

A look at local sculptor Lew Aytes and the Calling Back the Spirits Project

Local artist, Lew Aytes, poses with some of his artwork at the SKITS performance in Shell Knob earlier this month.

I had the pleasure of meeting local sculptor Lew Aytes earlier this month at a recent sculpture gallery he had displayed at the Shell Knob in the Spotlight (SKITS) fall play.

Aytes, who has been a professional artist for over 30 years, is a May 2023 Missouri Art Council featured artist, lives with his wife outside of Shell Knob, and is one of several individuals working on the Calling Back the Spirits Project.

In April of 1875, a dark chapter unfolded in American history as seventy-two key chiefs and warriors from the Cheyenne, Arapaho, Comanche, Kiowa, and Caddo Nations in Oklahoma were forcibly rounded up as American Indian Prisoners of War (POW) for exile to Fort Marion in St. Augustine, Florida, during the Nation's westward expansion through the southern plains in an attempt to suppress resistance and maintain control of the Native American people.

The arduous journey was marked by hardship as the warriors were stripped of their freedom, separated from their families and culture, faced an unfamiliar future, and paraded throughout many states to raise funds for the Carlisle Indian Industrial School in Pennsylvania.

The prisoners were displayed to the public along the route for a fee as they traveled an indirect path to Florida, where they were held until 1878.

In the wake of the forced exile and adjusting to the drastically different environment from the plains they once called home, sculptor Clark Mills was commissioned by The Smithsonian in Washington, D.C., to create life masks of the 72 warriors in captivity. Life masks involve creating detailed plaster or clay molds of a person's face, providing a tangible and life-like representation of their identities. Three sets of the Ft. Marion

OFO "Hello Christmas" set for December 3

Story by Adriana Keeton, editor@4bca.com

Ballet dancers will gather alongside 53 Ozark Festival Orchestra players this Sunday for its "Hello Christmas" presentation. Photo: Murray Bischoff

The Ozark Festival Orchestra will hold its "Hello Christmas" concert on Sunday, December 3, at 3 p.m. at the Monett High School Performing Arts Center at 1 David Sippy Drive.

A unique feature in this year's presentation will be dancers from the Midwest Regional Ballet Performing Arts Company and School in Joplin, performing three selections from Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker."

This year's Christmas concert will also include holiday selections from Leroy Anderson, arrangements from "Carol of the Bells," and other seasonal favorites.

There will also be a visit from Santa Claus, a sing-a-long, and a chance for children to have their photos taken with Santa.

Cost is $10 for adults, $5 for senior citizens, and children 18 and under are free.

The OFO, a not-for-profit ensemble based in Monett, has been making music since 1980 and will have 53 players in this concert, of which 15 are from Barry and Lawrence counties, under music director Carla Wootton.

Barry County deputies to be commended for life-saving efforts

Two Barry County deputies are to be commended for an October life-saving effort.

On the evening of October 25, Barry County 911 Dispatch received a call of a possible overdose in Cassville. The Cassville Police Department, Cassville Fire First Responders, Mercy Ambulance Service, and the Barry County Sheriff's Office arrived just before 11 p.m.

A male subject had apparently overdosed and needed immediate medical attention. Cassville Police Officer Matt Hoover and Barry County Deputies Daniel Harris and James Pennington arrived on the scene within minutes of the call. They took turns providing CPR until the ambulance arrived.

According to the commendation to Sheriff Danny Boyd, Valerie Wilson, with Mercy Ambulance Service, stated, "I wanted to reach out and say what a fantastic job Deputy Harris and Deputy Pennington did on a call October 25, 2023. They responded to assist Cassville PD and ended up helping with multiple rounds of CPR until EMS arrived. Once EMS arrived, both deputies continued to assist in any way possible, from gathering information to assisting with moving the patient from the floor to the stretcher and carrying equipment back to the ambulance. Both deputies also came to the landing zone. Cassville Fire had one responder respond; however, he would not have been able to accomplish as much as he did before EMS's arrival without law enforcement there

Haven of the Ozarks: Pets of the Week

Hi, Harrison here! Phew, I have some stories to tell! My latest adventure is when I was hanging around the Haven with my travel companion, Hattie. She and I were scared as we kept dodging cars, coyotes and wandering in the pasture with cows. We were hesitant every time a Haven staff would try to help us as we have never really learned to trust people. One day the staff was leaving, and I decided to give them a chance as I hopped into the backseat of the car and went on my first “rescue ride.” Wow! The feeling I have now of being able to sleep knowing I am protected, fed and watered. (And not having to wake up next to a cow patty-whew!) I can’t believe I’ve waited my whole life to give the right humans a chance! I am really coming out of my shell, and I love being petted!! Toys are fun too! I’d love to meet and have a family of my own-that’s when I know I’ll have hit the jackpot!

All of our pets are fixed, up to date on their vaccinations, and micro-chipped. The Haven of the Ozarks is a No-Kill shelter and is open from 9am-4pm, seven days a week. For more information, please email us at havenozarksanctuary@gmail.com, or give us a call at 417-835-3647. You can also visit us online at www.havenoftheozarks.org.

to assist him. I appreciate all of the hard work and teamwork that went into four agencies seamlessly caring for one patient. Through their actions, Deputies Harris and Pennington have displayed the kindness, compassion, and cooperation that the citizens of Barry County deserve. Deputies Harris and Pennington should be commended for their actions and life-saving efforts.”

The patient died a few days later at the hospital.

Barry County Sheriff Danny Boyd stated, “I would like to recognize and thank Deputies Harris and Pennington for their life-saving efforts during this medical emergency. Their dedication to our community and fellow emergency responders shows they go above and beyond their duties.”

POW life masks are known today. One is at the Smithsonian, one at the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology at Harvard University, and the third is in a collection in Paris, France.

Almost 150 years later, the Calling Back the Spirits Project hopes to create opportunities to acknowledge the history of the Fort Marion POWs through exhibits at museums in the states and internationally, as well as traveling exhibits. They will make a book regarding the history of the Fort Marion POWs with writings and a photo collection contributed by project lead Dr. BigFoot and her late husband, John Sipes, Jr., both descendants of captives. They will also create an exhibit book focusing on life-sized busts, which Aytes will produce from the life masks of fifteen Fort Marion POWs and five living descendants. Aytes will also create memorial sculptures, which will be placed along the POW route. The project has a completion date of fall 2025.

For more information regarding the project, visit Aytes’s website at www.lewaytes.com.

Missouri students invited to participate in No MOre Trash! contest

From Missouri Department of Transportation

The Missouri Department of Transportation invites Missouri students in grades K-12 to help fight litter in Missouri – and to have creative and educational fun – by participating in the 2024 “Yes You CAN Make Missouri Litter-Free” trash-can-decorating contest. The contest is part of MoDOT’s annual “No MOre Trash!” statewide litter campaign, which is held in April.
The contest encourages school-aged kids to join in the fight against litter by decorating a large trash can with the “No MOre Trash!” logo and a litter prevention message using a variety of creative materials. Schools, or home school programs, may submit one trash can entry in each competition category: grades K-2, 3-5, 6-8 – and new this year is grades 9-12. Entries are judged based on creativity, adherence to the contest rules and effective use of the theme and logo.

First-place winners from each competition category receive $200 awarded to the sponsoring schools. All first-place winners are then eligible for a grand prize of $600 and a trophy awarded to the sponsoring school.

There is no entry fee for the contest. Participating school groups must submit a completed entry form online with up to three photos and a release form by March 15. Contest rules, entry forms, release forms, logos, past winners and educational information can be found at modot.org/trash-can-contest.

Cosper selected as Principal at CMS

From Mindi Artherton, Cassville Schools

The Cassville R-IV School District has selected Wildcat alumni and current Cassville Middle School (CMS) Assistant Principal, Mrs. Samantha Cosper, to serve as the next principal at CMS. Cosper will assume her role as principal beginning July 1, 2024.

Cosper began her career in administration at CMS in 2021 and has served Wildcat students and staff in this capacity for the past three years. Her hands-on experience in both the middle school and high school classroom coupled with her administrative tenure has equipped her with a comprehensive understanding of the district's needs.

"We are thrilled to announce Mrs. Samantha Cosper as the new middle school principal," stated Cassville Superintendent Dr. Merlyn Johnson. "Her dedication to school improvement, proven leadership in the middle school building, and her wealth of knowledge about our district and the community make her the ideal candidate for this role."

Cosper began her career in education in 2008 at the Southwest School District in Washburn. While at Southwest, she served as the middle school and high school Family and Consumer Science (FACS) teacher. In 2011, Cosper returned to her roots and accepted a position as the FACS teacher at Cassville High School.

Along with both administrative and classroom experience, her academic accomplishments are notable. After graduating from CHS in 2005, she completed her Bachelors of Science in Family Consumer Science Education from Pittsburg State University and has earned 2 master degrees—one in Curriculum and Instruction and a second in Educational Administration, K-12.

"We are confident that her passion for education will elevate our school to new heights," said Johnson.

This announcement comes after current CMS Principal, Mr. Darren Rhea, announced his retirement during the November Board of Education meeting. Rhea will complete the 2023-24 school year as principal with plans to begin retirement effective June 2024.

He began his teaching and coaching career in Texas as a middle school science teacher, however, has been a part of the CMS community for the past 28 years serving as a science teacher, assistant principal and principal.

"I am honored to have the opportunity to serve our school and community in the role of CMS principal in the new school year," stated Cosper. "It has been a pleasure to work with Mr. Rhea and I wish him a happy retirement. I am excited to continue the positive and collaborative learning environment our team has created here at CMS."

Cosper, and her husband, Drew, reside in Cassville with their son, Ryker.

Just in time for cooler temperatures and additional needs that arise during the winter months, CS Bank has made a $1,500 contribution to the Cassville R-IV Bright Futures program.

Jason Tennant, President and Chief Lending Officer for CS Bank, recently announced the local bank's $1,500.00 charitable donation to the Bright Futures USA – Cassville program. Bright Futures USA is committed to supporting communities to become more resilient by developing community partnerships to identify and align local resources to solve the greater challenges impacting today's children and youth.

Cassville Schools established a local chapter for Wildcat students in 2011. The local chapter is dedicated to bringing community members together to meet the basic needs of all students at Cassville quickly.
