Area Christmas parades kick off this weekend

Charlea Mills

Saturday will mark the start of a beloved holiday tradition: Christmas parades. Cassville and Exeter both kick off the weekend with their parades Saturday, December 6, with Exeter's beginning at 1:30 p.m. and Cassville's starting at 6 p.m. Seligman and Wheaton will follow up next weekend on Saturday, December 13, with their parades beginning at 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. respectively.

Even though Cassville's parade is just around the corner, the Cassville Area Chamber of Commerce opted to allow more parade entries until this Friday. Entry into the parade is free, and forms are available at the Cassville Chamber of Commerce office.

Each year, the parade begins at the Cassville High School and heads down Main Street where waiting spectators enjoy the floats and music. Entries are judged in religious, commercial, non-religious, marching band and horse drawn divisions. A traveling trophy is presented to the religious and commercial divisions for first place winners. First place trophies will also be awarded to the non-religious, marching band and horse-drawn winners.

Judging for the contest is based on lights, decorations and originality.

Chamber Director Mindi Artherton stated, "The Christmas Parade is such a fun tradition in Cassville. We are one of the only communities in this area that continues to have a night-time parade. It is a great free, family fun activity that our community members can enjoy and help them get in the Christmas spirit. The parade starts at 6 p.m., however, we have several businesses that have fun activities going on throughout the day. I hope others will see Saturday as a day to stay in town and enjoy the holidays right here in Cassville."

She added, "Those that are part of the parade work hard for weeks preparing for the parade. We appreciate them so much. I am always so thankful to those that take the time to make the parade happen."

New cancer support group aims to help patients, families

Charlea Mills

One of the hardest diagnoses for someone to receive is cancer. With that diagnosis comes a myriad of issues, the least of which is not the emotional turmoil that a person and their family goes through during treatment and recovery. Due to a growing demand for support, Mercy Hospital in Cassville began a support group for people in the community dealing with the disease.

Vicki L. Punch, Practice Manager at the Cassville Mercy Clinic, stated, "The diagnosis of cancer is a very hard thing to hear, and, as a cancer survivor, one of the things we can share with those newly diagnosed is a knowledge of the process the patient goes through and the struggles they will face."

The group started up in November and has monthly meetings about one hour long with different themes each time. Topics they plan to cover include nutrition and diet during treatment, resources for patients, beauty tips for those going through chemotherapy, and other topics as the need arises. Punch stated, "We also want to provide a forum for casual conversation so that friendships can be made among the group and provide some fun relief from the stresses of dealing with cancer."

Each meeting is led by volunteers. Currently, Mercy employees are volunteering to run the group, but Punch said they would welcome community members who feel that they have talents to share and can help guide the meetings. Anyone who has been affected by cancer in their life is welcome to attend the meetings which are the second Tuesday of each month at 6:30 p.m. in the Senior Life Solutions conference room.

Punch said that the first group had nine people come for fellowship and support, but that she hopes the group grows as the word spreads. She stated, "We want to provide emotional support to cancer patients and their families. It is very hard on the families as well as the patient to go through this process. We hope to be able to provide comfort and support to those who join our meetings."

The next cancer support group meeting will be on Tuesday, December 9, at 6:30 p.m. For more information, contact Mercy Hospital's Senior Life Solutions at (417) 847-6042. All cancer patients, survivors and family members are welcome to attend.

Cassville hosts Thanksgiving feast

After Cassville Primary students spent the weeks before Thanksgiving learning about the history of the holiday, kindergartners, first graders and second graders got to have their own Thanksgiving feasts. Parents were invited to join in the festivities where students donned pilgrim and Native American attire made during craft time.

Filing opens Dec. 16 for April 7 General Election

Charlea Mills

On Tuesday, December 16, candidate filing will open for Barry County residents who want to file for a slot in their local districts and city government races for the April 7 General Election. According to Barry County Clerk Gary Youngblood, the filing period for candidates will open Tuesday, December 16, and close January 20.

Local governments and school boards have to post the open positions before December 16, and many school boards and city governments have already listed their openings in local newspapers. Open positions will be for schools, road districts, ambulance districts, hospital districts and political subdivisions.

This year, the school boards in all Barry County schools have openings. In Cassville, two vacancies are open on the school board, and each position is a three-year term. Southwest, Wheaton, Shell Knob and Purdy also each have two vacancies for three-year terms in their respective districts. The school districts require that candidates file at the individual central offices during regular business hours.

Local city governments also have positions available for filing in the April 7 General Election. Cassville's south and north wards, as well as the mayoral position, will have seats available for filers. Currently, Jan Anthony holds the south ward seat, Ann Hennigan holds the north ward seat, and Bill Shiveley is the mayor. Each of the slots open for filing are two-year terms.

In Exeter, the south ward, currently held by Rhonda Scott, the north ward, currently held by Jimmie Morse, and the mayor's position, currently held by Rusty Reed, are open for filing. The terms in Exeter are for two years, as well.

In Purdy, the mayor's seat and wards one and two will be open for two-year terms. The current mayor of Purdy is Steve Roden, and Robert Moser and Wayne Rupp hold the first and second ward seats.

Washburn's Council has four positions open for filing, including mayor, and three alderman seats. Washburn's mayor is John Tiedeman. The two-year alderman seats are occupied by Mary Roller and Jeremy Johnston. The one-year alderman position is currently vacant.

In Wheaton, the mayoral, east and west wards all will be open for filing. Wheaton's mayor is currently David Shockley. The west ward alderman is Naomi Young, and the east ward alderman is Gary Bates.

The City of Butterfield was not available for comment regarding their open positions at the time of press.

In each of the local elections, the school board and local government entity are required to make sure that the candidates meet all requirements when filing.

According to Youngblood, political subdivision has the option of using random drawings for ballot placement of the candidates who file on the first day, but published notices must include how candidates will be listed on the official ballots. Most local notices plan to list candidates on the ballot in the order in which they file, so the earliest filer will be listed at the top.

However, according to Missouri State law, there is the possibility that some districts may opt to not put their openings on the ballot if certain conditions are met. If the number of positions open and the number of candidates who file are equal, it is not required that it be placed on the General Election ballot. In order to accept the candidates without a general election vote, the board, district or council members would need to vote to accept the filings as is.

Cassville Chamber luncheon Dec. 9 Sater recognized by community colleges

The Cassville Area Chamber of Commerce will offer the final quarterly luncheon of the year on Tuesday, December 9, at noon in the fellowship hall at Cassville United Methodist Church. Jason Jones with the Southwest Missouri Workforce Investment Board (WIB) will serve as the guest speaker.

Jones will discuss the Certified Work Ready Communities (CWRC) initiative. This program helps improve the economic competitiveness of the region through the National Career Readiness Certificate. The certificate demonstrates cognitive ability and the readiness of future workers to meet the growing skill need of local employers. According to WIB, Barry County is currently 76 percent in progress towards the certification goal. CWRC is also in place to provide assistance to educators in regards to improving and preparing high school students and adults while incorporating the needs of employers into curriculum and activities.

The Cassville Chamber of Commerce host quarterly luncheons in an effort to connect members through educational programs and networking. Members are encouraged to attend and bring guests.

Lunch is $7.00 per person. Those interested in attending should RSVP to chamber@cassville.com or (417) 847-2814 by Friday, December 5.

For more information about CWRC, visit www.workready.info.

The Missouri Community College Association presented Sen. David Sater (R-Cassville) with the association's Distinguished Legislator Award at a ceremony in Branson on Friday, November 7. The award was given in recognition of Sater's strong support of Ozarks Technical Community College and of community colleges around the state.

Dr. Hal Higdon, Ozarks Technical Community College chancellor, praised Sater, saying, "Senator David Sater represents a broad part of Southwest Missouri, but does not neglect any part of his district. Our Table Rock Campus resides in Senator Sater's district, and we know we can always call on him to support Missouri's community colleges in the state senate."

Sater represents the 29th District, which includes Barry, Lawrence, McDonald, Stone, and Taney counties. He previously served four terms (2004-2012) in the Missouri House representing the 68th District. Sater is a native of Barry County, where he owned and operated Sater Pharmacy for almost 30 years.

This year marked MCCA's fiftieth annual convention. Association members celebrated the milestone by hosting several former community college leaders at the convention, including Dr. Norman Myers, founding president of Ozarks Technical Community College; Dr. Don Shook, founding president of East Central College, St. Charles Community College, and St. Charles Community College; and

Dr. Jim Kellerman, former MCCA executive director.

The Missouri Community College Association is a statewide organization through which Missouri's community colleges work together to advance common agendas. MCCA provides advocacy, education, information, and networking opportunities in service of the state's 5,700 community college faculty, staff, administrators, and trustees.

Letter to the Editor...

Summer has finally drawn to an end, and, with winter well on its way, it's now time for the holidays to soon arrive in the Ozarks.

By now, most people's thoughts are probably on staying warm and gifts they plan to purchase for loved ones. Those wonderful thoughts are nothing shy of mere memories to me. You see, I once had the opportunity to think about those things and make decisions on what I planned to do to make those thoughts become a reality. Instead, I chose to make two negative decisions in my life that affected an uncountable number of people.

I chose one: to drink and two: to drive. These two choices have cost me and my victims a lifetime of brokenness that can never be repaired. The holidays have become shattered times of torment and sorrow. Law enforcement officials all over the United States work hard to raise the awareness of dangers involved in driving while intoxicated. If you don't listen to them, please learn from my bad choices. From choosing to drink and drive, I am currently serving two decades in a six by nine cell, while someone else now makes responsible decisions for me in how I have to live my life.

Keep the holiday spirit for yourself and others alive. Make responsible plans this year to not drink and drive.

Papa Vito's gathering food for the hungry

Papa Vito's employees Colten Bowman and Lexie Cross help to inventory the food their customers have donated to help feed the hungry during Christmas. Papa Vito's food drive will continue through Friday, December 19, and customers will get a one-percent discount on their tabs for each non-perishable food item they donate.

Steve Chapman

Amanda Dotson, owner of Papa Vito's, is hoping that when people come to her restaurant to eat, they will remember those in Barry County who are going hungry this holiday season. To encourage her customers to help those who are struggling to buy food, Dotson is offering a special discount at Papa Vito's until December 19. For every canned or non-perishable food item customers bring in, they receive one-percent off of their bill. For example, if a person donates 10 food items, that person gets 10-percent off the tab for that meal. The discount is limited to 25-percent off for each person or party.

Dotson said she decided to offer the discount because she wanted to help those in need this Christmas. "There's a lot of hungry people in the community," she said.

Before coming up with the food drive, Dotson toyed with the idea of getting gifts for needy children instead, but decided that the food drive would do more good. "I wanted to do presents," she said, "but at the end of the day, on Christmas that doesn't fill your belly," she said.

After the food drive ends, Dotson plans to take the collected food items to The Point Church where it will then be distributed to needy families. She hopes to collect at least 100 food items, but her goal is to get as much food as possible to help all the needy families she can.

The food drive is not the only way Dotson will be helping to spread Christmas cheer. On December 19, when the Cassville School District lets out for the holiday break, she will also have small toys at Papa Vito's for all children 11 and under who come into the restaurant.

Papa Vito's is located at 802 E. Highway 248 in Cassville. The restaurant is open Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. and 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday for buffet-only dining. Papa Vito's is closed on Saturdays. For more information about the restaurant or how to help with the food drive, call (417) 846-1415.

Finding a home for Gracie

Lee Stubblefield

This is a running story, a Thanksgiving story, and a story to illustrate why we need to spay and neuter our pets.

This past year has been a busy one for the Stubblefield Benevolent Animal Rescue and Protection Task Force. We took in a beautiful Lab mix that someone purposely abandoned at a local park and placed him with Luke Roller at Seligman. (Who leaves a dog with a note on his collar that says "Free Dog"? Unbelievable.)

Then, Josie and her PE class rescued a kitten on the school grounds. After a few days, this feisty little cat found a home with a little gentle persuasion and some good salesmanship on my wife's part.

But Gracie was the biggest challenge of all.

I remember seeing the small calico kitten on the Greenway Trail back in July. She was living, or surviving, in the area behind the flea markets and restaurants just north of the aquatic park. Although I ran the trail often over the summer, I only saw her a couple of times a week.

The weeks rolled by and my trail runs became more infrequent with the demands of school and coaching. But I still glimpsed the familiar black and orange now and then. I saw her sunning on the warm trail pavement several times, and I slowed and eased around her on those occasions. She never bolted, but just watched as I ran by.

As her winter coat grew in, the effects of her dumpster-diving existence were more pronounced. Her coat was dull and she seemed hardly any bigger than when I first saw her. When the warning came for the early November arctic blast, I worried about her ability to survive and wondered if I should intervene.

The Wednesday before the cold snap, I met her on my early evening run. She was just sitting on the trail and made no attempt to flee when I strolled up to her. I slowly reached out and she allowed me to scratch her ears. But I was a mile away from home and wasn't sure if she would allow me to carry her that far. So I finished my workout and drove back to look for her. No cat.

I have always maintained that most of our failings in life are sins of omission, or failing to do something that we should have done. This definitely fell in that category, and I mentally kicked myself the rest of the week over the lost opportunity. So when I saw her again on a cold Saturday afternoon run, I never hesitated. I scooped her up and headed for the house.

A mile we travelled together, and she never fussed or struggled. I carried her up the driveway to the front door, but disaster struck just as I opened it. The house noises and the sight of Lenny, our big gray cat, spooked her. She clawed her way out of my arms and raced across the back yard. Josie and I gave chase, but we lost her in the big ravine at the south edge of our neighborhood. Darkness fell, and we reluctantly abandoned the search.

But Sunday afternoon, Josie located her on a neighbor's porch and brought her to the safety and warmth of the house. We named her Gracie from the hymn, "Amazing Grace." "I once was lost but now am found."

It only took a day for Gracie to adjust from a feral existence to being a contented house cat. She had one accident before figuring out the litter box but became a model of cleanliness from that point forward. She navigated the cat door from the garage into the house and insisted on sleeping with us the first night and every night thereafter. She loved fleece blankets, fleece robes, fleece anything, and when she wasn't sleeping on something fleece, she was happily playing with toys on the hardwood floors.

Her only negative was her eating habits. Having lived on scraps and who-knows-what during her life on the Greenway Trail, she had no appetite for cat food. She literally ate off our plates, devoured any leftovers we put down and drank milk like it was from the last cow ever. The first morning, we awoke to find that she had dragged a loaf of bread into the kitchen floor and destroyed it for a snack.

She never showed any interest in going out, and the only time she left the house in three weeks was to go to see Dr. Herrin for a checkup and a "fix."

Despite being a near-perfect pet, we could not keep Gracie. We already had two grown cats, and we simply didn't have enough room for a third. But we had already grown quite attached to our little survivor and weren't willing to surrender her to just anyone. So I was quite relieved when Sophie and Luke, our daughter and her new husband, volunteered to adopt Gracie and take her back to Denver after Thanksgiving.

It's a good fit. Both Luke and Sophie are cat people, and Gracie's orange markings will fit quite well in her new Denver Broncos environment.

Gracie, the rescued cat, made it to her new home in Denver safely.

The sad part for me is knowing that very few stray or dumped animals enjoy the happy ending that these three did. Unless you are a registered breeder, spay and neuter your pets, and never dump unwanted pets. The vast majority of them endure short, miserable lives once they are turned out. Don't be that guy that put a "free dog" announcement on Sherman's collar. The only thing free is the pain and suffering forced on the animal.

ERNEST E. COWHERD

Ernest E. Cowherd, 91, of Purdy, passed away on Thursday, November 27, 2014, at his family farm near Purdy. Ernest was born to Guy Brentwood Cowherd and Stella (Houck) Cowherd on July 6, 1923.

Ernest attended the University of Arkansas-Fayetteville until he was drafted into military service in WWII. He was assigned to an infantry brigade serving in Mindanao, Philippines, where he was wounded while on patrol. His service was recognized by several battle awards, including the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart.

Ernest was discharged from the military in 1946, and returned to his beloved farm near Purdy. He married Mary Jeanette Eden on May 2, 1948, and pursued his passion for raising registered Holsteins. Ernest was a lifetime member of the National Holstein Association and was inducted into the MU Extension Dairy Hall of Fame. He served on the Cassville Board of Education and also served as a long-time member of the Federal Land Bank Board of Directors.

Ernest was a committed Christian, and he was a loyal member of the Cassville United Methodist Church for over 50 years. His entire life exemplified his faith.

He was preceded in death by his parents, one brother, William Wilson Cowherd, and one sister, Naomi Ellis.

He is survived by his loving wife, Mary J. Cowherd; sons, James "Gene" Cowherd and wife, Barbara, Robert Cowherd and wife, Lou, Charles Cowherd, Don Cowherd and wife, Cheri, John Cowherd and wife, Lynne, and Randy Cowherd; and daughter, Jeanette Cowherd. Grandchildren are Sarah Kerner, Mary Frances Cady, Rees Cowherd, Adam Cowherd, Andrew Cowherd, Katie Tegerdine, Paul Cowherd, Wilson Cowherd, Sam Cowherd, Sally Cowherd, Mary Grace Cowherd, Nina Cowherd, Stephanie Cowherd and Claire Cowherd. Great grandchildren are Riley, Grayson, Valentine, Benjamin, Ella, Anna, Jack, Kali, Josiah, Samuel, Emily, Luke, and Connor. Two brothers-in-law are Dr. David Eden and Jonathan Eden.

Visitation was held at Fohn Funeral Home in Cassville, on Sunday, November 30. Services were held at the Cassville United Methodist Church on Monday, December 1, at 2:00 p.m. Burial was at Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Butterfield.

Memorial donations may be made to the Cassville United Methodist Church Building Fund.

Famous Cherokee artwork by Talmadge Davis on display at Barry Co. Museum

Steve Chapman

The Trail of Tears display at the Barry County Museum received a new addition in November. A collection of artwork by the late Talmadge Davis, a member of the Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma, was loaned to the museum. The collection is made up of 22 framed prints and about 60 smaller pieces and is currently being housed in the museum's community room. According to Amber Wilson, the museum's display coordinator, the collection and most of the other items in the Trail of Tears display are privately owned by a collector who has asked to remain anonymous. Despite having no formal art training, Talmadge possessed an unusually keen instinctive ability to paint with a variety of media. His paintings capture his subjects in incredible life-like detail. Most of the pictures on display like "Cherokee Dragon," "War Woman of the Cherokee Nation" and "He Searched for Signs of Their Passing" take on serious themes about the Cherokee heritage, but others, like "Favorite Jacket," "Grandmother's Porch," "Quiet Dignity" and "It's All Art," are more lighthearted. Talmadge Davis was born on May 30, 1962, to Robert Lee and Patricia (Horton) Davis in McAlester, Okla. As a boy, he spent many hours with his paternal great, great grandmother, Salley Toney Davis, a direct descendant of Sequoyah, and she was one of the subjects for his paintings. Growing up, Talmadge had no formal art training, but while attending Indian School in Wyandotte, Okla., he was encouraged by one of his teachers to use every piece of paper he could to draw on. Later, Talmadge served in the United States Army from 1983 to 1987, and many of his paintings reflect his experiences in the military.

After leaving the army, Talmadge went on to become a highly recognized artist. His work won 34 awards and was seen in 13 exhibitions. He also was also commissioned 19 times to create posters, magazine covers and a variety of displays. His career was tragically cut short when he died on November 3, 2005 of a heart aneurysm at the age of 43. Talmadge was buried in the National Cemetery in Fort Gibson, Oklahoma.

down so the building can be decorated for the holidays. This year, the collection's owner, who has worked with the Barry County Museum in the past, contacted White and asked her if the museum would be interested in displaying the collection through the holidays, an offer which White said she readily accepted. Those who are interested in viewing the collection can visit the museum. The Trail of Tears display will be open for viewing until early January when the collections, including the Talamadge Davis art, will be returned to their owners. The Barry County Museum is located one mile south of Cassville on Highway 76/86, and is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday. Admission is free and open to the public. # Barry County courts send 10 to prison in the month of November

• Randy Kevin Carey, Marionville, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance. Carey was granted a suspended execution of a five year incarceration sentence and will serve supervised probation for five years.

Carey was originally charged on April 12, 2014. The Barry County Sheriff's Department had officers at a residence on State Highway 1150 in Aurora removing an active methamphetamine lab when Carey drove up to the residence in a car. While attempting to leave, officers stopped him in the driveway and searched his vehicle with his consent. Carey was found to have a baggie of methamphetamine in his jeans pocket.

Carey is to serve probation until November 17, 2019.

• Christopher Wade Clark, Butterfield, pled guilty to possession of a chemical with intent to manufacture a controlled substance, manufacture of a controlled substance, and tampering with a motor vehicle in March 2013. His probation has since been revoked, he has been terminated from the CRISP program and he is to serve his original six year incarceration sentence.

Wade's charges stem from two separate incidents in 2012. He was first arrested and charged for tampering when he took a 1988 Nissan Pathfinder without the owner's permission in June 2012. The vehicle was recovered when the Benton County Sheriff's Department arrested him for stealing fuel and possession of a controlled substance. The victim had to pay $109.75 to recover her vehicle from a towing company.

Then, in November 2012, the Sheriff's Department was dispatched to the Clark residence for a disturbance. Officers found chemicals needed to manufacture methamphetamine in the detached garage. The lab was in the final stages of production when the officers found it.

Clark's charges stemmed from two separate incidents in 2010 and 2012. On September 16, 2010, the Southwest Missouri Drug Task Force investigated Clark's residence on Main in Wheaton for suspicion of illegal narcotics. When officers searched, they found 24 marijuana plants under high intensity grow lights in the basement as well as pill bottles without labels and cut straws in the bedroom.

Clark's second charge for forgery was for events between December 8, 2011, and February 15, 2012, when she passed stolen checks at Walmart. The checks were stolen from her parents, and they totalled more than $500. She wrote 12 checks to the Cassville Walmart and two to the Monett Walmart. The drivers license number on the checks was Clark's.

• Brittney Hope Collett, Berryville, Ark., made an Alford plea to possession of a controlled substance and was given a suspended imposition of sentence and five years supervised probation.

Collett was charged for possession of a controlled substance on March 22, 2013, when the Barry County Sheriff's Department executed a search warrant at her residence. Officers found manufacturing items, as well as glass smoking pipes and white residue that field tested positive for methamphetamine.

Collett is to serve probation until November 17, 2019.

• Jammie A. Crosby, Cassville, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance and received a suspended imposition of sentence and give years supervised probation.

Crosby was initially charged for a crime on August 31, 2013. The vehicle that Crosby was a passenger in was stopped at a Missouri State Highway Patrol DWI sobriety checkpoint on MO 37. Crosby voluntarily turned over three plastic baggies of marijuana weighing 40 grams during the stop.

Crosby is to serve probation until November 18, 2019.

• Carl D. Cunningham, Seligman, pled guilty to distribution of a controlled substance and endangering the welfare of a child in the 1st degree. Cunningham received a suspended im-sition of sentence and five years supervised probation.

In July 2014, Officer Ray Earnest with the Seligman Police Department found Cunningham to be in possession of methamphetamine at his home on Main Street in Seligman. The methamphetamine was in reach and easily able to be opened by a minor child also living in the home.

Cunningham is to serve probation until November 17, 2019.

• Christina L. Fleetwood, Vandalia, pled guilty to fraudulently attempting to obtain a controlled substance and received a suspended execution of a four years incarceration sentence and supervised probation for five years.

• Paula Lee Foster, Pierce City, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance and received a suspended execution of a five year incarceration sentence, supervised probation for five years, and she must complete the Lawrence County CRISP program.

On August 30, 2011, Foster was arrested for two active warrants in Barry County after being stopped at 11th Street and East Street in Cassville for a traffic violation. When officers searched her car, they found what they believed to be a crushed methamphetamine pipe under the driver side floor mat. The glass shards field-tested positive for methamphetamine. Another container was also found with a white powdery substance that Foster stated was a narcotic pill that she was dissolving.

Foster is to serve probation until November 17, 2019.

• Michael Dewayne Harvey, Seligman, pled guilty to manufacturing a controlled substance and possession of a controlled substance and was sentenced to five years incarceration.

Harvey was initially charged after the Southwest Missouri Drug Task Force conducted a drug investigation at his residence on Main Street in Seligman. When officers arrived on June 25, 2014, they noticed a strong chemical odor and two shake n bake plastic bottles on the front porch by the door. Officers found other lab elements inside the house as well as a plastic bag that field tested positive for methamphetamine.

• Charles W. Huse, Aurora, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance and possession of a chemical with the intent to manufacture a controlled substance in September and was sentenced in November to five years incarceration.

Huse was charged after the Southwest Missouri Drug Task Force investigated a methamphetamine lab at a man's residence on highway WW in Verona who was in jail. Huse had an active lab on the property.

• Clarence Ray King, Seligman, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance and was sentenced to three years incarceration.

On March 8, 2014, Officer Ray Earnest with the Seligman Police Department found King to be in possession of methamphetamine and a glass pipe at The White Oak Station in Seligman.

• Geoffrey Shawn Kramer, Wentworth, made an Alford plea to burglary in the 2nd degree and theft/stealing of $500 to $25,000. Kramer was given a suspended imposition of sentence, five years supervised probation, 100 hours of community service to be completed by September 25, 2015, and $1,250 restitution jointly with the other two parties involved in the theft. Around April 2, 2013, victims reported that someone had stolen items from a garage used as a storage unit on East Bond in Monett. Kramer was found to have the air compressor in his garage. Kramer could not explain how it was in his possession.

• Gregory B. Latschar pled guilty to burglary in the 2nd degree and theft/stealing of $500 to $25,000 in March 2010. His probation has since been revoked, and he is to serve five years incarceration.

Latschar's original charged stemmed from a burglary in 2009 in Shell Knob. The items stolen from the property totalled $51,700 and included a Hummer H2, camera, laptop and television. Many of the items were pawned at various pawn shops in Springfield.

• Gregory Layman pled guilty to stealing leased or rented property and received six months incarceration.

Gregory Layman entered into an agreement to lease a 73-inch Mitsubishi television from Payless Rental and Sales in Monett. Layman never paid for the t.v. and failed to return it. Each time Payless made arrangements to pick the television up from Layman's wife, Amanda, she never allowed them to pick it up. The television retailed for $4,999 and the actual loss to the company was $1,699.

• Derek R. Mettlach, Pierce City, pled guilty to burglary in the 1st degree in April 2014 and reported for a 120 day call back of shock incarceration due to end on March 17, 2015.

Officers with the Monett Police Department initially responded to a call that a man had kicked in a front door and attempted to steal electronics while the victims were inside. When a victim pushed him out, Mettlach then broke a large window and crawled back into the apartment again before leaving through the window again when confronted.

• Kayla Michalski, Pea Ridge, Ark., pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance and endangering the welfare of a child in the 1st degree. She received a suspended imposition of sentence and supervised probation for five years.

In July 2014, Officer Ray Earnest with the Seligman Police Department found methamphetamine in her home which was in reach of a minor child living with her.

Michalski is to serve probation until November 17, 2019.

• David Michael Oplinger, Seligman, pled guilty to manufacturing a controlled substance and received seven years incarceration.

Oplinger was charged after an investigation by the Southwest Missouri Drug Task Force uncovered backpacks that contained a mobile shake-n-bake meth lab and methamphetamine paraphernalia.

Oplinger is to serve probation until November 13, 2016.

• Jason Michael Pendergraft, Purdy, made an Alford plea to endangering the welfare of a child and received a suspended execution of a 90 day incarceration sentence, 20 hours community service, and two years unsupervised probation.

On January 12, 2012, Pendergraft punched a 17-year old minor in the face, creating a substantial risk to the minor.

Pendergraft is to serve probation until November 13, 2016.

• Diane Marie Rogers-Sigetich, Marionville, pled guilty to forgery and received a suspended execution of a three year incarceration sentence and supervised probation for five years.

Rogers-Sigetich was charged after cashing or attempting to cash multiple fake payroll checks at Ramey in Cassville and Purdy. She had a history of forgery on her record, as well.

Rogers-Sigetich is to serve probation until November 17, 2019.

• Jeremy Justin Shank pled guilty to property damage in the 1st degree in 2012 and manufacturing a controlled substance in November of this year. He is now to serve 120 days shock incarceration after having his probation revoked as part of an initial four year sentence from the property damage charge and a seven year sentence for the methamphetamine charge.

Shank's original property damage charge stemmed from graffiti incidents at 15 different locations in Monett, including restaurants, the American Legion, Dollar General and the City of Monett. Damage from the graffiti ranged from $10 to $1,475, dependent on location. When officers investigated at Shank's apartment, they found the same style graffiti inside and yellow spray paint on his hand.

Then, on March 7, 2014, the Missouri State Highway Patrol stopped a vehicle that Shank was riding in on MO 39. When the trooper approached the car, he noticed a strong odor of marijuana. Shank admitted it to being his and pulled out a marijuana pipe that he had been smoking. He also had four bags of marijuana hidden in his pants. Shank said he was going to sell three of the bags to a friend, and the total weight ended up being 46.1 grams.

He is to be incarcerated until March 17, 2015.

• James Hervie Thomas, Jr., Monett, pled guilty to making sales without a sales tax license because it had been revoked and passing a bad check of less than $500. He was given a suspended imposition of sentence and five years supervised probation.

On December 12, 2008, Thomas, the owner of Prime Cut in Monett, was operating the store while he knew his retail sales license was revoked.

• Joseph M. Trolinger, Fairview, pled guilty to two counts of possession of a controlled substance in 2013, made an Alford plea to pos-

Cassville Senior Center needs drivers

The Cassville Senior center is currently seeking volunteer drivers to deliver hot meals to their home bound seniors.

The meals are delivered Monday through Friday and the routes usually take an hour to an hour and a half to complete. All routes can be done with one driver or a driver and a helper. They will reimburse volunteers for their delivery miles.

Currently, there are routes available for delivery on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays with the meals to be picked up between 10:15 and 10:30 a.m.

Senior Center director Adena Cox-Holloway said, "If you are able to make time for our seniors, you will be rewarded every day in every way by the gratitude and new found friendship of our country's greatest generation."

If you are able to help with delivery or want more information, the senior center is located at 1111 Fair Street in Cassville or call (417) 847-4510.

FELONIES from 11A

session of a chemical with the intent to manufacture a controlled substance and possession of a controlled substance in 2013, and pled guilty to resisting arrest for a felony, possession of a controlled substance, and tampering with a motor vehicle in the 1st degree. Trolinger's probation was revoked on the earlier charges, and he was sentenced to 120 shock incarceration time in lieu of new five year incarceration sentences on the more recent charges.

Trolinger's initial charges were from September 2011 when he was found to have over 100 grams of marijuana, a digital scale, baggies and a grinder in his vehicle during a traffic stop. The Barry County Sheriff's Department also found hypodermic needles, a metal spoon and baggie that field testing positive for methamphetamine.

Then, on August 14, 2013, Trolinger was charged again when the Southwest Missouri Drug Task Force found the remnants of a methamphetamine lab, including a plastic bottle that field tested positive for methamphetamine at a residence on Farm Road 1150 in Cassville.

Finally, between August 15, 2014, and October 9, 2014, Trolinger had three children ranging from eight years to five months, living with him without shelter from the elements. He also attempted to hide a syringe filled with clear fluid and a bag of marijuana when officers questioned him. The syringe field tested positive for methamphetamine. When officers tried to take him into custody, he ran. Once in the patrol car, he attempted to kick out the window and separated the window from the door frame.

Trolinger is to be incarcerated until March 18, 2015.

• Kevin Roy Wells, Garfield, Ark., pled guilty to assault in the 2nd degree. He received a suspended imposition of sentence and five years supervised probation.

In July 2014, Wells was charged after Wells took a pickup onto a friend's property and attempted to take things that were not his. The victim and his daughter tried to get Wells to stop and followed him down a dead-end road where they blocked Wells, preventing his escape. Wells also tried to ram the other vehicle to escape.

Wells is to serve probation until November 18, 2019.

• Timothy Zimmerman, Noel, pled guilty to two counts of assault in the 2nd degree and received a suspended execution of a five year incarceration sentence and supervised probation for five years.

On September 13, 2013, the Monett Police Department was dispatched to 3rd Street in Monett where three men were involved in a fight. Zimmerman, the bouncer, was holding a broken pool cue. Zimmerman had no injuries that warranted the use of a deadly weapon, like the pool cue. The injuries sustained by one of the other men included severe bruising and contusions and damage to his teeth and mouth.

Zimmerman is to serve probation until November 17, 2019.

James shoots first buck

Hunter James, 9, of Cassville, harvested his first deer Saturday morning, November 16. He was hunting with his dad, Jerry, and step mom, Dana, in Hailey Hollow east of Cassville.

Fair Grove blitzes Cassville, 63-43

Lee Stubblefield

The Fair Grove Eagles doubled up Cassville 28-14 in the second quarter and went on to claim a 63-43 road win over the Wildcats on Tuesday, November 25. Garrett Kesterson and Evan Fullerton scored 21 apiece to pace the Eagles. Josh Brown led Cassville with 11.

The Wildcats led early in the first quarter, but the Eagles seized control in the second stanza and never looked back. Besides owning a decided height advantage, Fair Grove exhibited more team speed and outside shooting than the host team, and the score was a fair summary of the contest.

The taller Eagles controlled the boards at both ends, denying second chances for the Wildcats while maintaining a double-digit lead. Fair Grove

Purdy improves to 2-0 after win over Verona

Rachael Freeman

The Purdy Lady Eagles dominated the Verona Lady Wildcats Tuesday evening with a 27-57 home court victory.

The Lady Eagles attacked their prey early, jumping to a 15-point lead in the first 8 minutes of the game. At the halftime break, Purdy took to the locker room with a 15-31 cushion.

Purdy continued to dominate the second half, holding to Verona to 12 points in the final 16 minutes of the game.

Senior standout Jayse Henderson dominated offensively with 17 points for the Lady Eagles and pulled down five rebounds.

Two Lady Eagles finished the game with a double-double on their records. Freshman Layne Skiles finished the night with 13 points and a powerful 14 rebounds. Skiles also dished out an impressive five assists to her teammates. Junior Desirie Ennes also put up a double-double matching her 10 points with 10 rebounds.

The win sets the Lady Eagles at a 2-0 start to the 2014-2015 season.

Purdy will be in action next week in the Clever Tournament.

Also scoring for the Lady Eagles: Ashton Young 6; Sami House 6; Zoe Brown 3; and Cailyn Spears 2.

Johnson shoots first deer

Cordell Johnson, 8, Eagle Rock, shot his first deer on the first day of the season, a 4-point buck with his uncle.

Wildcat basketball boys share Christmas

Cassville High School announced this week that its boys' basketball team will be working with local business leaders and the Ozarks Area Community Action Corporation (OACAC) to collect toys as for children in need. In a joint effort to make sure everyone has a merry Christmas this December 25, the Wildcat Basketball team will waive the price of admission for their home opener on December 9 in exchange for new, packaged toy that will be donated to families who need a little extra help for the holidays.

As an added bonus, Arvest Bank, Commerce Bank, Fastrip, Freedom Bank, and Security Bank have generously donated 75 event t-shirts to be given to the first 75 fans that arrive with a new, packaged toy.

Cassville JV basketball beats Fair Grove 56-43

Opening night for the Cassville Wildcat JV basketball boys was a good one. Playing in front of their home fans on Tuesday, November 25, for the first time this season, the players showed the brand of basketball they want to play. They played a fast paced game, pressing almost the whole time, and looked to run on offense.

Trailing Fair Grove 12-11 at the end of the first quarter, the boys opened the game up by keeping the pressure on and gaining a 9-point lead at the half (27-18). They did not show any signs of letting up in the second half and won the game 56-43.

Alex Dyer and Collin

Pearman showed their athleticism by picking off passes in the press and adding 5 and 8 points, respectively. Tyler Arndt, Chad Howerton, Troy Rose, and Gavin White put relentless pressure on Fair Grove's ball handlers all night and chipped in 13, 7, 2, and 6 points each. Kendrick Slane and Kendal Burbridge played tough defense while adding 7, and 4 points, respectively. Alex Vanderpool and Derek Shore cleaned up the glass with Shore pitching in 4 points of his own.

These boys played their hearts out. Anyone in the gym that night would tell you the same.

can continue working with area businesses and organizations like OACAC to make the lives of our community members better."

Ozarks Area Community Action Corporation (OACAC) is a not-for-profit agency that's mission is to work toward alleviating the causes and conditions of poverty in the Ozarks. OACAC benefits the families and communities of Barry, Christian, Dade, Dallas, Greene, Lawrence, Polk, Stone, Taney and Webster Counties. # Purdy FFA provides fall education and celebration

The Purdy Future Farmers of America (FFA) hosted its annual Food for America Day in late September. During the event Purdy Elementary students enjoyed a hay ride to the FFA show barn to learn about different farm animals. FFA students brought in horses, donkeys, mules, chickens, goats, sheep, cows, rabbits, and ducks and educated the children about each animal.

After learning about farm animals, the children learned about cheese and how it is made. They even got to taste test some fresh cheese from a local dairy farm.

The group held Kindergarten Day on October 17 at a local dairy farm, Edgewood Dairy, owned by Charles and Melissa Fletcher. The kindergartners learned about dairy products, milking cows and raising calves. The group enjoyed an ice cream treat afterward. The fifth grade students, who accompanied the kindergartners, also got to participate in the fun. In addition to experiencing the workings of a dairy farm, the older students also learned about the FFA and how to get involved. Chapter FFA officers gave a presentation to the students about what FFA stands for and how much the organization can benefit them.

The annual Purdy FFA Barnwarming was held October 24. The evening started off with a chili cook-off and homemade ice cream-making contest. The winners from each of the four divisions were: Mild Chili - Cailyn Spears; Hot Chili - Nidia Ennes; Knock-Your-Socks-Off Hot Chili - James Schad; and Best Homemade Ice Cream - Robin Henderson.

After eating the crowd and candidates participated in many different farm-themed games. At the end of the night, the Purdy FFA Chapter hosted a dance, which was open to the community. The candidates for Purdy Barnwarming 2014 were freshmen Cierra Moore and Joby Young; sophomores Hannah Falter and Esvin Rodriguez; juniors Desirie Ennes and Jonatan Salazar and Seniors Robby Moody and Shelby Thomas. Moody and Thomas were crowned Barnwarming King and Queen.

Cassville Ag. to offer wreath making

The basics of Christ-mas wreath making will be taught at the Cassville Agri-culture Education Depart-ment adult education class in December.

The class will be offered on Monday, December 8, at 6:30 p.m. in the ag. room at Cassville High School.

Participants will be cre-ating their own Christmas wreath and learning the ba-sics of wreath construction. Supplies will be provided unless you have extra things that you would like to add to your wreath. A $3 dona-tion is appreciated to cover the cost of the supplies.

The wreaths will be made using live cedar, so gloves are encouraged. If you attended the class last year, please bring your wire wreath/swag back to reuse.

RSVPs are needed so that supplies can be purchased for each person planning to attend the event. Please RSVP by contacting Kelin Kruse or Jimmy Hinson at (417) 847-3137, kkruise@cassville.k12.mo.us or jhin-son@cassville.k12.mo.us.

Shell Knob Library events

- The book club will meet on December 16 at 12:30 p.m.
- The Shell Knob Pre-school Story Time will be offered every Thursday, De-cember 4 through Decem-ber 18, at 1 p.m. Children of all ages are invited to attend. There will be a special Christ-mas story time on December 18.

Handle With Care.

Some jobs require a long-handled tool to reach the work effectively. But remember, a long handle also requires that you work cautiously to avoid contact with power lines.

When using any tools or machinery with a long reach, be sure to pay attention to both ends, so you don't expose yourself or others to the risk of electric shock. Look up, look out, and get the job done safely.

Missouri deer harvest up 6 percent over 2013

Building on a strong opening weekend harvest, Missouri hunters went on to check a total of 167,205 deer during firearms deer season Nov. 15 through 25. The number exceeds last year's harvest of 157,273.

The Missouri Department of Conservation reports the top harvest counties were Howell, with 3,418 deer checked; Franklin, with 3,338 and Texas, with 3,170.

This year's harvest is 6.0 percent larger than last year's figure and 10 percent below the previous 5-year average for the November portion of firearms deer season. When added to the previous, urban, and early youth portions of this year's firearms deer season the November portion harvest brings the year-to-date total to 185,890.

Twenty-five days of firearms deer hunting remain in the antlerless, alternative-methods and late youth portions of deer season. Archery deer season runs through Jan. 15.

The white-tailed deer is Missouri's most popular game species and one of the most prolific, with an estimated population of more than 1 million free-ranging deer statewide. Missouri has nearly 520,000 deer hunters and almost two million wildlife watchers who enjoy deer.

Activities related to deer hunting and watching annually contribute $1 billion in economic activity to state and local economies, and support more than 12,000 Missouri jobs. Many Missouri meat processors, taxidermists, hotels, restaurants, sporting goods stores, and other businesses rely on deer hunting as a significant source of revenue.

The Show-Me State's white-tailed deer resource also helps feed needy Missourians through the Share the Harvest (STH) program. STH brings together thousands of deer hunters, more than 130 participating meat processors, the Conservation Department, the Conservation Federation of Missouri, and numerous supporting organizations to channel ground venison to tens of thousands of hungry Missouri families each year through donations to local food banks and food pantries. Since 1992, Missouri hunters have donated more than 3.1

million pounds of venison to the needy through STH.

Thousands of private landowners manage their land for deer and deer hunting, and rely on deer and deer hunting to maintain property values.

Stumpff conducts auction for children’s television

On Friday evening, November 8, local auctioneer Donnie Stumpff, owner of Stumpff’s Realty and Auction Service, Inc. in Cassville, showcased his auctioneer talent for Ozarks Public Television to raise money for children’s television programming. This event raises money to keep educational children’s television programs on OPT. This year’s event raised a large amount of money for the cause and for children’s education. Pictured above are Donnie and Teresa Stumpff. Photo by 417 Magazine.

Knights of Columbus holds raffle for charities

During the summer, the Knights of Columbus Holy Family Council 13975 of Shell Knob sold raffle tickets on a flat screen TV to raise money for the American Wheelchair Mission, ultra-sound equipment under the Knight’s Meet Life Campaign and Special Olympics of Missouri (SOMO). With the proceeds, they donated $150 to the American Wheelchair Mission, enough to purchase one wheelchair for a person in need; $200 to help support Special Olympics of Missouri; and $400 towards ultra-sound equipment used to deter abortions. The Knights thank everyone who purchased raffle tickets which helped achieve these worthy goals. Congratulations to Pat Weller, the winner of the TV. ## invisalign teen removable comfortable and clear

THE CLEAR ALTERNATIVE TO BRACES

The low-down

You no longer have to straighten your teeth the old-fashioned way, with metal braces. The Invisalign Teen™ system lets you do it the modern, hygienic way. Your new smile is created with the most innovative technology – a series of clear aligners that are custom-fit to your teeth.

The Aligners. . .

- snap on your teeth easily.
- are comfortable and practically invisible.
- allow for your growing permanent teeth.
- gently and continuously move your teeth in small increments.
- are worn for about two weeks. Then you swap them for a new pair.
- have a Blue Dot Wear Indicator, designed to show an estimation of wear-time. The dot is designed to fade to clear over a two-week period if you wear (20 to 22 hours everyday) your aligners properly.
- can be removed for eating, brushing, and flossing, or going to a special event.

Ozark Festival Orchestra concert Dec. 14

The Ozark Festival Orchestra will present the second concert of its 35th season at 3 p.m. on Sunday, December 14, at the First United Methodist Church, 1600 N. Central in Monett. This will be the orchestra's Christmas concert and will feature music of the season.

Music director Todd Borgmann has dipped into the classical and popular music repertory for the concert. Music includes an arrangement of "Russian Christmas Music," the "Troika (sleigh Ride)" from Prokofiev's "Lieutenant Kije" suite, and J.S. Bach's beloved choral prelude "Wachet auf," arranged for orchestra.

A concert suite from the film "Polar Express" and a wide range of traditional Christmas carols and orchestral arrangements of seasonal music fill out the program.

Admission will be $. Children high school age and younger will be admitted free of charge.

The OFO is a community orchestra composed of players from southwest Missouri and nearby towns, focusing primarily on classical music. Rehearsals are held weekly in Monett. The orchestra is supported by memberships, local foundations, ads in the orchestra program book and funds managed by the Monett Community Foundation.

The OFO will present its third concert at 3 p.m. on February 15, 2015, at the Monett City Park Casino, which will be the orchestra's annual "Pops in the Park" fundraising benefit performance.
