarded to students whose parents are Missouri land-owning farmers or ranchers.

The CoBank Scholarship was established in 2011 by CoBank. Recipients must exhibit academic excellence and preference is given to students currently studying agribusiness and in a course of study in finance and/or banking.

"As the cost of earning a college degree continues to increase, more and more students are in need of financial assistance," Garton said. "The goal of our college over the next five years is to increase our total annual scholarships awarded from approximately $1.3 to $1.5 million."

“For John truly baptized with water; but you shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence. When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?” Acts 1:5-6. I was in a store the other day; the first few days of September; and they already had Halloween merchandise on display Over eight weeks prior to the holiday. If this keeps up, before long we’re going to be putting on sunscreen at the lake while we’re browsing the latest Christmas advertisements.

We live in a society that wants instant gratification. The mantra of our society seems to be fast, fast, faster.

We want to lose 10 pounds the first week. We want relief in 20 minutes; we want to take two pills every 12 hours not every 4 hours. We want to see results and we want those results fast. We want instant gratification and we want to decide what is good enough, fast enough or strong enough.

We must guard against this attitude. It is dangerous when we become demanding of and/or impatient with God.

It leads to religious frustration which often leads to sin. God assures us that the end results of his plans are favorable;” But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.” Isaiah 40:31.

Let’s be patient and allow God to use us to achieve His plan, His way, on His schedule; “For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord.” Isaiah 55:8.

Wheaton Bulldog baseball falls to Blue Eye

The Wheaton Bulldogs fell to Blue Eye 6-1 in their Monday match-up.

Jacob Porter got the win for Blue Eye. He allowed one run over five innings. He struck out 10, walked one, and surrendered one hit.

Blue Eye was sparked by Jacob Crouthamel and Riley Lincott, who teamed up for four hits and two RBIs.

Tate Banks started strong in the game for the Wheaton, striking out 5 of the first 6 outs but ended up on the wrong side of the pitching decision, charged with the loss. He allowed six runs in six innings, walked one, and struck out eight.

Wheaton scored their only run of the game on a passed ball in the fourth inning.

Blue Eye went up for good in the fourth, scoring six runs on a two-run error, a groundout by Luke Dawson, and three singles.

Wheaton falls to 3-4 in their fall season and will resume play Friday, September 16, at the Purdy Tournament.

Southwest volleyball falls in home opener

Southwest lost home volleyball games in straight sets to Galena and Diamond last week.

"It's frustrating and disappointing," said Coach Steve Voyak. "Some of these girls have had some success in volleyball, and now they are seeing the other side of things. I saw some good things against Diamond even though the result was not what we wanted. We played with energy and heart, which is a start. Now, we need to player better and smarter volleyball."

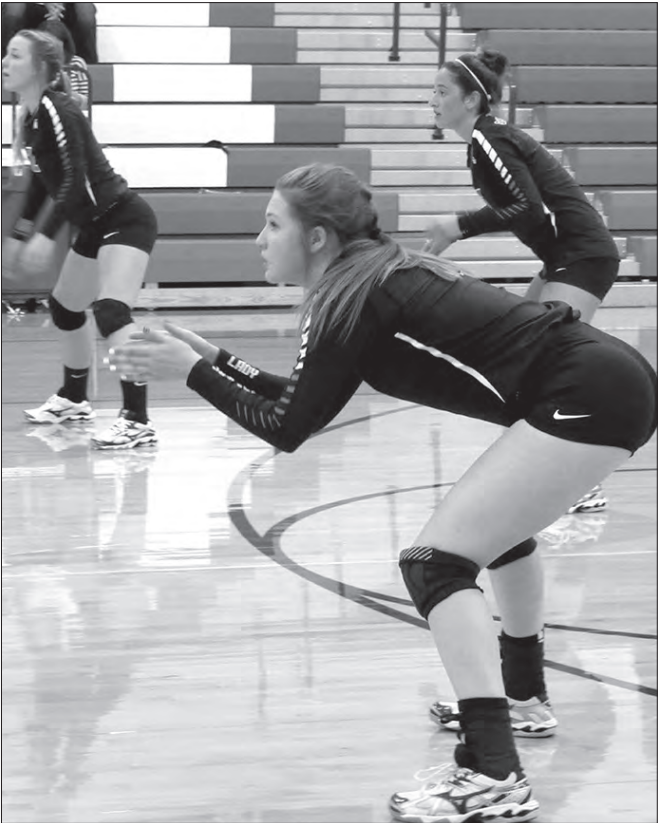

Sophomore setter Heather Windes led the Lady Trojans in the loss to Galena with 10 digs and 2 assists.

Senior Bekah McKeever was 14 for 15 serving with 4 aces.

"Galena was just better when they needed to be, said Voyak. "Both sets were close, but we made simple communication and fundamental errors that veteran teams should not make."

Seniors Brianna Learned and Sydney Delossantos led the way against Diamond with 4 kills each. Senior Sydney Leroy added 14 digs as the Lady Trojans' record dropped to 3-6.

A trip to remember

Brett Cochran

Every year, the Electric Cooperations of America sends two kids from every Cooperation on an all-expense paid trip to Washington D.C. The theme the year I went was "Freedom is Not Free." The first day in Washington, we met the other representatives for all 50 states.

There were over 2,000 juniors learning the lesson of life from the other side. While I was in Washington, I went to Arlington Cemetery where I learned first hand how many people gave the ultimate sacrifice so not only I, along with society, could do the things we take for granted. At Arlington, I found out that over 250,000 graves are there and over half are unknown. When I was told that, I cried for the families who don't know what happened to their relatives.

The next day we went to the Vietnam Memorial. The memorial was set up as a V rising from the ground. At the point of the V was the first and last names of soldiers met to signify the start and stop of the war. The first name was on the top left, then the following names went down and left. When the names got to the end, they rounded to the other side so that the first and last names touched at the middle.

While there, we met Mr. Adrian Lavallee, a Vietnam veteran who was touring the memorial for the first time. Mr. Lavallee went on the Honor Flight so he could see it. I asked for a picture with him and his friends and for their addresses. Mrs. Lavallee took the picture for me, and I promised them I would send the pictures I took.

One of the most interesting facts that I found out while in Washington was the ultimate sacrifice is not always death but living with the choices you have to made and the consequences of what other's think. While talking to Vietnam veterans, I asked them how their homecoming was after the war. What the told me broke my heart. They told me that when they stepped off the plane they were immediately called baby killers. This is one example of the consequences of other's thinking.

I asked one last question of the veterans before I had to leave and that question was, "Do you regret fighting for America after your homecoming?" They looked at me shocked and answered me honestly when they said, "No, I was defending the defenseless and my family." The truest heroes are the ones that go do the work that most do not want to do and ask for nothing in return.

The next day, we went to the President Memorials where we heard about the sacrifices presidents face every day to help make America great. Franklin Roosevelt was a prime example of a great president for extreme sacrifices. He hid his disability because back when he was president people with disabilities were viewed as no good to society.

He was President through the Great Depression and instilled hope for a better future by having a weekly talk on the radio telling America what was going on and how he would fix the problem. He was a voice of reason and light during a dark time. The best part of visiting the Memorials of Mr.

Lincoln, Mr. Jefferson, Mr. Washington, Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Grant and Mr. Eisenhower was seeing how much they influenced America and saw firsthand the effect they had on inspiring the hearts of America. Each Memorial was different, but I get the sense that it fit the owner's personality.

One of the tours we went on was to Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson. Mr. Jefferson had an extensive library that was only partially complete due to the fact that he donated to the Library of Congress for the simple fact that America needed the knowledge that his books contained. One of the greatest things about Mr. Jefferson's house was that in every room there were pictures of his whole family. There was also a copy of the Constitution in his library. My favorite fact about Mr. Jefferson was when he was dying, he would wake up just enough to ask if it was July 4th. He and John Adams died on the same day just three hours apart. How extraordinary is it that the second and third president died on the same day, hundreds of miles apart and just three hours apart.

On our final day before we went home, we had a list of people from around our area and had to find them on the memorial. I had two people from Rogers, Ark., as that was the closest veterans to Eagle Rock. One of the men I had to find was MIA; they have never found his body. The second person was a MIA that was later found. The soldiers I found were from the Vietnam War. When a person is considered MIA in the Vietnam War, they make a cross. When they are found, the cross becomes a star. If a soldier is not MIA, they get a star by their name to remember the sacrifice they endured.

When I got home from my Washington D.C. trip, I got started spreading the word. The locals have a potluck each month for the Eagle Rock people. I asked to speak to them about my experience and how the soldiers I met changed my life. I have heard from every veteran but Mr. Adrian Lavallee. I have tried to reach him to check on him, but I have not got a response as of yet.

In conclusion, freedom is not free. Someone has to pay for it whether in death or in living with what they had to do. This has been one of the hardest lessons I have learned. I know I didn't do much of that selfless character for those veterans, but I hope I gave them a little hope and respect that they truly deserve. This is my story of a wonderful trip and an eye opening experience. I hope you learned a little bit of the lesson as I have though this hard and unforgettable trip.
