Appellate court rules in favor of Monett in TIF suit

Rachael Freeman

The Missouri Court of Appeals affirmed Judge Neal Quinto's ruling siding with the City of Monett in the TIF Case involving Monett, Barry County and the Barry County Emergency Services E-911 Board.

The Court affirmed the ruling that a county cannot watch tax increment financing (TIF) projects be undertaken and completed, and collect, distribute, and retain TIF monies related thereto, all for years without protest, then claim the TIF action were void from the beginning.

The appellate court also affirmed the ruling that an E-911 tax is subject to TIF allocation if voters approved the tax after the TIF district was created.

According to the City of Monett, Barry County owes Monett an estimated $2,393,290, which has been set aside by the county from the tax, and Barry County E-911 owes $380,081.

E-911 Board President Jon Horner stated that E-911 currently has $377,616.60 set aside in escrow.

Barry County Clerk Gary Youngblood stated that the County also has the money set aside in escrow as well.

"Approximately 60 percent of the money in escrow is from the real-estate tax levies for these political subdivisions which are in the TIF area such as the Monett School District, all County wide districts including the Barry Lawrence Library, Barry County Health Department, Senior Services Board, Developmentally Disabled Board and special districts such as Barry Lawrence Ambulance, Monett Road District. The other 40 percent is half from the road sales tax and half from the county sales tax," stated Youngblood.

"All of the money is not coming from the county sales tax," Youngblood reinforced.

Although the court has ruled in the City of Monett's favor, no order has been sent to disperse this money to TIF at this time.

Cassville sales tax revenue makes three-percent climb

Rachael Freeman

Sales tax revenue figures for Cassville were up for the month of April by three percent compared to April 2012. For the month of April 2013, Cassville generated $56,531.26 compared to $54,874.01 at this time last year.

This puts the City's budgeted sales tax revenue down less than half of a percent for the first five months of 2013.

Samantha Barberio

The Haven had 39 percent of the votes. In second place with 21 percent of the votes was Jesus was Homeless, and in third was A Sporting Chance with 15 percent of the votes.

Cassville Schools to focus on safety

Rachael Freeman

During the summer months, the Cassville School District will place great focus on student safety projects.

In light of recent theater and school shootings across the nation, Cassville will make several adjustments to strengthen safety.

"It is sad to think about these violent things occurring. It's a tragedy that we have to take these steps but we have to do something," stated Richard Asbill, school superintendent.

The school is already installing safety film at the entrances of the schools with more to come throughout the summer.

The Primary and Middle School offices will be moved to eliminate direct entrance into the schools. Now, visitors will have to enter directly into the office before entering the entire school.

New doors will be installed at every entrance with electronic locks so no one will have to manually lock the doors in case of an emergency.

Also, a panic alarm system will be installed. When the panic button is pushed, it will automatically call a service that will contact 911.

To get into the school, faculty and staff will have cards to swipe to enter into the building. Also, a buzz-in system will be installed.

Many of these projects will be completed by mid-June.

Barry County courts send several to prison

Samantha Barberio

Several prisoners were sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Jack Goodman to prison early this week in Barry County at the Judicial Center.

Chris Young of Monett was sentenced to 12 years in the custody of the Missouri Department of Corrections after his assault on a police officer. The assault took place when Deputy Gary Snook arrived at a residence where Young was staying; Snook advised Young that he had a warrant out and was under arrest. At first, Young cooperated with the officer, he then began to assault Deputy Snook by striking him in the face twice and stealing his gun then leaving the residence in an unknown direction. The defendant is given credit for all jail time awaiting disposition of charge.

Leroy Feeney of Purdy was pulled over by officer Darin Jones on January 23rd for displaying passenger vehicle license plates on a pickup. Officer Jones then called in State Trooper Travis Hilburn after the realizing Feeney seemed impaired and had a strong odor of intoxicants.

Once State Trooper Hilburn arrived at the scene, he noticed the odor of intoxicants and Feeney's slurred speech. He then asked Feeney how much alcohol he had consumed today; Feeney replied that he had drank one beer. Officer Jones had performed tests on Feeney and detected six indicators of impairment.

Feeney agreed to take a preliminary breath test and his blood alcohol content was above 0.080%. Feeney was also driving while revoked, driving with an open

After Minnier attended school at MMI, he moved back to Wheaton for family reasons and worked at Easy Rider in Springfield from August 2000 until March 2003.

He then opened up shop in Wheaton and went into business with Wheaton Muffler; one side was for Gary Cartwright and Harley Minnier on the other.

Minner then bought Cartwright out seven years ago and is currently building for the grand re-opening of the shop.

Harley stated, “I want to give a special thanks to every one that helped with the construction of my great shop.”

EAGLE ROCK WOMAN HELPS PROMOTE CREATIVITY THROUGH LEGOS

Samantha Barberio

Many people have grown up building with Legos and used them to create objects that didn't seem possible. Kara Fletcher, of Eagle Rock, has been doing the same for numerous years.

with her Lego creations.

Fletcher has been building with Legos since she was a kid, enjoying the ability to use her imagination to draw, draft and build many objects.

She eventually realized she could use this skill and apply it to a job, so when choosing her major at the University of Arkansas, the appropriate choice seemed to be architecture.

Fletcher is now married and has two boys to share her knowledge of Legos with; such as her skill to construct statues like Cat in the Hat and recreating the Wildcat's mascot, Wilbur.

Not only does Fletcher have a Lego brick collection, but she also collects many toys from over the years and enjoys seeing how much toys develop and become safer in time.”

Fletcher hosts a free Lego Club at the Eagle Rock Library on Tuesday nights from 5:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. and Saturday mornings from 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. Anyone is welcome to join. The club builds together step-by-step and everyone keeps their creations. Fletcher provides packs of bricks each meeting for the build that day, including packs that make up race cars, watermelons and flowers.

Also during this time, Fletcher informs the club about the history of Legos, stating with passionate enthusiasm, "It doesn't do any good to keep it all to myself!"

According to Fletcher, there are ten basic concepts about qualities a Lego toy possesses: Unlimited play potential, for girls and boys, fun for every age, year-round play, healthful quiet play, long hours of play, promotes creativity and development, the more toys you have the better the value, extra sets available, and quality in every detail.

Fletcher wholeheartedly promotes these rules and has also found some academic benefits from creating with Legos.

She states, “Legos teach the fundamentals of math without the kids even knowing.”

Fletcher's enthusiasm spread when she wrote a letter to Lego informing them on her new club. Lego was very impressed and happy to help. Fletcher received a large number of bricks from Lego, even though they don't usually send out donations.

Most importantly, Fletcher encourages children to learn how to build things better, using imagination along side critical thinking in hopes that everyone can benefit in some way from Lego brick creations.

Fletcher spent many hours constructing this Cat in the Hat out of Legos to put on display at the Cassville Intermediate School during Dr. Seuss Week last school year.

Rep. Fitzpatrick to serve on committee investigating Dept. of Revenue

State Rep. Scott Fitzpatrick will serve as a member of a bipartisan committee made up of lawmakers and members of the law enforcement community as they investigate the ongoing scandal within the Missouri Department of Revenue. Fitzpatrick was selected by House Speaker Tim Jones to serve as a member of the newly-created Bipartisan Investigative Committee on Privacy Protection.

“As someone who is passionate about preserving and protecting our Second Amendment rights, Scott Fitzpatrick will play a vital role in helping the committee to get to the bottom of the egregious violation of the public’s trust committed by the state revenue department,” said Jones, R-Eureka. “I am confident in his ability to work with his colleagues to find the truth and to develop policy solutions that will ensure such an offense never occurs again.”

Sheriff Department plans sobriety checkpoints for June

Sheriff Mick Epperly announces that several sobriety checkpoints will be held in Barry County during the month of June 2013. The Barry County Sheriff’s Office, in cooperation with other local law enforcement agencies, will conduct the sobriety checkpoints.

Sobriety checkpoints are a part of the Sheriff’s Office efforts to remove intoxicated drivers from Barry County highways and are conducted at various locations which have been found to experience a higher than normal number of alcohol-related contacts.

Sheriff Epperly says, “Driving while intoxicated checkpoints are a great tool in removing the intoxicated driver from Missouri’s highways. If you suspect a motorist of driving while intoxicated, call the Barry County E911 Center at 417-847-3121, 911 or on the Missouri State Patrols toll-free emergency number (800)-525-5555 or cellular *55.”

The committee will take a close look at the actions of the Missouri Department of Revenue and the new policy implemented by the department to scan and retain the personal information of concealed-carry weapon permit holders. While the department initially denied the information was shared with out-of-state entities, details later surfaced to reveal that the information of 163,000 CCW holders in Missouri was shared with the federal government. Fitzpatrick and his colleagues have acted during the 2013 legislative session to prohibit the department from continuing its policy, but House Speaker Jones has asked the newly-formed committee to continue to work to develop policy solutions to prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future.

The committee will investigate the circumstances surrounding the preparation, compilation, storage, sharing, and dissemination of over 163,000 concealed carry records. The investigation will aid the legislature in determining what motivated state officials to act as they did, whether state laws were broken in the process, and whether new or revised laws are needed to ensure that this will never happen again.

Coming home to Roseberry Hill

Rachael Freeman

Gary Rose, of Washburn, is living his American dream. He can vividly remember helping his grandfather, Lemmie, at his farm out in the tomato patch when he was just five years old. Now, Gary is back working on that same farm. This time, he’s busy in a strawberry patch.

Gary is nurturing well over 3,000 quarts worth of strawberry plants at his Roseberry Hill Farm off of Highway 90 and NN Highway in Washburn.

“Once we get a couple days of sunlight, we are going to be overwhelmed with strawberries,” Gary stated.

“I would like to get some people out here and get back to nature and pick some fresh strawberries. For some, it will bring back memories of when they were younger and working outside before there were computers and cell phones,” said Gary.

Gary’s strawberries are as fresh as can be with no in-later, I’m at it again and I’m enjoying every bit of it,” said Gary.

Gary is native to Washburn but spent many years away in Fayetteville, Ark., where he attended and graduated the University of Arkansas in 32 months, Memphis and Springfield after retiring from the postal service.

Gary is eager to share strawberries with the county. He has carriers available fashioned to replicate the old time carriers made out of wood. For those who pick their own strawberries, the cost is $2 per quart. Bringing your own carriers is appreciated.

If you need Gary to pick secticides and no plastic covering the plants. This season, Gary has spent nearly 1,000 hours on his hands and knees pulling weeds in the strawberry patch.

If Gary isn’t out at Roseberry Hill, he can be found cruising around Roaring River State Park where he works part time.

“Things have really come full circle for me. I remember when I was 16 and cruising around Roaring River and now, 51 years the strawberries, the cost is $2.75 per quart. Gary will also take orders for those to come pickup.

Picking hours are daily from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. once berries are ripe. You can contact Gary at (417)-225-0780 or contact (417)-489-5346.

Roseberry Hill Farms is located off of Highway 90 in Washburn. Turn left at Highway NN and the farm is 6/10 of a mile on the right.

Purdy Middle School April Students of the Month

Purdy Middle School Principal Janet Boys is pleased to announce April Students of the Month. Each month the middle school core class teachers nominate one student from each grade level, fifth through eighth.

The fifth grade Student of the Month for April is Haylie Harris. Fifth grade teacher Kim Hall noted, “Haylie is a wonderful student, always working to do the best on assignments. She has a calm, quiet strength about her that is wonderful to see in a young lady. Because of this strength she knows she doesn’t have to be the loudest student to be a stand-out student.”

Emily Dodson received the award in sixth grade.

Middle School Principal Janet Boys observed, “Emily is a very bright and sweet student. She is kind toward her classmates and is always willing to help others. She is a delight to have in the middle school.”

Middle School Teacher Gary West explained why the teachers selected seventh grader Irma Rodriguez as April’s Student of the Month. “Irma possesses qualities that all teachers enjoy in a student. She is a consistent worker and does her assignments to improve herself and to learn for the joy of learning. Respect just comes naturally to Irma. She is quiet, but her warmth and genuine smile speak volumes about the quality of what she has to offer to others.”

Sami House received the award for eighth grade. Mr. Ryan Kaden explained, “Sami is an outstanding student and a great choice for student of the month. Her work is consistently outstanding. Sami completes her work in a nonchalant manner that reflects the fact that she expects to do well. She consistently lives up to her own high expectations.

April’s Students of the Month received a Certificate of Accomplishment and an invitation to a pizza lunch with Mrs. Boys. The Purdy R-2 School District would like to congratulate these students for their outstanding accomplishments at Purdy Middle School.

Book giveaway a hit with students

Books & Band-Aids, an organization in which Cassville parents find and meet the needs of the educators at Cassville Schools, held a book give away on Monday, May 20th, at the Cassville Intermediate Library. The organization provided two books for each child to take home at the end of the school year. This is to help kids have the tools to keep their minds sharp by reading in the summer. The organization had approximately 1,500 age appropriate books to give away on Monday.

This organization is also looking to help the needs of Cassville school nurses, and is in the process of creating small first aid kits for each teacher K-8th grade, that’s about 70 teachers. Anyone can donate many of the supplies needed, which includes: antiseptic wipes, antibiotic ointment, Band-Aids, cough drops, Q-tips, gloves and many more supplies.

For more information on Books & Band-Aids and how to donate, contact Kara Fletcher at (417)-846-3059 or visit www.facebook.com/cassvillebooksandbandaids.

Kings River Ladies Golf League

By Cindy Thomovsky

Well, here it was another great day. Hard to think that it is actually getting so warm that we could complain about that after the last few weeks, but the breeze was pleasant and as usual the group was fun. Besides finding Turtles "doing their thing" on the Fairway and the grass in the rough hiding our balls, we all played at golf as well.

This week we played Poker Golf. The Best Poker Hand won which means the higher scores worked in our favor. The big winners for the day! Barb Dudley and Carol Barekman. Both had at least 4 of a Kind and the same highest score on one other hole. Three others tied for 2nd, they had the same 4 of a Kind but did not score as high as the two winners on the other hole. Those in second were Kathy McGrath, Carol Hefley and Marilyn Atkinson. You probably noticed that not mentioned is what the 4 of a Kind was and what those higher numbers on the other hole were. In deference to the players, that is "restricted" information. Others of note: Sharon Glenn had a Chip-In BIRDIE on #12 and Carol Hefley had a plain old normal Birdie on #11. Lori Reaves took the Low Gross honors with a 42 and also helped her score by taking the Lowest number of Putts. Sharon Glenn took the Low Net Honors with a 33. Next week we will be enjoying a day at Holiday Island as they host their Ladies Guest Day.

Ladies Golf League

By Becky Ryder

Finally! No rain on a Thursday! The day was cloudy with sprinkles now and then, but the Cassville Women's League was able to complete an 18 hole scramble on Thursday, May 16, 2013. After playing, the League completed their monthly business meeting. Membership in the league is always open. So, if you want to play golf, have fun, and meet some great gals, call Janie Watson at 847-1092 or Becky Ryder at 847-2597. We have members with a wide range of playing skills.

1st Place: Lynn Blanke, Mary Lee Meyerkord, Penny Hall with a 74.
2nd Place: Tied with a 77 Jackie Rose, Marlene Woolf, Janie Watson Susie Jacobs, Ruth Callahan, Sue King.

Missouri Hunter Education offered in Seligman

Missouri Hunter Education class will be held Saturday, June 8th, 8:00-5:00 p.m. and Sunday, June 9th, 8:00-12:00 noon, at Seligman City Hall, 29144 Main Street. For information, contact Brian Nichols at 417-342-6554 or register online at www.mdc.mo.gov or www.register-ed.com.

Chamber Golf Tournament Champions

Champion Flight A: First Place: Curt Roland, Mike Winkle, Butch Watson, Jason Dixon. Second place: Cassville school. Third place: Arning Companies. Crazy Line on hole 2: Dr. Clark Flannery. Closest to the pin on hole 6: Stan Kelley. Closest to the pin on hole 11: Mark Irsik.

First place: International Paper, Larry McWhirter, Denny Wolfe, Les Lyons, and Ron Stafford. Second place: Sonic. Third place: Freedom Bank

Coast Guard Auxiliary holds boating safety classes in Shell Knob

The Coast Guard Auxiliary has a primary mission and that is recreational boating safety. The main way we try to achieve this is through our boating safety classes and that is why members of Division 5 which encompasses Lake Pomme de Terr, Stockton Lake, Table Rock Lake, Beaver Lake and Bull Shoals and Norfolk Lake attended the first ever Instructor Gathering at the Shell Knob Fire Station last Saturday to learn new methods of instruction to better present a topic which will save lives.

"One person not returning from a hopeful weekend on the lake is one too many, said Phil Bailey Division Commander."

In order to present such an important topic we need top notch instructors and that is what we are trying to do in the way of the instructor gathering. Power Point presentation do's and don'ts were discussed as well as the instructor's delivery method. To show everyone how serious we are about boating education Shell Knob's flotilla is giving away for free boating safety classes which everyone born after 1984 in Missouri must have the card on them while operating a boat or jet ski. We will even hold a special class for any group which can put together at least 5 participants. Give us a call to make arrangements. (417)-271-9116.

He then found a black duffle bag containing more drug paraphernalia, the bag of white powder tested positive for methamphetamine. Place was sentenced to three years in the custody of the Missouri Department of Corrections and was given credit for all jail time awaiting disposition.

Dennis Gibson Sr. of Seligman was sentenced to four years after failing to pay child support for his two minor children. Dennis had been ordered to pay $481.00 per month; however, as of May 5, 2006, he had racked up $14,986.84 in back payments. Gibson was sentenced to four years incarceration on June 26, 2007. The sentence was later reduced to probation, which Gibson violated. After considering

FOR IT IS WRITTEN

JOHN 21:16 -- He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me?
He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; Thou knowest that I love thee.
He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

ISAIAH 53:6 -- All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned everyone to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

JOHN 6:44 -- No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

2PETER 2:7 -- and delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked.

ISAIAH 57:21 -- There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

REVELATIONS 1:18 -- I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for everyone, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death.

Barry County Courthouse 100 Years: Part IX

In the last issue of the story about the Barry County Courthouse we carried a celebration of the citizens in Barry County who gathered at Cassville on Monday, July 8, 1912, to celebrate the victory for the $40,000.00 bond issue to build a new county courthouse.

This was simply the beginning of a series of actions by the county commission who at that time was composed of Judges J.F. Montgomery, E.H. Holman of Mano and Pat O’Dwyer of Monett.

To say that there was harmony in the county commission would be the exact opposite of what was underway at the time. Up to that time, Judges Montgomery and E.H. Holman had made the decisions and Pat O’Dwyer usually dissented.

The passage of the bond issue only intensified the problems which were arising in the county commission, fueled by some citizens of Monett, Purdy and Exeter.

Judge Montgomery who lived in the Capps Creek Township area of Barry County, and E.H. Holman were always on the moving side and Judge Pat O’Dwyer was always on the defensive. The people who were supporting the Monett, Purdy, Exeter combine, which were defeated on the July 6th election, were constantly on the attack and Holman and Montgomery were taking the action which they felt was necessary to get the project of the construction of a new county courthouse underway.

Between July 6, and January 1, 1913, Montgomery and Holman would largely be in charge of letting the contracts for the construction of the new building. O’Dwyer and his followers were in the minority but that did not deter them from taking all sorts of delaying actions which had to be brought to fruition before the term of Judge Holman expired on December 31.

Judges Montgomery and Holman began by getting the plans of C.E. Hair & Co. of Oklahoma City adopted along with the employment of J.H. Otterman who would be the superintendent of the construction of the building. Otterman had been empowered by the two judges on the county commission as superintendent and the Hair plans were readopted.

This resulted in a law suit being filed against Montgomery, Holman and Otterman, who had received $1,500.00, which it alleged to have been illegally appropriated for the plans and specifications for the new courthouse which had been drawn by Hair & Co of Oklahoma City.

That law suit was heard in March of 1913, but despite the fact that various actions had been filed during the interim from July 6 up to January 1, also muddled the proceedings.

The petition in the Barry County Circuit Court, which was filed prior to December 31, alleged that the defendants Montgomery and Holman had wrongfully, fraudulently and in violation their trust and duty to the county entered into an agreement and conspiracy and understanding with the defendant Otterman by which it was agreed and understood that Otterman was the superintendent and that the lawsuit further alleged that through these acts by the two members of the county commission Barry County was defrauded out of $1,500.00.

The prosecuting attorney at the time John Burgess of Monett, Jake Davis of Cassville and Jim Sater of the Monett firm of Mahu, Sater and Gardner represented the protestors. D.H. Kemp and Fielding Sizer of Monett represented the Defendant which was Barry County.

The law suit would still be pending when the Circuit Court met on March 22, 1913. Circuit Judge McNatt of Aurora had denied a motion to dismiss which was filed by Kemp and Sizer.

This rhubarb continued after the victory of the $40,000.00 bond issue up until after the first of the year in 1913. No action was taken as far as the groundbreaking is concerned, until 1913.

Judge Holman went out of office on December 31, 1912, and at that point in the afternoon all the steps had been taken to award the contract for the construction of the courthouse with

J.H. Otterman named as a construction superintendent. In the 1912 general election R.H. Elam of Eagle Rock (who was elected to replace E.H. Holman) had teamed up with Pat O’Dwyer leaving Judge Montgomery as the sole survivor on the county commission who had piloted the $40,000.00 bond issue to victory on July 6, 1912.

This threw a whole different light on the actions from thereon prior to the groundbreaking in August of 2013.

In the meantime, a vendetta was inaugurated against Judge Montgomery, who by all accounts was a respectable citizen of the Capps Creek community, for being drunk at a meeting of the county commission and for having spent the county’s money illegally by paying $1,500.00 to J.H. Otterman and also he was named as defendant in slander suits filed by some of the patrons of the Monett and Purdy community relative to alleged statements he had made in the bond election and the aftermath.

Turkey Mt. Airport to hold Memorial Weekend fly-in

Paula Andersen

Turkey Mountain Airport will be hosting its first fly-in of the season on Saturday, May 25. Besides the area pilots/planes arriving, a Super Club gathering from Gaston’s Resort will use Turkey Mountain Airport as a stopping off lunch spot during their poker-run fundraiser for the Wounded Warrior Project. The Wounded Warrior Project assists returning soldiers from war zones in physical rehabilitation or financial support.

Turkey Mt. Airport will offer a 50/50 donation pot, with proceeds designated to the project. Last year they were able to donate $1,000 and had over 50 planes attending.

The Super Cub group has offered to do an exhibition of short field take-offs, spot landing and engage in a flour-bombing contest. So, bring lawn chairs and enjoy the entertainment. The event is free. Last year this event brought out several hundred visitors and was a big hit for the Shell Knob area.

A lunch consisting of all-beef hot dogs, beans, chips, dessert, and drink is available for a nominal fee, and will be served from 11 am to 2 pm.

Turkey Mountain Airport, Shell Knob, is located at the end of Lake Road 39-5 (about 4 ½ miles from Hwy. 39), also named FR 1230. Air Identifier is MO00. For more information, call 417.858.6345 or www.TurkeyMountainAirport.com.

The Macedonia Quartet...They Made Beautiful Music Together: Part III

California, Here We Come!

Spencer Smith was a rural mail carrier and he arranged for the quartet to go to the 1931 annual association of letter carriers in Eldorado Springs in Cedar County. While at that meeting Smith was elected to go as delegate to the National Rural Letter Carriers Association in Los Angeles, California. The understanding was that he take the quartet along and as an inducement, the association voted to pay $200 to defray expenses. They eagerly accepted the offer. The four men from Macedonia Community were off to sing at the Hollywood Bowl!

The group enjoyed singing. They enjoyed each other's company. And they certainly enjoyed the trip to California.

They made the trip in Smith's car, stopping along the way to visit family members and friends. Rev. Henderson's journal contains several pages of memories of the trip. The excitement of the four young men and the thrills they experienced as they traveled across the U.S. is plainly revealed in the yellowed pages. He recalls crossing the Rio Grand River into Juarez, Old Mexico, on an electric railroad and the sense they felt of being "entirely out of one's own country." He remembers finding a worm in his cornbread muffin in Abilene,

Texas. They were astounded to see cattle roaming the streets of a "typical western town." They crossed the Painted Desert. When they stopped just outside Phoenix to fill their thermos, they found the thermometer registered 115 degrees. The young men were fascinated by the temperature change as they gained elevation. Finally came the Pacific coastline. Henderson wrote, many years ago, "Here we stopped the car and walked along the beach, stopping occasionally just to put our hands in the water and look out across the Pacific Ocean. It was a wonderful sight to see the great waters and so many strange sights."

They wondered at "oil derricks so numerous they almost touch each other." They went on an excursion trip to Catalina Island. The Henderson journal relates, "It was a wonderful trip. Catalina's surface is covered with desert growth, sage brush and mesquite. From a distance it resembles a large stone rising up from the water. We took an ocean ride on the glass bottom boat. The sights were wonderful to behold. We saw untold numbers of fish, mussels of very large size, and tame sea lions lying on the rocks in the bay."

They were young, enthusiastic, and unsophisticated enough to enjoy every new sight and sound.

But, when the time came to entertain, they looked and sounded professional. A good friend of the group, Harry Osborn of the Osborn Clothing Company of Monett, had tuxedos made for each of the four, and when they sang at the Hollywood Bowl they wore them for the first time. They also had an engagement at the Alexander Hotel in Los Angeles and were a hit at all the California performances.

Guests of Will Rogers

How did they become guests of Will Rogers?

Once again they had Harry Osborn to thank. It seems that Osborn and Will Rogers were old time school chums. Osborn wrote to the film start, introducing the four men and telling him about the Macedonia Quartet. Will Rogers responded with an invitation for the four to visit his home in Santa Monica. This they did. The visit was, however, short, for the quartet had other singing engagements, and as Smith puts it, "In the 1920s it was a long way from California home by motorcar...and we were anxious to see our families."

The quartet returned home, as Henderson's journal recalls, "Tired and worn from the trip, but agreed that we were much wiser for having gone."

Upon arriving home though, the quartet found that Osborn had received a letter from Will Rogers expressing his disappointment that the quartet hadn't stayed longer. He intended, he said, to take them to the Fox Studios for an audition.

Smith relates that they all four many time regretted that missed opportunity. "If we had just had a manager who knew his way around and promoted us..." Smith muses. "Its was simply a case of four country boys that could sing...but we did need a manager."

But, the regrets are said philosophically by the surviving member of the quartet. After all, there is little to regret about the good old days when the Macedonia Quartet was in its heyday.

"We all loved to sing...and we were so happy doing it," Smith summed up.

Smith, who retired as a rural mail carrier from the Monett Post Office, now lives on his Shannon Springs Ranch near Stark City.

Rev. Fred McPhail was a Baptist minister and was pastor of the Aurora Baptist Church at the time of his death on February 8, 1966. Rev. Calvin Henderson had served as pastor of Methodist churches in this county for over 40 years before his death on January 3, 1968. Judge Floyd Inman made his home in Cassville before his death some twenty years ago.

In 1926, Rev. Henderson, who lived in the Purdy community at the time, was elected Recorder of Deeds of Barry County and served in that position four years. In 1946 and again in 1950, he served as County Treasurer of Barry County.

At the same election in 1926, Inman was elected County Treasurer and served a four year term. Then in 1941, he was appointed Presiding Judge of the County Court on the death of Judge Fred Cole. Inman was elected to two four-year terms in 1942 and 1946, retiring in 1950. For many years he continued to live in the Macedonia community where he served as choir leader at the church until his death in February of 1961. He taught "singing schools" over the county during the 1930s and 1940s.

Smith concluded his memories of the group, "I shall cherish the memory of these fine men and our association together over the years...some day I expect to meet them again and perhaps sing a few number with the heavenly choir for our Lord."

There's a lot of people in this area who hope to be in the audience that fair day.
