

Two life sentences plus 177 years for Washburn double-homicide

MURDERER’S SENTENCES DENY POSSIBILITY OF PAROLE

Charlea Estes-Jones

The Arkansas man convicted of murdering a Washburn woman and her grandfather three and a half years ago was handed two life sentences without parole plus an additional 177 years incarceration last week. Christopher Paschall, 41, of Springdale, Ark., was found guilty by jury of two counts of murder in the first degree, three counts of armed criminal action and one count of parental kidnapping on September 28, 2017.

Paschall was sentenced by the honorable judge Jack Al Goodman in a Newton County courtroom on Thursday, September 6, with his sentence to start immediately. Paschall was transferred out of the Barry County Jail to a Department of Corrections facility the next day, on Friday, September 7, at 8:27 a.m., according to jail records.

Paschall’s victims were Casey Brace, 29, and her grandfather, Herbert Townsend, 76. Paschall gunned the victims down in Townsend’s Washburn home on Farm Road 1055 on January 5, 2015. Brace was already deceased when officers arrived. However, Townsend managed to call 911 and identified the shooter as Paschall when officers arrived. Townsend succumbed to his injuries in a Springfield hospital later the same day.

Brace had a restraining order against Paschall prior to the incident. Townsend and Brace shared a daughter, two years old at the time, and Paschall kidnapped her following the shooting. She was found safe later that day at Paschall’s parents’ residence in Springdale. He was arrested at that residence without incident.

Paschall was originally charged in Barry County; however, the case was tried in Newton County after a change of venue was requested. Barry County Prosecuting Attorney Amy Boxx was joined by multiple other attorneys in on record on the case, including assistant attorney generals Darrell Moore and Joshua Harrel and special prosecutors.

Paschall’s jury trial lasted four days, and jurors eventually returned guilty verdicts on the six different charges. Paschall’s sentencing was initially slated for December 19, 2017, however, Paschall’s attorney filed multiple appeals on his behalf, delaying the sentencing until this month. The state announced fairly early on that it would not be seeking the death penalty against Paschall.

Paschall received life without the possibility of parole sentences for each of the two murder in the first degree charges for the deaths of Brace and Townsend. For the three armed criminal action charges, he received 90 years, 60 years and 20 years. He received an additional seven years for the parental kidnapping charge.

Paschall’s attorney filed an appeal on Friday.

Elephants on parade at Barry County Museum

Prix Gautney

The newest display at Cassville's Barry County Museum is a collection of elephant figurines and political mugs donated by the widow of Cassville graduate and former Barry County Assessor Glen Dale Nicoll. His collection spans decades, and the elephant mugs at the heart of the collection are the brainchild of Oklahoma artist, John Frank, the first commercial potter in Oklahoma history.

Frank, who had studied at the Chicago School of Art, was invited in 1927 by Dr. Oscar Jacobson to head the new ceramics department at the University of Oklahoma. He had planned to start up his own business in addition to teaching, and in 1933 he established Frank Potteries in Norman, Okla., operating with little more than a small kiln, a butter churn for mixing clay, and jars to hold his glazes.

His goal was to create beautiful everyday dinnerware that would be affordable for most families during the Great Depression, a concept that went over well. Renaming his enterprise Frankoma Pottery in 1934 by combining his last name with that of his state, he continued to teach until choosing to work full-time in his business in 1936.

Frank utilized the knowledge of various Oklahoma geologists when searching for the right regional clay to use in his pottery. He located and experimented with different clays throughout the state until he found a favorable clay in Ada, Okla. When he moved his operation west of Tulsa to Sapulpa, Okla. in 1938, he continued to haul clay from Ada, which required a three-day trip. It wasn't until 1945 that he discovered clay near Sapulpa that would work well for his pieces.

The change in clay altered the overall effect of the glazes once they were fired in the kiln. Frank had experimented with different glaze formulas and eventually chose to use rutile, a mineral containing titanium dioxide which allows the color of the clay to partially show through the glaze.

Ada clay was light beige when fired, and when he changed to the red, brick-colored clay of Sapulpa, the final coloring of each piece changed with it when the darker clay showed through the glaze. As an added touch, he often gave his glazes nature-based names such as White Sand, Desert Gold, Prairie Green and Dusty Rose.

Frankoma Pottery was known in its early decades for producing utilitarian and decorative kitchenwares, figurines and flowerpots, as well as limited edition and commemorative pieces. The elephant mugs, which were molded from the red Sapulpa clay, came into being when Frank was approached by the National Republican Women's Club to create a mug to use as a fundraiser. He came up with a suitable design, and the first 5 oz. mugs rolled out in 1968.

Each mug was glazed in a single color annually, and all of the political mugs were embossed with the year and GOP. If released during an inaugural year, they also bore the last names of the President and Vice President. The elephant mugs went over so well that the design was added to the company's production line the following year, turning it into another collector series.

Frank's youngest daughter, Joniece Frank, followed her father's footsteps and worked by his side, becoming an artist herself and designing many pieces. She inherited her father's company after his death in 1973 and released a Democrat donkey mug in 1975 to complement the Republican elephant line.

Despite two fires that destroyed the plant in 1938 and 1983, Frankoma Pottery remained in operation for many years. Both elephant and donkey political mugs were made and released until 2005 when the plant seemed to close permanently, but in recent years it has been revived and a limited number of pieces are hitting the market, including 2012-2018 political mugs.

Barry Electric awarded $6.1 Mil. to expand internet service in Barry County

The Federal Communications Commission has announced the winners of the CAF II Auction. The CAF II (Connect America Fund) auction was held to award $1.5 billion in grant monies to subsidize the cost of building broadband internet to underserved and unserved areas. Barry Electric Co-op was awarded $6,103,454.20 to be distributed over a ten-year period. Barry Electric Co-op is the only winner in Southwest Missouri committed to provide gigabit service and is one of the thirty-three rural electric cooperatives across the nation winning grants. A considerable number of rural areas across the nation will continue to go underserved or unserved because entities bidding in those areas dropped out of the auction in the later rounds of lower bidding.

The grant funds were awarded using a reverse auction process. The competing entities that won were the ones that committed to deploy broadband by accepting the lowest level of government support. In this way the FCC will distribute the available money in the most efficient method. The auction utilized a weighted system of bidding that gave the entities who pledged to provide higher speeds and lower latency preferential treatment in the bidding process. Barry Electric Co-op is able to meet these requirements with its fiber to the home design, giving their bids the most favorable weighting.

Barry Electric Co-op is currently building reliable and high speed internet service to portions of Barry County served by the electric cooperative. Their wholly owned subsidiary doing business as goBEC Fiber Network is now providing internet, phone and TV services to some of Barry Electric Co-op's members. goBEC's fiber construction is ahead of schedule to the members “Where is the promise of his coming? For since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.” 2 Peter 3:4. In the first century, people who were alive while Jesus walked the earth began to doubt His return. “Nothing has changed. The sun comes up, the seasons change, where is he?” They had the problem of wanting it “right now.” Their error was, they were looking at the outside, while they should have focused upon the inside. Jesus stated more than once that His kingdom would not be a physical kingdom. Therefore, we should not base our beliefs on the things of the world. We should busy ourselves with laying up treasures in heaven. Besides all that, in reality, they had the spiritual opportunity to change at any time. “Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.” Revelation 3:20.

Local residents chosen as Missouri Farm Family for Barry County

Elizabeth, Jeff and Nellie Jo Reed, of Cassville, were among the families honored during the 60th annual Missouri Farm Family Day on August 13 at the Missouri State Fair.

The family was selected as the Barry County Missouri Farm Family by the University of Missouri Extension in Barry County and the local Farm Bureau. The family includes Jeff and Elizabeth Reed and daughter Nellie Jo Reed.

Each year, the fair sets aside a day to recognize farm families from across the state that are active in their communities, involved in agriculture, and/or participate in local outreach and extension programs such as 4-H or FFA.

The Reed family are long time citizens of Barry County. Jeff, raised in Cassville, actively farms daily running stock cows. Dr. Liz Reed, DVM, serves the community as a large animal vet for Barry County Veterinary Service, of Cassville, since 2010 and is actively on the University of Missouri – Extension Council.

The annual event is sponsored by five partner agencies: the Missouri Farm Bureau, the Missouri Department of Agriculture, the Missouri State Fair Commissioners, the MU College of Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources, and MU Extension and Engagement.

This year, all 114 Missouri counties plus the City of St. Louis participated, honoring nearly 490 people from 115 farm families.

The event showcases the impact Missouri Farm Families have on the economy and heritage of the state, said Missouri State Fair Director Mark Wolfe. “These families are involved in agriculture activities in their communities and are active participants in local outreach and extension. As the premier showcase for Missouri agriculture, the Missouri State Fair is most certainly the appropriate place to celebrate these families.”

CoxHealth Center Cassville soon to offer obstetrical care

Dr. Conklin

Soon, women around Cassville will have a new place to receive care – and stay close to home – when expecting a baby. On Monday, Sept. 17, Cox-

Health Center Cassville will be joined by a new physician: Dr. Angela Conklin, a Family Practice Obstetrician, who will see patients for needs throughout their entire pregnancy and deliver babies at Cox Monett. “I’m excited about the opportunity to provide prenatal care and family medicine to the Cassville area,” said Dr. Conklin, a recent graduate of the Cox Family Medicine Residency program in Springfield. “Many women currently have limited access to prenatal care and must travel long distances. We will hopefully be able to save them time and money by seeing a provider closer to home.” Besides treating obstetrical patients in Cassville, Dr. Conklin will also be available to serve a variety of Family Medicine needs. Additionally, she will spend Tuesdays at Family Practice and Obstetrics of Monett. It’s all part of Dr. Conklin’s lifelong dream of serving patients, which began when she was just nine years old. She remembers being fascinated with the human body and couldn’t wait to learn more about it. As loved ones faced their own health challenges, she felt the need to help others like them. “I love being a family medicine physician,” she said. “It’s fun to take care of the entire family, but I’m passionate about women’s health care, including obstetrics.” Dr. Conklin spent her early childhood years in nearby Carthage, and prefers the small town life. While growing up, she loved being able to walk or ride her bike to the park, school, or friends’ homes, and wanted the same for her children. To make an appointment with Dr. Conklin, please call 417-847-3500. CoxHealth Center Cassville is located at 75 Smithson Drive.

Haven of the Ozarks’ Pet of the Week: Raider

Raider is good with kids, other cats, but has not been around dogs that volunteers are aware of. He is a very derpy kind of guy, and he always gives a great show when he’s playing. His adoption fee is $65. Raider is neutered, has his rabies vaccinations, is microchipped, and is also up to date on all other vaccinations. # Wildcats KO Cubs in brawl, 49-12

Lee Stubblefield

The Cassville Wildcats turned the Barry County Brawl into a backyard beat down Friday night, reigning 49-12 running clock on Monett at Burl Fowler Stadium. In the first game after Monett's football program was selected as a Missouri Sports Hall of Fame inductee, the Wildcats rained all over the Cubs' parade.

Rain it did. Tropical torrents fell during the game, but the turf field allowed for a near normal contest.

With Monett entering the game at 0-2, this was more than the usual rivalry game for the Cubs. The outcome would either be remembered as the revival of Monett's football fortune or the acceptance of another rebuilding project. With a week 4 game scheduled at Lamar, Monett needed this game badly.

Likewise, Cassville faced a pivotal challenge, trying to start 3-0 for the first time since 2012.

The Cubs came out swinging.

Monett's Karter Brink broke loose for a 39-yard run on the game's second offensive snap, but fumbled and DJ White recovered for the Wildcats at the Cassville 29-yard line. Three plays later, Bowen Preddy took an option pitch and raced down the sideline for a 60-yard touchdown run. The Drake Reese PAT gave Cassville a 7-0 lead with 10:15 left in the opening quarter.

Monett answered immediately, with Jamie Guinn racing 83 yards for a track meet touchdown. But the Cubs PAT failed and Cassville still led, 7-6.

The Cassville offense showed its superiority on the ensuing drive. The Cats chewed up 65 yards in 12 plays and drained 8:18 off the clock as Preddy scored from four yards out. Another Reese kick stretched the lead to 14-6.

Then Cassville held Monett to a three-and-out, and replicated the previous scoring drive. With Anthony Tolbert tearing through the line, the Wildcats marched 61 yards in just six plays. Tolbert blasted into the end zone from five yards out to give the Wildcats a 20-6 lead with 9:11 left in the half.

Monett would not fold early. Guinn torched the Cassville defense with another rocket launch, racing 68 yards for his second score. Two carries, 151 yards, and a pair of touchdowns earned Guinn a bullseye from the Cassville defense for the remainder of the game.

The five-play, 82-yard drive brought Monett within 20-12.

The Wildcats badly needed a statement drive, and certainly did not want to give Guinn and company the ball back with just a one score lead. But Preddy was held to no gain on first down at the Cassville 29-yard line, and then Haney threw incomplete on second down.

On a critical third down play, Preddy burst through the line on a sprint draw and moved the chains with a 14-yard gain.

The drive bogged down again, but Preddy plowed for two yards on a fourth down call. On the very next play, Shannon Haney ran through a tiring Monett defense for a 46-yard touchdown. The two-point conversion attempt failed, but Cassville had opened a 26-12 lead with exactly three minutes left in the half.

Cassville's defense forced a three-and-out punt, and the Cats hurried to squeeze one more score out of the first half. Haney completed clutch passed to White and Ethan Hoppes to set up Reese for a 25-yard field goal and a 29-12 lead as the clock ran out.

The second half was all Cassville.

Zack Coenen scored twice in the third quarter, sandwiching a short Shannon Haney touchdown run as the Wildcats spun the scoreboard to 49-12.

Lady Wildcats welcome girls' golf to Cassville High School

Prix Gautney

Last spring, Chantly Yarnall and Alexis Mann played for the Cassville boys' golf team, and this year they joined other Lady Wildcats to form the first girls' golf team at Cassville High School.

"The boys' team made it more challenging because I was always trying to play better than them, which has helped my golf game," reported Yarnall, "but I like girls' golf because it feels more equal."

After adding girls' soccer to the Cassville athletics program last year, the conversation about adding golf to the Lady Wildcats roster came up, mainly due to Yarnall and Mann having already joined the boys' team. During the spring, meetings were held to determine if there was enough interest to justify having a girls' team. "The response was favorable," said golf coach Jay Rogers, "so the matter went to the school board."

In June, the board approved starting a junior varsity girls' golf program for the fall season with plans to initiate a varsity program in the fall of 2019 if there are an adequate number of participants in the inaugural season. Currently, the team boasts seven members, which is a good sign for a start-up program. The team is slated to compete against a variety of schools this year, from small school districts up through Class 4 and 5 schools.

Over half of the girls on the team had never played golf before this year and have found the sport both challenging and rewarding. When hot weather, late summer rainstorms and dual sports practices limit time on the course, several girls participate in weight-lifting classes to keep in shape. In addition to golf-specific preparation, all of the girls get in plenty of walking time on the course and focus on hydration, something vital to both their health and performance.

Rogers also discusses the mental aspects of golf to help them sharpen their skills, and considers it a privilege to coach the inaugural team. "I'm honored to be a part of this new program and hope that I can help the girls achieve their goals. My expectations for this season are simply to work to improve at a very difficult game, learn the rules, keep a positive attitude and have fun."

Mann, a junior dual sport athlete, has found golf to be unlike any other sport she's participated in. "You depend a lot on yourself, and that's something I'm not used to." Yarnall, sophomore teammate and dual sport athlete, agreed. "I have learned that you are really playing against yourself and always trying to beat your last score."

"Golf truly is a game for everyone. Body size and shape really aren't a factor in one's ability to compete," Rogers said. "Hopefully, girls' golf has a bright future. I'd love to see girls interested in playing this great game." The Lady Wildcats have already found success with three team members medaling in the top five at a recent tournament.

The Lady Wildcats want to encourage other students to participate in this new program. When asked what they would say to girls interested in joining girls' golf, they gave a universal answer. "Do it. It's so fun!"

FOOTBALL from 13A

The running game and the running clock put this game to bed early. The Wildcats headed for the dressing room with the Barry County Brawl trophy in hand.

"We're off to a good start," said Cassville's Lance Parnell after the contest.

Parnell was a little concerned at half over the defensive lapses that allowed Guinn the long scoring runs, but was satisfied with the second half.

"Our kids did a good job of seizing momentum," he said.

Now 3-0, Cassville returns home to Wildcat Stadium to face traditional foe Seneca on Friday night. After an 0-2 start, the Indians defeated Nevada, 35-12. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

Wildcats fourth at Seneca XC Invitational

Southwest volleyball defeats Verona

Lee Stubblefield

For many area schools, last week marked the start of the 2018 cross country season. On Thursday, the Seneca Invitational mix showcased some of the best Big 8 teams. It also underscored the continuing decline in participation. Of the seventeen schools in attendance, only thirteen fielded complete boys varsity teams, and only three had full girls teams.

Varsity Boys

While Lamar runners Kolin Overstreet and Joe Camp finished 1-2 in the boys race, East Newton placed five runners in the top fourteen to post a winning score of 32. The Patriots are coached by Jake Holt, a former All-State runner from the Southwest dynasty years.

Neosho, Lamar and Cassville finished 3-4-5, in that order.

Chris Shore's Wildcats were led by Devon Brookes, who placed 12th in 18:57. Stephen Collinwood (20), Pace Evans (28), Quinn Cook (34), and Cole Jackson (37) rounded out the Cassville scoring.

Southwest placed sixth in the varsity boys race, led by Travis Sickles, 21st in 19:21. Xander DeShields (23), Christian Long (39), Trevor Sneed (41), and Ty Howard (42) also scored for the Trojans.

Purdy placed 10th, led by Zack Brewer in 35th place.

Varsity girls

What a difference a year makes. In 2017, the Cassville girls won this meet, led by Brylee Wilson in 2nd place and Zoey Brooks in 8th. Both runners would go on to earn All State medals. This year, both are MIA from the Cassville roster. Wilson was at the meet, but after transferring was wearing a Southwest jersey.

Lamar won the girls team title with 26 points, besting Monett (36) and Southwest (64). Aurora's Kaci Singer was the individual champion, running 21:01.

Cassville's Jordyn Stafford placed 5th, in 22:12.

The Southwest Lady Trojans claimed third behind Wilson's 11th place finish in 24:03. Maggie Robbins (14), Haily Erwin (34), Allison Corwin (38), Danielle Martinez (40), and Laney Moore (49) completed the Southwest entry.

Joy Grace and McKenna Orwig placed 36th and 37th respectively for Purdy.

MS

Southwest's Roper Varner was the top area runner in the middle school boys race. Varner placed 8th in 9:34 on the 2400 meter course.

Jacob Martinez led Cassville with his 12th place finish.

In the middle school girls division, Southwest's Cally Bowyer led area runners with her 4th place finish in 10:35.

Annie Moore, Treva Samuel, and Jolie Evans packed in at 8-9-10 for Cassville.

Down 23-21 in the second set, Southwest rallied for a 3-set victory over Verona in a non-conference volleyball game last week. The win improved the Lady Trojans record to 4-5 through nine games.

"We were very evenly matched," said Southwest Coach Steve Voyak. "We got a couple good bounces and they missed a few serves down the stretch."

Sophomore Khloe Holder led the Lady Trojans, making 14 of 15 serving with 6 aces. She also added seven digs and five kills from her outside hitter position.

"Khloe has been diligently working to get better with her hitting, serving and back row defense," Voyak said. "She's an excellent athlete, and now she's applying some of the important fundamentals to take her game to the next level. She played great against Verona, but I still think she can be even better as the season progresses."

Two other standouts for the Lady Trojans were Southwest volleyball players before the National Anthem at a recent home game.

Seniors Heather Windes and Mariah Munday. Windes, a setter, finished with 19 serve receptions, 14 assists and 12 digs. Munday, an outside hitter, led the team in kills with 13, giving her 58 for the season. She added 22 serve receptions and 15 digs, but maybe her most impressive stat was a perfect 9 for 9 serving with 2 aces.

"Mariah was always been just an okay server," Voyak said. "She completely changed her process and has only missed four all season, and has picked up some important aces late in matches, all while staying aggressive."

Southwest has three games this week at Spokane and Sparta and at home against Diamond.

Purdy FFA hosts end-of-summer activities

Cassville Library events

Lauren Schallert and Clay Henderson, Purdy FFA reporters

The Purdy FFA Chapter hosted two important events as the summer came to a close. At the Purdy Festival Livestock Show on Saturday, July 21, Purdy FFA members served as arena caretakers and award presenters in the various show categories, including swine, poultry, cattle, goats, and sheep. Several Purdy FFA showed their own animals, in addition to making sure everything ran smoothly.

Purdy FFA Member Andres Aldaba noted, “The livestock show is an event I look forward to showing in and having a good time.”

Adding a new event to its schedule, the chapter hosted the first annual Purdy FFA Back-to-School Ice Cream Social and Softball Game on Thursday, August 16. Approximately 30 members attended this premier event, designed to welcome students back to school and get them excited for the upcoming year.

The game began on an exciting note, with two home-runs in the first inning, before being shortened due to the inclement weather.

Purdy FFA Member Eli Webb noted of the event, “It’s always good to have fun and make memories in an organization that we all love.”

Barry County Health Department’s August Food Service Report

The Barry County Health Department divides food service code violations into two categories: Priority and Core items.

Priority items are more likely than other violations to contribute to food contamination, or illness and/or injury.

Core items, although important to the overall hygiene of the establishment, do not necessarily present an immediate threat to food contamination or illness and/or injury.

A report for each establishment that is inspected shows the number of priority items, along with a short statement as to the nature of the violations. The report also shows the number of core items but doesn't list the nature of those violations.
