Flu cases on the rise in Barry County

Charlea Mills

Flu cases in the county are definitely on the rise in 2014 after a slow start in the fall. So far, February has 34 confirmed, reported cases of influenza according to Carol Landstad, Public Health Programs Coordinator for Barry County.

Cases of the flu have gone up slowly since flu season began in November. The month of November had 1 reported case, December had 19 and January's cases totalled 71. With February already at 34, only 11 days in, the month is set to exceed the total cases from last year.

The 2012-13 flu season began earlier than this year, with November having 17 cases, December having 47, January having 55 and February having 42 with numbers trickling down to two in March and only one in April. Last year's season had 164 cases total, but the 2013-14 season is set to exceed that number with 125 cases already so far.

Landstad stated, "The majority of the cases reported have been influenza A which tends to make people sicker and also leads to more complications, like pneumonia." When asked the best ways to prevent the flu, Landstad stated, "Of course the best way is to have gotten a flu shot." The Barry County Health Department offers a four-strain flu shot that has two strains of influenza A and two strains of influenza B.

However, the flu shot has not been without controversy in recent years, with many establishments, including the National Institutes of Health, questioning the effectiveness of the shot, especially in the elderly population.

Landstad stated that people should wash their hands often, avoid touching their nose, eyes and mouth, and cover their mouth when they

Sen. Sater files bill against SWEPCO

Sen. David Sater, R-Cassville, filed Senate Bill 839 in response to a proposed Arkansas power line by Southwestern Electric Power Company (SWEPCO) that would pass through southern Barry and McDonald counties.

On January 17, an Arkansas Public Service Commission (APSC) Administrative Law judge endorsed Route 109 as the preferred route to address power delivery in northwest Arkansas. Originally, SWEPCO proposed six routes: five in Arkansas and Route 109. The route would require a 150-foot-wide right-of-way with six towers per mile, each about 150 feet tall. To erect the towers, 50-foot-deep foundation holes would have to be dug. SWEPCO's preferred route was actually Route 33 through Benton and Carroll counties.

"Last fall, I promised if this route became a real possibility that I would fight it," said Sen. Sater. "This bill is keeping that promise to my constituents. It protects their property rights and sends a clear message to SWEPCO and the Arkansas PSC that they need to address an Arkansas problem in Arkansas."

Sen. Sater's bill would prohibit SWEPCO from using eminent domain, meaning the company would be unable to forcibly take the land needed for construction of the transmission line. Instead, it would have to get the approvfor a shot, according to Landstad. Flu season doesn't officially end until March.

Sales tax sees big jump in Jan.

Charlea Mills

Both the City of Cassville and Barry County experienced a large increase for the month of January compared to last year.

Cassville had an 11.3 percent increase in sales tax revenue, a welcome sight when compared to the decrease in revenue from December. For December, the sales tax was down 12.2 percent. January's revenue was $148,598.15, up over $15,000 from 2013's $133,459.29.

Barry County had an even larger increase, with sales tax revenue up 25.98 percent when compared to 2013. Last month, the County's sales tax was also down, like Cassville, but only 4.77 percent. For the month of January, Barry County received $140,789.35, over $23,700 more than 2013. January of 2013 took in $117,045.60 in sales tax revenue, which was up considerably from the year before.

When considering the County's sales tax, the 1/8 cent initiative that passed on the ballot in April 2013 began in October. The 1/8 cent general revenue sales tax accounts for $33,751.85. Without the additional revenue, the County would have been down to the month around $10,000.

Hager also spent time as a judge in many other courts, including: Republic, Aurora, Purdy, Butterfield, Wheaton, Exeter, Washburn and Seligman.

Hager graduated from the University of Missouri - Columbia in 1969. He then started his law practice in Mount Vernon with his own firm, Hager Law Office. Hager was a city attorney in Mount Vernon for 32 years and closed his office in 2006.

"The Cassville City Court is very good, well ran, and enjoyable to work in," stated Hager. "My job was to make sure everyone who came into court understood what was going on. If I did this, I realized it makes for a positive interaction with people. When they leave I want to make sure they feel as if they've been treated fairly," Hager also stated.

Hager was presented the job offer after the previous judge had retired at the mandatory age of 75.

Hager believes he chose the right career path. "I loved my jobs. If I had to do it all over again, I'd pick the same career," he explained. So much so that he also reads about law in his free time, along with biographies of presidents and supreme court justices. He reflected on the positive times being the Cassville Municipal Judge, "The court is run professionally. They even set up payment plans for people who come against a hard situation when paying their fees."

"There are many memorable moments from my time spent as a judge," stated Hager, "It was a different experience than practicing law, and it offered a new perspective."

Hager and his wife, Jane, have a daughter, Susan, and two grandchildren. The incoming Cassville Municipal Judge will be Randee Stemmons.

Icy roads mean danger for first responders

Charlea Mills

When there is an emergency for someone in the community, it is easy to take for granted the people who put their lives on hold to go out and help. For one volunteer with the Butterfield Fire Department, the risk associated with being a first responder was actualized in a split second because of icy roads during the winter storms.

Dewayne Sears has been a volunteer with Butterfield since 2010. In those years, he personally responds to around 40 calls a year related to medical and fire emergencies. On January 2, Sears got called out to a vehicle accident around 5:45 a.m. Even though he was driving slowly on the icy roads, disaster struck.

Sears stated, "I lost rear traction in my truck coming down a hill, the truck spun and then landed upside down in a ditch." Thankfully, Sears wasn't seriously injured.

He stated, "A few bumps and bruises, but I never lost consciousness. I called in my own accident. It was one heck of a ride, but I'd rather not go through it again."

Sears' truck was not so lucky in the accident. However, that is the risk that first responders go through each and every time they go out on a call. For them, it isn't a job. It isn't about the money, but rather it is a service to help others.

Sears stated, "I got into it as a way to give back to the community that helped me in my time of need." Through the Butterfield Fire Protection District, Sears went through a week-long first responders' training course that included medical training. However, there is ongoing training for all of those on both the medical and fire response sides.

While responding to an accident, Sears's truck succumbed to the icy conditions and flipped into a ditch.

Sears explained, "We do training constantly, including once a month just to practice our skills. We might not get a ton of calls, but with our year-round training, we get to learn the new technology and techniques so it is there when we need it. We practice so that we keep it fresh in our minds."

Sears said he typically will go out on every third to fifth call the department gets. Since the district is volunteer-only, their jobs come first. Even so, Sears still goes out to any call that he can. He stated, "It's not for the glory; people need help, and someone needs to be there to do it. It's just a way to give back and help people. When I started, I found that I loved it, so I've kept it up."

Dewayne Sears has been a volunteer and first responder with the Butterfield Fire Protection District since 2010.

God's Closet clothes those in need

Samantha Barberio

Making an impact in the community is the goal for the local outreach program, God's Closet, in Eagle Rock. The store focuses on the needs of the community, such as clothing.

God's Closet began in The Lighthouse Church's basement. Diana Conner and other church members hosted many give-away days for their clothing items. "We started out with an excess of children's clothing, and wanted to find a way to give them to people who really need and appreciate them," stated Conner. "It went over big and the people were so grateful."

After much thought and prayer, the church members began to serve the community with clothing drives. They were soon overwhelmed with people asking for adult clothing as well. "We started advertising in the newspaper that we would take left over clothing from yard sales, and clothing began pouring in. Now we have clothing donations from many different sources," stated Conner.

God's Closet shares the church basement with Sunday School classrooms and a kitchen. This creates issues with space. Conner stated, "We put the clothing out the week of the give away and have to put it back up as we close for the day. It often takes us most of the day to get ready."

The clothing program has by far outgrown its current space, and the church members have been raising money for their own building. It was a large task for the 25-member congregation.

"With God's help, we have raised enough money to start our project," stated Conner, "The exterior has been completed and the work inside will be starting soon." The projected opening for God's Closet is March.

The clothing give-away is operated strictly on a volunteer basis, and community members are encouraged to take part by volunteering their time. No restrictions are placed on the recipients and there are no names taken. "We encourage anyone who is in need of a little help to come. We have a large variety of every size from infant to adult," stated Conner.

Currently God's Closet is open the third Saturday of the month from 8 a.m. until 12 p.m. with the help of other area churches. The organization hopes to be open every other Saturday when the new building opens, and they are currently looking for volunteers. For more information, call Diana Conner at (417) 271-4138.

BURL D. THOMAS

Burl D. Thomas, age 83, of Monett, passed away on Friday, February 7, 2014, while at Cox South Hospital in Springfield.

Burl was born on February 26, 1930 in Exeter, the son of the late Burl R. Thomas and Lizzie (Pritchett) Thomas. Burl graduated from Branson High School with the Class of 1948. That same year, Burl moved to Monett and started working at the Katy Mills Feed Store in Monett. He was employed there until 1951, when he partnered with his father-in-law, Ed Jones, in Ed Jones Iron and Metal Company. Burl served his country honorably in the United States Army from 1951-1953 in the Korean War. In 2004, Burl retired as owner and operator of Ed Jones Wrecker. He was very proud of his son Jerry for continuing with the family business and in 2012 the name changed to Thomas Towing. Burl had attended the Macedonia Freewill Baptist Church. He was also a member of the American Legion Post #91. Burl made several respectful trips to the Korean War Memorial to honor those that gave their life for their country. After his retirement, he enjoyed taking care of his garden, tinkering with his tractors and spending time in the shop. The most joy, however, came from spending time with his family.

On June 25, 1950, Burl married Jo Ann Jones. They were blessed with over sixty-three years together. To this union, three children were born. Burl is survived by his wife, Jo Ann, of the home; two sons, Jerry Thomas and wife, Rebecca, of Monett and Stephen Thomas and wife Lana, of Woodbridge, Va.; one daughter, Melisa Bush and husband, Bill, of Joseph, Ore.; one sister, Betty Shirley and husband, Jearald, of Nixa; five grandchildren, Matthew Thomas and wife, Amanda, of Hamilton, Ill., Jeffrey Thomas and wife, Jessica, of Racine, Joseph Thomas and wife, Agnes, of Nixa, Gabriel Bush, of Joseph, Ore., and Stephanie Thomas, of Woodbridge, Va.; five great-grandchildren, Dayton, Aidan, Max, Addie and Olive; and his special cousin, Nancy Parson, and husband, Marvin, of Ozark. Burl was preceded in death by his parents; one brother, Bill Thomas; and one sister, June Rantz.

Funeral services for Mr. Thomas will be held at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, February 13, 2014, at the Buchanan Funeral Home Chapel with Reverend Lee Neill officiating. Burial and military honors will be

MARGIE FAYE FIELDS

Margie Faye Fields, age 82, of Cassville, Missouri, passed away on Monday, February 3, 2014, at her home as she had hoped.

She was born March 18, 1931, near Trench Creek in Barry County, the second daughter of Howard Banks and Faye (Norman) Banks. On July 20, 1949, she married Max D. Fields and began her loving partnership for 62 years. Max preceded her to heaven in 2012. Surviving her are her two sons, Gary Fields and his wife, Gayle; Eric Fields and his wife, Francita; her two grandsons, Zak Fields and his wife, Toni; Blake Fields and his wife, Kelsey; her two most precious great-grandsons, Oliver Michael Fields and Max Payne Fields.

She is also survived by her sister, Betty Mae Neeley and husband, Bob; her brother, Ronnie Banks and wife, Juanita; her brother, James Banks and wife, Betty Jean. Her nieces and nephews, which she adored as her own: “Her girls” Tessie Neeley-McGee, Vicki Neeley, Kay Neeley, Debbie Banks-Ross, Linda Banks-Townsend, Anita Banks-Lowe, Tammy Banks-Rowden. “Her boys” Jeff Banks and Kevin Banks. All of her great nieces and nephews had a special place in her heart. Her friends were forever and dear. She had a special bond with her caregivers, Debbie Thomas and Stacy Brock.

Margie lived in Barry County her entire life. She graduated from Cassville High in 1949, and married Max that summer, then accompanied him through college and teaching until settling in Cassville in 1952 to operate Fields’ Photo. She worked at the studio frequently and accompanied Max to many weddings, family gatherings and photo shoots. Many people have her “hand tinted” portraits hanging in their homes. She was a member of the Mill Street Church of Christ.

After selling Fields’ Photo in 1995, she and Max set out to see North America in their motor-home. She enjoyed keeping a log of their travels and making scrap books of pictures and memorabilia of their journeys. Longing to see her much beloved family and friends seemed to be the only thing that would make Max turn the motor-home towards Cassville.

Her favorite pastimes were collecting butterflies and playing games aggressively to win. Additionally, being a worrywart, she was concerned about the welfare of everyone she knew.

Funeral services were held

Friday, February 7, 2014, in Fohn Funeral Home, Cassville. There will be a private burial at a later date.

Poverty rate high, but many factors at work

Samantha Barberio

According to the recently issued report by the Missourians to End Poverty Coalition, Barry County has a poverty rate over 23 percent, one of the highest poverty rates in the state of Missouri.

The report focuses on the many areas of poverty that effect people, including health, education and nutrition. The total Missouri population is 6,021,988, and the number of Missourians at 100 percent or below the Federal Poverty Level is 947,792. Barry County has a population of 35,546 with a poverty rate of 23.4 percent, meaning approximately 8,318 residents live in poverty.

Poverty guidelines for 2013 are as follows: for a family of one, the annual income must be at or below $11,490; family of two, $15,510; family of three, $19,530; family of four, $23,550; family of five, $27,570; and family of six, $31,590. For families or households with more than six persons, add $4,020 for each additional person.

Rates for poverty have steadily increased over the last five years. In 2008, the rate was 13.4 percent. In 2010, it raised to 15.3 percent, and in 2012, it was at 16.2 percent. While poverty is a prominent issue in the area, it is also a difficult issue to address because of the various causes.

Missourians to End Poverty Coalition has identified five key elements that can be addressed in order to combat the poverty in the state and community. The elements are: food, health, education, energy and housing, family, and economic security.

Food security is a large issue in Missouri as the rate for low food security is 16.7 percent. Low food security is defined as eating patterns of one or more household members were disrupted and food intake reduced because the household lacked money and other resources for food.

“The concept of food security,” as the United States Department of Agriculture defines it, refers to “access by all people at all times to enough food for an active, healthy life.”

The issue with low food security is the directly related health problems to economic hardship since they affect an individual's ability to work or function in school. There are a variety of outcomes that result from inadequate nutrition, including chronic diseases, increased health care costs, reduced productivity at work, and impacting the ability of children to focus and learn in school.

Health care is another large issue for people suffering from poverty. Currently, in order for an adult to access Medicaid in Missouri, they must earn less than $292 per month. The amount of Missourians that have no health insurance is 801,380.

One positive influence in the fight against poverty is a higher high school graduation rate. In 2012, Missouri's graduation rate increased by 2.4 percent, resulting in 1,750 additional high school diplomas. The more focus that is placed on education benefits the community and reduces the poverty rate. Cassville High School has a gradua-

The state flags, with a value of $2,000, will be displayed in the JROTC classroom with brackets designed and constructed by Scott Tech Welding students under the direction of Aaron Obermann and Raymond Brandstetter. The holders were painted by Auto Collision students and instructor, Jansen Fisher. The flag display will be an educational addition to the presidential wall that is used to teach cadets US History.

New water meters more accurate for city

Samantha Barberio

Last year, the City of Cassville Public Works Department initiated the “Water Meter Replacement Project.” The scale of the project was cause to bid the project. The city selected RTS Water Solutions. The Water Meter Division is a water meter and automatic meter reading installation contractor who specializes in mass meter installation.

With the help of RTS, the project has just about wrapped up with only a few remaining meters to be installed. The meters being used are manufactured by Sensus, an industry leader in metering. The iPERL water management system offers unparalleled low flow accuracy with high flow durability.

Innovative magnetic technology allows for the capture of previously unmeasured low flow and drives additional revenue for the utility. 100 percent lead-free with no moving parts, the iPERL system maintains its accuracy over a 20-year lifetime, ten more than traditional meters. They also use a touch read system that transfers the information onto a hand held device, as opposed to the traditional manual reading. So far, 1,683 water meters in the area have been changed. There are currently 83 meters left to change.

The need for new meters in Cassville was very apparent, as many were 20 years or older, passing their 10 year or less expiration date. “The meters were losing efficiency with age and are not able to detect low flows as well in favor of the customer,” stated Public Works Director Steve Walensky. “This was an issue considering the city is trying to battle water loss.”

With the new website, City Hall now allows customers to access their monthly usage history on the website once the customer sets up online billing. “This enables people to see their usage if they so desire, and can aid in practicing water conservation,” stated Walensky.

This is a convenience for the customer, and a large portion of the community had been inquiring about online bill pay. The Public Works Department plans to continue advances in order to reach a higher technical level and efficiency, with the new and more accurate meters. For more information, or to start your online bill pay, go to www.cityofcassville.com.

Firefighters Auxiliary gear up for Chili Supper/Auction

As the Butterfield Firefighters Auxiliary nears their one year anniversary, the group is planning yet another fundraiser to support the local fire protection district.

When the Auxiliary began in March 2013, with the first meeting in April, a group of seven women banded together with the mission to support the local firefighters. Auxiliary president, Missy Brophy, stated, "We started this organization with one agenda in mind, to support our firefighters and help the people of our district."

Almost a year later, the Auxiliary now has 16 members and continues to work to serve the firefighters. Brophy stated, "I have enjoyed seeing this organization grow to what it is today, and I am excited to see how much more we grow. I enjoy working with these girls whether it is on a scene, cooking a training meal, or planning a fundraiser."

The Auxiliary has hosted fundraisers during the year for Fire Chief Tommy Ray to pay for medical bills related to an unforeseen illness, a pancake breakfast, yard sale, and paddle party all to raise funds to benefit the group. The auxiliary provides meals, drinks and rehab to firefighters and victims on emergency scenes, as well as meals for an association meetings.

Last year, the Auxiliary had a unique opportunity to help a family after their own horrific house fire. Brophy explained, "We were able to help a family who lost everything in a house fire by providing them with clothes that had been donated to us for that purpose."

Brophy stated, "We have been shown a great deal of support at our fundraisers and our benefit we had in 2013. With the community's support, we were able to help purchase Class B dress shirts, provide gas to firefighters who traveled to fallen firefighters' funerals within the state, and provide food and drinks on fire scenes as well as trainings."

The Butterfield Fire Protection District had a very busy 2013. They responded to seven structure fires, four grass fires, two car fires, 36 EMS calls, 11 motor vehicle accidents, another two vehicle accidents that required extrication and two other calls. The department also aided other fire departments on 14 different occasions. Training Chief Scott Brophy stated, "We currently have 32 members on the roster, of which we have seven cadets. We are continually taking steps to better our department. The auxiliary has been a tremendous help this year."

The Butterfield Firefighters Auxiliary is planning a chili supper and auction event as their first fundraiser in 2013. The meal will be on Saturday, February 22, at 5 p.m. at the Butterfield Community Building. Missy stated, "We are currently working to purchase Class A uniforms for the Honor Guard. I would like to thank everyone who has supported us in our first year. Our supporters allow us to continue to our mission of supporting our firefighters and the community. I look forward to what 2014 has in store for us." For more information about the fundraiser, see the ad on page 4A.

Wildcats suffer dramatic loss to Trojans

Rachael Freeman

Monday night's match-up against the Cassville Wildcats and the Southwest Trojans ended in dramatic fashion with a 75-73 Trojan victory.

Southwest junior Blake Barnes was too much for the Wildcats to handle as an unstoppable offensive threat.

Barnes ended the game with an impressive 42 points. Barnes made 12 field goes, three 3-pointers and went 9-10 from the line. Eighteen of Barnes' points came in the first quarter.

The fast-paced game kept the score running high throughout the match. Cassville was down 40-32 at the half.

The Wildcats came out of the locker room at halftime ready to play. The Wildcats started making a run and brought the game within three, forcing Southwest Coach Rusty Roe to call a timeout and get his Trojans to regroup.

The Wildcats continued their intensity on both sides of the floor, bringing the game to a tie at 53-53 at the end of the third quarter.

With 5:30 left in the fourth quarter, a no look pass by Gabe Kirk hit Noah Hadlow in the corner for a nothing but net three-point shot, giving the Wildcats at 57-59 lead.

The two teams fought back and forth the entire quarter with several lead changes. With 49 seconds left, Ethan Lowery made a block shot that put the Wildcats within two of the Trojans.

The Wildcats set-up in a full court press and forced a Southwest turnover with 35 seconds left in the game. The Wildcats put up the tying shot but it did not go in and the rebound was knocked out by Southwest.

The Wildcats were given another opportunity to tie the game, but a Southwest steal led to Cassville's Riley Lekarczyk's fifth foul.

Southwest's Barnes went to the line in the double-double situation, sinking both shots, putting the Trojans up by four with 20 seconds left to go.

The Wildcats wouldn't fall there. They quickly brought the ball up the court and junior Josh Brown hit a 3-point shot to put Cassville within one.

The Wildcats quickly fouled to stop the clock. The Trojans made one of the free-throws leaving the score 75-73 with 1.9 seconds left.

Cassville ran an inbound play trying to hit an open man cross court. The pass went out of bounds, knocked out by Cassville. The Wildcats were unable to get a quick steal for another shot and the buzzer sounded with the Trojans on top.

"I thought we showed some composure late in the second half after we lost our lead and Cassville made a good run to take the lead," stated Coach Roe.

"I give credit to our guys for finding a way to get back into the game by our defense. However, we did have trouble matching up on defense in transition throughout the night, so to find a way to finish this type of game was huge for our confidence," Roe added.

Cassville's 6'7" post player, Lowery, finished the night with 23 points and hit 11 of 13 free throws. Hadlow hit two 3's in the match, four field goals and went 5-6 from the line ending the game with 19 points. Also in double figures were Lekarczyk and Brown both with 10 points each.

Also scoring for the Wildcats: Marcus Weatherman 7, Gabe Kirk 2, and Mason Loveland 2.

Robbie Randell, South-

west's sophomore, put up 15 points against the Wildcats while Brad Daniels added 10.

Also scoring for the Trojans: James Sellars 4, Devon Resz 3, and Paton Clay 1.

Hadlow and Resz are pictured below as they square-off in the second half.

Southwest girls take thriller over Monett Wheaton falls in Ozark 7match-up

Lee Stubblefield

The Southwest Trojans used a 25-point performance by Blake Barnes and a stingy fourth-quarter defense to claim a thrilling 63-60 home victory over the Monett Cubs on Friday, January 31. Games between Big 8 teams and those from the Ozark 7 Conference generally favor the school with the higher enrollment. But on this night, the Trojans were better.

With both teams on extended losing streaks, Monett's game against Southwest guaranteed a welcome win for one team. The Cubs dropped all three of their NEO tournament games, and then fell to Carl Junction to run their losing skid to four. The Trojans absorbed painful losses to Blue Eye and East Newton after finishing second in their division at NEO.

"We got off to slow starts against both Blue Eye and East Newton and could never get out of the hole," said Southwest's Rusty Roe.

Blue Eye jumped to a 26-4 first-quarter lead against the Trojans. East Newton led by 15 early. But against Monett, Southwest's offense finally got untracked.

Malon McIntire hit twice from long range in the opening minutes, and Blake Barnes added another trey as the Trojans spurted to a 20-14 lead to finish the first period. Six players scored for Monett's balanced attack in that frame.

The second quarter became a game of H-O-R-S-E between Barnes and Monett's Chad Swanson. Swanson pumped in five field goals for 10 points, but Barnes answered with 13, mixing a trey and a free throw with his four deuces. Southwest carried a 35-32 lead to the locker room at halftime.

The Cubs seized the lead in the third quarter. Jonah Paszek, Cameron Witt, and Swanson each scored 4 points in the frame. Barnes was held scoreless, but Brad Daniels and Seth Delossantos both scored 4 for Southwest. Still, Monett held a 49-47 lead at the final break.

Southwest cranked up the defensive pressure in the final eight minutes, limiting Monett to just 11 points in that span. The Cubs scored just three field goals and hit 5 of 8 free throw attempts in the period.

The Trojans crawled back in front with a pair of Brad Daniels buckets and a half-dozen points from Barnes. Southwest won this game at the free throw line, converting 8 of 11 attempts in the late going.

Monett's Logan Coones launched a desperation heave at the buzzer but that prayer went unanswered, and Southwest held on for the 63-60 victory.

Monett slipped to 8-11 with the loss while Southwest improved to that same 8-11 season mark. The Trojans, 2-0 in the Ozark 7, host Purdy on Thursday, February 13, in a critical conference tilt.

Southwest scorers: Blake Barnes, 25; Brad Daniels, 12; Malon McIntire, 8; Seth Delossantos, 7; Devon Resz, 4; Robbie Randall, 4; James Sellar, 3.

Monett scorers: Chad Swanson, 14; Jonah Paszek, 12; Cameron Witt, 9; Elijah George, 8; Logan Coones, 6; Collin Randles, 4; Isaac Long, 3; Quincy Jackson, 2.

Polar vortex? Arctic blast? Snow and ice?

One would have thought it was a balmy day on the beach in the Washburn gym on Monday night as the Southwest Lady Trojans rang up a 71-39 victory over the visiting Wheaton Lady Bulldogs. Southwest's gunners poured on the heat, hitting 13 treys in just three quarters of work to help run their Ozark 7 Conference slate to 2-0.

Jaime Shrum alone swished half a dozen long range shots for Southwest while amassing a game-high 25 points.

Wheaton took a brief early lead in this game as Southwest struggled with foul trouble in the opening minutes. Emily Killion scored with a jumper in the paint as the visitors scored first, and Mariah Kochell sank a pair of free throws to give the Lady Bulldogs their last lead at 4-3.

Shannon Mitchell opened the long distance flood gates from the top of the key, and Shrum followed with three straight bombs as Southwest opened a 15-5 lead with 2:59 left in the quarter. Mitchell hit consecutive treys in the final minute and a half, and Montana Hendrix scored with a catch-and-shoot inbounds pass as the Lady Trojans claimed a 25-7 lead at the first break.

The Lady Bulldogs found some offense in the second quarter, but still could not keep pace with the run and gun Lady Trojans. Wheaton's big front line of Karlee Mason, Kochell, and Killion all scored early in the second frame to chip the lead down to 28-12 at the 6:49 mark.

Southwest answered with back-to-back interior baskets by Mitchell, and a fast break finish by Hendrix. Jessica Morgan drained a trey at the 3:24 mark to push the lead to 38-12.

Wheaton's Killion scored with an offensive board, and Kochell fought for a pair of baskets in the paint to cut the lead to 43-20. But Morgan nailed her second trey of the quarter for the final points of the half, and Southwest led by 46-20 at halftime.

Mariah Kochell put on a clinic in the paint in the third quarter, scoring 9 points for the Lady Bulldogs. But Southwest won that quarter by a 19-11 count as the bombing raid continued.

Shrum hit from the deep left corner and from between the circles, and Hendrix threw in a rainmaker from the right corner.

Southwest led by 65-31 at the final break.

A clock-shortened final period saw a more subdued pace, and the Lady Trojans ran out the clock for the 71-39 victory.

Southwest improved to 11-9 overall, and 2-0 in the Ozark 7 Conference. The Lady Trojans host Purdy on Thursday, February 13, at Washburn. Wheaton's record dipped to 5-13 with the loss.

Southwest scorers: Jaime Shrum, 25; Montana Hendrix, 18; Shannon Mitchell, 14; Jessica Morgan, 8; Kendra Hayworth, 4; Holly Crow, 2.

Wheaton scorers: Mariah Kochell, 17; Emily Killion, 12; Haley Beck, 4; Adison Goostree, 2; Karlee Mason, 2; Amanda Munday, 2.

Purdy girls defeat Blue Eye in overtime

The Purdy Lady Eagles welcomed a day back in school with an overtime victory over Blue Eye Tuesday evening.

Purdy started the game off aggressively, outscoring the Lady Bulldogs 12-4. The Lady Bulldogs battled back throughout the first half but went into the locker room down by six.

A dominate third quarter by the Lady Bulldogs took Purdy's lead away going into the final quarter, bringing the game to a tie. Both teams put up 14 points in the fourth quarter sending the game into overtime.

A back and forth battle was won by the Lady Eagles with a final score of 46-42.

Purdy's Desirie Ennes lead the Lady Eagles with 15 points followed by Courtney White's 14 points. Jayse Henderson added 10 points to the victory with Sami House finishing with 5 points and Ashton Young with 2.

Barry County Health Department Food Service Report

The Health Department divides food service code violations into two categories: Critical and Non-Critical Violations.

Critical Violations are more likely than other violations to contribute to food contamination, or illness and/or injury.

Non-Critical Violations although important to the overall hygiene of the establishment, do not necessarily present an immediate threat to food contamination or illness and/or injury.

A report for each establishment that is inspected shows the number of critical violations, along with a short statement as to the nature of the violations. The report also shows the number of non-critical violations but doesn't list the nature of those violations.

Cassville Education Fund plans Trivia Night

Wil LeCompte and Briana Robertson take a breather after competing in a bonus point contest during last year's Trivia Night fundraiser.

Cassville's newest Champions of Trivia will be crowned on Friday, March 7, at the Cassville Education Fund Trivia Night festivities. The informal evening of fun and games begins at 7:00 p.m. at the Cassville High School commons.

The defending champions, the Crowder College Extra Credit trivia team, will battle other teams to see who has the greatest knowledge of trivia. Topics include everything from sports, history, geography, literature, pop culture, movies and music, to food and nature. This is a team competition where team members discuss each question and agree upon one answer that is written on their answer sheet.

Four rounds of trivia questions will be held. While the scores of each round are being tallied, team members will be able to participate in optional winner-take-all bonus point competitions. The champions will be the team that, at the end of the night, has correctly answered the most number of questions and earned the most bonus points.

In addition to garnering bragging rights, the winners will be awarded medals and their names will be engraved on a traveling trophy.

Dessert and refreshments will be available throughout the evening.

Friends, church groups, co-workers, clubs and trivia buffs are encouraged to form their own teams with up to eight members. Individuals can participate as well and will be assigned to a pick-up team the night of the event.

Entrance fees are $15 per player or $120 per team. To guarantee a spot in the competition, participants should pre-register at the Cassville Chamber of Commerce office, 504 Main Street, or by calling 417-847-2814. Spectators may observe the fun for a $5 per person admission fee.

Proceeds from Trivia Night benefit the Cassville Education Fund. The fund is a permanent endowment

County assessment sheets due

Sherry Sears, Barry County Assessor, announced that the second notice reminders for the 2014 Personal Property and Business Assessment Sheets are scheduled to be mailed out.

The second notice reminders will be mailed in the form of a post card. If you didn't receive an assessment sheet in January, or if you receive a second notice post card from the Assessor's Office, please contact the office immediately at (417) 847-2613 so that property can be properly assessed before the March 1 deadline.

New residents who have not received a form may also call the Assessor's Office to request one or go into the office for assistance filling it out. All forms must be postmarked by March 1, 2013, to avoid a late assessment penalty.

For more information, call the Assessor's office at (417) 847-2613.

tion rate well above the state average, putting the county in a positive direction.

Safe and affordable housing plays a huge role in the quality of life for those stricken by poverty. Also, job wages, quality child care and tax burdens for low income families play a role in poverty.

Jessica Long, of the Missouri Association for Community Action, calls on Missouri to join the more than twenty states that have adopted official statewide plans to reduce or end poverty. Rev. Christopher Ross, pastor of St. Peter's United Church of Christ in Owensville, stated, "[The report] is a tool to help us become informed about the basic facts of people suffering around us so we can answer this calling."

The guiding principles for the Missourians to End Poverty coalition are "All people in Missouri should have true access to quality healthcare, decent housing, adequate nutrition and appropriate education. Our state should fully fund, fully implement and/or fully supplement, as appropriate, state and federal programs for health and mental health services, housing and homelessness services, food assistance programs, and all levels of public education."

For more information, visit www.communityaction.org or call (537) 634-2969 for meeting dates and locations.

Cassville's third grade Character Awards

Cassville Intermediate announced their third grade Character Award winners for December 2013. The students selected this month were chosen for their integrity.

Biggest Box Top check ever for Shell Knob

Wilma Hilton

Shell Knob Schools received a check in December for $1,282.10 from General Mills, the sponsor of the Box Tops for Education program. This is the largest check ever earned by SKS and represents a collection period from March 1 to October 31, 2013. The check was presented to Kaliegh Shinn, an SKS Student Council representative, who accepted it on behalf of the entire student body. In the past, Box Top funds have been used to purchase iPads and Nabis (a K-2 version of an iPad), athletic equipment, an outdoor storage unit, Legos, and numerous classroom supplies and activities.

On another note, the Labels for Education drive is also going well. Over 200 Campbell soup, Prego, Pop Secret, Post cereal and Swanson labels have been collected in two weeks. The school still needs 800 more to qualify for 20 free books.

Mr. Swadley is pleased to announce character education medal winners for the month of December. In partnership with elementary counselor Gary Jurgensen, Purdy's kindergarten through fourth grade teachers present a different character trait each month. At the end of the month, each teacher nominates one student who best exemplifies the trait presented. These students receive character medals from Mr. Swadley.

In December, students focused on Generosity. December medal winners are fourth graders Caden Brown and Aubrey Bennett; third graders Lizbeth Salazar and Makayla Mazza; second graders Madison Dent, Melissa Lee and Hadley Hughes; first graders Karma Kessinger, Eryn Schlessman and Amarie Burt; and kindergartners Dominick Cardenas, Rose Wilson and Lane Chancellor.

Brooks raises funds for cancer donation

Brooks

Charlea Mills

Audra Brooks, an 8th grader at Cassville Middle School, recently raised over $200 for the Susan G. Komen Foundation.

Brooks's project was part of her Family and Consumer Sciences class, taught by Ann Ellis, as a National Programs in Action project. Students are challenged to do a project that makes a difference.

To raise money, Brooks crocheted scarves and sold them. She sold each scarf for $12 to people from her school and her mother's work. Brooks stated, "I thought it would be cool to raise money for something important. I know its not much, but I wanted to do something." Each scarf took around an hour and a half to complete.

Brooks's great grandmother passed away from breast cancer which led her to choose a breast cancer foundation as the recipient of her money. Brooks went on, "I know a lot of people

Barry and Lawrence counties have a new 4-H club. The meetings are conducted in both Purdy, at the community center, and Pierce City. The president of the club is Kalem Parrigon, Vice President is Clay Parrigon, secretary is Robyn Schad, and Treasurer is Trinity Witt. The head of the club is Nathan Witt.

The club has a clover kids group and does lots of different projects. The kids also have lots of guest speakers. The guest speaker we had in January was Dan Vanderhoff from the Barry County Conservation Agency. He talked to the kids about trapping and hunting seasons. He also brought in different furs for them to see. He brought in two different foxes, mink, otter and even a bear. All of these animals come from the Barry County area.

For more information about this club, contact Nathan Witt at (417) 459-1424.

Designed with safety in mind.

Form following function—in an electrical plug, it means the design helps protect the user from electrical hazards. That's an especially important principle throughout your home.

Some newer electric plugs look different from older ones because of new standards for higher-voltage home appliances. Never alter a plug. Contact an electrician to install the correct cord or outlet.

How to write a classified ad
that gets results

Example: COCKER SPANIEL,
1) Female 1 yr. old. 2) Blonde.
3) Good with children. 4) $100 or best offer. 5) 000-0000 after 6:00.

1) Identify what you're selling.
Abbreviations may be clear to you, but not a prospective buyer.

2) Describe the item with enough basic information to get the reader interested. Feature appealing details.

3) Don't exaggerate the item's condition or features. Make your pitch attractive, but believable.
People shun claims that sound too good to be true.

4) Include price. Advertising the price draws greater response because people are interested in what they can afford. If price is negotiable, say so.

5) Be home when your ad is running or specify the hours you can be reached. People may not call back if they can't reach you at first. Don't risk missing a sale

Southwest R-V Semester Review

Bob Walker, Superintendent of Southwest Schools

School year 2013-2014 is half over...kind of. The inclement weather prior to Christmas break cut into our first semester a total of six days. But we have wrapped up our first "adjusted" half, prompting my sharing the following update on life at Southwest R-V. As with previous semester reviews, our goal is to focus on different areas and accomplishments, as well as to inform concerning particular challenges the district may be facing.

As I last reported going into the summer months, we had several capital improvement projects going on. Most everything came together prior to school starting or soon after. These projects included the construction of a new Elementary office area at the northwest corner of the existing cafeteria, the renovation of the parking and drive areas at the Elementary/Middle Schools, creating an overflow parking area just south of the High School, and sealing the Middle School and Elementary cafeteria roofs. The roofs were a maintenance issue, but the other improvements have enhanced both the safety and convenience for our kids, staff and patrons.

Another improvement that was finally completed over last several months was the installation of a new telephone/intercom system in the Middle School. We also consider this to be a safety upgrade. This project was more challenging than we would have preferred, and no doubt caused some frustrating moments for us all. However, it appears that the vendor has now gotten things in working order. We certainly appreciate everyone's patience in this process.

And finally, an update on one other capital improvement item that was mentioned in our last review—the construction of a 400 meter running track with accompanying field event areas. We were not able to begin this project until October, which normally would have provided enough time before winter weather became a factor. Unfortunately the weather has not cooperated and completion has been delayed. Hopefully there will be enough good days of weather to finish before track season begins, but this is an unknown at this point. We certainly don't want any additional work to take place until conditions merit doing so. The work thus far has been excellent and the end product will eventually provide a great addition to our district.

From a technology standpoint, we are preparing for a major infrastructure upgrade in respect to the network that our district computers operate on. For years our technology director, Wes Burleson, has kept us in good standing and operating quite efficiently, but with the arrival of newer devices and more instructional resources, we are outgrowing our current network. It is our goal that during this spring semester installation of a completely new wireless system will take place. Like so many districts have done or are considering doing, we are in the process of researching various versions of a One to One (1:1) Initiative. The goal of 1:1 is to enhance student learning by providing more individual computer devices that will allow greater access to the educational resources available on the internet. As mentioned, we are still in the researching stage, but regardless of what 1:1 path we ultimately choose, our new infrastructure is a critical piece to this being possible.

Academically, we continue the transition process that goes with the 5th cycle of the Missouri School Improvement Program (MSIP 5) and the Missouri Learning Standards (MLS), originally referred to as the Common Core State Standards. In respect to our most recent Annual Performance Report (APR), we scored securely in the middle of the "Fully Accredited" range, acquiring 80% of the available points. Certainly our goal is to achieve "Accredited with Distinction" status, but we are pleased to be performing on a more consistent basis over the last five years. As the MLS become more of a testing focus, all districts will be stretched in the accreditation process.

As always here at Southwest, students are offered a wide range of co-curricular/extra-curricular experiences. A couple of changes this year are a result of some additions to our staff. We now have two Vocational Agricultural teachers, Rachael Brown and Chris Hunt. Both are working hard to improve our Ag program and Future Farmers of America chapter. Also, our new high school Communication Arts teacher, Brandon Burns, is now leading our Choir program. We have converted the stage area at the high school into a choir room, making it a more appropriate venue for these classes.

Our fall semester sports went well, as new boys' coach Rusty Roe and girls' coach Jeff Atchison led their middle school basketball teams to successful seasons. Both are also our high school head basketball coaches and are doing a fine job. First year cross country coach, Brian Watson, also led competitive teams with good numbers, as did high school softball and volleyball. Tony Eagleburger's softball team was very young this season, but improved with experience. Senior Kayleigh Ennis was named 1st team All-District Utility player and 2nd team All-Region, and sophomore Shasta Sanders achieved Academic All-State recognition. Volleyball had a very good season, compiling a record of 26-5-2, while winning their second straight Ozark 7 Conference title. During the season, the team was ranked as high as 10, reaching the district semi-finals. Junior Shannon Mitchell was selected as an All-State honoree, as she and Senior Montana Hendrix were named to the All-District teams. In addition, Shannon and Steve Voyak were chosen as conference Player of the Year and Coach of the Year, respectively.

Just a short comment on our financial status, funding for this year has remained stable, albeit still far less than past legislation intended. But, I'm thankful that there does not appear to be any surprises in the way of cuts this second half of the school year and hopeful that the upcoming legislative session will be bring a bi-partisan focus on providing more resources for schools.

In closing, based on the previous five months, 2013-2014 promises to finish as a very productive school year at Southwest. No doubt the weather has already taken its toll on instructional time. In addition to the six days missed prior to Christmas, we've missed five more days just after break. I would ask our parents and caregivers to please be patient and understanding as decisions are made concerning making up days. It's never about punishing kids or meeting a quota. It's about instruction.

Thank you for caring about our students and for supporting Southwest R-V.

Purdy Renewal Project and Purdy Spanish Club host community event

Ten year-old environmentalist Myca DeFoore, lends a hand with cardboard recycling.

The Purdy Renewal Project and the Purdy High School Spanish Club joined forces to host the first community service event on Saturday, January 18. Approximately 15 community volunteers braved the cold to staff the recycling center on the Purdy R-2 Schools campus. Volunteers experienced all facets of the recycling process, including crushing oil filters, baling cardboard and plastic, and sorting paper.

The group, which consisted of volunteers of all ages and walks of life, worked steadily until well after the 11.m. completion time. Purdy High School Spanish Club Advisor Gerry Wass noted, "I had to kick them out around 11:30 a.m., because I wanted to go home. No one seemed anxious to leave."

rector Renae Neill volunteered at the event. "It went very smoothly. We had such a great turn-out that I was afraid we would run out of work before time to wrap up things. However, when Shaunna and Cory Gamble showed up with a stock trailer packed with empty water bottles, staying busy was no longer an issue. It was such a great day."

Purdy High School science teacher and volunteer Molly Strickland reflected on her experience, "I was amazed at the turnout for the first community event and at the spirit among the volunteers. Not a single person complained. We all just jumped in and worked together. It was a great way to spend my Saturday morning. I can't wait to do it again."

Volunteer Moe Hightower praised the organizers for a job well done. "Sr. Wass and the kids have done a great job! It's a wonderful service to the community. I will definitely do it again."

Mike DeFoore credited his daughter, Myca, with his involvement in the project. "My daughter is the environmentalist in the family. She attends school in Springfield, but when she heard about the community recycling event at Purdy she said, 'I want to be a part of that.'" The DeFoore father/daughter team plans to participate in the next event. "Myca has set up a recycling center at our house and at her grandpa's. She plans to bring her own items to recycle the next time we volunteer."

The sponsoring groups plan to staff the recycling center with community volunteers on the third Saturday of each month, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Future plans also include implementing volunteer projects beyond recycling. Wass stated, "The Purdy Renewal Project hopes to turn this into true service for the whole community, with projects beyond recycling, as soon as possible, as the weather warms and enough people are trained to maintain the Saturday recycling opportunity. Anyone interested in volunteering can contact Renae Neill or me at the school or simply show up on a third Saturday, ready to work."
