New tick-related disease strikes in Barry County

Charlea Mills

Living in the Ozarks means regularly checking for ticks this time of year for fear of an itchy reaction, or worse, Lyme disease. However, a new threat has emerged in Barry County, and it could prevent you from enjoying some of your favorite foods.

Lone star ticks, common to this area, are carrying a new threat that causes people to develop an allergy to red meats. This month, Dr. Michael Payne, of Cox Health Center in Cassville, has seen five cases of varying reactions. However, he stressed that it is difficult to diagnose.

It can take weeks to months for the symptoms to appear, and the connection of the allergy to the lone star tick bite is a fairly recent discovery. The strange bite-induced allergy doesn't yet have a name.

Dr. Payne explained that it isn't an actual disease that causes the allergic reaction. "Missouri only has six or seven tick-related diseases," he stated. This allergy is actually caused by a sugar protein carried within the ticks.

When the lone star attaches itself to its host, the sugar protein gets into the person's blood. The body then creates antibodies against the sugar protein as a protection mechanism.

The downside to the body's reaction is that the antibodies also attack red meat in the digestive system. Symptoms of this odd allergy range from nausea, abdominal cramping and vomiting to difficulty breathing and even death after consuming beef, pork or lamb.

When asked how long the allergy lasts or if it is curable, Dr. Payne explained that was part of the issue. There is little known about this new problem, and there is limited research to go on. Treatment is tricky as well. Payne said, "I recommend an antihistamine before they eat their burger. As far as how long it'll last? I don't know."

Usually when people are concerned about tick bites, deer ticks, carriers of Lyme disease, get the bad reputation. Many people with a bull's-eye reaction to a tick bite assume that they have Lyme disease, but it isn't as common as we are led to believe.

Dr. Payne said, "I personally don't think that there's a true increase in cases [of

Two charged in meth bust

Two were arrested in Seligman late Tuesday, August 20, on five class C felonies. According to the affidavits of probable cause, Jeremy Rusher and Charlotte Frazier were charged with possession of chemicals with intent to create a controlled substance, possession of a controlled substance and three counts of child endangerment.

Drug Task Force Agent John Luckey executed a search warrant at the residence for a complaint that the pair allegedly cooked methamphetamine while the children of the home slept. Sheriff Mick Epperly, Seligman Chief Officer Gary Thornton, Seligman Officer Ray Earnest and the Barry County SWAT Team led by Detective Doug Henry assisted in the investigation.

Upon entering the residence at 7783 E. Roller Ridge, Seligman, officers found three children under the age of five with Frazier and Rusher. The officers collected evidence of chemicals necessary to manufacture methamphetamine as well as paraphernalia testing positive for methamphetamine residue.

The three children, ages 14 months to 4 years, were placed in temporary custody with Frazier's sister. Follow-ups will be completed to ensure the safety and well-being of the children.

Both suspects were transported to Barry County Jail where they were each held on a $25,000 cash-only bond. Barry County Prosecuting Attorney Johnnie Cox filed charges against the two on August 21st.

Frazier bonded out of jail, but Rusher remains in police custody.

Cassville senior national skating finalist

Charlea Mills

Katie Sewell really only started skating a year ago when she started working at the local Sonic Drive-In. However, next month, she will represent Cassville at the 2013 Sonic Skate Off for cars.

Over 1,200 people entered into the contest via videos showcasing their personalities and trick skating abilities. Out of all of the entries, eight finalists were chosen for the national competition. Katie found out that she was a finalist when RC Sports called her at work. She was shocked to say the least.

Being selected as a finalist comes with its own perks, including an all-inclusive trip to San Diego for the competition and a $1,000 pair of roller skates.

Wesley Waters, the General Manager for Cassville's

Sonic, ranked third in the Skate Off one year. He was the one who encouraged her to enter and spent the last three months training her in the restaurant's back lot.

Katie is a senior at Cassville High School and spends her spare time practicing with the marching band and competing on the varsity track team. Last year, she won Miss Merry Christmas. Her glowing personality and positive attitude was part of what earned her a spot at the national competition.

If she wins the contest sponsored by Dr. Pepper and RC Sports, she will take home $1,500 and a pair of gold roller skates. Katie said if she wins, she plans to put the money back for college. She will be in San Diego September 15th through 20th to compete.

Her mother, Tammy Tim-mers, said, "I'm so proud of her for being chosen out of all of those kids. I'm so excited for her."

Katie stated, "I'm very nervous, but super excited to have the opportunity to skate with the best. My favorite part about working at Sonic is definitely the skating and the friends I've made." To see her contest video, look up "Katie Skate Off 2013" posted by Cassville Sonic on YouTube.

Woman charged with stealing $120K

Charlea Mills

Cathy J. Lowe, of Cassville, was charged on August 21st with class B felony stealing. Lowe allegedly stole over $120,000 from Marck Industries.

Lowe was the director of transportation for RL Transport, owned by Marck Industries of Cassville. While acting as director, Lowe wrote checks to C & B Trucking, the company owned by herself and her fiancée in March, April, May, June and July of 2013. However, the loads the checks were written did not exist.

Each check written by Lowe on behalf of RL Transport, she personally deposited into her business account. According to the affidavits of probable cause, she knowingly wrote the checks with the intent of stealing the money and putting it into her business account.

Lowe is currently being held in the Barry County Jail on a $25,000.00 bond.

Noise complaint leads to drug arrest

Melissa Lopez, age 29, of Neosho, was arrested early Monday morning for possession of a controlled substance following an investigation of a noise complaint at a storage unit on 8th Street in Washburn.

Officers with the Barry County Sheriff's Department went to the storage units around 3:30 a.m. on August 26th for a complaint that two trucks and a motorcycle were revving their engines and the drivers were yelling at each other, disturbing the peace.

Officers stopped a white Chevy truck on 90 Highway, but the suspects lied, claiming they were helping someone at the storage units and were allowed to leave.

Once it was discovered that the truck passengers lied, officers stopped them again at the 76/37 intersection. Upon a search, Deputy Ruark found a blue zipper bag in Lopez's purse containing marijuana and a powder substance believed to be methamphetamine.

While in route to the Barry County Jail, officers asked Lopez if she had any other drugs on her body. She admitted to having a small bag of rock substance tucked into her waistband. Officers seized the bag, believed to be crystal meth.

Lopez is currently being held at the Barry County Jail charged with possession of a controlled substance. She is held on $10,00 cash or surety bond.

Letter to the Editor

Like most people, I was totally unaware of SWEPCO's plans to run a massive power line through southwest Missouri. I live just north of Seligman, so my property would not be directly affected, but everyone who lives in this area is affected whether your property is under the proposed lines or not. Most of us live here for the natural beauty, away from the sort of industrial ugliness the huge metal towers of the proposed line would cause here.

This line, which is supposedly needed for possible future use in Benton county, takes a jog north into Missouri and runs along the Arkansas border for some 25 miles before heading back south again to Bentonville. The only explanation I can think of for this route is that they think they have a better chance of taking the land away from landowners in southwest Missouri than from landowners in northwest Arkansas.

Lyme disease], just more awareness of it." Instead of the deer tick, the lone star is usually to blame for the over reporting of Lyme disease.

Lone star ticks also carry STARI, a disease that manifests similarly to Lyme, but doesn't have the same duration of complications. The typical bull's-eye reaction occurs, but STARI has no lasting effects. Lyme disease carries lifelong chronic consequences.

True Lyme disease occurs only when an infected tick has been attached for at least 24-36 hours, giving enough time for it to cross into the host's bloodstream. The new antibody-related allergy could have a similar time frame for infection, but no one knows for sure.

The best way to prevent the disease is to avoid being bitten. Avoiding heavily wooded areas, wearing long pants and socks, as well as using a tick repellent when outdoors will decrease the chance of picking up one of the pesky parasites.

If you suspect that you have developed an allergy related to a recent tick bite, it is important to discuss a treatment plan with your doctor. The allergic reaction can be life-threatening if left untreated.

Spotlight on the Cassville Branch Library

Charlea Mills

When most people think of a librarians, they don't think of zombies, a mobile petting zoo or a pool party. However, the exciting, upbeat programs at the local libraries are changing the way the community thinks of librarians.

The Barry-Lawrence Regional Library's Cassville branch is able to accommodate much more than the original building. Cassville holds 65,000 volumes, boasts seating for 75-100 people in the meeting room downstairs, has dedicated children's areas, a historical/genealogy area, newer computers and parking for over 40 vehicles. With all of the extra space and materials, programs are always running.

The Cassville branch is hosting many new, exciting programs this fall to engage youth in our area. Verna Fry, children's services, strives to provide informative, fun and engaging activities for children and teens to be a part of.

Each week, little ones gather for Preschool Story Time in a room just off of the children's section. On Wednesdays and Thursdays at 10:00 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., the youngsters come for thirty minutes of stories, songs and simple crafts. The program helps encourage language and listening skills.

The Home School Program, led by Miss Amanda, holds a story, a craft and sometimes a surprise visit, like last year's petting zoo day. The program is meant as enrichment for home school students seeking both an educational and social outlet.

All home schooled students in kindergarten through 12th grade can attend. Zoe LaCaze said her favorite part of the Home School Program is the crafts. When asked what her favorite was, she and her sister Andie agreed, "Making kites!"

Both Preschool Story Time and the Home School Program run from September through mid-December and again January through mid-May. Children and teens must preregister for these programs.

The upcoming Zombie-Fest is a specialized program on Saturday mornings at 10:00 a.m. from August 31st through October 12th. Attendees get snacks, can win prizes and will watch a popular zombie-themed television show as a group.

Later in the fall, the library will have special events for Banned Book Week in September, Teen Read Week in October, Picture Book Week in November and more. More details will be provided closer to the events.

The ladies at the Cassville branch are always looking for new, popular activities to draw people into the library. Sometimes that means story time and a craft. Other times, it means more unorthodox themes, like the brain-craving undead. Always check in to see what new is going on at our local libraries, you will be surprised at what you find.

Local enters veterinary school

Tracy Dolis

A White Coat Ceremony was held recently at Oklahoma State University at the Stillwater Community Center. The event welcomed the veterinary health sciences class of 2017. Cassville native, Tracy Dolis, was one of 82 class members in attendance.

"These students have worked hard to get to this point, and they deserve congratulations," says Chris Ross, DVM, PhD, professor and associate dean for academic affairs. "There is also plenty of hard work ahead of them and they will change tremendously as they progress toward their professional goals."

The traditional white coat symbolizes the first step of many milestones these veterinary medical students will achieve as they begin their journey to earn a DVM degree.

The 82 member class is comprised of 56 Oklahoma residents and 26 nonresidents representing the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Texas and Washington.

Dolis earned her BS degree in Biology from Missouri Southern State University. She is the daughter of Tammy and Daniel Pueppke of Cassville.

Sater-sponsored bill vetoed

Charlea Mills

During the 2011 Joplin tornado crisis, volunteer medical personnel were essential to helping those in need. However, many medically-trained volunteers were turned away during the crisis for lacking of licensing. Senator David Sater worked this year to change that, only to be met with a gubernatorial veto.

Governor Jay Nixon vetoed Cassville's Sen. Sater's recently passed Volunteer Health Services Act, aimed at easing the difficulty of being an approved health care provider in times of crisis. Nixon claimed the law would provide "blanket immunity" for those wishing to volunteer in times of crisis, and that it is "inconsistent with the balanced approach that Missouri law already takes".

Nixon's primary concern is that volunteers would not be able to be held legally responsible should they be negligent.

Sater's bill allows for volunteers licensed in other states, as well as retired medical personnel from Missouri's health systems, to serve victims of tragedy without Missouri licensing. The Act would apply only to those not charging patients in need for their services. Nixon's complaint was that the bill allowed for no legal discourse in the event that a volunteer provides subpar care.

When questioned about a possible veto override, Sater said he was in the planning stages. "It's interesting that Governor Nixon has travelled the state, promoting Medicare expansion, but vetoes this bill that would provide free healthcare to thousands of people throughout Missouri," Sater said.

The biggest opposition to Sater's bill were trial attorneys. Sater speculates that Gov. Nixon is more in favor of litigation for malpractice in these situations, making volunteer healthcare services more difficult to navigate. He said they will know in September if Nixon plans to fight the veto override on the bill, but he is optimistic that they will get it through.

Sater noted that the sponsoring organization for volunteer healthcare services can turn down any health care provider wishing to work under them that may be unfit. He is hoping that would provide enough of a buffer ensuring that only those qualified would be working with those in need.

Other states, including Virginia, Tennessee and Illinois, have passed similar bills without any ill effects to the level of care residents receive.

Land Tax Sale draws crowd

The annual Barry County Land Tax Sale brought in $22,185.95 through land sold for the county. Janice Varner, Barry County Collector, offered up 146 parcels of land. Fifty parcels sold on Monday, August 26th, at the sale. Varner stated, "In general, I felt we had a good sale."

This year saw a marked increase in registered bidders. Last year, 32 people registered for the sale. This year, 45 people registered. The historic courtroom was full of people there to claim their stake in properties taken for back taxes.

Central Crossing Fire grant

During July and August, matching funds grant checks for rural fire departments are being distributed by the Missouri Department of Conservation, Forestry Division staff.

One hundred eighty-two fire departments are receiving checks for up to $4,000 to help with the purchase of personal protective gear and fire fighting equipment, for wildfire as well as structure fire suppression efforts.

The total funding awarded to Missouri fire departments through the matching funds grant program this year is $354,467. Fire departments are required to match 50% of the funds provided by the Missouri Department of Conservation and the US Forest Service Volunteer Fire Assistance Program.

Throughout the last 30 years, over $7 million has been distributed to rural fire departments to help them increase the safety of their fire fighters and provide them with better fire fighting equipment.

Cassville locals win Texaco Country Showdown

Samantha Barberio

On Saturday, August 17th, two Cassville locals took the stage at the Texaco Country Showdown. Jason Blankenship and Ryan Pred- dy made their way to Pine Mountain Theater in Eureka Springs to compete against performers from three dif- ferent counties, most com- peting for a chance to take their musical talents to the national level.

Pred- dy and Blankenship have known each other their entire lives but only started playing music together two years ago. This music rela- tionship started one night right after Pred- dy lost a very important person in his life, Mary Ellen Wilson.

Wilson was Pred- dy's sweetheart ever since they met in junior high school, and they share a son, Bow- en, age 11. The couple were together for 20 years before she passed. After that, Blan- kenship stated, "He [Pred- dy] didn't want to stop playing. We just went to my house and played music on the porch all night long until the sun came up."

During the showdown, Pred- dy sang two original pieces with Blankenship on the Kahon, a type of drum. "Mary's Song" was writ- ten about losing the love of his life, and "Cold Can" was about the two artists grow- ing up in a small town. These songs seemed to connect with the audience of 121 people, taking them to first place in the competition.

"We try and hit every crowd," Blankenship stated, "But I didn't think we were going to win at all. It was a shock." The 221 Band will now get the chance to com- pete at the Arkansas State Fair in Little Rock on Oc- tober 20th for the $1,000 prize. The state winner will then advance to the regional showdown, five new winners will be picked from the regional competition and move on to compete in Nash- ville for the grand prize of $100,000 and the na- tional title.

"Ryan made a prom- ise to Mary that he would do some sort of contest," Blankenship mentioned "So I said 'you made a promise, you're keeping it.'"

Wheaton's 55th annual BBQ drew a large crowd and ample funds for the volun- teer fire department this past Saturday. People arrived in droves to the event for the BBQ fare, craft booths and always-popular duck race.

Lindy Lombard, volun- teer at the event, said, "It just keeps getting bigger and big- ger every year." They don't yet know how much was

The duck race drew a huge crowd of people cheering on their duck, hoping for a big cash prize.

Children enjoyed free pony rides and other activities.

BKD promotes local

Rebecca Barrientos, of Cassville, was recently pro- moted within BKD CPAs and Advisors. She is a member of BKD National Health Care Group, providing audit and consulting services to com- munity health center clients, with experience that includes serving as an in-charge on health care audits and re- views.

Barrientos was one of five consultants receiving promo- tions. "These individuals ex- emplify BKD's PRIDE values of passion, respect, integrity, discipline and excellence," John Wanamaker, managing partner of the Springfield, Branson and Joplin offices, said.

Wanamaker contin- ued, "Our people are BKD's product. We are proud to have such passionate people dedicated to providing un- matched client service, and these five demonstrate the quality we strive for each day."

55th Annual Wheaton BBQ

raised for the Wheaton Vol- unteer Fire Department, but it is expected to be more than last year.

The day began at 9:00 a.m. with the Show and Shine car event. Next was the Spud McCracken Memo- rial Horseshoe Tournament. James Savage and Ronnie Senseny took first place this year. Mark Brattin and Dale Brattin took second place, and Gary Brattin and Janelle Brattin placed third.

The famous duck race drew a huge crowd as every- one cheered on their racer in the flooded grassy area. Ducks sold for $5.00 each prior to the event. As the fire fighters sprayed the ducks with their hoses, the crowd's excitement grew until the first five ducks made their way through the checkered winners' gate. This year, Ron- nie Prewitt Jr. took home the first place prize of $500.00. Gary Bertran won $250.00 for second, Rick Tiner placed third for $125.00, Jayci Park took fourth for $75.00 and J.L. McNabb came in fifth for $50.00.

This year, the BBQ had a record 28 arts and crafts ven- dors displaying their wares.

By 7:00 p.m., they had sold out of the pulled pork sand- wiches and the 1,200 chicken dinners. BBQ attendee Char- la Miles said, "Not sure what they did different this year at the Wheaton BBQ, but that chicken dinner was great! Best meal I've had in weeks!"

Each year the event brings the community to- gether to raise money for a very important aspect of life in a rural community. The Wheaton FFA hosted a pet- ting zoo, many performed on the grandstand and the Hot Rod Garden Tractor Pull en- tertained all. Without fund- raising efforts, the volunteer fire department wouldn't have the money they need to keep citizens safe.

Jamboree prepares Wildcats for Branson

Rachael Freeman
Each year, the Wildcat football team participates in a jamboree before the official season starts. A jamboree gives the team and coaches a chance to see how the team matches up against someone other than themselves in regular practice. Film from a jamboree can be very revealing. “The jamboree is always a great learning experience for us. We saw a lot of good things, some bad things and a few ugly things,” stated head coach Lance Parnell. “The most important thing is that our kids can now see themselves on film against someone else and we can learn from our mistakes.” With the beginning of the season comes jitters in many players, especially young athletes. While Parnell was glad to shake some jitters during Friday’s jamboree, jitters aren’t always a bad thing to have. “We are very young at many positions. We saw several jitters at the jamboree, but I expect to see several jitters Friday night at Branson as well. “I tell our kids jitters or butterflies are not a bad thing. It just means it is important to you.”

The Wildcats will travel to Branson on Friday night to take on the Pirates. “Branson is very athletic and have good team and speed at the skill position spots. Coach Hancock does a great job. We know Branson will be very well prepared, disciplined and physical.” Kick-off against the Pirates is at 7:00 p.m. for the season opener. The Wildcats will play at home on Friday, September 6th, as they host the McDonald County Mustangs.

Lady Trojans volleyball look to continue championship season

Samantha Barberio

The Southwest Lady Trojan volleyball team is looking forward to a powerful year even though they graduated six seniors.

"It's always difficult to replace seniors, but it's really difficult to replace six seniors from a team that won 20 games and a conference championship," head coach Steve Voyak stated.

"This team is ready for a challenge, and one way we have improved over last season is speed and quickness. This is my quickest team in 11 years."

This season's team consists of 19 girls, for both Varsity and JV, and they play a full JV and varsity schedule.

The Lady Trojans have set several goals for the upcoming season including: winning the conference and district championships, serving at 92 percent as a team and decreasing the teams unforced errors by 25 percent.

The three captains leading the team this year are senior Montana Hendrix, junior Shannon Mitchell and sophomore Jamie Shrum.

Hendrix, who holds the title of Ozark 7 Player of the Year, led the team in serve percentage (98.2%) and assists (161) and was second in kills and blocks.

Mitchell led the team in blocks and kills last season with Shrum coming in second on the team in assists as a freshman setter.

"Montana has been a leader on this team since she was a sophomore. She has a high volleyball IQ. "This season she needs to help support the players who have never played varsity before," Coach Voyak states.

"This is the first time Shannon and Jaime have been captains. Shannon is a dynamic player who has worked hard to improve her hitting, blocking and serving.

"Jamie has the pressure of being a setter and having to run the offense. She has worked to improve her consistency," said Voyak.

Other players plan to add to the teams success as well. Kayna McNabb is hoping to add some attacks from the outside. Karla Catron will give height in the front row as her hitting continues to improve. Lauren Mitchell will be asked to continue her solid passes and serving.

The Lady Trojans will step up to the net for their first game on Monday, September 9th at Pea Ridge, Arkansas.

CWGA holds 2013 Invitational

The Cassville Women's Golf League held their 2013 Invitational Tournament on Thursday, August 22. The Invitational was planned and organized by CWGA member Cheryl Ludwig. The league thanks Cheryl, her workers and all the volunteers who made the tournament a huge success.

The theme for this year was "Ole McCassville Had A Course." Each hole was decorated with a farm character by some very creative women golfers.

After playing the eighteen hole scramble, the ladies were served a grilled chicken sandwich, salad, iced tea and a cupcake catered by John Hendrix.

Door prizes were given to lucky winners, plus a 50/50 pot. Lastly, prize money was given for flight winners.

Kings River Ladies Golf Update

Cindy Thomovsky

Another week, another beautiful day, another chance to try our hand at that game we call golf.

We played Low Team Net with 3-man teams. The lucky winners with some good shots, and better yet, some good handicaps, were Myrna Bruning, Kim Hassler and Cindy Thomovsky. They ended with a average net score of 34.

Close behind was the team of Bonnie Shelton, Kathy McGrath and Sharon Glenn who popped the ball into the hole for a net score of 36. They were just ahead of the team of Carol Hefley, Sue Giessman and Carol Barak-man who came in with a net of 37.

Putting honors went to both Carol Barakman and Sharon Glenn who had 16 putts each. Additionally, Carol Barakman, our Ace of the Day, had a chip-in on Hole #11.

It was good to have the sunny weather and a dry course. It is hard to believe that the summer is coming to an end and we only have a few weeks left.

We still enjoy new faces and hope that some who might have stayed away due to the heat and rain will drop in and play nine with us at 9:00 a.m. on Wednesdays.

Men's Golf League Update

Bob York

The weather has been really enjoyable lately. The day's play began with 30 golfers including Arizona visitor, Jerry Hotzler. I thought he was pitching baseball this weekend.

First place was Leroy Kellar and Ron Wolf with a net score of 61. Second place was Dan Blanke and Terry Figgins with a net score of 62. Third place was Larry Kuhlman and Bob York with a net score of 63. Fourth place Jacques Fleischmann and Doug Louk with a net score of 64.

The skins were won by Gary Conde, Butch Henningson, Dan Blanke, Dave Graham, Terry Figgins and Alan Oakleaf.

Closest to the pin honors: hole #6 Butch Henningson, hole #8 Jacques Fleischmann, hole #11 Dave Graham and hole #17 Tom Burk.

Treasures Then and Now

Samantha Barberio

Treasures Then & Now, an antique and flea market has been in Shell Knob for almost a year, and business is booming. Susan Dick, owner of Treasures, has rented many booths in flea markets over the years before she decided to open up her own shop. Once she found her current location, it seemed like the perfect opportunity.

After seeing this empty space, it seemed like the ideal time to open her long awaited shop. Susan stated, "Great location, lots of level parking, easy to find. We believed it was a perfect set up for someone, and that someone was us."

Treasures has over 30 booths and 50 shelving units rented or available on the main floor level. On the lower level are consignment items, primarily furniture. The store is a total of 8,000 square feet, and they sell a large variety of inventory from antique and vintage to everyday household goods and furniture.

Recently Susan and her husband purchased the inventory of Cabin Fever, so now New Treasures is located inside Treasures Then & Now and offers Yankee Candle, WillowTree, WoodWick, cabin/lodge decor and lots of great gifts. Treasures also has Avon, Amsoil, Stanley Fuller Brush and Wee Flea Pet Products.

Susan is new to this experience stating, "This is my first venture of owning a business. My husband is a former and current business owner. He is the one with the business experience!" Susan also mentions what she loves most about owning Treasures, stating simply, "The people." Later going on to explain, "I really enjoy meeting the customers and new dealers. And I love seeing a customer get oh-so-excited about finding 'it!'"

Susan also has wonderful things to say about the the community in Shell Knob, "I am blessed to have has such a positive feedback from customers, other business owners and the Shell Knob Chamber. It has been, and continues to be, a lot of work, but I love it!"

Out of all the things she enjoys about owning Treasures a big part is working with Bev, Emilie, Harriet and Sandy, "It leaves a good feeling to hear customers comment about how clean, spacious and will lit the store is!" Susan says.

If you're interested in consigning with the shop there is a waiting list, and Treasures has been full for several months. If you consign an item they charge 15% up front, meaning if you want to sell an item for $100, they are paid $15 at the time of placement, and that is good for at least 60 days.

Treasures is located in the center of Bridgeway Plaza in Shell Knob. It is open seven days a week: Sunday 12:30-5:30 p.m., Monday 10:00-3:30 p.m. and Tuesday through Saturday 10:00-5:00 p.m. For more information on the store, please call (417) 858-1113 or visit www.in-for@treasuresthenandnow.com.

Cattitude program seeks sponsors

Charlea Mills

Cassville Primary School is seeking sponsors for their Cattitude program for the upcoming school year. The funds go to purchase t-shirts for each of the students. The program encourages kids to take the pledge to "be safe, be respectful and be responsible."

Each year, students earn paw prints through attendance, good classroom behavior and exhibiting leadership skills. The whole program is designed to reward positive attitudes and good leadership within the student body.

The students focus on a different word that reinforces good behavior each month. For September, the word of the month is friendship. With 96% attendance for the week and no behavioral issues, students earn a sticker each week.

Lisa Cooper of Cassville Primary says, "We really want to pump up good behavior." Once the students earn a certain number of paw prints, they get to watch a movie and have popcorn three or four times throughout the year."

For the Cattitude program to be successful, the school seeks sponsors to ensure every child has a t-shirt. The shirts are worn by the whole student body every Monday as a reminder of the rewards available for good behavior.

Local businesses may speak with Cooper at the school for more information on how they can support this project. Cooper can be contacted at (417)847-2445 or lcooper@casville.k12.mo.us.

Wheaton teacher nominated for state award

Charlea Mills

Jason Navarro, a social studies teacher at Wheaton High School, was one of seven finalists for the Missouri Teacher of the Year award for the 2013-2014 school year. The program recognizes the efforts of effective teachers throughout the state who provide quality education to their students.

The chosen Missouri Teacher of the Year then moves on as the state's nominee for the National Teacher of the Year competition. While each district nominates a teacher, a committee with the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education selects the final nominees.

Navarro was named Wheaton R-3 District Teacher of the Year last year, making him eligible for the statewide competition for the upcoming school year.

He was the first educator from the Wheaton district to be nominated for the southwest Missouri region.

Navarro will be honored as one of the finalists at a banquet in Jefferson City on October 21st. The winner for the 2013-2014 school year was Jamie Manker, a social studies teacher from Rockwood Summit in Fenton.

Five of the teachers nominated this year were from the St. Louis area making this a major honor for the smaller districts of southwestern Missouri.

5th Annual Big God Sept. 4th

Samantha Barberio

The 5th Annual Big God Across the Ozarks Conference is coming up, but with changes from previous years. The event will be held at the Body of Christ Event Center in Wheaton from September 4th through 8th, beginning nightly at 7:00 p.m.

The Big God Conference will be slightly different this year, featuring local pastors and musicians in lieu of hired speakers from outside of the community.

Body of Christ will also be providing dinner on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights so families will be less rushed before the event. They will be serving hamburgers, hotdogs, chips and drinks from 6:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Make sure to bring a lawn chair for the event. Big God will be held rain or shine, moving indoors if necessary. There will be no love offering taken this year, instead the event is supported by local churches and individual donations.

Pastor Jean Robinson states, "We are doing this to further the kingdom of God." Pastor Paul Wahlert also comments, "The emphasis is to share the gospel in the southwest Missouri area."

For more information or directions to the Big God Conference, see the ad on page 4A.

Cassville Cruisers give Eddie Award

The Cassville Cruisers car club members presented Larry and Margie Aeberman the Eddie Award for being voted the Best of the Bunch at the August cruise-in. The category for the month was models from 1961-1970. The Aevermans are pictured standing in front of their Volkswagen V-Rod.
