Ticket sales begin for Fall Show

Charlea Mills

For the 22nd year, The Fall Show returns to Cassville to bring an exciting new line-up of local talent and musical numbers. A major change to hit the music show this year is the addition of a character act with the singers in the second half portraying the original artists for some favorite musical numbers.

Organizers Greg and Brenda Beck are the masterminds behind the Fall Show and Christmas Show each year which the community looks forward to. Greg stated, "We came up with the idea 22 years ago, presented it to the Chamber and they said, 'Let's try it.' Now, here we still are." The Show's main focus is to provide entertainment while also allowing local talent to showcase their abilities and see a side of them you might miss in a day-to-day operation.

Seligman Walmart moves closer to grand opening

Charlea Mills

Significant progress is being made on the upcoming Walmart to be located at the Highway 112 and Highway 37 intersection in Seligman.

So far, construction is on schedule and the tentative grand opening date is December 10, according to the newly hired store manager Tim Williams. The store is opening the internal hiring process to select five full-time supervisors and 25-30 part-time employees. The store has already hired their pharmacist Andrew Aumann.

Williams and his family are from Bentonville, Ark., where they've lived since 2002. Williams and his wife, Sheryl, have been married 31 years and have three children and two grandchildren. Williams is retired from the Army National Guard and the Army Reserves after serving three combat tours in Iraq and Afghanistan. He started with Walmart in 2002. Williams said exciting news in his house recently is that his youngest son Mitchell will be playing football for the Airforce Academy after he graduates in the spring. One big change since the story broke in August will be the name. Originally, Walmart Corporate had the store labelled as a Walmart Express, a relatively new addition to the Walmart chain. However, now they've decided to do away with Express. Williams stated, "While the store was originally going to be an Express, now Walmart has decided that it'll be a Neighborhood Market. All that is changing is the branding." Williams said that all of the other details will be the same with the location boasting a gas station, grocery, dry goods, pharmacy and others. Williams said, "This is more than just a grocery store, we will have a big line of items, including 17,000 grocery items."

Even though the store will not offer a full line of items like a Supercenter, the store will offer Site to Store shipping, allowing customers to have anything available online shipped directly to the store for pick up.

Williams said that so far, the one thing he has heard most from community members is the excitement over the pharmacy. He stated, "Almost every person I've talked to is really excited about the pharmacy opening up, especially some of the elderly in the area. Some of them are having to drive all the way to Rogers to pick up their prescriptions and this will make their lives much easier to cut down that drive."

The new job openings have also stimulated a lot of buzz. Williams said, "We've had a lot of interest in the employment aspect because so many people here commute. The jobs will mean that they don't have to drive so far from home."

Aside from the offerings of the store, Williams also hopes to have a positive atmosphere for customers. He said, "Customer service will be a big emphasis at the store. We expect our associates to be friendly and talk to our customers. That's part of it here."

He continued, "We also want to make sure that our store is clean, our food is fresh and everything is in stock as it should be. We really think that our customers will be happy with the store."

As an added show of dedication to the community, Williams said the store is planning on making some donations to area groups during their grand opening. He said, "We've already heard from officials with the City of Seligman and the Chamber of Commerce, and we will be making some donations to them during our grand opening."

With the Walmart opening, there has been much talk about the benefit of extra revenue for Seligman from sales tax and additional traffic. When asked about how

SHOW from FRONT

Returning this year for the Show are the Hometown Sound and the Redhots. The Redhots are made up Jennifer Evans, JaDonna Hoover and Debbie Nickle with the Red-hot-Not Don Bowen adding his bass sound to the mix. Lead talent returning this year are favorites John Lueckenhoff, Jessica Hendrix and Leslie Smith.

Beck said that some new singers will also be joining the Show, including Jaci Evans, Jeremiah Hilburn, Levi Pollreis and Drake Thomas.

The audience can look forward to the character show in the second half of the set with 13 different personalities gracing the stage of the FEMA Event Center. Beck said, "We'll have many different people up on stage, including Garth Brooks, Loretta Lynn, Elvis both young and old, the Blues Brothers and the Beatles. This is the first time we've tried this and we know everyone is going to love it."

The event will be held in the FEMA Event Center again this year. Beck said, "It worked really well having it in the FEMA building last year and we are glad to be back there."

When asked if the Becks will be stopping The Shows anytime soon, Greg laughed and said, "I just don't see that happening." The Fall Show is put on each year in conjunction with the Chili and Salsa Cook Off on the square.

Tickets for The Show are on sale now at the Cassville Chamber of Commerce Office or at any of the local bands. Advance tickets are $6 each with the price going up to $8 at the door. Table seats are on sale now at the Chamber as well. Table seating is limited and each table will seat 6 to 8 people for $15 each. Table guests also get complimentary snacks during the performance. Showtimes will be Thursday, October 23, at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, October 25, at 7:30 p.m., and Sunday, October 26, at 2 p.m.

For more information, call the Cassville Chamber of Commerce at (417) 847-2814.

much the city might benefit, Seligman City Clerk Brian Nichols stated, "We have not looked into the store's projected sales or other figures, but my personal opinion is that we are looking at an extra $30-50,000 per year." He went on to say sales tax revenue goes to general administration, police, the library, parks, streets and capitol improvement in the city.

According to Terry Burgess, Seligman Police Chief, rumors about adding a new officer with the additional revenue is mostly false. Burgess stated, "My goal is to cover as many hours with officers as possible without draining the budget. If the revenue goes up, then I'll probably ask for a new officer, but we aren't talking about that yet."

Despite some concern

over how the store will impact local commerce, most community response has been positive. Burgess, also a local business owner stated, "I think overall it will be positive as a whole for the town with the revenue that it'll bring in. As a small business owner myself, I am looking forward to the extra traffic it could bring to town, as well."

So far the City sees mostly advantages to Walmart coming in. Nichols stated, "An advantage is obviously the draw to the area and being at the main intersection in the city, it will be seen by almost everyone travelling in and through Seligman. I hear a lot of people talk about the pharmacy and saving them a trip to Cassville."

As far as disadvantages, some have been worried about the town's grocery store, Norm's, closing. However, the store has advantages that the new Walmart can't compete with. Nichols stated, "Norm's Grocery has a butcher on site that cuts excellent meat, and he has a great selection of hardware that is most convenient."

There has been speculation that with Walmart might come other businesses, as well. Nichols stated, "We are hopeful. There seems to be a lot of desire for a Sonic or other fast food place to come to the city."

Once the Walmart Neighborhood Market opens, the hours will be Monday through Saturday from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. The Pharmacy hours will be Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

"Thank you" seems so small for all the kindness, love and support we have received during this time of Mike's illness. To our church family and even those we don't know personally, the power of prayer has been felt, and met during this time. For those who brought food, visited and sent cards, you are so appreciated! A big thank you to Melvin & Terri Priest and the whole ranch rodeo family for the benefit & donations. And to those who have personally helped us financially, God has truly blessed us! To our children, thank you for your love & support, we couldn't have gotten through this without you. Our prayer through all of this is that God can use us and our circumstances to help others.

Thank you,
Mike & Connie Goetz

How to give back to veterans

Members of the military serve their country proudly, often sacrificing the luxuries of home and time spent with their families to do so. When veterans return home from training or deployment, many people want to show how much they appreciate the sacrifices made by the men and women of the military, but don't know the best way to share that appreciation.

Donations to a veterans' charity is one measure of support the public can offer. Many charities work to serve the needs of veterans. The Wounded Warrior Project provides rehabilitation, counseling and activities for veterans who were wounded during service, while Homes for Our Troops remodels homes or builds them for troops who were injured and need their homes remodeled as a result of their injuries. The USO provides a variety of services for veterans and can always use donations or volunteers.

Another way to help veterans is to assist with their pets. Some dogs and cats get left behind when troops are deployed or forced to move. Volunteering to foster a pet until a soldier returns is another way to give back.

According to the organization Veterans, Inc., veterans are more at risk of becoming homeless than those who do not serve in the military. Individuals can help veterans by opening their homes to friends and family members who may need a temporary place to stay. Providing support to military personnel both past and present can mean a world of difference. Correspond with veterans through mail, email or text messages. Operation American Soldier establishes connections between civilians and troops so that all soldiers receive daily mail, whether it's a care package or letter of thanks.

A Celebration of Life

When we depart our earthly home for God's resting place, it is not how long or brief our stay, but how we lived our lives that counts. Though we may mourn the passing of a loved one, we should also take comfort in the memory of the many kindnesses he or she has performed.

We conduct every funeral service as to be a source of comfort and inspiration to the living as well as a worthy and memorable tribute to the departed.

Sheriff's office using Facebook tips to solve cases

Charlea Mills

In a move to more efficiently utilize technology and connect with the public, the Barry County Sheriff's Department has updated their website and is also turning to Facebook to get leads on different cases.

The switch to Facebook, according to Sheriff Mick Epperly, was a strategy to help the department and the community. He said, "We're using Facebook to build a better relationship with the community. We appreciate the public's input on solving cases and getting them involved, and we only have so many deputies. Maybe someone saw something that we didn't talk to."

On the Sheriff's Department's Facebook page, they've posted information about recent crimes asking for information to help them solve the case. Recently, the Department posted photos of a recovered horse stolen from Barry County and items stolen from a church in Monett. He said that they are careful about which cases they publish information about online.

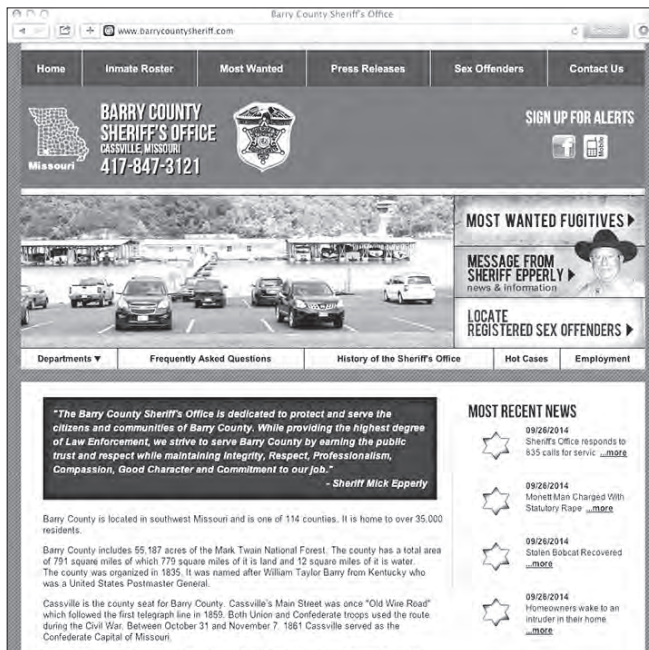

Epperly said that tips from Facebook have already helped them solve a couple of crimes in the short time the page has been up. He stated, "Of course we stay on it monitoring what people post, but so far, it's been really positive. We haven't really had any negative responses."

By using Facebook and their updated website, they are able to reach the community and keep them informed of happenings in the department. Epperly stated, "There are a lot of ways for us to get our messages out there to people with press releases and that sort of thing, and we hope that it gets the community involved." Press releases and notices are being posted both on Facebook and the department's website regularly.

Tipsters can remain anonymous when they call to make statements just as normal. Epperly stated, "We've already had a few cases made by tips we received through Facebook. So we hope that continues as we post more."

The Barry County Sheriff's Department has had an online website for awhile, Sheriff Epperly said that it was time for an update. So the department updated their website and created a Facebook all in one swoop. Epperly stated, "Our other website wasn't a narrow-formatted page, and there were some problems there. Now it is a lot easier to work with. It's more user-friendly."

The Barry County Sheriff's Department revamped their website and created a Facebook page to help keep connected with the community.

The website still has the same basic features like information about current inmates in the Barry County Detention Center, Barry County's Most Wanted and the History of the Department. However, the format is different and most recent bookings of inmates are featured on the front page as well as recent news from the department and messages from Sheriff Epperly. You can also located registered sex offenders in the county.

Epperly stated, "We're also putting new scenic pictures featuring different areas of the county on the website, as well."

The Sheriff's Department's website is www.barrycountysheriff.com. They are located on Facebook under Barry County Sheriff's Department.

BARRY COUNTY SHERIFF'S MOST WANTED

The Most Wanted column is a partnership between the Barry County Advertiser and the Barry County Sheriff's Department. Sheriff Mick Epperly urges anyone with information about any of the individuals to contact the department at (417) 847-6556 during the daytime hours or (417) 847-3121 after hours. A full list of Barry County's Most Wanted is available on the Barry County Sheriff's website at: <http://www.barrycountysheriff.com/wanted.php>.

Rock-A-Thon brings the ‘50s back

The “Rockin-Boppin-Rock-a-Thon” held last Saturday, September 13, at Central Crossing Senior Center was everything it was billed to be and more. Those that attended really got into the spirit and, if it weren’t for the cell phones each probably had stashed away, you’d think you were back in the 50’s again. There were poodle skirts, bobby socks and saddle oxford shoes. The guys had their rolled up blue jeans with Red Ball Jets or penny loafers.

The place was even decorated as a diner complete with a soda fountain and Wurlitzer Juke Box. In case anyone forgot the dances of the day, we had dance instructors who really knew their moves with a special visit from Elvis.

The food was delicious as always and featured Jim Fohn’s renowned Bar-B-Q beef and pork. Deserts were provided by the many volunteers and were nothing less than home-made and mouthwatering.

The event was topped off with the annual pie auction and the bidding was as brisk as the pies were fresh.

Rockers were sponsored by Arvest Bank, Holy Family Catholic Church, VFW Ladies Auxiliary and Central Crossing Center.

The event was really successful due to the generous contributions of cash, food, desserts, pies, drinks and a commitment of time and labor.

Beyond just having a fun and nostalgic time with old friends and new friends, the event was held to raise money to enable the Central Crossing Senior Center to continue its mission. The Central Crossing Center is devoted to improving the lives of our area seniors by helping them maintain their independence in a variety of ways, including on-site lunches, home delivered meals, educational programs, Medicare counseling, games, exercise and recreational activities just to name a few.

Of course, as with the

Shell Knob Friends of the Library hold raffle

The Shell Knob Friends of the Library held a raffle drawing at Shakin' in the Shell this year for a Polaroid tablet. Golden Pioneer Museum adds new displays

The Golden Museum has a collection of many different interesting artifacts. On October 2, they will be unveiling a whole new section of 2,700 square feet of new exhibits.

tifacts from Trail of Tears Museum in Huntsville, Ark., 27 years ago was the biggest part of his decision to build the museum. When the owner of the Trail of Tears Museum passed away, he and his daughter both wanted Prier to have it. He said, "They wanted the collection to be kept together because of how much there was. It's really a lot to see."

According to Prier, the newest addition to the museum will add 2,700 square feet to the building and will house many new displays. "We've got the largest known collection of butter dishes, the largest collection of Alaskan Northwood glassware, a Red Wing pottery collection and thousands of Indian artifacts," he said. Also, the museum addition will also house a black-light room, a large cookie jar collection and much more, many of which Prier says are one-of-a-kind.

Normally, the museum is open from April through October, but Prier said he plans to keep his museum open a little longer this year so that visitors can see the displays in the new addition. At this point, he's not certain how long that will be. "I'll keep it open as long as people keep coming," he stated.

The Golden Pioneer Museum is open Tuesday through Saturday, from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. To reach the museum from Cassville, follow Highway 86 past Eagle Rock and into Golden. From Shell Knob, follow Highway 39 south to Highway 86, and then go west into Golden. The museum is across the road from Ball & Prier Tire.

Admission is free, but donations to are accepted. For more information, call the museum at (417) 271-3300.

Look for a follow up story on the new addition to the Museum in next week's issue of the Advertiser.

Frontier Day brings old time fun

Saturday brought old time fun to the area with Frontier Day. People were treated to wagon rides, blacksmithing demonstrations, cooking demonstrations and more.

The Golden Pioneer Museum, located near the intersection of Highways J and 86 in Golden, boasts a number of out-of-the-ordinary treasures, both natural and man-made. The Prier family travels the country looking for unusual and impressive collections of a variety of items. The museum is a gold mine for a small town, drawing in visitors from all over to see the unique collectibles offered.

Among the many items visitors to the museum can see include the world's largest turquoise carving, a huge collection of watches from different time periods, baseball cards, guns, Civil War artifacts, a gigantic crystal cluster that weighs over two tons and many others.

Owner Winfred Prier, who started the museum almost 25 years ago, stated his museum is unique in the midwest. "There is nothing like this in this part of the United States," he said. That statement couldn't be truer. The huge assortment has something that everyone can enjoy, from tin lunch boxes to Native American artifacts.

Since he began the museum, Prier has added to his collection of displays at every chance. To date, the museum has been added on to four times, and on Thursday, October 2, he will unveil the museum's fifth addition.

When asked what led him to start the museum, he said, "I've collected things since I was in grade school, so it went from there. I've been buying different collections for the last 50 or 60 years, boxing them up and sticking them in the attic. So, eventually I thought I'd better do something with it."

Prier went on to say that his acquisition of the ar-

Local business competes for grant

Steve Chapman

2G Transit Solutions, a software business based in Cassville, is competing with some other 35,000 businesses nationwide for one of 20 grants worth $150,000. The grants are sponsored by Chase Bank and Google.

Ben Greene and his wife, Tracy, began 2G Transit Solutions three years ago and run the business out of their home. They have developed a software system called Transit Miner, designed to help bus systems operate more efficiently. Currently, the company serves 11 contracts across the country, nine of which are city bus systems, including Austin and Las Vegas.

Additionally, they have created an application for bus passengers called My Trips, which allows passengers waiting for a bus to use a device like an iPhone or tablet to see where their bus is and how long it will take for the bus to get to them.

It can also alert passengers when their ride is ten minutes away from reaching them. My Trips is available where Transit Miner is in use, and has a subscription fee of $4.99 a year, or about $.42 a month.

To be eligible to qualify for a grant, 2G Transit must have 250 votes via Facebook by October 17. At press time, the company had 60 votes.

While he acknowledges 2G Transit will face stiff competition even if the company does qualify, Mr. Greene says he believes they have a strong chance of winning a grant as their work helps people with mobility issues, including the elderly and the physically challenged.

If they are awarded a grant, the Greens plan to use the money to help develop their company. They will use a third of the grant for marketing their company. "We're competing against $500 million-a-year international companies," Mr. Greene said.

Another third of the grant would be used to update the companies Cloud servers, and the remaining third will go to upgrading My Trips so that customers can see their personal trip histories, as well as additional alerts such as traffic and service disruptions. The

Southwest Lady Trojans to host annual Pink Out night

The Southwest Lady Trojan volleyball team ran its winning streak to eight with victories over Hurley (25-21, 25-17) and Wheaton (25-19, 25-11) last week. Southwest improved its record to 16-5 overall and 3-0 in the Ozark 7 Conference.

"Winning streaks are difficult because momentum can change so quickly in volleyball," said Coach Steve Voyak. "Winning streaks on the road are even tougher because most teams feel more comfortable in their gym."

Against Hurley, senior Shannon Mitchell had 11 digs, 10 kills and 4 blocks and 3 aces, while junior setter Jaime Shrum added 12 assists, 6 kills, 4 digs and 3 aces. Additionally, senior Kayna McNabb contributed 17 digs, 6 kills, 5 blocks and an ace. Against Wheaton, Mitchell had 10 kills and 2 blocks, while Shrum made all 16 of her serves, including 5 aces and added 5 kills.

"You want to be peaking at the end of the conference season and at district time," said Coach Voyak. "We have made some subtle changes to serving and rotation and the players have really responded."

The Lady Trojans play host to state-ranked Crane, and then travel to Joplin to play against McAuley in an Ozark 7 Conference game this week.

Southwest will host two special events in the coming weeks. On Monday, Oct. 6, the girls will celebrate Pink Out, a night to focus on breast cancer awareness. The players will use special pink uniforms in their games against Gentry, Ark. Brochures and other education will also be available at the game.

Action begins at 5:00 p.m. with a freshman game, and on Oct. 14, the Lady Trojans will say goodbye to the Class of 2015 when they host Senior Night.

Shannon Mitchell, Kayna McNabb, Brittney Hackett and Jessica Henderson will play their final home game in Washburn. Action begins at 6:00 p.m. against Exeter. The ceremony will be between the JV and varsity game.

Rockin' P hosts final Buckle Series of the season

This year's Top Hand Cowboy Award went to Shane Bailey, of the Bailey Ranch team and the B & S Cattle team.

What a beautiful day to host the finals for the Buckle Series at the Rockin' P Ranch & Arena on Sunday, September 21, 2014.

With 16 teams competing for the top honors for the last rodeo of the season, only five teams made it to the winners circle and were given awards and prize money.

Events for the finals were calf sorting, chute loading, brand and mug and ending the day with pasture team-roping. Prize money for this rodeo was awarded for first place going to the Bailey Ranch (Shane Bailey, Tyler White, Clint Woods and Josh Ball), second place went to the B & S Cattle Team (Shane Bailey, Tyler White, Clint Woods and Jimmy Evans), third place was the Rafter 8 Team (Josh Kern, Brandon Reynolds, Dillon Lowe and Rocky Stone) and fourth place was the Last Chance Ranch Team (Dylan Burns, Steven Hendrix, Brad Hickman and Chris Murray). These teams were awarded the Added Money that had been sponsored by Specialty Risk Insurance, Carthage; Freedom Bank, Cassville; and Peterbilt, Joplin.

Points were tallied from each event throughout the entire summer for the series and calculated at the Finals with winners being:

- First place – The Bailey Ranch Team – each team member was presented with a Gist Silversmith Buckle provided by Rockin' P Ranch.

- Second place – The B & S Cattle Team – each member was presented with an embroidered rope bag, provided by Rockin' P Ranch.

- Third place – The F4 Cattle Co Team (Clark Broyles, Clint Broyles, James Frazier and Anthony Newman) – each member was presented with a set of leather hobbles, donated by TS Whites, LLC, Diamond, and stamp work by Austin Speak.

Before the rodeo got under way, the cowboys were given the opportunity to pick who they thought deserved a couple of awards that really stand out during a series; Top Hand Cowboy and Most Improved Cowboy.

- The Top Hand Cowboy Award was awarded to Shane Bailey, from the Bailey Ranch Team and the B & S Cattle Team.

- The Most Improved Cowboy was awarded to Clark Broyles, who is on the F4 Cattle Co Team.

On behalf of everyone from the Rockin' P Ranch and Arena, they thank all the cowboys and their families, friends, and fans that supported and followed them throughout the summer.

There was also a lot of people that helped out behind the scenes and without those people, they would not have been able to put this series on.

Lee Stubblefield

The Cassville Wildcats slipped to 2-4 on the season with their 49-7 loss at Carl Junction on Friday night. Keynan Scheurich scored five touchdowns in the first half to lead the Bulldogs in a night to remember for the home fans. For Cassville, not so much.

The Wildcats, hampered by injuries, were forced to not only change players but to scrap their normal defensive alignment. Playing with a three-man defensive line and four linebackers, the Cassville defense struggled to contain the Carl Junction attack.

The Bulldogs broke on top in the game's first minute when Scheurich bounced off right tackle and bolted down the sideline for a 45-yard scoring jaunt on just the second offensive snap.

Scheurich then doubled the CJ lead with a 22-yard run to the endzone with 1:06 on the first-quarter clock.

The Wildcats could not maintain drives, but held the Bulldogs in check as the teams approached halftime. Ryan Devore was intercepted by Leigh Cox on a third down throw, and the Wildcats owned the ball at the CJ 27-yard line.

Gabe Kirk sprinted to the pylon on first down, coming up just short of the end zone. River Phelps dove in for the score on the following play, and the Wildcats pulled within 14-7 with 3:27 left in the half.

Insert the Keynan Scheurich highlight reel here.

But Scheurich gathered in Kendal Branham's kickoff at his own 25-yard line, and raced 75 yards for an answering score and a 21-7 lead.

The Wildcats went three-and-out on their next possession, and Kirk punted away. The Bulldogs took over at their own 41-yard line. Four plays later, on third-and-10 at the Cassville 36-yard line, Scheurich scored on a draw to give CJ a 28-7 lead with 1:01 on the clock.

It wasn't over.

The Wildcats gained one yard in three plays, and Kirk punted again. The Bulldogs

Ryan Devore led the CJ offense to the Cassville 18-yard line with just six seconds left before halftime. He pitched a perfect strike over the middle to Scheurich, who ran into the endzone to complete a 35-7 half for the Bulldogs.

Cassville went from one score down to one score from the turbo clock in just over three minutes.

The Bulldogs added a touchdown in both the third and fourth quarters to create the 49-7 final.

The stats were as one-sided as the score. Scheurich gained 145 yards on just 14 carries for three touchdowns and added scores on the kickoff return and the reception just before half. Devore, the junior quarterback, ran for 78 yards and passed for another 123.

Kirk led Cassville, running for 51 yards and throwing for 72.

With the September gauntlet of Lamar, Monett, and Carl Junction behind them, the Wildcats return home for a date with Mt. Vernon on Friday, October 3. The Mountaineers posted their first win of the season last week, topping East Newton by a 45-20 score to improve to 1-5. Kickoff is set for 7:00 p.m. at Wildcat Stadium.

Kings River Ladies Golf League update

Katherine Wheat

Fall is here. We have had very cool mornings followed by pleasant afternoon temperatures. The league is winding down to just three more weeks after this one with our final scramble and luncheon on October 15th. I hate to see the season end.

Last week, was stroke play, low net. The wet grass was our biggest obstacle, balls didn't roll much after they landed except where you didn't want them to.

Many of the ladies weren't bragging about their scores, but we all have our days. Our first place winners were Myrna Bruning and Bonnie Shelton who tied for first place with a net score of 30. Kathy Wheat placed second with a net 32. Marilyn Atkinson came in third with a net 36.

The low gross score of the day was Myrna Bruning again with a 44. Bonnie Shelton took second with a 46, followed by Lori Reaves and Kathy Wheat for third with a 49.

The pot for low putts was split by Kathy Wheat and Myrna Bruning each having only 15 putts. Annie Field had the longest putt on hole #1.

Billie Thorne had the only birdie of the day on hole #6, barely missing a hole-in-one. I don't know who, but I heard that someone had the most putts on a par 3 hole, 7.

Farm Fest celebrates
35th year Oct. 3-5

Temperatures are getting cooler and the days are getting shorter as signaling the Ozark Fall Farmfest is on the horizon and will be here soon.

The 35th annual Ozark Fall Farmfest will be Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 3, 4 and 5 at the Ozark Empire Fairgrounds in Springfield.

With over 750 agricultural exhibits, the Ozark Empire Fairgrounds will be filled with a variety of tractors, farm equipment, animal health products, trailers, livestock handling equipment, livestock waterers, feed, tools, trucks, agricultural service providers and much more.

Farmfest also will feature rural living displays where a host of products designed to enhance the rural lifestyle will be available for everyone to see.

For those interested in the latest in the livestock industry, on-site livestock exhibits will fill the barns and present a unique opportunity for stockmen and women to take a look at the variety of breeding stock available and learn more about the animals from breeders.

Beef cattle breeds at Farmfest will include Angus, Belgian Blue, Brahmousin, Brangus, Braunvieh, Beefalo, Beefmaster, Charolais, Fleckvieh, Gelbvieh, Hereford, Irish Dexter, Limousin, Longhorn, Maine-Anjou, Red Angus, Romagnola, Salers, Shorthorn, Sim-Angus, Simmental and White Park.

In addition to the cattle exhibits, equine enthusiasts will enjoy the opportunity to view a variety of horses on display. Other livestock at Farmfest will include Boer goats, dairy goats, Katahdin hair sheep, Red Wattle pigs, miniature donkeys, alpacas, rabbits and more.

Once again, well-known stock dog trainer Danny Shilling from Bois D'Arc, Mo., will be conducting daily stock dog demonstrations and clinics each day of the event.

Also, take a step back in time at the antique equipment displays brought by the Ozarks Steam Engine Association and the Southwest Missouri Early Day Gas Engine and Tractor Association and see firsthand how equipment has changed over the years.

Hours for the Ozark Fall Farmfest are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday.

Parking and admission are free.

The Ozark Empire Fairgrounds are easily accessed on the north side of Springfield, Mo., just off Interstate 44 and Highway 13.

The Ozark Fall Farmfest is sponsored by the Ozark Empire Fair and Farm Talk Newspaper.

For more information, contact Farm Talk at (620) 421-9450 or the Ozark Empire Fair at (417) 833-2660.

Riders compete in Southwest FFA Mule Jump

Pictured above is Dannel Comer, 12, competing in youth barrel racing at Saturday's Mule Jump where she earned third place. She also placed both first and second in the flag race on a horse and mule and third place in pole bending

Steve Chapman

Nearly 150 spectators gathered to watch some 30 riders compete during the 6th Annual Mule Jump in Washburn on September, 27. The event, held on the softball and baseball fields at Southwest School, raised $1,400 for the Southwest R-V FFA, which organizer Re-eva Hayworth said would be used to help with the cost of FFA members attending the National Convention later this month.

There were nine contests in the Mule Jump, including pole bending, halter class and the flag race. Each contest was sponsored by a local business or individuals.

One of the more serious contests was the barrel race, during which each the riders would attempt to be the fastest to ride their horses or mules around three barrels in a pattern. This was not always easy, as the animals sometimes wanted to go in a different direction than the way their riders wanted.

A more amusing contest was the balloon race, in which the riders would each have a balloon pinned on their backs. Each rider would try to pop the other riders' balloons while attempting to avoid having their own popped. Last rider with an unpopped balloon was the winner.

The final contest was the mule jump, in which a hurdle was placed in the middle of the field that each rider would attempt to have their horse or mule jump. After each rider had gone, the hurdle would be raised and the riders who successfully jumped the first time around would go again. The rider whose horse or mule jumped the highest was the winner.

In most contests, the riders competed in adult and youth divisions and the highest scoring ones were awarded prizes of $25 for first place, $15 for second, or $10 for third. For the mule jump, first place was $50, second was $30, and $20 was third. Some competitions had only one prize for first place or one division.

Riders were also awarded three points for first place, two points for second place and one point for third place. The rider for each of the adult and youth divisions who scored the most overall points was named the high point winner and won a cash prize of $50.

Hayworth mentioned the Mule Jump differed from other similar competitions because it was free to enter and younger riders, some only three or four years old, had an opportunity to participate. "We like to keep it for fun instead of competition," she said.

The winners of each competition, and the competition sponsors, are:

• Halter Class (sponsored by Greasy Creek Farm)

Horse: Sarah Catron
Mule: Joe Sam
• Barrel Race (sponsored by JSS Trucking)
Youth Division: Maddie Vanzandt, 1st place. Teresa Thompson, 2nd place, 3rd place, Dannel Comer.
Adult Division: Mikayla East, 1st place, Chelsea Depner, 2nd place, Jessie Carver, 3rd place.

• Pole Bending (sponsored by Bridgeview Plumbing): Youth Division: Maddie Vanzandt, 1st place, Teresea Thompson, 2nd place, Dannel Comer, 3rd place.
Adult Division: Mikayla East, 1st place, Chelsea Depner, 2nd place, Colleen

Oklahoma historical society members visit Bayless House

Steve Chapman

For years, the Barry County Genealogical and Historical Society (BCGHS) has been working to restore the Bayless-Salyer house on Townsend Street in Cassville. On Friday, September 26, society members were there to receive visitors from another historical society.

The visitors from Claremore, Cynthia McVicar, Christa Rice, both members of the RCHS and Julie Hughes, an interested friend, arrived at the house at noon. Upon arrival, McVicar presented Georgia Hart, editor and treasurer for the BCGHS, with a history of John and Mary Bayless. Hart then showed the visitors the house.

They also visited the square and saw some of the buildings constructed by Bayless, including Hotel Barry in 1894, now Ellis, Ellis and Cupps Law Firm, and the Barry County Bank, now Commerce Bank. After they visited for an hour, the group returned to Claremore.

John M. Bayless came to Barry County from Tennessee with his family in 1853 at the age of two. He grew up in Keetsville (now Washburn) and by 1880, he was engaged in merchandising. He would go on to build the Barry County Bank and the Hotel Barry in 1894 and a railroad that connected Cassville to Frisco Line running through Exeter, dedicated on July 4, 1896. He bought the lots at the corner of Townsend and 9th Streets in 1879 where he built his house.

Bayless would live there until he left in 1901 to pursue business opportunities in Claremore, Okla. He remained there until his death in 1907. The house that he built in Claremore, the Belvidere Mansion, is today kept by the Rogers County Historical Society (RCHS).

He and his brother, Keen Bayless, started a mercantile business in Keetsville (now Washburn) first and then came to Cassville. In the disastrous fire in April 1983, the fire destroyed virtually all of the Bayless buildings, including a lumber yard located east of the present Commerce Bank.

Bayless was a major player in Cassville commerce for twenty years, from 1880 to 1900.

Meanwhile, renovations continue on the Bayless-Salyer House, and Hart said the society hopes to move into the house by next spring. Renovations currently are possible due to a generous donation from Margie Panell, a woman who died in St. Joseph, Mich., last year but had ties to Barry County through family who lived in the area. According to Hart, Panell left the Barry County Historical Society an unspecified amount of money in her will.

Anyone wishing to make a tax-deductible donation to support continued renovations on the Bayless-Salyer House can contact Georgia Hart at (417) 271-3521 or mail the donation to the Barry County Genealogical and Historical Society, P.O. Box 291, Cassville, MO, 65625.

Cynthia McVicar (center) and Christa Rice (right), of the Rogers Historical Society, presented Georgia Hart, of the Barry County Genealogical and Historical Society, with a copy of a history of John and Mary Bayless.

MSHP warns to watch for deer

Colonel Ron Replogle, superintendent of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, reminds drivers that deer are more active this time of year, and to please be especially vigilant during evening and early dawn hours. Deer behavior changes due to mating season, which may cause an increase in sightings and roadway crossings. Hunting and crop harvesting may result in these animals being in places they aren't usually seen. Drivers are urged to remain alert.

Last year, drivers in Missouri experienced 3,498 traffic crashes where deer-vehicle strikes occurred. One deer strike occurred every 2.5 hours in the state. In these crashes, there were no fatalities, but 303 people were injured.

When you see deer, slow down and proceed with caution. Deer often travel in groups, stay on guard after a close call or when you see a single deer. Natural features also affect deer movement. In areas where there are streams or wooded corridors surrounded by farmland, look for more deer to cross roadways. Remember: Rural areas are not the only place where deer/vehicle strikes occur. In 2013, 26.4 percent of the traffic crashes involving deer happened in urban areas.

The majority of deer strike crashes occur in October and November each year, with the largest number taking place in November. Most deer strikes occur between the hours of 5 p.m. and 6:59 a.m. The Missouri State Highway Patrol reminds drivers that an attempt to avoid striking a deer could result in a more serious crash involving oncoming traffic. Try to remain calm. Panicking and overreacting usually lead to more serious traffic crashes. Deer create hazards for Missouri motorists. Please stay alert, and make sure you and the occupants of your vehicle buckle up.

Haven of the Ozarks Pet of the Week

My x-rays say I have hip dysplasia, but I can bounce around like a puppy and am a very happy boy. My name is Justice and I'm just turning 3 years young and only weigh 30 lbs. I'm housetrained and I like other dogs, too, so I'd love to meet you soon! If you'd like to adopt me or someone else - call Haven of the Ozarks at 417-835-3647. All pets are vaccinated, fixed, microchipped, and more, and always welcome back if things don't work out. Justice does take a glucosamine supplement - not expensive at all.

As has been done yearly since 2008, Central Crossing Senior Center is offering free Medicare Counseling to area seniors. This year, the enrollment period is from October 15 through December 7. During this time, eligible seniors can review and make changes in their Medicare Part D and may change from Advantage Plans to Medicare or Medicare to Advantage Plans.

It is wise to have your plans reviewed annually, because your plan could change next year or another plan may change which will save you money. Conversely, not changing your plan could end up costing you plenty. For example, do you know if your current Part D provider has changed its drug costs, its premiums, or its deductibles? Medicare Part D has numerous changes that you may not be aware of. Additionally, there is much to learn regarding the differences between Medicare and the various Advantage Plans available for next year.

All counselors at Central Crossing Senior Center are trained "Centers for Medicare Services" (CMS) Volunteers. They are not paid and offer their services are totally unbiased. Their motivation is only to assist area seniors in choosing the best health plan available.

Since the inception of this service, 788 seniors have saved nearly $175,000. That's an average savings of $432 each. These seniors will unanimously agree that it is important to have an independent unbiased review of your Medicare options.

Using this service is free and easy. Call (417) 858-3456 to make your appointment. You will be told what information to bring to the counseling session. But there are only so many volunteer counselors and limited time. Central Crossing Senior Center urges you to set you appointment without delay.

Taking action on this free service may save you hundreds or thousands of dollars in your medical expenses in 2015.
