Table Rock Drowning; Cassville School Board Sworn In 15A

Over Half a Pound of Meth Retrieved After Crash

Lawrence Gwinup

Ezra DeVore

After a crash on the night of April 9, nearly ¾ of a pound of methamphetamine was allegedly discovered in the vehicle of Lawrence Gwinup, 43, of Cassville. Gwinup is now charged with eight felonies and two misdemeanors (unlawful use of a weapon, six counts of possession of drug paraphernalia, second-degree drug trafficking, second-degree property damage, and a DWI).

According to a probable cause statement filed by Barry County Deputy Michael Stribling, Gwinup's vehicle impacted a barbed wire fence on Farm Road 1145 and Farm Road 2180 at approximately 4:45 a.m. on April 9.

Upon contact with the police, Gwinup consented to the search of his vehicle by Stribling and Deputy James Myers. Stribling states this resulted in approximately 290 grams of methamphetamine being discovered in the vehicle, separated into a total of seven bags.

Additionally, Stribling and Myers allegedly found a Smith and Wesson SD40 handgun, several digital scales, a bong, as well as a glass pipe. At the time of this publication, Gwinup is being held on a $50,000 cash-only bond and his next scheduled hearing is May 11 at 9:30 a.m.

Barry County Man Leads Police on Chase; Narcotics Recovered

According to a probable cause statement filed by Travis Wolfe, on the night of April 1, at around 10:48 p.m., Wolfe was observing traffic at the intersection of Highways 112 and 76, and noticed a blue pickup truck with a tail light out. The vehicle then quickly pulled into a gas station parking lot, Wolfe states. The vehicle then pulled out of the parking lot at a high rate of speed, heading for Roaring River State Park.

Wolfe activated his emergency light in an attempt to stop the vehicle, yet the vehicle allegedly pulled off the roadway and into a housing district in an effort to escape.

Wolfe pulled in behind the vehicle, and the driver continued south into Roaring River State Park. According to Wolfe, at the intersection of Highway 112 and Highway F, Missouri

State troopers had placed spike strips, which successfully damaged the tires of the blue pickup. This caused the driver to nearly lose control of the vehicle before reaching Highway 86, via Highway F.

Approximately one mile before reaching Highway 86, the driver and passenger allegedly began throwing unknown items from the driver and passenger windows.

Upon reaching 86, Wolfe states, the driver attempted to head west, but could no longer maintain control over the vehicle after the tires had been so severely damaged. The driver attempted to turn, though the vehicle continued straight, leaving the roadway and high centering into a ditch on the north side of Highway 86.

The driver then allegedly exited the vehicle and attempted an escape on foot. Wolfe followed on foot, alongside other members of state police. Upon being caught, the suspect was placed into custody, where Wolfe attempted to identify the individual.

The suspect would not cooperate, however, and according to Wolfe, began ceaselessly kicking the patrol vehicle door.

After departing the scene to transport the suspect, Wolfe states the suspect was identified as Jason Swift, 29, of Barry County. En route to the Barry County Jail, Swift allegedly claimed to be overdosing, and that he required medical attention. Wolfe requested EMS to meet them at the jail.

Upon arriving to the jail, Wolfe states he had to forcefully remove Swift from the vehicle and escort him, with Swift continuing to resist and pull away.

Swift was evaluated by

Jason Swift

EMS, who determined he did not need further medical attention.

While at the jail, Wolfe was notified by another deputy that a large quantity of suspected methamphetamine and a small amount of marijuana were retrieved from Swift's vehicle's center console.

Presently, Swift is being held in the Barry County jail on a $50,000 bond. Swift's next hearing is on May 11 at 8:30 a.m. with Judge Robert Foulke.

Morel Season is Upon Us

Ezra DeVore

A common family tradition in Southwest Missouri households is the yearly search for morel mushrooms. These wild mushrooms are renowned for their pleasant flavor and considered quite the Midwestern delicacy by many.

Though, their surprising rarity is notable, with many hunters pleased to discover one solitary mushroom, and avoiding the toxic mimics.

There are three morel species that grow in Missouri:

the yellow morel (also referred to as the "common morel"), the black morel, and the half-tree morel.

With caps that resemble brains, but a neutral, nearly dull coloration, they're easy to miss, though quite recognizable once unearthed. Veiled in forest-floor flora, the mushrooms present a challenge to be found, though there are tricks.

Spring is the optimal time to begin your pursuit, as thawing months offer warm conditions and a moist earth;

two crucial conditions for morels.

According to the Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC), when day temperatures hover in the low 70s, and the night is in the low 50s, the Goldilocks Zone has been reached, and conditions for growth are right.

Additionally, the morels' peak season lies in tandem with the blooming season for lilacs. When lilacs bloom, so do morels.

Largely, however, tips on where exactly to locate the mushrooms are predominantly anecdotal, as each morel only rises above the ground some years - based primarily on soil temperature and water availability. Therefore, even specific root systems are unreliable on an annual clock.

Morels can be difficult for new-comers to differentiate from similar-looking mushrooms that can cause illness, or even death.

These are easily differentiated if you know what to discern: one key being, morels are always hollow-stemmed. Also, the conical cap of a morel is carved with pits and ridges, resembling a sponge or honeycomb.

Furthermore, black and yellow morels have a head directly attached to their stem, whereas many "false morels" have free-hanging heads, unattached to their stem.

With half-tree morels however, the bottom half of the cap is unattached to the stalk. It is vital to remember,

In last week's issue of the Barry County Advertiser, the incorrect date was listed for the Earth Day celebration at Roaring River State Park.

The Earth Day celebra-

all true morels are entirely hollow. This is a key separation.

False morels, the mushroom that is not hollow, can be deadly. See Morels on Page 3

A Common Heart Problem That's Often Ignored

Dear Savvy Senior,
What can you tell me about atrial fibrillation? Every so often, I've noticed my heart starts beating rapidly for no particular reason. Is this something I should be worried about?
Anxious Annie
Dear Annie,
Heart palpitations can be harmless if they are brief and infrequent. But if you're experiencing an erratic heart rhythm, you need to get checked out by a doctor for atrial fibrillation, or AFib.

AFib – which is marked by rapid, fluttering beats – can lead to serious complications such as stroke and heart failure, when the weakened heart can't pump enough blood to the rest of the body.
Normally, your heartbeat follows a steady rhythm as your heart contracts and relaxes. But when you have AFib, the upper chambers of your heart (atria) beat rapidly and irregularly, sending blood to the lower chambers (ventricles) less efficiently. These episodes can last for minutes to hours or longer, and can cause palpitations, lightheadedness, fatigue, and/or shortness of breath. Over time, AFib tends to become chronic.

Age is a common risk factor for AFib, which affects roughly 10 percent of people older than 75. Other factors include genetics, obesity, diabetes, high blood pressure, and alcohol and tobacco use. The condition has also been linked to viral infections, including COVID-19.
Diagnosing AFib
If you're experiencing AFib-like symptoms you need to see your doctor who will listen to your heart and likely recommend an electrocardiogram (EKG) or a treadmill heart test, or you may wear a portable monitor for several weeks to look for abnormal heart rhythms to confirm a diagnosis of AFib. Such tests can help distinguish AFib from less serious conditions that may cause the heart to flutter, like anxiety and stress.

AFib affects some three million adults in the United States, a number that is expected to quadruple in the coming decade as the population ages and risk factors like obesity, diabetes and high blood pressure become even more common. The lifetime risk of developing AFib is greater than 20 percent, yet many people don't even know they have it.

Treatment Options
A growing body of research underscores the importance of lifestyle steps such as exercise, a healthy diet, and limiting alcohol for treating AFib.
Depending on your age and symptoms, your doctor may prescribe drugs to help control your heart rate, like beta blockers such as metoprolol (Toprol XL); and/or rhythm, such as antiarrhythmics like flecainide (Tambocor).
You may also need an electrical cardioversion, an outpatient procedure that delivers an electrical shock to the heart to restore a normal rhythm. You will be sedated for this brief procedure and not feel the shocks.
Catheter ablation is another outpatient treatment for AFib that scars a small area of heart tissue that causes irregular heartbeats. This procedure is becoming more common based on evidence of its safety and ability to normalize the heart rhythm and ease symptoms. Ablations can be effective in people 75 and older, but medication may still be required afterward.

If you're at higher risk for stroke, you may be prescribed a blood thinner, too. In the past, Coumadin (warfarin) was the only such drug widely available, but it requires monitoring with regular blood tests. Newer anticoagulants, like apixaban (Eliquis) and rivaroxaban (Xarelto), don't have that requirement and have been shown to be just as effective at preventing strokes.

rooms that can cause illness or death (a rather gaunt alternative to a fun family dinner), may have similar caps, though may also have caps riddled with folds, lobes, or wrinkled.
These mushrooms are absent of the signifying pits or ridges a true morel's cap displays.
Moreover, these false morels will not be fully hollow - both cap and stalk will fail to resemble the hollowness of a true morel, and instead be likely filled with a cotton-like substance.
While some false-morels are entirely edible, and, according to the MDC, even enjoyed for years by people of the Great Lakes region, it is strongly advised to all but the most-seasoned of morel-hunters to avoid all false morels.

A good rule to adhere to is simply to never eat a wild plant you aren't 100% sure about.
Either way, be prepared to cook all collected mushrooms thoroughly before accompanying any meal with them.
Currently, Missouri is reaching the mid-portion of morel season; thus, it is recommended to search slopes that face the north and east. Dead domesticated apple trees, elm trees, and cottonwoods can be hospitable grounds for morels. River bottoms and wet woodlands can also produce the mushrooms.

The MDC states that permits will not be required for morel hunting. It is still advised to double-check specific area regulations, however.

Water is at 189 CFS, still a strong flow, and murky. Black rooster tails have been very good, blue also was a good color last week. Four pound line is still working well. When the water clears, we will be back to using 2lb. Fly fishing is getting better, nymphs with a bit of color or flash have been good. Black, olive, and brown woolly buggers, have also been working well. Not much dry fly fishing yet, but in a few days it should get much better. Mop flies, & mega worms have been good all season, but they really shine when the water is murky. Power bait is still working very well; pink, yellow, and orange have been good. Still using 1/8 oz. worm or egg sinkers to keep the bait on or near the bottom of the river. Larger marabou jigs are working, let 'em sink and work 'em slow for best results. Black/yellow, orange/white, & pink/white have been working, olive green has been good also. Good luck this week on the river.

Haven of the Ozarks: Pet of the Week

Six teams from Cassville FFA have qualified for the state competition in Columbia on April 22 and 23. Held at MSU, Cassville's FFA chapter will compete against the best FFA teams in Missouri, approximately 100 total. The six teams who qualified were dairy cattle judging, horse judging, livestock judging, poultry judging, FFA knowledge, and Langston Mitchell, a freshman student who qualified for Division 1 Speaking.

Meet Sessile Oak, the Haven of the Ozarks Pet of the Week! She is a beautiful, sweet, and gentle middle aged lab mix. She's about six years old and came to the Haven after her caretaker unexpectedly passed away and left around 20 dogs behind. She has had some hard times in her past but is excited to find a family to pamper her. She'll do great just about anywhere!

She's a nice medium size and walks well on a leash. Sessile Oak has also had good crate manners at offsite events, so getting her used to indoor life should be a breeze. Her estimated age is six years and her weight is just over 50 pounds. You can meet her at the Haven open 9-4 each day or call 417-835-3647 if you think this beauty would be the perfect addition to your home!

DON'T RAISE THE RISK

During any kind of project around your home or property, remember there's more overhead than buildings, trees and sky. A ladder can easily reach high enough to cause potentially fatal contact with power lines.

Always look up before raising or moving a ladder to make sure it's at least 10 feet from any electrical lines. Keep your eye on power lines and your mind on working safely.

Cassville High to perform Purple Ink

Cassville High School Theatre Production will perform Purple Ink by B.G. Craig on Thursday, April 28th, at 6:00 and 7:00 p.m. at Cassville High School. The cost of admission is $3.00 for adults and $2.00 for students.

Purple Ink finds Diane Fletcher's estranged daughters cleaning out their childhood home and learn their mother had become a hoarder. Along with Diane's sister and close friends, the ladies work to not only clean up the mess left behind, both literally and figuratively, they try to understand Diane's motivations for keeping everything, including secrets. The sisters realize that, like the purple buffalo innocently scrawled on the wallpaper from a childhood long ago, traces from the past leave an indelible imprint on their hearts.

A story of family tensions and tragedy, finding forgiveness and exploring the bonds between women and a mother's love that transcends the grave.

She sleeps with one of us every night.

Barry County E9-1-1 celebrates Telecommunicators Week

Adriana Keeton

Barry County E9-1-1, housed at the Barry County Emergency Services building in Cassville, celebrated National Telecommunicators Week April 10-16, 2022. National Telecommunicators week is celebrated annually the second week in April to recognize emergency services heroes who are the strength behind the scenes.

Barry County E9-1-1 staff celebrated the week with themed attire. This year's theme was "Through the Decades" where each day a different style of attire from the 40's to the 90's was showcased.

This is also a time for their peers to thank them for all they do behind the scenes. Local fire departments, EMS, police, sheriff's department staff and support services dropped off gifts daily to the call center to show their appreciation.

The week ended with an open house on April 15 from 11 a.m.-3 p.m., where the community was invited to enjoy refreshments and tour the emergency services facility.

There are five dispatch stations in the facility, currently run by twelve dispatchers around the clock. The call center on average handles 8,036 calls per month and covers 791 square miles, which includes 14 fire departments, seven police departments, one sheriff's office, two EMS and one highway patrol/conservation department.

For more information on Barry County Emergency Services, their website is www.barrycountye911.org. Forms are also available on the website to register your storm shelter locations as well as submission of 9-1-1 medical notification forms.

Cassville Rotary Club Holds Anti-Meth Presentation

On March 31, the Cassville Rotary Club gave a presentation to the fifth grade Cassville students on the importance of not using drugs like meth. The following is a statement from Mike Phillips, director of E9-1-1 (pictured above), and speaker at the fifth grade presentation:

This presentation goes over the ill effects of methamphetamine usage. Not only on the negative effects inside your body, but the issues it create with your skin and teeth. The presentation talks about having choices and that the usage of meth is a bad choice. We try to highlight that choosing meth can erase your goals that you have for yourself. That goal may be becoming a teacher some day or making your school sports team. However, making a bad choice such as meth distracts you from obtaining your goals and can cause serious damage to yourself, including death. The program focus on highlighting through pictures of those ill effects we mention. Some could say a “Shock” approach. This presentation highlights: skin that is damaged from being picked as if they have bad bug bites/itches. It also shows malnourishment and what teeth look like after methamphetamine usage. (Missing teeth, infections, etc.)

I think educating our kids on this dangerous drug that is so prevalent in our area is important! Cassville Rotary does this presentation with hoping it provides awareness to the kids before they are exposed or asked to take this harmful drug. We as a club have heard great feedback from parents and kids that the kids don’t understand why people do this drug and are never going to do it! That the pictures showed how terrible it is! Hearing that is great, and it is our hope that it prevents our community from doing it, making our community a safer and better place to live.

Also, Cassville Rotary is always looking for ways to better our community and we are thankful for the many sponsors over the years that contribute to this presentation as well as the other programs we do throughout

Barry County! We wouldn’t be able to do this Don’t Meth With Us program with out them, so thank you!
