

More than meets the eye at local food pantry

Charlea Estes-Jones

As the holidays approach, most people are thinking about spending time with loved ones and big meals. However, for a lot of Barry County residents, food security is a big problem. Many people are one illness or unforeseen incident from being unable to make ends meet.

Cassville Food Pantry director Janet Mills took the time to talk about what helps people in need this time of year. She said, “People don’t always realize that one hiccup in your life can turn things upside down. Compassion goes a long way.”

Mills said that the food pantry’s patrons aren’t always what you would assume. Many people who rely on the service are elderly, between jobs or just had some bad luck.

With holidays approaching, many people will be utilizing the food pantry to cook their holiday meals, and people should be mindful when making donations.

Mills said, “I usually recommend people think about what they would desire to have in their homes for their personal celebrations. Things like that might be baking mixes and traditional goods.” She added that convenience items are usually more helpful for families struggling. She recommended instant potatoes, gravy mixes, sauces, bread and cookie mixes.

She added, “Unfortunately, people don’t know how to cook a lot from scratch. So try to focus on convenient components and sauces. Things like Hamburger Helper are good all the time.”

Mills continued that around the holidays, baking mixes are in higher demand because they allow families to have special treats they otherwise wouldn’t be able to provide. She shared, “You’ve got family at home and you’re entertaining them and that is where bread and cookie mixes come in handy. That way they have something on hand that is special to serve to them.”

Other things that Mills said people don’t usually think to donate are perishable food items. She said, “We do take perishable things such as margarine that people don’t think about or a half a gallon of milk, something that a person in need might hesitate to spend money on. Ultimately, we want the food to be nutritious, so it’s always great to have items with protein in them.

“We can use perishable things if people want to donate chicken pieces. A lot of the elderly don’t even want a whole turkey.” She said good protein sources are peanut butter and canned meats.

She said that considering how expensive some things are for people is a good indicator on their need for them at the pantry. She said, “Think about something that someone on limited income might want to buy that much of, like meat items.”

She added that lesser thought of items include condiments and salad dressings, spices and things that help people stretch meals, like rice and noodles. They also accept shampoo and soap, as well as household items like paper towels, toilet paper and dish soap. She said, “If people don’t have money to buy things, even bringing in their hotel stashes of tiny shampoos and soaps helps. We can also use people’s plastic bags from the grocery store.”

However, this time of year isn’t only about the donations, it’s also about bodies to help at the pantry on days they are handing out food. Mills said, “The biggest need that I feel people in general don’t want to have a hard look at is that people need to be involved. We need volunteers desperately. It doesn’t have to be a whole lot of time. If they can even help for an hour a month, it would be so helpful.”

Even though people work and are busy, Mills suggested taking a late lunch to come donate some time. “People could choose to take a late lunch hour because we do sorting of produce from 12:45 p.m. to 1:20 p.m.,” she said. “We get produce as part of the Feeding America Program from Walmart. And we need helpers to sort it. Anybody could just drop in and lend a hand.”

She continued, “As big of a need to have product, it would help just as much to have people come in and donate time.”

While going in to help at the food pantry may seem daunting, Mills said that most people who come in to lend a hand are surprised at how much fun they have.

“I want to challenge some of the younger generation to see that there is a need. Most of our volunteers are retired, and the retired people can’t do everything. The younger people I know who are motivated to lend a hand have so many ways they can help us down here.”

For families struggling, there are three different options for them at the Cassville Food Pantry:

Feeding America Pantry
The first is the Feeding America Pantry. Mills said, “This is just supported by the community at large and supplemented by Feeding America through Walmart.”

This is the daily walk-in food pantry. It is open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. The pantry does not require income verification, but it does require recipients to prove that they live in Barry County.

Mills said, “They do fill out an application, and we need to verify their address. For all adults, I need a piece of mail that shows their current address for all adults age 19 and older. An adult does have to be present to receive the commodity.

“For a child, anything with the child’s name on it, like a MOHealthnet card, a shot record, a grade card from the school. Anything with their name on it.”

She continued, “Mostly they’re proving where they live. They do have to meet an income criteria, but if people

Two implicated in alleged car theft at gunpoint, drug distribution

Charlea Estes-Jones

Two people are accused of stealing a car at gunpoint on October 28. According to the affidavits of probable cause, Angela Michelle Goetz, 37, of Rogers, Ark., and Jerrod Wayne Johnson, 26, of Seligman, stole a vehicle at gunpoint and when officers searched the vehicle, they found a syringe of methamphetamine as well as paraphernalia.

Officers reported that the vehicle, a 2005 Honda Accord, was stolen on October 28 when Johnson pointed a gun at the driver and ordered her out of the vehicle. Once out, the victim reported that Goetz pushed her. The victim stated she did not report the vehicle stolen because she feared for her and her family’s safety. The victim then reported that Johnson and Goetz left in the vehicle.

The victim found her vehicle on Farm Road 2200 in Barry County on November 6. Officers later recovered the vehicle at the address where Johnson and Goetz reside.

Officers, with permission of the vehicle’s owner, searched the car and found a loaded syringe that tested positive for methamphetamine as well as paraphernalia including digital scales and plastic baggies.

Goetz is charged with robbery in the first degree and delivery of a controlled substance. She is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $50,000 cash-only bond. Johnson does not have any current charges related to this case. He is currently being held in the Barry County Jail on a $35,000 bond related to other charges from earlier in 2017.

Wrecked truck results in theft charges

Charlea Estes-Jones

A Springfield man has been charged with stealing a truck at a Shell Knob gas station after wrecking into a tree. Larry Antone Applegate, 27, of Springfield, is charged with tampering with a motor vehicle in the first degree and resisting arrest for a felony by fleeing and creating substantial risk of injury or death.

According to the affidavits of probable cause, the Missouri State Highway Patrol responded to a dispatch alert for a truck stolen from the Rapid Roberts in Shell Knob on November 1. A Ford F350 pickup was taken and was headed northbound on MO39. The Trooper met the truck while he was southbound and he turned and attempted to take the vehicle.

The trooper reported that the truck was going over 100 miles per hour and he followed him into Lawrence County. Eventually, the driver lost control and crashed the truck into a tree on Route T in Lawrence County.

It is reported that the driver, Applegate, fled on foot into a wooded area before the officer caught him.

Applegate admitted to taking the vehicle. He was currently on probation for tampering with a motor vehicle. He is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $25,000 bond.

Golden man wanted for child sodomy

Charlea Estes-Jones

A Golden man is the subject of a search after allegedly sexually abusing a child. The Barry County Sheriff's Department posted on their Facebook page on November 2 that they are seeking tips or information about the whereabouts of Octavio Richard Ochoa, 33, of Golden. Ochoa is reported to be from the Arrow Point/Golden area.

According to the affidavits of probable cause, Ochoa committed both statutory sodomy and child molestation on a girl under the age of 12. The charges state that Ochoa assaulted the girl in June of this year. Ochoa allegedly touched the girl under her bra and demanded she remove her pants so that he could touch her sexually. The victim told officers that she was afraid of Ochoa.

Ochoa is charged with sodomy in the first degree as an aggravated offender and child molestation in the second degree with a child under the age of 12. Ochoa has a warrant issued with a $50,000 cash-only bond. If you have information about Ochoa's whereabouts, contact the Barry County Sheriff's Department at (417) 847-6556, Barry County 911 dispatch at (417) 847-4911 or the Barry/Lawrence County Crime Stoppers at (888) 635-TIPS (8477). This coming Saturday is Veteran’s Day. A day set aside by our country to honor those who have been willing, when necessary, to stand in harm’s way. The saying; “Freedom in not free” is certainly true.

We should, we must, as grateful citizen’s pause to recognize and thank those who have and continue to pay the price for our civil, political and personal freedoms. Without these men and women America would not be “the home of the free, and land of the brave.”

What is a Veteran?

A veteran is a Grandmother, a Grandfather, a Mother, a Father, an Aunt, an Uncle, a Sister, a Brother, a Cousin, a Niece, a Nephew, a Daughter, a Son or just a friend.

What do they do in life?

They are Ditch Diggers, Nurses, Doctors, Lawyers, Judges, Police Officers, Politicians, Equipment Operators, Electricians, Short-Order-Cooks, Cashiers, Truck Drivers, to name a few but they do many jobs.

A Veteran is one of those people who serve in this great country military with Pride and Honor, with full forethought of what they are doing and never question if they made the right decision no matter who may oppose or disagree with their service to their country because they love their country and their God.

They serve to protect the Freedom of all in this great country, both yours and mine, and they serve knowing full well that they may die in that service.

Many are added to the roles of Veteran each day.

But today, a Veteran has died,

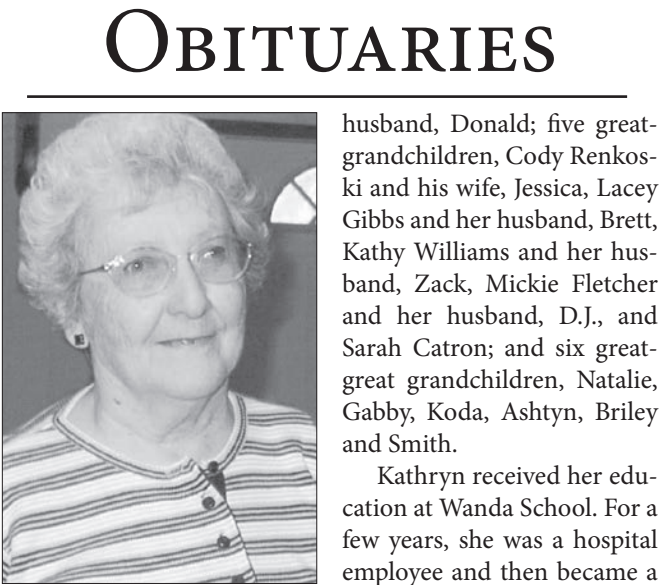

Remember them not only for who they were but for what they stood for and believed in.

Remembering those who have served and who are currently serving.

Patterson retiring from tax service after 40 years

Charlea Estes-Jones

One of Cassville's most prolific tax preparers, Allene Patterson, is retiring after 40 years in the business. Before women were business owners, she built her business and built it to last.

Patterson's business was Allene Patterson Tax Service. Now it is Burchfield Tax Services, and she talked about what made her business successful for so many years.

Patterson was born and raised in Barry County. She said, "I live on the same place I was born. So when I say native, I'm really native to here."

She graduated in 1949 from Washburn High School, and then moved with her husband for seven years before returning in 1956.

As the mother of five children, she dedicated her time to them solely until her youngest began kindergarten. She said, "Then I was the secretary to the home economist at the extension office from 1969 to 1976."

She resigned and decided to move on to a new career path.

Patterson said, "I enrolled in the tax course through H & R Block, and halfway through, they asked if I wanted to buy the business. I said no, and then they asked if I would work for them. So I did, but by the next year I bought it."

However, buying the business wasn't without its challenges. Patterson shared, "The only trouble I had was with the bank. I'd been with that bank my entire life, but back in 1977, women couldn't borrow money from the bank."

"Finally, they said they would go to the board and if my husband would come in and sign they would try. But I told them, 'This is my business, not my husband's. I had to borrow money against a life insurance policy. It wasn't even much money.'"

She said now it's much different. "I can see the difference in how women are treated in this area now."

But despite the hurdles of being a woman business owner when very few women owned businesses, Patterson proved to be successful and prolific. She owned the H & R Block franchise from 1978 to 1988, then opened her own business without the H & R Block name until 2013 when she sold her business to the current owner, Melissa Burchfield, which is also when the tax service changed its name. Burchfield was involved in the business since 1993.

Patterson said, "Melissa has hung in there and we've discussed through the years that I would give her the first opportunity to buy the business when I decided to retire."

She added, "She's allowed me to work for the business for the last couple years so that made it easy for the transition."

When asked why he decided it was time to retire, she laughed, "Because I'm 86.

Patterson

I thought I would at 65, but I couldn't give up the work."

She said her filling her time in retirement is the challenge she sees in the future. "That is a problem. I'm sure I'll visit some of my children more. Now I have great-grandchildren to spend time with. I have lots to do outside at home. I love to be outside. And I'll find some places to volunteer." She added that she has already volunteered for 40 years on the OACAC local and area board.

She added, "Most of my time has been filled with taxes, but I need to move on.

"Sooner or later, all good things come to and end. I loved this area to work in. There are good people here."

In the four decades Patterson has been doing taxes, she said the difference is huge. She said, "Back then, we did everything by hand with a pencil and paper. You couldn't do them by hand today."

Patterson stated, "In 1983, I took training to take a test to become an enrolled agent."

Being an enrolled agent meant that Patterson was able to represent clients in front of the IRS, including for audits. She also spoke with different accounting classes and community groups, including churches. She also taught tuition-based tax courses in the fall.

When asked why she thinks she was so successful over the years, she said, "I think it's my client service. I was always there. I was open full time, year-round and developed personal relationships with my clients. It was word of mouth."

"The first year with H & R Block, I did 300 returns.

When I sold it, I'd done 1,800 returns. I tried to make every client feel like they were the only one I was seeing that day."

She continued, "When you treat clients well, you develop a relationship with them. It's almost like family. It's a very involved relationship. I don't know that all tax offices are that way, but its always been that way for me."

"It's been a great business for me and I've had really great employees."

With Burchfield at the helm, Patterson said the company will have more focus on payroll and book-keeping, which she didn't focus on. Patterson stuck with tax returns.

"Melissa has always been a good employee and a good friend. I'll be around to bounce things off of if she needs to," said Patterson.

Now that Patterson is taking her time in retirement and learning to slow down, she said, "I would work night and day. But I loved it. I loved my clients. I've had a good life and it's been a blessing. I've made friends with my clients."

Abramovitz takes Grand Champion at State Fair

Dawson Abramovitz, member of the Purdy FFA Chapter, attended the Missouri State Fair in Sedalia, August 10 to 13. Accompanied by Purdy FFA Alumni member Joe Grissom and family, Dawson came to the fair with one goal in sight: to show to the best of his abilities and have fun doing it. While showing the Hereford cow/calf pair, Dawson did an outstanding job, achieving Grand Champion. Abramovitz noted of the event, "When the judge stepped up to shake my hand, I felt a wave of pride come over me as I realized I had done something that not many people get the opportunity to achieve. I'm very thankful for the Grissom family and their contribution in helping me get this far in showing." Abramovitz is pictured, right, with Morgan Grissom, left, and his Grand Champion.

Cassville to receive Operation Christmas Child Shoebox Gifts Nov. 13-20

Cassville residents will transform empty shoeboxes into gifts filled with toys, school supplies and hygiene items Nov. 13 through 20. The gifts will then be delivered around the world by the Samaritan's Purse project Operation Christmas Child to children who are living in the midst of poverty, war, disease or natural disaster.

First Baptist Church in Cassville will serve as one of approximately 4,500 U.S. locations collecting gift-filled shoeboxes for children living in poverty overseas through the Samaritan's Purse project Operation Christmas Child, the world's largest Christmas project of its kind.

During National Collection Week, November 13 through 20, area residents will donate shoeboxes filled with school supplies, hygiene items, notes of encouragement and fun toys, such as a doll or soccer ball for Operation Christmas Child to deliver to children in need around the world. This year, residents in Cassville and surrounding communities hope to contribute toward the 2017 global goal of reaching 12 million children.

The Cassville drop-off location will be receiving shoebox gifts during the following times:

First Baptist Church
602 West Street
Cassville, MO 65625
Operating Hours:

Monday, Nov. 13, 12 p.m. to 5 p.m.
Tuesday, Nov. 14, 12 p.m. to 5 p.m.
Wednesday, Nov. 15, 12 p.m. to 5 p.m.
Thursday, Nov. 16, 12 p.m. to 5 p.m.
Friday, Nov. 17, 12 p.m. to 5 p.m.
Saturday, Nov. 18, 12 p.m. to 5 p.m.
Sunday, Nov. 19, 12 p.m. to 5 p.m.
Monday, Nov. 20, 8 a.m. to 10 a.m.

For more information on how to participate in Operation Christmas Child, call (417) 732-1405 or visit samaritanaspurse.org/occ. By going online to give the suggested donation of $9 per shoebox gift, participants can follow their box to discover where in the world it will be delivered. They can also pack a shoebox gift online and even upload a photo and note of encouragement.

Operation Christmas Child is a project of Samaritan's Purse, an international Christian relief and evangelism organization headed by Franklin Graham. The mission of Operation Christmas Child is to demonstrate God's love in a tangible way to children in need around the world, and together with the local church worldwide, to share the Good News of Jesus Christ. Since 1993, Operation Christmas Child has collected and delivered more than 146 million gift-filled shoeboxes to children in more than 160 countries and territories. For many of these children, the gift-filled shoebox is the first gift they have ever received.

PANTRY from FRONT

are asking for food, we find it rare for people who come through asking not to need it. If people have a need, we help them.”

Commodities Program

The commodities program is a government subsidy program paid for by tax dollars. The commodities program day includes a class put on by OACAC with a general distribution of food after the program. Programs focus on things like dietary plans, budgeting, money management and more. Mills said, “It’s all directed to making your life work and function well, even on a budget. How to make our lives work in a healthy balanced way.”

The classes are on the fourth Tuesday of the month from 12:45 p.m. to 3 p.m. then food is distributed from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. In the event of holidays, the class day can change. Classes aren’t required to receive a subsidy.

Senior Citizens Commodities Program

The senior commodities program is also a government subsidy program. It is offered to senior citizens aged 60 and over who are low-income. Mills said, “That program involves an application process. It’s a little more of a participation-expectation thing. You apply and become a part of a program ongoing. The date varies. It’s the Friday that follows the third Monday. Contact the church for specific dates.”

Diaper Bank

One of the lesser known programs at the pantry is a diaper program. Mills said, “We are also representing Diaper Banks of the Ozarks. We do get diapers, as well. People can come in and ask. We don’t get a lot, but people can come in when they get food.” She said that usually they will get a package of ten diapers. She added, “People can donate baby wipes if they want to help with that program.”

For more information, to ask about programs or to volunteer, call the Cassville United Methodist Church Food Pantry at (417) 847-2328 Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Mills concluded, “If you want to help, just think. Put yourself in someone else’s shoes. You’re going to make dinner and open the cupboard and what do you see? What do you need? And start there.”

Cassville class of 1977 celebrates at 40th anniversary class reunion

A Tailgate party for the Wildcat vs. Aurora football game at the Cassville High School football field was the planned event for Friday night. Life jacket loaner program promotes water safety Colonel Sandra K. Karsten, superintendent of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, is pleased to inform the public of a special partnership between the Missouri Department of Natural Resources and Missouri State Highway Patrol. Beginning in July 2017, the Patrol's Water Patrol Division worked closely with the Johnson Shut-Ins State Park to implement the Life Jacket Loaner Program. This program promotes water safety by offering the use of a life jacket to those visiting Johnson Shut-Ins State Park. When the swimmers finished using the life jacket, they returned it to a hanging rack for the next visitor. The Life Jacket Loaner Program received positive feedback from visitors and Johnson Shut-Ins State Park employees. It is expected the Life Jacket Loaner Program will operate at Johnson Shut-Ins State Park next year for the entire season.

"We are pleased to work with the Missouri Department of Natural Resources to promote water safety," said Colonel Karsten. "Life jackets save lives and this program is a great way to reinforce the importance of wearing one."

Watercraft operators must consider the effect their actions have on others: Share the waterway and use common sense, good judgment, and courtesy to ensure the safety of all. Life jackets save lives. Wear It.

What is Plaid Friday?

Plaid Friday is an effort to encourage holiday shoppers to shop local on the day after Thanksgiving, a day that many know as "Black Friday." Conceptualized in Oakland, CA, Plaid Friday has spread beyond northern California to cities across the United States. While Black Friday is often associated with big box retailers, Plaid Friday focuses on small, locally owned businesses. But why plaid? According to OaklandGrown.org, an organization that celebrates and supports independent business leaders, artists and activists in the city of Oakland, plaid symbolizes the weaving together of a creative and diverse community of small businesses. Consumers interested in learning about Plaid Friday events and sales in their communities can contact local businesses or small business organizations in their areas to find out more and learn the various ways to support locally-based businesses this holiday season.

Cassville's Wilson medals at State

Lee Stubblefield
The Cassville girls made a lot of noise in their Class 3 race at the State cross country championships at Jefferson City on Saturday. Brylee Wilson, a freshman, placed 19th in 20:16.52, and Zoey Brookes, a sophomore, followed in 24th with a time of 20:20.98. Both earned all-state medals in a race dominated by freshmen. Seven of the top 25 runners were 9th graders.

In Class 3 boys, Cassville's Austin Wilson and Devon Brookes placed 49th and 51st respectively in 17:40.69 and 17:42.21. Brylee Wilson may be a freshman, but she handled this race like a pro. After disappointing finishes at Reeds Spring and districts, she was determined to improve at state. "At Reeds Spring I was just sick, and then at districts, nerves got to me," she said. "I've never really felt like that before, so I didn't exactly know what it meant. Coach Shore talked to me about it and I got it a little more under control." The daunting state course offered its own unique challenges for Cassville's top runner. "Comparing this course to all the others, this one was the hardest," Wilson stated. "It was just hill after hill after hill, they never seemed to end. Pretty much like Monett but bigger." Certain that his prodigy would be running at State this year, Shore took Wilson to the championships last year after her undefeated 8th-grade season to watch and get a little experience. "I'm glad he did that," said Brylee. "I already had an idea of what the course looked like so I was a little more comfortable running on it." In the race itself, Wilson and Brookes ran in tandem for nearly the entire race, with Brookes doing the heavy lifting over the first two miles. Wilson shot past in the final stages of the race, but the two were never more than five seconds apart over the entire 5K course.

"I didn't try to pace with the other runners, I stayed with my watch and listened to the crowd shouting places to the runners around me. The start was what worried me. There were so many girls trying to get out, and I got a little trapped but everybody spread out quickly," she said. Wilson is already thinking about next year. By nailing an all-state position as a freshman, she is over the first hurdle of being All-State all four years of her high school career. Next year, she hopes to move into the Top 10, and she knows what that will require. Wheaton's Sean Lowry placed 12th in 17:36.81 - the fastest time of all area runners - and earned an all-state medal in the Class 1 boys race. His Wheaton Bulldogs placed 11th in the 16-team field.

Smith brings home National Champion title

Rachael Freeman
Cash Smith, a Cassville first grader, might look tiny but this cowboy is full of grit and determination.

Smith has spent his year competing in the Missouri Junior Rodeo Circuit riding sheep, also known as mutton busting. While riding sheep requires toughness, Smith takes that to a whole new level for a kid who turned seven in September. Smith suffered a broken arm after an accident riding horses, but that didn't keep him from competing in the finals. Smith won the title of Reserved Champion in the Missouri Junior Rodeo Circuit, missing the saddle by just two points. In July, Smith rode in the Shawn Elliot Memorial Rough Stock Rodeo where he won first place and earned an invitation to the National Junior Bull Riding Finals in Amarillo, Tex., October 25 through October 28. The finals were a three-day event for those riders who were able to advance. Smith was one of those riders. He earned a combined score of 205.5 points which earned him the title of 2017 National Champion. Smith wrapped up the 2017 rodeo season with winnings of over $2,000 and three belt buckles. Smith plans to use the money he's earned to start his own cattle herd. Smith has been riding sheep for two and half years now and has also competed in Goat Undercorating where he took third place in his age division. Smith's passion for horses and the rodeo is a trait he comes by honestly. His parents own a horse ranch in Cassville and many remember seeing his mother, Leslie, riding her horse along Highway 248 when she was a young cowgirl herself. Smith has aged out of sheep riding and will move up to calf riding next season.

Cassville man accused of meth-fueled assault, car break in

Charlea Estes-Jones

A Cassville man is charged with allegedly assaulting and attempted to break into his girlfriend's car while high on methamphetamine. According to the affidavits of probable cause, David Joseph Corral, 28, of Cassville, physically assaulted her and then kicked and jumped on the windshield of a car, attempting to break in.

Officers reported that on October 31, the victim, the girlfriend of Corral, reported that he grabbed her arm, causing physical pain and would not allow her to leave the residence. The victim and a minor child under the age of 17 got away to a vehicle, but with Corral pursuing them, according to their statement. Corral allegedly followed them, jumped on the hood of the car and began kicking and elbowing the windshield.

Corral allegedly broke the windshield of the vehicle while intoxicated on methamphetamine.

Corral is charged with domestic assault in the third degree and endangering the welfare of a child in the first degree with no sexual contact. He is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $25,000 cash-only bond.

Hunters check 2,899 turkeys during Missouri’s fall firearms season

Preliminary data from the Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) shows that hunters checked 2,899 turkeys during Missouri’s fall firearms turkey season, Oct. 1-31. Top harvest counties were Greene with 100, Texas with 95, and Dent with 94. Last year’s fall firearms turkey harvest total was 3,698.

Barry County brought in only two turkeys: an adult gobbler and an adult hen.

MDC’s turkey biologist says this year’s low fall firearms turkey harvest total can be attributed to several factors, including a poor turkey hatch, a decline in hunter participation, and above-average acorn production.

“As was the case last year, this year’s turkey hatch was exceptionally poor, so there were far fewer young birds for hunters to pursue this fall,” said MDC Turkey Biologist Jason Isabelle. “Young turkeys are typically the most easily lured into hunters’ calls, so poor production made for some challenging hunting this fall.”

The poor hatch wasn’t the only thing that contributed to this year’s low fall firearms turkey harvest. Isabelle noted that participation in the fall firearms turkey season has been declining in Missouri, as it has in a number of states.

“This year’s fall firearms turkey permit sales total of 10,243 was the lowest on record since the season started in 1978,” Isabelle said. “During our peak year in 1987, nearly 53,000 permits were purchased.”

Another factor that impacted this year’s fall turkey harvest was the good acorn crop throughout much of the state, which typically results in fewer turkeys being taken. Isabelle explained that when acorns are abundant, turkeys don’t have to range far to locate food, and spend less time in open fields where they’re more visible to hunters.

For several years prior to 2016, production had been considerably better than the poor hatches that plagued the state’s turkey population in the late 2000s. However, 2017 marks the second year of poor turkey hatches in Missouri.

“Poor production the past couple years has certainly been a setback, but we’ve dealt with periods of poor production before,” said Isabelle. “Turkeys can make a fairly quick rebound with a couple years of good production. I’m hoping that the 2018 hatch will get us started back in the right direction.”

Fall archery turkey hunting continues through Nov. 10 and then resumes again from Nov. 22 through Jan. 15, 2018.

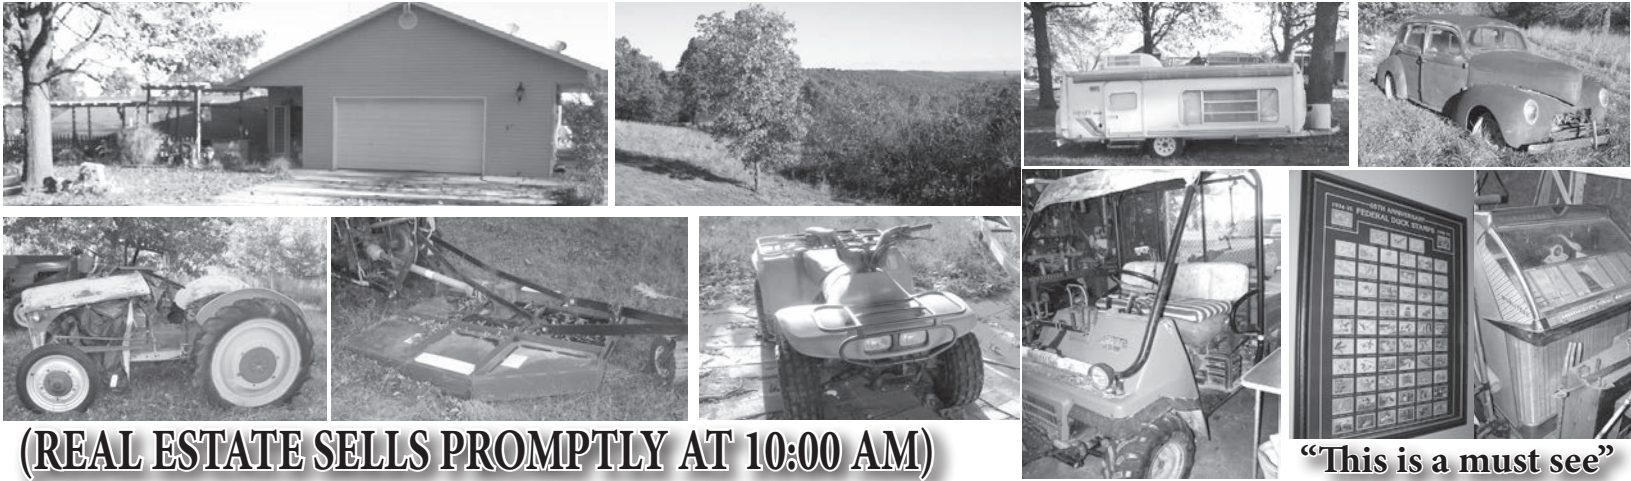

For fall firearms turkey harvest results by county and type of bird, go online to MDC’s website at <http://on.mo.gov/1jjz7Ew>.

Hospice looking for Christmas Store gifts

Dream Team volunteers are busy collecting new items for their Christmas Store. They are collecting new items for all ages, from infants to seniors. The items will be used for a mobile Christmas Store that will be taken to area nursing homes in December. Residents will have the opportunity to shop, at no charge, for the important people in their lives. The Dream Team's goal is to create memorable opportunities that help both the residents and those closest to them better cope with life limiting circumstances. "By providing opportunities for residents to once again experience the joy of holiday giving, and to watch their loved ones as they experience the joy of holiday receiving, well.... it just doesn't get more memorable than that," stated Brenda Smith, Dream Team and Hospice Compassus Volunteer Coordinator.

The Dream Team is looking for merchants willing to donate close-outs and seasonal items, as well as individuals willing to donate new unused items that are simply hanging-out in their basements and closets. They hope the community will embrace their project as a meaningful way to 'pay it forward'.

In addition to the gifts items, the Dream Team is seeking donations of gift bags, gift wrap, ribbon, bows, tape, and name tags. They are seeking partnerships with local scout troops, clubs, churches, and other organizations interested in collecting the gifts, assisting the resident shoppers, and giftwrapping.

The Community Hospices of America Foundation's Dream Team and Compassus Hospice volunteers established the Dream Team Christmas Store in 2012, as a means of promoting their mission to honor life and offer hope to individuals within their community facing a life-limiting illness.

The Community Hospices of America Foundation is a non-profit organization; all donations are tax-deductible. For additional information or to request a pickup, contact Brenda Smith at (417) 235-9097 or brenda.smith@ times was Pickle Ball.

Shell Knob Seniors urge "Let's Play Pickle Ball"

I haven't a clue how this interesting game got its odd name but what's in a name if it's fun? Imagine a ping pong table enlarged to fill the floor. The net is bigger too, of course. The players play exactly like ping pong, singles or doubles and they have a great time.

Pickle Ball is played at the Central Crossing Senior Center on Monday, Thursday and Friday at 1 p.m. Oh, and if you arrive around 11:30 you can enjoy a great lunch for a suggested donation of $3.50. (Under 60 is just $6.00.)

So if you want to see me attempt to keep my pickle ball on the "table" or if you want to give it a try, come to the Central Crossing Senior Center on YY-15, Shell Knob, the more the merrier.

Note: no pickles are harmed (or consumed) in the course of this game.

See you there.

Retirement. The great day has finally arrived and a whole wide world of possibilities opens up. What to do first?

I've lived in Shell Knob for over 35 years and have a knowledge of volunteer opportunities available, but I want to have some fun too.

To that end, I went to the Central Crossing Senior Center to see what grins and giggles are offered there. The first to catch my eye on their impressive list of past
