Butler Hollow Project debate continues, open house scheduled

Charlea Mills

The comment period for the proposed Butler Hollow Project, which would affect a great deal of the Mark Twain National Forest in Cassville and the surrounding area, will now be extended because of increased interest on both sides of the issue, according to District Ranger Joe Koloski.

The initial 30-day comment period on the project ended on December 22 after a public notice was posted in the Springfield News Leader on November 22, 2014. However, the controversy stirred on both sides has led the rangers to open up for additional comments on the proposal from January 26 through February 6. There will also be an open house in Cassville on Tuesday, January 27, to allow the public to ask questions and become more involved in the process.

The Butler Hollow Project is a proposed course of action that will affect 18,181 acres of National Forest System lands on the Cassville Unit of the Mark Twain National Forest. The proposal has sparked both positive and negative comments from the community to the Forest Service, local and national legislators and many letters to the editor in local publications.

According to the proposal by the Ava/Cassville/Wilow Springs Ranger District (ACWSRD), the management of the lands, which will include vegetation management, prescribed burns and service roadway reconstruction and deconstruction, is vital to the forest health and will restore the lands to conditions similar to what the land was historically. If the proposal is approved, a prescribed burn would affect 17,517 acres and 10,842 acres would be converted to open woodland. Currently, most of the land is closed woodland. The primary difference between the two is the density of the overstory canopy.

Nay-sayers of the project are concerned about a myriad of issues, including chemicals used for the vegetation control, the number of trees and shrubs removed from the land impacting the overall beauty of the forest and area, and how actions will affect the deer and wildlife populations.

Primary objectives listed in the comment package include:

- Control a minimum of 2,000 acres of noxious or non-noxious species

- Restore or enhance 125 acres of bottomland hardwood forest

- Improve open woodland to at least 10,500 acres for habitat for the summer tanager, northern bobwhite, Bachman's sparrow, and eastern red bat

- Increase managed native grasslands to that of exotic cool season grasses from 46 percent native to 55 percent native grass to

Ambulance sales tax to appear on April ballot

Charlea Mills

For Barry County residents in the South Barry County Ambulance District (SBCAD), a proposed sales tax will be appearing on their April ballot.

The SBCAD held their monthly board meeting on Tuesday, January 13, to approve the ballot language of the proposed change and also go over informational materials to be distributed to the public about why the board feels the change is necessary. The board hopes voters will approve a rollback of the property tax levy and, instead, replace it with a district sales tax of 1/2-cent, a move they say is more fair since around one-third of the ambulance runs are for non-residents that are travelling through, visiting family or vacationing.

Shell Knob district board member Tom Rees stated, "This is a more fair way to continue services to everyone without us having to cut back on equipment."

Currently, the SBCAD is funded through ambulance property taxes, however, the funds have never been sufficient with that system to fully fund the ambulance district, and due to an increased call volume over the last decade, the district is struggling to maintain and replace the equipment needed.

Tom Rees, Shell Knob region board member stated, "People regularly want to know why they pay taxes and still receive a bill for their ambulance, and they don't realize that their taxes only fund a fraction of the ambulance district. Even though the property tax levy was approved in 1974 and a six-member board was established, a contract with another entity is needed to actually maintain an ambulance service, which is why people still receive a bill for ambulance services. As it stands currently, the SBCAD maintains the two ambulance barns, six ambulances and most of the equipment within with property tax levy funding. The SBCAD then contracts with an outside agency, presently Cox Health, to provide the 24-hour emergency personnel, stocking and maintaining the ambulances, fuel and utility costs of the two barns.

According to the SBCAD Board, the number of ambulance runs over the last decade has increased by on third, totalling around 3,000

County preps to finalize 2015 budget

Charlea Mills

The County Office holders in Barry County submitted their department proposals for the 2015 budget which will be finalized on January 22. In 2014, the difference between the proposed and actual budget was comparable. However, the proposed budget for 2015 would have the county spending around $345,000 more than what was spent last year.

County Clerk Gary Youngblood stated, "The proposal is just what the offices asked for, so there will still be some adjustments before it is all finalized."

In 2014, the county commissioners approved $3,508,718 for all of the departments. The actual budget for 2014 came out to $3,434,417, which was $74,301 under budgeted totals.

The primary offices requesting an increase in funding are the County Commission, the Sheriff's Department, the Jail and the Prosecuting Attorney's office. According to Youngblood, the approximately $27K increase in the Commissioners budget is mostly due to four new Sheriff's Deputy cars being purchased by the commission. He also mentioned that the commission will be addressing repairs to the sound system at the Judicial Center in the 2015 budget.

The difference between the Sheriff's actual budget in 2014 and the proposed budget for 2015 is around $30,000, but Youngblood stated that the bump was mostly due to an anticipated grant that no longer appears to be available, so he said he doesn't expect to see that increase approved.

The $20K bump for the jail is primarily groceries for the inmates' food costs. Over the last couple years, rising grocery costs have dramatically impacted the budget for the jail.

Finally, the Prosecuting Attorney's office is asking for a $44K increase, this is from the Prosecuting Attorney's salary increase which is set by the State, and the full-time Assistant. The Assistant Prosecutor was not employed the full year in 2014, which led to a discrepancy, along with a small increase in the normal operation of the Prosecutors office.

provide habitat for northern bobwhite

- Maintain forest, closed woodland or open woodland cover for over 85 percent or more for the habitat of the worm-eating warbler
- Treat 4,000 acres of glads or reduce woody vegetation for the Bachman's sparrow
- Prescribe burn 40 percent of the projected burn acres in September through December instead of just the late-winter through early-spring burns.

Allen Weathersby, Integrated Resource Analyst for the Mark Twain National Forest ACWSRD, stated, "We've had a lot of comments that are both positive and negative on the proposal, so we are going to extend the comment period, hold the open house, and try to get more public involvement in the project."

For more information on the Butler Hollow Project or to make a public comment, go to <http://www.fs.usda.gov/goto/mtnf/projects> or call Allen Weathersbee at the Mark Twain National Forest, Ava/Cassville/Wilow Springs District Office, at (417) 683-4428 ext. 131.

The open house for public comments and education will be held on Tuesday, January 27, at the Show Me Plaza at 404 State Highway 248, Suite 8, in Cassville from 4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

A Constitutionalist Prayer

Lord, please give us the strength and determination to help save our nation.

We have a good reason to believe our government is corrupt and has been infiltrated by Godless individuals.

They are people that intend to enslave us once they ELIMINATE the U.S. CONSTITUTION and the BILL OF RIGHTS.

These documents were given to us with your guidance and CAN NOT be taken away from us by men.

We are a nation of laws, not men.

We give You thanks for the many everyday blessings that are ours in a free nation.

With Your divine help, we will be successful in this battle to continue to be a free people and an example of the freedom that all the world's people can look up to and strive to realize for themselves.

We ask this in HIS name.

AMEN.

Seligman council approves new equipment, shotguns

Steve Chapman

At Monday's Seligman City Council meeting, the aldermen voted to purchase new equipment from HD Supply that will help the city's water/sewer employees locate water pipes and water leaks underground. The equipment purchased includes a non-metallic pipe locator, a leak detector, a metal-pipe detector and a wire-trace locator. Altogether, the equipment will cost $9,666.

The council also voted to purchase two new Mossberg 50577 shotguns for the Seligman Police Department.

While delivering his departmental report, Police Chief Terry Burgess explained to the council that when he and the other officers used the department's current shotguns at a practice range, they jammed repeatedly. He asked the council to purchase the Mossberg shotguns to replace them.

Burgess's request was tabled until the council heard new business. At that part of the meeting, they voted to purchase the new shotguns from Eggleston Pawn for $644. The department's current shotguns will be auctioned off to defray

Woman arrested after 6-year-old found in freezing temps

Chaddock

Charlea Mills

Rebecca Chaddock, 36, Cassville, was arrested last week when a six year old she was watching was found running down the street without shoes in freezing weather conditions.

According to the affidavit of probable cause, the six year old was found running down the street in the freezing rain and sleet unattended in shorts and a t-shirt and without socks, shoes or a coat.

When officers found her, she was also bleeding from her nose.

Upon investigation, the Cassville Police Department found that Chaddock had held the girl down and slapped her. She also shoved her down multiple times. After the child fell face-first on the concrete, the girl ran away from Chaddock, which is when someone noticed her and called the authorities.

Once the girl ran, Chaddock never tried to find her or continue caring for her. Instead, she called the girl's mother and told her that the child had left.

According to court records, Chaddock has had multiple other convictions in Barry County, including passing bad checks, forgery and child molestation. She is currently being held in the Barry County jail on a $25,000 bond for class C felony endangering the welfare of a child in the first degree and class C felony child abuse.

DENNIS WAYNE RIDENOUR

Dennis Wayne Ridenour went home to be with his Father-God on Monday, January 11, 2015. Born on November 13, 1958, in Pinckneyville, Ill. to Lawrence Hobart and Myrtle Mae Ridenour. Dennis was 56 years old and called Wheaton, his home.

He left several family members on this Earth, all glad to know that he is now resting in the arms of Jesus. He is survived by Father, Lawrence Ridenour; siblings Larry, wife Marilyn, Kenneth, wife Sharon, Phyllis, husband Roger Pruett, Keith, wife Denise, and Janice, husband Dale McCracken; along with over 40 nieces and nephews. He has now joined his mother Myrtle in Heaven.

There aren't enough words to describe the kindness and pure love that Dennis harbored for those he cherished. A love he would freely admit originated with the Lord. Always putting God first, he was a member at the Chapel of Grace in Monett. Throughout his life he served in several roles at area churches, dedicating his time as a Youth Group Leader and Sunday School Teacher. Dennis was a devout student of God's word and was always eager for an opportunity to share a verse of encouragement or witness to others. He was a relentless Soldier for Christ until his last days, where he made sure to share the Gospel with residents and employees at LACOPA Nursing Home in Monett. Countless lives were touched because of Dennis Ridenour.

Undoubtedly a hard worker, Dennis was continually encouraging those around him. After his graduation from Wheaton High School in 1977, he spent the later part of his life working at Wells Aluminum, Monett, Schreiber Cheese, Mount Vernon, Ramey Supermarket, Cassville, and First Baptist Church, Wheaton. He also worked alongside his brother, Kenneth for several years in Masonry.

Dennis was an amazing son, great brother, proud uncle, kind-hearted friend, and above all an outstanding example of Christ's love. When the Ridenour family would sing together, Dennis' signature was "Leaving on my Mind." He always had his eyes set on going home. The Ridenour family would like you to join them in his homecoming celebration.

The Family will receive friends from 6:00 until 8:00 p.m. Saturday, January 17, 2015. Funeral Services will be held at 2:00 p.m. Sunday, January 18, 2015 in the McQueen Funeral Home in Wheaton. Burial will be in Rocky Comfort Cemetery, Rocky Comfort, Missouri.

Community Lutheran donates to ECHO

ECHO, a free medical clinic located in Eureka Springs, Ark., was a recent recipient of a donation from the Congregation of Community Lutheran Church, Eagle Rock.

ECHO will accept anyone who is uninsured and is under the poverty level. Services provided (at no cost) are: Social Services, dental extractions, glasses and physical therapy.

The clinic is run by volunteers helping three to five doctors and nurses from the area and volunteers are always welcomed. Different churches or businesses in the area prepare and serve a hot meal for all the volunteers and the patients as well as their families, who go to the clinic.

The "small church with a large heart" designated an entire Sunday's offering to be donated to local charities. Matching funds from Thrivent Financial made it possible for three local charities to receive funds.

County Sheriff's Department.

Martin is in charge of processing all cyber tips received by the SMCCTF from the Center for Missing and Exploited Children, including determining if the reported crimes fall in their jurisdiction. Last year he processed about 80 cases. He also does undercover work on the Internet, investigating enticement, child pornography and child prostitution.

If the grant money is not released, Martin expects his transfer to take place no later than Jan. 31, which he said this would be a devastating blow to the SMCCTF's efforts. "We were already horribly understaffed with only three guys doing the investigating," he said. "There is no way only two guys can keep up with investigating the most horrendous crimes."

Cassville Police Chief Dana Kammerlohr agreed. "The SMCCTF works as a team, and they have many hours of specialized training," she said. "To lose one investigator will affect the productivity of the task force and their ability to track down the predators."

Barry County Sheriff Mick Epperly believes that if the SMCCTF is forced to shut down, catching Internet predators will become extremely difficult for local law enforcement. "The task force has all of the tools to work with this," he said. "The Sheriff's office would have to spend thousands and thousands of dollars we don't have to catch these predators."

Kammerlohr also believes losing the SMCCTF will burden on the City Police. Det. Smith will be able to continue with the SMCCTF because that is included in the department's budget. However, when the grant money is distributed, the department is supposed to be reimbursed for Smith's salary. "We have always budgeted this position in case something like this happened," Kammerlohr said, "but it will be a hardship." She added, "I hope Governor Nixon will reconsider and release the money so we don't lose the investigators who may be the ones who protect our children or grandchildren from one of these predators."

Missouri State Rep. Scott Fitzpatrick said he has attempted to contact Gov. Nixon, urging him to release the funds, but has heard no reply. "I have written to governor Nixon, strongly recommending that he release the funds he is currently restricting for the Cyber Crimes Task Force," Fitzpatrick said. "Unfortunately, I have received no response to my letter. The task force serves a very important purpose, and I will continue to urge the governor to release the funds that the legislature appropriated."

Anyone wishing to write to Governor Nixon can send the letters to: Office of Governor Jay Nixon, PO Box 720, Jefferson City, MO, 65102. The governor can also be e-mailed from his website at <http://governor.mo.gov>.

TAX from FRONT

calls a year. Most of the cause for the increase is changing medical care and also an aging population. The operating budget for the district is around $217,715 from property tax revenue. If the 1/2-cent sales tax passes, the district is anticipating an increase to around $490,316 annually to replace and maintain their ambulances and equipment.

Ken Cieslinski, SBCAD chairman, stated, "A lot of this comes down to demographics because there isn't a trauma center across the street. We need a lot of life-saving equipment on the ambulance because of the distance from those trauma centers." For example, the four cardio monitors used by the district need to be replaced at $35,000 each. Travel time to reach a major trauma center is always a concern when stocking ambulances in more rural areas.

The sales tax proposal will appear on April 7, 2015, and all residents residing within the ambulance district will have the opportunity to vote on the issue. The 1/2-cent sales tax would only apply to businesses within that district, which includes much of Barry County except for Purdy and Monett. Cassville, Jenkins, Wheaton, Exeter, Seligman, Washburn, Shell Knob, Eagle Rock and Golden are all part of the southern district that will either approve or shoot down the tax. If approved, property taxes would be reduced by the levy rollback for both individuals and businesses. In a statement released by the board, they said that the sales tax would be more fair for residents so that everyone who uses the service helps pay for it.

COUNCIL from 2A

the cost of the new shotguns. During the meeting, City Clerk Brian Nichols told the council that Well #2, which has not been in operation for over two years, either would have to be tested for contamination or plugged permanently with concrete, due to state regulations. He said the cost of plugging the well could run from $10,000 to $18,000, while testing the well could run from $10,000 to $12,000. He mentioned grants would be available through the Department of Natural Resources to assist in plugging the well. The council took no action on the well.

In other business, Michael Avers was appointed by the council to fill the vacant West Alderman position. He replaces Shirley Beaver, who passed away last year, and will hold the position until the end of the term on April 13, 2015. They also voted to table a vote on installing the new splash pad in the city park until speaking to the contractor at their next meeting on Feb. 9 and to review bids for mowing of the city grounds until March 9.

New director hired at Shall Knob Chamber

Last daughter of Civil War soldier passes away

Charlea Mills

A new year means a fresh face for the Shell Knob Chamber of Commerce. Twila Harrison, longtime volunteer in the Shell Knob community, was appointed as the new chamber director after former director Karen Elsey resigned for personal reasons.

Harrison makes a good fit for the Chamber because of her history with community event organizing and volunteering projects. Harrison and her husband, Larry, have lived in the area for 11 years, and even though fairly new to the community, Harrison said, "There's no where we would rather go than Shell Knob, and this somewhere I want to be. We love it here."

Ten years ago, Harrison was one of the driving forces behind the popular Shakin' in the Shell Festival. She said, "I like volunteering, being with people and organizing things."

Before moving to the area, the Harrisons lived in Illinois where Twila was a 911 supervisor and volunteered with the Main Street Project. Once in Shell Knob, she was ready to get her feet wet with community projects again, hence her dedication to starting up Shakin' in the Shell. That project was on her plate for three years before she took a step back to let fresh blood take over. She said, "I think it's best to give yourself a limit for organizing something so that someone else can take a look at it and bring new ideas to the table and make it better." This year, she plans to return to organizing the event in its tenth year.

In terms of accepting the position as director of the chamber, Harrison said, "It's a wonderful feeling to not just have a job but a passion. We love this community, and I'm really glad to be helping out in this way."

Harrison said that while she has no specific intentions of changing Shell Knob's current plans for their Chamber direction, she does hope to make some improvements over time. She said, "When I interviewed for the job, I told the board that we have really good basic events in Shell Knob, but we can always make them better. I look at all of them as strong events that we might just add a fresh coat of paint to. We can to keep the old because it's worked, but we want to add to those events and help them grow."

Since Shell Knob is a community so driven by volunteer efforts, Harrison said that it is the people in it is that keep the Chamber successful. "This community is so based on volunteerism that all I have to do is just reach out and you get all of this support. I look forward to reaching out to all of those talents," she stated.

Lorene Meadows, Marionville, died on November 21, 2014, at the age of 99. Like many who lived to such an age, she saw many important historical milestones during her lifetime. However, she herself was also a person of historical significance, as she was the last person in Missouri whose father had been a Civil War veteran.

Lorene Meadows was born Lorene Elizabeth Miller on February 3, 1915, in Aurora. Her father, James Alexander Miller, enlisted in the Union Army at the age of 17. He was captured by Confederate forces and taken to Andersonville, a prison that was infamous for its brutal conditions. He was determined to survive, however, and his perseverance paid off nine months later when he was paroled.

James was married to his first wife, Elmira Angeline Shearer, from 1866 until her death in 1911. He lived as a widower until 1913, when he married Agnes P. Ward, Lorene's mother. At the time he was 67 and she was 35. Their marriage lasted until James died in 1920.

Lorene grew up in Aurora and was an avid reader. Her love of reading served her well as she later graduated valedictorian of her 8th grade class, for which she received a $5 gold piece.

She also went to high school in Aurora, and it was there she met Lester Meadows, her future husband. They married secretly on Dec. 10, 1932, not telling their parents until after Lorene graduated from high school. Lester and Lorene had six children: Joyce Anne, Shirley, Roger, Mark, Denis and John.

In 1934, they moved to a shack in Shell Knob. Eventually, they moved onto a farm near Jenkins.

At Lorene's funeral, her son Mark read her obituary in which he said the family had a battery-powered radio but Lorene was really the children's source of entertainment. She would play the piano and sing, and read books to them in the evenings.

Throughout her life, Lorene never lost her love of reading, and wasn't picky about what sort of books she read either. "She read fiction, biographies, westerns, mysteries; any genre you could think of," Mark said. "She'd just gobble up books," he said.

After Lester passed away in 1990, Lorene continued to live on their farm while renting out the land until she moved to Methodist Manor in 2006. When she passed away, Lorene was buried next to Lester at the Maple Park Cemetery in Aurora.

She was loved by the people who took care of her. Mark said, toward the end of Lorene's life, she had infirmities that made taking care of her a challenge. "It might have been a relief to get rid of her, but when Denis called the Manor to tell them mama had died, the caregiver burst into tears at her loss. I think it says a lot for mama that she instilled affection even in those whose lives she made a little harder."

Charlea Mills

After 12 years as the Barry County Prosecuting Attorney, Johnnie Cox bid farewell to his office staff and began his new position as the Associate Circuit Division I Judge. During a brunch on December 30, Cox said his goodbyes to his office staff in the Prosecuting Attorney's office and looked forward to taking on his new venture as judge.

When asked what he will miss leaving the position behind, he said, "I miss the people that I worked with on a daily basis, the Prosecutor's staff, law enforcement, probation and parole, and all of the other agencies. I'll also miss the satisfaction that comes from a successful prosecution of a case and the sense of closure and justice for the victims of crime."

Cox has tried many cases over his 12 years, some of the most memorable being his first trials and murder trials. He said, "The first murder trial that my office tried was the State v. Dennis Bisher, and it was probably the most satisfying just because it was my first, and we got a murder in the first degree conviction."

Cox also prosecuted Christopher Collings in the rape and murder of Rowan Ford. Cox said that the Collings trial was a four and a half year process and a month-long trial. Cox said, "The attorneys on the other side did everything possible to wear the victims, witnesses and my office down. They made every effort to increase the costs of the trial for the taxpayers of the county and state. But, if the murder and rape of a 9-year-old child doesn't deserve the death penalty, why even have it as a punishment? In the end, it only took the jury 50 minutes to decide that Collings should be put to death."

The adult students held their Christmas recital at the teacher's home, Mrs. Ruth Burnside, on Saturday, December 13.

With so many years in the same office, his experiences as Prosecutor were vital to prepare him for his judgeship, and that included the hard work of his staff. Cox said, "When I came into office in 2003, I already had a great staff to work with, and, over the years, even after some people coming and going, the staff continued to provide Barry County with top notch service. I really don't believe that the citizens always understand the stressful and sometimes chaotic work that happens at the Prosecutor's office, yet they have always come through."

Looking forward, Cox is ready for the challenges that being a judge will bring. He said, "I am looking forward to working in different areas of the law and having a greater hand in the management of the justice system in Barry County. It will be a completely different experience than being the Prosecuting Attorney, but in both circumstances, you are still a public servant and must do your best to see that the best possible service is provided to the citizens."

Mountaineers down Wildcats, 54-36

Trojans sweep Tigers in Ozark 7 play

Lee Stubblefield

"Da-da-da, da-da-da!"

Cassville's crowd set the tone early for the Big 8 matchup against Mt. Vernon on Tuesday night. But for all the ESPNish feel the Wildcat student section brought to the game, it was the Mountaineers that had the crowd repeating Sportscenter catch phrases throughout the night.

Chandler Myers poured in 31 points "with authority" to lead Mt. Vernon to a 54-36 win over the host Wildcats.

Myers scored the first basket of the game and the first free throw while the Wildcats went into an all-out stall for nearly two minutes before Cassville's Noah Hadlow, "see the three, be the three," tied the score at the 5:12 mark.

Mt. Vernon pushed the pace when possible, and held a 15-10 lead at the first break.

Mt. Vernon exposed Cassville's offensive weakness in the second period, limiting the Wildcats to just 5 points in the frame. But the Mountaineers scored only 9 points themselves, and the halftime gap was just 24-15.

"Caution. Flammable."

The Mountaineers caught fire in the third quarter, scoring 20 while limiting the Wildcats to just 6 points. Myers accounted for 13 of those Mt. Vernon tallies, putting on a clinic at Cassville's expense.

While the Wildcats could not penetrate the Mountaineers' zone, Myers and company drove the paint at will.

"Remember young players, always follow your shots."

Jarrett Massie gave the Mountaineers a 44-21 lead at the final break, trailing the fast break and scoring with the offensive rebound in the final 15 seconds.

"That's three in the corner!"

The Wildcats made a final, determined run to start the fourth quarter. Freshman Adam Ramirez came off the bench, and his bomb from the right corner capped an 8-0 Cassville run that cut the lead to 15 at 44-29. But the 'Cats would get no closer.

Mt. Vernon took the air out of the ball late, and both teams substituted freely as the clock expired on a 54-36 Mt. Vernon victory.

Cassville scorers: Noah Hadlow, 8; Josh Brown, 8; Gabe Kirk, 5; Allen Lambel, 4; Tyler Arndt, 3; Riley Lekarczyk, 3; Adam Ramirez, 3; Mason Loveland, 2.

Mt. Vernon scorers: Chandler Myers, 31; Braden Adams, 10; Luke Call, 6; Daniel Redfearn, 3; Trace Williams, 2; and Mitchel Cordray, 1.

On a full Friday night of basketball, Southwest won all three contests at Exeter. The Trojans opened the evening with a 32-20 victory in the JV boys contest, won the varsity girls game by a 58-42 margin, and then took the varsity boys match with a 73-50 score.

The girls game turned out to be the most fascinating of the three. Six girls hardly makes a cheerleading squad, yet Coach Colt Higgs of Exeter had only six girls available in uniform to play Southwest. We have all seen those games where undermanned teams struggle to stay on the floor with a running clock. This would not be one of those games.

"Exeter only had six girls, but they are six good girls," noted Southwest's Jeff Atchison.

Exeter shocked the packed gym with an 8-0 blitz to start the game. Mikayla Myer opened the scoring with a baseline layup, followed by an inside score from Allison Sorenson. Rylie Odenbrett swished a trey from the right wing to push the lead to 7-0, and Meyer hit one of two from the line to create the 8-0 margin at the 4:44 mark.

Shannon Mitchell finally got the Lady Trojans on the board, but this quarter belonged to the Lady Tigers. A trey from Southwest freshman Taylor Swindle cut the lead to 11-9, but the Tigers had another run left. Sorenson finished the period with a short hook to beat the buzzer, and the Lady Tigers held an 18-9 lead at the first break.

The second quarter saw the roles reversed. Southwest's scoring duo of Mitchell and Jaime Shrum came alive, and Zia Roller gave the Lady Trojans their first tie with a miss and a follow to create a 26-26 knot in the final minute. But Exeter never relinquished the lead in the first half, and one Odenbrett free throw gave the Lady Tigers a 27-26 lead at intermission.

Southwest stormed out of the locker room and owned the third quarter, 13-2. Mitchell's board and score gave the Lady Trojans their first lead just seconds into the action. Single free throws by Meyer and Odenbrett were all the scoring Exeter could muster in the quarter, and Southwest took a 39-29 lead at the final break.

Shrum opened the last period with a long bomb from between the circles to push the lead to 13. Exeter trailed by as many as 17 late, but Meyer nailed a trey from the right wing and added a free throw when Holly Crow fouled her on the launch. The rare four-point play cut the lead to 53-40 at the 1:58 mark, but Southwest cruised home with a 58-42 win.

Southwest scorers: Jaime Shrum, 21; Shannon Mitchell, 21; Brianna Learned, 10; Zia Roller, 6; Taylor Swindle, 3.

Exeter scorers: Rylie Odenbrett, 15; Mikayla Meyer, 14; Allison Sorenson, 10; and Logan Senters, 3.

Barnes' quest highlights varsity boys contest

Southwest's Blake Barnes scored a game-high 20 points to lead the Trojans past Exeter, 73-50. The Southwest senior moved within 15 points of the 1,000 career points plateau with his performance.

A scrappy first quarter saw Southwest take an 18-12 lead at the first break. Six different Trojans scored as Rusty Roe turned his entire lineup in the opening period. Barnes hit his first three of the night to give Southwest a 9-4 early lead. Exeter cut that lead to 11-8 when Chris Smith scored with a "found it" loose ball in the paint.

The Trojans flew through a 23-12 second quarter to open a 41-24 gap at halftime. Paton Clay scored 8 points in that frame to help Southwest gain the 17-point advantage. Exeter's Josh Hood kissed a layup high off the glass to pull the Tigers within 26-20 at the 4:54 mark, but Southwest finished the half with a 15-4 run.

A near-even third quarter saw Southwest take a 60-39 lead at the final break. But the Trojans pushed the lead to 73-42 late in the fourth quarter to put the Tigers away. Exeter scored the final 8 points of the contest, but Southwest was content to run out the clock on a 73-50 victory.

Southwest scorers: Blake Barnes, 20; Brad Daniels, 15; Paton Clay, 12; Robbie Randall, 8; Landon Wright, 6; James Sellars, 5; Jacob Durossette, 3; and Devon Resz, 2.

Exeter scorers: Josh Hood, 15; Blake Walker, 13; Terry Cook, 10; Clint Bradford, 6; Chris Smith, 6.

In the boys' JV contest, Southwest took a 32-20 win over Exeter. Cody Durossette led the Trojans with 8 points, while Ethan Caddell paced the Tigers with 8.

Senator Sater named chairman of special committee

Senator David Sater, R-Cassville, was named Chairman of the Senate Seniors, Families and Children Committee today by Senate Leader Tom Dempsey, R-St. Charles.

"I am looking forward to serving as Chairman of this important committee," said Sater. "One of the driving forces behind my desire to run for office was to work on behalf of Missouri families and seniors, and I am confident we can address some of the real problems facing our state with a commitment to personal responsibility and common-sense values."

Senator Dempsey said the chairmen of each committee will act as leaders to find solutions to move Missouri forward in a prudent, positive way.

"I'm happy to put my support behind Sen. Sater as Chairman of Seniors, Family and Children. David has proven he is willing to take the lead on important legislation and makes a commitment to get it to the finish line," said Dempsey.

The Seniors, Families and Children Committee reviews legislation related to welfare reform, quality of life for senior citizens, nursing home operations, child support enforcement and other family issues.

Sen. Sater was also appointed to the Senate Appropriations Committee which is responsible for crafting a state budget and determining the best use of Missouri's tax dollars.

"My focus on the budget will be to root out waste, fraud and abuse and to leave as much money as possible with the taxpayers, where it belongs" said, Sater. "We are going to push government to be more efficient and cost-effective while still investing in our children's education and focusing on budget items that bring more money to our state like tourism."

Sen. Sater will continue to serve on the Financial and Governmental Organizations and Elections Committee and Veterans' Affairs and Health Committee.

For more information on Sen. Sater's committees or legislation filed by Sen. Sater, please visit his Senate website at www.senate.mo.gov/sater.

FELONIES from 3B

• Kenyon Ray Jordon, 61, Seligman, pled guilty to distribution of a controlled substance. He was given a suspended execution of a five year sentence and supervised probation

On August 27, 2014, Jordon was in possession of eight marijuana plants growing on his front lawn on Fair Field Lane in Seligman. The plants ranged from seven to nine feet tall. Inside the home, there were also glass pipes that field-tested positive for methamphetamine.

Jordon is to serve probation until December 15, 2109.

• Latosha N. Keith, 29, Pierce City, pled guilty to two counts of theft/stealing and two counts of possession of a controlled substance between 2008 and 2012. Her probation has been revoked, and she is to serve five years incarceration with the DOC.

In November 2008, Keith stole a bank bag from the Attitudes Hair Salon in Monett. When officers arrested Keith, they found that she had concealed the bank bag in paper towels and put it in the trash can in the bathroom of the Dollar General in the same strip mall. Keith was also found to be in possession of 64 Xanax that did not belong to her when officers arrested her.

In July 2011, Keith broke into a residence on Caledonia Street in Purdy and stole a wallet and billfold from the home. She purchased items at three different locations with the stolen credit cards.

• David Keith Luster, 44, Pea Ridge, Ark., pled guilty to unlawful possession of a weapon in July 2013. His probation has since been revoked, and he is to serve three years incarceration with the DOC.

On February 10, 2010, Luster called the police and said that he had shot someone in the head two times. When officers arrived at the residence on Frost Street in Seligman, they found him holding a .22 caliber rifle. He was then detained for mental evaluation.

• Jesus Martinez, 30, Monett, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance and resisting arrest for a felony in February 2013.

His probation has since been revoked, and he is to serve three years incarceration with the DOC.

On December 30, 2011, Martinez demanded a man from a bar give him a ride. When Barry County Sheriff's deputies stopped them Martinez and the driver were having a confrontation, Martinez was found to be in possession of items with methamphetamine residue. Martinez had also thrown a knife from the truck as well as some prescription pills. When placed under arrest, Martinez attempted to escape from officers by thrashing around.

• Howard Ray McWaters, 50, Shell Knob, pled guilty to unlawful possession of a weapon. He was sentenced to three years incarceration of which he will serve 120 days shock time.

Officers responded to a call on May 16, 2014, when McWaters was shooting a 12 gauge shotgun in the Viola Trailer Park subdivision. McWaters was intoxicated at the time.

McWaters is to serve shock incarceration until April 14, 2015.

• James Albert Nichols, 42, Monett, pled guilty to domestic assault in the first degree, unlawful use of a weapon and felonious restraint. He was sentenced to seven years incarceration with the DOC.

• Oren Pankau, Pineville, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance and was sentenced to three years incarceration with the DOC.

On January 9, 2014, Pankau was in possession of methamphetamine during a traffic stop in Washburn. Pankau had a history of methamphetamine possession and manufacturing.

• Rhonda K. Rhodes, 29, Eagle Rock, pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance. She was given a suspended imposition of sentencing with five years supervised probation.

• Kristopher Rook, 32, Washburn, pled guilty to failure to register as a sex offender. He was given a suspended imposition of sentencing with five years supervised probation.

Rook will serve probation until December 15, 2019.

• Toby A Snook, Exeter, pled guilty to four counts of forgery and one count of passing a bad check in the amount of $500 or more. Snook was given a suspended imposition of sentencing and five years supervised probation.

In 2013 and 2014, Snook wrote multiple forged checks to area businesses in Seligman and Washburn in amounts ranging from $30 to $390.

Snook is to serve probation until December 22, 2019.

• Rickylee James Swearingen, 33, Exeter, entered an Alford plea for burglary in the second degree, resisting arrest for a felony and possession of a controlled substance. He was sentenced to five years incarceration with the execution of that sentence suspended, $725 restitution and completion of CRISP.

On September 25, 2013, Swearingen entered into a residence through a window on Harold Street in Cassville and climbed into bed with a woman while she was sleeping. The woman asked him to leave, and he stole a Raider's hat off of the wall and then left.

Later, on December 2, 2013, when the Missouri State Highway Patrol attempted to stop Swearingen on a motorcycle on Missouri 37, he fled. After overturning the motorcycle, he ran on foot. Swearingen fled because he was in possession of methamphetamine and a pipe.

Swearingen is to serve probation until December 15, 2019.

• Alice Marie Tuell, 36, Monett, pled guilty to two counts of theft/stealing of $500 to $25,000 worth of property and theft/stealing of any credit card or letter of credit in 2013. Her probation has since been revoked and she is to serve 120 days shock incarceration.

In December 2012, Tuell and another person took several pieces of farm equipment and sold them to Rebel Recycling, including a square bailer, lawn tractor and other items stolen from a property south of Missouri State Highway HH.

Again in April 2013, Tuell was found to have sold items for scrap that had been stolen from a storage garage on East Bond in Monett.

Finally, in November 2013, Tuell stole a credit card from someone she had been staying with and used it without their permission.

Tuell is to be incarcerated until April 14, 2015.

ceived a suspended imposition and five years supervised probation.

In August 2014, Wallace pushed a 73-year-old victim to the ground and also pulled a phone from the wall so that the victim could not call for help. The victim walked a quarter of a mile to a neighbor's to get help. This was not the first time that Wallace had treated the victim in that manner.

Wallace is to serve probation until December 16, 2019.

• Stetson Daine Watson, 20, Monett, entered an Alford plea to theft/stealing in the amount of $500 to $25,000 and a guilty plea for possession of a controlled substance. He was given a suspended imposition of sentencing and five years supervised probation.

On September 27, 2011, Watson sold roof shingles that were in a garage from a house that he was renting. Then, in January 2014, Watson was pulled over while in a car and found to be in possession of both marijuana and methamphetamine.

Watson is to serve supervised probation until December 15, 2019.
