Beeson Family Bluebird Trail takes hard hit

Heidi Lowe

At least fifty bluebird boxes along the Beeson Family Blue Bird Trail were destroyed in a heartbreaking act of vandalism last weekend--a loss felt deeply by both the family and the community who have come to love the cheery blue boxes that line our rural country roads.

Bluebirds nest at least twice a season, and many of the boxes in the area are being nested in right now. Some of the boxes that were destroyed contained second nests, and likely had babies in them. Even if they survived the violent destruction of their home, the young birds would have been defenseless against predators and quickly eaten. The sadness of this reality pales only in comparison to the anger at those who would do such stupid and pointless act.

The Beeson Blue Bird Trail is one of those rare things that exist simply to make the world a better place. The blue boxes are not built in some overseas factory, bought with tax dollars, or maintained by the conservation department. They are hand built, painted, and maintained just as they were in 1962 when Laurance Beeson first helped some kids build bluebird boxes for a 4-H project. Eventually the local clubs lost interest in working on the houses, and Laurance took it on as a family project.

Four generations later, the trail is now 200 hundred boxes strong and lines 33 miles of rural roads. Once the birds leave the boxes in the fall the family works all winter to clean out the old nests, repair broken boxes and build new ones to expand the trail.

"The hard thing for us is the fact that materials are getting so darn expensive," Edna Beeson said. "We've been using screws to put the lids on so that we can clean them out easier; the screws have tripled in price since we started doing it and the paint is getting out of sight." Each box costs around $5 to build, but scrap 1x6 or 1x8 boards are welcome donations to help get the boxes back in place.

Laurance Beeson passed away in 2008. Once scarce in Barry County, the bluebird can now be seen through the winter, something unheard of in 1962. Known as the "bird of happiness," it is hard to think of a better legacy to leave your children and your community.

The vandals destroyed all of the boxes between Y Hwy. and C Hwy. north of Cassville, on Farm Road 2140 going up Hungry Hollow, and several other rural roads in the Cassville and Butterfield area. If you have any information on who is responsible for the vandalism, contact the Barry County Sheriff's Department.

Sater, Fitzpatrick speak at Eggs & Issues breakfast

Rachael Freeman

The Cassville Area Chamber of Commerce held an Eggs & Issues breakfast early Tuesday morning with updates from Senator David Sater and Representative Scott Fitzpatrick.

The Eggs & Issues forum was sponsored by CenturyLink in an effort to update Chamber members on the newest avenues of the CenturyLink corporation as well as provide an opportunity for local constituents to visit with their elected officials.

Both Senator Sater and Rep. Fitzpatrick gave a recap of their Legislative sessions and bills they worked on. They also informed the crowd of bills that were vetoed by Governor Jay Nixon and the process of attempting to override the Governor during Veto Session.

The event was held in the Mercy Hospital-Cassville Conference Room.

Eagle Rock Library "Digs Into Safety"

The Eagle Rock Library expressed their gratitude to Chief Steve Gash of the Eagle Rock Golden Mano Fire Department for bringing the new fire truck for the kids to explore and talking to them about making a fire escape plan. They were also grateful for Mike Phillips and Ann Hennigan from the Barry County 911 Center for talking to the children about calling 911.

Rachael Freeman

In conjunction with the Barry-Lawrence Regional Library Summer Reading Program, the Eagle Rock Library held a "Dig Into Safety" program for local kids.

The Eagle Rock Golden Mano Fire Department, as well as the Barry County 911 Center, visited with the children and offered several safety tips.

Mike Phillips, the director of Barry County 911, stated, "I was excited that we were a part of the event and always look forward to any time that we can talk with kids about 911.

"We receive 911 calls from kids on a regular basis and we know how important it is for them to know what to do in an emergency and how to dial 911 from a cell phone or landline."

Ann Hennigan, who is the office manger for the 911 Center, organized the event at the library.

"The Eagle Rock

Library event gave us the perfect opportunity to share information with kids who maybe getting introduced to 911 for the first time. We want the kids to have confidence when they pick up the phone in an emergency situation.

"It is important that they know which buttons to push on the phone. It is equally important for them understand the need to speak loudly and clearly with 911 personnel."

Good samaritans efforts help save truck from fire

Paula Andersen

At 12:25 p.m. on Thursday, July 25, on the Viola Curve, four miles south of Shell Knob, a pickup truck driven and owned by Elize Allen was pulling a trailer that was loaded with four round bales of hay. The trailer and hay caught fire from a tire that had blown and shredded itself coming from the Windsor Bay area on Highway 39 south. Elize and his friend Toby Koehler pulled over at the first available turnoff, a driveway on the south side of Highway 39 curve. They attempted to disengage the trailer from the diesel pickup truck and were unable to and fight the flames. Passersby stopped and assisted in loosening the truck from the flaming trailer.

Mrs. Karen Allen, wife of Elize, was driving behind him and saw the flames. She pulled off just ahead of him at the next driveway, raced back to get into Elize's truck as the good Samaritans disengaged it and she drove it off the highway to safety. Her quick actions saved Elize's truck. Karen said, "I didn't get the name of those men who helped us and called 911 but we are forever thankful for their actions. We are also thankful that we have such a fine group of Central Crossing Fire Protection volunteers and Fire Chief to help us put out the fire. Those bales weigh over 400 pounds and are not easy to move."

Jeremy Huse Photography to host Chamber luncheon

Jeremy Huse, owner and photographer behind the growing small business Jeremy Huse Photography, will serve as the speaker at the third chamber quarterly luncheon of the year on Thursday, August 15, at 12:00 p.m. at the Barry County Museum.

"I am looking forward to having the opportunity to provide chamber members with some basic photography and technology tips that will hopefully be useful to their business. I want to help people in any way I can and hope this luncheon will offer practical information people can apply in their day-to-day lives, both at work and at home," stated Huse.

Huse will explain basic photography terms and how they relate to using the printer and monitor, how to resize photos for web use as well as provide helpful resources and recommendations for printing options. Huse also plans to demonstrate how to shoot small product shots which in turn will help businesses make the best use of their marketing tactics.

"Basic photography skills are something that most of our members are not familiar with and can sometimes seem impossible to learn. Huse will explain a few basic principles clearly and will allow plenty of time for questions and answers. I am hopeful this luncheon will be very beneficial to our small businesses, especially those that put a lot of emphasis on marketing with Facebook photos," said Artherton, Cassville Chamber Director.

Huse has over 10 years of photography experience and specializes in family, senior and children photography, but also has limited availability for weddings. Huse is available for indoor, outdoor and studio pictures.

Those interested in attending should RSVP to Artherton at (417)-847-2814 or chamber@cassville.com. Deadline to RSVP is Monday, August 12. Lunch is $8 per person and will be catered by Gerald's.

If you would like more information about the luncheon, please call the chamber office at (417) 847-2814. For information on Jeremy Huse Photography, contact Huse at 417-489-2236 or jeremy@jeremyhusephotography.com.

Cassville FCCLA members attend National Conference

Morethan7,000nationwide members, advisers, alumni, and guests of Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA), gathered in Nashville, Tennessee, July 7-11 for the 2013 National Leadership Conference. Morgan Shumaker and Alyssa Pearman, juniors at Cassville High School, and their adviser, Mrs. Samantha Cosper, were among them.

This year’s student-originated theme for the annual national meeting was “Discover Your Voice.” Throughout the five-day convention, participants examined and discussed several critical issues, including family, school and community violence prevention, physical as well as financial fitness, future career exploration and countless community service projects.

A number of relevant youth issues, such as the changing roles of men and women in the home and workplace, leadership, and obesity prevention, were also explored at the meeting through presentations, workshops, and youth sessions.

In addition to participating in various youth sessions, Morgan and Alyssa were also among the 3,600 students who competed in STAR Events (Students Taking Action with Recognition) which are competitive events that build proficiency and achievement in leadership and job-related skills.

They submitted their video for the Digital Stories for Change STAR Event in February. This category recognizes participants who demonstrate their knowledge, skills, and abilities to actively identify an issue concerning families, careers, or communities; research the topic; and develop a digital story to advocate for positive change. The topic this year was youth traffic safety. Their digital story scored in the top 20 across the nation securing them a competitive spot at the National Leadership Conference in July. At the National Leadership Conference, Morgan and Alyssa presented their final digital story and gave a 5-minute presentation to evaluators on the planning process, implementation, and impact of their overall project. They received a silver medal with a score of 89.75 out of 100.

Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA), is a dynamic and effective national student organization that helps young men and women become leaders and address important personal, family, work, and societal issues through Family and Consumer Sciences education. FCCLA has 200,000 members and over 5,500 chapters from 50 state associations, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. The organization has involved more than ten million youth since its founding in 1945. In our local community, we have an FCCLA chapter that is active both at the middle school and high school level. They participate and compete at the regional, state, and national level. Students who are or have previously taken a Family and Consumer Sciences course are eligible to join FCCLA. For more information, please contact Mrs. Ann Ellis, Cassville Middle School FCCLA Adviser, or Mrs. Samantha Cosper, Cassville High School FCCLA Adviser.

New owners at Eagle Rock's Shoreline Grocery

Samantha Barberio

Shoreline Grocery in Eagle Rock has reopened its doors to the public this summer under new management.

Glen McDainiel has given the store it's boost, appealing to many members of the community in Eagle Rock.

Shoreline Grocery has all the much needed items that most would have to find at a larger grocery store, which for the community is at least 20 minutes away. The store contains grocery items such as bread, milk, cheese, canned items, dry items and much more.

McDainiel is very concerned about the community, and wants to do everything in his power to help Eagle Rock and the surrounding area, such as carrying items that people suggest they will buy every week or taking time out of his day to deliver pre-paid groceries to the elderly.

McDainiel also donates food to the local food pantry and is making plans to start carrying vitamins and other common items so everyone can take care of all their shopping in one place, without having to spend a lot of gas money for a few items.

Purdum re-elected to DFA board

Larry Purdom, a dairy farmer from Purdy, has been re-elected to serve on the board of directors for Dairy Farmers of America, Inc. Purdom will represent the cooperative's southeast area for a three-year term.

Purdum, along with his wife and daughter, milks 140 cows, grows corn silage and hay, and raises a small herd of beef cows on 700 acres. He is chairman of the Missouri Dairy Association and serves on the Midwest Dairy Association.

Active in the dairy industry, Purdom serves on the Barry County Farm Bureau board and is chairman of the Congressional Agriculture Advisory Committee. He previously served on the National Dairy board.

Purdum was inducted into the Missouri Cooperative Hall of Fame in 2010 and also has been honored with the FFA American Farmer Degree and as an Honorary Star Farmer. He was inducted in the Missouri Dairy Hall of Honors and has won grand champions, premier breeder and exhibitor awards. Purdom received the Missouri Dairy Hall of Honors Distinguished Dairy Cattle Breeder Award in 2011.

DFA's board structure ensures grassroots representation and leadership by the dairy farmer owner members of the organization. Leaders are elected by members from each of DFA's seven regional areas for positions at the local district level, on area councils and for the national 51-member dairy producer board. Elected leaders are responsible for guiding management and establishing the policies and business direction of the cooperative.

By Samantha Barberio
The Cassville Golf Course welcomed the 76th Annual Women’s Tri-State Golf Championship on July 23rd and 24th. This tournament invites women golfers from organizations within a 90 mile radius of the tri-corner of Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas.
The three day event started off with a Monday morning silent auction and a night social at the course, welcoming approximately 110 ladies participating in the Golf Championship. The social was held at the Club-house patio offering a dip in the pool, a cash bar, hors d’oeuvres and a meal provided by the local restaurant, BBQ Station.

The golf tournament had a shotgun start at 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday morning and again on Wednesday, with a burst of cool weather to accompany the ladies during the tournament. Tuesday night there was a banquet at the Emory Melton Lodge providing dinner and a program. After two days of competition, the awards luncheon was held at the Emory Melton Lodge in Roaring River State Park. Once the games were totaled, Jill West from Briarbrooke Country Club was announced as overall winner of the 76th Annual Women’s Tri-State Golf Championship.
During this event, the Tri-State Tournament Board tried to give back to the community as much as possible, such as ordering all of the tournaments needs from the Cassville area. Trophies were from Tomblins and engraved by Sports World, and over 100 ladies stayed in local hotels for the two-three day time period. Also, there were over ninety businesses in Cassville that made donations or sponsored the Tri-State Golf Championship.

The Tri-State Board consisted of: Tri-State Co-Chairs Susie Jacobs and Carol Skarp, Tri-State Treasurer Ruth Callahan, Tri-State Secretary Becky Ryder, and Board Members Janie Watson and Connie Figgins. The Cassville Golf Course Staff was also an important part in keeping this tournament running, Course Administrator Chuck Edie and Golf Course Superintendent Randy Meadows.

Susie Jacobs made a statement thanking all who made the tournament possible, “Thank you to the Cassville Women Golf Association, all of the volunteers, and sponsors.” Susie also stated, "Without the generosity from the Cassville businesses we wouldn't have been able to make this tournament possible. What makes this town unique, and the reason people love coming here, is that everyone is so giving. "The next Tri-State Golf Championship will be held at Briarbrooke Country Club in Carl Junction.

Southwest Trap Team finishes season 10th in the nation

CTP, which stands for the Scholastic Clay Target Program, is an organization designed for youth athletes to compete in a variety of shooting sports that include the disciplines of American Trap, Olympic Trap, American Skeet, Olympic Skeet, Sporting Clays, Rifle, and Pistol. The National Shooting Sports Foundation, (NSSF) developed this program as a pipeline for developing and introducing promising young shooters the U.S. Olympic Shooting Team.

Southwest competed with 1,883 other trap shooters and 159 teams from 30 states. There are five divisions in which the athletes compete and they are: Senior Varsity, Senior Junior varsity, which are high school levels. The Intermediate advanced and Intermediate entry levels include 6th – 8th grades, and the Rookie division is for shooters 5th grade and under.

The senior varsity team finished 10th in the nation out of 95 teams shooting a team score of 966/1000 targets. Seniors Eric Anderson, Johnathon Wolf, and Kordell McNabb led the high school team with scores of 197, 196, and 195 out of 200. “Our goal each year is to place in the top three at our state shoot and crack the top ten nationally. We won the state title at the Missouri State SCTP Championships in June and finished 10th in Sparta, so I was pleased with how we shot all year,” said Head Coach Mike Vining. The senior JV team shot a combined score of 901/1000 to finish 14th out of 42 teams nationally. Senior Eithan Still led the squad with a 200 target score of 190, while freshman Hayden Fox carded a 187.

Other members of the high school team that contributed greatly to the 10th and 14th place finishes were Tommy Sickles, Garrett Hobbs, Jesse Hayworth, Alex Cook, Brent Anderson, and Jacob Wolf. “Out of the 11 members of our high school team, we had six freshmen and one sophomore, so I am already very excited about the next three years. I always have mixed feelings about our seniors and this year was no exception. On one hand, it was sad to think that we would be without these four seniors after Nationals. They have been as talented a bunch as we have ever had go through our program. Then, on the other hand, I know that these four guys will move on to the next chapter in their lives, and become successful in anything they set their sights on. For that, I am very happy for them. It has truly been a privilege to have them with us,” said Vining. On the Junior High side of things, the intermediate entry squad posted a 799/1000, good enough for a 16th place finish out of 30 other teams. Levi Moore led the team with an awesome two day total of 192/200, which was good enough to put him tied individually with 3 other shooters for 3rd. Unfortunately, with the tie-breaker system they used, Levi wound up 5th in the final standings. “This was Levi’s first year with us, so I was very happy for him to be able to finish so well.” Chance Black, also a new shooter, was second high on the team with a 168. Other Junior high shooters chipping in to help with a top 20 finish were: Skyler Willer, Emily Snyder, Heather Windes, Elizabeth Wolfe, Charlie Henderson and Michael Banks, and Jarrett Pike. Shooting in the Rookie division were Jake Taylor, Hunter Stanley, Leland Colf, and Garrett Stanley. “Out of the 13 shooters on our junior high team, only three had had competitive shooting experience. So, when you factor in that nearly 80% of the team were first year shooters this season, I believe we had an extremely successful season. Three of our young ones, Skyler, Chance, and Charlie, shot their first 25 straight while at Nationals, so in keeping with our tradition, we got to “air condition” their hats while there. Even though our 4th and 5th graders shot some of their best rounds of the year, I really felt bad for our four rookies, as we just lacked one shooter in that age group to have enough for a full Rookie team. “All of these junior high shooters are absolutely ate up with the sport. It has been so great to see the enthusiasm on their faces when they come to shoot, and I can’t wait to see what they are able to accomplish in the years to come. “As always, there are so many people to thank for their contributions to our team. First and foremost, I would like to thank my assistant for the last 12 years, Rick Wright. He has been so instrumental in our success that words do not do him justice. Rick has volunteered his time and knowledge of shooting with us for a long time. “A special thank you to Mr. Walker and the Southwest School Board as well as the Seligman Chamber of Commerce for helping us to realize the dream of having our own practice facility, as it has truly been a benefit to our program. Thank you to Highway 37 Pawn for your help in our fundraisers. I am always hesitant to name all the supporters we have for fear I will leave someone out. So, to all of the individuals and businesses in the Southwest School District and surrounding area, Thank you so much for your efforts.”

Rain keeps cowboys from competing

Jonee Davis

As cowboys were roping and riding this last Saturday night at the Rockin' P arena in Wheaton, the crowd of approximately 200, coming from as far away as Ash Grove and Dodge City, Kan., cheered and clapped for their favorite teams but a halt had to be called because of the rain storm before all the events were finished.

Teams were only able to complete two events before the mud in the arena because too deep to keep cowboys and their horses safe from harm. The other three events will be included in the rodeo on August 31st in Neosho at the Crowder College Roughrider arena.

Fourteen teams of four cowboys each were participating in five different events in the third f five Ranch Rodeos called the Buckle Series.

The rodeos are held at Rockin' P arena in Wheaton and Crowder College Roughrider arena in Neosho. Each team competes for points and money. At the end of the series finals, the winning teams will be awarded valuable prizes. The team with the highest points will be presented with buckles from Gist Silversmiths, second place team members will receive cactus ropes from JS Productions, and third place team members will receive headstalls handmade by Armadillo Leather.

A valuable prize will also be awarded to the Top

Hand. The Top Hand award will go the cowboy who might have the fastest time, works best with his horse, or shows the best team work, and several other considerations that are being kept between the judges until the final rodeo. At this time there are only seven and a half points between first and second place teams and 9 points between second and third place teams.

Ranch Rodeos are a very popular sporting event in this area and are enjoyed by the whole family. The Rockin' P arena is owned by Melvin and Terri Priest. This is the first year the Ranch Rodeo Buckle Series have been held and the Priest's are looking forward to next year already.

Terri Priest would like everyone to mark their calendar for August 31st for the fourth rodeo of the series in Neosho and the rodeo finals at the Rockin' P arena in Wheaton on September 28.

The rodeos start at 7:00 p.m. and the cost to get in is $5.00 per person or $20.00 per car load. You can also find the Rockin P Ranch and Arena on Facebook.

EASY SELL!

Be Wise To Guy Wires.

Smart use of farm machinery means watching out for electric lines to avoid potentially lethal contact. But did you know that the guy wires on power poles provide grounding as well as support? Damaging a guy wire can cause an electric current disruption, creating a dangerous situation.

Observe the 10-foot rule to stay clear of guy wires as well as overhead power lines when you work with or move equipment. And be sure to contact your electric cooperative should you have a problem with either type of wire.

How to write a classified ad
that gets results

Example: COCKER SPANIEL,

1) Female 1 yr. old. 2) Blonde.

3) Good with children. 4) $100 or best offer. 5) 000-0000 after 6:00.

1) Identify what you're selling.
Abbreviations may be clear to you, but not a prospective buyer.

2) Describe the item with enough basic information to get the reader interested. Feature appealing details.

3) Don't exaggerate the item's condition or features. Make your pitch attractive, but believable.
People shun claims that sound too good to be true.

4) Include price. Advertising the price draws greater response because people are interested in what they can afford. If price is negotiable, say so.

5) Be home when your ad is running or specify the hours you can be reached. People may not call back if they can't reach you at first. Don't risk missing a sale
- be there when the phone rings.

SHELL KNOB SCHOOL DISTRICT
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A hearing will be held at 5:30 P.M., August 19, 2013, in the Board Room of the Shell Knob School at which citizens may be heard on the property taxes proposed to be set by the Shell Knob School, a school district located in Barry and Stone counties. The tax rates are set to produce the revenues which the budget for the Fiscal Year beginning July 1, 2013, shows to be required from the property tax. Each tax rate is determined by dividing amount of revenue needed by the current assessed valuation. The result is multiplied by 100 so that the tax rate will be expressed in cents per $100 valuation.
