When the team of divers from KISS Rebreathers (of Fort Smith, Arkansas) made their second park-sanctioned diving exploration of Roaring River Cave over the weekend, they made a startling discovery. At a depth of 225 feet below the surface of the water - the point previous divers had reached in 1979, then again in the early 1990s - a second opening into the caverns beyond had formed near the narrow opening discovered by previous divers. Through these two small openings, at impressively strong discharge rates, pours all of the water that feeds Roaring River.

“This is an exciting find,” KISS owner and head diver,

Mike Young, said. “That second opening wasn’t there when we made our dives in May.”

Young surmises that the high water-discharge rate experienced during spring flooding led to the formation of the second opening. At one point during May that

“Dress A Girl Around The World” program makes dresses in church basement

It isn’t uncommon for Barry County residents to spend some of their time in warmer places in the winter. Sue Cavness and her husband are one of those couples who like to avoid harsh Missouri winters by traveling to an RV park in Texas each year. Little did Sue know that her time in Texas would allow her to bring a ministry over to Missouri.

While at the RV park, Cavness was invited to a meeting of the people who were living there. A group had been formed that worked together to create new dresses for little girls in other countries, as a part of the “Dress a Girl Around the World” program.

Sue believes that it was a God thing for her to have attended the meeting at all, as she didn’t even know how to sew. Sue continued to go to the meetings and found ways to help the group in other ways and fell in love with the ministry.

When Sue returned to Missouri in the spring, she asked her church family at Emmanuel Baptist to donate hand-me-down men’s shirts to take back with her to Texas for her next visit. The church donated a multitude of shirts to help, inspiring Sue to be-

County COVID-19 numbers rise sharply

Sheila Harris

The number of new cases of COVID-19 in Barry County has increased exponentially in the past two weeks.

Nineteen new cases were reported by the Barry County Health Department for the reporting-week ending June 9, followed by an additional 29 cases on June 16 and 36 more on June 22.

Perhaps more telling is the positivity rate, a number which increased from 4.49 percent positivity on June 9 to 21.17 percent on June 16. The positivity rate for the current week is 32.14 percent.

CoxHealth Media Spokesperson, Kaitlyn McConnell says the number of patients requiring hospitalization from COVID-19 complications has risen as well.

“We hit 88 patients in our hospitals at one point (Monday),” she said, “including a patient in Cox Monett.”

On June 18, CoxHealth had 79 COVID patients, a number which represented a five-fold increase, according to McConnell.

McConnell said the rise in numbers can be attributed to a variety of factors. One factor, she says, is because the vaccination rate in lower in southwest Missouri than in other parts of the country.

The Barry County Health Department reports a 31.2 percent vaccination rate as of June 22 for residents of the county. This percentage is lower than the cumulative Missouri state average of a little over 44 percent, and much lower than states along the west coast and many states in the northeast, which have achieved a vaccination rate of well over 60 percent.

“We have seen the success of vaccination firsthand at Cox,” McConnell said. “While the vaccine isn’t perfect, we have seen very few

Leave tree trimming to experts

Recent storms and spring growth have left a lot of trees in need of attention. Barry Electric Cooperative wants you to know that tree trimming is a job best left to experts, especially when they are located near power lines. In fact, the two leading causes of death while trimming trees come from falling and electrocution.

Whenever you trim trees or do other yard work, remember these tips:

- Wear safety glasses to protect your eyes from sawdust, pine needles and other debris.
- When operating a trimmer or chainsaw, you’ll need ear protection, shoes with slip-resistant soles, chaps and gauntlets.
- If you use a ladder, tie it off to a secure location. Never go anywhere near a power line with a ladder, especially a metal one.
- Be aware of anyone on the ground. It’s best to have a spotter watch for people who might wander into your worksite.
- Safety is our number one priority and we are trained experts in safely removing debris from around powerlines. If in doubt, call us!

Purdy City Council Met in June

Ezra DeVore

Purdy City Council met Wednesday, June 16.

According to Public Works Director, Lonnie Lowery, due to an undetectable water leak, Purdy is losing nearly one-third of their water supply - approximately one million gallons of water each month. Two recent water leaks have been fixed, yet the third remains unfound. Extensive measures continue to be taken to find and fix the leak.

According to Section Three of the Ordinance of the City of Purdy which Prohibits Illegal Dumping within the City Limits of the City of Purdy, any person engaged in illegal dumping will be summoned for an ordinance violation. This ordinance is presently in full force and effect.

Purdy May Police Report

- On May 2, a loose dog killed twelve chickens after breaking into a chicken coop. The killer was caught and taken to a dog pound, and their owner was issued a citation for “dog running at large.”

- On May 6, two juveniles threw rocks at children, breaking a car window. The juveniles were reported to the juvenile office.
- On May 10, a school custodian caught a juvenile male vandalizing the FEMA building with “gang style graffiti” using a black permanent marker. This juvenile was also reported to the juvenile office.
- On May 12, a victim was bitten by a loose dog, and the owner was issued a citation for “dog running at large.” The victim was not seriously injured.
- On May 13, two purses were stolen from an unlocked vehicle in the Dollar General Store parking lot. Several pieces of jewelry and a cell phone were among the stolen items. The investigation is ongoing. Possibly related, on May 15, another purse was stolen from another unlocked car. Later that evening, a credit card taken from the purse was used at Happy House in Monett. Another credit card was used at the Rapid Roberts Store in Monett to purchase $100 worth of scratcher tickets. A possible suspect has been identified and charges have been filed in Monett for fraudulent use of a credit device. The alleged suspect has an extended criminal history, with current felony warrants, and has allegedly been involved in theft in Monett, Pierce City, Purdy, and Aurora.

- On May 18, a parent reported that a teacher had physically assaulted her special needs son by grabbing his arm. The incident is being reviewed by an attorney to see if any charges are warranted.

Ezra DeVore

The Purdy School Board met June 21, with all votes being unanimous.

The resignation of Alyson Reinold, the 5th Grade Teacher for 2021-2022 School Year, was accepted.

Makayla Palmer, Secondary English Language Arts; Katelyn Chrisman, Secondary Social Studies; Abigail Buntin, 5th Grade, were employed as Certified Personnel for the 2021-2022 school year.

Brandon Moore, Boys' Golf; Jennifer Young, HS Volleyball Assistant; Brandon Moore, 7th/8th Girls' Basketball; Mica Propps, 7th/8th Volleyball; Jennifer Young, 5th/6th Girls' Basketball were employed for Extra Duty for the 2021-2022 school year.

Sheri Farmer, Full-Time Bus Driver, and Melissa Hamilton, Full-Time Kitchen

Staff, were employed as Classified Staff.

Member Reuben Henderson made a motion to replace Ms. Emily Brewer's computer lab computers, and to accept the CDW-G for Lenovo Computers and View Sonic monitors for a total cost of $20,565.25, as presented.

A motion was made by Ken Terry and seconded by Reuben Henderson to approve the superintendent's recommendation that all school transportation route drivers hold a CDL license or a CDL with Bus Driver Endorsements license, including the preschool route drivers.

A motion was made by Travis Brown and seconded by Reuben Henderson to authorize the removal of Mindi Gates from all First State Bank of Purdy accounts, including safe deposit accounts and CD accounts, and to add Travis Graham to all First State Bank of Purdy accounts, including safe deposit accounts and CD accounts, effective July 1, 2021, with all other signees remaining the same.

This was Mindi Gates's final board meeting as superintendent, and she was given a photo-collage piece of wall art inscribed with a heartfelt letter on the back from her former colleagues, detailing their immense appreciation for the eight years of inspiring service Gates gave to her community. When read aloud by Susan Funkhouser, the room was filled with a spirit of genuine gratitude.

With vaping invading the high and middle schools, the Cassville School Board now campaigns to counteract it.

Four smoke detectors have been placed in the middle school bathrooms, where it's been known to be prevalent; however, the devices can detect any marijuana-related vapes, as well as regular vaping. For a price tag of $1,100 each, their sensitivity is extreme.

Sound monitors have also been implemented in the restrooms to prevent fights.

Resignations were accepted from Brian Barbee and Lauren Reedy, along with a liquidated damages penalty of $500.

The Golden schoolhouse was sold to the Golden Baptist Church for $30,001, beating out the second place bid of $30,000.01.

The Board has raised the Certified salary schedule base by $1,000, which moves the base from $36,500 to $37,500.

Thursday, June 17, was Richard Asbill's final school board meeting before he vacates his position as superintendent and begins his new position in Bolivar. Asbill was bid heartfelt farewells from the board, as well as by several staff members. A plaque was given to Asbill to commemorate his eleven-year service in the Cassville School District, years those who have worked alongside him look back upon fondly.

"I have been blessed," Asbill said, "by being part of a truly great school system and so many great colleagues. Kari, Sawyer, and I wish you each of you all the best and pray that our efforts to achieve together would remain strong."

DRESSES from FRONT

gin her own Barry County branch of the ministry. Sue has a team of volunteers to help with the project and workdays. Shirts are donated and then cut apart. Almost every part of the shirt is usable, only the collar and yoke are discarded. Next, they are made into kits cut into patterns including pockets, straps, and ruffles. A group of volunteers chooses what patterns would look best for the dresses and makes a kit of all the pieces to be sewn. Some of the volunteers have the ability to sew and take some of the kits home to finish in their spare time. Sue has a team of over 40 seamstresses that work on the dresses outside of their workdays. Each piece of clothing has a Dress A Girl patch sewn on and has been known to stop sex trafficking among the children. Predators will not go after the children with the patch because they know they are protected. Sue believes the patches to be a shield of God over the children. After their completion, dresses are hand delivered by missionaries to other countries like Honduras, Bolivia, and Kenya as well as others. The Dress A Girl team from Barry County have made a total of 871 dresses as well as 259 pairs of boy's shorts for these children over the course of two years. Volunteers participate in workdays to help make the clothing from April to October meeting almost every two weeks in the Emmanuel Baptist Church basement.

To help Dress A Girl, one can donate clothing or fabric that does not have holiday print and isn't white, see-through, or pastel colored. Donations should be 100% or mostly cotton. The group encourages anyone interested to come help work on the dresses or even just to visit and see what the group is all about. No experience is needed to participate and there is a job for everyone. They also post updates to their Facebook page, "Dress A Girl Southwest Missouri".

Barry County 4-H Club installs new sign

2021 Purdy High School Graduate Annabelle Bowman signed a letter of intent to continue her education at Baptist Bible College in Springfield this fall and to represent the BBC Patriots on the basketball court. Bowman was joined at the signing table by her parents, Johnny and Carol Ann Bowman, Lady Patriots Coach Dakota Webb and Lady Eagles Basketball Coaches Brandon Moore and Jennifer Young. Members of Bowman's basketball and softball teams, Purdy classmates, community members, school staff and fans also gathered to celebrate Bowman's special moment. In welcoming Baptist Bible College's Dakota Webb to the event, Purdy Lady Eagles Softball Coach Jennifer Schallert Cornelius noted of Bowman, a three-sport athlete for Purdy, "You're getting a hardworking, dedicated, stubborn young lady, and all those things make her an outstanding athlete. Bowman's basketball accolades at Purdy High School include honorable mention on the SWCL All Conference Team her sophomore and junior years and 2nd Team All Conference and All District membership her senior year. Annabelle was named Purdy Lady Eagles MVP for both her junior and senior seasons at Purdy High School. In addition to playing basketball at Baptist Bible College she also plans to pursue a degree in business. Like Bowman, Dakota Webb will be new to the Baptist Bible College campus and court in the upcoming year. In his first year as the Lady Patriots basketball coach, Webb is committed to reaching out to prospective student athletes whose integrity and drive mirror the college's standard of excellence. Webb noted, "You want to work with great people. If we can seek and find those who are invested in growth off the court as well as they are on the court, the work ethic it takes to be that type of person, that's what excites me whenever I am on the recruiting trail, looking for athletes. Whenever I was fortunate enough to come across AB I knew based on her character references and talking to her that that's the type of girl we want. We've got a special community that's been fostered over 70 years at our campus, and we've got to bring in the right people to keep that going, and I think we've found one."

Geneva taught early grades at the Munsey school in Eagle Rock. She then moved to Springfield where she did clerical work. During her working career, she also did clerical work for Winthrop Rockefeller in Little Rock, Arkansas. In 1958, she and her husband opened Norman Auto Supply where she served as a supporting partner. More than anything, Geneva loved being a wife and mother. She spent most of her life as a homemaker caring for and supporting her family.
Geneva was a woman of strong faith and a member of First Baptist Church. There she participated in many Bible studies, taught Sunday school, and served as a Deacon. Host families sought for exchange students ASSE International Student Exchange Programs (ASSE), in cooperation with your local high school, invites families in the area to host U.S. State Department sponsored scholarship students from a variety of countries: Ukraine, Kazakhstan, Romania, India, Indonesia and Turkey to name a few. These young scholars who will be arriving in August are merit-based scholarship finalists on the FLEX and YES programs that are sponsored by the U.S. State Department Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs. The Future Leaders Exchange Program (FLEX) brings in students from countries that were once part of the former Soviet Union. The Kennedy-Lugar Youth Exchange and Study Program (YES) provides scholarships for high school students from countries with significant Muslim populations.

While most student exchange programs are fee based, the YES and FLEX programs provide full scholarships for participants. These young ambassadors, who were selected after a rigorous and competitive testing process, look forward to learning first-hand about American democracy and to experience life as an American high school student.

ASSE students are enthusiastic and excited to experience American culture, they are ages 15-18, have full insurance coverage and their own spending money. Host families welcome these students into their family, not as a guest, but as a family member, giving everyone involved a rich cultural experience. ASSE host families are asked to provide students with meals, a place to sleep and study, and a warm, supportive environment. All types of families are welcome to apply, including single parents, couples, and retirees.

Supported by a local representative during their U.S. homestay, each student will see America at work. They will attend town meetings, meet community leaders, visit local newspapers, observe small businesses in action and participate in community service projects, as they learn about American society and values, acquire leadership skills, and help educate Americans about their countries and cultures.

ASSE International Exchange Programs is a non-profit, public benefit organization. For information about ASSE visit the organization's website at host.asse.com. For information about sharing your home with a new "son" or "daughter", contact Tiffany Wilson at 816-807-2765.

Barry County Health Department May Food Service Report

The Health Department divides food service code violations into two categories: Priority and Core items.

Priority items are more likely than other violations to contribute to food contamination, or illness and/or injury.

Core items, although important to the overall hygiene of the establishment, do not necessarily present an immediate threat to food contamination or illness and/or injury.

A report for each establishment that is inspected shows the number of priority items, along with a short statement as to the nature of the violations. The report also shows the number of core items, but doesn't list the nature of those violations.

Pea Ridge National Military Park announces deer management plan

Superintendent Kevin Eads has announced the completion of a comprehensive planning effort to analyze potential impacts of a Deer Management Plan (plan) and

Based on the analysis presented in the EA and public comments received during the EA review period, the NPS selected Alternative B and a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI) was signed by Regional Director Bert Frost on May 27, 2021.

The purpose of the plan is to address issues associated with the overpopulation of white-tailed deer at the park. The proposed action was selected after careful analysis of resources and visitor impacts, and consultation with affiliated tribes, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS), the Arkansas Department of Game and Fish, Arkansas State Historic Preservation Officer (SHPO), and review of public comments.

Where there is an overabundance of deer there is an increase in deer-vehicle strikes, deer-related diseases, and deer browsing, which has a negative impact on native vegetation. The plan's selected alternative seeks to improve the health of the deer herd, the habitat, and to increase human health and safety by reducing and maintaining the park's deer population at 20-35 deer per square mile.

The park will continue to work with partners to develop an implementation plan, with associated compliance, based on the Deer Management Plan. As a result, and due to current, and planned, projects, management of deer on the park is anticipated to begin in 2023. For more information, visit <https://parkplanning.nps.gov/projectHome.cfm?projectID=94120>.

MDC expands opportunities for commercial photography and filming

The Missouri Conservation Commission gave final approval to the Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) on a proposed change to the Wildlife Code of Missouri regulations that would require permits for commercial or for-profit photography and videography on MDC areas.

Commercial use is defined as any activity that directly or indirectly results in financial gain, or where money is exchanged in connection with the activity. MDC notes commercial-use permits are not required for news agencies, hobby photographers and videographers, or those taking personal pictures or videos. Photography and filming on MDC areas for non-commercial use have been and remain allowed on MDC areas without the need for a commercial-use permit.

Professional, for-profit photography and filming have historically been restricted on MDC areas as “commercial use” activities. The new regulations, effective July 1, will allow commercial photography and filming on MDC areas through new commercial use permits. The new regulations come amidst requests from photographers and videographers to allow commercial photography and videography on conservation areas.

A Commercial Photography Permit will be required for commercial photographers on department areas with an associated fee of $100 annually (expires June 30 each year). A Commercial Videography Permit will be required for all commercial videography on MDC areas with an associated fee of $500 per day.

Commercial photographers will also need to apply for a no-cost Special Use Permit in certain situations (allow 30 days for processing):

- Special accommodations requested (activities normally not allowed on conservation areas, such as after-hour access, vehicles on non-public roads, etc.);
- Use of unmanned aerial system (UAS) or drone;
- Use of props (larger than average person could carry);
- When more than ten people are involved;

On MDC areas associated with nature and education centers, staffed ranges, offices, and on the following department areas:

- Burr Oak Woods Conservation Area
- August A. Busch Memorial Conservation Area
- James A. Reed Memorial Wildlife Area
- Rockwoods Reservation

Find more information or apply for an MDC Special Use Permit at <https://mdc.mo.gov/permits/special-use-permits>.

Other county, state, and federal land management agencies allow commercial photography and filming on their areas through the use of commercial permits with associated fees. MDC staff reviewed other agencies within and outside the state to determine a price structure.

The proposed regulations were initially approved by the Missouri Conservation Commission in September 2020. Following initial Commission approval, the proposed regulations were submitted by MDC to the Office of the Secretary of State for a 30-day public comment period in October 2020. Following a review of comments received, the Commission gave final approval to the proposed regulations in December 2020. The regulations go into effect July 1.

For more information on commercial photography and videography permits, visit <https://mdc.mo.gov/discover-nature/activities/photography>.

Professional photographers and videographers can apply for MDC’s commercial-use permits online at <https://mdc.mo.gov/permits/commercial-confined-wildlife-permits>. Please allow 10 business days for processing Commercial Photography Permits and 30 days for processing Commercial Videography Permits.

rate reached over 2,000 cubic feet per second, according to USGS statistics. By the end of May, the discharge rate had dropped to less than 250 cubic feet per second.

Not only is the discharge rate less prohibitive, the water clarity has increased as well.

Young feels confident that if the favorable water conditions continue throughout the summer, that he and fellow divers will be able to breach one of the openings and discover what lies beyond. If successful, they will navigate underground territory where no known person has gone before.

According to Young, who made several dives into the mouth of Roaring River Spring over the weekend, the second, newer opening is partially covered by loose rocks, which he says are movable, provided the water flow rate is not too high. He's confident the new opening can be breached.

"I'll use my scooter to pull me through the opening," Young said.

The so-called "scooter" is a slim, torpedo-shaped, motorized vehicle with handlebars and propellers.

"We use it to give us a rest from swimming when we need it, or to pull us through tight places," Young said.

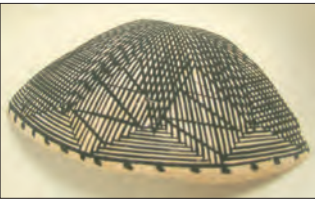

Young believes the feat of breaching a crevice 225 feet below the surface of the water will be possible because of newer technology than previous divers had access to. That technology has led to the production of the compact rebreathing units KISS custom-builds for divers around the world.

"We can get through much smaller spaces with rebreathers than divers could in the past, who only had traditional, bulky SCUBA gear at their disposal," Young said.

Young's rebreathing unit is called, appropriately, "The Abyss," and is built for extreme water-depth, for "adventure divers," according to surface manager for Saturday's dive, Tony Bryant.

"Adventure diver" is a label that fits Mike Young well.

A remnant of pottery, possibly of Native American origin, was found by KISS diver, Neil Brownlow, on Saturday. The artifact was lying on a rocky crag in Roaring River Spring, about 40 feet below the surface of the water, Brownlow said. Photo by Sheila Harris.

He learned to dive 30 years ago in a sinkhole in the Kalahari Desert in Botswana, South Africa. Since then, he's explored underwater cave systems around the world.

Young and his wife, Sheri, live in the Fort Smith area, as does fellow diver, Joe Heinrichs, and safety diver/RN, Neil Brownlow.

Additional team members for the June dive included cartographer Jon Lillestolen, of Virginia, and his assistant, Gayle Orner, of Wisconsin.

The purpose for the dives into the mouth of Roaring River Spring is not simply for the sake of adventure.

Young and his team plan to remap the underground caverns using an intricate system of ropes and knots for measurement. They also plan to create a video of their underwater exploration for use in the Roaring River Park Nature Center.

Tim Bass, of NWA Adventure Dive in Bentonville, will be filmographer for the team's endeavors.

Last weekend's dive into the spring netted more than just the discovery of a second opening. Neil Brownlow discovered a remnant of pottery - about four inches wide - possibly of Native American origin. Research is being conducted.

Other finds in the spring included an old, metal, long-handled rake, a bird's skull and several intact glass bottles.

While the divers were able to move a few rocks away from the new opening they discovered over the weekend, they will not attempt to go through the passageway, into the caverns beyond, until their next scheduled visit, July 16 - 19.

Pa's posies delight photographers in four states

Dennis Epperly, of rural Cassville, loves flowers. He loves them so much that he decided to grow fields of flowers for no reason other than to provide bouquets to residents and backdrops for local photographers. "The idea was slow to catch on with local residents that first year," said Epperly, whose third season is well underway. "I was opening the field up for use with no up-front charge, other than a donation. I even let people cut bouquets at no charge. Still, there wasn't much enthusiasm."

Haven of The Ozarks: Pet of The Week

Meet adorable kittens, the Haven of the Ozarks Pets of the Week! The Haven currently has over 30 kittens who are ready, or soon will be ready, for adoption. These precious babies, like Leonardo DiCatrio, pictured here, are vetted and pre-loved by their friends at the Haven. They will make loving additions to nearly any home. Kitten season has hit all shelters hard this year, and by adopting one (or more!), you will make room to save more of the many babies who still need a place to go. Please consider adopting today! A Fayetteville photographer takes engagement photos of clients who traveled to Pa's Posey Patch from northwest Arkansas.

A retired high school Vo-Ag teacher, he inherited his appreciation for flowers from his mother, who always had a vase of fresh flowers on the table when he was growing up. Epperly started his flower project modestly the first season by planting a half-acre of zinnias and sunflowers. In spite of being unable to attract many takers for his by-donation, homegrown flowers, he persevered - and expanded. The second year, he planted four acres with a wider variety of flowers and began a Facebook Group called "Pa's Posey Patch." That group, he says, was responsible for a blossoming clientele of photographers who drive for hundreds of miles, collectively - and some, individually - to take advantage of his labor of love. During his second season, Epperly adopted what he calls an "advisory council" of five photographers who make suggestions and answer questions he may have.

"The first bit of advice they unanimously offered me," he said, "was to tell me to charge for the use of my field. I took them up on it, and it seems to have increased business rather than slowing it down. "I charge professional photographers $25 for a sitting now," he said. "For everyone else, I still just accept donations." For this season, his third, Epperly planted 13 acres with a wider variety yet of annuals and perennials. On the advice of his council, he planted fields of poppies - one with just red poppies, and another with deep pink poppies mixed with blue bachelor buttons. Reactions have been phenomenal. Wizard of Oz fans have even been known to put in an appearance. "It's a photographer's dream backdrop," said a Fayetteville photographer, whose clients - also from Fayetteville - followed her to Epperly's poppy fields for their engagement photo shoot. Epperly says on most weekend evenings there will be eight to ten photographers and their clients shooting photos in his fields. "I currently host about 100 photographers within about a two-hour radius of here," he said. Epperly has operated a donation-only pumpkin patch from his fields for the past 40 years, and the idea for growing flowers along with pumpkins was a natural evolution for him, he said. "I planted my first garden when I was five years old," Epperly said. "My mom instructed me to plant marigolds in it. She always told me, 'everything grows better with flowers.' I figured flowers would go well with pumpkins, too."

Epperly says he expects his sunflowers to be in full bloom after the Fourth of July. "Then, I'll have sunflowers, zinnias, Mexican sunflowers and Brown-Eyed Susans in bloom until frost," he said. "I plant them successively, so that I'll always have some blooming." The poppies are winding down for the season, but Epperly says Bachelor's Buttons and Larkspur will continue to provide blues in backdrops. Another popular backdrop, says Epperly, is his field of Buckwheat, which changes from pale green to golden brown as the summer progresses. Epperly asks that photographers contact him via Facebook Messenger at Pa's Posey Patch to schedule a time for a photo shoot.

Roaring River is looking fantastic! The water has finally cleared up, except for when they are dredging and doing repair work to the stream bank.

The water level is at 74 CFS. This is fantastic fishing. The fly fishermen are having a ball fishing black ants, black beetles, crackle-backs, elk-hair caddis, and parachute adams.

We are starting to catch more fish on stimulators and small grasshoppers.

The top-water fishing is really good right now. If you want to fish a woolly-bugger, olive-green, black, and brown have been good colors.

Nymphs work great right now; we are starting to use smaller nymphs; size 16's and smaller are probably best right now. Pheasant-tails, sow bugs, burlaps, copper-johns, and gold-ribbed hares-ears are good right now, and a black, brown, or red zebra-mage will catch fish fairly well now.

With the water much clearer now, we are using mostly 9-foot 7X liters when fishing dries, and a 9-foot 6X liter when fishing nymphs. You can still catch fish on larger streamers, especially in the deeper hole down in the fly area (Zone 2).

If you are fishing a larger streamer I would recommend at least a 9 foot 5X leader. Sometimes you can get away with a little heavier when fishing a bigger fly.

If you're spin-fishing first thing in the morning, it will be hard to beat a spinner; black, orange, pink, and brown are good colors to start with. Fish usually will take these fairly well for the first 30 minutes or so; after that, you should probably switch over to a Marabou jig or to a plastic worm. The power-bait eggs in grubs will catch fish all day long.

Fish like a pro!

With the clear water, a two-pound line will work best right now. If you have to put on heavier line, please do not go heavier than four-pound, A good alternative is the three-pound.

Pink Power-ade eggs, orange power-bait eggs and white power-bait eggs worked really well last week.

If you are fishing the power bait one-inch crawlers, yellow is still the best color. Pink and brown are doing very well, and occasionally the chartreuse catches a few fish.

We are still having some luck on small rebel wee crawdads, the smaller 2 1/2" to 3" inch crank-bait rebel minnows or rapala minnows.

If you are going to fish a marabou jig (and marabou jigs are very effective all day long), olive, black/yellow, white, tan or ginger, are good colors to start with.

Since the water has dropped out quite a bit, a lot of the jig fishermen are dropping back into the 1/64 and 1/80 jigs. If you are fishing in the fly area (Zone 2), because of the wider river, sometimes it is easier to throw a 1/16 or 1/8 ounce jig over to the far side. That's a good place to fish because a lot of the trout, especially in the heat of the day, will lie in the shade-line during the hottest part of the day, and you can get to them with a little heavier jig.

The little white thread gigs, and the John Deere green jigs have done extremely well the last few days. Most people are fishing these under a small indicator; generally, we are setting the indicator at 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 feet deep. You will have to adjust this occasionally when you move on the river.

Good luck this week! It's going to be hot, but the trout don't know it; they will continue to bite all day. Sometimes the best fishing is during the last 2 1/2 to 3 hours of the evening.

Monett driver crashes into patrol vehicle

Ezra DeVore

According to a Missouri Highway Patrol report, at 6:59 a.m. on June 13, Kevin M. Salas, 24, of Monett, struck Josie J. Long's south-bound 2019 Ford Explorer Police Interceptor in the rear at high speed on Highway 37. Josie Long, 41, of Springfield, was transported by patrol vehicle to Cox Monett Hospital, and Salas was transported by ambulance to Mercy Hospital in Cassville. Both suffered minor injuries. Long was wearing a safety device, Salas was not. The patrol vehicle was totaled, and extensive damage was sustained by Salas's 2009 Chevrolet truck. Estimated damage to the patrol vehicle is $10,000 - $15,000. Both vehicles were towed by Thomas Towing.

Highway Patrol issues safety reminder

The July Fourth weekend is a great opportunity to enjoy one of Missouri's national parks, recreational opportunities, lakes and rivers, or a backyard barbecue. Colonel Eric T. Olson, superintendent of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, reminds Missouri's travelers to make smart choices for a safe July Fourth holiday. Safety should be at the top of the list when planning how you'll celebrate our nation's freedoms. No matter how you decide to spend the long weekend, your smartest choice is to follow all Missouri traffic and boating laws.

During the 2020 counting period, 15 people were killed and 671 injured in Missouri over the holiday in 1,356 traffic crashes. Over the 2020 July Fourth holiday, troopers arrested 145 people for driving while intoxicated. In 2020, there were 14 boating crashes, which included seven injuries and zero fatalities. Two people drowned during last year's July Fourth holiday. Troopers made six boating while intoxicated arrests over last year's July Fourth holiday weekend.

The 2021 counting period for the July Fourth holiday will be from 6 p.m., Friday, July 2, to 11:59 p.m., Monday, July 5, 2020.

The Highway Patrol will be participating in Operation C.A.R.E. (Crash Awareness & Reduction Effort) and Operation Dry Water over the July Fourth holiday weekend. Operation Dry Water specifically targets impaired vessel operators. All available troopers will be patrolling Missouri roadways and waterways to enforce traffic and boating laws, and offering assistance as needed.

Missouri's boaters are asked to do their part by remaining alert for other boats and swimmers, and being courteous on the water. With more boats on the water, it is even more important to pay attention when operating your vessel. Never operate a vessel if you've consumed alcohol. Boaters need to be aware that it is illegal to discharge fireworks from a vessel. Leave all fireworks in a safe place on shore. Watercraft operators must consider the effect their actions have on others: Share the waterway and use common sense, good judgment, and courtesy to ensure the safety of all. Life jackets save lives. Wear It!!

Anyone needing assistance or who witnesses criminal activity while traveling on Missouri's roadways or waterways can contact the nearest Highway Patrol troop headquarters by calling the Patrol Emergency Report Line at 1-800-525-5555 or *55 on a cellular phone. Motorists may call 1-888-275-6636 to check for road construction along their travel route.

Too many people die in traffic crashes each year in Missouri. The choices you make when you're behind the wheel matter. Make good choices, so you'll never have to say, "If I could just go back ..."

June proclaimed Dairy Month

Surrounded by dairy farmers and industry leaders, Missouri Gov. Mike Parson on June 8 proclaimed June as Dairy Month. The proclamation recognizes the hard work and contributions of our dairy farmers statewide, said Reagan Bluel, University of Missouri Extension dairy specialist and educational director for Missouri Dairy. Annually, the dairy industry in Missouri generates more than 24,000 jobs in production, process and distribution throughout the state and $3 billion of economic impact to the state's gross domestic product, Bluel said. Farmers statewide are committed to producing the highest-quality milk every day. Dairy foods provide an excellent source of protein, with essential amino acids important for human health. Additionally, dairy provides important sources of calcium, potassium, phosphorus, magnesium, zinc, vitamins A, D and B12, and riboflavin. Local father, son continue fishing tradition

The waters of Barry County seem to be Jeff Fletcher's second home. His father was a fishing guide for fifty years on Table Rock Lake, and Fletcher started guiding at twelve years old. He was fishing competitively by age sixteen.

"There are pictures of me as a baby wrapped up in blankets with my parents, going upstream to fish," Fletcher attests. His father owned a resort that had other guides working for them, and when the guides weren't touring, they'd take a young Jeff Fletcher through the tours. "So I got an education from guys who were the best on the lake," he added.

While attending the University of Arkansas to earn a business degree, in preparation to inherit the family business, Fletcher began guiding a man named Bill Fields. At the time, Fields was the "second in command" under David Glass, then-CEO of Wal-Mart. On one river guide, Fields asked Fletcher what he wanted to do after college. Answering truthfully, Fletcher simply said, "I wanna fish professionally." Fields said he wanted to be involved in Fletcher's fishing career, and with his connections at Wal-Mart, entered Fletcher into an official tournament in 1992 on Lake Ontario. There, Fletcher finished 78 out of 350. The next year, however, Fletcher won second place and became part of the Top 100 Anglers, a title he held for seven years.

Fletcher's best year was 1996, when he placed 17 out of 50 in the World Championship. By 2000, he was 77 in all-time winnings after only eight years of professional fishing. His wife traveled with him for those tournaments. In 1999, his oldest son Riley was born, followed later by a second son, Carter. Fletcher had been paying the bills with prize money won at fishing tournaments, but was also travelling across the country for weeks at a time. Ultimately deciding he wanted to be home for his sons, Fletcher said, "the thing that I love most (fishing), I gave up to be the father that I needed to be for my children." With his contacts in the professional fishing field, Fletcher then got a job selling sporting products for three years. He now works for Georgia Boots selling outdoor footwear. However, Fletcher never quit fishing altogether, just professionally on a national level. Occasionally, he still guides, and he finds ways to get on the lake or river weekly. "It's my happy place," he says. Expressing how heavily fishing has ingrained itself into his legacy, his son Riley went to college on a fishing scholarship and was later asked to join the Drury Fishing Team. The scholarship paid half of his education and half of his room and board. Riley will be starting Pharmacy school in August of 2021.

Museum to host book-signing on Saturday

Lacey Reeves
Debra Walden Davis is an author close to home. She spent some of her childhood in Barry County, attending Southwest and Rogers, Arkansas, schools. Her father was in the Army, so she found herself moving from place to all the moves, she always remembered the Ozarks. They held a special place in her heart.

The Barry County Museum will host a book-signing Saturday for Davis's latest book, Went for a Ride.

When Debra was in school, there were only five available careers that she could choose from: teacher, nurse, housewife, waitress, or secretary. She couldn't write for a career, as she had always wanted to do.
The opportunity came for her first book, "Almost Home," in 2018. It was written from the first-person perspective and reflected Debra's thoughts on the present times. She has since published three more books, the Gambit Investigations series, with "Whispers," "On the Border", and her latest release, "Went for a Ride".

Debra's books are individualized to her personality. She longs to be known as "the queen of pop culture" to her readers. Every book is titled from a song, and includes numerous references to notable TV shows, movies, and songs. She crafts a list of references in the backs of her books with each piece of pop culture. The movie Debra loves and quotes the most throughout all her books is the 1959 movie, "Some Like It Hot".
A book would be spiritless without memorable characters. Debra crafts each of her character's names to roll off the tongue, with a vivid image in her mind of how they would appear in real life. She has also morphed names of people she knows in real life to names for her characters.

Debra sets her mystery books in the Ozarks and researches her locations. She travels to the places her characters would be and brings in plenty of help to make the story as real and correct as possible. One of her characters even knows the best place in Mark Twain National Forest to hide a body.
Debra encourages everyone to make the book in their mind a reality.
"Everyone has a book in them", she says. "Put yourself out there, dig deep, and do what you've always wanted to do".
She has plans to continue her writing.
She will be holding a book signing at the Barry County Museum on Saturday, June 23, from 9:30 a.m. to noon.
