Butler Hollow debate continues, concerns raised at open house

Charlea Mills

Last night proved to be a busy night at the Butler Hollow Project open house. The event was scheduled to allow area residents to voice their opinions and ask questions about the proposed Butler Hollow Project, a National Forest plan to implement new maintenance to the Butler Hollow region of the Mark Twain National Forest in Cassville.

More than 100 people attended the open house which was held in the Show Me Plaza in Cassville on Highway 248. Representatives from the Forest Service were on site with information and to answer questions about the proposal as part of their extended public comment period on the project. Initially, a 30-day public comment period closed in late December, but the Ava Cassville Willow Springs Ranger District opted to open up an additional 12-day comment period to continue to get input.

Last night, most people in attendance seemed to be concerned with the negative aspects of the proposal, focusing primarily on how the logging, burning and other work will affect the beauty of the area. Other issues brought up included how it will impact wildlife, the smoke from the controlled burn and the possibility of leaving the forest without enough diversity to protect against disease.

Much of the project will consist of controlled burns on 17,517 acres and conversion to open woodland on 10,842 acres. Currently,

Representatives from the Forest Service were on site last night to answer questions about the concerns regarding the Butler Hollow Project and explain why the project is deemed necessary.

most of the acreage in Butler Hollow is closed woodland. If the land is converted to open woodland, a move that the Forestry Department says will put the land back to the way it was historically, the canopy overstory on the land would be 30 to 50 percent with a dense shrub layer on the forest floor. According to the public comment package, much of the trees in the area are non-native, diseased and maturing at the same rate. The forestry service claims the proposed project will make the forest more manageable long-term and be healthier.

Area residents were quick to share comments at the open house. Local resident and auctioneer Donnie Stumpff raised concerns about how the project will affect tourism in Barry County. Stumpff said, “It’ll affect the economy here, too. People come from all over to visit here. They stay in motels, go fishing, hiking and four-wheeling because of the beauty we have. This will stop that. It will affect the economy, and we don’t need it any worse than it is now.”

Tommy Gyll, a Seligman resident, said that he and his wife live in the forest where the burning will occur. He said, “The biggest thing is that, where we live, the smoke from the fires will get us stuck up there, and we’re also worried about the animals, where will they go? They’ll burn them out, or they’ll leave.” His wife, Helen, added, “They’ll burn it and it’ll be

Barry County budget finalized for 2015

On Thursday, January 22, the Barry County Commissioners finalized the 2015 county budget. County Clerk, Gary Youngblood, read the 2015 budget message at a meeting in the Commissioners’ Chambers on Thursday, detailing the estimated revenue for the upcoming year and the amount the county will be allotting to each department.

As part of the budget discussion, Presiding Commissioner Cherry Warren praised the county’s voters for passing an additional 1/8 cent sales tax during the November 2013 general election. Warren stated, “We, as the County Commission, really appreciate the support of the county’s tax paying citizens for voting and passing the 1/8-cent sales tax to get us in a better position. I think this was a very sound decision. If we didn’t have that, we wouldn’t be able to work the budget the way we were able to. We had a banner year last year, but we were conservative with the funds we had.”

The sales tax revenue for 2014 ended up being more than figures estimated, with Barry County ending the year at 10.35 percent above revenue for 2013. Even so, the county opted to take a fiscally conservative approach at sales tax estimates for 2015. Estimated revenue for 2015 is $4,576,374, which includes sales tax revenue, intergovernmental revenues, charges for service and other revenue, as well as $711,477 that carried over from 2014. The county estimated sales tax revenue at $78,239 less than 2014.

In all, the various departments in the county requested $3,780,179 for their operations for the year. The county approved approximately 98 percent of what was requested. The county also included an additional $281,000 for Capital Projects, bumping the approved budget for 2015 up to $3,971,686 not including the Emergency Fund.

Almost each of the departments took a small decrease off of what they were requesting for the year with the largest deduction taken from the Sheriff’s Department. In 2014, the Sheriff’s Department received $700,027 for the year. This year, $730,847.26 was requested, but only $685,997 was approved by the commission. The majority of the funds cut, according to Youngblood, was due to a grant for the Cyber Crimes task force that was not ap-

Phone scam targeting Barry Electric customers

Charlea Mills

A scam targeting Barry County residents is using Barry Electric Cooperative’s name to try to gain money. According to Barry Electric, several customers have received the scam call.

Apparently, the scammers are claiming to be with a collection agency working on behalf of Barry Electric. They tell the customers that their power will be shut off effective immediately if the customer does not make a payment over the phone immediately. According to some, the called ID shows the call to be originating from the City of Benton.

The cooperative confirmed that they do not use a collection agency or make calls to customers demanding payment. Similar scams have targeted area customers in the past, as well. According to Barry Electric CEO Bill Shiveley, four customers have called with complaints about the calls. Shiveley said, “We’re not sure if its random or if they’re actually targeting Barry Electric customers.”

If you receive a phone call from anyone claiming to calling on behalf of Barry Electric, try to get a callback number and report it to Barry Electric and the Barry County Sheriff’s Department or your local police department. Barry Electric can be reached at (417) 847-2131. The Sheriff’s Department is (417) 847-4475.

Barry Electric Coop. plans District meetings

Marvin Phipps, secretary for the Barry Electric Cooperative, announced the schedule for the annual district membership meetings. District No. 1 members will meet at the Exeter Fire Department, on February 9, District No. 2 members' meeting will be held at the Barry Electric Office, 4015 Main Street, Cassville, on February 12, and the meeting for District No. 3 members' will be held at the Cassville Golf Course Club House located on Hwy. 112 south of Cassville on February 10. All meetings start at 7 p.m.

The purpose of the district meeting is to nominate candidates for the position of director to represent members from the district on the cooperative board of directors. The two candidates receiving the highest vote from each district nomination meeting will be placed on the ballot for election of one director from each district at the cooperative's annual membership meeting. The 68th annual meeting will be held on April 9, 2015, at the First Baptist Church Family Life Center 5th and West Street in Cassville at 1:00 p.m.

Directors with expiring terms are John Marney, from District number 1; Marlee Edie, District number 2; and Richard Asbill, from District number 3.

The cooperative's officers are Dr. David Cupps, president; John Marney, vice-president; and Marvin Phipps, secretary-treasurer. Also serving on the cooperative board of directors, in addition to Mr. Edie and Mr. Asbill, are Lewis Royer, Glen Craig, David Dalton and Ray Manley.

Doyle L. “Buck” Prier, 83 passed away on January 20, 2015, after a lengthy illness.

He was born on October 10, 1931 in Eagle Rock, to Mary and Warner Prier.

After graduating high school in Cassville, he entered the U.S. Navy to serve his country in the Korean War aboard the USS Consolation.

He returned to Missouri and attended Drury University. He then began a successful career as a top marketing representative with Phillips Petroleum in Kansas City. That same job took him to Andover, Kansas and then to Abilene, Texas in 1977.

Buck retired in 1987, but that didn’t suit him. With a strong work ethic and a head for business he began his own company with two partners operating a chain of Texaco convenience stores in Abilene and the DFW Metroplex.

Buck loved flying and all things aviation, and was a member of the Quiet Birdmen aviation club. When he wasn’t flying he could also be found at the local airport “hangar flying” with friends.

Buck loved the outdoors. He was a champion skeet and trap shooter. Having grown up in the Ozarks he learned to appreciate nature and enjoyed hunting and fishing. He also loved walking the track at Red Bud Park.

Buck was a member of Pioneer Drive Baptist Church.

Buck was loyal and a very loving father. He leaves behind 4 children and their spouses, Dana Prier Dollins and husband, David, Douglas Prier and wife, Bobbi, Tiffany Prier Lamb and husband, Scott, and Rebecca Prier Gleason and husband, Chris.

His survivors also include grandchildren Candace Goldsby, Callie Green, Carlee and Nicholas Lamb, and Caroline, Kate, and Harris Gleason; and great grandchildren Emma and Harper Goldsby, and Tucker Green.

He also leaves behind his beloved companion Elizabeth Wolf.

He is also survived by

Shine On offers more than just tanning

Steve Chapman

Now, even in the winter months, people in the Cassville area can get an amazing tan in minutes. Shine On Tanning and More, a new salon, offers customers two ways to get tanned. For people wishing to get a tan quickly, there is the Norvell Spray Tan. This provides a flawless tan in about 15 minutes that, according to owner Mandy Clevenger, lasts from a week to a week and a half.

Those who desire a more lasting tan can use the Mega Bed, one of three regular tanning beds, or the stand up tanning booth found in the salon. A session in one of the beds lasts 20 minutes, while the tanning booth session will go for 15 minutes.

Owner Mandy Clevenger opened Shine On Tanning and More on September 1, 2014. A native of Exeter, she moved to Cassville in 1997 after graduating from high school, and continues to call Cassville home. Before opening Shine On Tanning, she worked as a cosmetologist for about 10 years. She said she opened the business because she enjoys working with people.

"I like the atmosphere," Clevenger said. "I very much enjoy working with Shine On Tanning and More, located in the 5th Street shopping center near DeGraffenreid Insurance, offers both tanning beds and spray tan, as well as a small store with children's clothing consignment and gifts.

the public. Customer service is very much my niche."

Clevenger doesn't limit herself to tanning, though. She also has a children's consignment space at Shine On. There, people with good, used children's clothing can bring it in to be sold. Clevenger will evaluate the clothing, price it, and then displays it in her store. When the clothing sells, Clevenger splits the money with the clothing's original owner 50/50.

Additionally, Clevenger carries a line of accessories called Diva Bling by Jenn. This unique merchandise includes watches, jewelry, sunglasses, purses, flip flops, hats, wallets, Bible covers and scarves.

Shine On Tanning and More is located in Cassville at 201 E. 5th Street, in the same shopping center as DeGraffenreid Insurance. Store hours are Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Other times are available by appointment. Call (417) 847-4477 for more information.

Joe Koloski, District Ranger of the ACWS Ranger District, tried to alleviate fears related to the project. He said, “The direct effect to the wildlife in the area is just not something we see with prescribed burns. All of the actions that we are proposing are very beneficial to the deer and turkey in this area. As it is, with very little understory, there is very little that deer can reach. With an open woodland, the understory is more developed with plenty of grasses that provide nesting for turkeys and food for deer. You see positive population effects over time because the animals in this area suited to a fire-adapted ecosystem.” Koloski added that historically, whether naturally-occurring or intentional burns by Native Americans, fire has shaped the land here for eons, and the animals have always adapted to it.

Jeanne Kirch and her husband have lived near Big M Marina for 12 years, and she attended the meeting last night to discuss her concerns with erosion and the appearance of the forest. She said, “We moved here to retire. We want it to be beautiful. I just think we should let mother nature take its course.”

Another concerned citizen, Lionel Jolliffe, of Cassville, is worried about the amount of work being done to the land at one time. He said, “It seems to be an awful lot to do at one time, and it also seems like some of the things in the public comment packet contradict other things. I’m not saying that they didn’t think this through, I think they put a lot of thought into it, but I think it’s too much.”

Jolliffe continued, “I think the burning of the underbrush is one thing, but according to the percentages in the packet, that’s a lot of trees they are taking out, as well. If they clear out the red oaks and only leave the white, that could be a problem. They’re already saying that the white oaks are being attacked by something that they don’t know what it is. By eliminating the diversity, it leaves the forest vulnerable to disease. I just really want to encourage people to look out at Chute Ridge and see how devastated it is. It used to be forest, but they cleared out everything. I just think this is too much at one time.”

The area at Chute Ridge that multiple people brought up at the open house is along route F. When Koloski was asked about that particular area and how that could compare to the treatment of Butler Hollow, he said that there are major differences between the two. He said, “That area is a glade restoration area. Cedars encroached because they like that open area. Historically, when you see big groups of cedar, it was glades originally. That area is fairly new in that process, and initially, it can be somewhat shocking to the eye, but it takes time.”

Koloski also noted that the Forest Service acquired that land in 1995, but burning was being done prior to their management of the land. He said that glade restoration, like in Chute Ridge, can take up to 20 years to be completed with burns every three to five years. In terms of the glades in Butler Hollow, Koloski said, “In the proposal, there’s around 3,000 acres that will be glades, but if you look at the map, it is distributed throughout the land in that area. It won’t be one big area.”

Those in attendance last night were able to submit their comments on the project. Citizens can continue to make comments on the project until February 6, and at that point, then the ACWS Ranger District will look through all of the comments and go into the environmental assessment portion and address issues. Koloski said that process will take at least a couple of months.

Koloski said, “I expect to have a draft proposal in the late spring or early summer on the project. Anyone that submitted a comment to the project will be notified once the draft is completed, and they’ll be able to object if they still have concerns.”

When asked for a time frame on when the work on the forest could begin if the Ranger District opts to go through with the Butler Hollow Project, Koloski said, “If there is no objection to the proposal, it could be early next year that we start, but that is very contingent on a lot of ifs.”

Koloski said that, while most of the people in attendance at the open house who sought him out personally were bringing up concerns, there was a good mix of both positive and negative comments overall. He said that they also had a fair number of people who just wanted to ask questions and learn more about what the proposal intended.

Citizens can still contact the Mark Twain National Forest ACWS Ranger District and read the public comment package and submit opinions. For more information on the Butler Hollow Project or to make a public comment, go to <http://www.fs.usda.gov/goto/mtnf/projects> or call Allen Weathersbee at the Mark Twain National Forest, Ava/Cassville/Willow Springs District Office, at (417) 683-4428 ext. 131.

An Aurora man was seriously injured in a one-car wreck on Friday, January 23, about four miles west of Butterfield. According to a report by the Missouri Highway Patrol, Robert T. Rockwell, 37, was driving a 2004 Ford F-350 west on Route W when he over-corrected, causing the pickup to go off of the side of the road. The truck overturned and also struck two fences.

Rockwell, who was not wearing a seat belt, was airlifted to Cox South in Springfield with serious injuries. The truck was totaled.

Upcoming soup supper to benefit Noah's Ark

Noah's Ark Community Pre School has scheduled its annual soup supper for Friday, February 20, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. The supper will be held at the Central Community United Methodist Church (CCUMC), Hwy YY, Shell Knob. The teachers, kids, Board of Directors, pastor and church staff are extending the invitation to all within the Shell Knob community.

The supper is a voluntary contribution at the door. Homemade chicken noodle and taco soups will be the features of the evening. Vegetables, crackers and garlic bread will accompany the dinner. A dessert bar with pies, cakes and other homemade goodies will also be part of the menu.

Sue King, a Noah's Ark Board Member, plans to open the gift shoppe where those in attendance can shop for small gifts including books, jewelry, knickknacks and other nice articles. All proceeds go to Noah's Ark Pre School. The school relies upon contributions from the community and fund raising events for its existence. CCUMC provides the facilities, utilities, upkeep, and the pastor, church secretary and custodian volunteer time to assist with the day to day needs of the school. Several church organizations such as the Thrift Closet, United Methodist Women's Organization, and the Church's loose change offering lend financial support. Other organizations such as the Discovery Quilters and Easter Sunrise Services donate generously to the school. At present, a large percentage of our students attend on scholarships made available through those who make voluntary contributions.

The school began as an outreach program through the Central Community United Methodist Church in 1996 and eventually was embraced by the Shell Knob Alliance of Churches. It is open to all children ages three to five and even some younger who are considered on an individual basis.

The program does not subscribe to any set organized religious practices. They embrace Christian principles in all that they do. The goal is to provide children with a warm, loving environment in which to play, socialize, and learn to prepare them for kindergarten.

Purdy School Board votes to create Athletic Hall of Fame

The Purdy R-2 School Board of Education voted unanimously at its December meeting to establish the Purdy High School Athletic Hall of Fame. According to the guidelines adopted by the board, "The Hall of Fame has been organized as a way of maintaining the rich heritage and tradition of successful athletic programs at Purdy High School. In addition, it will serve as a means of recognizing, preserving and honoring the athletes, coaches and individuals who made significant contributions to the athletic programs at Purdy High School."

Purdy High School Athletic Director Jennifer Schallert Cornelius announced that the inaugural class of inductees will be presented between basketball games on February 6, the district's Homecoming night. "We are honored to introduce the first inductees to the Purdy High School Athletic Hall of Fame: Earl Miller, Becky (Fly) Woods and Norman "Gabby" Gibbons. These legends will form the backbone of our Hall of Fame family and set the standard for future

Gabby Gibbons was a Purdy household name for over half a century, first as a Purdy High School star basketball player and later as a Purdy High School teacher and coach, a Purdy Board of Education member and a beloved Purdy High School sports fan and community member. In 2005, the City of Purdy renamed the street circling the school "Gabby Gibbons Drive" in his honor. Norman "Gabby" Gibbons passed away in 2008.

No more than two inductees will join the Hall of Fame per school year, although the district will welcome three inaugural members its first year. A selection committee will review nominees and make final selections at an annual meeting. Inductees may be nominated by the se-

Southwest students tour Barry County sites

Southwest R-V students Samantha Robbins and Shasta Sanders leaf through an old ledger during their visit to the Bayless House in Cassville.

The AP Language Class, taught by Linda Morgan at Southwest R-V High School, went on a field trip to learn about the history of Barry County on Thursday, Jan. 14. Southwest had 17 students take part in the field trip, which included visits to the Barry County courthouse, the library, the Bayless House and the Barry County Museum. After having lunch at El Mariachi's, the group continued their outing with a trip to Roaring River State Park.

Students participate in the tour to aid in their learning about community and to support the goals of the class.

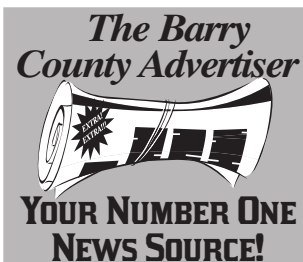

Southwest R-V student Baylea Ford looks over a textbook in the Black School House during a visit to the Barry County Museum.

Southwest Schools Semester Review

This review finds us beginning the second half of the 2014-2015 school year. Thanks to much improved weather as compared to last year, we were able to complete a full first semester before Christmas break. Hopefully this trend will continue throughout the winter season. As with prior semester reviews, we would like to communicate some of the things that have been going on at Southwest.

We are very excited about our new Preschool program for four year olds. Earlier this fall, we were fortunate to be awarded a grant through the Missouri Preschool Program. With notification to the awarded districts not being made until late October, the program's implementation could not be aligned with the beginning of the school year. But classes began December 15 and will continue through the end of this semester. A modular building has been acquired through the grant and was recently delivered over break. Once it has been completely set up and the outside play area is finished, classes will transition from the lower elementary building to the new space. We believe this program will be of great benefit in providing children valuable preparation in advance of entering kindergarten. For more information, parents of four or five year olds should contact our elementary office at (417) 826-5411. We would very much like to see all of next year's kindergarteners attending preschool.

REVIEW from 2B

Another capital improvement project that has not progressed as well as we would like, is our new Track and Field facility. You may recall that work began over a year ago with asphaltting taking place this past summer. As the school year began, some problems were discovered which has required a rather lengthy sorting out process. Most likely corrections will be delayed until spring, but the track in its current condition remains available for use by our kids and residents. It has been disappointing to not have this project finished, but on the positive side, all of those involved in its construction are on board to resolve its issues, and the end result will actually be a track better than what was originally designed.

Concerning technology upgrades that were mentioned in our previous review, our high school and middle school implemented their One to One (1:1) initiatives this past fall. Again, the purpose of 1:1 is to enhance student learning by providing access to individual computer devices. We've also made major upgrades in our network to accommodate the extra computers. For most of this past semester, high schoolers have been using Dell Chromebooks and all students in fifth through eighth grades have been working with Promethean Kuno tablets. There have been some bumps in the road and both buildings will continue to modify their 1:1 plans, but overall implementation has gone well. Students and staff members are at varying stages, but we are committed to integrating technology into classroom instruction and believe this will be of great benefit to everyone involved.

Directly related to our vision for technology is the academic status of the district. At the beginning of this school year, we received favorable news in respect to our Annual Performance Report (APR). You may recall that the APR is compiled each year to determine a district's level of achievement, as well as accreditation levels. Once again, Southwest ranked securely within the "Fully Accredited" range, actually reflecting an improved APR of 88.6 percent. APRs can be a little deceptive in respect to how a district performed during a specific year, but it is always a good sign to be on the high end of fully accredited. Regardless of APR percentages, our goal is always for our students and staff members to put forth their best efforts in the instructional process. With the increase in rigor, anything less will not bring about the best possible results, and to come full circle so to speak, this is the main reason the district has pursued a preschool program, putting forth our best efforts to provide our four year olds a quality beginning to their education.

The Southwest High School Volleyball team had another outstanding season this past fall, compiling a record of 22—9 and going undefeated in Ozark 7 play. Senior Shannon Mitchell achieved All State recognition for the second consecutive year, while also being named conference Player of the Year. Both Shannon and junior Jamie Shrum were named to the All Region team. In Cross Country, both the high school and middle school teams won Conference championships

As superintendent, it is always pleasing to see our students be part of organized efforts that serve others. Many of our kids engage in these types of activities. Just to recognize a couple of these worthy endeavors, I would like to mention the Southwest FFA program. Our FFA kids, along with the Ag Leadership class, held a food drive prior to Thanksgiving. Competition among classes was held and most importantly, a generous supply of items was donated that provided twenty-two families with boxes of assorted foods. In addition, the FFA organized an Angel Tree just before Christmas. Members of the Southwest staff and community sponsored 54 needy students, all of whom received a Christmas present as we adjourned for the holidays. A big thanks to our Vocational Agriculture teachers, Rachael Brown and Chris Hunt, for their leadership in working with our kids on these types of activities. I might also mention that Steer clear. Work safely.

One of the most important rules of operating machinery is the 10-foot rule. It simply means to be aware of your equipment's height and reach, and keep it at least 10 feet away from power lines.

Whether you're working in the field or moving equipment from one place to another, think and look ahead to be sure power lines are not in your path. The 10-foot rule will help you steer clear of danger.

REVIEW from 3B

Rachael plans to continue to hold adult education evening classes this semester. For more information, please contact her through the high school office.

Learning to serve is such an important lesson in life. To want to bring happiness and joy into the lives of the less fortunate is really an admirable attitude. Unfortunately, life sometimes presents painful circumstances, as in dealing with the loss of a loved one. Such a situation happened this past semester, as senior Jessica Morgan was tragically taken in an automobile accident. Jessica was a great young lady, and I mention her now to honor her memory. Understandably, it was difficult for our students and staff members following Jessica's passing, but the love and sincerity extended to each other was moving. None greater than when Jessica's brother Lane addressed our high school student body, bringing healing words to classmates, as well as sharing Jessica's donation of life to others, her bringing happiness and joy into the lives of the less fortunate.

In closing, I know I speak for our entire staff in saying that it is an honor to be involved in the lives of the students at Southwest. To every parent/caregiver, let's all make your children a priority, and to all patrons of our school district, thank you for supporting Southwest R-V.

-Bob Walker,
Superintendent of Schools

Central Crossing Chili and Soup Fest

Each year, the Central Crossing First Responders and Firefighters host a chili and soup fundraiser to benefit the department. This year's event is scheduled for this week.

The annual Chili and Soup Fest fundraiser will be held on Saturday, January 31, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Viola/Shell Knob Community Building. The community building is located just off of Highway 39, one mile south of Central Crossing Bridge on the east side of the road.

The first responders have added several new people to their group, so the money raised will be used to purchase and outfit the new responders with the equipment that they need. The initial cost of outfitting a first responder is around $3,000 per person.

The Central Crossing First Responders and Firefighters serve the Shell Knob area, covering nearly 140 square miles in Barry and Stone Counties.

For more information, or if you wish to make a donation, contact Shannon Renfrow at (417) 619-2079 or ccfd116@gmail.com.

GET THE SCOOP

Haven of the Ozarks Pet of the Week

A bunch of us were left behind on the farm nearly a year ago when Mom died. We're used to being around cats, dogs, and other animals and we're all housetrained, too. I'm Popeye, and when I got to the Haven a few weeks ago I was wearing the top of a glass jar like a collar (boy, was I happy to get THAT off!). My friend Olive Oyl has been adopted, but the rest of us are still waiting. Please come out to meet me, Bluto, Sweet Pea, and Wimpy real soon. We're all different colors and have different coat and tail lengths. Haven of the Ozarks will always take us back if our adoptions don't work out so why not give one (or more) of us a try? Our adoption fee is $65 each and we're all 2-4 yrs old. 417-835-3647
