Angel Tree to provide gifts for needy children

Charlea Mills

The Angel Tree program this year will have a new sponsor thanks to the First Christian Church. The program which provides Christmas gifts to needy children all over Barry County, has been a project by the Barry County Sheriff's Department over the years. However, according to Sheriff Mick Epperly, it just became to be too big of an undertaking for the staff.

Epperly said, "We had so many gifts last year that it took a long time to even wrap the gifts, not counting anything else. We just don't have enough people to keep it running, so the First Christian Church is going to take it over."

Families have to meet certain income requirements to qualify for the program, and there is an application process to ensure that

Downtown building upgrade draws attention on Main Street

E.M. & Charlea Mills

Cassville's Main Street got a new face last week on the east side of the north end of the 900 block on Main Street when workers completed the front and north side of a forty foot front and side of the building owned by Robert (Bob) Bishop and Carolyn Bishop, his wife.

The Bishops purchased the building from Carolyn's mother's estate when she passed away. According to Carolyn, the work to the outside was just part of the total renovation to the building. Inside, the Bishops had the ceilings, lighting and bathrooms redone as well as fresh coats of paint and new countertops. On the exterior of the building, a brick facade was put on the front. They also put in new columns, windows and doors.

While the work ended up being much more than they originally anticipated, the result will greatly improve the downtown area. Carolyn said, "We just wanted to improve the appearance of the buildings downtown."

Once the work is completed, the whole block will also have new asphalt on the parking lot. The building, which is divided into two sections, will house a chiropractic office and a copying service in mid-January and early-January, respectively.

The building renovations on the 900 block of Main Street are nearing completion and the two new businesses will move into the spaces in January 2015.

The disastrous fire which destroyed the entire Cassville business district in April of 1893 destroyed the old LeCompte home which was owned by L.D. Oxford and the large Oxford barn which was located in the 900 block where the Bishop building is located.

Then in 1896 the Cassville-Exeter railroad was built which accounts for the odd shape of the Bishop building on the north side at the east end of the building.

On February 4, 1939, 75 years ago, the late Fred Meador, who for many years owned the Meador Hardware, sold the Bishop lots to John Ray, one of the owners of the Cassville Democrat. Ray died in 1854 and his widow sold the lots to Rusty Morgan on June 10, 1954, who later sold it back to Mrs. Ray and her daughter, Elizabeth Orton in 1967, when Mrs. Orton sold it to J.B. and Verna Mae Nations. Nations, Carolyn's mother, owned the building until the Bishops had the deed turned over November 1, 2012.

Tax revenue continues upward trend

Charlea Mills

As 2014 nears a close, both the county and the city of Cassville are continuing their upward trend of revenue collected from sales tax. For the year, Cassville is up 6.0 percent from their total last year at this time. Barry County's revenue is up 10.72 percent over last year's numbers. The rise in revenue may be indicative of an economic upturn.

For the month of October, Barry County's sales tax revenue was up 10.95 percent over last year's figures, generating an extra $16,287.05 for the county. In 2013, October's revenue was $148,891.57, and this year, that total was $165,188.90.

With a full twelve months of information for November 2013 through October 2014, the 1/8 cent general revenue tax approved by Barry County voters that began in October 2013 meant an additional $463,095.23 in funds.

For the month of October, Cassville's sales tax was up 3.6 percent. For all three taxes of $0.02 per dollar, the city received $129,477.99. That total is up $4,509.81 from 2013's $124,968.18.

Seligman Walmart moves closer to opening

Aumann

Charlea Mills

Big changes for the Seligman community near as progress continues on the new Walmart Neighborhood Market slated to open in just under a month. Shelves are being built inside and three truckloads of fixtures were unloaded last week.

Tim Williams, the Seligman Walmart store manager, said, "I have met many of the customers in the area and the vast majority say they really need a pharmacy and that they are looking forward to having a nice, clean grocery store with great prices and a gas station." The new pharmacist that will be joining the Seligman store has been at a Joplin Walmart for three months and is gearing up to start at the new store.

Pharmacist Andrew Aumann went to the University of Arkansas for both his undergrad in pre-pharmacy and his doctorate. Before joining Walmart, he worked for Walgreen's, but he looks forward to working closer to his home in Bella Vista, Ark. He said that the pharmacy will offer more than just prescriptions. He said, "We will offer immunizations, too. It won't just be the flu shots, but also shingles and a few others, as well."

Williams said, "I am looking forward to working with Andrew and his pharmacy associates. I know many of the people who live in the area need a quality pharmacy closer to home to take care of their prescriptions. Having a pharmacy in Seligman will provide a convenient shopping experience."

Aumann, his wife and their two children have lived in the area for 13 years. In his free time, Aumann likes to spend time with his family and go fishing. He said, "I want to check out Roaring River. I haven't been there yet, but I'm excited to go."

The grand opening for the store will be in early December. Williams stated, "We are on track to open as scheduled December 10 and the pharmacy and store will be ready to go."

ANGEL from FRONT

only families in need receive gifts for the children in the home. Children enrolled in HeadStart are also included in Angel Tree. Gifts are only for children, but it is a weight off of many parents' shoulders to know that their children will have a good Christmas even though finances are tight and they aren't able to buy gifts for them.

Pastor Tom Thomas, of First Christian, said, "They asked us if we would, and we just wanted to help out. We just wanted to help the children of Barry County and Sheriff's Department as much as we can."

Both businesses and individuals from the community can either donate funds for the program or choose an angel off of the tree at the church to choose a child to buy gifts for and deliver them to the church by December 12. Volunteers at the church will then wrap the gifts for the families to pick up for their children before Christmas.

The First Christian Church will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. during the week for applications. Applications are due by November 30, and gifts will be distributed to the families on December 22. For more information about signing up or providing gifts for a family in need, call the church at (417) 847-2460.

One injured when car goes off road

Steve Chapman

A Washburn man went to the hospital after his car went off the road on Sunday, November 16.

According to the crash report by the Missouri Highway Patrol, Robert B. Milne was driving a 2002 Dodge Dakota eastbound on Highway 112 at 1:30 p.m. when his vehicle went off the right side of the road about four miles east of Seligman and struck two trees. Milne, 44, was taken to Mercy Hospital in Rogers, Ark. with serious injuries. He was not wearing a seatbelt at the time of the crash.

The truck was totaled.

One man airlifted after crash on Highway 37

Steve Chapman

A wreck involving two vehicles two miles north of Purdy on Highway 37 resulted in one man being airlifted to Springfield and damage to both vehicles on Monday, November 17. According to the crash report filed by the Missouri Highway Patrol, Robert W. Wiley, of Monett, was headed north at 6:55 p.m. when the 2012 Ford E350 he was driving crossed the center line and struck a southbound 2007 Freightliner being driven by John D. Goff, of Springfield, on the side.

Wiley, 36, suffered serious injuries and was transported to Mercy Springfield by Life Flight. No injuries were reported for Goff, 36. Both men were wearing seat belts at the time of the collision.

The Freightliner received moderate damage and was towed from the scene by McDowell's Towing, while the E350 was totaled and was taken from the scene by Thomas Towing.

Butterfield Firefighter Auxiliary holds paddle party

The Butterfield Firefighters Auxiliary raised $534 at a paddle party held at the community building at the Crowder Cassville campus on Friday, November 14. The money will be used to purchase needed equipment for the firefighters. According to Sherry Sears, the auxiliary treasurer, the party was hosted by firefighter Jennifer Privett. About 60 people attended the event, during which some 25 items were auctioned off, including a month of unlimited tanning, fire department tools, jewelry, and various home decor items. During the auction, Privett and six other firefighters collected the quarters used to bid on items. A 50/50 drawing was also held. The auxiliary, which is made up of the firefighters' wives, sisters and daughters, also donated refreshments, including taco salads, desserts and drinks. Nothing was charged for food, but donations were accepted. Free gifts were also awarded during the night through random drawings.

Tony was proud of his family, his faith in God and of being a veteran of Vietnam. For seventeen years he was employed as a welder at Fasco. A member of Ridgley Southern Baptist Church, he loved to sing his solos. He will be lovingly remembered for his love for his wife, sons and grandchildren, for his sense of humor and for Hee-Haw.

Funeral services will be held at 11:00 a.m. Thursday, November 20, 2014, in Ridgley Southern Baptist Church, under direction of McQueen Funeral Home, Wheaton, Missouri. Pastor Tony Ball will conduct the services. Burial with military honors will be in Creason Cemetery, Ridgley.

The family will receive friends from 6:00 until 8:00 p.m. today, Wednesday, November 19, in McQueen Funeral Home, Wheaton.

Purdy names October Students of the Month

Purdy Principals Janet Boys (K-6) and Bob Vice (7-12) are pleased to announce October Students of the Month. Each month the middle school core class teachers nominate one student from each grade level, fifth through eighth.

The fifth grade Student of the Month for October is Heidi Sehrbrock. Fifth grade teacher Michele Taylor noted, "Heidi was chosen as October student of the month for several reasons. She is a wonderful student, and we enjoy having her in our class. She is enthusiastic about school and always completes her work with her best effort. She uses her time wisely. Heidi is always helpful to other students, as well as teachers. She gets along well with everyone and is always respectful." Fifth grade teacher Cheryl Ulmer added, "Heidi is one of those people who just lights up the room when she comes in. I think she has about a million friends. She is so fun to have in class, yet she recognizes when it is time to calm down and get to work. She makes earning A's look easy."

Eduardo Rodriguez received the award in sixth grade. World Languages Instructor Gerry Wass observed, "Eduardo works really hard to stay focused, helping to raise his whole class to that level. He is very passionate about learning foreign languages, having learned a lot of French so far this year." Librarian Dianna Laswell added, "Eduardo shows real leadership ability. His personality is fun, and he steps out with ideas and plans."

Middle School Teacher Heather Romine explained why the teachers selected seventh grader Kahleb Dotson as October's Student of the Month. "Kahleb is very hard-working. He always asks questions because he cares so much about being successful. I love his drive and determination." Mathematics teacher Jennifer Schallert Cornelius agreed, "Kahleb is a very hard-working student. He is also very polite and eager to learn."

Mason Schallert received the award for eighth grade. Communication Arts teacher Sarah Garbee noted, "Mason is a great kid to have in class. He is always cooperative and works hard. Not only is he polite to his teachers, but he is friendly and helpful to his classmates. He is a great example of what a Purdy student can be."

October's Students of the Month received a Certificate of Accomplishment and an invitation to a pizza lunch with Mrs. Boys and Mr. Vice. The Purdy R-2 School District would like to congratulate these students for their outstanding accomplishments at Purdy Middle School.

Cassville Cruisers November Eddie Award

The Cassville Cruisers Car Club members selected Ken and Nadine Robbins 2003 SSR for the Eddie Award at their November cruise-in. It was the best of the bunch from 1996-2014.

Being diagnosed with an advanced stage cancer, there is an immediate sense of helplessness and fear but when friends, family and caring people in the surrounding communities come together to help, support and show their love, it makes the battle easier to endure. I want to give a special "Thank You" to Clifton "Holla" Wells for all of the hard work in designing, planning and coordinating the Wheaton Haunted Feed Mill. The time and dedication that Clifton put into this benefit is unbelievable and I can never show my appreciation enough to my life-long friend. Also, those who helped and worked in the Haunted Feed Mill, I want to say a heart felt thank you to you all as well. There are too many to mention and I certainly do not want to leave anyone out as each of you will forever hold a special place in my heart.

Thank you and God Bless each of you,
Brittni Lacey

THANK YOU
To all who helped make the BENEFIT for my nephew, JOHN SMITH a great success. Without your help we could not have done it. So again thank you to:

- First Baptist Church, Exeter & Bro. Jerry Yarnall for allowing us to use your Church building.
- Spring City Quartet and the Victorymen for providing the Gospel Concert.
- Prairie Hill Baptist Church for the ladies who provided the pies and all of you who came and donated items for the silent auction and the financial gift. (You are a wonderful Church family - we love you)
- Mt. Zion, Ed and Ilene Davis, and all the others of your Church family who gave.
- FBC of Seligman for your generous donations.
- Calvary Baptist Church and your donations for the Silent Auction.
- FBC of Reavisville and your donations for the Silent Auction.
- Bro. & Mrs. Billy Banks for all of the donations for the silent auction.
- Viola Baptist Church, Bro. & Mrs. Tom Taylor for your help & donations.

Also a BIG THANK YOU to all who came out on a cold night and participated in the evening by: giving donations for the meal, and purchasing the objects in the SILENT AUCTION.

If I have left anyone or group out, forgive me, but know that we thank you so much for coming and showing your love for our loved one,
John Smith, a nephew, a brother, an uncle.
God bless you all.

Get your healthy on at The Herb Depot Organic Market

Steve Chapman

At The Herb Depot Organic Market in Monett, you can purchase a whole line of organic groceries, including fruits and vegetables that have been grown without pesticides or chemically-based fertilizers, hormone-free meats, gluten-free baking items, a wide variety of dairy-free cheeses and frozen treats, and exotic ethnic foods. For those feeling under the weather or wanting to pursue a healthier lifestyle, the store also carries a large variety of herbal and homeopathic remedies, numerous herbal supplements, and bath and body products made from all-natural ingredients. There is also a complete line of bio-degradable cleaning products for the environmentally conscious, a smoothie bar if you want a snack, and even organic items for your pets.

The Herb Depot Organic Market was founded in 1996 by owner Soni Copeland, of Pierce City. At first, she only carried herbal teas and supplements, but as customer demand grew, so did her inventory. She switched locations three times, moving from her original location in Pierce City to a Monett strip mall in 1998, before going to her present location on Bridle Lane in 2006 so she could add a grocery market to her business.

Copeland's interest in herbology and alternative medicines began when her two children developed health issues that she said conventional medicine couldn't treat. "I took them to a herbalist and saw immediate results," she said. "That got the whole thing started." She went back to school to study alternative medicines, and earned her doctorate in naturopathic medicines from the Trinity School of Natural Health in Winona, Indiana, in 1997.

Most small businesses fail in under five years. So how has The Herb Depot Organic Market managed to last so long? Copeland credits her business's longevity to the education she and her employees possess. She states that unlike other businesses where the employees are trained in salesmanship, she and her four employees are trained in nutrition and herbology. As a result, they can provide genuine answers to customers' questions instead of just parroting product talking lines, allowing her and the staff to provide a superior level of customer service.

Even though organic foods cost more, Copeland says the benefits are worth it. Copeland stated the chemicals found in conventional foods will eventually break down the human body at the cellular level and cause people to suffer from illnesses brought about by changes to DNA. "The body was not designed to run on chemicals," she said.

The Herb Depot Organic Market is located at 600 Bridle Lane in Monett, about half a mile south of Highway 60. Store hours are from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday. The store is closed on Sunday.

Shopping can also be done online at www.herbdepotmarket.com where over 50,000 items are available. Purchases made through the website are delivered straight to your door. Call (417) 235-5500 for more information.

TrueCare announces closing Dec. 1

It is with heartfelt regret that TrueCare Assisted Living must announce that we will no longer be an assisted living provider in Missouri, and will be permanently closing operations in our Shell Knob facility on December 1, 2014.

After two years as an operating facility, and the inability to garner the needed interest to support this endeavor, we are no longer able to continue. With little prospect for additional residents on the horizon we are regrettably forced to take this action.

It has been a true honor to care for those that have lived at TrueCare Assisted Living. We also thank the individuals, businesses, and those in our surrounding communities that have supported us. We especially appreciate our hard working staff and the love and compassion that they gave to our residents and their families.

TrueCare will remain diligent to the end and help the current residents locate another facility or make other housing arrangements. Please know that we deeply regret taking such actions and have appreciated the opportunity to associate with the community and our partners.

Barry County’s years past

40 years ago

Robin Linebrink was crowned 1974-75 Miss Cassville. Selma McDougale, of the Lucky 4-H Club, and Duane Kaiser, of the Midway Community Builders Club, were named Outstanding 4-H Girl and Boy for 1974. The cost of the Nov. 5 General election in Barry County was determined to average under $1.11 per voter. The Southwest High School 1974 Miss Tip Off candidates were chosen as: Debbie Burns, Brenda Rose and Jane Dalton.

30 years ago

November 21 was designated as JoAnne Ellis Day at Cassville Schools in honor of Ellis’s accomplishments as a teacher. Brian Cornman, of Jenkins, 15, won a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. Cassville High School senior Marc Edmondson was named as the school’s top Century III Leader. Southwest students Rhonda Kinner and Wendy Hall were named to the District Honor Band.

20 years ago

The Cassville High School Speech-Debate Team won the first place sweepstakes trophy at the Invitational Tournament at Lamar. Their names were: Seth Allen, Derek Lewright, Jeff Gibson, Brad Epperly, Sunnie Scroggs, Geni Beth Miller and Candace Martin. Kent Welch, a junior at Exeter High School, was selected to sing in the All-State Choir. Jeremy Day, of Cassville, was named as a member of Marching Mizzou, the University of Missouri’s marching band. Patricia Manley, of the Shell Knob Board of Education, was elected to the Missouri School Board’s Association Board of Directors.

10 years ago

Cassville artist Raine Clotfelter had his life story told on the KOLR television show “Oliver’s Travels.” Megan Day, of Washburn, and a junior at Southwest R-V, was accepted into the Who’s Who Among American High School Students, an honor only given to the top five percent of high school students in the nation. Patrick Dougherty of Eagle Rock, 8, won Second place in the “O’Reilly’s Extreme Sprints Racing Tour of 2004.” Seven Cassville High School students were named to the All-District Band. They were: Noah Derezotes, Matt Nape, Josh Negron, Crystal Boles, Casey Andrews, Melissa McQueen and Joe Runkles.

Cassville clubs trick or treat so others can eat

Cassville High School clubs including Future Business Leaders of America, Family Career and Community Leaders of America, Future Teachers of America, and FFA participated in Trick-Or-Treat So Others Can Eat on October 28. The members from the four clubs dressed up in costume and went door to door in the Cassville area trick-or-treating for non-perishable food items. The officers from FBLA, FCCLA, FTA and FFA delivered all of the food items to the local food pantry at the United Methodist Church.

Stay warm and save money this cold season

Steve Chapman

Brr. Cold weather hit the Ozarks with a vengeance this year. Temperatures plunged overnight from a high of 73 degrees on November 10 to a low of 27 degrees on November 11. Fortunately, we've been spared the deep snow that has hit the northern U.S., but the frigid temperatures still pose a challenge to those trying to stay warm while staying within a budget.

For those looking to save money while heating their homes this winter, the Ozarks Area Community Action Corporation (OACAC) has released a list of energy saving tips through their weatherization program.

One of the tips OACAC suggests is sealing around windows and doors with weather stripping and caulk. Sealing around plumbing pipes, ducting and light fixtures that go through the walls, ceilings or floors is also recommended.

Another tip for saving money is lowering the thermostat to 68 degrees or lower during the winter. For every degree lower, OACAC says you can save three to five percent on your heating bill. Also, replace your furnace filter regularly (every month to every 90 days, depending on the filter you're using) and have the furnace serviced before the heating season to make sure it is both safe and efficient.

You can also use solar power for warmth. Open the blinds on your windows on the south side of your home to let warmth from the sun in. As sunset approaches, close the blinds to prevent heat from escaping.

You can also save money by preparing your water heater for winter weather. OACAC recommends setting your water heater's temperature to 120 degrees and insulating it, especially if it is in an unheated area, such as your garage.

Ventilation fans should also be used carefully. According to OACAC, ventilation fans left unattended can remove a houseful of heated air in an hour. If you are using ventilation fans to remove moisture or contaminants from the air, watch them carefully and turn the fans off when they have done their job.

Other tips from OACAC include keeping your fireplace damper closed tightly when not in use and repairing any holes in the walls, floor or ceiling of your home and making them airtight. A complete list of energy-saving tips and other information about weatherization can be found on-line at <http://oac.ac/oacac/content/weatherization>. Hard copies of the list can also be picked up at the OACAC office at 402 E. Highway 248 in Cassville.

The deep-freeze that has plagued the Ozarks should begin to let up on Thursday, when the National Weather Service predicts a high in the low 50s. However, when the cold weather comes back, take steps now to prepare.

Locals run New York City Marathon

Charlea Mills

For four Washburn area residents, a lot of hard work, training, perseverance and patience paid off when they travelled to New York two weeks ago to run the New York City Marathon. The group, comprised of Shelly Wallace, Kayle Leonhardt, Cord Leonhardt and Leta Shockley, headed out on Wednesday before the race on Sunday, November 2. All four them returned victors, having finished one of the most exciting marathons a runner can experience.

Shockley said, "The race was amazing. It was my third marathon and by far the best. There were people cheering the whole way along the way." Shockley finished the race in 4 hours 49 minutes, not her best time, but she said, "I just wanted to enjoy it."

Kayle detailed the whole experience, noting that, outside of the race, they also went to the Empire State Building, the Statue of Liberty, and other iconic sites. She said, "I could go on and on about New York City, but for the marathon, it was running across the bridge looking over the white capping water and seeing the beautiful skyline. It was just beautiful." Kayle finished the marathon in 5:16:39.

Wallace commented, "This is the one race that I can cross off my bucket list, but I would definitely run again if given the opportunity." Wallace's time was 5:16:39.

Each of the runners trained for different lengths of time, ranging from three to five months, and all but one plan to run another marathon in the future. Shockley said, "This is my last year for a marathon, but I'll do a triathlon or an Iron Man again in the future."

According to Cord, the most impressive part of the trip was seeing his wife, Kayle's, dedication. He said, "I am very proud of my wife, Kayle. She had major ankle surgery last year where they actually cut the tendon in her ankle in order to tighten the ankle up due to multiple ankle sprains from the past. She set her goal of running in the NYC marathon even before her surgery, and she was able to accomplish that goal, even running it nine minutes faster than any of her other marathons. There was a lot of pain during training for her, but with the determination that she had, when it came race day, she was ready." Cord himself finished the 26.2 miles in 4:37:40.

Even through the intense winds and chilly temperatures, the four and their friend from Bentonville, Ark., Pauline Mohler, finished one of the most exciting marathons one can run in.

Cassville students help break cup stacking world record

It was cup crazy on Thursday, November 13, as thousands of participants took part in what Guinness World Records terms the "World's Largest Sport Stacking Event." During the course of the Guinness World Records Day, sport stackers from all reaches of the world up stacked and down stacked various pyramids in prescribed patterns at lightning speed for at least 30 minutes, all combined with a variety of fitness activities. Sights were set on 600,000 stackers participating as sport stacking with Speed Stacks continues to gain popularity around the world.

The Cassville Cat Stackers had over 40 students participate in the event this year. Not only did they stack but coaches Treslyn Pollreisz and Maria San Paolo challenged the students to bring canned food items to benefit the local food pantry for the upcoming holidays. "We wanted to tie in some type of community service with our event to show the students that fun activities can also be opportunities to give back to a community that gives so much to our schools," said Coach Pollreisz.

Sport stacking has been termed a "track meet for your hands at warp speed." It is an exciting sport where students up stack and down stack 12 specially designed cups called Speed Stacks in predetermined sequences as fast as they can. Stackers race against the clock, compete in relays and often combine sport stacking with fitness challenges as part of physical education classes (check out thewssa.com or speedstacks.com).

Last year, 555,932 stackers participated to break the previous year's STACK UP! record of 483,658. Once again, tens of thousands of stackers contributed their sport stacking skills from across the United States and around the world in countries such as Hungary, Germany, Israel, South Korea, New Zealand, Columbia, and Taiwan.

According to Bob Fox, WSSA Founder and CEO, the Guinness event is a wonderful way to bring together sport stackers across the globe. He said, "Sport stacking is an activity enjoyed by all ages and cultures. It promotes hand-eye coordination, fitness, teamwork, speed and lots of fun."

Sport stacking with Speed Stacks is in more than 37,000 schools and youth organizations worldwide.

At the time of press, 556,401 people participated, breaking last year's world record. With hundreds of schools still unreported, the goal of 600,000 is within reach.

Members of the Wheaton FFA Chapter in Missouri were one of 38 teams participating in the National FFA Poultry Evaluation Career Development Event (CDE). The event was held in conjunction with the 87th National FFA Convention and Expo in Louisville, Ken. The team, led by advisor Eric Roller, was awarded a Gold emblem. Members also competed for individual awards with 144 other participants. Haley Beck, Kayla Mason, Lia-Boa Yang, and Meng Yang all received Gold emblems.

The top ten individuals and the national winning team members received cash awards to recognize their success in the event. The cash awards and the poultry evaluation event are sponsored by Newly Weds Foods, Inc., Tyson Foods, Inc. and the U.S. Poultry and Egg Association as a special project of the National FFA Foundation.

Members of the Wheaton FFA Chapter also were one of 39 teams participating in the National FFA Milk Quality and Products Career Development Event (CDE). The event was held in conjunction with the 87th National FFA Convention and Expo in Louisville. The team, led by advisor David Bolton, was awarded a Gold emblem. Members also competed for individual awards with 151 other participants. Vanessa Cook, Kimberly Da and Skyler Scates all received Gold emblems, and Emily Killion received a Silver emblem.

The top ten individuals and the national winning team members received cash awards to recognize their success in the event. The milk quality and products CDE is sponsored by Culver's and Dairy Farmers of America. The National FFA Milk Quality and Products CDE is a competitive event that allows students to prove their knowledge about the recognition, selection and management necessary for quality milk and dairy products. Participants must complete a written exam on milk production and marketing, evaluate milk samples for flavor and quality, identify cheeses and characteristics and complete milk acceptability tests in the team activity.

Regional hay school

Dec. 9, 11 in Cassville

Southwest Missouri hay producers will have an opportunity to attend a regional school December 9 and 11 in Cassville to learn how to improve their hay making skills. This program is offered by the Barry County extension center in cooperation with the Cassville High School agriculture department.

This two-night non-credit course is specifically designed for livestock producers who already own hay equipment or have hay custom harvested on their land. All aspects of hay and round bale silage production will be covered.

“There is a lot at stake when making hay and many things to consider to make it worth the effort and to be profitable,” said Tim Schnakenberg, an agronomy specialist with University of Missouri Extension. “Attending a hay school is an important management tool to insure that you are getting the most out of your land, time and hay equipment.”

The program will focus on topics like economics of hay production, forage options, hay quality issues and testing, fertility management, round bale silage management, hay storage, feeding to keep losses low and nutritional needs of cattle.

This regional hay school will be held from 5:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. on Tuesday, December 9 and continue at the same times on Thursday, December 11 at the Cassville High School Vo-Ag Department at Cassville.

There is a fee to attend the program which includes two meals. Preregistration is required by December 5 and space is limited. Contact the Barry County Extension Center at (417) 847-3161 to preregister and to receive a brochure with more information.

Hunters check 91,460 deer firearms opening weekend

The Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) reports that hunters checked 91,460 deer during the opening weekend of the 2014 November Portion of Firearms Deer Season this past weekend. Top harvest counties for the opening weekend were Franklin with 1,839 deer checked, Howell with 1,793, and Callaway with 1,791. Barry County hunters checked 738 deer.

Last year's firearms opening weekend deer harvest was 61,446. Other recent prior-year harvest totals for firearms opening weekend were: 2012: 69,614; 2011: 89,728, 2010:

97,856, and 2009: 86,202.

For 2014 harvest totals by hunting portion and county, visit mdc.mo.gov/node/29442.

MDC also reports that there were three deer-hunting incidents over the weekend with two being fatal. One fatality was in Ste. Genevieve County where a heater in a hunting blind exploded, killing the hunter. The second involved a fall from a tree stand in Crawford County. A third non-fatal incident involved a hunter in Phelps County shooting himself in the leg while loading his rifle.

Extension Office to offer Master Gardener course

Reagan Bluel, regional dairy specialist with the Barry County extension Office, announced that the Barry County Extension is offering a winter course in Master Gardening for the first time. The Master Gardening curriculum includes information on soils, plant growth, annuals and perennials, insect control, landscaping, turf management, home fruit production, plant propagation, plant disease and vegetable production. Speakers have been scheduled from around the region to present this material locally at the Cassville Library. Ten classes are scheduled to meet from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. In addition to learning more about the above listed content, students will also participate in 30 community volunteer hours.

An orientation session has been scheduled for November 25 at 10 a.m. at the Cassville Library. This orientation will serve as a helpful resource to provide you with a general overview of the Master Gardening program. The ten session program will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays beginning December 2 through January 20, excluding last week of December and first week of January.

A minimum participation is required for this program to run, so please contact your local Extension Office to register if you are unable to attend orientation.

Bluel stated, "I'm confident we'll have a great time learning and participating in engaging discussion about content that you'll all love. I hope you'll be able to join us on the 25th."

Exeter Trailblazers receive end of year 4-H awards

*The Exeter Trailblazers 4-H Club just ended their 4-H year with a bang, due to great officers, youth leaders, members, and their parents. The club had new life blown into it, with a new club leader, Salina Bridges, and a new Barry County Youth Assistant, Anna Klem, which has allowed for explosive growth. She has also started two new clubs in the county. The Barry County 4-H Awards Banquet is where all the club members receive their awards for participation in Achievement Day and for filling out paperwork. ## invisalign®

LEARN HOW TO SMILE AGAIN.

Invisalign is clearly your best choice for a better smile.

Your Invisalign treatment will consist of a series of aligners that you switch out about every two weeks. Each aligner is individually manufactured with exact calculations to gradually shift your teeth into place. And since your Invisalign system is custom-made for your teeth and your teeth only, with a plan devised by you and your dentist, you know you'll end up with a smile that truly fits.

Invisalign has been proven effective in dental practices worldwide

- Invisible
- Removable
- No metal or brackets to irritate the mouth
- Able to brush and floss normally during treatment

SOUTHWEST SCHOOL BOARD MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

As part of continued efforts in keeping our patrons informed, the Southwest R-V School Administration will provide monthly information concerning Board Meetings.

A recap of the November 13 regular meeting is as follows:

The Board convened at 7 p.m.

The Board approved the consent items, including accepting the resignation of middle school science teacher Jerry Gusta and approving the hiring of Rachel Stephenson to fill the new preschool teacher position. Denise Johnson and Byron Stephens were added to the district substitute teachers' list, and Destiny Black and Jessica Reeves were tentatively added to the substitute cooks' list, pending both satisfying all background check requirements. Also approved was the reassignment of Ronnie Stanley to a permanent bus route driver position and Steve Wallace as substitute driver. And finally, sub coordinator Kati Rose will be leaving this assignment, but remain with the district as a part-time grant researcher/writer.

There were no old business items addressed at this meeting.

Under new business, the Board approved the district Policy/Procedure update BBB/BBB AP1: School Board Elections.

Various reports were reviewed by the Board, including those pertaining to the district's library media centers and technology, as submitted by librarian Billie Sapp and technology director Dan Shlelton. In addition, a facilities/grounds update was provided by Superintendent Bob Walker, which included information on the progress being made at the site for the new preschool program. Classes will begin on December 15th, but depending on the arrival and set up of the program's modular building, students may initially meet in the K-2 building. Also reviewed were the regular monthly reports provided by the other district administrators and the Maintenance Director.

The Board entered executive session at 7:25 p.m. to discuss possible legal issues and returned to open session at 7:54 p.m. to adjourn.

The next regular meeting will be on December 11 in the High School Library, at 7 p.m.

Cassville Library events

- The Cassville Library will show "If I Stay," rated PG-13, on Thursday, November 20, at 6 p.m. Bring your own snacks.
- There will not be a movie on Friday, November 21.
- Bingo will be held at the library on Tuesday, November 25, starting at 6 p.m. There will be snacks, prizes and fun.
- All branches of the Barry-Lawrence Regional Library will be closed on Thursday, November 27, for Thanksgiving holiday.

Purdy Middle School names 100 percent club

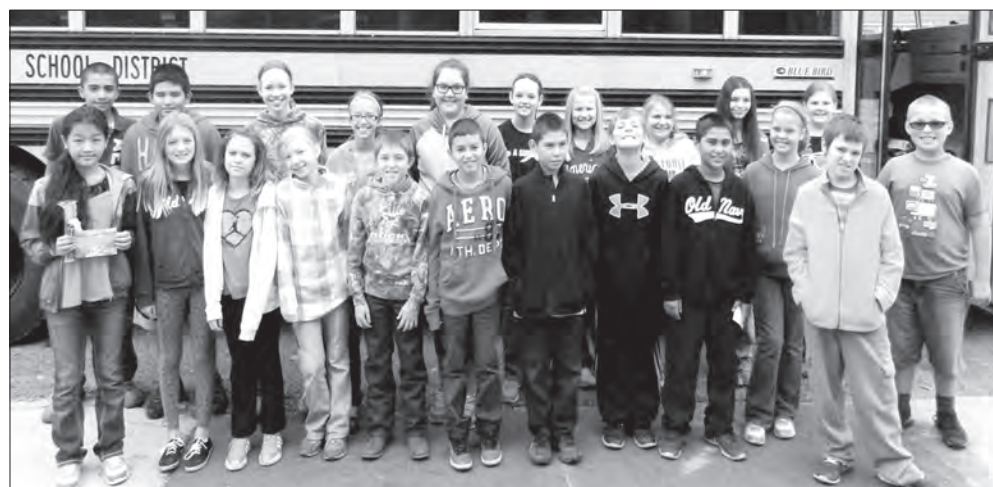

Purdy Middle School's 100 percent Club enjoyed a fun-filled trip to the Verona Corn Maze to celebrate their first quarter achievement. Only students who complete 100 percent of assignments in core classes, earn quarterly grades no lower than a C- and avoid detention, in-school suspension and out-of-school suspension for the entire quarter are eligible for membership in the 100 percent Club. The Purdy R-2 School District wishes to commend the 62 sixth through eighth grade students who achieved membership for first quarter.

The Wheaton Elementary School will be presenting two musicals on Thursday, December 4, starting at 7 p.m. in the high school gymnasium. Grades third through sixth will be performing the musical "The Incredible Reindeer." The musical is based on super heroes saving Christmas.

The kindergarten through second grades will be performing a western musical. This musical takes place in the town of Snowy Gulch. A mean, old polecat by the name of Bubble Gum Bart is trying to stop Christmas. The hero, the Candy Cane Kid, comes to save the day.

The musicals are directed by Mrs. Billie Jo Hardy, vocal music director, new to Wheaton Schools this year. Mrs.

Hardy stated, "The Wheaton elementary students have worked very hard and are anxious to perform for everyone. The musicals are going to be fun to watch. The kids have done an excellent job."

The program will be at the Wheaton Elementary on Thursday, December 4, at 7 p.m.

Cover Curiosity With Safety.

Your family deserves your best attention to safety, especially when it comes to electrical hazards. Curious children may be too young to understand the dangers of playing with electrical outlets or power cords.

Installing simple plastic plug covers is one of the best ways to keep little fingers from coming into contact with electricity. The covers are sold in any number of stores, and may also be available from your local electric cooperative.
