Roaring River reels in over 1,000 kids for free fishing

Charlea Mills

Roaring River State Park had a huge turn out for their annual fall Kids' Fishing Day on Saturday. The park handed out 1,005 tags to kids 15 and under to fish the banks of the park and enjoy the great outdoors.

Kids' Fishing Day happens twice a year at the park and has become not only a local tradition, but one for families from afar, as well. Some families had travelled over eight hours to make it to the park and enjoy the beautiful weather at the scenic state park.

Paul Spurgeon, hatchery manager at Roaring River, said that the entire day turned out to be ideal for the event. He said, "The day was just picture perfect. The weather was great and we were crowded all day long."

Park staff stocked the waters with 3,000 trout for Saturday's festivities. Staff continued to stock waters throughout the day to ensure that the trout kept biting and kids kept reeling in their fill.

Spurgeon said, "This was a really strong showing for the fall event." Last year, the park passed out 970 tags during the event. This year, the weather was very accommodating, which allowed families to stay for the whole day.

Aside from the fishing, kids also enjoyed a variety of classes on the great outdoors, including air rifle shooting, cooking lessons and information about a variety of wildlife in the area.

Kids who attended three or more classes were entered into a drawing for a variety of free items including sports equipment, fishing poles and more.

Also at the event, David Wahl, who has worked and volunteered at Roaring River for a number of years, was presented with a special award acknowledging his help over the years. Wahl was one of 107 volunteers this year, but Spurgeon said he does a lot behind the scenes that people don't realize.

Spurgeon said, "We gave David the plaque because of his many years of service. He does a lot with the concessionaire, feeding kids hot dogs and volunteering. He also teaches a class during kids fishing day. He just works really hard."

Wahl was given a special plaque to mark the occasion.

For more pictures of Kids' Fishing Day, see page 10A.

Kids lined the banks at Roaring River to fish for free and learn about the great outdoors on Saturday.

Area schools show increase in enrollment

Charlea Mills

Local schools released their initial enrollment numbers for the 2015-2016 school year, and the results were showing positive trends for enrollment in each of Barry County's school districts. Overall, Barry County's enrollment across the districts is up by approximately 3.07 percent over last year's numbers. This year, 4,210 students are enrolled in Cassville, Exeter, Purdy, Southwest and Wheaton districts. Last year, the enrollment was 4,059.

Cassville Schools saw a pretty big bump in their enrollment for the new year. Last year, the district had 1,821 students, which was actually an increase from the year before this. This year, however, the school's enrollment for preschool through seniors is 1,954. This year's graduating class is 135 students, which is a jump from last year's class of 118. Cassville's largest class this year is the third grade, which has 166 students.

By the numbers, Cassville has 84 preschoolers, 136 kindergartners, 133 second graders, 166 third graders, 132 fourth graders, 126 fifth graders, 138 sixth graders

Two arrested in cattle theft operation

Charlea Mills

Two men were arrested and charged with their involvement in the theft of a calf in late July. Hunter W. Kester, 19, of Purdy, and Travis Schoelzel, 18, of Purdy, were charged with receiving stolen property. According to Sheriff Mick Epperly, the two may have additional charges pressed against them as the Barry County Sheriff's Department continues its investigation and more evidence comes to light.

On July 26, the Barry County Sheriff's Department was dispatched to an address on State Highway 76 where a neighbor said they thought there was a possible cattle theft was in progress.

When Deputy Dave Ruark arrived, the neighbor said that a truck and trailer had parked near his neighbor's, Ronnie Maloney's, property. When the neighbor approached the truck and stock trailer, a man on a horse rode into the trailer and the truck took off. The neighbor said that the fence had been cut and he suspected that cattle had been stolen.

On August 1, Junior Galyen reported a suspicious calf had been brought to the Exeter Livestock, of which he is one of the owners. Galyen recognized the markings on the black heifer's ear to be ones used by Maloney. Maloney positively identified the calf, and DNA from his livestock was sent to a lab for a positive identification.

The Sheriff's Department arrested Kester and Schoel-

Cassville man charged for breaking Cassville officer's ankle

Charlea Mills

A Cassville man was charged with assault on a police officer when a Cassville officer's ankle was broken in three places.

The Cassville Police Department was dispatched to 1000 Fair Street in Cassville with the report that a 24 year-old man was out of control. According to the affidavit of probable cause, Cody Wayne Deans was inside the residence destroying things in the home and banging on the walls.

When officers arrived, Deans tried to leave, but then turned around and spit in two different officers' faces. Deans then attempted to close himself in the bathroom, but officers were able to get in the door.

Deans then charged at the three officers, grabbing Deputy Phillips by the head and pushing him into a book shelf. When Officer Fohn tried to pull Deans off of Phillips, they fell in the hallway, causing Fohn's ankle to break in three places.

Deans

Once Deans was taken into custody, he continued to resist.

Deans is charged with two counts of assault on a law enforcement officer, one in the second degree and one in the third. One charge is a felony and the other a misdemeanor. Deans is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $20,000 cash-only bond.

According to Cassville Chief of Police Dana Kammerlohr, Officer Fohn will have surgery for his injuries and is expected to be on medical leave for three months.

Butler Hollow comment period re-opened

Joe Koloski, District Ranger

The Butler Hollow Project is located about six miles south of Cassville on the Cassville Unit of the Mark Twain National Forest (MTNF). The legal description for the area is T21N, R26W, Section 17-20, 29-30; T21N, R27W, Sections 1-5, 6-30; and T22N, R26W, Sections 18-20, 29-33 in Barry County.

The initial comment period for this project received considerable attention from the public and several issues of concern were brought to my attention. In response to these concerns, I have chosen to offer for public consideration two additional alternatives to the project proposal. He has also decided to provide an additional comment period for this project to ensure that we do not miss the opportunity to address any additional issues that may be brought to our attention. want your comments to be considered before we complete an Environment Assessment. The Ava/Cassville/Willow Springs Ranger District is seeking your comments on the revised proposal at this time.

The purpose of this letter is to inform interested and affected parties of the revised alternatives, and to solicit additional comments on the proposal. The information package titled Revised Public Comment Package- Butler Hollow Project is available for review and is located at: <http://www.fs.usda.gov/goto/mtnf/projects>. Scroll down the web page to the Butler Hollow Project and click on the link. The revised public comment package describes the project alternatives as amended in response to public comments. If you would like to request a copy of this revised comment package or have any questions about the current proposals, contact Allen Weathersbee by telephone at (417) 683-4428 ext. 131 or by email at aaweathersbee@fs.fed.us.

This project is needed to address declines in forest health and native plant communities. As District Ranger, I am proposing this project to improve forest health and enhance community structure while providing a variety of dispersed recreational uses and timber products. The primary objective of the project is to restore the natural communities that are currently degrading and manage vegetation to achieve desired conditions throughout the project area. A combination of treatments would be used to achieve these goals, including commercial restoration thinning, pre-commercial thinning, non-commercial (cut and leave) thinning, cedar cutting and/or removal, and prescribed burning.

This project is a project or activity implementing a land management plan; therefore, it is subject to the pre-decisional objection process described in subparts A and B of 36 CFR 218. Only those who submit timely "specific written comments" during any designated opportunity

14 year-old Purdy girl given green light for Purdy animal shelter proposal

Shania Stumpff

Fourteen year-old Shana Whisman, of Purdy, pitched an idea she says has been in her mind for a while to the Purdy City Council on August 10th.

Whisman wants to start an animal shelter for all the stray dogs and cats walking around the Purdy area. Whisman started her presentation by saying, "Not only will an animal shelter benefit the animals, but it will benefit our town as well."

Whisman had already figured up the costs for what it will be to feed, vaccinate and provide shelter for the animals each year.

"A lot of strays end up on the streets because of many different reasons. Sometimes when a loved one passes that had a pet the family doesn't have room for it and it becomes a stray, and sometimes if an animal doesn't get along with a family's children, it becomes a stray."

Whisman says when people are in search for a pet they can come to the local shelter and only pay a small adoption fee. Whisman wants to get in contact with businesses like Walmart and Pet Smart who may be interested in sponsoring the shelter so it won't cost the city money.

"I love animals and would take them all in if I could," said Whisman.

The city council told Whisman she could go ahead and take the next step to see what the state regulations are for running an animal shelter. The subject will be addressed again at the next city council meeting.

Mt. Vernon man seriously injured in motorcycle wreck

Charlea Mills

One man had to be airlifted after a motorcycle wreck on Highway 37 on Sunday, according to a Missouri State Highway Patrol crash report.

Paul E. Heisner, 46, of Mt. Vernon, was seriously injured when a car pulled into the path of his motorcycle on Sunday afternoon. Anthony R. Test, 20, of Cassville, was driving a 1997 Ford Taurus southbound on Hwy. 37 1/5 miles north of Cassville when he failed to yield and pulled into Heisner's path.

Heisner was thrown from his 2005 Honda motorcycle when he struck the side of the car. Heisner was air lifted to Cox South Hospital of Springfield. Test had no reported injuries at the time of the crash.

The motorcycle was totalled, and the Taurus received extensive damage. Heisner was wearing a helmet at the time of the crash, and Test was wearing a seat belt.

Local firefighters gear up and climb stairs in memory of fallen comrades

Charlea Mills

A number of local firefighters across the county participated in the annual stair climb to honor the 343 firefighters who lost their lives on 9/11. Their participation served as a stark reminder of what the men who gave their lives to save others went through on one of the most tragic days in our nation's history.

Scott Brophy, deputy chief of the Butterfield Fire Department, participated in the climb along with two of his sons, Geoff and Johny, and a number of other firefighters from departments in Barry County. This year, the climb took place at Echo Holler at Silver Dollar City, who sponsored the event, and all of the proceeds were donated to the families of the 343 who died.

To honor the firefighters and raise money, firefighters and anyone who wants to contribute, walk the equivalent of the 110 stories of the World Trade Center. Each of the firefighters puts on their gear and climbs, regardless of conditions, to remember the sacrifice of those brave people.

Brophy said, "I've always wanted to do the stair climb, and two of my boys were able to join me this year. I'm glad that my sons came with me to do this for the first time." For the prior two years, the Springfield event was held at Hammons Field where the Springfield Cardinals play. By allowing Silver Dollar City to host, more of the funds generated could be donated to the families of the fallen firefighters. It is anticipated that Silver Dollar City will continue to host the event in the future.

Memorial Stair Climbs have become a growing trend to draw attention to the memory of the 343 firefighters. This year, the speaker for the event was Captain Michael Dugan, a 27-year veteran of the Fire Department of New York. The moving words of Capt. Dugan put the entire event into perspective for those who showed up to take those tedious steps strapped with gear.

Brophy said, "It really impacted me quite a bit. But to actually walk that like they did, it made you really think."

He added, "When we walked the stairs, there were so many firefighters that we were shoulder-to-shoulder. It was packed."

Brophy explained that each of the firefighters were assigned an ID of one of the 343 firefighters to wear while they walked. After each five flights, the men were required to take a break. Each of the firefighters who had someone climbing for them would have their name announced over the speaker, they would ring the bell once in memory of them and they shook Capt. Dugan's hand.

Firefighters from other fire departments, including Cassville and Eagle Rock-Golden-Mano, were also at the climb. Brophy's son Geoff volunteers with Butterfield. Johny is with the Seneca Fire Department but volunteers with Butterfield when he is in town and also helps with training.

When asked if he plans to participate again, Brophy replied, "Absolutely."

Jersey's to host memorial benefit concert this weekend

Charlea Mills

Jersey's, located at Hilltop on MO-112, is holding a memorial concert featuring the Bo Phillips Band on Friday night, August 21, to benefit the local chapter of Bikers Against Child Abuse.

Jersey's manager Stephanie Annecharico said that the concert was planned as a memorial for Mickey Austin, who died in a motorcycle wreck last year.

She said, "Mickey and his family are all good friends, and this is in memory of him. He was a big supporter for BACA, so we thought it would be a good way to remember him."

Mickey, 60, lived in Cassville and passed away on July 26, 2014, as a result of injuries sustained from a motorcycle accident. He was married to his wife, Terri, for 37 years. In Mickey's obituary, it said that he went out doing what he loved best: being out on the open road.

The Bo Phillips Band will play at 8 p.m. on Friday night outside of Jersey's Sports Bar and Grill. The Bo Phillips Band is from Stillwater, Okla., and has a number of hits, including "Red Dirt Girl."

Annecharico said that the beer garden will be open, and there will be food specials as well as the full menu available. Half of the proceeds from the door will be donated to the Seven Valleys Chapter of Bikers Against Child Abuse.

For more information, contact Jersey's at (417) 847-0368.

Cassville PD joins in Labor Day DWI crackdown

Local police will be out in full force as part of the nationwide August/Labor Day Crackdown weekend Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over crackdown on substance-impaired driving. The crackdown will include high visibility enforcement throughout the Cassville area and will run from August 21 through September 7.

The effective nationwide substance-impaired driving crackdown will include high visibility enforcement, high profile events, and will be supported by national paid advertising, creating a comprehensive campaign to curb substance-impaired driving over the August/Labor Day weekend holiday.

The Cassville Police Department said its officers will be aggressively looking for substance-impaired drivers during the crackdown and will arrest anyone caught driving impaired by alcohol and/or drugs.

Although it is illegal in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico to drive impaired (having a blood alcohol concentration of .08 percent or higher), far too many people across the nation get behind the wheel after consuming too much alcohol and/or drugs. The latest statistics from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration underscore the serious nature of the nation's continuing impaired-driving epidemic.

"Every year, about one-third of all motor vehicle traffic deaths involve one or more substance-impaired drivers or motorcycle operators," said Dana Kammerlohr, Cassville Chief of Police. "197 fatal and 659 serious injury crashes in 2014 involved at least one substance-impaired driver. That equates to one substance-impaired driving fatality every 1 3/4 days and one substance-impaired driving serious injury every half day."

Chief Kammerlohr added, "The August/Labor Day weekend holiday is particularly dangerous. During the Labor Day weekend holiday in 2014, there were 11 people killed and 42 seriously injured in Missouri traffic crashes involving a substance-impaired driver from August 15 to September 1."

"Research has shown that high visibility enforcement like the Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over campaign reduces the substance-impaired driving fatalities by as much as 20 percent. By joining this nationwide effort, we will make Cassville's roadways safer for everyone throughout the holiday," said Chief Kammerlohr.

Sgt. Privett noted that being arrested for driving impaired brings a wide range of negative consequences into one's life. Substance-impaired drivers face jail time, loss of their driver licenses, and steep financial consequences such as higher insurance rates, attorney fees, court costs, lost time at work, and the potential loss of job. When family, friends and co-workers find out, violators also often face tremendous personal embarrassment.

"Substance-impaired driving is simply not worth the risk. So don't take the chance. Remember, we will be out in force and we will be watching, so Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over," said Sgt. Privett.

For more information, visit the "Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over" Campaign Headquarters at www.TrafficSafetyMarketing.gov or www.saveMOlives.com.

Loans available for nonprofits for flood damage

Low-interest federal disaster loans are now available to certain private nonprofit (PNP) organizations in Missouri following President Obama's federal disaster declaration for Public Assistance as a result of the severe storms, tornadoes, straight-line winds and flooding that occurred May 15 through July 27, 2015, announced Administrator Maria Contreras-Sweet of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA). PNPs that provide essential services of a governmental nature are eligible for assistance.

SBA disaster assistance is now available in Adair, Andrew, Atchison, Audrain, Barry, Bates, Benton, Buchanan, Caldwell, Chariton, Christian, Clark, Clay, Clinton, Cole, Crawford, Dade, Dallas, Daviess, DeKalb, Douglas, Gentry, Harrison, Henry, Hickory, Holt, Jefferson, Johnson, Knox, Laclede, Lafayette, Lewis, Lincoln, Linn, Livingston, Macon, Maries, Marion, McDonald, Miller, Moniteau, Monroe, Montgomery, Morgan, Osage, Ozark, Perry, Pettis, Pike, Platte, Polk, Putnam, Ralls, Ray, Sainte Genevieve, Saline, Schuyler, Scotland, Shannon, Shelby, Stone, Sullivan, Taney, Texas, Washington, Webster, Worth and Wright counties.

"PNP organizations should contact Missouri Office of Emergency Management at (573) 526-9100 to obtain information about applicant briefings," said Director Tanya N. Garfield of SBA's Disaster Field Operations Center-West. "At the briefings, PNP representatives will need to provide information about their organization," continued Garfield. FEMA will use that information to determine if the PNP provides an "essential governmental service" and is a "critical facility" as defined by law. If so, FEMA may provide the PNP with a Public Assistance grant for their eligible costs. If not, FEMA may refer the PNP to SBA for disaster loan assistance.

SBA may lend PNPs up to $2 million to repair or replace damaged or destroyed real estate, machinery and equipment, inventory, and other business assets. SBA can also lend additional funds to help with the cost of improvements to protect, prevent or minimize the same type of disaster damage from occurring in the future.

For certain private nonprofit organizations of any size, SBA offers Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDLs) to help with meeting working capital needs caused by the disaster. EIDLs may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable and other bills that cannot be paid because of the disaster's impact. EIDL assistance is available regardless of whether the nonprofit suffered any property damage.

The interest rate is 2.625 percent with terms up to 30 years. The filing deadline to return applications for property damage is October 6, 2015. The deadline to return economic injury applications is May 7, 2016.

Applicants may apply online using the Electronic Loan Application (ELA) via SBA's secure website at <https://disasterloan.sba.gov/ela>.

Disaster loan information and application forms are also available from SBA's Customer Service Center by calling (800) 659-2955 or emailing disastercustomerservice@sba.gov. Individuals who are deaf or hard-of-hearing may call (800) 877-8339. For more information about SBA's disaster assistance programs, visit <http://www.sba.gov/disaster>.

Barry County Extension Office offers Master Gardener classes

The University of Missouri Extension of Barry County is offering a Master Gardening course beginning in the end of September.

“The Master Gardening curriculum includes information on soils, plant growth, annuals and perennials, insect control, landscaping, home fruit production, plant propagation, plant disease, vegetable production and more,” said Reagan Bluel, Barry County Program Director.

Speakers have been scheduled from around the region to present this material locally at the Cassville Branch Library at 301 W. 17th St. Ten classes are scheduled to meet on Mondays and Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. In addition to learning more about the above listed content, students will also participate in 30 community volunteer hours.

An orientation session has been scheduled for September 28 at 10 a.m. at the Cassville Branch Library. “This orientation will serve as a helpful resource to provide you with a general overview of the Master Gardening program objectives,” said Bluel. Following orientation, the ten session program will begin September 30.

A minimum participation is required for this program to run, so please contact your local Extension office at (417) 847-3161 to register.

“I’m confident we’ll have a great time learning while participating in an engaging discussion about gardening content that you’ll all enjoy. I hope you’ll be able to join us on the 28th,” said Bluel.

Early this week, President Obama announced his plans to use the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to impose more government control and regulation over U.S. carbon emissions. In a 1,560-page EPA rule, Obama is requiring power plants to reduce emissions 32 percent below 2005 levels by 2030 while forcing each state to meet different emission targets by a certain date. Those emission cuts range from an 11% reduction in North Dakota to 72% in Washington. Missouri would be forced to reduce its carbon emissions from 67.3 million tons in 2020 to 55.4 million tons in 2030, a decrease of almost 18 percent.

There are two options (if you can call them options) for states to comply with the new regulations. Either states can voluntarily develop state plans that meet arbitrary EPA assumptions or standards or face an ultimatum - the federal government will impose a plan on you.

The first option is designed so that states will share in the blame when electricity rates soar, jobs are lost (even EPA analysts agree it will result in job losses), and the energy grid is put at risk. Any which way you slice it, electric rates will go up. NERA Economic Consulting estimates that the Clean Power Plan will cost $366 billion and bring double-digit electricity-rate increases to 43 states. On top of that, many regulators are warning that the plan could destabilize the national electric grid by forcing many power plants to close before new ones can be built. Those new power plants would have to be built with carbon capture and storage, technology that is not fully developed or cost-effective.

The fact is, stable energy policy is essential to our economy. Fuels such as coal, oil, and natural gas, provided 87 percent of America's energy needs in the past decade and have been the overwhelming supplier for over a century. Missouri relies on coal for nearly 83 percent of its electricity needs, according to the U.S. Energy Information Administration. A plan that requires us to change our source of power so drastically and so quickly will be devastating to our economy. The Heritage Foundation estimates that electricity prices will increase by an average of 17 percent between 2017 and 2031 if Obama and the EPA have their way. Nick Loris, an energy economist also with the Heritage Foundation, wrote that the "cumulative economic impact of higher energy prices will be hundreds of thousands of jobs lost and more than $2.5 trillion in lost economic growth."

Obama's new regulation comes just weeks after the U.S. Supreme Court flatly rejected the EPA's 2012 energy rule to reduce mercury and other emissions. In Michigan v. EPA, the court said the Obama Administration and the EPA failed its legal obligation to compare the cost of its mercury standards with the benefits. In other words, the EPA didn't care how much it would cost the American people, they were going to impose their regulations regardless. I don't always agree with the Supreme Court, especially not lately, but they got this one right.

The situation puts Missouri in a tough spot. Do we develop our own state plan and be complicit in the federal government raising our energy prices and killing Missouri jobs? I don't know about you but I am tired of this relationship between the states and the federal government where we have to ask for permission to do something the Constitution already gives us the authority to do or we are forced into doing something through threats of withheld funding or fines. If we go along with the "Clean Power Plan," the EPA or administration could change it at their whim and put all authority in the hands of bureaucrats in Washington, D.C. Our other option is a better one. The governors of Oklahoma, Mississippi, Wisconsin, Indiana, Texas and Louisiana have already refused to submit state plans of compliance with the "Clean Power Plan" and 13 states are challenging the plan in federal court as unconstitutional. Needless to say, the plan's prospects are far from certain. Missouri should join this lawsuit and refuse to go along with the plan. Doing otherwise is guaranteed to hurt our economy, put Missourians out of work, and raise our electric rates. That combination will do nothing but hurt Missouri.

As always, I welcome your ideas, questions and concerns about Missouri government. You may contact me at the State Capitol as follows: (573) 751-1480, david.sater@senate.mo.gov or by writing to Sen. David Sater, Missouri State Capitol, Room 419, Jefferson City, MO 65101.

Mercy athletic trainer to work with Cassville

Cassville football players are back on the field and warming up for the first game, but this year, their closest ally won't be watching from the stands. Play by play, Mercy athletic trainer Josh Bell will be right alongside them.

"I'm so excited to be the first dedicated athletic trainer in this district," said Bell, who now provides full-time sports medicine services to Cassville R-IV Schools through a partnership with Mercy. That includes injury prevention, medical evaluations and rehabilitation. "I'm evaluating athletes ahead of practice and I'll be on stand-by in case there are injuries during games."

"Josh offers us peace of mind that's been long overdue," said Lance Parnell, head football coach at Cassville R-IV Schools. "Football is a high-risk sport with 80 athletes involved, so it's going to be great to have someone qualified to get them evaluated and treated right away."

While football is Bell's primary focus, he'll be available to students and staff all year, offering help for cheerleading, wrestling, basketball, volleyball, soccer, softball, cross-country and more. He'll cover a wide range of issues, like heat-related illness, concussions and sprains – something long overdue in the region.

"For the last 10 to 12 years, we've had a strong pipeline of students traveling to Springfield from Cassville for sports medicine services," said Jim Raynor, Mercy Sports Medicine director. "We realized the district needed a more hands-on, direct health care provider. This is a testament to our sports medicine program and the quality of care we've been able to provide."

"I'm already feeling right at home," said Bell, a Lebanon native and Missouri State University alum. "I met a lot of the local athletes during summer camps over the last month, and we've already started talking about proper hydration and nutrition." But that's just skimming the surface.

"Let's say there's an athlete who is asthmatic or diabetic, or has a sickle cell trait. We'll be able to adapt our treatment to his or her needs," Raynor said. "Josh will be Mercy's point person who can get students to primary care or the emergency department, orthopedics or specialty care, then during the recovery process through rehab."

Bell, a U.S. military veteran, was deployed to Iraq before returning to Missouri. He and his wife, along with his 3-year-old son, will soon call the region home. "We're moving into our first place and starting from scratch. Being an athletic trainer is something I've been working toward for a very long time."

With Cassville High School's first game this Friday, he couldn't have gotten there quickly enough.

"This will be the first time in my 20 years of coaching that I won't have to be the one taping ankles before the game," Parnell laughed. "We're just so happy to have Josh."

On August 12, the weather could not have been any better for golf. Ten ladies showed up, and we really think it's time for a number of gals to find their way back from what we think is to long of vacations. Doubt they will agree.

I had the pleasure of playing with Janet Serbus. She was having a slow start on getting in the groove. Not sure if she needs a lesson on how to strap on a golf bag or if it was Sue Steel's driving and perhaps hitting a big bump. But the bag falls off and they keep going, not knowing it's gone. With Janet's great drive, she had a bad chip. After gently tossing her club and a few choice words, she had a beautiful chip-in. She just needed a little destressing. All of this on #4.

Game of the day was Fields and Greens. Taking 1st place was the team of Elaine Haberstroh, Myrna Bruning and Carol Hefley with a 38. Taking 2nd place was the team of Bonnie Shelton, Linda Cantrell and Kathy Wheat with a 41.

Closest to the pin on #2 was Sharon Glenn.

Chip-in on #4 goes to Janet Serbus and Chip-in on #6 goes to Kathy Wheat

Low Gross: Myrna Bruning 48, Carol Hefley 51, Kathy Wheat and Bonnie Shelton each a 52.

Low net: Sharon Glenn 31, Carol Hefley, Linda Cantrell and Kathy Wheat each 32. Myrna Bruning and Bonnie Shelton each 33.

We will continue to Tee-off at 8:30 a.m. each Wednesday through the month of August.

Cassville benefits from Jamboree experience

Lee Stubblefield

The high school football Jamboree at JFK Stadium in Springfield on Friday may have birthed more questions than answers for the Cassville coaching staff. The Wildcats had a shaky defensive start against Willard, then improved as they moved into action against Parkview and Bolivar. On offense, Cassville had some impressive performances, scoring once against Willard and twice against Parkview. Only the Bolivar Liberators kept the Wildcats out of the end zone.

But it was that opening defensive series against Willard that got everyone's attention.

The Tigers scored on just four plays against the Cassville defense, gashing the line for gains of 11, 17, and 4 yards before scoring on an 8-yard pass play.

The Wildcats settled down after that, and Garret Knight's big hit to end a Willard quarterback scramble brought cheers from the Wildcat Nation.

Cassville left the field with a 6-6 sister-kiss with Willard, thanks to a 23-yard scoring bomb from Leigh Cox to Allan Lambel.

Then, Parkview took advantage of the speed of their skill players to jump to a 6-0 lead over Cassville. A 37-yard wide receiver screen on the very first play of that scrimmage set up a 4th-and-inches dive play for the touchdown.

But the Wildcats shut down the Vikings from that point on, coming up with an interception, and then a hard quarterback sack on Parkview's final snap.

The Wildcats had their best offensive outing of the night against the Vikings. Cox flipped a quick pass to River Phelps for a 20-yard gain down the sideline to set up one score. Then Steven Hunter provided the highlight reel of the night with a 35-yard TD blast through the heart of the Parkview defense.

The Cassville defense looked confused when confronted with Bolivar's west-coast style offense. The Liberators flew down the field and scored easily in just four plays, impressing the crowd with their crisp and precise execution.

Bolivar used four different quarterbacks against Cassville in their 12 allotted plays.

The Wildcats failed to score against Bolivar. Cox floated a long pass into the end zone on a 3rd and 16 play from the 26, but the secondary swallowed the attempt for an interception.

"I was very, very happy with our offense," said Lance Parnell after the Jamboree. "We did a very nice job up front."

"Defensively, I'm frustrated with what was going on."

Parnell described the experience as "a measuring stick for us to see where we are at"

and a "good prep for us getting ready for Aurora." He ticked off the positives as he addressed the team huddle, but didn't sugarcoat the negatives.

"Film is not going to be fun to watch," he said bluntly. "We've got some spots we've got to reassess."

The Wildcats open the season for real on Friday night when they host Aurora in a Big 8 Conference game at Wildcat Stadium. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

Former Seligman mayor arrested again

Charlea Mills

Former Seligman mayor Jason Raucstadt is in trouble with the law again. This time, Raucstadt has been charged with burglary in the first degree, property damage in the second degree and three counts of endangering the welfare of a child.

According to the affidavit of probable cause, Washburn Chief of Police Doug Henry responded to an apartment on Pineville Road in Washburn on Tuesday, August 11. When he arrived, three children in the home said that Raucstadt had broken into the home, went into the kitchen, grabbed a knife and began threatening to kill their mother while waving the knife around.

While in the apartment, Raucstadt took a DVD player that belonged to the mother, as well as a guitar that belonged to him. Raucstadt also allegedly pried the bedroom door open with the knife, damaging the door and door jamb.

Raucstadt is currently on probation for DWI-alcohol and resisting arrest from 2014. He also has pending charges of non-support, two violations of order for protection, burglary in the first degree and domestic assault in the first degree.

Raucstadt is currently being held in the Barry County Jail in lieu of a $50,000 cash-only bond.

Raucstadt was employed with the City of Seligman as a maintenance worker from October 8, 2007, to November 17, 2010, until his employment was terminated and served as mayor from April 11, 2011, until he resigned on February 13, 2013.

Mercy provides free physicals to hundreds of student athletes

Hundreds of student athletes in Cassville and Aurora are now better prepared for the fall sports season.

On July 23, Mercy Hospital Aurora and the Missouri State University (MSU) Physician Assistant Program volunteered to provide sports physicals to 119 Aurora students. The free physicals were available for students from grades 3 to 12, including Mighty Mites, junior high and high school athletes.

Mercy's team effort with MSU was also a learning opportunity. Sharon Giboney, clinical assistant professor and clinical supervisor from MSU, brought along dozens of physician assistant students to perform the physicals for hands-on experience.

Mercy emergency room physician Dr. Jeffery Diehl, along with Polly Diehl, nurse practitioner, and Amanda Crim, PA, offered expertise to finalize all physicals.

This was the second year Mercy and Missouri State University have teamed up to serve the community.

On July 25, Mercy Hospital Cassville held its own free event for local students. Eighty-one athletes participating in Mighty Mites football and cheerleading were offered a complimentary physical provided exclusively by Mercy.

ER physician Dr. Joe Himes, Dr. Jeffrey Diehl, ER medical director, as well as Maria Bailey, PA, volunteered their time for the successful event.

"Before they step out on the field or onto the court, it's crucial for student athletes to know they're prepared to perform," said Dr. Diehl. "That's why it's so important for us to offer these services to the community."

Old Church Gallery showcases rich art history

Charlea Mills

Tucked away off the main drag in Shell Knob is a hidden treasure of a small 108 year-old building. The small church sits off the road and is filled with a unique menagerie of art, jewelry, minerals and more.

The Old Church Gallery opened its doors 13 years ago when owners Tom and Nancy Rochovansky purchased the church from its congregation. Nancy said, "We always admired this old church, and we heard they were selling it. So, we talked to the preacher before anyone else knew and bought it." The church's congregation had dwindled, and the Rochovanskys saw the building as a prime place to open their own shop.

For years, they spent time acquiring art, minerals and rocks, and antiques. They would travel to various shows across the country selling their wares. When they retired to the Shell Knob area in 1999, having owned property there for ten years, they decided to try a retail shop.

Much of the collection housed in small church came from Tom's passions over the years, such as jewelry making, rock and fossil collection and antiquing. Nancy said, "Tom collected rocks and fossils since he was a kid. Then, he got into antiques because his mom and grandma were both into antiques."

The various wares were priced, art was hung on the walls, and today, they still strive to make sure there is something for everyone in every price range.

Fine art adorns the walls and a few of the cases, but smaller items that range from fossils and rocks to knickknacks and historical pieces of interest are all over. Each counter and case offers a new and unique experience for those pursuing the shelves.

Perhaps one of the most interesting stories behind the Old Church Gallery is how Tom and Nancy came into possession of some of the items for sale inside the doors. Tom's father worked for sculptor James Earle Fraser, the artist most well-known for the buffalo nickel and sculpture "End of the Trail." His father worked for Fraser for years as a studio assistant and eventually began enlargement work. Most of Fraser's and his wife's work was sent to the Cowboy Hall of Fame and Syracuse University. What was left was to be thrown out. Nancy said that Tom's mother and father rescued the other pieces from an untimely death, noting that they weren't ones to let something go to waste.

Many of Fraser's pieces available at the store are rough sketches of eventual larger and more detailed pieces. Sculptors carve out sketches for their pieces just as painters, and those molds and casts in plaster and bronze adorn shelves in the gallery with varying price tags.

Through Tom's father's work with Fraser, he also came to know another artist featured in the Old Church Gallery. Blendon Campbell, a painter, had a studio space close to Fraser in New York. When Campbell moved from New York to California, Tom's father helped him pack his art. The pieces that Campbell chose not to take he gifted to him, and eventually, the pieces were passed down to Tom. Now those paintings hang on the walls throughout the shop, ready to join someone's personal collection.

SOUTHWEST SCHOOL BOARD MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

As part of continued efforts in keeping patrons informed, the Southwest R-V School administration provides monthly information concerning Board Meetings.

A recap of the August 13 Tax Rate Hearing and regular meeting are as follows:

The Board convened for the Tax Rate Hearing at 6:33 p.m.

Superintendent Walker presented information pertaining to the district's assessed valuation, which totaled $36,017,358. This figure reflects a growth from last year's assessment of approximately 4 percent. The Board approved maintaining for the 2015-2016 school year, the current tax rates of $2.75 and $.85 for the district's incidental and debt service funds, respectively.

Following the hearing, the regular meeting was called to order at 6:50 p.m.

The Board approved the consent items, including the following additions to the district substitute teachers list: Kyle Brewen, Cody Hobbs, Deborah Lay and Leah Mitchell.

There were no old business items for this meeting.

Under new business, the Board approved several policy revisions as proposed by the Missouri School Board Association, as well as the district's IDEA Assurance Statement, the Special Education Compliance Plan and the Proportionate Share Plan.

Under administrative and program evaluations, building administrators reported that with four days into the new school year, things were going very well. Initial enrollment figures indicate a slight increase compared to this time last year. However, it was acknowledged that it is still very early and numbers may fluctuate through Labor Day.

Also shared was information pertaining to MAP/EOC scores from last spring. After an update on the Kuno devices at the middle school, the Board approved contracting with AirWatch as the management system for the tablets, contingent on its level of performance through its current trial period.

The Board was in executive session for approximately an hour and adjourned at 8:26 p.m.

The next Regular Meeting will be on September 17 in the high school library, at 7 p.m.

GALLERY from 1B

Nancy said that the inspiration for the store came from a variety of experiences over their lives. She said, "We didn't want to just open a rock store. We wanted something different." Taking inspiration from their experiences as naturalists and biologists by trade in their earlier days in Connecticut, a special space in the Old Church Gallery is reserved just for children.

Nancy said, "We like the idea of nature and science kids for kids. It gets them thinking." In the children's area, there is a table set up for them to sit and draw, but there are also various toys, sets and rocks and minerals for kids to use to explore the world around them. Nancy continued, "We want them to have an appreciation for nature, because they will be the ones making the decisions in the future."

From top to bottom, the Old Church Gallery is filled with art, from fine art to the fossils and minerals on the shelves. Nancy said, "All rocks and minerals are beautiful. Whether they're crystals or just smooth river rock, they're natural sculptures."

The Old Church Gallery is located at 22251 Farm Road 1240 off of Highway 39 in Shell Knob. Their hours currently are Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. After Labor Day, their hours change to Tuesday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.
