Snow and freezing temperatures didn't stop local kids from enjoying the outdoors, and the 4+ inches of snow much of Southern Missouri received on Saturday, following a 20 degree temperature drop. This chill will continue through this week, as the Arctic blast advances southward into Barry County and southern Missouri. Over the next week, temperatures will continue with highs commonly in the 30s, and lows often in the 20s or below; teens or below this weekend.

Now would be a great time to exercise precautionary measures to prevent weather-related accidents. If possible, keep your home at a minimum of 65 degrees. Temperatures inside the walls, where pipes are located, are often far lower than those within rooms. A temperature below 65 degrees may not prevent pipes from freezing.

Additionally, you may allow hot and cold faucets to drip slowly overnight to prevent freezing. Ensure your fireplaces, wood stoves, and electric heaters are operating properly, with no combustible or easily-flammable items near the primary heat sources. Lastly, people may ask a nearby neighbor to inspect their home if they plan to be away for an extended period of time.

Foster Grandparent Program Perfect Fit for Cassville Resident

At age 84, Sharon Thomas, of Cassville, figured out what she wanted to be when she grew up while serving on the board of directors for Ozark Area Community Action Corporation (OACAC) some 20 years ago.

"I learned about the Americorps Senior Foster Grandparent Program, which is administered by OACAC, and knew I wanted to get involved in it," Thomas said.

Due to a perceived conflict of interest, Thomas was not allowed to serve as a grandparent while sitting on the board, so she gave up her board membership and, in 2001, joined the ranks of some 200,000 Americorps Senior Volunteers serving in various capacities across the nation. The Senior Foster Grandparent Program is but one volunteer opportunity available to men and women ages 55 and older.

Thomas first served as a foster grandmother at God's Little Kingdom Preschool at First Christian Church in Cassville, before transferring to Cassville R-IV's Early Childhood Development Center several years ago.

Called "Grandma Sharon" by students and staff, Thomas fills a needed gap for preschoolers who need a little extra attention.

"My main responsibilities are to play with the children and comfort them," Thomas said. "I like that. Some kids don't want to leave their parents, so I help ease their apprehension by getting them to open up and discover things they can learn and know."

Some children, Thomas said, are non-verbal, or are uncomfortable looking at or speaking to other children, so she initiates games of "Go Fish," in which players are required to speak to others as part of the game.

"I love seeing their 'Aha-moment,' when things just sort of click with them," Thomas added.

Early Childhood teacher, Pam Ralls, says, "Oh, my goodness! It's so helpful to have Sharon in my classroom. She helps with things that I don't always have time for."

Kathy Moore, director of the Foster Grandparent Program at OACAC's central offices in Springfield, says the program itself has been in effect since 1965, although OACAC didn't begin sponsoring it until 1972. The program is currently in place in ten Ozark counties.

CMS and CHS Holds First All-Virtual Day

Ezra DeVore

Friday, January 14 was Cassville Middle and High School's first full day of all virtual classes in history. With substitute-teacher shortages, and full-time academic staff shortages in general, public schools nationwide are attempting to navigate these conditions amidst the height of flu season, coupled with an ongoing pandemic. In response to these conditions, many schools are exploring alternative methods of schooling; including Cassville.

The Cassville R-IV school district is following the trend of expanding their academic tool belt to employ alternate methods of teaching, with the hopes to ensure "an equitable education environment for the kids," began Dr. Merlyn Johnson, Superintendent of the Cassville R-IV School District. "If we cannot provide equity in the AMI framework, we'll have to re-evaluate its effectiveness." AMI, or "Alternate Methods of Instruction," is what Missouri DESE (Department of Elementary and Secondary Education) refers to the virtual classroom model as.

"When the teachers are sick, we can't teach - and it's not just Covid-19. Numerous different illnesses are going around - some get the flu, some just get sick. We studied the attendance data of staff and students," Johnson continued, "and decided that the Primary and Intermediate schools could continue without interruption. The middle school, however, was hit hard all at once. Attendance decreased by approximately 10%, as did the high school - and it isn't just because of student absences," Dr. Johnson affirmed, "the shortage of substitute teachers means that if we have no teachers to teach, we can't teach."

Johnson explain that in this model, "teachers who are asymptomatic and feel well, but tested positive for Covid, can connect virtually with students and teach without risk. Students maintain a very dedicated schedule through the day. In person teaching is proven to be the most effective method of education, so the strategy for AMI is ‘to not to do it if we don’t have to.’ Teachers and administrators have worked hard to organize an AMI framework, and after studying student and staff attendance data, we collaborated and felt that last Friday was an opportune time to utilize the AMI.”

AMI could also be a gateway into lessening the impact of weather-related school cancellation, according to Johnson. “If an ice storm freezes the roads, an approximate 80% of students would be able to attend class, but students who don’t live in town or on main roads couldn’t - and we can’t leave them behind, that’s equity.”

The Hive Youth Outreach held their Dinner and Silent Auction this past Saturday, January 15, in Cassville, to raise funds for building renovations and supplies. The inclement weather caused limited attendance for the event, but with the help of social media, the event raised just over $500.

Attendee, Kenny Tucker, of Hillside Poultry and Consignment, of Cassville, donated a large chunk of the money raised for the items in the silent auction. When asked about his support of The Hive

Application Available for Matching Grant

The Missouri Department of Agriculture announced funding for the Farmers’ Market Promotion Matching Grant Program through Missouri Grown. The grant awards up to $1,000 for reimbursement of expenses associated with promoting Missouri’s farmers’ markets.

This competitive grant program will provide funds to farmers’ markets for promotional pieces that provide awareness to communities about the farmers’ markets in their area. The grant will also fund advertisements that improve understanding of raising food and promote agriculture in those communities.

To be eligible, a farmers’ market must meet the United States Department of Agriculture definition of a market, be located in Missouri and Youth Outreach, Mr. Tucker stated, “Bridget and Kasey are good people and we need a place like this in the area for the kids. They’ve got a good thing going here, so I wanted to show my support.”

Bridget and Kasey Rundell, co-owners of the program, didn’t let the food go to waste, either. Leftovers were donated to Mercy Hospital, in Cassville, night staff.

For more information regarding the program or updates on upcoming events, follow their Facebook page, The Hive Youth Outreach.

register as a member of the Missouri Grown program. Projects must be matched on at least a dollar-for-dollar basis to meet eligibility. Priority will be given to farmers’ markets using funds to expand their marketing budget and those not awarded funds in 2021.

The maximum award amount for each farmers’ market is $1,000. Application are due Feb. 18, 2022. Visit the Farmers’ Market Promotion Matching Grant Program page for a full list of program requirements, a grant timeline and printable application.

Foster from front

Although it is labeled a “volunteer” program, foster grandparents are given a $3 per hour, non-taxable stipend for their service.

“The idea,” Moore says, “is to provide a little money for expenses without putting volunteers over their maximum allowable income limit for the subsidized housing that some seniors live in.”

According to program requirements, volunteers may serve anywhere from five to 40 hours per week.

More information can be found at <https://americorps.gov/serve/fit-finder/american-corps-seniors-foster-grandparent-program>, or by emailing Kathy Moore at kmoores@oac.ac.

Moore said volunteers will go through an interview process as well as background checks.

“We want to make sure volunteers look at the grandparent program as a commitment,” Moore said, “because these kids form bonds and look forward to seeing their ‘grandparents.’”

Sharon Thomas, who now suffers from degenerative disc disease, is committed.

“These kids help me keep my mind off my chronic pain,” she says. “I love being here as much as they love seeing me.”

Leave tree trimming to experts

Recent storms and spring growth have left a lot of trees in need of attention. Barry Electric Cooperative wants you to know that tree trimming is a job best left to experts, especially when they are located near power lines. In fact, the two leading causes of death while trimming trees come from falling and electrocution.

Whenever you trim trees or do other yard work, remember these tips:

- Wear safety glasses to protect your eyes from sawdust, pine needles and other debris.
- When operating a trimmer or chainsaw, you'll need ear protection, shoes with slip-resistant soles, chaps and gauntlets.
- If you use a ladder, tie it off to a secure location. Never go anywhere near a power line with a ladder, especially a metal one.
- Be aware of anyone on the ground. It's best to have a spotter watch for people who might wander into your worksite.
- Safety is our number one priority and we are trained experts in safely removing debris from around powerlines. If in doubt, call us!

Missouri's 2021-2022 deer-hunting season ended Jan. 15 with the Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) reporting a preliminary total deer harvest for the season of 293,670. Of the deer harvested, 143,049 were antlered bucks, 26,599 were button bucks, and 124,022 were does.

Top harvest counties for the overall deer season were Franklin with 6,392 deer harvested, Texas with 5,478, and Callaway with 5,452.

Hunters harvested 297,214 deer during the 2020-2021 deer hunting season with 140,855 being antlered bucks, 28,652 being button bucks, and 127,707 being does.

"This year's harvest total was slightly behind last year's mark and about 3% above the previous five-year average," said MDC Cervid Program Supervisor Jason Isabelle. "We've seen an increasing trend in statewide deer harvest for about the past eight years," said Isabelle. "The deer population has continued to increase across much of southern Missouri at the same time that we've seen a population recovery in most of the counties impacted by the severe hemorrhagic disease outbreak that occurred in 2012."

Archery Deer Results: Deer hunting ended with the close of the archery season. Preliminary data from MDC showed that hunters checked 60,834 deer during the 2021-2022 archery deer season making it the third highest archery deer harvest on record. Top counties for the archery deer season were Jefferson with 1,563 deer harvested, St. Louis with 1,368, and Franklin with 1,274.

Hunters checked 67,487 deer during the 2020-2021 archery deer season. This year's archery deer harvest total was 10% below last year's record harvest and 8% higher than the previous five-year average.

way with 61.

Slick roads cause crash

Shana Harter

Highway 39 just south of Kings Harbor Resort was closed for 11 hours on Saturday as crews worked the scene of a crash on slick roads.

A tractor-trailer overturned just around two p.m. after delivering to an area Dollar General store.

Central Cross Fire Protection District, the Missouri Highway Patrol, and other state and county agencies and businesses fought freezing temperatures and slick roads throughout the day until about after midnight to offload the truck's freight and clear the roadway.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I realize we are in a new year - 2022 - but I am still trying to deal with issues from 2021 - specifically an article published in the Barry County Advertiser on October 20, 2021. The article, "Voters to see bond issue for new jail on April ballot," discussed the contract to purchase property for a new jail. I am not at all questioning the need for a new jail! What I am wondering about is why the Barry County Commissioners agreed to pay $230,000 for a piece of property (asking price $250,000) that had sold just over 3 months earlier for $125,000.

Since, according to the article, Adjacent Properties, LLC offered it for $250,000.

When I stopped in to talk with Sheila Harris in early December, I was both surprised and disappointed that I was the only one to comment on, or ask about, the purchase. I am wondering if any other tax payers in Barry County find the price and timing of the purchase rather concerning.

Just curious, Bonnie Martin, Golden, MO

Exercise for heart health

According to the National Institutes of Health, exercise is an effective way for individuals to reduce their risk for heart disease. Exercise strengthens the heart and improves circulation, an increase in blood flow that raises oxygen levels in the body. That's a significant side effect, as it helps lower an individual's risk for various types of heart disease, including high cholesterol, coronary artery disease and heart attack. Exercise also is an effective way for individuals to maintain a healthy weight. That, too, benefits the heart, as the American Heart Association reports that people who have excess body fat - especially if it is at the waist - are more likely to develop heart disease and stroke, even if they have no other risk factors.
