FEMA meeting sets wheels in motion for flood repairs

Charlea Mills

After the President made a formal disaster declaration for Barry County after severe flooding in July, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) held a meeting with city and county representatives to gather contact names and set meetings to begin dispersing funds for repair efforts.

Steve Walensky, Public Works director for the City of Cassville, attended the meeting in Nixa with city clerk Jennifer Evans on Tuesday, August 25. The three-hour meeting was primarily informative to provide resources on how to apply for grant funding needed for repairs and what documentation. It also served to gather initial contacts for meetings to begin with various cities and government entities that need funds to help recovery efforts.

Walensky said, “They’re really trying to come up with better ways to handle things after big disasters and change their policies. I think it was reassuring to see that the government is learning better ways to provide aid.” Part of that is a pilot program that might help the city take preventative measures to prevent damage from future floods.

While grant funding through FEMA is reserved for repair to damage, the pilot program might allow Cassville to get approval to use part of the funds to dig retention ponds that were suggested by a 2012 hydrology study. Walensky said, “We want to see if FEMA or SEMA could help fund it if we put in those two retention ponds. We have a shovel-ready storm water project for Cassville, and we’re hoping it could be part of their pilot program.”

Retention ponds could alleviate a significant portion

Purdy Schools go on lockdown after threat

Charlea Mills

Purdy R-II Schools were put on lock down on Tuesday morning after an alleged threat intercepted by the Purdy Police Department.

Purdy R-II Schools posted the following on their Facebook page on Tuesday just before noon: “In response to advice from local law enforcement regarding a situation within the city limits, the Purdy R-2 Schools campus issued a modified Lock-Down order at 10:15 a.m. this morning. This precautionary lock-down involved securing all exterior doors, and recess, physical education classes and all other outdoor activities were moved inside. Normal daily routines continued within the buildings. The lock-down was lifted at 11:15 a.m. It is the top priority of the Purdy R-2 School District to provide a secure learning environment for all students and staff members.”

According to Purdy Police Chief Jackie Lowe, the lock down request was made after threats were made regarding a student at the school. He said, “It was a precautionary measure. We had received a call that there were some threats that a subject was en route to the school with a firearm. It was a child custody dispute.”

The Barry County Sheriff’s Department investigated the incident. According to Sheriff Mick Epperly, an employee at the judicial center overheard the man say that he should go get a gun and get his child from the school. Epperly said that he made contact with the man via a cell phone.

Epperly said, “I was able to get a cell phone number for him and when I called him, he said he was on his way to Springfield to get a lawyer for custody. I asked him to stay where he was until I could get a State Trooper to verify where he was.” He said that the man’s story checked out, that he did not have a weapon on him, and there was never any danger to students in the district.

He said, “As a precautionary measure, everyone did what they were supposed to do. All of the agencies worked together well and it worked out. In this case, it’s better to be safe than sorry.”

Epperly also said that the man was cooperative to the investigation and that no charges were filed. He stated, “I contacted the Prosecuting Attorney to see if charges would be filed. If she would have pressed charges, we would have had him extradited back down here, but that wasn’t the case.” The man was not taken into custody once his story was corroborated.

Community steps up to support five year-old’s cancer battle

Charlea Mills

A matter of a few weeks and what seemed like a minor childhood illness altered an Exeter family’s lives forever, but the community has stepped up provide support like they never could have imagined.

Blazi Lowe, a five year old girl from Exeter, was a normal girl. She started kindergarten this year and was happy and healthy until about five weeks ago. Blazi’s grandmother, Melissa Whisenhunt, said that she had what Whisenhunt and her daughter thought was allergies or a stomach bug. Whisenhunt said, “She was throwing up first in the mornings, and we thought it was just a little thing. Then, it progressively got worse. We ended up in the E.R. because she couldn’t keep anything down, and she acted so lethargic.”

After multiple doctor’s appointments, blood tests and more, her doctors prescribed her antibiotics and anti-nausea medications. However, Blazi’s illness that would seem to get better for a few days and then get worse took a dramatic turn.

Whisenhunt said, “On Friday (August 21), the baby sitter called and said that Blazi was crying with a headache and throwing up again. When I called the clinic, they said to take her to Springfield immediately.” Once there, blood tests and a CAT scan were done and the family received devastating news: Blazi had a brain tumor.

Whisenhunt said, “Not even 20 minutes after the CAT scan, a nurse came in to stay with Blazi and a chaplain took us to another room. They said they knew why Blazi was so sick. She had a brain tumor. From then, its like you’re underwater. You can’t hear anything the doctor is saying. You’re just in shock.”

By Sunday, Blazi was in surgery with a surgeon flown in from St. Jude’s in Memphis. The tumor, which was growing out

Three arrested after late night assault

AJ Hunter

Andy Hunter

Matthew Moore

Charlea Mills

Three local men were arrested after an alleged late-night assault near the Rowdy Beaver on Sunday. A Cassville man and his girlfriend were allegedly beaten by the men and a woman with them just after midnight.

According to affidavits of probable cause, Cassville Police Officer Garry Thornton responded to a call around 12:47 a.m. on Sunday for a fight. Allegedly, the victim and his girlfriend were sitting on their front porch when the three men, AJ Hunter, 30, of Purdy, Andy Hunter, 33, of Butterfield, and Matthew Moore, 30, of Cassville, pulled up in an SUV and attacked the victim without any cause. A woman, Georgette Wall, allegedly prevented the victim’s girlfriend from helping him.

When Thornton was on the scene, the vehicle drove toward Main Street where Barry County deputies pulled them over. The victim was transported to Mercy Hospital in Cassville for his injuries. The victim was treated for a broken nose as well as swelling to his face, according to the probable cause.

All three men were charged with assault in the second degree, a class C felony. AJ Hunter is being held in the Barry County jail in lieu of a $75,000 cash-only bond. Andy Hunter and Moore are being held on $15,000 cash-only bonds.

Seen Around Town: Julie Dillow

Shania Stumpff

To say Julie Dillow is a teacher that wears many hats is an understatement. Dillow is the Special Services and Life Skills teacher at Cassville High School, which means a lot of responsibility and no two days ever being the same.

Dillow said, "There is no average day in my classroom. Every day is unique and brings new successes and new challenges. We spend a lot of time in small group activities and encourage hands-on learning. Our days are spent working on functional academic skills including reading, writing, and mathematics.

"We also have a kitchen where students can learn how to cook and laundry facilities where students learn how to complete laundry. The classes I teach are Life Skills Communication Arts, Math, Science, Social Studies, Daily Living Skills and Vocational Skills. Each class is based on the needs of the individual student and are adjusted as needed."

While Dillow has many responsibilities, she couldn't do it alone. She has aids that help out with her many duties.

"I have some of the best students in the school. I am currently on maternity leave and miss all of my students very much. In addition to some of the best students, there are amazing Instructional Assistants in my room. There is no way we could be successful in our classroom without their help and guidance. Together, we are a great team," added Dillow.

Every other year, Dillow's classroom hosts a Thanksgiving lunch. They plan, prepare and serve their guests. It is something they all look forward to and one of Dillow's favorite parts of her job.

The most challenging part of Dillow's job is time management. "There are not enough hours in the day to get everything done," she said.

To a younger person coming into this profession, Dillow's advice would be, "Keep your sense of humor, it is what will get you through the day. You have to stay organized, be flexible, and be willing to ask for help when you need it. You are going to make mistakes but learn from them. Just know that they will only make you a better teacher and better person," advised Dillow.

After graduating from Illinois State University with a Bachelor of Science in Education and Masters of Education in Curriculum and Instruction from William Woods University, Dillow moved to Missouri in 2001.

Dillow has been married to her husband Clint for five years. "We are blessed with a newborn daughter, McKenna, who was born in July and has been an amazing addition to our little family. We also have two dogs and three cats," said Dillow.

Dillow added that, "The biggest influence in my life has been my parents, and I am so thankful to have them in my life. When the going gets tough, I know they are there for me and support me even if they do not agree with my decisions. They have shown me the importance of hard work and perseverance.

"Life is not always easy, but together, as a family, you can overcome the trials and tribulations thrown at you. Both of my parents have a strong faith in God and have made certain to pass this gift on to myself and all my brothers and sisters. I am so thankful to have them in my life."

Some of Dillow's favorite things to do is read, play board games, watch television and spend time with her friends, but what she enjoys most is spending time with her husband and daughter, McKenna.

Exeter, Wheaton Fire to Fill the Boot for MDA

Firefighters in the Ozarks will be taking their boots to the streets between now and Labor Day continuing their support in the fight against muscular dystrophy and ALS. Fill the Boot began in 1954 in Boston and has grown into the greatest fundrasier in MDA history. In 2015, 78 departments are participating, including local departments in Wheaton and Exeter.

Wheaton Firefighters will be collecting at area intersections on the Labor Day weekend. Fire Chief Bob Lombard is hoping to exceed last year's total of $1,288. "Wheaton Firefighters have quite a tradition. The training room has a wall full of awards dating back to the 80's. They work hard and have a supportive community," said Jerry Bear, executive director of MDA.

Exeter Firefighters will be collecting at area parking lots. Fire Chief Jim Mathew is hoping to exceed last year's total of $1,360. "Exeter Firefighters do a remarkable job. They must do it the hard way because they don't have an intersection to collect. Local businesses cooperate by letting them ask for donations on their parking lots. Exeter Firefighters work hard and have a supportive community, as well," said Bear.

Fill the Boot will help maintain the Association's hospital-affiliated clinic at Mercy Hospital in Springfield which offers diagnostic and follow-up care for people with neuromuscular disorders. MDA clinic services include physical, occupational, and respiratory therapy evaluations; assistance for repair of leg braces and wheelchairs and flu vaccinations. MDA offers support camp and treatments and cures are sought through an aggressive world-wide research program. All MDA services are free of charge.

"Fill the Boot combines one of the most respected organizations in the country with the most generous people in the world and continues to amaze us every year with the results, continued generous people in the world," continued Bear, "The Firefighters work hard to organize Fill the Boot to make it successful and safe." Over one million people in the United States are affected by the 43 neuromuscular diseases that MDA covers. That includes ALS where MDA has invested $325 million in research and services since 1954.

Fill the Boot has easily recognizable posters and banners and everyone donating will receive a sticker to put on the dashboard of their car. The sticker also contains information on fire safety. The Firefighters were recently honored before a St. Louis and Springfield Cardinals game for their long-time efforts for MDA.

Injunction prevents expansion of Clean Water Act

Charlea Mills

Much to the relief of Missouri farmers, a federal judge has blocked the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) Clean Water Rule from going into effect in the state.

A temporary injunction of the rule was placed by North Carolina U.S. District Judge Ralph Erickson which would prevent an expansion of the Clean Water Act to smaller streams and tributaries. Missouri was one of 13 states that filed suit against the act. Attorney General Chris Koster filed that lawsuit in June.

Farmers in Missouri were primarily concerned that federal jurisdiction over smaller streams could impact their farming practices, particularly cattle grazing.

Only states that had sued over the new rule will be protected by the injunction, leaving 37 states without protection for farmers. Proponents of the act purport that farmland would be largely unaffected by the expansion of the Clean Water Act.

Obituaries

RANDY HILBURN

Randy Hilburn, 64, of Cassville, passed away on Thursday, August 27, 2015, in his home. Mr. Hilburn, son of James E. and Ova (Coatney) Hilburn was born on July 24, 1951, in Cassville and was a lifelong resident of the area. He worked in many different occupations such as construction, serving as past deputy sheriff in Barry County. Mr. Hilburn was best known as being a professional auto salesman. During his time as an auto salesman, he enjoyed representing Dodge vehicles for rodeos throughout the midwest. He also received a plaque and diamond ring from Ford Motor Company for his outstanding sales achievements and dedication to customer service, as well as a plaque from Jimmy Michel Motors for top salesman in 1985 for the Summer Truck Sales. Randy loved the country western life, enjoying the rodeos, music and time spent with his family.

Survivors include one son, Greg Hilburn and his wife, Erica, of Exeter; one daughter, Angie Edie and her husband, Robert, of Cassville; three grandchildren, Payton Horner, Corey Hilburn, and Shea Hilburn; two brothers, Mike Hilburn, of Exeter, and Bruce Hilburn, of Seligman; a special friend, Tina Corbett; and close friend, Rusty Smith.

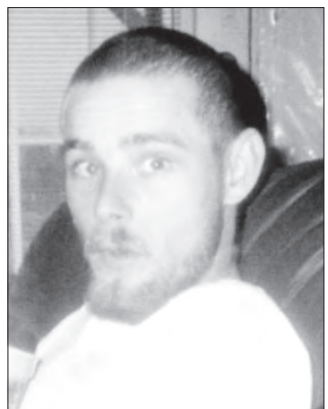

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by two brothers, Kevin Hilburn and Steve Hilburn.

Memorials may be made to the family and entrusted to the White Funeral Home and Crematory, P.O. Box 890, Cassville, MO 65625.

Graveside services will be held at 2:00 p.m. on Sunday, August 30, 2015, at the Russell Cemetery, Butterfield, with words of comfort spoken by Frank Smith. The family will receive friends on Saturday, August 29th from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. at the funeral home.

Local family raising funds to end Alzheimer's

Charlea Mills

In the United States, one in nine people over the age of 65 have Alzheimer's disease. Worldwide, it affects almost 44 million people. One Barry County family is doing their part to help find a cure for a devastating disease that affects so many.

Wayne Gage was diagnosed with Alzheimer's in spring 2014, and his family has stepped up to raise funds for the Alzheimer's Association in his honor. Katrina Williamson, Gage's granddaughter, and 11 other family members are participating in the Springfield Walk to End Alzheimer's in Springfield. To raise money for their team's entry into the event, they are putting on a local event for Wayne's Walking Warriors to get the community involved and raise awareness.

Alzheimer's is a disease that is becoming more and more prevalent, but people regularly mistake the symptoms for typical aging. Alzheimer's is a form of dementia that causes problems with memory, thinking and behavior. It is degenerative and there is no known cure. However, there are medications and treatments that can slow the progression of the degenerative disease. Early detection and intervention are key to slowing the progression. New research is being done to look for alternative treatments and a cure for it.

The hope for a cure is what is driving Gage's family to participate in walking events and raise money for the Alzheimer's Association. Last year, Gage's family did the Walk to End Alzheimer's in Branson, starting a family tradition to raise money for a good cause and also show support for Wayne.

Williamson said, "They want you to donate money for the event, so this is what we decided to do to raise money for our team."

On Saturday, September 12, the family will have a Wayne's Walking Warriors fundraiser at the Family Life Center in Cassville from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. That day there will be a variety of craft vendors, BBQ Station will be serving food, music performances, and there will be a raffle for an item from each vendor participating.

Williamson said they hope to make the event an annual occurrence and want to add a 5K in the future to get people active. She said, "This is a common thing, and we need to be donating to the Alzheimer's Association to find a cure. Dementia and Alzheimer's are ongoing problems and its affecting people younger and younger." Williamson added that there will be an informational booth at the event so that attendees can learn more about the disease and how it impacts families.

When talking about her grandfather, Williamson said, "He has a great attitude and loves his family and his church. And he has an awesome sense of humor. This is all because of him, and because we all love him and want to honor him in any way we can. We want to find a cure and bring awareness to the community."

On Saturday, there will be almost 30 vendors, including representatives from Pampered Chef, Jam-berry, Mary Kay, Miche and more. Four bands are scheduled to play from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. The schedule is:

- 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. - Final Destination

- 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. - The Difference
- 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. - 37 Southbound
- 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. - East Fork.

Wayne Gage is married to Betty and has two children, Shirley Burdette and Bill Gates, as well as four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Wayne's Walking Warriors will be participating in the Walk to End Alzheimer's in Springfield on September 19, the weekend after their craft show fundraiser. For more information or to make a donation, contact Williamson at (417) 342-2897.

Cassville Cancer Expo slated for Sept. 11 at Mercy

Moments after a cancer diagnosis, the path forward may seem impossible. From unanswered questions to the uncertainty of where to turn, wouldn't it be helpful if many of those resources were in the same place at the same time?

On Friday, Sept. 11, Mercy Hospital Cassville will host the inaugural Community Cancer Expo from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. With help from the Southwest Missouri Cancer Support Group, Mercy will have oncology, hospice and dietary experts on hand, as well as experts representing many of the region's top cancer specialties and services:

Roark Family Health
Access Clinics
Cassville Rehab and Healthcare
Roaring River Rehab
OACAC
Whitley's Pharmacy
Cassville Senior Center.

"The treatment cycle for cancer isn't easy," said Keith Daniels, vice president of the Southwest Missouri Cancer Support Group and organizer of the Sept. 11 event. "You may have to see a physician, an oncologist, a surgeon and sometimes a radiation clinician and chemotherapy specialist. We want to give the community an opportunity to see, up close, whom they can turn to when they need help the most."

Area organizations plan to offer educational material, giveaways and contact information for patients seeking anything from screenings, treatment or rehabilitation. There will also be a raffle for a quilt donated by the Ozark Country Quilters Club, with proceeds to benefit cancer outreach, education and support in the local community.

"You don't need to bring anything, except maybe a list of questions," Daniels added. "We also hope to educate patients about our regular cancer support meetings, which are being planned for this fall." To learn more, Daniels can be reached at (417) 342-3704.

The free event on Sept. 11 will be held in the parking lot of Mercy Hospital Cassville, located at 94 Main Street. Door prizes and lunch will be provided. Donations are accepted but not required. For more information about the Community Cancer Expo, call Vicki Punch at (417) 847-5225.

BLAZI from FRONT

of her brain stem, was removed and the first phase was over. However, the battle is really just beginning.

Whisenhunt said, “We finally had a name for it: medulloblastoma. What we don’t know is what we’re doing until we get back a full pathology report from St. Jude’s. All we know is that we’ll be doing treatment and rehab in Memphis.”

Whisenhunt added, “Everything was done right by her doctors. Childhood cancers often mock symptoms of regular illnesses. There was just no way to know.”

Treatment for Blazi will probably include either chemotherapy or radiation. Right now, Whisenhunt said they are focused on her four different therapies to combat the brain damage from the surgery. She said, “She gets frustrated, but she is really trying. A lot of her capabilities will come back after four or five weeks, but she is still basically paralyzed on her left side. She is learning everything all over again, like walking, talking, motor skills.”

She continued, “Kayla [Blazi’s mother] has told people the surgery is nothing compared to watching her struggle. It’s the hardest part. We knew Blazi before the surgery, and she still knows everything, but she just can’t make it come out.”

“I’ve seen strength out of my daughter that I couldn’t even imagine. For being a single mother, she has been dealing with all of this in an amazing way.”

In response to Blazi’s recent diagnosis and surgery, the entire community is stepping up to help the family. Whisenhunt said, “We are just so overwhelmed by all of the support with prayer and everyone that follows Blazi’s page on Facebook. For the community to come together with the way the world is, it restores your faith in humanity.”

Right now, “Blazi’s Fight” has over 1,300 likes on Facebook. Exeter Schools started a change drive in their classrooms for Blazi, and this year’s Pumpkin Run 5K at the Exeter Corn Maze will be donating the proceeds to help Blazi and her family, as well. With no idea about what treatment Blazi will need or a time line, the community is offering up support for her family.

Whisenhunt said, “We think we will be going to Memphis this week, but we don’t know what treatment will be. We do know that once we get this behind us, she still has to go to St. Jude’s every three months for five years to make sure she is okay.”

She continued, “This type of tumor, even if a single cell drops, the cell will grow into a new tumor. There is no way of knowing how or why this happens. It could be slow or aggressive, but we won’t know until treatment starts. They told us the cancer gets angry and fights back.”

She said, “[People from the community] might not even know us or like us, but they’re stepping up for this little girl. If it was someone else’s kid, we would be right there. We truly appreciate each and every person who is praying, thinking of us and messaging us. It’s one less worry to know that so many people are supporting us.”

For updates, follow Blazi’s page on Facebook called Blazi’s Fight.

Central Crossing Senior Center meal count up

The lunch-time meal count is way up at Central Crossing Senior Center in Shell Knob. They have prepared in the neighborhood of 2,000 more meals year-to-date than the last year-to-date meal count. This doesn’t happen by accident. Thanks to trained, gifted and dedicated staff and volunteers, the Center is known for its low cost, yet delicious, home-style hot lunches, varied salad bar and deserts. The Central Crossing Center is also the proud recipient of several “Silver Spoon Awards” for cleanliness and quality.

Are you homebound or do you know of a neighbor or loved one who is home bound? Did you know Central Crossing Senior Center can deliver meals to your door? As one of the many services they offer to our area seniors, they can and do provide meals to shut-in persons. If you or a loved one has trouble getting out of the house, know that Central Crossing Center stands ready to deliver meals to your door. These meals are delicious, varied and nutritious. They deliver meals to the entire Shell Knob community, as well as persons in Golden and even Eagle Rock. Call the Center Administrator Sara at (417) 858-6952 below to learn more.

As a volunteer organization, they always are looking for more volunteers. If you are available to volunteer just an hour or two on a weekly basis or even just intermittently, contact the senior center. They have numerous opportunities for lunch drivers, greeters, kitchen assistants and other areas. Just call the Central Crossing Senior Center and speak with Rita or Sara, at (417) 858-6952 to find out more.

Grissoms selected as State Fair Farm Family

FEMA from FRONT

Joe and Nancy Grissom family of Purdy were among the 110 families honored during the Missouri State Fair's Farm Family Day on August 17.

The Grissoms were selected as the Barry County Missouri State Fair Farm Family by the Barry County Extension Council and local Farm Bureau. The family includes Joe and Nancy Grissom and Morgan Grissom.

Each year, the fair sets aside a day to recognize farm families from across the state who are active in their community, involved in agriculture, and participate in local outreach and extension programs such as 4-H and FFA.

of the flooding during heavy rain. Walensky continued, "It's clear to me that there are parts of the government that they're trying to make new pilot program for what they learned from previous disasters like Hurricane Sandy and the Joplin tornado." The pilot programs are geared toward preventative work that could save FEMA from further damage funding in future emergency incidents.

The next step in the process will be for the city to meet with a FEMA team to begin planning projects for grant funding. Walensky said that he was not given an idea as to when that would happen but Cassville has submitted their application and is still collecting bids and estimates on flood damages.

Primary projects that Walensky wants to address first are the 7th Street bridge, the Greenway Trail bridge by the Aquatic Center and the fencing around the parks. While a total damage estimate is not complete, the 7th Street Bridge is expected to cost around $120,000 to replace, and the damage to fencing was $20,000.

Individual projects that cost less than $121,600 are considered small projects and qualify for up-front FEMA funding. Anything over that would only be reimbursed once work is complete. Waensky said, "We want to avoid having to pay for the 7th Street bridge up front because it potentially would mean we have to wait until next year to be reimbursed."

Once FEMA sets up a meeting, the city will have 30 days to complete a request for grant funding. Walensky said, "I have all of our paperwork ready, so we will get this done as quickly as possible."

Barry County Years Past

40 years ago

Renee LeMon, of Cassville, and Joe Welch, of Exeter, performed at the Missouri State Fair as members of the Salute to American Singers. They played three shows daily on the stage of the Show-Me Arena and the International Theater.

A record of 530 students was reported for the opening day of the 1975-76 school year at the Purdy R-II Schools.

You could get T-Bone steak for $1.98 a pound, 4 16oz. loaves of white bread for $1, a half gallon of ice cream for .79 cents, and one pound of sliced slab bacon for $1.89.

The Barry County 4-H Rough Riders planned an overnight trail ride to leave the Cassville Sale Barn on a Saturday and return on a Sunday. The group rode from Cassville down to the old Hailey School for dinner, then to the former Bunk Blankenship property on Flat Creek. The leaders of the group were Max Stumpf and Calvin Holman.

30 years ago

Dr. Leland C. May, a native of Purdy and a professor of English at Northwest Missouri State University - Maryville, started a new venture teaching English literature at the University of International Business and Economics in Beijing/Peking, China.

Kristen Kern, a senior at Purdy, completed a 10 day leadership training session, August 11-21, at Future Homemakers of America's National Headquarters in Virginia.

Three extracurricular teams at Cassville High School were commended by the Missouri High School Activities Association for achieving strong academic averages while participating in school activities. The groups were the speech and debate team, the girls basketball team, and the girls volleyball team.

20 years ago

The First State Bank, located at 98 South Main, Cassville, held its grand opening with a lunch to celebrate the completion of the building.

Holly Gureski, of Shell Knob, was selected as a finalist in the 1995 pre-Teen Missouri Scholarship and Recognition Program that was held at the Capitol Plaza Hotel in Jefferson City.

Southwest School president Windle Hall, Jr. presented the "Friend of Education" award to Jim Chadd for his volunteer contributions to further educational programs and school activities of the Southwest district.

10 years ago

Barry Electric Manager reported that crews from Cassville were dispatched to Mississippi to help in the restoration of power to the area where Hurricane Katrina hit on Sunday, August 28, 2005.

The Hilltop Family Restaurant, located at Hwy. 112-76-86, was lost in a blazing fire on Tuesday, September 6.

The Hwy. 37 project that began in the spring of 2005 was estimated for a cost of $7.7 million dollars until they received at reduction of $2.8 million. The completion date was set for December 1, 2005.

Cassville falls to Mountain Grove, 15-6

Lee Stubblefield

The Cassville Wildcats dropped a bruising defensive struggle at Mountain Grove on Friday night. The Panthers scored on the game's first possession, and added a late touchdown and two-point conversion to claim the 15-6 victory. River Phelps tightroped the sideline for a 45-yard touchdown run late in the third quarter for Cassville's lone score.

While Cassville was pushed to the limit in the 21-20 season opening win over Aurora, Mountain Grove cruised to an impressive 51-0 romp over Logan-Rogersville. The highly-regarded Panthers were eager for a chance to even the series record against the Wildcats. Cassville claimed wins of 40-7 in 2010 and 35-14 in 2011, while Mountain Grove won last year's meeting, 30-19.

That 30-19 game was a black eye for the Wildcats, both figuratively and literally. The Panthers dominated that game physically, and served up a recipe on film of how to handle Cassville. Lance Parnell was determined that his team would not be man-handled in that manner or to that extent again.

But Mountain Grove tested Cassville's resolve immediately on Friday, taking the opening kickoff and scoring in just three plays. Sophomore quarterback Carter Otwell broke into the secondary and raced into the end zone from 63 yards out barely a minute into the game. Blaine Halford's PAT gave the Panthers an early 7-0 lead.

Then the Wildcats misplayed the kickoff and were fortunate to recover inside their own 10-yard line. Three plays later, River Phelps drove a rugby-style punt into a vacant secondary, and the ball rolled to the Mountain Grove 38-yard line for a 45-yard swing in field position.

Mountain Grove drove to the Cassville 25-yard line, but surrendered on downs when running back Trystan Short was three yards short on a 4th-and-5 play.

The rest of the first half had that same flavor. Cassville could not move the ball against Mountain Grove's swarming defense, and the Cassville defense came up with stops in critical situations to stop promising drives by the Panthers.

Deep in his own territory, River Phelps had a punt blocked on Cassville's first possession of the second quarter. But Phelps never quit on the play. He ran down the Panther defender, stripped the ball and recovered at the Cassville 5-yard line.

Mountain Grove threatened again just before half-time, recovering a fumbled handoff to set up 1st-and-goal with three minutes to play. But on 4th-and-goal at the 5-yard line, Cassville's Dylan Klewer dumped Shay Gilbert in the backfield on a counter play to end the threat.

Cassville's offense finally came alive in the second half. Offensive coordinator Clay Weldy had his team switch to a "sugar huddle" to speed the pace of the game and to stymie Mountain Grove's defensive adjustments.

With 5:24 left in the third quarter, the Panthers punted and the Wildcats took over at their own 16-yard line. For Cassville fans, it was the drive worth the drive.

The Wildcats pounded for three first downs, with Leigh Cox, Kyle Ruark and Phelps fighting for every yard. On 3rd-and-2 at midfield, the offensive line surged forward to give Phelps room for first-down yardage.

Southwest FCA to hold Fly High Memorial 5K

The Southwest High FCA is hosting a 5K and 1K run/walk on Saturday, October 24 in Seligman. Medals will be awarded to the top male and female of each of the following age groups: 12U, 13-18, 19-29-30-39, 40-49, and 50 and over.

Each 5K participant will receive a shirt and a goody bag. Any child who participates in the 1K can wear a costume for a chance to win prizes.

The Fly High 5K will raise money for the Jessica Ryan Morgan Memorial Scholarship. Last year, Jessica Morgan's family was able to provide five students with $1000 scholarships. The goal this year is to provide even more scholarships. SWH FCA is accepting donations of money, door prizes, bottled water, granola bars and items for goody bags.

Online registration is available at <https://runsignup.com/Race/MO/Seligman/FlyHigh5K>.

Registration forms are also available at the Cassville YMCA, Seligman Freedom Bank, Washburn People's Community Bank and Johnson's Chiropractic Sport's and Wellness Clinic on Main Street in Cassville.

Please contact Linda Morgan at lmorgan@swr5.net or at (417)-826-5413 with any questions.

the Mountain Grove 45-yard line. Phelps takes the hand-off and sweeps around right end...he turns the corner at the sideline...HE TURNS IT ON! HE IS GONE! TOUCH-DOWN CASSVILLE!"

Phelps' tightrope act on the sideline put the Wildcats on the scoreboard. A bad exchange between long snapper and holder ruined the PAT, but Cassville was on the board, trailing 7-6.

The euphoria would not last.

Short returned the ensuing kickoff all the way to the Cassville 32-yard line, and on the first play of the fourth quarter, he encored with a 29-yard scoring burst. The Panthers added a two-point conversion to claim a two-possession lead at 15-6.

As time became a factor, Cassville's limited passing game became more of a factor. Mountain Grove played nine and ten men in the box, daring the Wildcats to throw. Cox did not complete a pass in the second half, and his final desperate attempt was intercepted at the Mountain Grove 1-yard line as the game drew to a close.

"It was definitely a defensive battle," said Cassville's Lance Parnell after the game. "They controlled the line of scrimmage better, and we made too many mistakes. We talk about that a lot, you can't win making penalties and turning the ball over."

Even with the turnovers and miscues, Cassville's defense played great except for the two long scoring runs.

"I was proud of our defensive effort," said Parnell, "but those two big runs are plays you have to eliminate defensively."

Cassville (1-1) will play at McDonald County (0-2) at Anderson on Friday night. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

CWGA tournament brings 100 golfers

Debra York

The Cassville Women's Golf Association held its annual Invitational Tournament at the Cassville Golf Course on Aug. 20. The two-person scramble attracted 100 lady golfers.

The weather was spectacular, and the theme was PMS (Pretty Mean Swingers). This year's theme was inspired by one of our ladies, Letha Ellis, who passed away earlier this year. Her family gave us a figurine labeled PMS and the ladies league took it from there.

Cash prizes were awarded to the winners in each flight. The first place winners in the Championship Flight Kelly Trahan and Brenda Dandy, 64; second place: Zelda Parson and Anita Harsch, 66; third place: Marcia Kreutzer and Judy Brierly, 66 and fourth place: Janie Watson and Leta Higgs, 67.

- A-flight 1st place: Terry Telford and Jeannine Franks, 75; second place: Candace Raudenbush and Peggy Blair, 75; third place: Hazel Beaver and Rita Duncan, 75 and fourth place: Betty Andrews and Linda Kearbey, 76.

- B-flight 1st place: Kay Hauptert and Jan Winslow, 81; second place: Lora Colby and Barb Kuhn, 81; third place: Becky Ryder and Jeanette Skorupski, 82 and fourth place: Cheryl Ludwig and Joanna Hotzler, 82.

- C-flight 1st place: Kathy Cooper and Marci Tennyson, 87; MaryLee Meyerkord and Donna Richards, 87; third place: Carol Hefley and Cindy Thomovski, 88 and fourth place: Barb Kuhlman and Debbie Yarnall, 88.

Southwest wins opener, places fifth tournament

The Southwest volleyball team opened its season successfully with four wins, a loss and a tie.

The Lady Trojans beat Pea Ridge, Ark., in Washburn Thursday, and then won 3 of 5 games at the Verona Tournament Saturday.

Jaime Shrum led Southwest against Pea Ridge. The senior setter had nine assists, nine kills and five aces as the Lady Trojans won 25-21, 25-19, 25-19.

"It's fun playing the best-of-five sets," said Coach Steve Voyak. "I wish more Missouri schools would agree to that format, but it's still optional, so most prefer best-of-three. Our girls like to play more."

At the Verona Tournament, Southwest started quickly beating Sarcoxie and Everton, before losing to Miller and tying Purdy. The Lady Trojans finished third in their pool and beat Golden City 25-17, 25-21.

"We would have preferred to advance to the semifinals, but we lost a tough tie-breaker (4 points) with Miller," said Voyak. But I thought the girls had a solid first week with six new players added to the team. We really need to work on our setting and hitting, but our digging and serving is improving nicely."

Some other tournament highlights:

- Shrum had 14 aces and now has 180 for her career, 21 short of the school record of 201. She added 24 kills as well.

- Junior Sydney Leroy was 28 for 28 serving and is 33 for 33 for the season.

- Junior setter Brianna Learned had 18 assists and is serving at 94.1 percent.

Southwest plays home games with Marionville and Thomas Jefferson this week. They host Junior Spikefest Saturday in Washburn with junior varsity teams from Hurley, Cassville, Crane and Purdy participating.

Exeter Corn Maze Pumpkin Run to benefit local family

Shania Stumpff

Many people in the Exeter community are coming together to support a very special five year old girl, Blazi Lowe. Blazi was diagnosed with Medulloblastoma, a form of brain cancer, and underwent surgery last week.

Kerry Mattingly is the event coordinator for the upcoming Pumpkin Run and says they know the Lowe family through the Exeter school, and since they are Exeter residents, they are at a lot of the same functions. "Our whole school and community is backing Blazi and her family," said Mattingly.

Robyn Cole, owner of the Exeter Corn Maze and Kerry Mattingly started the annual Pumpkin Run last year. "We wanted to do something good for the community and figure out a way we could give back," said Mattingly.

Last year, all of the proceeds from the Pumpkin Run went to the Backpack Program at the Exeter Schools. This year, the news about Blazi's cancer came about, and they decided it would be the perfect thing to raise money for.

Mattingly said, "Blazi's family is overwhelmed by all the support our community has been showing them. We are hoping the money raised can help with everyday costs for the family and the medical bills they will soon be receiving. They have been very appreciative."

The 2nd Annual Pumpkin Run at the Exeter Corn Maze will take place on September 19. They are expecting 75 to 80 people to participate in the run. Sixty participants have already signed up for the race on the Facebook page.

There is a $25 fee to register, when doing so you will receive a free shirt in support of Blazi that says "Blazing trails for Blazi's fight." In order to ensure a t-shirt, you must pre-register by Friday, September 4.

You will also receive one free ticket to the Exeter Corn Maze to use during the 2015 season.

There will be three different age groups, and the top three finishers will be awarded metals. The age groups will be determined upon registration numbers and ages.

For more information about the Pumpkin Run, you can call Kerry Mattingly at (417) 342-4251 or look up their Facebook page, "2nd Annual Pumpkin Run @ The Exeter Corn Maze."

Wheaton’s 57th annual BBQ

The Wheaton volunteer firefighters sponsored the 57th annual Wheaton BBQ on Saturday, August 29. According to assistant chief Lindy Lombard, “It was one of our most successful BBQs yet.”

The event had so many patrons that they sold out of chicken by 7 p.m. A car show, free rides for kids, food, a craft show and music made the event a successful all-day long event.

This year’s winners of the duck race were:

- 1st - Candice Brattin
- 2nd - David Ritcheson
- 3rd - Jr. Wasson
- 4th - Connie Michael
- 6th - Lily Ray

Elijah Holenda, 10, of Wheaton, enjoys the slide during the Wheaton BBQ on Saturday.

Marcus Rivera (right) and Liam Mills (right) get ready to spin upsidedown and sideways on the gyro as part of the free kids rides.

Jim Chadd, of Cassville, was the winner of the Wheaton Historical Society’s raffle for a Henry Commemorative Rifle, Railroad Edition. Mr. Chadd purchased his winning ticket from Steve Decocq at D & D Propane in Wheaton. The proceeds of the raffle will provides funds for the continued operation of the depot.

Cassville’s Grandparents’ Day scheduled for Sept. 11

The Cassville R-IV School District is celebrating Grandparents’ Day on Friday, September 11, with an open house from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m.

Grandparents will be directed to their grandchild’s classroom where they can meet the teacher and their grandchild’s classmates.

The school encourages all grandparents to attend the open house and get to know their child’s school. For more information, call the primary office at (417) 847-2445, intermediate office at (417) 847-4010, middle school office (417) 847-3136, or the high school office at (417) 847-3137.

Last Supper quilt to be displayed Sept. 19-20

Can you imagine DaVinci’s painting of The Last Supper being more than 5 feet high and 15 feet wide? The Supper Quilt, made by Dr. Donald Locke, represents the famous painting and measures 67 inches by 183 inches.

It will be on display at Discovery Quilters’ Check Out Our Bloomers Quilt Show in Shell Knob on Sept. 19 through 20. The masterpiece contains 51,816 pieces and more than 350 fabrics. Dr. Locke will be at the show to explain the inspiration and making of his incredible quilt, which has been displayed in 37 states and several foreign countries.

The judged quilt show will feature quilt turnings, demos, vendors, an opportunity quilt, a boutique, great door prizes and a silent auction of challenge quilts. On Sunday afternoon, there will be an auction of miniature quilts with proceeds benefiting the Shell Knob Library Building Fund.

The show will be held in the Shell Knob School on Hwy. 39 north of the Table Rock bridge. Saturday’s hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday’s hours are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Admission is $5.00 and is good for both days.

Secretary of State visits Purdy on ag tour

Missouri Secretary of State Jason Kander visits Edgewood Dairy and Creamery in Purdy on Thursday Aug. 27.

Secretary of State Jason Kander announced that he will push for legislation to make family farm corporations exempt from unnecessary paperwork and fees. The legislation has been filed on Secretary Kander's behalf by Sen. Mike Parson (R-Bolivar) and Rep. Diane Franklin (R-Camdenton). It has the support of the Missouri Farm Bureau.

"Missouri is home to hundreds of family farms that feed and fuel the world," Kander said. "Farms don't move from year to year, so it doesn't make a whole lot of sense to make them reconfirm their address annually. They are exactly the type of business that should be exempt from annual reports and fees, and I will continue to work to help our family farms succeed in Missouri."

Skinner graduates from Harding

Tyler Skinner, of Cassville, is one of nearly 800 graduates who received a diploma at Harding University's commencement exercises May 9, 2015. Skinner received a bachelor's in music education.

"As Missouri's top industry, agriculture is critical to our state's well-being," Parson said. "I am happy to partner with Secretary Kander in this effort to make it easier for our state's family farms to do business."

Like other corporations, family farm corporations are required to file annual reports with the secretary of state's office. Under this legislation, family farm corporations would be exempt from filing these reports and the accompanying fees unless important corporate information has changed within the past year.

"Reducing fees and paperwork is a common-sense idea that I encourage my colleagues from both sides of the aisle to support in the 2015 legislative session," Franklin said.

"Missouri Farm Bureau applauds Secretary of State Kander's efforts to reduce unnecessary paperwork and regulations for Missouri farmers and ranchers," said Blake Hurst, Missouri Farm Bureau President. "We look forward to working with the General Assembly to see that these measures are passed."

The bills are SB 148 and HB 233.

Purdy Elementary Principal Janet Boys announced the character education award winners for the month of August.

In partnership with elementary counselor Gary Jurgensen, Purdy's kindergarten through fourth grade teachers present a different character trait each month. At the end of the month, each teacher nominates one student who best exemplifies the trait presented. These students receive character awards from Mrs. Boys at a special assembly.

As they returned to school in August, students focused on friendship. August award winners are fourth graders Jaraldie Rodriguez and Selina Mendez; third graders Brooklyn Powers, Keele Allen and Tanner Holloway; second graders Kenna Liggett, Eric Garcia and Jenna Adams; first graders Hunter Wormington, Kierstn Postlewait and Logan Clow; and kindergartners Isabella Ramirez, Daniel Aldaba and Kyler Dotson.

Coping class offered Sept. 10 in Monett

Learn ways to de-stress and rebound from difficulties caused by stress, anxiety and depression. Sessions are offered once a month for three consecutive months and will focus on learning balance and mindfulness, finding resilience in a world of change and making change stick. The program will begin on Thursday, September 10, at 5:30 p.m. in Conference Room A at Cox Monett Hospital.

There is no fee to attend. To register, call (417) 354-1280 or (417) 269-4630.

Patrol releases results of Barry County DWI saturation

Captain Juan Villanueva, commanding officer of Troop D, Springfield, announces the results of a DWI saturation in Barry County on August 29-30. The goal of these enforcement operations was to detect intoxicated drivers, hazardous moving violations, driving over the speed limit, and other violations that contribute to traffic crashes. Also, the enforcement locations were selected based on their high number of drinking and impairment-related traffic crashes.

Troopers conducting the Barry County DWI saturation stopped 26 vehicles. The following is a list of enforcement contacts made during the operation:

- Speed Limit Citations - 4
- Seat Belt Violations - 10
- Child Restraint Violations - 2

- Driver's License Violations - 2
- Uninsured Motorists Violations - 3
- Felony Warrant Arrest - 1
- Misdemeanor Warrant Arrest - 1
- Other Misdemeanor Offenses - 2
- Warnings - 38

Approximately 63 percent of Missouri fatal crash victims who are required to be restrained are NOT at the time of the traffic crash. The Patrol urges motorists to protect themselves and their passengers by making sure everyone in the vehicle is properly restrained in a seat belt or child restraint. Join us in supporting the Drive To Zero Highway Deaths. Watercraft operators should ensure that everyone in the vessel is wearing an approved life jacket.

Howl-O-Ween Fest slated for October 24

The Eagle Rock Friends of the Library and Eagle Rock Community Association announced Eagle Rock Daze and Howl-O-Ween Fest will be on October 24.

The car show will begin in the morning starting at 10 a.m. Kids' activities begin around 2 p.m., starting with a costume contest for all ages. After that, the barn will be open for the games and haunted house until 5 p.m.

Vendors will be set up for crafts and food, as well. To be a vendor, contact Susan Crownover at (417) 241-3386. There will also be a medallion hunt starting the week before with daily clues given to help you locate it. Keep your eyes peeled for more information as the date moves closer.

MDC sets waterfowl hunting dates for 2015-2016

The Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) announces that duck hunters will again have a 60-day season for 2015-2016 hunting. The Missouri Conservation Commission set upcoming Missouri waterfowl hunting seasons at its Aug. 19 meeting.

Duck Seasons:

North Zone: Oct. 31 – Dec. 29

Middle Zone: Nov. 7 – Jan. 5

South Zone: Nov. 26 – Jan. 24

Shooting Hours: One-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Daily Bag Limit: Six ducks daily with species restrictions of:

4 mallards (no more than 2 females)

3 scaup

3 wood ducks

2 redheads

2 hooded mergansers

2 pintails

2 canvasback (increased from 1 last year)

1 black duck

1 mottled duck

Possession Limit: Three times the daily bag limit (18), including species restrictions.

Coot Seasons:

Concurrent with duck seasons in the respective zones with a daily bag limit of 15 and a possession limit of 45.

Goose Seasons:

Light geese: snow, blue, and Ross's: Statewide, Oct. 31 – Jan. 31

White-fronted geese: Statewide Nov. 7 – Jan. 31

Canada geese and brant: Statewide Oct. 3 – Oct. 11 and Nov. 26 – Jan. 31

Shooting Hours: One-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Daily Bag Limit and Possession Limit: No more than three Canada geese and brant geese in aggregate daily and nine in possession, 20 light geese (snow, blue, or Ross's) daily with no possession limit, and two white-fronted geese daily and six in possession.

Youth Hunting Days:

North Zone: Oct. 24 and 25

Middle Zone: Oct. 31 and Nov. 1

South Zone: Nov. 21 and 22

Bag Limit: Same as during regular waterfowl season.

Shooting Hours: Same as during regular waterfowl season.

Participation Requirements: Any person 15 years of age or younger may participate in the youth waterfowl hunting days without permit, provided they are in the immediate presence of an adult 18 years of age or older. If the youth hunter does not have hunter-education certification, the adult must meet permit requirements for small-game hunting and have in his or her possession valid hunter-education certification unless born before Jan. 1, 1967. The adult may not hunt ducks, but may participate in other seasons open on the youth days.

Light Good Conservation Order:

The Conservation Order for light geese will be in effect Feb. 1 through April 30 with no bag limit. Hunters may use electronic calls and unplugged shot guns. Shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrises to one-half hour after sunset. A Conservation Order permit is the only permit required for resident and non-resident hunters.

Falconry Season for Ducks, Coots and Mergansers:

The federal framework allows 107 days. Falconry is open during teal season (16 days), regular duck season (60 days), and youth season (two days) in the respective zones, leaving Feb. 11 – March 10 (29 days) for extended falconry statewide.

Hunting Hours: One-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Bag and Possession Limits: The daily bag and possession limits shall not exceed three and nine birds, respectively, singly, or in the aggregate, during the teal, regular duck, youth waterfowl and extended falconry seasons.

Teal Seasons:

As previously announced by MDC in July, blue-winged, green-winged, and cinnamon teal may be taken from Sept. 12 through Sept. 27 from sunrise to sunset with a combined daily limit of six and a combined possession limit of 18 for all three species. Additional details are published in MDC's 2015 Migratory Bird Hunting Digest available where hunting permits are sold, at MDC offices and nature centers, and online at mdc.mo.gov.

Waterfowl Population Estimates:

According to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the total number of North American ducks is estimated to be at a record high for the fourth year in a row at 49.5 million, 43% above the long-term average (LTA). Estimates of breeding populations for various duck species from 2015 survey results are:

Mallard numbers are similar to the 2014 estimate and 42 percent above their long-term average.

Blue-winged teal numbers are similar to 2014 and 73 percent above their long-term average.

Green-winged teal numbers increased by 19 percent, which puts them 98 percent above their long-term average.

Northern shoveler numbers dropped by 17 percent but still remain 75 percent above their long-term average.

Gadwall and American wigeon numbers are similar to 2014 and 100 and 17 percent above their long-term averages, respectively.

Redhead numbers are similar to 2014 and 71 percent above their long-term average.

Canvasback numbers increased slightly. They are now estimated to be 30 percent above their long-term average.

Scaup numbers are similar to the 2014 estimate and 13 percent below their long-term average.

Pintail numbers are similar to 2014 and 24 percent below their long-term average.

Hunting Outlook:

MDC Resource Scientists note that there are three factors equally or more important than overall population numbers in contributing toward a season's outcome: local habitat conditions, weather, and migration timing. They caution that preseason outlooks for habitat and weather are less than ideal.

"Wetlands should have plenty of water going into fall, but extensive and repeated flooding over the summer will mean food and cover could be patchy," explained MDC Resource Scientist Andy Raedeke. "Moist-soil seed production will be excellent in wetlands that benefitted from a wet spring and early summer but did not have late-summer flooding. Those that did experience late flooding will likely have poor moist-soil seed production and limited vegetation for cover. Due to flooding, food provided by crops, such as corn, will likely be well below average."

Raedeke added that weather conditions play a significant role in affecting duck movements and distribution. "Long-term weather forecasts are calling for milder than normal fall and winter weather in the upper Midwest," he said.

Habitat conditions and weather combine to influence waterfowl migrations.

"The primary uncertainty is how ducks will respond if we have a hunting season with mild weather, plenty of water, and below average food and cover," said Raedeke. "In the absence of significant cold fronts, ducks may disperse throughout the Mississippi Flyway resulting in lower peak numbers in Missouri. Once ducks arrive in Missouri, habitat conditions will influence how long they stay. Species that depend entirely on wetland sources of food may depart sooner than normal. For species that also field feed, such as mallards, the combination of ample water for roosting and harvested grain fields for feeding may help offset effects of below average wetland conditions."

He added that hunters will need to be flexible in when and where they hunt. "If it is a mild fall, it will be especially important to time hunts with cold fronts and migration events. Hunters should also be willing to try new locations for potentially better habitat conditions," Raedeke said.

For More Information:

Additional details about waterfowl hunting regulations, including zone descriptions, will be published in the MDC 2015-2016 Waterfowl Hunting Digest, available starting in late September from permit vendors, MDC offices and nature center, and online at mdc.mo.gov.

Patrol addresses new legislation that affects motor vehicles, boats

The Missouri General Assembly recently enacted new legislation affecting motor vehicles and boats, and Governor Jay Nixon has signed the legislation into law. Unless otherwise noted, these laws go into effect August 28, 2015. The Patrol wishes to make the public aware of several of these new laws or changes to increase public awareness and education.

HB 269 - Fire Extinguishers On Vessels

This bill requires every Class 2 vessel operating upon the waters of this state to carry two B1 type fire extinguishers, one B2 fire extinguisher, or a fixed fire extinguishing system and one B1 type fire extinguisher. Currently, the requirement is to carry either one B2 extinguisher, or two B1 type fire extinguishers. (Section 306.100 RSMo.)

HB 650 - Auxiliary
Lighting On Motorcycles

This bill allows white and amber auxiliary lighting on motorcycles. The lighting must be non-flashing, non-blinking, non-oscillating, and directed toward the engine and drive train of the motorcycle to prevent interference with the rider's operation of the motorcycle. Among other types of lighting mentioned, LED strips are included. (Section 307.128 RSMo.)

HB 686 - Motor Vehicle
Registration

This bill revises the definition of “junk” vehicle to include a vehicle that has been designated as junk or an equivalent designation by any other state. (Section 301.010 RSMo.)

The transferor of an interest in a motor vehicle or trailer must include the name of the transferor in the required notice to the Department of Revenue. The bill allows for the electronic signature of the transferor on the notice. A notice of sale is effective even though it contains minor errors that are not materially misleading. (Section 301.196 RSMo.)

The bill allows the purchaser of a junk vehicle to apply for a junking certificate as well as the salvage certificate of title or certificate of ownership to the Department of Revenue, and the department director must issue a negotiable junking certificate to the purchaser that must authorize the holder to possess; transport; or, by assignment, transfer ownership in the parts, scrap, or junk. The department must only issue a junking certificate for any vehicle issued a junking certificate or similar document or classification pursuant to the laws of another state, regardless of whether the designation has been subsequently changed by law in any other state, and a salvage certificate of title or original certificate of title must not thereafter be issued for the vehicle. If the vehicle has not previously been designated as a junk vehicle, the applicant making the original junking certificate application must be allowed to rescind the application within 90 days. (Section 301.227 RSMo.)

The bill removes the requirement that the sale of all 30-day temporary registration permits must be recorded on the dealer's monthly sales report if the sale is already recorded by electronic means as determined by the department. (Section 301.280 RSMo.)

SB 12 - Agriculture

Weight Limitations: This act adds livestock to the current milk exemption for weight limits on highways, except interstate highways, for up to 85,500 pounds. This act also allows trucks hauling grain and grain co-products during harvest to exceed weight limits by up to 10 percent again, excluding interstates. (Section 304.180 RSMo.)

SB 231 - Watercraft

Fire Extinguishers For Watercraft, This act requires every Class 2 recreational motorboat operating upon the waters of this state to carry two B1 type fire extinguishers, or one B2 fire extinguisher, or a fixed fire extinguishing system and one B1 type fire extinguisher. (Section 306.100 RSMo.)

Recreational Water Use Laws Brochure: This act requires the Water Patrol Division of the Missouri State Highway Patrol to develop a brochure regarding recreational water use laws and distribute it to recreational water equipment rental facilities and all county commissioners in the state. (Section 306.910 RSMo.)

SB254 - Motor Vehicles

License Plate Mounting:
This act allows trailer and motorcycle license plates to be mounted horizontally or vertically. (Section 301.130 RSMo.)

Intoxication Related Offenses: This act allows the Department of Revenue to extend the period a motorist is required to maintain the ignition interlock device on his or her vehicle by three months if the ignition interlock device detects an attempt to tamper with the device or detects an alcohol concentration above the set point within the last three months of the required installation period. The time must be extended until the motorist goes three months without any violations. Under current law, except for a first time DWI offense, alcohol-related driving offenses require a certain period of suspension before an individual is eligible for limited or restricted driving privileges. This act expands the list of offenses that allows an individual to receive limited driving privileges provided that he or she has an ignition interlock device installed. This act also removes the mandatory suspension period for alcohol-related offenses but requires that an individual must have an ignition interlock device installed on his or her vehicle. This act also removes the requirement that DWI courts cannot grant limited driving privileges to a participant for the first 45 days of participation. This act authorizes the court to order a defendant to submit to continuous alcohol monitoring or verifiable breath alcohol testing performed a minimum of four times per day in any DWI, driving with an excessive blood alcohol content, boating while intoxicated, and boating with an excessive blood alcohol case. The provisions under this heading are effective January 1, 2017. (Sections 302.010, 302.060, 302.525, 302.574, 577.010, 577.012, 577.013, and 577.014 RSMo.)

SB 272 - Commercial
Zones

This act adds Boone County to the municipal commercial zone previously defined for the city of Columbia. Commercial zones limit the maximum height and axle weight of commercial vehicles within those zones. (Section 304.190 RSMo.)

SB 456 - Ownership Of Motor Vehicles

Transferred License Plates: This act makes it lawful for a motor vehicle to be operated with transferred license plates for 90 days if the dealer is selling the vehicle without yet having obtained a certificate of ownership. (Section 301.140.1 RSMo.)

Temporary Permits: This act makes it lawful for a motor vehicle or trailer to be operated by a buyer under a temporary permit for 90 days if the dealer is selling the vehicle without yet having obtained a certificate of ownership. (Section 301.140.1 RSMo.)

Certificate Of Ownership: A person is required

Cassville Schools welcome two new resource officers

In partnership with the Cassville Police Department (CPD), the Cassville School District welcomed Officer Troy Wenzel and Officer Colt Beck as the co-School Resource Officers (SRO).

Both Officer Wenzel and Officer Beck are members of the CPD and will alternate each month serving as the Districts SRO. Their primary goal is to ensure the safety and well-being of the student body along with promoting positive relations between youth and law enforcement.

"Officer Wenzel is new to our department; however, he has law enforcement experience," stated Chief of Police Dana Kammerlohr. "Officer Beck had inquired Carroll County Sheriff's Department.

Beck has served with the CPD for nearly two years and has been in law enforcement for six years with his previous post at the Barry County Sheriff's Department.

"Both officers have outgoing personalities and are able to get along with people. They are thorough in their work and motivated," stated Chief Kammerlohr.

While the SRO office is in the high school, the officer on duty will spend time at all four campuses serving as a resource to students and faculty, patrolling parking lots and hallways, implementing K-9 searches, coordinating traffic control at the junction of Y Highway and Highway 37 and monitoring the cross-walk at the intersection of Main Street and 14th Street.

The SRO is also available to assist in the case of a medical emergency and will serve as security during sporting events that take place on campus.

"Safety for our students is priority at Cassville Schools," stated Dr. Richard Asbill, Cassville R-IV Superintendent. "We value our partnership with the Cassville Police Department, Officer Wenzel and Officer Beck. They have an integral role in ensuring the safety of our students and staff, along with providing a vital educational component that will teach our students the importance of a healthy, safe lifestyle."

Wenzel and Beck will be involved in the Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD) Club along with providing assistance to DARE Officer Mike Moore with the Barry County Sheriff's Department.

"This is the pro-active side of law enforcement, which is a nice change, rather than being reactive," stated Chief Kammerlohr.

Both officers plan to attend the Missouri School Resource Association training in Jefferson City in December. The training is 40 hours and is provided by the Missouri Police Chief's Association. Participants will study laws pertaining to juveniles as well as training in active shooter scenarios.

The SRO on duty is on campus Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and can be reached by calling Cassville High School at (417) 847-3137.

Use Cassville's Masonic Lodge, 18th & Main St. for your next meeting or event.

Hanna takes second in Holiday Island art contest

Nicole Hanna took second place in the 3 Dimensional division at the Holiday Island, Ark., Art Show on August 27. Hanna said, "This bowl is a fossil vitrae technique that is a real glass plume used to fuse it's image into the glass. The piece is coated in glass powder, then the organic burns out, leaving the glass in its shape like a fossil."

Hanna is a member of Creative Arts of Shell Knob (CASK), and this is the first time CASK was represented at the Holiday Island Art Show.

of ownership. Once the vehicle has been delivered to the dealer, the prior owners' insurable interest in such vehicle ceases. This act specifies that such dealers provide to the Department of Revenue a surety

bond or irrevocable letter of credit in the amount not less than $100,000 in lieu of the $25,000 bond otherwise required for licensure as a motor vehicle dealer. (Section 301.213 RSMo.)

If a dealer receives a sale contract and power of attorney to sign for the seller, the dealer may sell a vehicle prior to receiving and assigning a certificate of ownership. In order to do so, they have to have prepared and delivered to the purchaser an application for title for the vehicle in the purchaser's name, and have entered into a written agreement for the subsequent assignment and delivery of the certificate of ownership within 60 days after delivery of the motor vehicle to the purchaser. The agreement shall require the purchaser to provide to the dealer proof of financial responsibility and proof of insurance.

The dealer shall maintain a copy of the agreement, and shall deliver a form to the Department of Revenue showing that the purchaser has purchased the vehicle without contemporaneous delivery of the title. If these requirements are met, they will constitute evidence of ownership interest in the vehicle. (Section 301.213 RSMo.)

Monett takes over Lawrence County 911 calls

The City of Monett 911 Center will begin providing 911 and dispatching services for Lawrence County effective Tuesday, September 1, 2015. This will not include the cities of Aurora and Marionville as they will continue to maintain their own 911 dispatch center.

The 911 circuits will be switched at 10 a.m. on Septmeber 1 and, at that time, 911 calls will be directed to the Monett 911 Communications Center.

Residents with non-emergency calls can contact the Communications Center by calling the Lawrence County Sheriff's Office number at (417) 466-2131 and choosing option 1 or by calling the Communications Center

directly at (417) 235-4241 or (417) 235-4641. Phones have been installed at the Lawrence County jail lobby and Miller Police Department entrance that will also allow residents direct contact with the Communications Center.

The consolidated center provides 911 and dispatching services for the following first responders in Monett and Lawrence County:

Small businesses eligible for SBA disaster loans

Small, nonfarm businesses in 112 Missouri counties and neighboring counties in Arkansas, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Tennessee are now eligible to apply for low-interest federal disaster loans from the U.S.
Small Business Administration
(SBA). These loans offset economic losses because of reduced revenues caused by the excessive rainfall and flooding in the following primary counties that began March 1, 2015, announced Director Tanya N. Garfield of SBA's Disaster Field Operations Center - West.

son;

Neighboring Oklahoma
counties: Delaware and Ottawa; Neighboring Tennessee counties: Dyer and Lake.

"SBA eligibility covers both the economic impacts on businesses dependent on farmers and ranchers that have suffered agricultural production losses caused by the disaster and businesses directly impacted by the disaster," Garfield said.

Small, nonfarm businesses,
small agricultural cooperatives, small businesses engaged in aquaculture and most private nonprofit organizations of any size may qualify for Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDLs) of up to $2 million to help meet financial obligations and operating expenses which could have been met had the disaster not occurred.

"Eligibility for these loans is based on the financial impact of the disaster only and not on any actual property damage. These loans have an interest rate of 4 percent for businesses and 2.625 percent for private nonprofit organizations, a maximum term of 30 years, and are available to small businesses and most private nonprofits without the financial ability to offset the adverse impact without hardship," Garfield said.

By law, SBA makes EIDLs available when the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture designates an agricultural disaster. Secretary Tom Vilsack declared this disaster on August 26, 2015.

Businesses primarily engaged in farming or ranching are not eligible for SBA disaster assistance. Agricultural enterprises should contact the Farm Services Agency about the U.S. Department of Agriculture assistance made available by the Secretary's declaration.

Applicants may apply online using the Electronic Loan Application (ELA) via SBA's secure website at <https://disasterloan.sba.gov/ela>.

Disaster loan information and application forms are also available from SBA's Customer Service Center by calling (800) 659-2955 or emailing disaster-customerservice@sba.gov. Individuals who are deaf or hard-of-hearing may call (800) 877-8339.
For more disaster assistance information, or to download applications, visit <http://www.sba.gov/disaster>. Completed applications should be mailed to: U.S.
Small Business Administration,
Processing and Disbursement
Center, 14925 Kingsport Road,
Fort Worth, TX 76155.

The deadline to apply for these loans is April 26, 2016.
