Mercy Hospital physician John Forsyth has been missing since Sunday, May 21. His vehicle was later found at South Park in Cassville.

Adriana Keeton
According to Detective Stuart Lombard with the Cassville Police Department, Dr. John Forsyth, 49, of Republic and physician with Mercy Hospital, left his shift on Sunday, May 21, around 7 a.m. at the Cassville Emergency Room and has not been heard from since. WWII Pilots military memorabilia returned to Barry County family

First Lieutenant Hugh S. Brixey, Jr.

Adriana Keeton
Memorial Day, originally known as Decoration Day, is a federal holiday in the United States to honor and mourn personnel who died while serving in the United States armed forces. It is observed on the last Monday of May and is considered the unofficial beginning of summer.
This Memorial Day, I want to share the story of First Lt. Hugh S. Brixey, Jr., who, according to his obituary in a November 1944 issue of the Cassville Democrat and information on Ancestry.com, was the son of Hugh S. Brixey, Sr., who for many years was the superintendent of Roaring River State Park and past Sheriff of Barry County, and Mrs. Norma Brixey, of Cassville. He was the grandson of former Sheriff G.M. Brixey of Washburn Prairie. He graduated from Cassville High School in 1936 and attended Missouri and Arkansas universities before entering the Army Air Forces. He was killed at age 25 on October 15, 1944, in a crash of his B-24 Bomber plane in World War II's China, Burma, and India Theater. He was laid to rest at Maplewood Cemetery, in Exeter, on Wednesday, March 10, 1948, with full military honors.

I only know of First Lt. Brixey because American Legion First Vice Commander of Post 118, Tim Lowe, walked into the Advertiser's office last week with a genuinely inspirational story about Lt. Brixey's family history in the area and the return of his military memorabilia and treasured

The Barry County Advertiser will be closed Monday, May 29, in observance of Memorial Day. Deadline for display and classified ads will be Friday, May 26, at 4 p.m. Have a safe and happy Memorial Day from all of us at the Advertiser.

Cox Monett Hospital
welcomes new physician to hospitalist team

Dr. Robert Tyler has joined the Cox Monett Hospitalist Team.

Cox Monett Hospital is pleased to welcome Dr. Robert Tyler to the health care team.

Tyler joins Dr. Ronda Azelton as a hospitalist specializing in hospital-based care.

Early in his health care career, Tyler pursued nursing but wanted to learn more about medicine, so he decided to take on the challenge of medical school. Several physicians that he worked with at the time encouraged him to investigate osteopathic medicine, which he says ended up being a perfect fit.

Tyler, who claims Joplin as his hometown, most recently served as an assistant professor of primary care and internal medicine at Kansas City University in Joplin.

Although Tyler enjoyed his work as a professor and engaging with medical students, something kept drawing him back to providing bedside care.

“I thrive on the acuity of patients because I like to face the challenges of figuring out complex health issues,” he says. “Working at the bedside is what I love because it allows me plenty of opportunities to learn from a vast array of situations.”

Tyler says he finds Cox Monett to be one of the best smaller hospitals because of the camaraderie of staff and the welcoming atmosphere. “One thing that I have noticed about CoxHealth is the employees are genuinely nice.”

In his spare time, Tyler enjoys photography and riding his Harley Davidson motorcycle. He and his wife also enjoy taking trips in their recreational vehicle with their dogs, Benny and Izzy.

To learn more about Dr. Tyler, please visit coxhealth.com.

Thank you to the conservation department for another great free fishing day for kids. It looks like it went pretty good. There were lots of nice fish caught and the children all seemed to have a good time.

The water is running about normal. It is 59 CFS at the moment it is mostly clear and the river has a good amount of trout in it at the moment; fishing has been very good. I expect this week to be an extremely good. After kids day, there is an abundance of trout left in the river, so it is a good time to come down and catch a mess.

Fishing is very good right now, there are very good hatches going on at the moment. Tricos in the morning. Caddis around 10 a.m. and blue wing olives starting around 2 p.m., and we are seeing a few sulfurs in the evening.

Beetles and aunts have been working very good and I expect them to be good all summer just like last year. We have been catching good numbers of fish on cracklebacks. We have also been catching several fish on Adams dry flies.

Nymphs have also been very good this week. Pheasant tails, hairs ears, copper johns, scuds, sow bugs, bur-laps, and zebra midges have all been pretty good. Black, olive, and brown woolly bug-gers are also a good bets right now. 9' 6X leaders are best for nymphs right now and 9' 7X for dries.

Plastic baits are hard to beat right now. Yellow worms, pink worms, and white worms were good all weekend. The 1 inch yellow and the 1 inch pink gulp crawlers we're very effective all weekend also. Pink and the white eggs were also very good.

Black/yellow, olive, and white marabou jigs were very good all week.

Dark colored spinners were good last week.

It is going to be a dry week I think so come down and have some fun.

Good Luck at the River!

Better Than Feared
"I accidentally shaved your head." My young barber was supposed to use scissors on my head and a #5 razor on the sides. Immediately after I sat down, he grabbed the razor and ran it down the middle of my head before I could say a word. My wife was upset, but after a few days, she said, your hair is better than I feared. She could've been describing this earnings season. The earnings reporting season for the first quarter is almost finished, and like the past couple of earnings seasons, companies did much better than expected. There were a lot of positive surprises, and corporate America projected some encouragement.

This is impressive because corporate America did so while facing several difficulties in the first quarter, including a banking crisis, continued high inflation, and weak economic growth. Considering these problems, most analysts predicted earnings to be negative at 6-7%. Thankfully things were much better than expected even during some difficult times; earnings were negative, but negative by less than 2%.

I saw three factors that led to this big upside surprise:
1. The US Economic growth hung in there. First-quarter growth in the gross domestic product (GDP) wasn't a barn burner by any means, but it was surprisingly positive while American companies prepared for a recession.

2. Companies became more efficient. Fearing a recession, most companies started taking cost-controlling measures. As a result, when the recession didn't happen in the first quarter, their lower costs led to unexpectedly higher profits.
3. There was also a big revenue surprise. Revenue (sales) went up twice as much as expected. Analysts didn't seem to consider that higher prices mean more income for some companies.

These positive surprises led companies in the market to increase their earnings projection for 2023. This is a welcome sign of stability. Of course, there's plenty to worry about for the rest of the year, such as the debt ceiling, recession, or a Federal Reserve mistake. So we may have more choppiness in the market, but the risk of a huge profit margin decline has dropped considerably.

LPL is still targeting the S&P 500 to end 2023 in the range of 4,300-4,400, which is a minimum of 4% above where it is now. If the Fed lowers interest rates at some point, the market could perform better. I don't expect a straight line between here and there. We could very possibly have a mild recession and dip in the market before it pops back up by year-end.

My forehead has grown steadily over the last few years, making me a little protective of my remaining hair. It's been three weeks, and my hair still looks terrible, but like the market, it turned out better than my initial fears. On a related note, I'm looking for a new barber.

Have a blessed week!

Did you know?

Many lawns contain a mixture of the roughly one dozen types of different grasses. According to the lawn care experts at Scotts®, knowing which type of grass they have in their yard can help homeowners more effectively manage and care for their lawns. But with so many lawns containing a mixture of grasses, how can homeowners know exactly what's making up that green carpet in their yards? Scotts® notes that lawns typically fall into one of two categories: warm-season grasses and cool-season grasses. Warm-season grasses are those that thrive in regions where the climate tends to be especially warm, such as the southern United States. Cool-season grasses are those that are at their best in climates that experience extreme temperature fluctuations. For example, cool-season grasses are most likely to be found in the northern United States, as much of this area of the country experiences cold winters and warm, and in some places very hot, summers. Homeowners who are uncertain about which type of grass they have can consult a lawn care professional for advice. Homeowners who learn which type of grass is in their yard can use that information to determine how frequently they should mow and water their lawns and which type of fertilizer is best-suited to their lawns.

Savvy SENIOR

How Medicare Covers Physical Therapy Services

Dear Savvy Senior,

Does Medicare cover physical therapy, and if so, how much coverage do they provide? My 66-year-old husband was recently diagnosed with Parkinson's disease and will need ongoing physical therapy to help keep him moving.

Worried Wife

Dear Worried,

Yes, Medicare does indeed pay for physical therapy along with occupational and speech therapy too, if he needs it, as long as it's prescribed by his doctor. You'll also be happy to know that Medicare has no limits on how much it will pay for therapy services, but there is an annual coverage threshold you should be aware of. Here's what you should know.

Outpatient Therapy

To get Medicare Part B – which covers outpatient care – to help cover your husband's physical therapy, it must be considered medically necessary and will need to be ordered by his doctor. The same holds true for occupational and speech therapy.

He can get these services as an outpatient at a number of places like a doctor or therapist office; in a hospital outpatient department; at an outpatient rehabilitation facility; at skilled nursing facilities if he is being treated as an outpatient; and at home through a therapist connected with a home health agency when he is ineligible for Medicare's home health benefit.

For outpatient therapy, Medicare will pay 80 percent of the Medicare-approved amount after you meet your Part B deductible ($226 in 2023). You will be responsible for the remaining 20 percent unless you have supplemental insurance.

But be aware that if his therapy costs reach $2,230 in a calendar year (2023), Medicare will require his provider to confirm that his therapy is still medically necessary. Medicare used to set annual limits on what it would pay for outpatient therapeutic services, but the cap was eliminated a few years back.

You also need to know that treatment recommended by a physical therapy provider but not ordered by a doctor is not covered. In this situation, the therapist is required to give your husband a written notice, called an Advance Beneficiary Notice of Noncoverage or ABN, that Medicare may not pay for the service. If he chooses to proceed with the therapy, he is agreeing to pay in full.

Inpatient Therapy

If your husband happens to need physical therapy at an inpatient rehabilitation facility like at a skilled nursing facility or at your home after a hospitalization lasting at least three days, Medicare Part A – which provides hospital coverage – will pick up the tab.

To be eligible, his doctor will need to certify that he has a medical condition that requires rehabilitation, continued medical supervision, and coordinated care that comes from his doctors and therapists working together.

Whether you incur out-of-pocket costs such as deductibles and coinsurance, and how much they are, will depend on the setting for the treatment and how long it lasts. For more information on inpatient therapy out-of-pocket costs see Medicare.gov/coverage/inpatient-rehabilitation-care.Medicare Advantage Coverage

If your husband is enrolled in a Medicare Advantage plan (like an HMO or PPO), these plans must cover everything that's included in original Medicare Part A and Part B coverage. However, some Advantage plans may require a person to use services from physical therapy practices within an agreed network. If he has an Advantage plan, you'll need to contact his specific plan before selecting a physical therapy provider to confirm they're within the network.

If you have other questions about coverage and costs for therapeutic services, call Medicare at 800-633-4227 or contact your State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP), which provides free Medicare counseling. Visit ShipHelp.org or call 877-839-2675 to connect with a local SHIP counselor.

Send your senior questions to: Savvy Senior, P.O. Box 5443, Norman, OK 73070, or visit SavvySenior.org. Jim Miller is a contributor to the NBC Today show and author of "The Savvy Senior" book.

Cassville Public Works Changes Working Hours

Effective Tuesday, May 30, Cassville's Public Works and Wastewater staff will begin their summer operating hours (shifts start and end an hour earlier). The change in hours is in anticipation of summer weather and occurs each year between Memorial Day and Labor Day. Earlier start times increases productivity and reduces the potential for heat injuries during the hottest part of the year. Residents should not see any changes in level of service.

Calls for service for street, water, wastewater or park issues can be directed to City Hall, 847-4441, during normal business hours (M-F, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.). On weekends, holidays and afterhours residents can contact on-call personnel at 417-342-2814 or by calling Barry County E-911 at their non-emergency number, 417-846-4911.

Letter to the Editor

We had another well attended meeting of the Patriots of SW MO on Sat. 5/20 at the VFW Hall in Shell Knob. More and more people are waking up to the need for answers as we all try to navigate this crazy and confusing world we are living in. We dig for and search truth, and hear from great speakers who help us understand what is going on and how we can help. We learn first hand about who is working for us; people we can count on.

Senator Moon could not be with us due to the passing of his father. But, he sent his Chief of Staff, Jeff Mark, to cover for him. Jeff is very knowledgeable. He gave us some starting comments and information on the past session, and then answered all our questions. He and Senator Moon want us all to know to contact them with issues and concerns for the next session of congress. Contact is senate.mo.gov or 573-751-

1480. People stood up and wanted to be heard about what the Barry Co. Sheriff's department has done to help them personally with some of their issues. Sheriff Danny Boyd was available to give us information on what his staff and department are facing and he also answered questions. One of the major concerns for the Sheriff's dept is the increase in the number of drug overdoses from serious drugs since the passing of the recreational marijuana laws. The serious drugs are flowing more freely now. Sadly, these overdoses involve children, too. The mental health problems of inmates is also a concern. There just are not enough mental health facilities available to house and give proper care to these citizens after they are evaluated. Our next meeting will be on Sat., June 17. Everyone is welcome. The meeting starts promptly at 1:00 and we end by 3:00. Speakers at our next meeting will be the commissioners from Barry and Stone Co. We will also hear from Thomas Sherry, a fellow Patriot from a neighboring area. Tom has done thousands of hours of research on alternative history and conservative media (not mainstream). He is very knowledgeable, and we hope to have someone else speak to us about mental health. We always have free information on health alternatives, better nutrition options, prepping, our constitution and much more. Diane Alcocer Cassville

MDC proposes adjusting permit prices, wants public input

The Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) is proposing adjusting prices for most hunting, fishing, trapping, and commercial permits in an effort to keep up with rising costs of goods and services it uses to manage its more than 1,000 conservation areas along with nature centers, shooting ranges, fish hatcheries, and other facilities.

MDC received initial approval on the proposed permit price adjustments from the Missouri Conservation Commission at the Commission's May 19 open meeting at City Hall in Washington, Missouri.

Missouri is home to more than 1 million anglers, 500,000 hunters, and several thousand trappers. MDC issues nearly 2.6 million hunting, fishing, and trapping permits each year. Most MDC permit prices have remained the same for the past 20 years while costs for goods and services have increased significantly since then.

"In early 2003, the price of a resident firearms deer permit was $17 and the cost of a gallon of unleaded gas was $1.42," explained MDC Director Sara Parker Pauley. "Jump ahead two decades to May 2023 when the cost of a resident firearms deer permit is still $17 while the cost of a gallon of gas is about $3.30. That cost increase really adds up considering MDC purchased nearly 908,000 gallons of gas in 2022 to run vehicles and equipment."

Pauley added that, on average, most resident hunting and fishing permit prices would be adjusted by about $1.

"Compared to other states, Missouri permit prices are in the middle-to-lower end of the scale and would still be a bargain," she said. "The average price of a resident firearm deer permit for surrounding states is $54 compared to Missouri's proposed price of $18.

Additional revenue from permit sales will help MDC maintain and improve its nationally recognized programs and services for hunters, anglers, wildlife watchers, and others. Conservation efforts supported by revenue from permit sales include:

- Maintaining and improving nine fish hatcheries around the state that raise and stock more than 7 million fish annually for public fishing – including about 1.3 million trout at five hatcheries.
 - Maintaining and improving more than 70 public shooting ranges around the state.
 - Ongoing habitat work on nearly 1,000 conservation areas, including 15 intensively managed wetlands for public hunting and wildlife watching.
 - Expansion of popular youth offerings such as the Missouri Archery in the Schools Program, which has reached more than 200,000 young archers at nearly 700 Missouri schools, and the Discover Nature Schools Program, which helps more than 87,000 Missouri students each year at more than 700 schools around the state learn about and connect with Missouri outdoors.
 - Helping more than 24,000 landowners create and maintain habitat for wildlife.
 - Research on health and sustainability of deer, turkey, quail, waterfowl, songbirds, fish, bears, elk, and other species.
 - Evaluation of the effectiveness of harvest regulations for fish and wildlife game species and understanding resource-user preferences.
 - Restoration, monitoring, and protection of imperiled and endangered species and habitats.
 - Removal of invasive species that threaten the health of native species and habitats.
 - Maintaining and improving 15 nature and interpretative centers around the state.
- Pauley added that most Missourians are generally familiar with some of the work MDC does, but there are new challenges -- with added costs.
- "In addition to everything we offer and the work we are known for, we have new and expensive challenges," she said. "Our staff are dealing with more and new invasive species and wildlife disease outbreaks. And the costs of many things we must buy regularly keep going up, from fuel to fish food."

Some of the proposed permit price increases are:

The price of a resident hunting and fishing permit would go from $19 to $20.50. The average price for surrounding states is $42.47.

The price of a resident fishing permit would go from $12 to $13. The average price for surrounding states is $23.

The price of a resident small game hunting permit would go from $10 to $10.50. The average price for surrounding states is $26.57.

The price of a resident trapping permit would go from $10 to $11. The average price for surrounding states is $29.38.

Purdy High School Teacher Receives Grant from WGU Missouri

Purdy School Family and Consumer Science Teacher Amy Harkey was awarded a grant for $250.00 through WGU Missouri’s “Fund My Classroom” initiative. She is shown above with WGU Senior Strategic Partnerships Manager Jim Chandler.

Amy Harkey, a family and consumer science teacher at Purdy High School in the Purdy R-II School District, has received a $250 grant through WGU Missouri’s “Fund My Classroom” initiative. The funds will enable Harkey to obtain materials needed to support her students’ entrepreneurial ideas. Harkey learned she was selected for the grant on May 11 when she was surprised with a check presentation at her school.

Harkey has developed a unique, hands-on curriculum for her entrepreneurship class. Students in the class are divided into five teams, each with a specific product to create and market. Students are in charge of receiving and fulfilling orders and are required to monitor their orders and plan for ordering new supplies when necessary. Harkey has been purchasing the materials needed – including vinyl for t-shirts, bakery items and beads – but the costs are starting to add up. With the grant received from WGU Missouri, she’ll be able to provide her students with the necessary resources to bring their innovative ideas to life. This project not only teaches valuable skills in business, but also encourages creativity and fosters a spirit of entrepreneurship among students at Purdy High School.

The innovative classroom project is one of 44 across Missouri chosen by WGU Missouri to receive funding. The nonprofit, fully online university issued a call in early March for K-12 teachers across the state to nominate proposed classroom projects by April 14 for the opportunity to receive full or partial funding through its “Fund My Classroom” initiative. Harkey’s proposal is one of nearly 200 nominations received statewide. Most grants were awarded during Teacher Appreciation Week, which ran from May 8-12.

“This is the fifth consecutive year we have been able to offer grant funding to deserving teachers across the state through our ‘Fund My Classroom’ initiative, and we were so moved by all the nominations we received,” said

Jessica Denham, Regional Director of WGU Missouri. “While we aren’t able to support all the projects that were nominated, we are excited to award funding to dozens of teachers who have come up with unique and innovative ways to improve their classrooms in order to promote learning and provide an enriching experience for their students.”

Leave tree trimming to experts

Recent storms and spring growth have left a lot of trees in need of attention. Barry Electric Cooperative wants you to know that tree trimming is a job best left to experts, especially when they are located near power lines. In fact, the two leading causes of death while trimming trees come from falling and electrocution.

Whenever you trim trees or do other yard work, remember these tips:

- Wear safety glasses to protect your eyes from sawdust, pine needles and other debris.
- When operating a trimmer or chainsaw, you'll need ear protection, shoes with slip-resistant soles, chaps and gauntlets.
- If you use a ladder, tie it off to a secure location. Never go anywhere near a power line with a ladder, especially a metal one.
- Be aware of anyone on the ground. It's best to have a spotter watch for people who might wander into your worksite.
- Safety is our number one priority and we are trained experts in safely removing debris from around powerlines. If in doubt, call us!

EXETER MAPLEWOOD CEMETERY
P.O. Box 177, Exeter, MO 65647

First, the Board of Exeter Maplewood Cemetery Association extends a sincere thanks to our past and present supporters. Your continued support is vital as savings interest rates remain at all time record lows. Our only sources of revenue are plot sales, interest income, and donations from you. These revenue sources are dedicated to mowing, general maintenance, and repairs. Our interest income doesn't begin to cover mowing expense. We continue to tap our savings accounts to cover routine maintenance and repair expenditures.

The board works very hard to invest our funds prudently and to spend the income wisely. We are making this appeal knowing that you have strong feelings for the well-being and upkeep of the cemetery. Your donations are tax deductible.

Donations or inquiries may be mailed to us at the above noted address. Again, we thank you and appreciate any donations for continued support of the cemetery.
